30 And when Ichú was come to Izreel, Iezébel heard of it, and painted her face, and tired her head, & loked out at a wyndow.

31 And as Ichú entred at the gate, she said, Had<sup>m</sup> Zimri peace, w<sup>h</sup> slewe his master?

32 And he lift vp his eyes to the window, and said, Who is on my side, who? Then two or thre of her Eunuches loked vnto him.

33 And he said, Cast her downe: and they cast her downe, and he sprinkled of her blood vpon the wall, and vpon the horses, and he trode her vnder fote.

34 And whē he was come in, he did eat and drinke, and said, Visite now yonder cursed woman, and bury her: for she is a * Kings daughter.

35 And thei went to bury her, but thei founde no more of her then the skul & the fete, and the palmes of her hands.

36 Wherefore they came againe and tolde him. And he said, This is the worde of the Lord, which he spake by his seruāt Eliáh the Tishbite, saying, * In the field of Izreel shal the dogs eat the flesh of Iezébel.

37 And the carkeis of Iezébel shalbe as doung vpon the grounde in the field of Izreel, so y<sup>e</sup> none shal say, * This is Iezébel.

3 Consider therefore which of your masters sonnes is best and moste mete, & set him on his fathers throne, and fight for your masters house.

b He wrote this to proue them whether they wolde take his parte or no.

4 But they were exceedingly afraied, & said, Beholde, two Kings colde not stand before him, how shal we then stand?

5 And he that was gouernour of Ahabs house, and he that ruled the citie, and the Elders, and the bringers vp of the childre sent to Iehú, saying, We are thy seruants, and wil do all that thou shalt byd vs: we wil make no King: do what semeth good to thee.

c God as a iudge punisheth the wicked children of wicked parents vnto the thirde & fourth generation.

6 ¶ Then he wrote another letter to them, sayig, If ye be mine, & wil obey my voice, take the heades of the men that are your masters sonnes, and come to me to Izreél by tomorowe this time. (Now the Kings sonnes, euen seuentie persones were with the great men of the citie, which brought them vp)

7 And when the letter came to them, they toke the Kings sonnes, and slewe the seuentie persones, and laied their heades in baskets, and sent them vnto him to Izreél.

8 ¶ Then there came a messenger & tolde him, saying, Thei haue brought the heades of the Kings sonnes. And he said, Let the lay them on two heapes at the entring in of the gate vntil the morning.

d Ye can not iustly cōdēme me for the Kings death, seing ye haue done the like to his posteritie: for y Lord commanded me, and moued you to execute this his iudge ment. Ex. by the hand of J. King. 21, 29

9 And whē it was day, he went out, & stode & said to all the people, Ye be righteous: beholde, I conspired against my master, & slewe him: but who slewe all these?

e Meaning, & were the idolatrous priests.

10 Knowe now that there shal fall vnto the earth nothing of the worde of the Lord, which the Lord spake concerning y house of Aháb: for the Lord hathe brought to passe the things that he spake by his seruant Eliáh.

11 So Iehú slewe all that remayned of the house of Aháb in Izreél, and all that were great with him, and his familiars and his priests, so that he let none of his remaine.

12 ¶ And he arose, and departed and came to Samaria. And as Iehú was in the waye by an house where the shepherdes did there, 13 He met with the brethren of Ahaziáh King of Iudáh and said, Who are ye? And they answered, We are the brethren of Ahaziáh, & go downe to salute the children of the King and the children of the quene.

f Thus Gods vengeance is vpon the that haue any parte or familiaritie with the wicked.

14 And he said, Take them aliue. And they toke them aliue, & slewe them at the well beside the house where y shepe are shorne, euen two and fourtie men, and he left not one of them.

15 ¶ And when he was departed thence, he met with Iehonadáb the sonne of Recháb comming to mete him, and he blessed him, and said to him, Is thine heart vp-right, as mine heart is toward thine? And Iehonadáb answered, Yea, douteles. Then giue me thine hand. And when he had giuen him his hand, he toke him vp to him into the charret.

g For he feared God and lamented the wickednes of those times: therefore Iehú was glad to toyne with him: of Recháb read Iere. 35, 2. Or, praised God for him.

16 And he said, Come with me, and se the zeale that I haue for the Lord: so they made him ryde in his charret.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he slewe all that remained vnto Aháb in Samaria, til he had destroyed him, according to the worde of the Lord, which he spake to Eliáh.

18 Then Iehú assembled all the people, and said vnto them, Aháb serued Bál a litle, but Iehú shal serue him muche more.

h Here Bál is taken for Ashteroch the idole of the Zidonians, & Jezebel caused to be worshipped, as it is also to be read. King. 16, 30 & 22, 24.

19 Now therefore call vnto me all the prophetes of Bál, all his seruants, and all his priests, and let not a man be lacking: for I haue a great sacrifice for Bál: whosoever is lacking, he shal not liue. But Iehú did it by a subtiltie to destroye the seruants of Bál.

20 And Iehú said, Proclaime a solemne assēble for Bál. And they proclaimed it.

21 So Iehú sent vnto all Israél, and all the seruants of Bál came, and there was not a man left that came not. And they came into the house of Bál, & the house of Bál was full from end to end.

22 Then he said vnto him that had y charge of the vestrie, Bring forth the vestments for all the seruants of Bál. And he brought them out vestments.

23 And when Iehú went, & Iehonadáb the sonne of Recháb into the house of Bál, he said vnto the seruants of Bál, Searche diligently, and loke, lest there be here with you any of the seruants of the Lord, but the seruants of Bál onely.

i Thus God wolde haue his seruants preserved, and idolaters destroyed: as in his Lawe he giueth express commendement, Deut. 13, 16.

24 And when they went in to make sacrifice & burnt offring, Iehú appointed fourescore men without, and said, If anie of the men whome I haue brought into your hands, escape, his soule shal be for his soule.

25 And when he had made an end of the burnt offring, Iehú said to the garde, and to the captaines, Go in, slaye them, let not a man come out. And they smote the with the edge of the sworde. And the garde, and the captaines cast them out, & went vnto the citie, where was the temple of Bál.

k Which citie was nere to Samaria.

26 And they brought out the images of the temple of Bál, and burnt them.

27 And they destroyed the image of Bál, and threwe downe the house of Bál, and made a iakes of it vnto this day.

28 So Iehú destroyed Bál out of Israél.

29 But fro the sinnes of Ieroboám y sonne of of Nebát which made Israël to sinne, Iehú departed not frō them, nether from the golden calves that were in Beth-él and that were in Dan.

30 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Iehú, Because thou hast diligently executed that which was right in mine eyes, and hast done vnto the house of Aháb according to all thīgs that were in mine heart, therefore shal thy 1 sonnes vnto the fourte generation sit on the throne of Israël.

31 But Iehú regarded not to walke in y<sup>e</sup> lawe of y<sup>e</sup> Lord God of Israël with all his heart: for he departed not from the sinnes of Ieroboám, which made Israël to sinne.

32 In those dayes the Lord began to lothe Israël, and Hazaél smote them in all the coastes of Israël, 33 From Iordén Eastwarde, euē all the land of Gileád, the Gadites, and the Reubenites, and them that were of Manasséh, from Aroér (which is by the river Arnón) and Gileád and Bashán.

34 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehú, and all that he did, and all his valiant dedes, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israël?

35 And Iehú slept with his fathers, and they buryed him in Samaria, and Iehoaház his sonne reigned in his steade.

36 And the time that Iehú reigned ouer Israël in Samaria is eight and twētie yeres.

CHAP. XI.

1 Athaliáh putteth to death all the Kings sonnes, except Ioásh the sonne of Ohoziáh. 4 Ioásh is appointed King. 15 Iehoiadá causeth Athaliáh to be slaine. 17 He maketh a couenant betwene God and the people. 18 Baal and his priests are destroyed.

8 And ye shal compass the King round about, euerie man with his weapon in his hand, and whosoeuer commeth within the ranges, lethim be slaine: be you with the King, as he goeth out and in.

9 ¶ And the captaines of the hundreths did according to all that Iehoiadá the Priest cōmanded, & they toke euerie man his mē that entred in to their charge on the<sup>i</sup> Sabbath with them that went out of it on the Sabbath, and came to Iehoiadá the Priest.

10<sup>k</sup> And the Priest gaue to the captaines of hundreths the speares and the shields that were King Dauids, and were in the house of the Lord.

11 And the garde stode, euerie mā with his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the house to the left side, about the altar & about the house, round about the King.

12 Then he broght out<sup>l</sup> the Kings sonne, and put the crowne vpo him and gaue him<sup>m</sup> the Testimonie, & they made him King: also they annointed him, and clapt their hands, and said, God saue the King.

13 ¶ And when Athaliáh heard the noyse of the running of the people, she came in to the people in the house of the Lord.

14 And when she looked, beholde, the King stode by a<sup>n</sup> pillar, as the maner was, and the princes and the trūpeters by the King, and all the people of the land reioyced, & blew with trumpets. Then Athaliáh rent her clothes, and cryed, Treason, treason.

15 But Iehoiadá the Priest commanded the captaines of the hundreths that had the rule of the holte, and said vnto them, Haue her forthe<sup>o</sup> of the ranges, & he that<sup>p</sup> followeth her, let him dye by the sword: for the Priest had said, let her not be slayne in the house of the Lord.

16 Then they layed hāds on her, & she went by the way, by the w<sup>h</sup> the horses go to the house of y<sup>e</sup> King, and there was she slaine.

17 And Iehoiadá made a couenant betwene the Lord and<sup>q</sup> the King, and the people, that they shulde be the Lords people: likewise betwene the<sup>r</sup> King and y<sup>e</sup> people.

18 Then all the people of the land wēt into the house of Baal, and destroyed it with his altars, & his images brake they downe courageously, and slewe Mattán the priest of Baal before the<sup>s</sup> altars: & the<sup>t</sup> Priest set a garde ouer the house of the Lord.

19 Then he toke the captaines of hundreths, and the other captaines, and the garde, and all the people of the land: and they broght the King from the house of the Lord, and came by y<sup>e</sup> way of the gate of y<sup>e</sup> garde to y<sup>e</sup>

CHAP. XII.

6 Iehoásh maketh provision for the repairing of the Tēple. 16 He stayeth the King of Syria by a present from comming against Ierusalēm. 20 He is killed by two of his seruants.

2 Chron. 24. 1.

1 IN the seuenth yere of Iehú Iehoásh began to reigne, and reigned fourty yeres in Ierusalēm, and his mothers name was Zibiáh of Beer-sheba.

2 And Iehoásh did that which was good in the sight of the Lord all his time that Iehoiadá the Priest taught him.

3 But the hie places were not taken away: for the people offred yet and burnt incense in the hie places.

4 And Iehoásh said to the Priests, All the siluer of dedicate things that be broght to the house of the Lord, that is, the money of them that are vnder the counte, the money that euery man is set at, and all the money that one offreth willingly, and bringeth into the house of the Lord,

5 Let the Priests take it to them, euery mā of his acquaintance: and they shal repaire the broken places of the house, where soeuer anie decaye is found.

6 Yet in the thre and twentieth yere of King Iehoásh the Priests had not mēded that which was decayed in the Temple.

7 Then King Iehoásh called for Iehoiadá the Priest, and the other Priests, and said vnto them, Why repaire ye not the ruines of the Temple? now therefore receiue nomore money of your acquaintance, excepte ye deliuer it to repaire the ruines of the Temple.

8 So the Priests consented to receiue nomore money of the people, nether to repaire the decayed places of the Temple.

9 Then Iehoiadá the Priest toke a chest & bored an hole in the lid of it, and set it beside the altar, on the rightside, as euery man commeth into the Temple of the Lord. And the Priests that kept the dore, put therein all the money that was broght into the house of the Lord.

10 And when they sawe there was muche money in the chest, the Kings secretary came vp & the hie Priest, and put it vp after that they had tolde the money that was founde in the house of the Lord,

11 And they gaue the money made ready into the hands of them, that undertoke the worke, and that had the ouersight of the house of the Lord: and they payed it out to the carpenters and buylders that wrought vpon the house of the Lord,

12 And to the masons and hewers of stone, and to bye tymber and hewed stone, to repaire that was decayed in the house of the Lord, and for all that which was layed out for the reparacion of the Temple.

13 Howbeit there was not made for the house of the Lord bowles of siluer, instruments of musike, basons, trumpets, nor anie vessels of golde, or vessels of siluer of the money that was broght into the house of the Lord.

14 But they gaue it to the workemē, which repaired therewith the house of the Lord.

15 Moreouer, they rekened not with the men, into whose hands they deliuered that money to be bestowed on workmen: for they dealt faithfully.

16 The money of the trespassse offering and the money of the sinne offerings was not broght into the house of the Lord: for it was the Priests.

17 Then came vp Hazaél King of Arám, and foght against Gath and toke it, and Hazaél set his face to go vp to Ierusalēm.

18 And Iehoásh King of Iudáh toke all the hallowed things that Iehoshaphát, & Iehorám, and Ahaziáh his fathers Kings of Iudáh had dedicate, and that he him selfe had dedicated, and all the golde that was founde in the treasures of the house of the Lord and in the Kings house, and sent it to Hazaél King of Arám, and he departed from Ierusalēm.

19 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iohásh and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

20 And his seruants arose and wrought treason, and slewe Iohásh in the house of Millo, when he came downe to Silla:

21 Euen Iozachár the sonne of Shimeath, and Iehozabáb the sonne of Shomer his seruants smote him, and he dyed: and they buried him with his fathers in the citie of Dauid. And Amaziáh his sonne reigned in his steade.

7 For he had left of the people to Iehoaház but fiftie horsemen, and ten charets, & ten thousand foremen, because the King of Arám had destroyed them, and made them like dust beaten to poudre.

9 And Iehoaház slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Ioásh his sonne reigned in his steade.

10 ¶ In the seue and thirtieth yere of Ioásh King of Iudáh began Iehoásh the sonne of Iehoaház to reigne ouer Israël in Samaria, and reigned sixtene yere, 11 And did euil in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from all the sinnes of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát that made Israël to sinne, but he walked therein.

12 Concerning the rest of the actes of Ioásh and all that he did, and his valiant dedes, and how he foght against Amaziáh King of Iudáh, are they not writen in the boke of the Chronicles of the King of Israël?

14 ¶ When Elishá fel sicke of his sicknes, whereof he dyed, Ioásh the King of Israël came downe vnto him, and wept vpon his face, & said, <sup>h</sup> O my father, my father, the charet of Israël, & the horseme of <sup>g</sup> y same.

15 Thē Elishá said vnto him, Take a bowe and arowes. And he toke vnto him bowe and arowes.

16 And he said to the King of Israël, Put thine hand vpon the bow. And he put his hand vpon it. And Elishá put his hands vpon the Kings hands, 17 And said, Open the window <sup>i</sup> Eastward. And when he had opened it, Elishá said, Shote. And he shot. And he said, Beholde the arowe of the Lords deliuerance & the arowe of deliuerance against Arám: for thou shalt smite <sup>j</sup> y Aramites in Aphék, til thou hast consumed them.

18 Againe he said, Take the arowes. And he toke them. And he said vnto the King of Israël, Smite the ground. And he smote thrise, and ceased.

19 Then the man of God was <sup>k</sup> angry with him, and said, Thou shuldest haue smiten fise or sixtimes, so thou shuldest haue smiten Arám, til thou hadest consumed it, where now thou shalt smite Arám but thrise.

20 ¶ So Elishá dyed, & they buried him. And certeine bands of the Moabites came into the land that yere.

21 And as they were burying a man, beholde, they sawe the souldiers: therefore they cast the man into the sepulchre of Elishá. And when the man was downe, & touched the bones of Elishá, <sup>l</sup> he <sup>l</sup> reuiued & stode vpon his fete.

22 ¶ But Hazaél King of Arám vexed Israël all the daies of Iehoaház.

23 Therefore the Lord had mercie on thē, and pitied them, and had respect vnto thē because of his couenant with Abraham, Izhák, and Iaakób, and wolde not destroy them, nether cast he them from him as <sup>m</sup> yet.

24 So Hazaél the King of Arám dyed: and Ben-hadad his sonne reigned in his steade.

25 Therefore Iehoásh <sup>n</sup> y sonne of Iehoaház returned, and toke out of the hād of Ben-hadad the sonne of Hazaél <sup>n</sup> y cities which he had taken away by warre out of the hand of Iehoaház his father: for thre times did Ioásh beat him, and restored the cities vnto Israël.

CHAP. XIII.

8 ¶ Then Amaziáh sent messengers to Iehoásh the sonne of Iehoaház, sone of Iehú King of Israël, saying, Come, <sup>d</sup> let vs se one another in the face.

9 Then Iehoásh the King of Israël sent to Amaziáh King of Iudáh, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanón, sent to the <sup>e</sup> cedre that is in Lebanón, saying, Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and the wilde beast that was in Lebanón, went and trode downe the thistle.

10 Because thou hast smitten Edóm, thine heart hath made thee proude: <sup>f</sup> brag of glorie, & tarye at home. why doest thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shuldest fall, and Iudáh with thee?

11 But Amaziáh wolde not heare: therefore Iehoásh King of Israël went vp: and he & Amaziáh King of Iudáh sawe one another in the face at Beth-shémesh which is in Iudáh.

12 And Iudáh was put to the worse before Israël, and they fled euerie man to their tentes.

13 But Iehoásh King of Israël toke Amaziáh King of Iudáh, the sonne of Iehoásh the sonne of Ahaziáh, at Beth-shémesh, & came to Ierusalém, and brake downe the wall of Ierusalém frō the gate of Bphráim to the corner gate, foure hundreth cubites.

18 Concerning the rest of the actes of Amaziáh, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

19 But they wrought treason against him in Ierusalém, and he fled to <sup>h</sup> Lachish, but they sent after him to Lachish, and slewe him there.

And they broght him on horses, and he was buryed at Ierusalém with his fathers in the citie of Dauid.

21 Then all the people of Iudáh toke <sup>i</sup> Azariáh, which was sixtene yere olde, and made him King for his father Amaziáh.

23 ¶ In the fiftenth yere of Amaziáh the sonne of Ieoásh King of Iudáh, was Ieroboám the sonne of Ieoásh made King ouer Israël in Samaria, & reigned one and fourtie yere.

24 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from all the <sup>l</sup> sinnes of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Israël to sinne.

7 So Azariáh slept with his fathers & they buried him with his fathers in the citie of Dauid, and Iothám his sonne reigned in his steade.

8 ¶ In the eight and thirtieth yere of Azariáh King of Iudáh did Zachariáh the sonne of Ieroboám reigne ouer Israél in Samaria six monethes, 9 And did euil in the sight of the Lord, as did his fathers: for he departed not from the finnes of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Israél to sinne.

10 And Shallúm the sonne of Iabésh conspired against him, & smote him in the sight of the people, and killed him, & reigned in his steade.

11 Concerning the rest of the actes of Zachariáh, beholde, they are writen in y<sup>e</sup> boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél.

12 This was the worde of the Lord, which he spake vnto Iehú, sayíng, Thy sonnes shall sit on the throne of Israél vnto y<sup>e</sup> fourte generation after thee. And it came so to passe.

13 ¶ Shallúm the sonne of Iabésh began to reigne in the nine and thirtieth yere of Vzziáh King of Iudáh: and he reigned the space of a moneth in Samaria.

14 For Menahém the sonne of Gadí went vp from Tirzáh, and came to Samaria, & smote Shallúm the sonne of Iabésh in Samaria, & slew him, & reigned in his steade.

15 Concerning the rest of the actes of Shallúm, and the treason which he wrought, beholde, they are written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél.

16 ¶ Then Menahém destroyed Tiphsháh, and all that were therein, and the coastes thereof from Tirzáh, because they opened not to him, and he smote it, and ript vp all their women with childe.

17 The nine and thirtieth yere of Azariáh King of Iudáh, began Menahém the sonne of Gadí to reigne ouer Israél, & reigned ten yeres in Samaria.

18 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, and departed not all his dayes from the sinne of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Israél to sinne.

19 ¶ The Phul the King of Asshúr came against the land: & Menahém gaue Phul a thousand talents of siluer, that his had might be with him, & establishe the kingdome in his hand.

20 And Menahém exacted the money in Israél, that all men of substance shulde giue the King of Asshúr fifty shekels of siluer a peece: so the King of Asshúr returned & taried not there in the land.

21 Concerning the rest of the actes of Menahém, and all that he did, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél?

22 And Menahém slept with his fathers, & Pekahíáh his sonne did reigne in his stead.

23 ¶ In the fiftieth yere of Azariáh King of Iudáh, begā Pekahíáh the sonne of Menahém to reigne ouer Israél in Samaria, & reigned two yere.

24 And he did euil in the sight of y<sup>e</sup> Lord: for he departed not frō the finnes of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Israél to sinne.

25 And Pékah the sonne of Remaliáh, his captaine cōspired against him, and smote him in Samaria in the place of the Kings palace with Argób and Ariéh, and with him fifty men of the Gileadites: so he killed him, and reigned in his steade.

26 Concerning the rest of the actes of Pekahíáh, and all that he did, beholde, they are written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél.

27 In the two and fiftieth yere of Azariáh King of Iudáh began Pékah the sonne of Remaliáh to reigne ouer Israél in Samaria, and reigned twentie yere.

28 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from the finnes of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, that made Israél to sinne.

29 In the dayes of Pékah King of Israél, came Tiglath Pileser King of Asshúr, and toke Ión, & Abél, Berth-maacháh, & Iánoah, and Kedésh, and Hazór, and Gileád, and Galiláh, & all the land of Naphthalí, and caried them away to Asshúr.

30 And Hoshéa the sonne of Eláh wrought treason against Pékah the sonne of Remaliáh, and smote him, and slewe him, & reigned in his steade in the twentieth yere of Iothám the sonne of Vzziáh.

31 Concerning the rest of the actes of Pékah, and all that he did, beholde, they are written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél.

32 ¶ In the second yere of Pékah the sonne of Remaliáh King of Israél, began Iothám sonne of Vzziáh King of Iudáh to reigne. Chr. 27, 1. Or, Azariáh.

33 Fiue and twentie yere olde was he, when he began to reigne, and he reigned sixtene yere in Ierusalém: and his mothers name was Ierusháh the daughter of Zadók.

26 Wherefore they spake to the King of Asshur, saying, The nacions which thou hast remoued, and placed in the cities of Samaria, knowe not the maner of the God of the land: therefore he hath sent lyons among them, and beholde, they slay them, because they knowe not the maner of the God of the land.

27 Then the King of Asshur commanded, saying, Cary thether one of the priests, whome ye brought thence, and let him go and dwell there, & teach them the maner of the God of the countrey.

p That is, how to worship him: thus the wicked rather the to lose their commodities, will change to all religions.

28 So one of the priests, which they had caryed from Samaria, came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them how they shulde feare the Lord.

29 Howbeit euerie nacio made their gods, and put them in the houses of the hie places, which the Samaritans had made, euerie nacio in their cities, wherein they dwelt.

q Meaning, every countrey found that idole, which was more esteemed in that place whence they came.

30 For the men of Babel made Succoth Benoth: and the men of Cuth made Nergal, and the men of Hamath made Ashima.

31 And the Amims made Nibhaz, and Tartak: and the Sepharuims burnt their children in the fyre to Adrammelech, and Annammelech the gods of Sepharuaim.

32 Thus they feared the Lord, and appointed out priests out of themselves for the hie places, who prepared for them sacrifices in the houses of the hie places.

<sup>a</sup> That is, they had a certain knowledge of God & feared him, because of the punishment, but they continued still idolaters, as do Papists, which worship both God & idoles: but this is not to feare God as appeareth ver. 34.

33 They feared the Lord, but serued their gods after the manner of the nations whom they caryed thence.

34 Vnto this day they do after the olde manner: they nether feare God, nether do after their ordinances nor after their customes, nor after the Lawe, nor after the commandement, which the Lord commanded the children of Iakob, *whome he named Israél,

35 And w<sup>h</sup> whome the Lord had made couenāt, & charged them, saying, *Feare none other gods, nor bowe your selues to them, nor serue them, nor sacrifice to them:

36 But feare the Lord which brought you out of the lād of Egypt with great power, and stretched out arme: him feare ye, and worship him, and sacrifice to him.

37 Also kepe ye diligently the statutes and the ordinances, and the Lawe, and the commandement, which he wrote for you, that ye do them continually, & feare not other gods.

38 And forget not the couenant that I haue made w<sup>h</sup> you, nether feare ye other gods, 39 But feare the Lord your God, and he wil deliuer you out of the hands of all your enemies.

40 Howbeit they obeyed not, but did after their olde custome.

41 So these nations feared the Lord, and serued their images also: so did their children, and their childrens children: as did their fathers, so do they vnto this day.

NOW in * the third yere of Hoſhea, ſonne of Elāh King of Iſraél, Hezekiāh the ſonne of Ahāz King of Iudāh began to reigne.

<sup>a</sup> Although they of Iudāh were giuen to idolatrie and impietie, as they of Iſraél were, yet God for his p<sup>er</sup>mes sake was merciful vnto the throne of Dauid: & yet by his iudgement toward the other, prouoked them to repentance. 2. Chro. 28. 28.

2 He was ſiue and twentie yere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned nine and twētie yere in Ieruſalem. His mothers name alſo was Abi ſ<sup>h</sup> daughter of Zachariāh, And he did * vp<sup>er</sup>rightly in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that Dauid his father had done.

4 He toke away the hie places, and brake the images, and cut downe the groues, & brake in pieces the * braſen ſerpent that Moſes had made: for vnto thoſe dayes the children of Iſraél did burne incenſe to it, and he called it <sup>b</sup> Nehuſhtān.

5 He truſted in the Lord God of Iſraél: ſo that after him was none like him among all the Kings of Iudāh, nether were there anie ſuche before him.

6 For he claue to the Lord & departed not from him, but kept his commandements, which the Lord had commanded Moſes.

7 So the Lord was with him, and he prospered in all things, which he toke in hand: alſo he rebelled againſt the King of Aſſhūr, and ſerued him not.

8 He ſmote the Philiftims vnto Azzāh, & the coaſtes thereof, from the watchetowre vnto the defended citie.

9 * And in the fourte yere of King Hezekiāh, (which was the ſeuēth yere of Hoſhea ſonne of Blāh King of Iſraél) Shalmaneſer King of Aſſhūr came vp againſt Samaria, and beſieged it.

10 And after thre yeres they toke it, <sup>c</sup>uen in the ſixt yere of Hezekiāh: that is, * ſ<sup>h</sup> ninth yere of Hoſhea King of Iſraél was Samaria taken.

11 The King of Aſſhūr did cary away Iſraél vnto Aſſhūr, and put them in Halah and in Habōr, by the riuer of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes, 12 Becauſe they wolde not obey the voyce of the Lord their God, but tranſgreſſed his couenant: <sup>d</sup> that is, all that Moſes the ſeruant of the Lord had commanded, and wolde nether obey nor do them.

13 * Moreouer, in the fourteenth yere of King Hezekiāh Saneherib King of Aſſhūr came vp againſt all the ſtrōg cities of Iudāh, and toke them.

14 Then Hezekiāh King of Iudāh ſent vnto the King of Aſſhūr to Lachiſh, ſaying, <sup>e</sup> I haue offended: departe from me, & what thou layeſt vpon me, I wil beare it. And the King of Aſſhūr appointed vnto Hezekiāh King of Iudāh thre hundredth talents of ſiluer, and thirty talents of golde.

15 Therefore Hezekiāh gaue all the ſiluer that was founde in the houſe of the Lord, and in the treaſures of the Kings houſe.

16 At the ſame ſeaſon did Hezekiāh pul of the plates of the dores of the Temple of the Lord, and the pillers (which the ſaid Hezekiāh King of Iudāh had covered ouer) and gaue them to the King of Aſſhūr.

17 * And the King of Aſſhūr ſent Tartan, and Rabſaris, and Rabſhakēh from Lachiſh to King Hezekiāh with a great hoſte againſt Ieruſalem. And they went vp, and came to Ieruſalem, and when they were come vp, they ſtoode by the condite of the vpper poole, which is by the path of the fullers field,

18 And called to the King. Then came out to them Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, which was stewarde of the house & Shebnah the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder.

19 And Rabshakeh said vnto them, Telye Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus sayth the great King, the great King of Asshur, What confidence is this wherein y<sup>e</sup> trustest?

20 Thou thinkest, Surely I haue eloquence, & counsel and strength are for the warre. On whome then dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

21 Lo, thou trustest now in this broken staffe of reede, to wit, on Egypt, on which if a man leane, it wil go into his had, & percer it: so is Pharaoh King of Egypt vnto all that trust on him.

22 But if ye say vnto me, We trust in y<sup>e</sup> Lord our God, is not that he whose hie places, and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath said to Iudah and Ierusalem, Ye shal worship before this altar in Ierusalem?

23 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the King of Asshur, and I wil giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able to set riders vpon them.

24 For how canst thou despise anie captaine of the least of my masters seruants, & put thy trust on Egypt for charers and horsemen?

25 Am I now come vp without the lord to this place, to destroye it? the lord said to me, Go vp against this lad, & destroye it.

26 Then Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah and Shebnah, and Ioah said vnto Rabshakeh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Aramites language, for we vnderstand it, and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

27 But Rabshakeh said vnto the, Hathe my master sent me to thy master and to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men which sit on the wall, that they may eat their owne dounge, & drinke their owne piss with you?

28 So Rabshakeh stode and cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes language, & spake, saying, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Asshur.

29 Thus sayth the King, Let not Hezekiah disceiue you: for he shal not be able to deliuer you out of mine hand.

30 Nether let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord wil surely deliuer vs, and this citie shal not be given ouer into the hand of the King of Asshur.

31 Hearken not vnto Hezekiah: for thus saith the King of Asshur, Make appointment with me, and come out to me, that euerie man may eat of his owne vine, and euerie man of his owne figtre, and drinke euerie man of the water of his owne well,

32 Til I come, and bring you to a land like your owne land, euen a land of wheat and wine, a land of bread and vineyardes, a land of oliues oyle, & hony that ye may liue and not dye: and obey not Hezekiah, for he disceiuerh you, saying, The Lord wil deliuer vs.

33 Hathe anie of the gods of the naciōs deliuered his land out of the hand of the King of Asshur?

34 Where is the god of Hamah, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuaim, Henna and Iuah? how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

35 Who are they among all the gods of the naciōs, that haue deliuered their land out of mine hand, that the Lord shulde deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hand?

36 But the people held their peace, and answered not him a worde: for the Kings commandement was, saying, Answer ye him not.

37 Then Eliakim, the sonne of Hilkiah, w<sup>as</sup> stewarde of the house & Shebnah the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder came to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

CHAP. XIX.

6 God promisseth by Isaiāh Victorie to Hezekiah. 35 The Angel of the Lord killeth an hundred and foure score and sine thousand men of the Assyrians. 37 Sancherib is killed of his owne sonnes.

And when King Hezekiah heard it, he rent his clothes and put on sackcloth, & came into the house of y<sup>e</sup> Lord, And sent Eliakim which was y<sup>e</sup> stewarde of the house, and Shebnah the chancellor, and the Elders of the Priests clothed in sackcloth to Isaiāh the Prophet the sonne of Amoz.

3 And they said vnto him, Thus sayth Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke, & blasphemie: for the children are come to the birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath heard all the wordes of Rabshakeh, whome the King of Asshur his master hath sent to raile on the liuing God, and to reproche him with wordes which the Lord thy God hath heard, the list thou vp thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the seruants of King Hezekiah came to Isaiāh.

6 And Isaiāh said vnto them, Shal ye say to your master, Thus sayth the Lord, Be not afrayed of the wordes which thou hast heard wherewith the seruants of the King of Asshur haue blasphemed me.

10 Thus shal ye speake to Hezekiáh King of Iudáh, & say, Let not thy God disceiue thee in whome thou trustest, saying, Ierusalem shal not be deliuered into the hand of the King of Asshúr.

11 Beholde, thou hast heard what the Kings of Asshúr haue done to all lands, how they haue destroyed them: and shalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the heathē deliuered them which my fathers haue destroyed? as Gozán, and Harán, and Rézeph, and the childre of Eden, which were in Thelafár?

18 And haue set fyre on their gods: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hāds, euen wood and stone: therefore they destroyed them.

20 ¶ Then Isaiáh the sonne of Amóz sent to Hezekiáh, saying, Thus sayth 3 Lord God of Israël, I haue heard that which thou hast prayed me, concerning Saneherib King of Asshúr.

n Because as yet Ierusalem had not bene

fore he calleth
her virgine.

21 This is the worde that the Lord hath spoken against him, O a virgine, daughter of Zión, he hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorne: O daughter of Ierusalem, he hath shaken his head at thee.

22 Whome hast thou railed on, and whome hast thou blasphemed, and against whome hast thou exalted thy voyce, and lifted vp thine eyes on hye, euen 3 against the Ho-ly one of Israël.

o God coun-

CHAP. XX.

Hezekiáh is sicke, and receyeth the signe of his health. 12 He receyeth rewardes of Berodách. 13 Sheweth his treasures, and is reprehended of Isaiáh. 22 He dyeth and Manasséh his sonne reigneth in his steade.

About that time ⁊ was Hezekiáh sicke vnto death: and ⁊ Prophet Isaiáh the sonne of Amóz came to him, and said vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, Put thine house in an ordre: for thou shalt dye, and not liue.

Then he turned his face to the ⁊ wall, & prayed to the Lord, saying,

I beseeche thee, O Lord, remember now, how I haue walked before thee in trueth & with a ⁊ perfit heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiáh wept sore.

And afore Isaiáh was gone out into the middle of the court, the worde of the Lord came to him, saying,

Turne againe, and tel Hezekiáh the captaine of my people, Thus sayth the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy ⁊ prayer, and sene thy teares: beholde, I haue healed thee, and the third day thou shalt go vp to the ⁊ house of the Lord,

And I wil adde vnto thy dayes fiftene yere, & wil deliuer thee and this citie out of the hand of the King of Asshúr, and wil defend this citie for mine owne sake, and for Dauid my seruants sake.

Then Isaiáh said, Take a ⁊ lompe of drye figs. And they toke it, and layed it on the boyle, and he recouered.

For Hezekiáh had said vnto Isaiáh, What shall be the signe that the Lord wil heale me, and that I shal go vp into the house of the Lord the third day?

And Isaiáh answered, This signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord wil do that he hath spoken, Wilt thou that the shadowe go forwarde ten degrees, or go backe ten degrees?

And Hezekiáh answered, It is a light thing for the shadowe to passe forwarde ten degrees: not so then, but let the shadowe ⁊ go backe ten degrees.

And Isaiáh the Prophet called vnto the Lord, and he broght againe the shadowe ⁊ degrees backe by the degrees whereby it had gone downe in the ⁊ dial of Aház.

The same season Berodách Baladán

the sonne of Baladán King of Babél, sent letters and a ⁊ present to Hezekiáh: for he had heard how that Hezekiáh was sicke.

And Hezekiáh heard them, and shewed them all his treasure house, to wit, the siluer, & the golde, & the spices, and the precious ointment, & all the house of his armour, and all that was founde in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, and in all his ⁊ realme, that Hezekiáh shewed them not.

Then Isaiáh the Prophet came vnto King Hezekiáh, and said vnto him, What said these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiáh said, They be come from a farre countrey, euen from Babél.

Then said he, What haue they sene in thine house? And Hezekiáh answered, All that is in mine house haue they sene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

And Isaiáh said vnto Hezekiáh, Heare the worde of the Lord.

Beholde, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and whatsoeuer thy fathers haue laied vp in store vnto this day, ⁊ shal be caried into Babél: Nothing shalbe left, saith the Lord.

And of thy sonnes, that shal procede out of thee, ⁊ which thou shalt beget, shal they take away, and they shalbe eunuches in the palace of the King of Babél.

Then Hezekiáh said vnto Isaiáh, The worde of the Lord which thou hast ⁊ spoken, is good: for said he, Shal it not be good, if ⁊ peace and trueth be in my dayes?

Concerning the rest of the actes of Hezekiáh, and all his valiant dedes, and how he made a poole & a cōdite, & broght water into the citie, are they not writen in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

And he did euil in the sight of the Lord after the abomination of the heathen, whome the ⁊ Lord had cast out before the children of Israél.

For he went backe and buylt the hie places, ⁊ which Hezekiáh his father had destroyed: and he erected vp altars for Báal, and made a groue, as did Aháb King of X.iii.

4 Also he * buylt altars in the house of the Lord, of the which the Lord said, * In Ieru-salem wil I put my Name.

5 And he buylt altars for all the hoste of the heauen in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 And he caused his sonnes <sup>a</sup> to passe through the fyre, and gaue him selfe to witchcraft and sorcerie, and he vsed them that had familiar spirits and were sothesayers, and did muche euil in the sight of the Lord to angre him.

7 And he set the image of the groue, that he had made, in the house, whereof y<sup>e</sup> Lord had said to Dauid and to Salomon his sonne, * In this house, and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen out of all the tribes of Israēl, wil I put my Name for euer.

8 Nether wil I make y<sup>e</sup> feete of Israēl mo-their fathers: so that they wil <sup>b</sup> obserue and do all that I haue commanded them, according to all the Lawe that my seruant Moses commanded them.

9 Yet they obeyed not, but Manasseh led them out of the way, to do more wickedly then did the heathen people, whome the Lord destroyed before the children of Israēl.

10 Therefore the Lord spake by his seruāts
the Prophetes, saying,

11 * Because that Manasseh King of Iudāh hathe done suche abominaciōs, and hathe wrought more wickedly then all that the Amorites (which were before him) did, & hathe made Iudāh sinne also wth his idoles,

12 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israēl, Beholde, I wil bring an euil vpon Ierusalem and Iudāh, that whoso heareth of it, bothe his eares shal <sup>c</sup> tingle.

13 And I wil stretch ouer Ierusalem the line <sup>d</sup> of Samaria, and the plommet of the house of Ahāb: and I wil wipe Ierusalem, as a man wipe a dish, which he wipe, and turneth it vpside downe.

14 And I wil forsake the <sup>e</sup> remnant of mine inheritance, and deliuer them into the hād of their enemies, and they shalbe robbed & spoiled of all their aduersaries,

15 Because they haue done euil in my sight, and haue prouoked me to angre, since the time their fathers came out of Egypt vntil this day.

16 Moreouer Manasseh shed <sup>f</sup> innocent blood exceeding muche, til he replenished Ierusalem from corner to corner, beside his sinne wherewith he made Iudāh to sin-ne, and to do euil in the sight of the Lord.

nasseh, and all that he did, and his sinne

18 And Manasseh slept with his fathers, and was buryed in y<sup>e</sup> gardē of his owne house, sonne reigned in his steade.

19 ¶ * Amón was two and twentie yere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned two yere in Ierusalem: his mothers name also was Meshullēmeth the daughter of Harūz of Iotbah.

20 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, as his father Manasseh did.

21 For he walked in all the waie, that his father walked in, and serued the idoles that his father serued, and worshiped them.

22 And he forsoke the Lord God of his fathers, and walked not in the <sup>g</sup> way of the Lord.

23 And the seruants of Amón conspired against him, and slewe the King in his owne house.

24 And the people of the land slewe all them that had conspired against King Amón, and the people made Iosiah his sonne King in his steade.

25 Concerning the rest of the actes of Amón, which he did, are they not writen of Iudāh.

26 And they buryed him in his sepulchre in the garden of Vzza: and Iosiah his sonne reigned in his steade.

7 Howbeit let no rekning be made with them of the money, that is deliuered into their hand: for they deale <sup>d</sup> faithfully.

8 And Hilkiah the hie Priest said vnto Shaphan the chancellor, I haue founde the booke of the Lawe in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan, and he red it.

9 So Shaphan the chancellor came to the King, and broght him worde againe, & said, Thy seruants haue gathered the money, that was founde in the house, and haue deliuered it vnto the hands of them that do the worke, and haue the oversight of the house of the Lord.

10 Also Shaphan the chancellor shewed the King, sayig, Hilkiah the Priest hathe deliuered me a booke. And Shaphan red it before the King.

11 And when the King had heard the wordes of the booke of the Lawe, he rent his clothes.

12 Therefore the King commanded Hilkiah the Priest, and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Achbor the sonne of Michaiah, and Shaphan the chancellor, and Asahiah the Kings seruant, saying,

13 Go ye and inquire of the Lord for me, and for the people, and for all Iudah, concerning the wordes of this booke that is founde: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is kindled against vs, because our fathers haue not obeyed the wordes of this booke, to do according vnto all that which is written therein for vs.

14 ¶ So Hilkiah the Priest and Ahikam, and Achbor and Shaphan, and Asahiah went vnto Huldah the Prophetesse the wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tikuah, the sonne of Harhas keeper of the wardrobe: (and she dwelt in Ierusalem in the colledge) and they communed with her.

15 And she answered them, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Tel the man that sent you to me,

16 Thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, I wil bring euil vpon this place, and on the inhabitants thereof, euē all the wordes of y<sup>e</sup> booke which y<sup>e</sup> King of Iudah hathe red,

17 Because they haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger me with all the <sup>b</sup> workes of their hands: my wrath also shalbe kindled against this place, and shal not be quenched.

18 But to the King of Iudah, who sent you to inquire of the Lord, so shal ye say vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, The wordes that thou hast heard shal come to passe.

19 But because thine heart did melt, and thou hast humbled thy selfe before the Lord, when thou heardest what I spake against this place, and against the inhabitants of the same, to wit, that it shulde be destroyed and accursed, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me, I haue also heard it, sayth the Lord.

20 Beholde therefore, I wil gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shal not see all the euil, which I wil bring vpon this place. Thus they broght the King worde againe.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Iehoiak readeth the Lawe before the people. 2 He maketh a couenant with the Lord. 3 He putteth downe the idoles, after he had killed their priests. 22 He kepeth Passouer. 24 He destroyeth the conuersers. 29 He was killed in Megiddo. 30 And his sonne Iehoiakim was made King.

1 Then the King sent, and there gathered vnto him all the Elders of Iudah and of Ierusalem.

2 And the King went vp into the house of the Lord, with all the men of Iudah and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with him, and the Priests and Prophetes, and all the people bothe small & great: and he red in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the couenant, which was found in the house of the Lord.

3 And the King stode by the pillar, and made a couenant before the Lord, that they shuld walke after the Lord, and kepe his commandements, and his testimonies, and his statutes with all their heart, & with all their soul, that they might accomplish the wordes of this couenant written in this booke. And all y<sup>e</sup> people stode to the couenant.

4 Then the King commanded Hilkiah the hie Priest and the Priests of the second ordre, and the keepers of the dore, to bring out of the Temple of the Lord all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for the groue, and for all the hoste of heauen, and he burnt them without Ierusalem in the fields of Kedron, and caryed the powdre of them into Beth-el.

5 And he put downe y<sup>e</sup> Chemerim, whome the Kings of Iudah had fouded to burne incense in the hie places, & in the cities of Iudah, and about Ierusalem, & also them that burnt incense vnto Baal, to the sunne and to the moone, and to the planets, & to all the hoste of heauen.

6 And he broght out the groue from the Temple of the Lord without Ierusalem vnto the valley Kedron, and burnt it in the valley Kedron, and stampit it to powdre, and cast the dust thereof vpon the graues of the children of the people.

7 And he brake downe y<sup>e</sup> houses of y<sup>e</sup> sodomites, that were in the house of the Lord, where the women woue hangings for the groue.

8 Also he broght all the priestes out of the cities of Iudáh, and defiled the hie places where the priests had burnt incense, even from Géba to Beer-sheba, and destroyed the hie places of the gates, that were in y<sup>e</sup> entering in of the gate of Ioshúa the gouernour of the citie which was at the left hand of the gate of the citie.

9 Neuertheles the priests of the hie places came not vp to the altar of the Lord in Ierusalém, saue onely thei did eat of the vnleauened bread among their brethren.

10 He defiled also <sup>k</sup> Tópheth, which was in the valley of the children of Hinnóm, that no man shulde make his sonne or his daughter passe through y<sup>e</sup> fyre to Mólch.

11 He put downe also the <sup>l</sup> horses that the Kings of Iudáh had giuen to the sunne at the entering in of the house of the Lord, by the chamber of Nethan-mélech the eunuche, which was rule of the suburbs, and burnt the charets of the sunne with fyre.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the chamber of Aház, which the Kings of Iudáh had made, and the altars which Manasséh had made in the two courtes of the house of the Lord, did the Kíng breake downe, and hasted thence, and cast the dust of them in the brooke Kedrón.

14 And he brake the images in pieces, and cut downe the groues and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 Furthermore the altar that was at Beth-él, & the hie place made by Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Israél to sinne, bothe this altar and also the hie place brake he downe, & burnt the hie place, & stampit it to powder and burnt the groue.

16 And as Iosiah turned him selfe, he spied the graues, that were in the mount, and sent and toke the bones out of the graues, and burnt them vpon the altar, and polluted it, according to the worde of the Lord that the <sup>n</sup> man of God proclaimed which cryed the same wordes.

17 Thē he said, What title is that which I se? And the mē of the citie said vnto him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Iudáh, and tolde these things that thou hast done to the altar of Beth-él.

18 Thē said he, Let him alone: let none remoue his bones. So his bones were saued with the bones of the <sup>p</sup> Prophet that came from Samaria.

19 Iosiah also toke away all the houses of the hie places, which were in the cities of Samaria, which the Kings of Israél had made to angre the Lord, and did to them according to all the factes that he had done in Beth-él.

20 And he sacrificed all the priestes of the hie places, that were there vpon the altars, and burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Ierusalém.

21 ¶ Then the King commanded all the people, saying, * Keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord your God, * as it is written in the booke of this couenant.

22 And there was no Passeouer holden <sup>q</sup> like that from the daies of the Iudges that iudged Israél, nor in all the dayes of the Kings of Israél, and of the Kings of Iudáh.

23 And in the eighteenth yere of King Iosiah was this Passeouer celebrated to the Lord in Ierusalém.

24 Iosiah also toke away them that had familiar spirits, & the sothesayers, and the images, and the idoles, & all the abominations that were espied in the land of Iudáh & in Ierusalém, to performe the wordes of the * Lawe, which were written in the booke that Hilkiáh the Priest founde in the house of the Lord.

25 Like vnto him was there no King before him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soule, & with all his might according to all the Lawe of Mofés, nether after him arose there anie like him.

26 Notwithstanding the Lord turned not from the <sup>r</sup> fearcenes of his great wrath wherewith he was angrie agáinst Iudáh, because of all the prouocations wherewith Manasséh had prouoked him.

27 Therefore the Lord said, I wil put Iudáh also out of my sight, as I haue put away Israél, and wil cast of this citie Ierusalém, which I haue chosen, and the house whereof I said, * My Name shalbe there.

28 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iosiah, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

1 And in the ninth yere of his reigne, the tenth moneth & tenth day of the moneth Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel came, he, & all his hoste against Ierusalém, and pitched against it, and they buylt fortres against it rounde about it.

2 So the citie was besieged vnto the eleueth yere of King Zedekiah.

3 And the ninth day of the moneth the famine was sore in the citie, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.

4 Then the citie was broken vp, and all the men of warre fled by night, by the waye of the d gate, which is betwene two walles that was by the Kings garden: now the Caldees were by the citie rounde about: and the King went by the way of the wildernes.

5 But the armie of the Caldees pursued after the King, and toke him in the deserts of Ierichó, and all his hoste was scatred from him.

6 Then they toke the King, and caryed him vp to the King of Babel to Ribláh, where they gaue iudgement vpon him.

7 And they slewe the sonnes of Zedekiah before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bounde him in chaines, & caryed him to Babel.

8 And in the fift moneth, & seuenth day of the moneth, which was the nintenth yere of King Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel, came Nebuzar-adán chief steward and seruant of the King of Babel, to Ierusalém, 9 And burnt the house of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all the houses of Ierusalém, & all the great houses burnt he with fyre.

10 And all the armie of the Caldees that were with the chief stewarde, brake downe the walles of Ierusalém rounde about.

11 And the rest of the people that were left in the citie, and those that were fled and fallen to the King of Babel, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzar-adán chief stewarde carye away captiue.

12 But the chief stewarde left of the poore of the land to dresse the vines, and to til the land.

13 Also the pillars of brasle that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, and the brasen Sea that was in the house of the Lord, did the Caldees breake, and caryed the brasle of them to Babel.

14 The pottes also and the besomes, and the instruments of musike, and the incense asshes, & all the vessels of brasle that they ministred in, toke they away.

15 And the ashe pannes, and the basens, and all that was of golde, & that was of siluer, toke the chief stewarde away,

16 With the two pillars, one Sea & the bases, which Salomón had made for the house of the Lord: the brasle of all these vessels was without weight.

17 The height of the one pillar was eightene cubites, and the chapter thereon was brasle, and the height of the chapter was with networke thre cubites, and pomegranates vpon the chapter rounde about, all of brasle: and likewise was the seconde pillar with the networke.

18 And the chief stewarde toke Seraiáh the chief Priest, and Zephaniáh the seconde Priest, and the thre keepers of the dore.

19 And out of the citie he toke an eunuche that had the ouersight of the me of warre, and fise men of them that were in the Kings presence, which were founde in the citie, and Sophér captaine of the hoste, who mustred the people of the land, and threscore men of the people of the land, that were founde in the citie.

20 And Nebuzar-adán the chief stewarde toke them, and broght them to the King of Babel to Ribláh.

21 And the King of Babel smote them, and slewe them at Ribláh in the land of Hamáth. So Iudáh was caryed away captiue out of his owne land.

22 Howbeit there remained people in the land of Iudáh, whome Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel left, & made Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám the sonne of Shaphán ruler ouer them.

23 The when all the captaines of the hoste & their men heard, that the King of Babel had made Gedaliáh gouernour, thei came to Gedaliáh to Mizpáh, to wit, Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh, and Iohanán the sonne of Káreah, and Seraiáh the sonne of Tanhúmeth & Netophathite, & Iazaniáh & sonne of Maachathi, thei & their me.

24 And Gedaliáh sware to the, & to their men, and said vnto them, Feare not to be the seruants of the Caldees: dwel in the land, and serue the King of Babel, and ye shal be wel.

25 But in the seuenth moneth Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh the sonne of Elishamá of the Kings fede, came, and ten men with him, & smote Gedaliáh, & he dyed, and so did he the Iewes, and the Caldees that were with him at Mizpáh.

26 Then all the people bothe small & great and the captaines of the armie arose, and came to Egypt: for they were afraied of the Caldees.

27 Notwithstanding in the seuen and thirtieth yere after, Ichoiachin King of Iudáh was caryed away in the twelfth moneth & the seuen and twentieth day of the moneth, Euil-merodách King of Babel in the yere n Thus Ieremie was he, his wife, & his children in Babylon, whome Nebuchad-nezzár sonne, after his fathers death, preferred to honour: thus by Gods providence the fede of David was renewed euen vnto Christ.

vere that he began to reigne, did lift vp the head of Iehoiachin King of Iudah out of the prison,

28 And spake kindly to him, & set his throne about the throne of the Kings that were with him in Babel, 29 And changed his prison garments: and he did continually eat bread before him, all the dayes of his life.

30 And his portion was a continual portion giuen him by the King, euerie day a certain, all the dayes of his life.

THE FIRST BOKE OF the "Chronicles," or Paralipoménon.

THE ARGUMENT.

"Ebr. Wordes of dayes
"Or, of things omitted, to wit, in the booke of the Kings.

THe Iewes comprehend bothe these booke in one, which the Grecians because of the length deuide into two: and they are called Chronicles, because they note briefly the histories from Adam to the returne from their captiuitie in Babylon. But these are not those booke of Chronicles, which are so oft mentioned in the booke of Kings of Iudah and Israel, which did at large set forth the storie of bothe the kingdomes, and afterward perished in the captiuitie: but an abridgement of the same, and were gathered by Esra, as the Iewes write, after their returne from Babylon. This first booke containeth a brief rehearal of the children of Adam vnto Abraham, Izhak, Iakob, and the twelue Patriarches, chiefly of Iudah and of the reigne of David, because Christ came of him according to the flesh. And therefore it setteth forth more amply his actes, bothe concerning civil gouernement, and also the administration, and care of things concerning religion, for the good successe whereof he reioyceth, and giueth thanks to the Lord.

22 And their townes were Etám, and Aín, Rimmón, and Tóché, & Ashán, fíue cities.

33 And all their townes that were round about these cities vnto Báal, These are their habitations and the declaration of their genealogie,

34 And Meshobáb and Iamléch, & Iosháh the sonne of Amashiáh,

35 And Ioél and Ichú the sonne of Ioshibiáh, <sup>y</sup> sonne of Seraiáh, <sup>y</sup> sonne of Asiél,

36 And Elionái, and Iakóbah, & Ieshohaiáh, and Afaiáh, and Adiel and Iesimiél & Benaiáh, 37 And Zizá the sonne of Shiphéi, the sonne of Allón, the sonne of Iedaiáh, the sonne of Shimrí, the sonne of Shemaiáh.

38 These were famous princes in their families, and increased greatly their fathers houses.

For the tribe of Simeón was so great in número in the time of Ezechiáh that they sought new dwellings vnto Gedór, which is in the tribe of Dan.

39 And they went to the entering in of Gedór, euen vnto the East side of the valley, to seke pasture for their shepe.

40 And they found fat pasture & good, & a wide land, bothe quiet and fruteful: for they of Ham had dwelt there before.

41 And these described by name, came in <sup>y</sup> dayes of Hezekiáh Kíng of Iudáh, & smote their tents, and the inhabitants that were founde there, and destroyed them vtterly vnto this day, and dwelt in their rowme, because there was pasture there for their shepe.

42 And besides these, fíue hundreth men of the sonnes of Simeón went to móut Seir, and Pelatiáh, & Neariáh, and Rophaiáh, and Vzziel the sonnes of Ishí were their captaines, m And were not slaine by Beal & Dauid.

10 And in the dayes of Saúl they warred with the <sup>e</sup> Hagarims, which fell by their hands: and they dwelt in their tents in all the East partes of Gileád.

11 ¶ And the children of Gad dwelt ouer against them in the land of Bashán, vnto Salcháh.

12 Ioél was the chiefest, and Shaphám the seconde, but Iaanái & Shaphát were in Bashán.

13 And their brethren of the house of their fathers were Michaél, & Meshullám, & Shebá, & Sorái, and Iacán & Zia, & Ebér, seué.

14 These are the children of Abiháil, the sonne of Huri, the sonne of Iaroáh, the sonne of Gileád, the sonne of Michaél, the sonne of Ieshishái, the sonne of Iahdó, the sonne of Buz.

15 Ahí the sonne of Abdiél, the sonne of Guní was chief of the housholde of their fathers.

f Bothe the hole country & one peculiar ciuiewere called by this name Bashán.

16 And they dwelt in Gileád in <sup>f</sup> Bashán, & in the townes thereof, and in all the suburbs of Sharón, by their borders.

17 All these were rekened by genealogies in the dayes of Iothám King of Iudáh, & in the dayes of Ieroboám King of Israël.

18 ¶ The sonnes of Reuben and of Gad, & of halfe the tribe of Manasseh of those <sup>y</sup> were valiant men, able to beare shield, & sworde, and to drawe a bowe, exercised in warre, were foure & fourtie thousand, seuen hundreth and threscore, that went out to the warre.

g These twal-ne were <sup>y</sup> sonnes of Ishmaél, Gene. 25, 13. h To wit, by the Lord, that gaue them the victorie.

20 And they were <sup>h</sup> holpen against them, & the Hagarims were deliuered into their hand, and all that were with them: for they cryed to God in the battel, and he heard them, because they trusted in him.

21 And they led away their cattel, <sup>eue</sup> their camels fiftie thousand, and two hundreth, & fiftie thousand shepe, and two thousand asses, and of <sup>i</sup> persones an hundreth thousand.

CHAP. VII.

1 The genealogie of Issachár, Benjamin, 13 Naphtali, 14 Manasséh, 20 Ephraim, 30 And Ashér.

1 And the sones of Issachár were Tolá & Puáh, Iashúb, & Shimrón, foure,
2 And the sonnes of Tolá, Vzzi, and Re-phaiáh, and Ieriél, and Iahmái, & Iibsam, and Shemuél, heades in the householdes of their fathers. Of Tolá were valiant men of warre in their generacions, whose number was in the daies of Dauid two & twentie thousand, and six hundreth.

3 And the sonne of Vzzi was Izrahaiáh, & y sonnes of Izrahaiáh, Michaél, & Obadiáh, and Ioél, & Ishiáh, five men all princes.

4 And with them in their generacions after the householdes of their fathers were bands of mē of warre for battel, six & thirtie thousand: for they had many wiues and children.

5 And their brethren among all the families of Issachár were valiant men of warre, reckened in all by their genealogies foure score and seuen thousand.

6 ¶ The sonnes of Benjamin were Béla, & Bécher, and Iediaél, three.

7 And the sonnes of Béla, Ezbón, & Vzzi, and Vzziél, and Ierimóth, & Irí, five heads of the householdes of their fathers, valiant men of warre, and were reckened by their genealogies, two and twentie thousand & thirtie and foure.

8 And the sonnes of Bécher, Zemiráh, and Ioásh, and Eliézer, and Elioenái, & Omrí, & Ierimóth, & Abiáh, & Anathóth, & Alámeth: all these were the sones of Bécher.

9 And they were nombred by their genealogies according to their generacions, and the chief of the houses of their fathers, valiant men of warre, twentie thousand & two hundreth.

10 And the sonne of Iediaél was Bilhán, and the sonnes of Bilhán, Ieúsh, and Benjamin, and Ehúd, and Chenáanáh, and Zethán, and Tharshísh, and Abishháhar.

11 All these were y sonnes of Iediaél, chief of the fathers, valiant men of warre, seuentene thousand & two hundreth, marching in battel aray to the warre.

12 And Shuppím, & Huppím were the sonnes of Ir, but Hushím was the sonne of another.

13 ¶ The sonnes of Naphtali, Iahziél, and Guní, and Iézer, and Shallúm, of the sonnes of Bilháh.

14 The sone of Manasséh was Ashriél whom she bare vnto him, but his concubine of Arám bare Machír the father of Gilead.

15 And Machír toke to wife the sister of Huppím & Shuppím, and the name of their sister was Maacháh. And the name of the seconde sonne was Zelophehád, and Zelophehád had daughters.

16 And Maacháh the wife of Machír bare a sonne, and called his name Péresh, and the name of his brother was Shéresh: and his sonnes were Vlám and Rakém.

17 And y sonne of Vlám was Bedán. These were the sonnes of Gilead the sonne of Machír, the sonne of Manasséh.

18 And his sister Molécheth bare Ishód, & Abiézer, and Mahaláh.

13 And their brethrē the chief of the households of their fathers a thousand, seven hundred and thre score yaliāt men, for y<sup>e</sup> worke of the seruice of the house of God.

14 ¶ And of the Levites, Shemaiáh the sonne of Hasshub, the sonne of Azrikám, the sone of Hasshabiah of the sones of Merari,

15 And Bakbakkár, Héresh and Galál, and Mattaniah the sonne of Michá, the sonne of Zichrí, the sonne of Afáph,

¶ And Obadiáh the sonne of Shemaiáh, the sonne of Galál, y sonne of Ieduthún, and Berechiáh, the sonne of Ásá, the sonne of Elkanáh, that dwelt in the villages of the Netophathites.

17 ¶ And the porters were Shallúm, and Akkúb, and Talmón, and Ahimán, and their brethren: Shallúm was the chief.

18 For they were porters to this time by companies of the children of Leui vnto the Kings gate Eastwarde.

19 And Shallum the sonne of Kóre the sonne of Ebiasaph the sonne of Kórah, & his brethren the Korathites (of the house of their father) were ouer the worke, and office to kepe the gates of the <sup>f</sup> Tabernacle:

so their families ~~were~~ were over the hoste of the Lord, keping the entrie.

20 And Phineás the sonne of Eleazár was their guide, and the Lord was with him.

21 Zechariah the sonne of Meshelemiah was the porter of the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

21 All these were chosen for porters of the gates, two hundred and twelve, which were nombred according to their genealogies by their townes. David established these and Samuél the Seer in their perpetual office.

23 So they and their children had the oversight of the gates of y<sup>e</sup> house of y<sup>e</sup> Lord, eue of the house of the Tabernacle by wardes.

24. The porters were in foure quarters Eastward, Westward, Northward and Southward.

25 And their brethren, ~~which were~~ in their townes, came at 8 feuen dayes from time to time with them.

26 For these four chief porters were in perpetual office, and were of the Levites and had charge of the chambers, & of the treasures in the house of God.

27 And they laye round about the house of God, because the charge was theirs, & they caused it to be opened euerie morning.

18 And certeine of them had the rule of the ministring vessels: for they brought them in by tale, and brought them out by tale.

29 Some of them also were appointed ouer the instruments, and ouer all the vessels of the Sanctuarie, and of the <sup>h</sup> floure, and the wine, and the oyle, and the incense, and the swete odours.

CHAP. X.

1 The battel of Saul against the Philistims, 4 In which he dyeth, 5 And his sonnes also, 13 The cause of Sauls death.

1 Sam. 31. 2. THen * the Philistims foght against Israël: and the men of Israël fled before the Philistims, and fel downe slaine in mount Gilbóa.

2 And the Philistims pursued after Saúl & after his sonnes, and the Philistims smote Ionathán, and Abinadáb, & Malchishúa the sonnes of Saúl.

Mr. froude. 3 And the battel was fore against Saúl, and the archers hit him, and he was wounded of the archers.

4 Then said Saúl to his armour bearer, Drawe out thy sworde, and thrust me through therewith, lest these vncircúfised come & mocke at me: but his armour bearer wolde not, for he was sore afraid: therefore Saúl toke the sworde & fel vpó it.

5 And when his armour bearer sawe that Saúl was dead, he fel likewise vpon the sworde, and dyed.

6 So Saúl dyed and his thre sonnes, and all his house, they dyed together.

7 And when all the men of Israël that were in the valley, sawe how they fled, and that Saúl and his sonnes were dead, they forsoke their cities, & fled away, and the Philistims came, and dwelt in them.

Mr. froude. 8 And on the morowe when the Philistims came to spoile them that were slaine, they found Saúl & his sonnes lying in mount Gilbóa.

9 And when they had stript him, they toke his head and his armour, and sent them into the land of the Philistims round about, to publish it vnto their idoles, and to the people.

10 And they laied vp his armour in y<sup>e</sup> house of their god, and set vp his head in the house of a Dagón.

a Which was the idole of y<sup>e</sup> Philistims, & from the belly downward had the forme of a fish & vpwarde of a man. 11 ¶ Whé all thei of Iabésh Gileád heard all that the Philistims had done to Saúl, 12 Then they arose (all the valiant men) and toke the body of Saúl, and the bodies of his sonnes, and broght them to Iabésh, and buryed the bones of them vnder an oke in Iabésh, and fasted seven dayes.

1 Sam. 31. 23. 13 So Saúl dyed for his transgression, that he committed against the Lord, * euen against the worde of the Lord, which he kept not, and in that he foght and asked counsel of a * familiar spirit,

3 After the death of Saul is Dauid anointed in Hebrón, 5 The Iebusites rebell against Dauid, from whome he taketh the towre of Zión, 6 Ioáb is made captaine, 10 His valiant men.

THen * all Israël gathered them selves to Dauid vnto Hebrón, saying, Beholde, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

2 And in time past, euen when Saúl was King, thou leddest Israël out and in: and the Lord thy God said vnto thee, Thou shalt fede my people Israël, and thou shalt be captaine ouer my people Israël.

3 So came all the Elders of Israël to y<sup>e</sup> King to Hebrón, & Dauid made a couenāt with thei in Hebrón before the Lord. And they anointed Dauid King ouer Israël, * according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Samuél.

4 ¶ And Dauid & all Israël went to Ierusalém, which is Iebús, where were the Iebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Iebús said to Dauid, Thou shalt not come in hither. Neuer theles Dauid toke the towre of Zión, which is the citie of Dauid.

6 And Dauid said, * Whosoeuer smiteth y<sup>e</sup> Iebusites first, shal be the chief & captaine. So Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiáh wēt first vp, and was captaine.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the towre: therefore thei called it the citie of Dauid.

8 * And he buylt the citie on euerie side, fró Milló euen round about: & Ioáb repaired the rest of the citie.

9 And Dauid prospered, & grewe: for the Lord of hostes was with him.

2 Sam. 23. 8. 10 ¶ These also are the chief of the valiant men that were with Dauid & ioyned their force with him in his kingdome wth all Israël, to make him King ouer Israël, according to the worde of the Lord.

11 And this is the number of the valiant mē whome Dauid had, Iashobéám the sonne of Hachmoní, the chief among thirty: he lift vp his speare against thre hundreth, whome he slewe at one time.

12 And after him was Eleazár the sonne of Dódo the Ahohite, which was one of the thre valiant men.

13 He was with Dauid at Pasdammím, & there the Philistims were gathered together to battel: and there was a parcel of ground ful of barly, and the people fled before the Philistims.

14 And thei stode in y<sup>e</sup> middes of the field, and saued it, and slewe the Philistims: so the Lord gaue a great victorie.

15 ¶ And thre of the thirtie captaines wēt to a rocke to Dauid, into the caue of Adullám. And the armie of the Philistims camped in the valley of Rephaím.

16 And when Dauid was in the holde, the Philistims garison was at Beth-léhem.

2 Sam. 23, 15. 17 And Dauid longed, and said, * Oh, that one wolde giue me to drinke of the water of the well of Beth-léhem that is at the gate.

18 Then these thre brake thorowe the hoste of the Philistims, and drewe water out of the well of Beth-léhem that was by the gate, and toke it and broght it to Dauid: but Dauid wolde not drinke of it, but powred it for an oblation to the Lord,

19 And said, Let not my God suffer me to do this: shulde I drinke the * blood of these mēs liues: for they haue broght it with the icopardye of their liues: therefore he wolde not drinke it: these things did these thre mightie men.

20 ¶ And Abshai the brother of Ioab, he was chief of the thre, and he list vp his speare against thre hūdreth, and slewe the, and had the name among the thre.

21 Among the thre he was more honorable then the two, & he was their captaine: * but he attained not vnto the first thre.

2 Sam. 23, 19. 22 Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá (the sonne of a valiant man), which had done manie actes, and was of Kabzeél, he slewe two strong men of Moab: he went downe also and slewe a lion in the middes of a pit in time of snow.

23 And he slewe an Egyptian, a mā of great stature, euen fīue cubites long, and in the Egyptiās hand was a speare like a weauers beame: and he went downe to him with a staffe, and plucked the speare out of the Egyptians hand, and slewe him with his owne speare.

24 These things did Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá, & had the name among the thre worthies.

25 Beholde, he was honorable among thirtie, but he attained not vnto the first thre. * And Dauid made him of his counsel.

26 ¶ These also were valiant men of warre, Afahél the brother of Ioab, Elhanán the sonne of Dodó of Beth-léhem,

11 Attai the sixt, Eliel the seuento,

12 Iohanah the eight, Elzabad the ninte,

13 Ieremiah the tente, Macbannai the eleuente.

14 These were the sonnes of Gad, captaynes of the hoste: one of the least colde resist an hundreth, and the greatest a thousand.

15 These are they that went ouer Iorden in the first moneth whe he had filled ouer all his bankes, and put to flight all them of the valley, towarde the East and the West.

16 And there came of the children of Benjamin, and Iudah to the holde vnto Dauid,

17 And Dauid went out to mete them, and answered and said vnto them, If ye be come peaceably vnto me to helpe me, mine heart shalbe knit vnto you, but if you come to betray me to mine aduersaries, seeing there is no wickednes in mine handes, the God of our fathers beholde it, and rebuke it.

18 And the spirit came vpon Amasai, which was the chief of thirtie, and he said, Thine are we, Dauid, & with thee, o sonne of Ishai. Peace, peace be vnto thee, and peace be vnto thine helpers: for thy God helpeth thee. The Dauid receiued them, & made them captaynes of the garison.

19 And of Manasse some fel to Dauid, when he came with the Philistims against Saul to battel, but they helped them not: for the princes of the Philistims by aduisement sent him away, saying, He wil fall to his master Saul for our heades.

20 As he went to Ziklag, there fel to him of Manasse, Adnah, and Iozabad, and Iediael, and Michael, and Iozabad, and Elihu, & Ziltai, heades of the thousands that were of Manasse.

21 And they helped Dauid againsts that bade: for they were all valiant men and were captaynes in the hoste.

22 For at that time day by day there came to Dauid to helpe him, vntil it was a great hoste, like the hoste of God.

23 And these are the numbers of the captaynes that were armed to battel, & came to Dauid to Hebron, to turne the kingdome of Saul to him, according to the worde of the Lord.

24 The children of Iudah that bare shield & speare, were six thousand & eight hundreth armed to the warre.

25 Of the children of Simeon valiant men of warre, seuen thousand and an hundreth.

26 Of the children of Levi foure thousand and six hundreth.

27 And Iehoiada was the chief of them of Aaron: and with him thre thousand and seuen hundreth.

28 And Zadok a yong man very valiant, and of his fathers housholde came two and twentie captaynes.

29 And of the children of Benjamin the brethre of Saul thre thousand: for a great parte of them vnto that time kept the warde of the house of Saul.

30 And of the children of Ephraim twentie thousand, & eight hundreth valiant men & famous men in the housholde of their fathers.

31 And of the halfe tribe of Manasse eightene thousand, which were appointed by name to come and make Dauid King.

32 And of the children of Issachar which were men that had vnderstanding of the times, to knowe what Israel ought to do: the heades of them were two hundreth, & all their brethren were at their commandement.

33 Of Zebulun that went out to battel, expert in warre, & in all instruments of warre, fiftie thousand which colde set the battel in aray: they were not of a double heart.

34 And of Naphtali a thousand captaynes, and with them with shield and speare seue & thirtie thousand.

35 And of Dan expert in battel, eight and twentie thousand, and six hundreth.

36 And of Asher that went out to the battel and were trained in the warres, fourtie thousand.

37 And of the otherside of Iorden of the Reubenites and of the Gaddites, and of the halfe tribe of Manasse with all instruments of warre to fight with, an hundreth and twentie thousand.

38 All these men of warre that colde lead an armie, came with vpright heart to Hebron to make Dauid King ouer all Israel: & all the rest of Israel was of one accorde to make Dauid King:

39 And there they were with Dauid thre dayes, eating and drinking: for their brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreouer they that were nere them vntil Issachar, and Zebulun, and Naphtali broght bread vpon asses, and on camels, and on mules, and on oxen, euen meat, floure, figges, & reifins, and wine & oyle, & beues and shepe abundantly: for there was ioye in Israel.

AND David counseled with the capitaines of thousands & of hundreths, & with all the gouernours.

And David said to all the Cōgregation of Israël, If it seme good to you, and that it procedeth of the Lord our God, we wil send to and fro vnto our brethren, that are left in all the land of Israël (for with them are the Priests and the Leuites in y cities and their suburbs) that thei may assemble them selues vnto vs.

And we wil bring againe the Arke of our God to vs: for we sought not vnto it in the dayes of Saúl.

And all the Congregation answered, Let vs do so: for the thing semed good in the eyes of all the people.

So David gathered all Israël together frō Shihór in Egypt, eue vnto the entring of Hamáth, to bring the Arke of God from Kiriath-icarim.

And David went vp & all Israël to Balaíth, in Kiriath-icarim, y was in Iudáh, to bring vp from thence the Arke of God the Lord that dwelleth betwene the Cherubims, where his name is called on.

And they caried the Arke of God in a newe cart out of the house of Abinadáb: and Vzzá and Ahio guided the cart.

And David and all Israël plaied before God with all their might, bothe w songs & with harpes, and with viols, and with timbrels and with cimbares and with trūpers.

And when they came vnto the threshing floore of Chidón, Vzzá put forth his hand to holde the Arke, for the oxen did shake it.

But the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Vzzá, and he smote him, because he laied his hand vpon y Arke: so he dyed there before God.

And David was angrie, because the Lord had made a breache in Vzzá, and he called the name of that place Pérez-vzzá vnto this day.

And David feared God that day, sayig, How shal I bring in to me the Arke of God?

Therefore David broght not the Arke to him into the citie of David, but caused it to turne into the house of Obéd Edóm the Gittite.

So the Arke of God remained in the house of Obéd Edóm, euen in his house thre moneths: and the Lord blessed the house of Obéd Edóm, and all that he had.

Hiram sendeth wood and workemen to David. 4 The names of his children. 8. 14. By the counsel of God he goeth against the Philistims & ouercometh the. 15 God fighteth for him.

THen sent Hiram the King of Tyrus messengers to David, & cedre trees, with masons & carpenters to buylde him an house.

Therefore David knewe that the Lord had confirmed him King ouer Israël, & that his kingdome was lift vp on hie, because of his people Israël.

Also David toke mo wiues at Ierusalem, & David begate mo sonnes & daughters.

And these are the names of the children which he had at Ierusalem, Shammúa, and Shobáb, Nathán, & Salomón,

And Ibhár, and Elishúa, and Elpálet,

And Nógah, and Népheg and Iaphia,

And Elishamá, and Beeliadá, and Eliphálet.

But when the Philistims heard that David was anointed King ouer Israël, all y Philistims came vp to seke David. And when David heard, he went out against them.

And the Philistims came, and spred them selues in the valley of Repháim.

Then David asked counsel at God, saying, Shal I go vp against y Philistims, & wilt thou deliuer them into mine hand? And the Lord said vnto him, Go vp: for I wil deliuer them into thine hand.

So they came vp to Báal-perazím & David smote them there: and David said, God hath deuided mine enemies with mine hád, as waters are deuided: therefore thei called the name of that place, Báal-perazím.

And there they had left their gods: and David said, Let them euen be burnt with fyre.

Againe the Philistims came and spred them selues in the valley.

And whē David asked againe coušel at God, God said to him, Thou shalt not go vp after them, but turne away from them, that thou maiest come vpon them ouer against the mulberry trees.

And when thou hearest the noise of one going in the toppes of the mulberry trees, then go out to batel: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite the hoste of the Philistims.

So David did as God had commanded him: and they smote the hoste of the Philistims from Gibeón euen to Gézér.

And the fame of David went out into all lands and the Lord broght the feare of him vpon all nacions.

AND David made him houses in the citie of David, and prepared a place for the Arke of God, and pitched for it a tent.

Then David said, *None ought to cary the Arke of God, but the Leuites: for the Lord hath chosen them to beare the Arke of the Lord, and to minstre vnto him for euer.

¶ And David gathered all Israel together to Ierusalem to bring vp the Arke of the Lord vnto his place, which he had ordeined for it.

And David assembled the sonnes of Aaron, and the Leuites.

Of the sonnes of Kohath Vriél the chief, and his brethren six score.

Of the sonnes of Merari, Asaiáh the chief, and his brethren two hundred & twentie.

Of the sonnes of Gershom, Ioél the chief, and his brethren an hundred and thirtie.

Of the sonnes of Elizaphán, Shemaiáh the chief, and his brethren two hundred.

Of the sonnes of Hebrón, Eliél the chief, and his brethren foure score.

Of the sonnes of Vzziél, Amminadáb the chief, and his brethren an hundred & twelue.

¶ And David called Zadók & Abiathár the Priests, and of the Leuites, Vriél, Asaiáh and Ioél, Shemaiáh, and Eliél, and Amminadáb:

And he said vnto the, Ye are the chief fathers of the Leuites: sanctifie your selues, and your brethren, and bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

For *because ye were not there at first, the Lord our God made a breache among vs: for we fought him not after due order.

So the Priests and the Leuites sanctified them selues to bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel.

¶ And the sonnes of the Leuites bare the Arke of God vpon their shulders with the barres, as Moses had commanded, *according to the worde of the Lord.

And David spake to the chief of the Leuites, that they shulde appoint certaine of their brethren to sing with instruments of musike, with vials and harpes, & cymbales, that thei might make a sounde, and lift vp their voyce with ioye.

So the Leuites appointed Hemán the sonne of Ioél, and of his brethren Asaph the sonne of Berechiah, and of the sonnes of Merari their brethren, Ethán the sonne of Kushaiáh,

And with them their brethren in the seconde degre, Zechariáh, Ben, and Iaziel, and Shemiramóth, and Iehiel, and Vnni, Eliáb, and Benaiáh, and Maasiah, & Mattithiáh, and Elipheléh, and Mikneáh, and Obéd Edóm, and Ieiel the porters.

So Hemán, Asaph & Ethán were fingers to make a sounde with cymbales of brasle, And Zechariáh, and Aziél, and Shemiramóth, and Iehiel, and Vnni, and Eliáb, and Maasiah, and Benaiáh with vials on Alamóth,

And Mattithiáh, & Elipheléh, and Mikneáh, and Obéd Edóm, and Ieiel, and Azaziáh, with harpes vpon Sheminith le-nazzéah.

But Chenaniáh the chief of the Leuites had the charge, bearing the burden in the charge, for he was able to instruct.

And Berechiah & Elkanáh were porters for the Arke.

And Shecaniah and Iehoshaphát and Nathaneél and Amashai, and Zachariáh, and Benaiáh, and Eliézer the Priests did blowe with trumpets before the Arke of God, and Obéd Edóm and Ieiah were porters for the Arke.

*So David and the Elders of Israel and the captaines of thousands went to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lord from the house of Obéd Edóm with ioye.

And because that God helped the Leuites that bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, thei offered seven bullockes and seven rams.

And David had on him a linen garment, as all the Leuites that bare the Arke, and the fingers and Chenaniáh that had the chief charge of the fingers: and vpon David was a linen Ephód.

Thus all Israel brought vp the Arke of the Lords couenant with shouting and sounde of trumpets & with cornet, & with cymbales, making a sounde with vials & with harpes.

And when the Arke of the couenant of the Lord came into the citie of David, Michal the daughter of Saúl looked out at a window, & sawe King David dancing and playing, and she despised him in her heart.

2 And when Dauid had made an end of of- fring & burnt offering & the peace offerings, he <sup>a</sup> blessed the people in the Name of the Lord.

3 And he dealt to euerie one of Israel bothe man and woman, to euerie one a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a bottel of wine.

4 And he appointed certeine of the Leuites to minister before the Arke of the Lord, and to <sup>b</sup> rehearse and to thanke and praise the Lord God of Israel,

5 Asaph the chief, and next to him Zecha- riah, Ieiel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehiel, and Mattithiah, and Eliab, and Benaiab, & Obéd Edóm, euen Ieiel with instruments, viales and harpes, and Asaph to make a founde with cymbales,

6 And Benaiab and Iahaziel Priests, with trumpets continually before the Arke of the couenant of God.

7 Then at that time Dauid did <sup>c</sup> appoint at the beginning to giue thanks to the Lord by the hād of Asaph & his brethre.

8 *Praise the Lord & call vpon his Name: declare his <sup>d</sup> workes among the people.

David is forbidden to buyld an house vnto the Lord.
12 Christ is promised vnder the figure of Salomon.
18 Dauid giueth thanks, 23 And prayeth vnto God.

Now afterwarde whē Dauid dwelt in his house, he said to Nathan y Prophet, Beholde, I dwel in an house of cedre trees, but the Arke of the Lords couenant remaineth vnder curtaines.

2 Then Nathan said to Dauid, Do all that is in thine heart: for God is with thee.

3 And the same night euen the worde of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 Go, and tel Dauid my seruāt, Thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not buyld me an house to dwel in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no house, since the day y I brought out the children of Israel vnto this day, but I haue bene from tent to tent, and from habitation to habitation.

6 Wherefoeuer I haue walked with all Israel, spake I one worde to anie of the iudges of Israel (whome I commanded to fede my people) saying, Why haue ye not buylt me an house of cedre trees?

7 Now therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruāt Dauid, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I toke thee fro the shepecoate & from following the shepe, that thou shuldest be a prince ouer my people Israel.

8 And I haue bene w thee whetherfoeuer thou hast walked, and haue destroyed all thine enemies out of thy fight, and haue made thee a name, like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

9 (Also I wil appoint a place for my people Israel, & wil plant it, that they may dwel in their place, and moue nomore: nether shal the wicked people vex the anie more, as at the beginning,

10 And since the time that I commanded iudges ouer my people Israel) And I wil subdue all thine enemies: therefore I say vnto thee, that the Lord wil buyld thee an house.

11 And when thy dayes shalbe fulfilled to go with thy fathers, then wil I raise vp thy sede after thee, which shal be of thy sonnes, and wil stablish his kingdome.

12 He shal buyld me an house, and I wil stablish his throne for euer.

13 I wil be his father and he shalbe my sonne, and I wil not take my mercie away fro him, as I toke it from him that was before thee.

14 But I wil establish him in mine house, & in my kingdome for euer, and his throne shalbe stablished for euer,

15 According to all these wordes, and according to all this vision. So Nathan spake to King Dauid.

16 ¶ And Dauid the King went in and fate before the Lord and said, Who am I, o Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast brought me hetherro.

17 Yet thou esteeming this a smale thing, o God, hast also spoken concerning the house of thy seruāt for a great while, and hast regarded me according to the estate of a man of hye degre, o Lord God.

18 What can Dauid desire more of thee for the honour of thy seruāt: for thou knowest thy seruāt.

19 O Lord, for thy seruants sake, euen according to thine heart hast thou done all this great thing to declare all magnificence.

20 Lord, there is none like thee, nether is there anie god besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

21 Moreover what one nation in the earth is like thy people Israel, whose God went to redeme the to be his people, & to make thy selfe a Name, and to do great and terrible things by casting out naciōs from before thy people, whome thou hast deliuered out of Egypt?

22 For thou hast ordeined thy people Israel to be thine owne people for euer, and thou Lord art become their God.

23 Therefore now Lord, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruāt & concerning his house, be confirmed for euer, and do as thou hast said,

24 And let thy Name be stable & magnified for euer, that it may be said, The Lord of hostes, God of Israel, is the God of Israel, & let the house of Dauid thy seruāt be stablished before thee.

25 For thou, o my God, hast reueled vnto the eare of thy seruāt, that thou wilt buyld him an house: therefore thy seruāt hathe bene bolde to pray before thee.

26 Therefore now Lord (for thou art God, and hast spoken this goodnes vnto thy seruāt)

27 Now therefore, it hathe pleased thee to blese the house of thy seruāt, that it may be before thee for euer: for thou, o Lord, hast blessed it, & it shalbe blessed for euer.

2 And Dauid said, I wil shewe kindnes vnto Hanun the sonne of Nahash, because his <sup>a</sup> father shewed kindenes vnto me. And Dauid sent messengers to comforte him for his father. So the seruants of Dauid came into the land of the childre of Ammōn to Hanun to comforte him.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammōn said to Hanun, Thinkest thou that Dauid doeth honour thy father, that he hath sent comforters vnto thee? Are not his seruants come to thee to <sup>b</sup> searche, to seke and to spie out the land?

4 Wherefore Hanun toke Dauids seruants, and <sup>c</sup> shaued them, and cut of <sup>d</sup> their garments by the halfe vnto the buttocks, and sent them away.

5 And there went certaine and tolde Dauid concerning the men: and he sent to mete them (for the men were exceedingly ashamed) & the King said, Tary at Ierichō, vntil your beardes be growen: thē returne.

3 And he caryed away the people that were in it, and cut them with sawes, and with harowes of yron, and with axes: euen thus did Dauid with all the cities of the children of Ammón. Then Dauid and all the people came againe to Ierusalém.

4 And after this also there arose warre at Gézer with the Philistims: then Sibbecháí the Hushathite slewe Sippái, of the children of Harapháh, and they were subdued.

5 And there was yet another battel with the Philistims: and Elhanán the sonne of Iair slewe Lahmí, the brother of Goliáth <sup>y</sup> Gittite, whose speare stasse was like a weauers beame.

2 Therefore Dauid said to Ioáb, and to the rulers of the people, Go & number Israël from <sup>b</sup> Beer-sheba euen to Dan, and bring it to me, that I may know the number of them.

3 And Ioáb answered, The Lord increase his people an hundreth times so many as they be, <sup>o</sup> my lord the King: are they not all my lords seruants? wherefore doeth my lord require this thing? why shulde he be a cause of <sup>c</sup> trespasse to Israël.

4 Neuertheles the Kings worde preuailed against Ioáb. And Ioáb departed and wēt through all Israël, and returned to Ierusalém.

8 Then Dauid said vnto God, I haue sinned greatly, because I haue done this thing: but now, I beseeche thee, remoue the iniquitie of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Gad Dauids Seer, saying,

14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israël, and there fell of Israël seuentie thousand men.

15 ¶ And God sent the Angel into Ierusalem to destroye it. And as he was destroying, the Lord behelde, and repented of the euil and said to the Angel that destroyed, It is now ynough, let thine hand cease. Then the Angel of the Lord stood by the threshing floore of Ornán the Iebusite.

16 And Dauid lift vp his eyes, and sawe the Angel of the Lord stand betwene the earth and the heauen with his sworde drawn in his hand, and stretched out towarde Ierusalem. Then Dauid and the Elders of Israël, which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.

18 ¶ The Angel of the Lord commanded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid shulde go vp, and set vp an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floore of Ornán the Iebusite.

19 So Dauid went vp according to y<sup>e</sup> saying of Gad, which he had spokē in the Name of the Lord.

20 And Ornán turned about, and sawe the Angel, and his foure sonnes that were with him, hid them selues, and Ornán threshed wheat.

21 And as Dauid came to Ornán, Ornán looked and sawe Dauid and went out of the threshing floore, and bowed him selfe to Dauid with his face to the ground.

22 And Dauid said to Ornán, Giue me the place of thy threshing floore, that I may buyld an altar therein vnto the Lord: giue it me for sufficient money, that the plague may be stayed from the people.

23 Then Ornán said vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, and let my lord the King do that which semeth him good: lo, I giue thee bullockes. for burnt offerings, & threshing instruments for wood, & wheat for meat offering, I giue it all.

24 And King Dauid said to Ornán, Not so: but I wil bye it for sufficient money: for I wil not take that which is thine for y<sup>e</sup> Lord, nor offer burnt offrings without cost.

27 And when the Lord had spoken to the Angel, he put vp his sworde againe into his sheathe.

1 And Dauid said, This is the house of the Lord God, & this is the altar for the burnt offering of Israël.

2 And Dauid commanded to gather together the strangers that were in the land of Israël, and he set masons to hewe and polish stones to buyld the house of God.

3 Dauid also prepared much yron for the nailes of the dores of the gates, and for the ioynings, and abundance of brasie passing weight,

4 And cedre trees without number: for the Zidonians and they of Tyrus brought much cedre wood to Dauid.

5 And Dauid said, Salomón my sonne is yong and tender, and we must buyld an house for the Lord, magnifical, excellent and of great fame and dignitie throughout all countreies. I wil therefore now prepare for him. So Dauid prepared very much before his death.

6 Then he called Salomón his sonne, and charged him to buyld an house for the Lord God of Israël.

7 And Dauid said to Salomón, My sonne, I purposed with my selfe to buyld an house to the Name of the Lord my God,

8 But the worde of the Lord came to me, saying, Thou hast shed much blood, & hast made great battels: thou shalt not buyld an house vnto my Name: for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my sight.

Chap. 21. d This declared how greatly God detesteth the shedding of blood, Iels Dauid for this cause is staid to buyld the Temple of the Lord, albeith entered in no warre, but by Gods commandement & against his enemies.

2 Sam. 7. 13. 10 *He shal buylde an house for my Name, and he shal be my sonne, and I wil be his father, and I wil establish the throne of his kingdome vpon Israël for euer.

2 King. 5. 5. 11 Now therefore my sonne, the Lord shal be with thee, and thou shalt prosper, and thou shalt buylde an house to the Lord thy God, as he hath spoken of thee.

He sheweth that there can be no prosperitie, but when the Lord is with vs. 12 Onely the Lord giue thee wisdom & vnderstanding, and giue thee charge ouer Israël, euen to kepe the Law of the Lord thy God.

These are onely the meanes whereby Kings gouerne their subiectes aright, & whereby the realmes do prosper and flourish. 13 Then thou shalt prosper, if thou take hede to obserue the statutes and the iudgements which the Lord commanded Moses for Israël: be strong and of good courage: feare not, nether be afraied.

For Dauid was poore in respect of Salomons. 14 For beholde, according to my pouertie haue I prepared for the house of the Lord an hundred thousand talents of golde, and a thousand thousand talents of siluer, and of brasle and of yron passing weight: for there was abundance: I haue also prepared timbre and stone, and thou maiest prouide more thereto.

Or, masons, & carpenters. 15 Moreouer thou hast workmen with thee ynough, hewers of stone, and workemen for timbre, and all men expert in euerie worke,

That is, go about it quickly. 16 Of golde, of siluer, and of brasle, and of yron there is no number. h Vp therefore, & be doing, & the Lord wil be with thee.

17 Dauid also commanded all the princes of Israël to helpe Salomons his sonne, saying,

The nations round about. 18 Is not the Lord your God with you, & hath giuen you rest on euerie side: for he hath giuen the inhabitants of the land into mine hand, & the land is subdued before y Lord & before his people.

For els he knewe that God wolde plague them, & not prosper their labours except they sought wth all their heartes to set forth his glorie. 19 Now set your hearts and your soules to seke the Lord your God, and arise, and buylde the Sanctuarie of the Lord God to bring the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, and the holy vessels of God into the house buylt for y Name of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

Dauid being olde, ordeineth Salomons King. 3 He causeth the Levites to be nombred. 4 And assigneth them to their offices. 13 Aaron and his sonnes are for the hie Priest. 14 The sonnes of Moses.

2 King. 1. 30. 1 SO when Dauid was olde and ful of daies, * he made Salomons his sonne King ouer Israël.

2 And he gathered together all the princes of Israël with the Priests and the Levites.

3 And the Levites were nombred from the age of thirtie yere and aboue, and their number according to their summe was eight and thirtie thousand men.

Or, in their count. 4 Of these foure and twentie thousand were set to aduance the worke of the house of the Lord, and six thousand were ouerscers and iudges.

5 And foure thousand were porters, & foure thousand praised y Lord with instrumets which he made to praise the Lord.

"Ebr. I made, meanig Dauid, Chap. 6. 1. 6 *So Dauid deuided offices vnto them, to wit, to the sonnes of Leui, to * Gershons, Kohaths, and Meraris.

"Or, Liban, Chap. 6. 17. 7 Of the Gershonites were Laadan and Shimeis.

8 The sonnes of Laadan, the chief was Iehiel, and Zetham and Ioel, thre.

9 The sonnes of Shimeis, Shelomith, and Haziél and Harám, thre: these were the chief fathers of Laadan.

10 Also the sonnes of Shimeis were Iahath, Zinai, Ieush, and Beriáh: these foure were the sonnes of Shimeis.

"Or, Zinai. 11 And Iahath was the chief, & Zizah the seconde, but Ieush & Beriáh had not many sonnes: therefore they were in the families of their father, counted but as one.

12 ¶ The sonnes of Kohath were Amram, Izhâr, Hebrón and Vzziel, foure.

Exod. 2. 2. & 6. 20. ebr. 3. 1. a That is, to serue in the moste holy place & to consecrate y holy things. 13 *The sonnes of Amram, Aaron and Moses: and Aaron was separated to sanctifie the moste holy place, he & his sonnes for euer to burne incense before the Lord, to minister to him, and to blesse in his Name for euer.

14 ¶ Moses also the man of God, & his children were named with the tribe of Leui.

15 The sonnes of Moses were Gershon, and Eliézer,

b They were but of the ordre of the Levites & not of the Priests as Aarons sonnes. Exod. 2. 22. & 18. 3. 16 Of the sonnes of * Gershon was Shebuel the chief.

17 And the sonne of Eliézer was Rehabiáh the chief: for Eliézer had none other sonnes: but the sonnes of Rehabiáh were very many.

18 The sonne of Izhâr was Shelomith the chief.

c The Scripture vieth to call chief or y first borne, althogh he be alone & there be none borne after, Matt. 1. 25. 19 The sonnes of Hebrón were Ieriáh the first, Amariáh the seconde, Iahaziél the third, and Iekamiám the fourt.

20 The sonnes of Vzziel were Micháh the first, and Isshiáh the seconde.

21 ¶ The sonnes of Merari were Mahli and Mushi. The sonnes of Mahli, Eleazar and Kish.

d Meaning their cousins. e Dauid did chose the Levites twice, first at the age of thirtie, as ver. 3. & againe afterwarde at twentie, as the necessitie of y office did require: at y beginning they had no charge in the Temple, before they were five and twentie yere olde, and had none after that, Nób. 10. 24. 22 And Eleazar dyed, and had no sonnes, but daughters, and their brethren the sonnes of Kish toke them.

23 The sonnes of Mushi were Mahli, and Edér, and Ierimóth, thre.

24 These were the sonnes of Leui according to the house of their fathers, euen the chief fathers according to their offices, according to the number of names & their summe that did the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lord from the age of twenty yeres and aboue.

The Priests offices. I. Chron.

25 For Dauid said, The Lord God of Israel hath given rest vnto his people, that they may dwell in Ierusalem for euer.

26 And also the Leuites shal nomore beare the Tabernacle and all the vessels for the seruice thereof.

27 Therefore according to the last wordes of Dauid, the Leuites were nombred from twentie yere and aboue,

28 And their office was vnder the hand of the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of the house of the Lord in the courtes, and chambers, and in the purifying of all holy things, and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God,

29 Bothe for the shewbread, and for the fine floure, for the meat offering, and for the vnleauened cakes, and for the fryed things, and for that which was roasted, and for all measures and cise,

30 And for to stand euerie morning, to giue thanks and to praise the Lord, & likewise at euen,

31 And to offer all burnt offerings vnto the Lord, in the Sabbaths, in the moneths, and at the appointed times, according to the number & according to their custome continually before the Lord,

32 And that they shulde kepe the charge of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the charge of the holie place, and the charge of the sonnes of Aaron their brethren in the seruice of the house of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

Dauid assigneth offices vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

1 These are also the diuisions of the sonnes of Aaron, The sonnes of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihú, Eleazár, and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihú dyed before their father, and had no childre: therefore Eleazár and Ithamar executed y Priests office.

3 And Dauid distributed them, euen Zadók of the sonnes of Eleazár, and Ahimelech of the sonnes of Ithamar according to their offices in their ministration.

4 And there were found mo of the sonnes of Eleazár by the number of men, then of the sonnes of Ithamar. and they deuided them, to wit, among the sonnes of Eleazár, fixtene heades, according to the household of their fathers, and among the sonnes of Ithamar, according to the household of their fathers, eight.

5 Thus they distributed them by lot the one from the other, and so the rulers of the Sanctuarie and the rulers of the house of God were of the sonnes of Eleazár and of the sonnes of Ithamar.

6 And Shemaiah the sonne of Nethaneel the scribe of the Leuites, wrote them before the King and the princes, and Zadók the Priest, and Ahimelech the sonne of Abiathar, and before the chief fathers of the Priests and of the Leuites, one familie being reserued for Eleazár, & another reserued for Ithamar.

7 And the first lot fel to Ichoiari, and the second to Iedai, and 8 The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

9 The fifth to Malchiah, the sixth to Miamin,

10 The seventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abiah,

11 The ninth to Ieshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

16 The nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Iehzekel,

17 The one and twentieth to Iachin, the two and twentieth to Gamul, 18 The three and twentieth to Deliah, the four and twentieth to Maaziah.

19 These were their ordres according to their offices, when they entred into the house of the Lord according to their custome vnder the hand of Aaron their father, as the Lord God of Israel had commanded him.

20 And of the sonnes of Leui that remained of the sonnes of Amram, was Shubaél, of the sonnes of Shubaél, Iedeiah,

21 Of Rehabiah, euen of the sonnes of Rehabiah, the first Isshiah,

22 Of Izharí, Shelomoth, of the sonnes of Shelomoth, Iahath,

23 And his sonnes Ieriah the first, Amariah the seconde, Iahaziel the thirde, and Iekameam the fourth,

24 The sonne of Vzziel was Michah, the sonne of Michah was Shamir, 25 The brother of Michah was Isshiah, the sonne of Isshiah, Zechariah,

26 The sonnes of Merari were Mahli and Mushi, the sonne of Iaziah was Benó, 27 The sonnes of Merari of Iahaziah were Benó, and Shoham, and Zaccur and Ibrí.

28 Of Mahli came Eleazár, which had no sonnes.

29 Of Kishi. the sonne of Kishi was Ierahmeel,

30 And the sonnes of Mushi were Mahli, and Edér, and Ierimoth: these were sonnes of the Leuites after the household of their fathers.

Because Dauid was forbidden to buyld the Tēple, he willet Salomón and the people to performe it, & exhorting him to feare the Lord.

Now Dauid assembled all the princes of Israël: the princes of the tribes, & the captaines of the bandes that serued the King, and the captaines of thousands & the captaines of hundreths, and the rulers of all the substance, and possession of the King, & of his sonnes, with the eunuches, and the mightie, and all the mé of power, vnto Ierusalém.

2 And King Dauid stode vp vpon his fete, and said, Heare ye me, my brethren & my people: I purposed to haue buylt an house of a rest for the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, & for a footstole of our God, and haue made ready for the buylding.

3 But God said vnto me, Thou shalt not buyld an house for my Name, because thou hast bene a má of warre, & hast shed blood.

4 Yet as the Lord God of Israël chose me before all the house of my father, to be King ouer Israël for euer (for in Iudáh wolde he chuse a prince, & of the house of Iudáh is the house of my father, & among the sonnes of my father he delited in me to make me King ouer all Israël)

5 So of all my sonnes (for the Lord hathe giuen me manie sonnes) he hathe eué chosen Salomón my sonne to sit vpō the throne of the kingdome of ý Lord ouer Israël.

6 And he said vnto me, Salomón thy sone, he shal buyld mine house & my courtes:

Moreouer Dauid the King said vnto all the Congregation, God hathe chosen Salomon mine onelie sonne yong and tendre, & the worke is great: for this house is not for man, but for the Lord God.

2 Now I haue prepared with all my power for the house of my God, golde for vessels of golde, and siluer for them of siluer, and brasie for things of brasie, yron for things of yron, and wood for things of wood & onix stones, and stones to be set, and carbuncle stones and of diuers colour, and all precious stones, & marble stones in abundace.

3 Moreouer because I haue delite in the house of my God, I haue of mine owne golde and siluer, which I haue giue to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the house of the Sanctuarie,

4 Euen thre thousand talents of golde of the golde of Ophir, and seuenthousand talents of fined siluer to ouerlay the walles of the houses.

5 The golde for the things of golde, and the siluer for things of siluer, and for all the worke by the hands of artificers: and who is willing to fil his hand to day vnto the Lord?

6 So the Princes of the families, and the prices of the tribes of Israel, & the captaines of thousands & of hundreths, with the rulers of Kings worke, offred willingly,

7 And they gaue for the seruice of the house of God hue thousand talents of golde, and ten thousand pieces, and ten thousand talents of siluer, and eighrene thousand talents of brasie, and one hundreth thousand talents of yron.

9 And the people reioyced when they offered willingly: for they offered willingly vnto the Lord, with a perfite heart. And Dauid the King also reioyced with great ioye.

10 Therefore Dauid blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, & Dauid said, Blessed be thou, O Lord God, of Israel our father, for euer and euer.

11 Thine, O Lord, is greatnes and power, and glorie, and victorie and praise: for all that is in heauen & in earth is thine: thine is the kingdome, O Lord, and thou excellest as head ouer all.

12 Bothe riches and honour come of thee, & thou reignest ouer all, and in thine hand is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make great, and to giue strength vnto all.

13 Now therefore our God, we thanke thee, and praise thy glorious Name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we shulde be able to offer willingly after this sorte? for all things come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue giuen thee.

15 For we are strangers before thee, and sojourners, like all our fathers: our dayes are like the shadowe vpon the earth, and there is none abiding.

16 O Lord our God, all this abundance that we haue prepared to buyld thee an house for thine holy Name, is of thine hand and all is thine.

17 I knowe also, my God, that thou tryest the heart, and hast pleasure in righteousnes: I haue offered willingly in y<sup>r</sup> vprightnes of mine heart all these things: now also haue I sene thy people which are founde here, to offer vnto thee willingly with ioye.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Izhak and Israel our fathers, kepe this for euer in the purpose, and the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts vnto thee.

19 And giue vnto Salomon my sonne a perfite heart to kepe thy commandements, thy testimonies, and thy statutes, and to do all things, and to buyld the house which I haue prepared.

20 ¶ And Dauid said to all the Congregation, Now blesse the Lord your God. And all the Congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heades, & worshipped the Lord and the King.

21 And they offered sacrifices vnto the Lord, and on the morowe after that day, they offered burnt offrings vnto the Lord, euen a thousand yong bullockes, a thousand rammes, & a thousand sheepe, with their drinke offrings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.

22 And they did eat and drinke before the Lord the same day with greate ioye, and they made Salomon the sonne of Dauid King the seconde time, and anointed him prince before the Lord, and Zadok for the hie Priest.

23 So Salomon sate on the throne of the Lord, as King in steade of Dauid his father, and prospered: and all Israel obeyed him.

24 And all the princes and men of power, and all the sonnes of King Dauid submitted them selues vnder King Salomon.

25 And the Lord magnified Salomon in dignitie, in the sight of all Israel, and gaue him so glorious a kingdome, as no King had before him in Israel.

26 ¶ Thus Dauid the sonne of Ishai reigned ouer all Israel.

27 And the space that he reigned ouer Israel, was fourtie yere: seuen yere reigned he in Hebron, and thre & thirtie yere reigned he in Ierusalem:

28 And he dyed in a good age, ful of dayes, riches and honour, and Salomon his sonne reigned in his steade.

29 Concerning the actes of Dauid the King first and last, beholde, they are written in the booke of Samuél the Seer, and in the booke of Nathan the Prophete, and in the booke of Gad the Seer,

THE SECONDE BOKE of the Chronicles.

THE ARGUMENT.

This seconde boke containeth briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two boke of the Kings: that is, from the reigne of Salomon to the destruction of Ierusalem, and the carying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this storie are certeine things declared and set forth more copiously then in the booke of the Kings, and therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophetes. But thre things are here chiefly to be considered. First that the godlie Kings, when they sawe the plagues of God prepared against their countrey for sinne, had recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues remoued. The seconde how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that suche as feare him and professe his religion, shoulde ioyne in amitie with the wicked. And thirdely how the good rulers euer loued the Prophetes of God, and were very zealous to set for he his religion throughout all their dominions, and contrarie wise the wicked hated his ministers, deposed them, and for the true religion and worde of God, set vp idolatrie, and serued God according to the fantasie of men. Thus haue we hitherto the chief actes from the beginning of the worlde to the buylding againe of Ierusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yere of Darius, and conteine in the whole, thre thousand, foure hundred foure score and eight yeres, and six moneths.

THÉ Salomón the sone of Dauid was confirmed in his kingdome: & y<sup>e</sup> Lord his God was with him, & magnified him highlie.

And Salomón<sup>a</sup> spake vnto all Israél, to the capitaines of thousands, and of hundredes and to the iudges, and to all the gouernours in all Israél, euen the chieff fathers.

So Salomón and all the Congregation with him went to the hye place that was at<sup>b</sup> Gibeón: for there was the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation of God which Moses the seruant of the Lord had made in the wilderness.

But the Arke of God had Dauid brought vp from Kiriath-iearím, when Dauid had made preparacion for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Ierusalem.

Moreover the<sup>c</sup> brasen altar<sup>d</sup> that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the Lord: and Salomón and the Cōgregation sought it.

And Salomón offered there before y<sup>e</sup> Lord vpon the brasen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: euen a thousand burnt offerings offered he vpon it.

The same night did God appeare vnto Salomón, and said vnto him, Aske what I shal giue thee.

And Salomón said vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercie vnto Dauid my father and hast made me to reigne in his steade.

Now therefore, o Lord God, let thy promises vnto Dauid my father be<sup>e</sup> true: for thou hast made me King ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

Giue me now wisdom and knowledge, y<sup>e</sup> I may<sup>f</sup> go out & go in before this people: for who cā iudge this thy great people?

And God said to Salomón, Because this was in thine heart, & thou hast not asked riches, treasures nor honour, nor the ali-ues of thine enemies, nether yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisdom & knowledge that thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whome I haue made thee King,

Wisdom & knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I wil giue thee riches and treasures and honour, so that there hathe not bene the like among the Kings w<sup>h</sup> were before thee, nether after thee shal there be y<sup>e</sup> like.

Then Salomón came from the hye place, that was at Gibeón, to Ierusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israél.

And Salomón gathered the charrets & horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure hundred charrets, & twelue thousand horsemen, whome he placed in the<sup>h</sup> charret cities, and with the King at Ierusalem.

And the King gaue siluer and golde at Ierusalem as<sup>i</sup> stones, & gaue cedre trees as the wilde fig trees, that are abundantly in the plaine.

Also Salomón had horses brought out of Egypt and<sup>j</sup> fine linen: the Kings merchants receiued the fine linen for a price.

They came vp also and brought out of Egypt some charret, w<sup>h</sup> the six hundred shels of siluer, that is an horse for an hundred and fiftie: & thus they brought horses to all the Kings of the Hittites, and to the Kings of Aram by their<sup>k</sup> meanes.

THÉ Salomón determined to buyld an house for the Name of the Lord, & an<sup>l</sup> house for his kingdome.

And Salomón tolde out seuentie thousand that bare burdens, and foure score thousand men to hewe stones in the mountaine, and thre thousand and<sup>m</sup> six hundred to ouersee them.

And Salomón sent to<sup>n</sup> Hiram the King of Tyrus, sayig, As thou hast done to Dauid my father, & didest send him cedre trees to buyld h<sup>i</sup> an house to dwel in, so do to me.

Beholde, I buyld an house vnto the Name of y<sup>e</sup> Lord my God, to sanctifie it vnto him, him, & to burne swete incense before him, and for the continual shewbread, & for y burnt offerings of the morning & evening, on the Sabbath daies, & in the newe moneths, and in the solemne feastes of the Lord our God: this is a perpetual thing for Israël.

5 And the house which I buyld, is great: for great is our God aboue all gods.

6 Who is he the that can be able to buyld him an house, when the heauen, and the heauen of heauens can not conteine him: who am I then y I shulde buyld hī an house: but I do it to burne incense before him.

7 Send me now therefore a cunning man that can worke in golde, in siluer, and in brasle, and in yron, and in purple, and crimosin and blewe silke, and that can graue in grauen worke with the cunning men y are with me in Iudāh and in Ierusalēm, whome Dauid my father hath prepared.

8 Send me also cedre trees, firre trees and Alummim trees from Lebanōn: for I knowe that thy seruants can skill to hewe timbre in Lebanōn: and beholde, my seruants shalbe with thine, 9 That they may prepare me timbre in abundāce: for the house which I do buyld, is great and wonderful.

10 And beholde, I wil giue to thy seruants the cutters and the hewers of timbre twētic thousand measures of beaten wheat, and twētic thousand measures of barley, and twētic thousand baths of wine, and twētic thousand baths of oyle.

11 Then Hurām King of Tyrus answered in writing which he sent to Salomōn, Because the Lord hath loued his people, he hath made thee King ouer them.

12 Hurām said moreover, Blessed be the Lord God of Israël which made the heauen and the earth, and that hath giuen vnto Dauid the King a wise sonne, that hath discretion, prudence and vnderstanding to buyld an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdome.

13 Now therefore I haue sent a wise man, & of vnderstanding of my father Hurāms,

14 The sonne of a woman of the daughters of Dan: and his father was a man of Tyrus, & he can skill to worke in golde, in siluer, in brasle, in yron, in stone, and in timbre, in purple, in blewe silke, and in fine linen and in crimosin, and can graue in all grauen workes, and broder in all broyded worke that shalbe giue him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord Dauid thy father.

15 Now therefore the wheat and the barley, the oyle & the wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send vnto his seruants.

16 And we wil cut wood in Lebanōn as muche as thou shalt nede, and wil bring it to thee in rafter by the sea to Iaphō, so thou maiest cary them to Ierusalēm.

17 ¶ And Salomōn nombred all the strangers that were in the land of Israël, after the nombing that his father Dauid had nombred them: and they were founde an hundred and thre and fiftie thousand, and six hundred.

18 And he set seuentie thousand of them to the burden, and fourescore thousand to hewe stones in the mountaine, & thre thousand and six hundred ouerseers to cause the people to worke.

CHAP. III.

The Temple of the Lord, and the porche are buylded, with other things thereto belonging.

1 SO Salomōn began to buyld the house of the Lord in Ierusalēm, in mount Moriāh which had bene declared vnto Dauid his father, in the place that Dauid prepared in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

2 And he began to buyld in the seconde moneth of the seconde day, in the fourth yere of his reigne.

3 And these are the measures, whereon Salomōn grounded to buyld the house of God: the length of cubites after the first measure was threescore cubites, & the breadth twenty cubites:

4 And the porche, y was before the length in the fronte of the breadth was twētic cubites, and the height was an hundred and twētie, & he ouerlaied it within with pure golde.

5 And the greater house he syled with firre tree which he ouerlaied with good golde, & graued thereon palmetrees & chaines.

6 And he ouerlaied y house with precious stone for beautie: and the golde was golde of Paruāim.

7 The house, I say, the beames, postes, and walles thereof and the doores thereof ouerlaied he with golde, and graued Cherubims vpon the walles.

8 ¶ He made also y house of the moste holy place: the length thereof was in the fronte of the breadth of the house, twētic cubites, and the breadth thereof twētic cubites: and he ouerlaied it with the best golde, of six hundred talents.

9 And the weight of the nailes was fiftie shekels of golde, and he ouerlaied the chambers with golde.

10 ¶ And in the house of the moste holy place he made two Cherubims wrought like children, and ouerlaied them with golde.

11 ¶ And the wings of the Cherubims were twenty cubites long: the one wing was fine cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing six cubites, reaching to y wing of the other Cherub.

a A great vessel of brasie, so called because of the great quantitie of water, w<sup>ch</sup> it contained. 1. King 7, 23. b Meaning, vnder the brim of the vessel, as 1. King 7, 24. c In the length of euerie cubite were ten heades or knoppes which in all are 300.

2 And he made a molten Sea of ten cubites from brim to brim, rounde in compass, and five cubites hie: and a line of thirtie cubites did compass it about.

3 And vnder it was the facion of oxen which did compass it round about, ten in a cubite compassing the Sea about: two rowes of oxen were cast when it was molten.

4 It stood upon twelue oxen: three looked toward the North, and three looked toward the West, & three looked toward the South, and three looked toward the East, and the Sea stood about upon them, and all their hinder partes were inward.

5 And the thicknes thereof was an hand breadth, and the brim thereof was like the worke of the brim of a cup, with floures of lilies: it contained three thousand baths.

6 He made also ten caldrons, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them & to cleanse in them that which appertained to the burnt offerings: but the Sea was for the Priestes to wash in.

7 And he made ten candlestickes of golde (according to their forme) and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 And he made ten tables, & put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, & five on the left: and he made an hundredth basens of golde.

10 And he set the Sea on the right side Eastward toward the South.

11 And Huram made pottes and besomes and basens, and Huram finished the worke that he should make for King Salomon for the house of God.

12 To wit, two pillars, & the bowles & chapters on the toppe of the two pillars, and two grates to couer the two bowles of the chapters which were upon the toppe of the pillars:

13 And foure hundredth pomegranates for the two grates, two rowes of pomegranates for euerie grate to couer the two bowles of the chapters, that were upon the pillars.

14 He made also basens, and made caldrons upon the basens:

15 And a Sea, and twelue bulles vnder it:

16 Pottes also and besomes, and fleshokes, and all these vessels made Huram his father, to King Salomon for the house of the Lord of shining brasie.

17 In the plaine of Iordan did the King cast them in claye betwene Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 And Salomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brasie could not be reckened.

19 And Salomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God: the golden altar also & the tables, whereon the shewbread stood.

20 Moreover the candlestickes, with their lampes to burne them after the maner, before the oracle, of pure golde.

21 And the floures and the lampes, and the snuffers of golde, which was fine golde.

22 And the hookes, and the basens, and the spones, and the ashpens of pure golde: the entrie also of the house & dores thereof within, euen of the most holy place: and the dores of the house, to wit, of the Temple were of golde.

Whome Salomon reuerenced for gifts that God had giuen him, as a father: he had the same name also that Huram the King of Tyrus had, his mother was a Jewess & his father a Tyrian. couenant of the Lord from the citie of Dauid, which is Ziōn.

3 And all the mē of Israēl assembled vnto the King at the feast: it was in the sequent moneth.

4 And all the Elders of Israēl came, & the Leuites toke vp the Arke.

5 And they caryed vp the Arke and the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, those did the Priests & Leuites bring vp.

6 And King Salomōn and all the Congregation of Israēl that were assembled vnto him, were before the Arke, offering shepe & bullockes, which colde not be tolde nor nombred for multitude.

7 So the Priests brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the Oracle of the house, into the moste Holy place, euē vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

8 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered the Arke and the barres thereof aboue.

9 And they drew out the barres, that the ends of the barres might be sene out of the Arke before the Oracle, but they were not sene without: and there they are vnto this day.

10 Nothing was in the Arke, saue the two Tables, which Mosēs gaue at Horēb, where the Lord made a couenant with the children of Israēl, when they came out of Egypt.

11 And when the Priests were come out of the Sāctuarie (for all the Priests that were present, were sanctified and did not waite by course.

12 And the Leuites the fingers of all sortes, as of Asāph, of Hemān, of Ieduthūn & of their sonnes and of their brethren, being cladde in fine linen, stode with cymbales, & with viols and harpes at the East end of the altar, and with them an hundreth & twentie Priests blowing with trumpets:

13 And they were as one, blowing trumpets, and singing, and made one sounde to be heard in praising and thanking the Lord, and when they lift vp their voyce with trumpets and with cymbales, and with instruments of musike, and when they praised the Lord, singing, & For he is good, because his mercie lasteth for euer) then the house, euē the house of the Lord was filled with a cloude, 14 So that the Priests colde not stand to minstre, because of the cloude: for the glorie of the Lord had filled the house of God.

CHAP. VI.

3 Salomōn blesteth the people. 4 He praiseth the Lord. 14 He praiseth vnto God for those that shal pray in the Temple.

THE Salomōn said, The Lord hathe said that he wolde dwel in the darke cloude:

2 And I haue buylt thee an house to dwel in, an habitation for thee to dwel in for euer.

3 And the King turned his face, & blessed all the Congregation of Israēl (for all the Congregation of Israēl stode there)

4 And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Israēl, who spake with his mouthe vnto Dauid my father, & hathe with his hand fulfilled it, saying,

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no citie of all the tribes of Israēl to buylde an house, that my Name might be there, neither chose I anie man to be a ruler ouer my people Israēl:

6 But I haue chosen Ierusalēm, that my Name might be there, and haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israēl.

7 * And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to buylde an house vnto the Name of the Lord God of Israēl,

8 But the Lord said to Dauid my father, Where as it was in thine heart to buylde an house vnto my Name, thou didest wel, that thou wast so minded:

9 Notwithstanding thou shalt not buylde the house, but thy sonne which shal come out of thy loynes, he shal buylde an house vnto my Name.

10 And the Lord hathe performed his worde that he spake: and I am risen vp in the rōume of Dauid my father, and am set on the throne of Israēl as the Lord promised, and haue buylt an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israēl.

11 And I haue set the Arke there, wherein is the couenant of the Lord, that he made with the children of Israēl.

12 ¶ And y King stode before the altar of the Lord, in the presence of all the Congregation of Israēl, and stretched out his hands,

13 (For Salomōn had made a brasen skaf-folde & set it in the middes of the courte of fīue cubites long, & fīue cubites broad, and thre cubites of height, and vpon it he stode, and kneled downe vpon his knees before all the Congregation of Israēl, & stretched out his hands toward heauen)

14 And said, O Lord God of Israēl, there is no God like thee in heauen nor in earth, which kepest couenant, and mercie vnto thy seruants, that walke before thee with all their heart.

Salomons prayer. II. Chron.

- 16 Therefore now Lord God of Israël, kepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou shalt not wāt a man in my sight, that shal sit vpon the throne of Israël: so that thy sonnes take hede to their waies, to walke in my Lawe, as y<sup>e</sup> hast walked before me.
- 17 And now, o Lord God of Israël, let thy worde be verified, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid.
- 18 (Is it true in dede that God wil dwel with man on earth: beholde, the<sup>e</sup> heauens, and the heauens of heauens are not able to containe thee: how muche more unable is this house, which I haue buylt?)
- 19 But haue thou respect to the prayer of thy seruant, & to his supplicacion, o Lord my God, to heare the crye & prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee,
- 20 That thine<sup>e</sup> eyes may be open toward this house day and night, euen toward the place, whereof thou hast said, That thou woldest put thy Name there, that thou maiest hearken vnto the prayer, which thy seruant prayeth in this place.
- 21 Heare thou therefore the supplicacion of thy seruant, and of thy people Israël, which they praye in this place: and heare thou in the place of thine habitation, euen in heauen, and when thou hearest, be merciful.
- 22 ¶ When a man shal sinne against his neighbour, and he lay vpon him an othe to cause him to sweare, and the<sup>e</sup> swearer shal come before thine altar in this house,
- 23 Then heare thou in heauen, and do, and iudge thy seruants, in recompensing the wicked to bring his way<sup>e</sup> vpon his head, and in iustifying the righteous, to giue him according to his righteousness.
- 24 ¶ And when thy people Israël shalbe ouerthrowen before the enemye, because they haue sinned against thee, and turne againe, and confesse thy Name, and pray, and make supplicacion before thee in this house,
- 25 Then heare thou in heauen, and be merciful vnto the sinne of thy people Israël, and bring the<sup>e</sup> againe vnto the land which thou gauest to them and to their fathers.
- 26 When heauen shalbe shut vp, and there shalbe no raine, because they haue sinned against thee, and shal pray in this place, & confesse thy Name, and<sup>e</sup> turne from their sinne, when thou doest afflict them,
- 27 Then heare thou in heauen, and pardone the sinne of thy seruants, and of thy people Israël (whē thou hast taught them the good way wherein thei may walke) & giue raine vpon thy land, which thou hast giue vnto thy people for an inheritance.
- 28 ¶ When there shalbe famine in the lād, when there shalbe pestilence, blasting, or mildewe, when there shalbe gresshopper, or caterpillar, when their enemye shal besiege them<sup>e</sup> in the cities of their land, or any plague or any sicknes,
- 29 Then what prayers and supplicacion soeuer shal be made of any man, or of all thy people Israël, when euerie one shal knowe his owne plague, and his owne disease, and shal stretche forth his hands toward this house,
- 30 Heare thou then in heauen, thy dwelling place, and be merciful, and giue euerie mā according vnto all his wayes, as thou doest knowe his<sup>e</sup> heart (for y<sup>e</sup> onely knowest the hearts of the children of men)
- 31 That they may feare thee, and walke in thy wayes as long as they liue in the land which thou gauest vnto our fathers.
- 32 ¶ Moreouer as touching the stranger which is not of thy people Israël, who shal come out of a farre countrey for thy great Names sake, & thy mightie hand, and thy stretched out arme: when they shal come and pray in this house,
- 33 Heare thou in heauen thy dwelling place, and do according to all that the stranger calleth for vnto thee, that all the people of the earth may knowe thy Name, and feare thee like thy people Israël, and that they may knowe, that thy Name is called vpon in this house which I haue buylt.
- 34 ¶ When thy people shal go out to battel against their enemies, by the way that thou shalt send them, and they praye to thee, in the way toward this citie, which thou hast chosen, euen toward the house which I haue buylt to thy Name,
- 35 Then heare thou in heauen their prayer and their supplicacion, and iudge their cause.
- 36 If thei sinne against thee (* for there is no man that sinneth not) and thou be angrie with them and deliuer them vnto the enemies, and thei take them & cary them away captiue vnto a land farre or nere,
- 37 If they<sup>e</sup> turne againe to their heart in the land whether they be caryed in captiues, and turne & pray vnto thee in the lād of their captiuitie, sayig, We haue sinned, we haue transgressed and haue done wickedly,
- 38 If they turne againe to thee with all their heart, and with all their soule in the land of their captiuitie, whether they haue caryed them captiues, & pray toward their lād, which thou gauest vnto their fathers, and toward the citie which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I haue buylt for thy Name,
- 39 Then heare y<sup>e</sup> in heauen, in the place of thine habitation their prayer & their supplicacion, & iudge their cause, & be merciful vnto thy people, which haue sinned against thee.

1 The fyre consumeth the sacrifice. 2 The glorie of the Lord filleth the Temple. 12 He heareth his prayer, 17 And promisseth to exalt him and his throne.

3. Mat. 2. 10. 1 AND *whē Salomōn had made an end of praying, a fyre came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering & the sacrifices: and the glorie of the Lord filled the house,

2 So that the Priests colde not enter into the house of the Lord, because the glorie of the Lord had filled the Lords house.

3 And when all the children of Israël saw the fyre, and the glorie of the Lord come downe vpon the house, they bowed them selues with their faces to the earth vpon the pauement, and worshiped and praised the Lord, saying, For he is good, because his mercie lasteth for euer.

1. King. 8. 45. 4 *Then the King and all the people offered sacrifices before the Lord.

6 And the Priests waited on their offices, & the Leuites with the instruments of musike of the Lord, which King Dauid had made to praise y Lord, Because his mercy lasteth for euer: when Dauid praised God

2. Chr. 5. 13. by them, the Priests also blew trumpets ouer against them: and all they of Israël stood by.

7 Moreouer Salomōn halowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he had prepared burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the brasen altar which Salomōn had made, was not able to receiue y burnt offering, and the meat offering, and the fat.

8 And Salomōn made a feast at that time of seuen dayes, & all Israël with him, a very great Congregation, from the entering in of Hamath, vnto the riuer of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they made a solēne assemblie: for they had made the dedication of the altar seuen dayes, and the feast seuen dayes.

10 And the thre and twentieth day of the seuent moneth, he sent the people away into their tents, ioyous & with glad heart, because of the goodnes that the Lord had done for Dauid and for Salomōn, and for Israël his people.

1. King. 8. 57. 11 *So Salomōn finished the house of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all that came into Salomons heart to make in the house of the Lord: and he prospered in his house.

Nom. 12. 8. 12 ¶ And the Lord *appeared to Salomōn by night and said to him, I haue heard thy prayer, and haue chosen this place for my selfe to be an house of sacrifice.

14 If my people, among whome my Name is called vpon, do humble them selues, & praye, and seke my presence, and turne frō their wicked wayes, then wil I heare in heauen, and be merciful to their sinne, and wil *heale their land.

15 Then mine eyes shalbe open and mine eares attent vnto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I haue now chosen and sanctified this house, that my Name may be there for euer: and mine eyes and mine heart shalbe there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Dauid thy father walked, to do according vnto all that I haue commanded thee, and shalt obserue my statuts & my iudgemēt, 18 Then wil I stablish the throne of thy kingdome, according as I made the cōuenāt with Dauid thy father, saying, *Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israël.

19 But if ye turne away, and forsake my statuts and my commandemēt which I haue set before you, and shal go and serue other gods, and worship them,

20 Then wil I plucke them vp out of my land, which I haue giuen them, and this house which I haue sanctified for my Name, wil I cast out of my sight, and wil make it to be a prouerbe and a commune talke among all people.

21 And this house which is moste hie, shalbe an astonishment to euerie one y passeth by it, so that he shal say, Why hathe the Lord done thus to this land, and to this house?

22 And they shal answer, Because they forsake the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and haue taken holde on other gods, and haue worshiped them, and serued them, therefore hathe he brought all this euil vpon them.

8 But of their children which were left after them in the land, whome the children of Israél had not consumed, euen the did Sa-

9 But of the childre of Israël did Salomón make no seruants for his worke: for they were mé of warre, and his chief princes, &

10 So theſe were the chief of the officers which Salomón had, euen<sup>g</sup> two hundreth

11 ¶ The Salomón broght vp the daughter said, My wife ſhal not dwel in the house of Dauid King of Israël: for it is holy, becauſe that the Arke of the Lord came vnto it.

12 ¶ Then Salomón offred burnt offerings

<sup>11</sup> And the King made of the Algumím wood <sup>e</sup> staires in the house of the Lord, & in the Kings house, and harpes and viols for fingers: and there was no suche sene before in the land of Iudah.

<sup>12</sup> And King Salomón gaue to the Quene of Shebá euerie pleafant thing that she asked, <sup>f</sup> besides for that which she had brought vnto the King: so she returned and went to her owne countrey, <sup>g</sup> báihe she, and her seruants.

<sup>13</sup> Also the weight of golde that came to Salomón in one yere, was six húdred thre score and six talents of golde,

<sup>20</sup> And all King Salomóns drinking vessels were of golde, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanón were of pure golde: for filuer was nothing esteemed in the dayes of Salomón.

12 ¶ Then Ieroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the King had appointed, saying, Come againe to me the third day.

13 And the King answered them sharply: and King Rehoboam left the counsel of the ancient men,

14 And spake to them after the counsel of the yong men, saying, My father made your yoke grieuous, but I wil increase it: my father chastised you with roddes, but I wil correct you with scourges.

15 So the King hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the ordinance of God that the Lord might performe his saying, which he had spoken by Ahiah the Shilonite to Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat.

16 So when all Israël sawe that the King wolde not heare them, the people answered the King, saying, What portion haue we in Dauid: for we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Ishai. O Israël, euerie man to your tents: now se to thine owne house, Dauid. So all Israël departed to their tents.

17 Howbeit Rehoboam reigned ouer the children of Israël, that dwelt in the cities of Iudah.

18 Then King Rehoboam sent Hadoram that was ouer the tribute, & the children of Israël stoned him with stones, that he dyed: then King Rehoboam made speede to get him vp to his charret, to flee to Ierusalem.

19 And Israël rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

CHAP. XI.

<sup>b</sup> Cities which he buylt. 21 He hath eightene wiues, & threescore concubines, and by them eight and twentie sonnes, and threescore daughters.

And whē Rehoboam was come to Ierusalem, he gathered of the house of Iudah and Benjamin nine score thousand chosen men of warre to fight against Israël, & to bring the kingdome againe to Rehoboam.

2 But the worde of the Lord came to Shemaiah the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Rehoboam, the sonne of Salomon King of Iudah, and to all Israël that are in Iudah, and Benjamin, saying,

4 Thus sayth the Lord, Ye shal not go vp, nor fight against your brethren: returne euerie man to his house: for this thing is done of me. They obeyed therefore the worde of the Lord, and returned from going against Ieroboam.

5 And Rehoboam dwelt in Ierusalem, and buylt strong cities in Iudah.

6 He buylt also Beth-lehem, and Etam, and Tekoa,

7 And Beth-zur, and Shoco, & Adullam,

8 And Gath, and Maresha, and Ziph,

9 And Adoram, and Lachish, and Azekah,

10 And Zorah, & Aialon & Hebron, which were in Iudah & Benjamin, strong cities.

11 And he repaired the strong holdes and put captaines in them, and store of vitaille, and oyle and wine.

12 And in all cities he put shields & speares, & made them exceeding strong: so Iudah and Benjamin were his.

13 ¶ And the Priests and the Levites that were in all Israël, resorted vnto him out of all their coastes.

14 For the Levites left their suburbs and their possession, and came to Iudah and to Ierusalem: for Ieroboam and his sonnes had cast them out from ministring in the Priests office vnto the Lord.

15 ¶ And he ordeined him Priests for the hie places, and for the deuils and for the calves which he had made.

16 And after y Levites there came to Ierusalem of all y tribes of Israël, suche as set their hearts to seke y Lord God of Israël, to offer vnto y Lord God of their fathers.

17 So they strengthened the kingdome of Iudah, and made Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon mightie, thre yere longe: for thre yere they walked in the way of Dauid & Salomon.

18 ¶ And Rehoboam toke him Mahalath the daughter of Ierimoth the sonne of Dauid to wife, & Abihail the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Ishai, 19 Which bare him sonnes Ieush, and Shemariah, and Zaham.

20 And after her he toke Maakah y daughter of Absalom which bare him Abiah, and Athai, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboam loued Maakah y daughter of Absalom aboue all his wiues & his concubines: for he toke eightene wiues, & thre score concubines, and begate eight and twetic sonnes, & threescore daughters.

22 And Rehoboam made Abiah the sone of Maakah the chief ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him King.

23 And he taught him: and dispersed all his sonnes throughout all the countreis of Iudah and Benjamin vnto euerie strong citie: and he gaue them abundance of vitaille, and desired many wiues.

fo. 7 God sendeth him succour. 9 Shishak taketh his treasures. 13 His reigne and death. 16 Abiiah his sonne succedeth him.

AND when Rehoboam had established the kingdome & made it strong, he forsoke the Lawe of the Lord, and all Israel with him.

Therefore in the fift yere of King Rehoboam, Shishak the King of Egypt came vp against Ierusalem (because they had transgressed against the Lord)

With twelue hundred charets, and thre score thousand horsmen, & the people were without number, that came with him from Egypt, euen the Lubims, Sukkiims, & the Ethiopians.

And he toke the strong cities which were of Iudah, and came vnto Ierusalem.

Then came Shemaiah the Prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Iudah, that were gathered together in Ierusalem, because of Shishak, and said vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord, Ye haue forsaken me, therefore haue I also left you in the hands of Shishak.

Then the princes of Israel, and the King humbled them selues, and said, The Lord is iuste.

And when the Lord sawe that they humbled them selues, the worde of the Lord came to Shemaiah, saying, They haue humbled them selues, therefore I wil not destroye them, but I wil send them deliuerance shortly, & my wrath shal not be powred out vpon Ierusalem by the hand of Shishak.

Neuertheles they shalbe his seruants: so shal thei know my seruice, & the seruice of the kingdomes of the earth.

Then Shishak King of Egypt came vp against Ierusalem, and toke the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house: he toke euen all, and he caryed away the shields of golde, which Salomon had made.

In stead whereof King Rehoboam made shields of brasse, and committed them to the hands of the chief of the garde, that waited at the dore of the Kings house.

And when the King entred into the house of the Lord, the garde came and bare them and broght them againe vnto the garde chamber.

And because he humbled him selfe, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he wolde not destroye all together. And also in Iudah the things prospered.

So King Rehoboam was strong in Ierusalem and reigned: for Rehoboam was one & fourtie yere olde, when he began to reigne, & reigned & seuentene yeres in Ierusalem, the citie which the Lord had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put his Name there. And his mothers name was Naamah an Ammonitess.

And he did euil: for he prepared not his heart to seke the Lord.

The actes also of Rehoboam, first and last, are they not written in the booke of Shemaiah the Prophet, and Iddo the Seer, in rehearsing the genealogie: & there was warre alway betwene Rehoboam & Ieroboam.

And Rehoboam slept with his fathers, and was buryed in the citie of Dauid, and Abiiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

IN the eightente yere of King Ieroboam began Abiiah to reigne ouer Iudah.

He reigned thre yere in Ierusalem: (his mothers name also was Michaiiah the daughter of Vriël of Gibeā) and there was warre betwene Abiiah and Ieroboam.

And Abiiah set the battel in aray with the armie of valiant men of warre, euen foure hundred thousand chosen men. Ieroboam also set the battel in aray against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men which were strong and valiant.

And Abiiah stode vp vpon mount Zemeraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and said, O Ieroboam, & all Israel, heare you me, Oght you not to knowe that the Lord God of Israel hath giuen the kingdome ouer Israel to Dauid for euer, euen to him and to his formes by a couenant of salt?

And Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat the seruant of Salomon the sonne of Dauid is risen vp, and hath rebelled against his lord.

And there are gathered to him vaine men & wicked, and made them selues strong against Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon: for Rehoboam was but a childe and tender hearted, & colde not resist them.

Now therefore ye thinke that ye be able to resist against the kingdome of the Lord, which is in the hands of the sonnes of Dauid, and ye be a great multitude, & the golden calues are with you which Ieroboam made you for gods.

Haue ye not driuen away the Priests of the Lord the sonnes of Aaron and the Leuites, and haue made you Priests like the people of other countreys? whosoever cometh to consecrate with a yong bullocke and seuen rams, the same may be a Priest of them that are no gods.

- 12 And beholde, this God<sup>l</sup> is with vs, as a captaine, & his Priests with the sounding trumpets, to crye an alarme against you. O ye children of Israël, fight not against the Lord God of your fathers: for ye shal not prosper.
- 13 ¶ But Ieroboám caused an ambushment to compasse, & come behinde them, when thei were before Iudáh, and the ambushment behinde them,
- 14 Then Iudáh looked, and beholde, the battel was before and behinde them, and they cryed vnto the Lord, and the Priests blew with the trumpets,
- 15 And the men of Iudáh gaue a shoute: & euen as the men of Iudáh shouted, God smote Ieroboám and also Israël before Abiiah and Iudáh.
- 16 And the children of Israël fled before Iudáh, and God deliuered them into their hand.
- 17 And Abiiah and his people slewe a great slaughter of them, so that there fel downe wounded of Israël fise hundred thousand chosen men.
- 18 So the children of Israël were brought vnder at that time: and the childre of Iudáh preuailed, because they staid vpon the Lord God of their fathers.
- 19 And Abiiah pursued after Ieroboám, & toke cities from him, euen Bethél, and the villages thereof, and Ieshanáh with her villages, and Ephrón with her villages.
- 20 And Ieroboám recouered no strength againe in the dayes of Abiiah, but y Lord plagued him, and he dyed.

- 6 For he toke away the altars of the strange gods & the hie places, & brake downe the images, and cut downe the groues,
- 7 And commanded Iudáh to seke the Lord God of their fathers, & to do according to the Lawe and the commandement.
- 8 And he toke away out of all the cities of Iudáh the hie places, & the images: therefore the kingdome was quiet before him.
- 9 He buylt also strong cities in Iudáh, because the land was in rest, and he had no warre in those yeres: for the Lord had giuen him rest.
- 10 Therefore he said to Iudáh, Let vs buyld these cities and make walles about, and towres, gates, and barres, whiles the lād is before vs: because we haue fought y Lord our God, we haue fought him, and he hath giuen vs rest on euerie side: so they buylt and prospered.
- 11 And Asa had an armie of Iudáh that bare shields and speares, thre hundred thousand, and of Beniamin that bare shields & drewe bowes, two hundred & foure score thousand: all these were valiant men.
- 12 ¶ And there came out against then Zerah of Ethiopia with an hoste of ten hundred thousand, and thre hundred charets, and came vnto Maresháh.
- 13 Then Asa went out before him, and thei set the battel in aray in the valley of Zephathah beside Maresháh.
- 14 And Asa cryed vnto the Lord his God, & said, Lord, it is nothing with thee to helpe with many, or with no power: helpe vs, o Lord our God: for we rest on thee, and in thy Name are we come against this multitude: o Lord, thou art our God, let not man preuaile against thee.
- 15 ¶ So y Lord smote the Ethiopians before Asa and before Iudáh, and the Ethiopians fled.
- 16 And Asa and the people that was with him, pursued them vnto Gerár. And the Ethiopians hoste was ouerthrowen, so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lord and before his hoste: & they caryed away a mighty great spoile.
- 17 And they smote all the cities round about Gerár: for the feare of the Lord came vpon them, and they spoiled all the cities, for there was exceding much spoile in them.

14 And they sware vnto the Lord with a loude voyce, and with shouting and with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Iudáh reioyced at the othe: for they had sworne vnto the Lord with all their heart, and soght him with a whole desire, and he was <sup>h</sup> founde of them. And the Lord gaue them rest rounde about.

16 ¶ And King Asá deposed Maacháh his mother from her regēcie, because she had made an idole in a groue: and Asá brake downe her idole, & stamped it, and burnt it at the broke Kidrón.

17 But the hie places were not <sup>k</sup> taken away out of <sup>l</sup> Israël: yet the heart of Asá was <sup>m</sup> perfite all his dayes.

18 Also he broght into the house of God the things that his father had dedicate, & that he had dedicate, siluer, and golde, & vessels.

19 And there was no warre vnto the fise & thirtieth yere of the reigne of Asá.

CHAP. XVI.

2 *Asá for feare of Baashá King of Israël, maketh a couenant with Benhadád King of Arám. 7 He is re-proued by the Prophet, 10 Whome he putteth in prison.
12 He putteth his trust in the Phisitians. 13 His death.*

1 In the six & thirtieth yere of the reigne of Asá came <sup>a</sup> Baashá King of Israël vp against Iudáh, and buylt <sup>b</sup> Ramáh to let none passe out or go in to Asá King of Iudáh.

2 Then Asá broght out siluer and golde out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, and of the Kings house, and sent to Benhadád King of Arám that dwelt at <sup>c</sup> Damascus, saying,

3 There is a couenant betwene me & thee, and betwene my father and thy father: behold, I haue sent thee siluer and golde: come, & breake thy league with Baashá King of Israël that he may departe from me.

4 And Benhadád hearkened vnto King Asá, and sent the captaines of the armies which he had, against the cities of Israël. And they smote Iiôn, and Dan, and Abel-máim, and the store cities of Naphtalí.

5 And when Baashá heard it, he left buylding of Ramáh, and let his worke cease.

6 Then Asá the King toke all Iudáh, and caryed away the stones of Ramáh and the tymbre thereof, wherewith Baashá did buyld, and he buylt therewith Géba and Mizpáh.

7 ¶ And at that same time Hanáni the <sup>d</sup> Seer came to Asá King of Iudáh, and said vnto him, Because thou hast rested vpon the King of Arám, and not rested in the Lord thy God, therefore is the hoste of the King of Arám escaped out of thine hand.

8 <sup>e</sup> The Ethiopians and the Lubims, were they not a great hoste with charrets and horsemen, exceeding many? yet because thou didest rest vpon the Lord, he deliuered them into thine hand.

9 <sup>f</sup> For the eies of the Lord beholde all the earth to shewe him selfe strong with them that are of perfite heart toward him: thou hast the done foolishly in this: therefore from henceforth thou shalt haue warres.

10 The Asá was wroth with the Seer, & put him into a <sup>g</sup> prison: for he was <sup>h</sup> displeased with him, because of this thing. And Asá oppressed certaine of the people at the Dd.i.

<sup>k</sup> Which partly came through lacke of zeale in hi, partly through the negligence of his officers, & partly by the supersticio of the people, that all were not taken away.

<sup>l</sup> Because that God was called the God of Israël by reason of his promes to Iaakób: therefore Israël is some time taken for Iudáh, because Iudáh was his chief people. In respect of his predecessors.

11 And beholde, the actes of Asá first and last, lo, they are writen in the booke of the Kings of Iudáh and Israél.

12 ¶ And Asá in the nine and thirtieth yere of his reigne was diseased in his sete, and his disease was extreme: yet he sought not the Lord in his disease, but to the Phisicians.

13 So Asá slept with his fathers, and dyed in the one and fourtieth yere of his reigne.

14 And they buryed him in one of his sepulchres, which he had made for him selfe in the citie of Dauid, & laied him in the bed, which they had filled with swete odours and diuerse kindes of spices, made by the arte of the apoticarie: and they burnt him with an exceeding great fyre.

CHAP. XVII.

Iehoshaphát trusting in the Lord, prospereth in riches and honour. 6 He aboliseth idolatrie. 7 And causeth the people to be taught. 11 He receiueth tribute of strangers. 13 His munitions and men of warre.

1 And Iehoshaphát his sonne reigned in his stead, and preuailed against Israél.

2 And he put garisons in all the strong cities of Iudáh, and set bands in the land of Iudáh and in the cities of Ephraím, which Asá his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphát, because he walked in the first wayes of his father Dauid, and sought not Baalím,

4 But sought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandements, and not after the trade of Israél.

5 Therefore the Lord stablished the kingdom in his hand, and all Iudáh brought presents to Iehoshaphát, so that he had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And he lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and he toke awaie moreouer the hie places & the groues out of Iudáh.

7 ¶ And in the third yere of his reigne he sent his princes, Ben-hail, and Obadiáh, & Zechariáh, and Nethaneél, and Michaiáh, that they shulde teache in the cities of Iudáh,

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiáh, and Nethaniáh, and Zebadiáh, and Asahél, & Shemiramóth, and Iehonathán, and Adonniáh, and Tobiiáh, and Tob-adonniáh, Leuites, and with them Elishamá and Iehorám Priests.

9 And they taught in Iudáh, and had the booke of the Lawe of the Lord with them, & went about throughout all the cities of Iudáh, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdoms of the lands y were rounde about Iudáh, and they sought not against Iehoshaphát.

11 Also some of the Philistims brought Iehoshaphát gifts and tribute siluer, and the Arabiás broght him flockes, seuē thousand, and seuē hundred rams, and seuē thousand, and seuē hundred he gores.

12 So Iehoshaphát prospered and grewe vp on hie: and he buylt in Iudáh palaces and cities of store.

13 And he had great workes in the cities of Iudáh, and men of warre, & valiant men in Ierusalém.

14 And these are the numbers of them after the house of their fathers, In Iudáh were captaines of thousands, Adnáh the captaine, and with him of valiant men thre hundred thousand.

15 And at his hand Iehohanán a captaine, and with him two hundred & foure score thousand.

16 And at his hand Amasiáh the sonne of Zichrí, which willingly offred him selfe vnto the Lord, and with him two hundred thousand valiant men.

17 And of Beniamín, Eliadá a valiant mā, and with him armed men with bowe and shield two hundred thousand.

18 And at his hand Iehozabád, & with him an hundred and foure score thousand armed to the warre.

19 These waited on the King, besides those which the King put in the strong cities throughout all Iudáh.

CHAP. XVIII.

Iehoshaphát maketh affinitie with Aháb. 10 Foure hundred Prophetes counsel Aháb to go to warre. 16 Michaiáh is against them. 23 Zidkiah smiteth him. 25 The King putteth him in prison. 29 The effect of his prophesie.

1 And Iehoshaphát had riches & honour in abundance, but he was ioyned in affinitie with Aháb.

2 And after certeine yeres he went downe to Aháb to Samaria: & Aháb slewe shepe and oxen for him in great number, & for the people that he had with him, and entised him to go vp vnto Ramóth Gileád.

3 And Aháb King of Israél said vnto Iehoshaphát King of Iudáh, Wilt thou go with me to Ramóth Gileád? And he answered him, I am as thou art, & my people as thy people, & we wil ioyne w thee in the warre.

4 And Iehoshaphát said vnto the King of Israél, Aske counsel, I pray thee, at the worde of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the King of Israél gathered of Prophetes foure hundred men, and said vnto them, Shal we go to Ramóth Gileád to battel, or shal I cease? And they said, Go vp: for God shal deliuer it into the Kings hand.

6 But Iehoshaphát said, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord y we might inquire of him?

7 And y King of Israél said vnto Iehoshaphát,

Or, enuie, or swollen. Or, to the top of his head. e God plagued his rebellion, & hereby declareth that it is nothing to begine well, except we so continue to the end, that is, zealous of Gods glorie, and put our whole trust in him. f He sheweth that it is in vaine to seke to y Phisicians, except first we seke to God. to purge our sinnes, which are the chief cause of all our diseases, & after w the helpe of y phisicians, as a means by whome God worketh.

hit,

phát, There is yet one man, by whome we may aske counsell of the Lord, but I hate him: for he doeth not prophesie good vnto me, but allway euil: it is Michaiáh the sonne of Imlá. The Iehoshaphát said, Let not the King say so.

8 And the King of Israël called an eunuche, and said, Call quickly Michaiáh the sonne of Imlá.

9 ¶ And the King of Israël, and Iehoshaphát King of Iudáh sate ether of them on his throne clothed in their<sup>b</sup> apparel: they sate euen in the threshing floore at the entering in of the gate of Samaria: & all the Prophetes prophesied before them.

10 And Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanáh made him<sup>i</sup> hornes of yron, & said, Thus saith y Lord, With these shalt thou push y Aramites vntil thou hast consumed them.

11 And all the Prophetes prophesied so, saying, Go vp to Ramóth Gileád, & prosper: for the Lord shal deliuer it into the hand of the King.

12 ¶ And the messenger that wēt to call Michaiáh, spake to him, saying, Beholde, the wordes of the Prophetes declare good to y King with one<sup>k</sup> accorde: let thy worde therefore, I pray thee, be lyke one of theirs, and speake thou good.

13 And Michaiáh said, As the Lord liueth, whatsoeuer my God saith, y wil I speake.

14 ¶ So he came to the King, and the King said vnto him, Michaiáh, shal we go to Ramóth Gileád to battel, or shal I leaue off? And he said, Go ye vp, and prosper, and they shal be deliuered into your hand.

15 And the King said to him, How oft shal I charge thee, that thou tel me nothing but the truth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then he said, I sawe all Israël scatered in the mountaines, as shepe that haue no shepheard: and the Lord said, These haue no master: let the returne euerie man to his house in peace.

17 And the King of Israël said to Iehoshaphát, Did I not tel thee, that he wolde not prophesie good vnto me, but euil?

18 Againe he said, Therefore heare ye the wordes of the Lord: I sawe the Lord sit vpon his throne, and all the<sup>m</sup> hoste of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lord said, Who shal<sup>n</sup> persuade Aháb King of Israël, that he may go vp and fall at Ramóth Gileád? And one spake and said thus, and another said that.

20 The there came forth a spirit and stode before the Lord, and said, I wil persuade him. And the Lord said vnto him, Wherein?

21 And he said, I wil go out, and be a false spirit in the mouthe of all his Prophetes. And<sup>o</sup> he said, Thou shalt persuade, and shalt also preuaile: go forth and do so.

22 Now therefore beholde, the Lord hathe put a<sup>p</sup> false spirit in the mouthe of these thy Prophetes, & the Lord hathe determined euil against thee.

23 Then Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanáh came nere, and smote Michaiáh vpon the cheke, and said, By what way wēt the spirit of y Lord frō me, to speake with thee?

24 And Michaiáh said, Beholde, thou shalt see that day whē thou shalt go from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

25 And the King of Israël said, Take ye Michaiáh, and carie him to Amón the gouernour of the citie, & to Ioásh the Kings sonne, 26 And say, Thus saith the King, Put this man in the prison house, & fede him with bread of<sup>r</sup> affliction and with water of affliction vntil I returne in peace.

27 And Michaiáh said, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hathe not spoken by me. And<sup>s</sup> he said, Heare, all ye people.

28 So the King of Israël and Iehoshaphát the King of Iudáh wēt vp to Ramóth Gileád.

29 And the King of Israël said vnto Iehoshaphát, I wil<sup>t</sup> change my selfe, and entre into the battel: but put thou on thine apparel. So the King of Israël chāged him selfe, and they went into the battel.

30 And the King of Arām had commanded the captaines of the charets that were with him, saying, Fight you not with small nor great, but against y King of Israël onely.

31 And when the captaines of the charets sawe Iehoshaphát, they said, It is the King of Israël: and they compassed about him to fight. But Iehoshaphát<sup>u</sup> cryed, & y Lord helped him & moued them to departe from him.

32 For when the captaines of the charets sawe that he was not the King of Israël, they turned backe from him.

33 Then a certeine man drewe a bowe<sup>v</sup> myghtely, & smote the King of Israël betwene the ioyntes<sup>w</sup> of his brigadine: therefore he said to his charetman, Turne thine hand, and carie me out of the hoste: for I am hurt.

34 And the battel increased that day: and the King of Israël<sup>x</sup> stode stil in his charet against the Aramites vntil euen, and dyed at the time of y sunne going downe.

CHAP. XIX.

¶ After Iehoshaphát was rebuked by the Prophet, he called againe the people to the honoring of the Lord. 5 He appointeth iudges and ministers, 9 And exhorteth them to feare God.

<sup>b</sup> And said, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen? and reigneest not thou on all the kingdomes of the heathen? and in thine hand is power and might, & none is able to withstand thee.

<sup>f</sup> If euil come vpon vs, as the <sup>g</sup> sworde of iudgement, or pestilence, or famine, we wil stand before this house and in thy presence (for thy Name <sup>h</sup> is in this house) & wil crye vnto thee in our tribulacion, and thou wilt heare and helpe.

18 ¶ Then Iehoshaphát bowed downe with his face to the earth, and all Iudáh & the inhabitants of Ierusalém fell downe before the Lord, worshiping the Lord.

19 And the Leuites of the children of the Kohathites and of the children of the Corhites stode vp to praise the Lord God of Israél with a loude voice on hie.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they went forth to the wildernes of Tekóá: & as they departed, Iehoshaphát stode and said, Heare ye me, o Iudáh, and ye inhabitáts of Ierusalém: put your trust in the Lord your God, and ye shalbe assured: beleue his Prophetes, and ye shal prosper.

21 And whé he had consulted with the people, and appointed singers vnto the Lord, & them that shulde praise him that is in the beautiful Sanctuarie, in going forth before the men of armes, & saying, Praise ye the Lord, for his mercie lasteth for euer, 22 And when they began to shoute, and to praise, the Lord laied ambushmets against the childre of Ammón, Moáb, and mount Seir, which were come against Iudáh, and they slewe one another.

23 For the children of Ammón and Moáb rose against the inhabitáts of mount Seir, to slea & to destroye them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitáts of Seir, euerie one helped to destroy another.

24 And when Iudáh came toward Mizpáh in the wildernes, they looked vnto the multitude: and beholde, the carkeises were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Iehoshaphát and his people came to take away the spoyle of them, they found amög them in abundance bothe of substance & also of bodies laden with precious iewels, which they toke for the selues, til they colde cary nomore: they were thre dayes in gathering of the spoile: for it was muche.

26 And in the fourte day they assembled them selues in the valley of Beracháh: for there they blessed the Lord: therefore they called the name of that place, The vallei of Beracháh vnto this day.

27 The euerie man of Iudáh & Ierusalém returned with Iehoshaphát their head, to go againe to Ierusalém with ioye: for the Lord had made the to reioyce ouer their enemies.

28 And they came to Ierusalém with viols, and with harpes, and with trumpets, euen vnto the house of the Lord.

29 And the feare of God was vpon all the kingdome of the earth, when they had heard that the Lord had fought against the enemies of Israél.

30 So y kingdome of Iehoshaphát was quiet, & his God gaue him rest on euery side.

31 ¶ And Iehoshaphát reigned ouer Iudáh, and was fíue & thirtie yere olde, whé he began to reigne: and reigned fíue and twétie yere in Ierusalém, and his mothers name was Azubáh the daughter of Shilhí.

32 And he walked in the waye of Asá his father, and departed not therefrom, doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit the hie places were not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their hearts vnto the God of their fathers.

34 Concerning y rest of the actes of Iehoshaphát first and last, beholde, they are written in the boke of Iehú the sonne of Hanáni, which is mencioned in the boke of the Kings of Israél.

35 ¶ Yet after this did Iehoshaphát King of Iudáh ioine him selfe with Ahaziáh King of Israél, who was giuen to do euil.

36 And he ioyned with him, to make shippes to go to Tarshísh: and they made the shippes in Ezió Gabér.

37 Then Eliézer the sonne of Dodauáh of Maresháh prophecied agáist Iehoshaphát, saying, Because thou hast ioyned thy self with Ahaziáh, the Lord hath broken thy workes. and the shippes were broken, that they were not able to go to Tarshísh.

CHAP. XXII.

7 Howbeit the Lord wolde not destroy the house of Dauid, because of the <sup>a</sup>covenant that he had made with Dauid, and because he had promised to giue a light to him, and to his sonnes for euer.

8 ¶ In his dayes Edóm rebelled fró vnder the hand of Iudáh, and made a King ouer them.

9 And Iehorám wét forthe with his princes, and all his charrets with him: & he rose vp by night, and smote Edóm, which had compassed him in, and tae captaines of the charrets.

10 But Edóm rebelled from vnder the had of Iudáh vnto this day. the did <sup>e</sup>Libnah rebell at the same time from vnder his hand, because he had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 ¶ Moreouer he made hie places in the mountaines of Iudáh, and caused the inhabitants of Ierusalém to commit <sup>f</sup>fornication, and compelled Iudáh thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from <sup>g</sup>Eliáh the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the waies of Iehoshaphát thy father, nor in the waies of Asá King of Iudáh,

13 But hast walked in the way of the Kings of Israél, and hast made Iudáh and the inhabitants of Ierusalém to go a whoring, as the house of Aháb went a whoring, and hast also sleane thy brethré of thy fathers house, which were better then thou,

14 Beholde, with a great plague wil <sup>h</sup>ý Lord smite thy people, and thy children, & thy wiues, and all thy substance,

15 And thou shalt be in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntil <sup>i</sup>thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

16 ¶ So the Lord stirred vp against Iehorám the spirit of the Philistims, and the Arabians that were beside the <sup>j</sup>Ethiopiás.

17 And they came vp into Iudáh, and brake into it, and caried away all the substance that was founde in the Kings house, & his sonnes also, and his wiues, so that there was not a sonne left him, saue <sup>k</sup>Iehoaház, the yongest of his sonnes.

18 And after all this, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in procelle of time, euen after the ed of two yeres, his guttes fell out with his disease: so he dyed of sore diseases: & his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, he was two and thirtie yere olde, and reigned in Ierusalém eight yere, <sup>l</sup>and liued without being desired: yet they buried him in the citie of Dauid, but not among the sepulchres of the Kings.

Ahaziah reigneth after Iehoram. 8 Iehú King of Israél killeth Ahaziah. 10 Athaliah putteth to death all the Kings image. 11 Ioshaphat.

1 And <sup>a</sup>the inhabitants of Ierusalém made Ahaziáh his yógest sonne Kig in his stead: for the armie <sup>b</sup>ý came with the Arabians to the campe, had sleane all the eldest: therefore Ahaziáh the sonne of Iehorám King of Iudáh reigned.

2 Two and <sup>b</sup>fourty yere olde was Ahaziáh whé he began to reigne, & he reigned <sup>c</sup>one yere in Ierusalém. and his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter <sup>d</sup>of Omri.

3 He walked also in the waies of the house of Aháb: for his mother counseled him to do wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did euil in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Aháb: for they were his <sup>e</sup>counselers after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 And he walked after their counsel, and went with Iehorám the sonne of Aháb King of Israél to fight against Hazaél King of Arám at Ramóth Gileád: and the Aramites smote Iorám.

6 ¶ And he returned to be healed in Izreél, because of the woundes wherewith thei had wounded him at Ramáh, when he foght with Hazaél King of Arám. Now Azariáh the sonne of Iehorám King of Iudáh went downe to se Iehorám the sonne of Aháb at Izreél, because he was diseased.

7 And the destruction of Ahaziáh <sup>f</sup>came of God in that he wét to Iorám: for when he was come, he went forthe with Iehorám against Iehú the sonne of Nimshi, <sup>g</sup>whome the Lord had anointed to destroye the house of Aháb.

8 Therefore when Iehú <sup>h</sup>executed iudgement vpon the house of Aháb, and foude the princes of Iudáh and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziáh that waited on Ahaziáh, he slewe them also.

9 And he foght Ahaziáh, and they caught hi where he was hid in Samaria, & broght him to Iehú, and slewe him, and buried him, because, said thei, he is the sonne of Iehoshaphát, which foght the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziáh was not able to retaine the kingdome.

10 ¶ Therefore when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziáh sawe that her sonne was dead, she arose and <sup>i</sup>destroyed all the Kings seed of the house of Iudáh.

11 But Iehoshabeáth the daughter of the King, toke Ioásh the sonne of Ahaziáh, and stale him from among the Kings sonnes, that shulde be sleane, and put him and his nurce in the bed chamber: so Iehoshabeáth the daughter of Kig Iehorám the wife of Iehoiadá the Priest (for she

CHAP. XXIII.

Ioásh the sonne of Ahaziah is made King. 3 Athaliáh is put to death. 17 The Temple of Baal is destroyed. 19 Iehoiadá appointeth ministers in the Temple.

And in the seuernte yere Iehoiadá waxed bolde, and toke the captaynes of hundreths, to wit, Azariáh the sonne of Ierohám, and Ishmaél the sonne of Iehohanán, and Azariáh the sonne of Obéd, and Maasiáh the sonne of Adaiáh, and Elisaphát the sonne of Zichrí in couenant with him.

And they went about in Iudáh, & gathered the Leuites out of all the cities of Iudáh, and the chief fathers of Israél: and they came to Ierusalém.

And all the Congregation made a couenant with the King in the house of God: & he said vnto them, Beholde, the Kings sonne muste reigne, as y<sup>e</sup> Lord hath said of the sonnes of Dauid.

This is it that ye shal do, The third parte of you that come on the Sabbath of the Priests, and the Leuites, shalbe porters of the dores.

And another third parte towarde the Kings house, and another third parte at the gate of the fundacion, and all the people shalbe in y<sup>e</sup> courtes of the house of the Lord.

But let none come into the house of the Lord, saue the Priests, and the Leuites that minister: they shal go in, for they are holy: but all the people shal kepe the watch of the Lord.

And the Leuites shal compasse the King round about, and euerie mā with his weapon in his hand, and he that entreth into the house, shalbe sleane, and be you with the King, when he commeth in, and when he goeth out.

So the Leuites and all Iudáh did according to all things that Iehoiadá the Priest had commanded, and toke euerie man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that went out on the Sabbath: for Iehoiadá the Priest did not discharge the courses.

And Iehoiadá the Priest deliuered to the captaynes of hundreths speares, and shields, and bucklers which had bene King Dauids, and were in the house of God.

And he caused all the people to stand (euerie man with his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the house, to the left side of the house by the altar and by the house rounde about the King.

Then they broght out the Kings sonne, and put vpon him the crowne and gaue him the testimonie, and made him King. And Iehoiadá and his sonnes anointed him, and said, God saue the King.

But when Athaliáh heard the noise of the people running and praising the King, she came to the people into the house of the Lord.

And when she looked, beholde, the King stood by his pillar at the entring in, & the princes & the trumpets by the King, & all the people of the land reioyced, and blew the trumpets, and the singers were with instruments of musike, and they that colde sing praise: then Athaliáh rent her clothes, and said, Treason, treason.

Then Iehoiadá the Priest broght out the captaynes of hundreths that were gouerners of the holte, and said vnto them, Haue her forthe of the ranges, & he that followeth her, let him dye by y<sup>e</sup> sworde: for the Priest had said, Sleaher not in the house of the Lord.

So they layed hands on her: and when she was come to the entring of the horsegate by the Kings house, they slewe her there.

And Iehoiadá made a couenant betwene him, and all the people, and the King, that they wolde be the Lords people.

And all the people went to the house of Baal, and destroyed it, and brake his altars and his images, and slewe Mattán the Priest of Baal before the altars.

And Iehoiadá appointed officers for the house of the Lord, vnder the hands of the Priests and Leuites, whome Dauid had distributed for the house of the Lord, to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord, as it is written in the Lawe of Moses, with reioycing and singing by the appointment of Dauid.

And he set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none that was vnclane in any thing, shulde entre in.

And he toke the captaynes of hundreths, and the noble men, and the gouerners of the people, and all the people of the land, and he caused the King to come downe out of the house of the Lord, and they went through the hie gate of the Kings house, and set the King vpon the throne of the kingdome.

Then all the people of the land reioyced, & the citie was quiet, after that they had sleane Athaliáh with the sworde.

3 And when the kingdome was eſtabliſhed vnto him, he ſlewe his ſeruants, that had ſlayne the King his father.

4 But he ſlewe not their children, but did, as it is writen in the Law, & in the booke of Moſés, where the Lord commanded, ſaying, * The fathers ſhal not dye for the children, nether ſhal the children dye for the fathers, but euerie man ſhal dye for his owne ſinne.

5 ¶ And Amaziáh aſſembled Iudáh, and made them captaines ouer thouſands, & captaines ouer hundreths according to the houſes of their fathers, throughout all Iudáh and Beniamín: & he nombred them from c twentie yere olde and aboue, and founde among them thre hundredth thouſand choſen mē, to go forth to the warre, and to handle ſpeare and ſhield.

6 He hyred alſo an hundredth thouſand valiant men d out of Iſraél for an hundredth talents of ſiluer.

7 But a man of God came to him, ſaying, O King, let not the armie of Iſraél go with thee: for the Lord is not c with Iſraél, nether with all the houſe of Ephraím.

8 If not, go thou on, do it, make thy ſelfe ſtrōg to the battel, but God ſhal make thee fall before y enemy: for God hath the power to helpe, and to caſt downe.

9 And Amaziáh ſaid to the man of God, What ſhal we do then for the hundredth talents, w I haue giuen to the hoſte of Iſraél? Then y man of God answered, The Lord is able to giue thee more then this.

10 So Amaziáh ſeparated the, to wit, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraím, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly againſt

Iudáh, and they returned to their places with great angre.

11 Then Amaziáh was encouraged, and led forth his people, & went to the ſalt valley, and ſmote of the children of h Scír, ten thouſand.

12 And other ten thouſand did the children of Iudáh take aliue, and caryed them to the toppe of a i rocke, and caſt the downe from the toppe of the rocke, and they all burſt to pieces.

13 But the men of the * armie, which Amaziáh ſent away, that they ſhulde not go with his people to battel, fell vpon the cities of Iudáh from Samaria vnto Bethhorón, and ſmote thre thouſand of them, and toke muche ſpoyle.

14 Now after that Amaziáh was come fro the ſlaughter of the Edomites, he broght the gods of the children of Scír, and ſet them vp to be his gods, and i worſhiped them, and burned incenſe vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziáh, and ſent vnto him a Prophet, which ſaid vnto him, Why haſt y ſoght the gods of the people, which were not able to m deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

16 And as he talked with him, n he ſaid vnto him, Haue thei made thee y Kings counſeler? ceaſe thou: why ſhulde they o ſmite thee? And the Prophet ceaſed, but ſaid, I knowe that God hath determined to deſtroye thee, becauſe thou haſt done this, and haſt not obeyed my counſel.

17 ¶ Then Amaziáh King of Iudáh toke counſel, and ſent to Ioáſh the ſonne of Ichoaház, the ſonne of Iehú King of Iſraél, ſaying, Come, p let vs ſe one another in the face.

18 But Ioáſh King of Iſraél ſent to Amaziáh King of Iudáh, ſaying, The thiſtle that is in Lebanón, ſent to the cedre that is in Lebanón, ſaying, * Giue thy daughter to my ſonne to wife: & the wilde beaſt that was in Lebanón went & trode downe the thiſtle.

19 Thou thinkeſt: lo, thou haſt ſmiten Edóm, and thine heart liſteth thee vp to bragge: abide now at home: why doeſt thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou ſhuldeſt fall, and Iudáh with thee?

20 But Amaziáh wolde not heare: for q it was of God, that he might deliuer them into his hand, becauſe they had ſoght the gods of Edóm.

21 So Ioáſh the King of Iſraél went vp: & he, and Amaziáh King of Iudáh ſawe one another in the face at Bethſhémesh, which is in Iudáh.

22 And Iudáh was put to the worſe before Iſraél, and they fled euerie man to his tents.

15 He made also verie <sup>i</sup> artificial engins in Ierusalém, to be vpon the towres and vpon the corners, to shote arrowes and great stones: and his name spred farre abroad, because God did helpe him meruelously, til he was mightie.

2 But <sup>a</sup> he walked in the wayes of <sup>y</sup> Kings of Israël and made euen molten images for <sup>b</sup> Baalim.

3 Moreouer he burnt incense in the valley of Ben-hinnóm, & <sup>m</sup> burnt his sonnes with fyre, after the abominations of the heat he whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israël.

4 He sacrificed also and burnt incense in the hie places, and on hilles, and vnder euerie grene tre.

5 Wherefore the Lord his God deliuered him into the hand of the King of the Aramites, and they smote him, and toke of his, <sup>m</sup> manie prisoners, and broght them to Damascus: and he was also deliuered into the hand of the King of Israël, which smote him with a great slaughter.

6 For <sup>c</sup> Pekah the sonne of Remaliáh, slewe in Iudáh six score thousand in one day, all <sup>n</sup> valiant men, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.

7 And Zichrí a <sup>m</sup> mightie man of Ephráim slewe Maaseiah the Kings sonne, and Azrikám the gouernour of the house, and Elkanáh the seconde after the King.

8 And the children of Israël toke prisoners of their brethren, <sup>a</sup> two hundredth thousand of women, sonnes and daughters, and caryed away muche spoile of them, and broght the spoile to Samaria.

9 But there was a Prophet of the Lords, (whose name was Odéd) and he went out before the hoste that came to Samaria, & said vnto them, Beholde, <sup>c</sup> because the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Iudáh, he hath deliuered them into your hand, and ye haue slaine them in a rage, that reacheth vp to heauen.

10 And now ye purpose to kepe vnder the children of Iudáh and Ierusalém, as seruants and handmaides vnto you: but are not you <sup>n</sup> suche, that <sup>f</sup> sinnes are with you before the Lord your God?

11 Now therefore heare me, and deliuer the captaines againe, which ye haue také prisoners of your brethren: for <sup>y</sup> scarce wrath of the Lord is toward you.

24 And Aház gathered the vessels of the house of God, and brake the vessels of the house of God, and shut vp the dores of the house of the Lord, and made him altars in euerie corner of Ierusalém.

25 And in euerie citie of Iudáh he made hie places, to burne incense vnto other gods, and prouoked to angre the Lord God of his fathers.

4 And he broght in the Priests and the Leuites, and gathered them into the East strete,

5 And said vnto them, Heare me, ye Leuites: sanctifie now your selues, and sanctifie the house of <sup>y</sup> Lord God of your fathers, and carye forthe <sup>c</sup> the filthines out of the Sanctuarie.

6 For our fathers haue trespassed, and done euil in the eyes of the Lord our God, and haue forsaken him, and turned away their faces from the Tabernacle of the Lord, & turned their backs.

7 They haue also shut the dores of the porche, and quenched the lampes, and haue nether burnt incense, nor offred burnt offrings in the Sanctuarie vnto the God of Israël.

8 ¶ Wherefore the wrath of the Lord hath bene on Iudáh and Ierusalém: & he hath made them a <sup>d</sup> scattering, a desolacion, and an hissing, as ye se with your eyes.

16 And the Priests went into the inner partes of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, & brought out all the vncleannes that they founde in the Temple of the Lord, into the courte of the house of the Lord: and the Leuites toke it, to carie it out vnto the broke Kidron.

17 They began the first day of the first moneth to sanctifie it, and the eight day of the moneth came they to the porche of y Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight dayes, and in the sixtete day of the first moneth they made an end.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the King, and said, We haue cleansed all the house of the Lord and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, & the shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof:

19 And all the vessels which King Ahaz had cast aside when he reigned, and transgressed, haue we prepared and sanctified: and beholde, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the King rose early, and gathered the princes of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seuen bullockes, and seuen rams, and seuen lambes, and seuen hegoates, for a sin offering for the kingdome, and for the sanctuarie, and for Iudah. And he commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slewe the bullockes, and y Priests receiued the blood, & sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slewe also the rams & sprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they slewe the lambes, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the hegoates for the sinne offering before the King & the Congregation, and they laied their hands vpon them.

24 And the Priests slewe them, & with the blood of them they clesed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the King had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering & the sinne offering.

25 He appointed also the Leuites in the house of the Lord with cymbales, with viols, and with harpes, according to the commandment of Dauid, and Gad the Kings Seer, and Nathán the Prophet: for the commandment was by the hand of the Lord, and by the had of his Prophetes.

26 And the Leuites stode with the instruments of Dauid, and the Priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering vpon the altar: & when the burnt offering begán, the song of the Lord began with the trumpets, and the instruments of Dauid King of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshiped, singing a song, and thei blewe the trumpets: all this continued vntil the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the King and all that were present with him, bowed them selues, and worshiped.

30 ¶ The Hezekiah the King & the princes commanded the Leuites to praise the Lord with the wordes of Dauid, and of Asaph the Seer. so thei praised with ioye, and thei bowed them selues, and worshiped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and said, Now ye haue consecrate your selues to the Lord: come nere and bring the sacrifices and offerings of praise into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices, and offerings of praises, and euerie man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings. 32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was seuentie bullockes, an hundreth rammes, and two hundreth lambes: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord:

33 And for sanctification six hundreth bullockes, and thre thousand shepe.

34 But the Priests were to fewe, & were not able to slay all the burnt offerings: therefore their brethren the Leuites did helpe them, til they had ended the worke, & vntil other Priests were sanctified: for the Leuites were more vpriight in heart to sanctifie them selues, then the Priests.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many with the fat of the peace offerings and the drinke offerings for the burnt offering. so the seruice of the house of the Lord was set in order.

36 Then Hezekiah reioyced & all the people, that God had made the people so ready: for the thing was done sodenly.

the Passouer.

4 And the thing pleased the King, and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation throughout all Israel from Beer-sheba euen to Dan, that they shulde come to kepe the Passouer vnto the Lord God of Israel at Ierusalem: for they had not done it of a great time, as it was written.

6 ¶ So the postes went with letters by the commission of the King, and his princes, throughout all Israel and Iudah, and with the commandement of the King, saying, Ye childre of Israel, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Izhak, and Israel, and he will returne to the remnant that are escaped of you, out of the hands of the Kings of Asshur.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them desolate, as ye se.

8 Be not ye now stifnecked like your fathers, but giue the had to the Lord & come into his Sanctuary, which he hath sanctified for euer, and serue the Lord your God, and the fiercenes of his wrath shal turne away from you.

9 For if ye returne vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lord, your brethren and your children shal finde mercie before them that led them captiues, and they shal returne vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and wil not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 ¶ So the postes went from citie to citie through the land of Ephraim and Manasse, euen vnto Zebulun: but they laughed them to scorne, and mocked them.

11 Neuertheles diuers of Asher, and Manasse, and of Zebulun submitted them selues, and came to Ierusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Iudah, so that he gaue them one heart to do the commandment of the King, and of the rulers, according to the worde of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Ierusalem muche people, to kepe the feast of vnleavened bread in the seconde moneth, a very great assemblie.

14 ¶ And they arose, & toke away the altars that were in Ierusalem: and all those for incense toke they away, and cast them into the broke Kidron.

15 Afterward they slewe the Passouer the fourtente day of the seconde moneth: and the Priests and Leuites were ashamed, and sanctified them selues, and broght the burnt offrings into the house of the Lord.

16 And they stode in their place after their maner, according to the Law of Moses the man of God: and the Priests sprinkled the blood, receiued of the hands of the Leuites.

17 Because there were manie in the Congregation that were not sanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of y<sup>e</sup> Passouer for all that were not cleane, to sanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, euen a multitude of Ephraim, & Manasse, Issachar & Zebulun had not clenfed them selues, yet did eat the Passouer, but not as it was written: wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The good Lord be merciful toward him, 19 That prepareth his whole heart to seke y<sup>e</sup> Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not clenfed, according to the purification of the Sanctuary.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, & healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Ierusalem, kept the feast of the vnleavened bread seuen dayes wth great ioye, and the Leuites, and the Priests praised the Lord, day by day, singing with lowde instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah spake comfortably vnto all y<sup>e</sup> Leuites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: & they did eat in that feast seuen dayes, & offred peace offrings, & praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assemblie toke counsel to kepe it other seuen dayes. So thei kept it seuen dayes with ioye.

24 For Hezekiah King of Iudah had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and seuen thousand shepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and ten thousand shepe: and many Priests were sanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Iudah reioyced with the Priests and the Leuites, & all the Congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, & that dwelt in Iudah.

26 So there was great ioye in Ierusalem: for since the time of Salomon the sonne of David King of Israel there was not the like thing in Ierusalem.

27 Then the Priests and the Leuites arose, and blessed the people, and their voyce was heard, and their prayer came vp vnto heauen, to his holy habitation.

Manasséh, vntil they had made an end: afterward all the <sup>b</sup>childre of Israël returned euerie mā to his possession, into their owne cities.

2 And Hezekiáh appointed the courses of the Priests and Leuites by their turnes, euerie man according to his office, <sup>bothe</sup> Priests & Leuites, for the burnt offering & peace offerings, to minister & to giue thanks, and to praise in the gates of the tents of the Lord.

3 (And the Kings porcion was of his owne substance for the burnt offerings, <sup>euens</sup> for the burnt offrings of the morning & of the euening, and the burnt offerings for the Sabbaths, and for the new moones, & for the solemne feastes, * as it is written in the Law of the Lord)

4 He commadéd also the people that dwelt in Ierusalém, to giue a <sup>d</sup> parte to the Priests, and Leuites, that they might be <sup>e</sup> encouraged in the Law of the Lord.

5 ¶ And whé the commadement was <sup>f</sup>spred, the children of Israël broght abundance of first frutes, of corne, wine, & oyle, & hony, & of all the increase of the field, and the tithes of all things broght they abundantly.

6 And the children of Israël & Iudáh that dwelt in <sup>g</sup> cities of Iudáh, thei also broght the tithes of bullockes and shepe, and the holy tithes <sup>f</sup> w were cōsecrate vnto <sup>g</sup> Lord their God, & laid them on <sup>h</sup> many heapes.

7 In the third moneth they began to laye the fundacion of the heapes, and finished them in the seuent moneth.

8 ¶ And when Hezekiáh & the princes came, and sawe the heapes, thei <sup>h</sup> blessed the Lord and his people Israël.

9 And Hezekiáh questioned w the Priests and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariáh <sup>i</sup> chief Priest of the house of Zadók answered him, & said, Since the people begā to bring the offerings into the house of the Lord, we haue <sup>i</sup> eaten & haue bene satisfied, & there is left in abundance: for the Lord hathe blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

11 ¶ And Hezekiáh cōmanded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them, 12 And caryed in the first frutes, and the tithes, & the dedicate things faithfully: & ouer the <sup>was</sup> Conaniáh the Leuite, <sup>i</sup> chief, and Shimeí his brother the seconde.

13 And Iehiél, and Azaziáh, & Náhath, & Asahél, & Ierimóth, and Iozabád, and Eliél, and Ismachiah, and Máhath, and Benaiáh were ouerseers <sup>by</sup> the appointment of Conaniáh, and Shimeí his brother, <sup>by</sup> the cōmandement of Hezekiáh the King, and of Azariáh the chief of the house of God.

14 And Koré the sōne of Innáh the Leuite porter toward the East, was ouer the things <sup>y</sup> were willingly offered vnto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, & the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And at his hand were Edén, & Minjamín, & Ieshúa, & Shemaiah, Amariáh, and Shechaniáh, in the cities of the Priests, to distribute with fidelitie to their brethrē by courses, <sup>bothe</sup> to the great and small, 17 Bothe to the generaciō of the Priests after the house of their fathers, & to the Leuites from twentie yere olde & aboue, according to their charge in their courses:

16 Their daily porcion: beside their generacion being males <sup>k</sup> from thre yere olde and aboue, <sup>euens</sup> to all that entred into the house of the Lord to their office in their charge, according to their courses:

18 And to the generacion of all their children, their wiues, & their sonnes and their daughters throughout all the Congregation: for by their <sup>l</sup> fidelitie are thei partakers of the holy things.

19 Also to the sonnes of Aarón, the Priests, <sup>which were</sup> in <sup>y</sup> fields & suburbes of their cities, in euerie citie the men that were appointed by names, shulde giue porcions to all the males of the Priests, and to all the generacion of the Leuites.

20 And thus did Hezekiáh throughout all Iudáh, and did wel, and vprightly, & truly before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the workes that he began for the seruice of the house of God, bothe in the Law and in the commandements, to seke his God, he did it with all his heart, & prospered.

6 And he set captaines of warre ouer the people and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the citie, and <sup>a</sup> spake comfortably vnto them, saying,
7 Be strong and couragious: feare not, neither be afraied for the King of Affhúr, neither for all the multitude that is with him: for there be mo with vs, then is with him.
8 With him is an <sup>a</sup> arme of flesh, but with vs is the <sup>e</sup> Lord our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the wordes of Hezekiah King of Iudáh.
9 <sup>a</sup> After this, did Sanneherib King of Affhúr send his seruants to Ierusalém (while he was <sup>f</sup> against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiah King of Iudáh, and vnto all Iudáh that were at Ierusalém, saying,
10 Thus saith Sanneherib the King of Affhúr, Wherein do ye trust, that ye wil remaine in Ierusalém, <sup>a</sup> during the siege?
11 Doeth not Hezekiah entice you to giue ouer your selues vnto death by famine & by thirst, saying, The Lord our God shal deliuer vs out of the hand of the King of Affhúr?
12 Hathe not y<sup>e</sup> same Hezekiah také awaie his hie places and his <sup>a</sup> altars and commāded Iudáh and Ierusalém, saying, Ye shal worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon it?
13 Knowe ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of <sup>a</sup> other countreies? Were the gods of the nations of <sup>a</sup> other lands able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?
14 Who is he of all the <sup>b</sup> gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) that colde deliuer his people out of mine hand: that your God shulde be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?
15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceiue you, nor seduce you after this sorte, neither beleue ye him: for none of all y<sup>e</sup> gods of any nacion or kingdome was able to deliuer his people out of <sup>a</sup> mine hand and out of y<sup>e</sup> hand of my fathers: how muche lesse shal your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?
16 And his seruants spake yet more against the Lord God, & against his <sup>a</sup> seruant Hezekiah.
17 He wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lord God of Israël and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of <sup>a</sup> other countreies colde not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shal not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they <sup>a</sup> cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes speache vnto the people of Ierusalém that were on the wall, to feare the and to astonish them, that they might take the citie.
19 Thus they spake against the God of Ierusalém, as against the gods of the people of the earth, <sup>a</sup> even the <sup>a</sup> workes of mans hands, 20 But Hezekiah the King, and the Prophet Hiaiáh the sonne of Amóz <sup>a</sup> praied against this and cryed to heauen.
21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes and <sup>a</sup> captaines of the hoste of the King of Affhúr: so he returned <sup>a</sup> with shame to his owne land. And when he was come into the house of his god, they that came for the of his powne bowels, slewe him there with the sword.
22 So the Lord saued Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Ierusalém from the hand of Sanneherib King of Affhúr, and from the hand of all <sup>a</sup> other, and <sup>a</sup> mainteined the <sup>a</sup> on euerie side.
23 And many broght offerings vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lord to Ierusalém, and presents to Hezekiah King of Iudáh, so that he was <sup>a</sup> magnified in the sight of all nacions from thence forth.
24 <sup>a</sup> In those dayes Hezekiah was sicke vnto the death, and praied vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue him <sup>a</sup> a signe.
25 But Hezekiah did not rendre accordig to the rewarde <sup>a</sup> bestowed vpon him: for his heart <sup>a</sup> was lift vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudáh and Ierusalém.
26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled him selfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) he and the inhabitants of Ierusalém, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the daies of Hezekiah.
27 Hezekiah also had exceedig muche riches & honour, & he gate him treasures of siluer, & of golde, and of precious stones, & of swete odours, and of shields, and of all pleasant vessels:
28 And of store houses for the increase of wheat, and wine and oyle, and stalles for all beastes, and <sup>a</sup> rowes for the <sup>a</sup> stables.
29 And he made him cities, and <sup>a</sup> had possession of shepe and oxen in abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding muche.
30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the vpper water springs of <sup>a</sup> Gihón, and led the streight vnderneath toward y<sup>e</sup> citie of Dauid Westward. so Hezekiah prospered in all his workes.

33 So Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buryed him in the highest sepulchre of the sonnes of Dauid: and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did him honour at his death: and Manasséh his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Manasséh was twelue yere olde, * whē he began to reigne, and he reigned five and fiftie yere in Ierusalem:

2 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, like the abominacions of the heathen, * whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe and buylt the hie places, * which Hezekiah his father had broken downe: * and he set vp altars for Baalim, and made groues, and worshiped all the hoste of the heauen, and serued them.

4 Also he buylt altars in the house of the Lord, whereof the Lord had said, * In Ierusalem shal my Name be for euer.

5 And he buylt altars for all the hoste of the heauē in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 And he caused his sonnes to passe through y<sup>e</sup> fyre in the valley of Ben-hinnom: he gaue him selfe to witchcraft and to charming, and to sorcerie, and he vsed them that had familiar spirits, and soothsayers: he did verie much euil in y<sup>e</sup> sight of the Lord to angre him.

7 He put also the karued image, which he had made, in the house of God: whereof God had said to Dauid and to Salomon his sonne, * In this house & in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israel, wil I put my Name for euer,

8 Nether wil I make the foote of Israel to remoue any more out of the land which I haue appointed for your fathers, so that they take hede, & do all that I haue commanded them, according to the Law and statutes and iudgements by the hand of Moses.

9 So Manasséh made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, & to do worse then the heathen, whome the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake <sup>2</sup> to Manasséh & to his people, but they wolde not regarde.

11 Wherefore the Lord broght vpon them the captaines of the hoste of the King of Asshur, which toke Manasséh & put him in fetters, and bounde him in chaines, and carryed him to Babel.

12 And when he was in tribulaciō, he prayed to the Lord his God, and humbled him selfe greatly before y<sup>e</sup> God of his fathers, 13 And prayed vnto him: and God was <sup>4</sup> entreated of him, and heard his prayer, and broght him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdome: the Manasséh knewe that the Lord was God.

14 Now after this he buylt a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the Westside of Gihon in the valley, euē at the entrie of the fish gate, & compassed about Ophel, and raised it very hie, and put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

15 And he toke away the strange gods and the image out of the house of the Lord, and all the altars that he had buylt in the mount of the house of the Lord, and in Ierusalem, and cast them out of the citie.

16 Also he prepared the <sup>5</sup> altar of y<sup>e</sup> Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, and of thanks, and commanded Iudah to serue the Lord God of Israel.

17 Neuertheles the people did sacrifice stil in the hie places, but vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lord their God.

18 ¶ Concerning the rest of the actes of Manasséh, and his <sup>1</sup> prayer vnto his God, and the wordes of the Seers, that spake to him in the Name of the Lord God of Israel, beholde, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel.

19 And his prayer and how God was intreated of him, and all his sinne, and his trespass, and the places wherein he buylt hie places, and set groues and images (before he was humbled) beholde, they are written in the booke of the Seers.

20 So Manasséh slept with his fathers, and they buryed him in his owne <sup>2</sup> house: and Amón his sonne reigned in his stead.

21 ¶ Amón was two and twentie yere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned two yere in Ierusalem.

22 But he did euil in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasséh his father: for Amón sacrificed to all the images, which Manasséh his father had made, and serued them, 23 And he humbled not him selfe before the Lord, as Manasséh his father had humbled him selfe: but this Amón trespassed more and more.

24 And his seruants <sup>3</sup> conspired against him, and slewe him in his owne house.

CHAP. XXXIII.

Iosiah destroyeth the idoles, & And restoreth the Temple. 14 The booke of the Lawe is founde. 21 He sendeth to Huldah the prophetesse for counsel. 27 God heareth his prayer. 31 He maketh a conuention with God.

King 22, 1. Iosiah was eight yere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned in Ierusalem one and thirtie yere.

a He followed David in all pointes that he followed the Lord.

b When he was but sixe yere olde, he shewed him selfe zealous of Gods glorie, & at twentie yere olde he abolished idolatrie and restored true religion. c Which sheweth that he wolde see the reformation in his owne eyes.

2 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of David his father, and bowed nether to the right hand nor to the left.

3 And in the eight yere of his reigne (when he was yet a childe) he began to seke after the God of David his father: and in the twelfth yere he began to purge Iudáh, and Ierusalem from the hie places, and the groues, and the kerued images, and molten images:

4 And they brake downe in his sight the altars of Baalim, and he caused to cut downe the images that were on hie vpon them: he brake also the groues, & the kerued images, and the molten images, and stamp't them to poudre, and strowed it vpon the graues of them that had sacrificed vnto them.

W Read 1. King 5. 16. 5 Also he burnt the bones of the Priests vpon their altars, and purged Iudáh and Ierusalem.

6 And in y cities of Manasséh, & Ephraim, and Simeón, euen vnto Naphtalí, with their maules they brake all rounde about.

a This great scale of this godlie King & holie Gost setteth forth as an example & paterne to other Kings & rulers, to teach the what God requireth of them. 7 And when he had destroyed the altars and the groues, and had broken and stamp'd to poudre the images, and had cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Israël, he returned to Ierusalem.

8 ¶ Then in the eightente yere of his reigne when he had purged the land and the Temple, he sent Shaphán the sonne of Azaliáh, and Maaseáh the gouernour of the citie, and Ioáh the sonne of Ioaház the recorder, to repare the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiáh the hie Priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the dore, had gathered at the hand of Manasséh, and Ephraim, & of all the residue of Israël, and of all Iudáh and Beniamín, and of the inhabitáts of Ierusalem.

10 Or, they returned to Ierusalem, meaning, Shaphán, &c.

10 And they put it in the hands of them that shulde do the worke & had the ouersight in the house of the Lord: and they gaue it to the workemen that wrought in the house of the Lord, to repare & amende the house.

11 Euen to the workemen & to the buylders gaue they it, to bye hewed stone and timber for couples & for beames of the houses, which the Kings of Iudáh had destroyed.

12 And the men did the worke & faithfully, and the ouerseers of them were Iaháth and Obadiáh the Leuites, of the children of Merarí, and Zechariáh, and Meshulam, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Leuites all that colde skil of instruments of musike.

13 And they were ouer the bearers of burdés, and them that set forward all the workemen in euerie worke: and of the Leuites were scribes, & officers and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiáh the Priest founde the booke of the Law of the Lord giuen by the hád of Moses.

15 Therefore Hilkiáh answered and said to Shaphán the chancellor, I haue founde the booke of the Lawe in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiáh gaue the booke to Shaphán.

16 And Shaphán caryed the booke to the King, and brought the King worde againe, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy seruants, that do they.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was founde in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouerseers, and to the hands of the workemen.

18 Also Shaphán the chancellor declared to the King, saying, Hilkiáh the Priest hath giuen me a booke, & Shaphán red it before the King.

19 And when the King had heard the wordes of the Lawe, he tare his clothes.

20 And the King commanded Hilkiáh, and Ahikám the sonne of Shaphán, & Abdón the sonne of Micáh, & Shaphán the chancellor, and Asaiáh the Kings seruant, saying,

21 Go and enquire of the Lord for me, and for the rest in Israël and Iudáh, concerning the wordes of this booke that is founde: for great is the wrath of the Lord y is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the wordes of the Lord, to do after all that is written in this booke.

22 Then Hilkiáh and they that the King had appointed, went to Huldah the prophetesse the wife of Shallúm, the sonne of Tokháth, the sonne of Hasráh keeper of the wardrobe (and she dwelt in Ierusalem within the colledge) and they communed hereof with her.

23 And she answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israël, Telye the man that sent you to me,

24 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil bring euil vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants thereof, euē all the curses, that are written in the boke which they haue red before the King of Iudāh:

25 Because they haue forsakē me, and burnt incēse vnto other gods, to angre me with all the workes of their hands, therefore shal my wrath fall vpon this place, & shal not be quenched.

26 But to the King of Iudāh, who sent you to enquire of the Lord, so shal ye say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The wordes which thou hast heard, shal come to passe.

27 But because thine heart did <sup>a</sup> melt, and thou didest humble thy self before God, whē thou heardest his wordes against this place and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thy selfe before me and tarest thy clothes, and weptest before me, I haue also heard it, saith the Lord.

28 Beholde, I wil gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shal not se all the euil, which I wil bring vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants of the same. Thus they brought the King worde againe.

29 ¶ Then the King sent and gathered all the Elders of Iudāh and Ierusalēm.

30 And the King went vp into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Iudāh, and the inhabitants of Ierusalēm, and the Priests and the Leuites, and all the people frō the greatest to the <sup>c</sup> smallest, and he red in their eares all the wordes of the boke of the couenant that was founde in the house of the Lord.

31 And the King stode by his pillar, and made a couenant before the Lord, to walke after the Lord, and to kepe his commandements, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, & <sup>e</sup> y he wolde accomplishe the wordes of the couenant written in the same boke.

32 And he caused all that were founde in Ierusalēm, and Beniamin to stand to it: & the inhabitants of Ierusalēm did according to the couenant of God, euē the God of their fathers.

33 So Iosiah toke away all the abominations out of all the countreys that pertained to the children of Israel, and compelled all <sup>f</sup> that were found in Israel, to serue the Lord their God: so all his daies they turned not backe from the Lord God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

Iosiah kepeth the Passeouer. 2 He setteth forth the Gods seruice. 30 He fighteth against the King of Egypt, & dyeth. 34 The people bewaile him.

Moreouer <sup>a</sup> Iosiah kept a Passeouer vnto the Lord in Ierusalēm, & they slewe the <sup>a</sup> Passeouer in the fourtente day of the first moneth.

2 And he appointed the Priests to their charges, and encouraged them to the seruice of the house of the Lord,

3 And he said vnto <sup>b</sup> y Leuites, that <sup>b</sup> taught all Israel and were sanctified vnto <sup>b</sup> y Lord, Put the holy Arke in the house which Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel did buyld: it shal be no more a <sup>c</sup> burden vpon your sholders: serue now the Lord your God, and his people Israel,

4 And prepare your selues by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as <sup>d</sup> Dauid the King of Israel hath written, & according to the writing of Salomon his sonne,

5 And stand in the Sanctuarie according to the diuisiō of the families of your brethren <sup>e</sup> the children of the people, and after the diuision of the familie of the Leuites: 1 Chron. 23. 2. & 25. 26.

6 So kil the Passeouer, and sanctifie your selues, and <sup>d</sup> prepare your brethren that they may do according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Iosiah also gaue to the <sup>e</sup> people shepe, lābes and kiddes, all for the Passeouer, euē to all that were present, to the number of thirty thousand, & thre thousand bullockes: these were of the Kings substance.

8 And his princes offred willingly vnto the people, to the Priests & to the Leuites: Hilkiah, and Zechariah, and Iehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto <sup>f</sup> y Priests for the Passeouer, euē two thousand and six hundred shepe, & thre hundred bullockes.

9 <sup>e</sup> Conaniah also and Shemaiah and Nathaneel his brethren, and Hashabiah and Iehiel, & Iozabad, chief of the Leuites gaue vnto the Leuites for the Passeouer, syue thousand shepe, & syue hundred bullockes.

10 Thus the seruice was prepared, and the Priests stode in their places, also the Leuites in their ordres according to the Kings commandement:

11 And they slewe the Passeouer, & <sup>f</sup> y Priests sprinkled the blood with their hands, & the Leuites slayed them.

12 And they toke away from the <sup>g</sup> burnt offering to giue it according to the diuisions of the families of the children of the people, to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the boke of Moses, & so of <sup>g</sup> y bullockes.

13 And <sup>h</sup> they roasted the Passeouer with fyre, according to the custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pottes, pannes, and caulderns, & distributed them quickly to all the people.

14 Afterwarde also they prepared for the selues & for the Priests: for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offrings, & the fat vntil night: therefore the Leuites prepared for the selues, &

<sup>b</sup> So that the Leuites charge was not onely to minister in y Tēple, but also to instruct the people in the worde of God.

16 So all the seruice of the Lord was prepared the same day, to kepe the Passeouer, and to offer burnt offrings vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandement of King Iosiah.

17 And the childre of Israël that were present, kept the Passeouer the same time, and the feast of the vnleauened bread seuen dayes.

18 And there was no Passeouer kept like that, in Israël, from the dayes of Samuél the Prophet: nether did all y Kings of Israël kepe suche a Passeouer as Iosiah kept, and the Priests and the Leuites, & all Iudáh, and Israël that were <sup>h</sup> present, and the inhabitants of Ierusalém.

21 But he sent messengers to him, saying, What haue I to do with thee, thou King of Iudáh? I come not against thee this day, but against the house <sup>h</sup> of mine enemye, and God commanded me to make haste: leaue of to come against God, which is with me, lest he destroye thee.

23 And the shoters shot at King Iosiah: the King said to his seruants, Cary me away, for I am very sicke.

24 So his seruants toke him out of that charret, & put him in the seconde charret which he had, and when they had broght him to Ierusalém, he dyed, and was buried in the sepulchres of his fathers: and all Iudáh and Ierusalém <sup>m</sup> mourned for Iosiah.

THE PRAYER OF MANASSÉH King of the Iewes.

O Lord almightie, God of our fathers, Abram, Isaac and Iacob, and of their righteous sede, which hast made heauen and earth with all their ornament, which hast bound the sea by the worde of thy commandement, which hast shut vp the depe and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whome all do feare & tremble before thy power: for the maiestie of thy glorie can not be borne, & thine angrie threatening toward sinners is importable, but thy merciful promes is vnmeasurable & vnsearcheable. For thou art the moste high Lord, of great compassiō, long suffering & moste merciful, & repētest for mā's miseries. Thou, O Lord, accordig to thy great goodnes hast promised a repentance & forgiuenes to them that sinne against thee, & for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saued. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the iuste, hast not appointed repentance to the iuste, as to Abram, and Isaac and Iacob, which haue not sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner: for I haue sinned about the nōber of the sand of the see. My transgressions,

O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to beholde & se the height of the heauens for the multitude of mine vnrighteousnes, I am bowed downe with many yro bādes, that I cā not lift vp mine head, nether haue any release. For I haue prouoked thy wrath and done euil before thee. I did not thy wil, nether kept I thy commandements. I haue set vp abominations & haue multiplied offenses. Now therefore I bowe the kne of mine heart, besechig thee of grace. I haue sinned, O Lord, I haue sinned, & I acknowledge my trasgressiōs: but I humbly besече thee, forgiue me: O Lord, forgiue me, & destroye me not with my transgressions. Be not angry with me for euer by reseruing euil for me, nether condemne me into the lower partes of the earth. For thou art the God, euen the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shewe all thy goodnes: for thou wilt saue me that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercie: therefore I wil praise thee for euer all the dayes of my life. for all the power of the heauens praise thee, & thine is the glorie for euer & euer. Amen.

By the hand of his. By this phrase the scripures meaneth often times and diligently, as Iere. 11. 7. 25. 1. & 4. 28. 1. & 32. 11.

Til God wolde no longer suffer their sinnes, but muste needs punish them. Whether they fled, thinking to haue bene saued for the holines thereof.

Which is not because God approach him which yet is the minister of his iustice, but because God wolde by his iuste iudgement punish this people: for this King was led with ambition and vaine glorie, whereunto were loyued furie and cruelty: therefore his worke was condēnable, notwithstanding it was iuste and holy on Gods parte, who vfed this wicked instrument to declare his iustice.

This prayer is set in the Ebrue, but is translated out of the Greeke.

a Thou hast promised that repentance shal be the way for the to returne to thee. b He speaketh this in coparison of him selfe & those holy fathers which haue their commendation in the Scriptures, so that in respect of him selfe he calleth their sinnes nothing, but attributeth vnto them righteousness.

THE ARGUMENT.

As the Lord is ever merciful vnto his Church, and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they shoulde see their owne miseries, and be exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the worlde and aspire vnto the heauens. so after that he had visited the Tewes and kept them now in bondage seuentie yeres in a strange countrey among infidels and idolaters, he remembered his tendre mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raised them vp a deliuerer, and moued bothe the heart of the chief ruler to pitee them, and also by him punished suche, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding lest they shoulde growe into a contempt of Gods great benefite, he kepeth them stil in exercise, and raiseth domestical enemies, which endenour as muche as they can to hindre their moste worthe enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophetes they went forward by litle and litle til their worke was finished. The auor of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest, and scribe of the Law, as chap. 7. 6. he returned to Ierusalem the sixt yere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is, more then fiftie yeres after the retorne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was buyld. He broght with him a great companie, and muche treasures, with letters to the Kings officers for all suche things as shoulde be necessarie for the Temple: and at his coming he redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good ordre.

Now in the first yere of Cyrus King of Persia (the worde of the Lord, spoken by the mouth of Ieremiah, might be accomplished) the Lord stirred vp the spirit of Cyrus King of Persia, and he made a proclamation through all his kingdome, and also by writing, saying,

Thus saith Cyrus King of Persia, The Lord God of heauen hath giuen me all the kingdomes of the earth, and he hath commanided me to buyld him an house in Ierusalem, which is in Iudah.

Who is he among you of all his people with whome his God is: let him go vp to Ierusalem which is in Iudah, and buyld the house of the Lord God of Israel: he is the God, which is in Ierusalem.

And euerie one that remaineth in anie place (where he sojourneth) let the men of his place relieue him with siluer & with golde, and with substance, & with cattel, and with a willing offering, for the house of God that is in Ierusalem.

Then the chief fathers of Iudah & Benjamin, & the Priests & Leuites rose vp, with all the whose spirit God had raised to go vp, to buyld the house of the Lord which is in Ierusalem.

And all they that were about the, strengthened their hands with vessels of siluer, with golde, with substance & with cattel, & with precious thigs, besides all that was willingly offred.

Also the King Cyrus broght forth the vessels of the house of the Lord, which Nebuchadnezzar had take out of Ierusalem, & had put the in the house of his god.

8 Euen the did Cyrus King of Persia bring forth by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer, and counted the vnto Sheshbazzar the prince of Iudah.

9 And this is the number of them, thirtie basins of golde, a thousand basins of siluer, nine and twentie kniues,

10 Thirtie bowles of golde, & of siluer bowles of the second sorte, four hundred and ten, & of other vessels, a thousand.

11 All the vessels of golde & siluer were five thousand & four hundred. Sheshbazzar broght vp all with the of the captiuitie that came vp from Babel to Ierusalem.

CHAP. III.

1 They buyld the altar of God & they offer to the Lord.

7 They prepare for the Temple, and sing vnto the Lord.

1 And when the seventh moneth was come, and the children of Israël were in their cities, the people assembled them selues as one man vnto Ierusalém.

2 Then stood vp Ieshua the sonne of Iozadák, and his brethren the Priests, and Zerubbabél the sonne of Shealtiel, and his brethren, & buylded the altar of the God of Israël, to offer burnt offerings thereon, as it is written in the Law of Moses the man of God,

3 And they set the altar vpon his bases (for feare was among them, because of the people of those countreies) therefore they offered burnt offerings thereon vnto the Lord, even burnt offerings in the morning and at euen.

4 They kept also the feast of the Tabernacles, as it is written, and the burnt offering daily, by number according to the custome day by day,

5 And afterward the continual burnt offering, bothe in the new moneths and in all the feast dayes that were consecrate vnto the Lord, and in all the oblations willingly offered vnto the Lord.

6 From the first day of the seventh moneth began they to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord: but the fundacion of the Temple of the Lord was not laied.

7 They gaue money also vnto the masons, and to the workemen, and meat and drinke, and oyle vnto them of Zidon and of Tyrus, to bring the cedre wood from Lebanon to the sea vnto Taphó, according to the grant that they had of Cyrus King of Persia.

8 And in the seconde yere of their coming vnto the house of God in Ierusalém in the second moneth began Zerubbabél the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshua the sonne of Iozadák, and the remnant of their brethren the Priests and the Levites, & all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Ierusalém, and appointed the Levites from twenty yere olde & aboue, to set forward the worke of the house of the Lord.

9 And Ieshua stood with his sonnes, and his brethren, & Kadmiel with his sonnes, & the sonnes of Iudáh together to set forward the workemen in the house of God, and the sonnes of Henadák with their sonnes, and their brethren the Levites.

10 And when the buylders laied the fundacion of the Temple of the Lord, they appointed the Priests in their apparel with trumpets, and the Levites the sonnes of Asaph with cymbales, to praise the Lord, after the ordinance of Dauid King of Israël.

11 Thus they sang when they gaue praise, and when they gaue thanks vnto the Lord, For he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer toward Israël. And all the people shouted with a great shoute, when they praised the Lord, because the fundacion of the house of the Lord was layed.

12 Many also of the Priests and the Levites and the chief of the fathers, ancient men, which had sene the first house, (when the fundacion of this house was layed before their eyes) wept with a loude voyce: and many shouted a loude for ioye,

13 So that the people coulde not discerne the sounde of the shoute for ioye, from the noyce of the weping of the people: for the people shouted with a loude crye, and the noyce was heard farre of.

1 But the aduersaries of Iudáh and Benjamin heard, that the children of the captiuitie buylded the Temple vnto the Lord God of Israël.

2 And they came to Zerubbabél, & to the chief fathers, and said vnto them, We wil buyld with you: for we seke the Lord your God as ye do: & we haue sacrificed vnto him since the time of Esar Haddón King of Asshur which brought vs vp hither.

3 Then Zerubbabél, and Ieshua, and the rest of the chief fathers of Israël, said vnto them, It is not for you, but for vs to buyld the house vnto our God: for we our selues together wil buyld it vnto the Lord God of Israël, as King Cyrus the King of Persia hath commanded vs.

Which moneth concerned parte of April and parte of May. For in the meane season they had provided forthings necessarye for the worke.

They gave them exhortations & encouraged euery man forward in the worke.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, he gaue them ouer into the hand of Nebuchadnezzár King of Babel the Caldean, and he destroyed this house, and caryed the people away captiue vnto Babel.

13 But in the first yere of Cyrus King of Babel, Kíng Cyrus made a decree to buyld this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde & siluer of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzár toke out of the Têple, that was in Ierusalém, and broght them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the King take out of the Têple of Babel, & they gaue them vnto one<sup>f</sup> Sheshbazzár by his name, whome he had made capitaine.

15 And he said vnto him, Take these vessels and go thy way, & put them in the Temple that is in Ierusalém, and let the house of God be buylt in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzár and layed the fundacion of the house of God, which is in Ierusalém, and since that time euen vntil now, hath it bene in buylding, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the King, let there be searche made in the house of the Kings & treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by King Cyrus, to buyld this house of God in Ierusalém, and let the King send his minde concerning this.

<sup>g</sup> Meaning, in the librarie, or places where laye the registers, or records of times.

CHAP. VI.

At the commandement of Darius King of Persia, after the Temple was buylded and dedicate, the children of Israël kepe the feast of vneleauened bread.

1 Then King Darius gaue commandement, and they made searche in the librarie of the treasures, which were there layed vp in Babel.

2 And there was founde in a<sup>a</sup> coffre (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, & therein was it thus writē, as a memorial,

3 IN THE FIRST yere of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Ierusalém, Let the house be buylt, <sup>even</sup> the place where they offred sacrifices, & let the walles thereof be ioyned together: let the height thereof be thre score cubites, & the breadth thereof thre score cubites,

4 Thre orders of great stones, and one order of tymbre, and let the expences be giuen of the Kings house.

5 And also let them render y vessels of the house of God (of golde & siluer, w Nebuchadnezzár toke out of the Têple, which was in Ierusalém, and broght vnto Babel) and let<sup>b</sup> him go vnto the Temple that is in Ierusalém to his place and put them in the house of God.

7 Suffre ye the worke of this house of God, that the capitaine of the Iewes & the Elders of the Iewes may buyld this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandement what ye shal do to the Elders of these Iewes for the buylding of this house of God, that of the reuenues of the King, which is of the tribute beyonde the Riuer, there be incontinently expenses giuen vnto these me that they<sup>d</sup> cease not.

9 And that which thei shal haue nede of, let it be giuen vnto them day by day, whether it be yong bullockes, or rams, or lambs for the burnt offrings of the God of heauen, wheat, salt, wine, & oyle, according to the appointemēt of the Priests that are in Ierusalém, that there be no faute,

10 That they may haue to offer swete odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the Kings life, and for his sonnes.

11 And I haue made a decree, y whosocuer shal alter this sentence, the wood shal be pulled downe from his house, and shal be set vp, & he shal be hanged thereon, & his house shal be made a dung hil for this.

12 And the God that hath caused his Name<sup>e</sup> to dwel there, destroye all Kings and people that put to their hand to alter, and to destroye this house of God, which is in Ierusalém. I Darius haue made a decree, let it be done with speede.

13 ¶ Then Tatnai the capitaine beyonde the Riuer, & Shethár Boznái and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent, so thei did spedely.

CHAP. VII.

By the commādemēt of the King, Ezrá and his com- panions come to Ierusalém. 27 He giueth thākes to God.

NOW after these things, in the reigne of a Artahsháshte King of Persia, was Ezrá the sonne of Seraiáh, the sonne of Azariáh, the sonne of Hilkiáh,

2 The sonne of Shallúm, the sonne of Za- dók, the sonne of Ahitúb,

3 The sonne of Amariáh, the sonne of Aza- riáh, the sonne of Meraióth,

4 The sonne of Zeraiáh, the sonne of Vz- zi, the sonne of Bukki,

5 The sonne of Abissúa, the sonne of Phi- achás, the sonne of Eleazár, the sonne of Aaron, the chief Priest.

6 This Ezrá came vp from Babél, and was a c scribe prompt in the Law of Mosés, which the Lord God of Israël had giuen, and the King gaue him all his request according to the hand of the Lord his God which was vpon him.

7 And there went vp certeine of the chil- dren of Israël, and of the Priests, and the Leuites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinims vnto Ierusalém, in the seuent yere of King Artahsháshte.

8 And he came to Ierusalém in the d fift moneth, which was in the seuent yere e of the King.

9 For vpon the first day of the first moneth began he to go vp from Babél, and on the first day of the fift moneth came he to Ie- rusalém, according to the good hand of his God that was vpon him.

10 For Ezrá had prepared his heart to seke the Law of the Lord, and to do it, & to re- ache the precepts & iudgements in Israël.

11 ¶ And this is the copie of the letter that King Artahsháshte gaue vnto Ezrá the Priest & scribe, eue a writer of the wordes of the cōmandements of the Lord, and of his statutes ouer Israël.

12 ARTAHSHASHTE King of Kings to Ezrá y<sup>e</sup> Priest & perfite scribe of the Law of the God of heauen, and to f Cheéneth.

13 I haue giuen cōmandement, that euerie one, that is willing in my kingdome of the people of Israël, and of the Priests, and Leuites s to go to Ierusalém with thee, shal go.

14 Therefore art thou sent of the King and his seuen counselors, to h enquire in Iudáh and Ierusalém, according to the Law of thy God, which is in i thine hand,

15 And to carie the siluer and the golde, w the King and his couंसlers willingly offer vnto the God of Israël (whose habitacion is in Ierusalém)

16 And all the siluer and golde that thou canst finde in all the prouince of- Babél, with the fre offering of the people, and that which the Priests offre willingly to y<sup>e</sup> hou- se of their God which is in Ierusalém, 17 That thou maiest bye spedely with this siluer, bullockes, rams, lambes, with their meat offerings and their drinke offerings: & thou shalt offer the vpon the alrar of the house of your God, which is in Ierusalém.

18 And whatsoeuer it pleaseth thee & thy brethrē to do with the rest of the siluer, and golde, do ye it according to the wil of your k God.

19 And the vessels that are giuen thee for the seruice of the house of thy God, those deliuer thou before God in Ierusalém.

20 And the residue that shalbe nedeful for the house of thy God, which shalbe mete for thee to bestowe, thou shalt bestowe it out of the Kings treasure house,

14 And of the sonnes of Biguai, Vthai, and Zabbud, and with them seuentie males.

15 And I gathered them to the <sup>c</sup> Riuer that goeth toward Ahaua, and there abode we thre dayes: then I vewed the people, and the Priests, and founde there none of the sonnes of Leui.

16 Therefore sent I to Eliézer, to Ariel, to Shemeiah, & to Elnathan, & to Iarib, and to Elnathan, and to Nathan, and to Zechariah, and to Meshullam the chief, and to Ioarib and to Elnathan, men of vnderstanding,

17 And I gaue them commandement, to Iddo the <sup>d</sup> chiefest at the place of Casphiash, and I <sup>e</sup> tolde them the wordes that they shulde speake to Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims at the place of Casphiash, that they shulde cause the ministers of the house of our God to come vnto vs.

18 So by the good hand of our God which was vpon vs, they broght vs a man of vnderstanding of the sonnes of Mahali the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Israel, and She- rebiash with his sonnes and his brethren, euē eightene.

21 And there at the Riuer, by Ahaua, I proclaimed a fast, that we might humble <sup>f</sup> our selues before our God, and seke of him a right waye for vs, and for our children, & for all our substance.

22 For I was <sup>g</sup> ashamed to require of the King an armie and horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemy in the way, because we had had spoken to the King, saying, The hand of our God is vpon all them that seke him, in goodnes, but his power and his wrath is against all them that forsake him.

23 So we fasted, and besoght our God for this: and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I separated twelue of the chief of the Priests, Sherebiáh, and Hahabiáh, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed the siluer & the golde, & the vessels, even the offering of the house of our God, which the King and his counsellers, and his princes, and all Israël that were present had offred.

26 And I weighed vnto their hand six hundred and fifty <sup>b</sup> talents of siluer, and in siluer vessel, an hundred talents, and in golde, an hundred talents:

27 And twentie basins of golde, of a thousand <sup>i</sup> drammes, and two vessels of shining brasle very good, and precious as golde.

28 ¶ And I said vnto the, Ye are consecrate vnto the Lord, and the vessels are consecrate, and the golde and the siluer are freely offred vnto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watche ye, & kepe them until ye weigh them before the chief Priests and the Leuites, and the chief fathers of Israël in Ierusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30 So the Priests and the Leuites receiued the weight of the siluer and of the golde, and of the vessels to bring them to Ierusalem, vnto the house of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the Riuer of Ahauá on the twelfth <sup>i</sup> day of the first moneth, to go vnto Ierusalem, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of theemie, and of suche as layed <sup>k</sup> waite by the way.

32 And we came to Ierusalem, and abode there three dayes.

33 And on the fourte day was the siluer weighed, and the golde and the vessel in the house of our God by the hand of Meremóth the sonne of Vriáh the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehás, and with them was Iozabád the sonne of Ieshúa, and Noadiáh the sonne of Binnúi the <sup>l</sup> Leuites, 34 By number and by weight of euerie one, and all the weight was written at the same time.

35 Also the childre of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offred burnt offrings vnto the God of Israël, twelue bullockes for all Israël, ninetie and six rams, seuentie and seven lambes, and twelue he goates for sinne: all was a burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the Kings commifsion vnto the Kígs officers, & to the captaines beyonde the Riuer: and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

CHAP. IX.

1 Ezrá complaineth on the people that had turned them selues from God, and married with the Gentiles. 5 He praieth Vnto God.

1 WHEN <sup>a</sup> as these things were done, <sup>b</sup> rulers came to me, saying, The people of Israël, and the Priests and the Leuites are not <sup>a</sup> separated from the people of the lands (as touching their abominacions) to wit, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Iebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to them selues, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holy sede with the people of the lands, and the hád of the <sup>b</sup> princes & rulers hathe bene chief in this trespassse.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and pluckt of the heere of mine head, and of my beard, & sate downe <sup>c</sup> astonied.

4 And there assembled vnto me all that feared the wordes of the God of Israël, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie. And I sate downe astonied vntil the <sup>e</sup> euening sacrifice.

5 And at the euenig sacrifice I arose vp from mine heuines, & when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fel vpon my knees, and spred out mine hands vnto the Lord my God,

6 And said, O my God, I am cōfounded & ashamed, to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee my God: for our iniquities are increased ouer <sup>d</sup> our head, & our trespassse is growen vp vnto <sup>e</sup> the heauen.

7 From the dayes of our fathers haue we bene in a great trespassse vnto this day, & for our iniquities haue we, our Kings, and our Priests bene deliuered into the hand of <sup>f</sup> Kings of the lands, vnto the sworde, into captiuitie, into a spoyle, and into cōfusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a litle space grace hathe bene shewed from the Lord our God, in causing a remnant to escape, & in giuing vs a <sup>f</sup> nayle in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, & giue vs a litle reuiuing in our seruitude.

9 For though we were bōdemen, yet our God hathe not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hathe enclined mercie vnto vs in the sight of the Kings of Persia, to giue vs life, and to erect the house of our God, and to redresse the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iudáh and in Ierusalem.

10 And now, our God, what shal we say after this? for we haue forsaken thy commandments.

15 O Lord God of Israēl, thou art iuste, for we haue bene h referued to escape, as appeareth this day: beholde, we are before thee in our trespasses: therefore we cannot stand before thee because of it.

CHAP. X.

1 The people repent and turne, and put away their strange wiues.

1 W Hiles * Ezrá prayed thus, & a confessed him selfe weping, and falling downe before y house of God, there assembled vnto him of Israēl a very great Congregation of men and women & children: for the people wept with a great lamentacion.

2 Then Shechaniáh the sonne of Iehiél one of the sonnes of Elám, answered, and said to Ezrá, We haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wiues of the people of the land, yet now there is b hope in Israēl concerning this.

3 Now therefore let vs make a couenant with our God, to put away c all the wiues (and suche as are borne of them) according to the counsel of the Lord, and of those that feare the commandements of our God, and let it be done according to the Law.

4 Arise: for the matter d belongeth vnto thee: we also wil be with thee: be of comforte and do it.

5 ¶ Then arose Ezrá, and caused the chief Priests, the Leuites, & all Israēl, to sweare that they wolde do according to this worde. So they sware.

6 * And Ezrá rose vp from before the house of God, and went into the chambre of Iohanán the sonne of Eliašhib: he went euen thither, but he did eat nether bread, nor dronke water: for he mourned, because of the trasgression of the of the captiuitie.

7 And they caused a proclamacion to go throughout Iudáh and Ierusalém, vnto * all them of the captiuitie, that they shulde assemble them selues vnto Ierusalém.

8 And whosoever wolde not come within thre dayes according to the counsel of the princes and Elders, all his substance shulde be e forfrait, & he shulde be separate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Iudáh & Beniamín assembled them selues vnto Ierusalém within thre dayes, which was the twētieth day of the e ninte moneth, and all the people sate in the strete of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the f raine.

10 And Ezrá the Priest stode vp, and said vnto them, Ye haue transgressed, and haue taken strange wiues, to s increase the trespassse of Israēl.

11 Now therefore h giue praise vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his wil and separate your selues from the people of the land, & from the strange wiues.

12 And all the Congregation answered, & said with a loude voyce, So wil we do according to thy wordes vnto vs.

13 But the people are many, and it is a raynie wether, and we are not able to stand without, neither is it the worke of one day or two: for we are many that haue offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers stand therefore i before all the Congregation, and let all them which haue taken strange wiues in our cities, come at the time appointed, and with them the Elders of euerie citie and the iudges thereof, til the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

15 Then were appointed Ionathán the sonne of Asah-él, and Lahaziáh the sonne of Tikuáh ouer this matter, and Meshullám and Shabbethái the Leuites helped them.

16 And thei of the captiuitie did so, and k departed, euen Ezrá the Priest, & the mē that were chief fathers to the familie of their fathers by name, and sate downe in the first daye of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

17 And vntil the first day of y first moneth they were finishing the busines with all the men that had taken strange wiues, 18 And of the sonnes of the Priests there were men founde, that had taken strange wiues, to wit, of the sonnes of Ieshúa, the sonne of Iozadák, & of his brethren, Maa-seiáh, A Eliézer, and Iarib and Gedaliáh.

NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God doeth in all ages and at all times set vp worthy persones for the commoditie and profite of his Church, as now within the compasse of seuentie yeres he raised vp diuers excellent men for the preservation of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zerubbabél, Ezra, and Nehemiáh. Whereof the first was their captaine to bring them home, and provided that the Temple was buylded: the seconde reformed their maners and planted religion: & the third buylded vp the walles, deliuered the people from oppression, and provided that the Law of God was put in execution among them. He was a godlie man and in great autoritie with the King, so that the King fauoured him greatly, and gaue him moste ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which he colde desire. This booke is also called of the latins the seconde of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

1 Nehemiáh bewaileth the calamitie of Ierusalém. 5 He confesseth the sinnes of the people, & prayeth God for them.

He wordes of Nehemiáh the sonne of Hachaliáh, in the moneth <sup>a</sup> Chisleu, in the twentieth yere, as I was in the palace of Shushán,

2 Came Hanáni, one of my <sup>b</sup> brethren, he & the men of Iudáh, and I asked them concerning the Iewes that were deliuered, which were of the residue of <sup>c</sup> captiuitie, and concerning Ierusalém.

3 And they said vnto me, The residue that are left of the captiuitie there in the prouince, are in great affliction and in reproche, and the wall of Ierusalém is broken downe, & the gates thereof are burnt with fyre.

4 And when I heard these wordes, I sate downe and wept, and mourned certeine dayes, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen,

5 And said, <sup>dan. 9. 4.</sup> O Lord God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that kepeth covenant and mercie for them that loue him, and obserue his commandements,

6 I pray thee, let thine eares be attent, and thine eyes open, to heare the prayer of thy seruant, which I pray before thee daily, day & night for the children of Israél thy seruants, & confesse the sinnes of the children of Israél, which we haue sinned against thee, bothe I & my fathers house haue sinned:

<sup>9</sup> But if ye turne vnto me, and kepe my commandements, and do them, though your ſcattering were to the vttermoſt parte of the heauē, yet wil I gather you from thēce and wil bring you vnto the place that I haue choſen, to place my Name there.

<sup>11</sup> O Lord, I beſeeche thee, let thine care now hearken to the prayer of thy ſeruant, and to the prayer of thy ſeruants, who deſire to<sup>d</sup> feare thy Name, and, I pray thee, cauſe thy ſeruant to proſper this day, and giue him fauour in the preſence of<sup>e</sup> this man: for I was the Kings butler.

CHAP. II.

<sup>3</sup> And I ſaid to the King, God ſaue the King for euer: why ſhulde not my countenance be ſad, when the citie & houſe of ſepulchres of my fathers lieth waſte & the gates thereof are deuoured with fyre?

<sup>5</sup> And ſaid vnto the King, If it pleaſe the King, and if thy ſeruant haue founde fauour in thy ſight, I deſire that thou woldeſt ſend me to Iudaáh vnto the citie of the ſepulchres of my fathers, that I may buylde it.

<sup>6</sup> And the King ſaid vnto me, (the quene alſo ſitting by him) How long ſhal thy journey be? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleaſed the King, and he ſent me, and I ſet him a time.

<sup>8</sup> And letters vnto Aſaph the keeper of the Kings<sup>i</sup> parke, that he may giue me timber to buylde the gates of the palace (which appertained to the houſe) & for the walles of the citie, and for the houſe that I ſhal entre into. And the King gaue me according to<sup>d</sup> the good hand of my God vpon me.

<sup>or, paradiſe.</sup>

<sup>9</sup> ¶ Then came I to the captaines beyonde the Riuer, & gaue them the Kings letters. And the King had ſent captaines of the armie and horſmen with me.

<sup>e</sup> Theſe were great enemies to the Iewes, & labored alwaies both by force & ſubtiltie to ouercome them, & Tobiah becauſe his wife was a Iewiſſe, had aduerſement euer of their affaires and ſo wrought them great trouble.

<sup>12</sup> And I roſe in the night, I, and a few men: for I tolde no man, what God had put in mine heart to do at Ieruſalém, and there was not a beaſt with me, ſaue the beaſt whereon I rode.

<sup>13</sup> And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the draggon well, and to the dung porte, and vewed the walles of Ieruſalém, how they were broken downe, and the portes thereof deuoured with the fyre.

<sup>16</sup> And the rulers knewe not whether I was gone, nor what I did, nether did I as yet tel it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the reſt that laboured in the worke.

<sup>17</sup> Afterward I ſaid vnto them, Ye ſee the miſerie that we are in, how Ieruſalém lieth waſte, and the gates thereof are burnt with fyre: come and let vs buylde the wall of Ieruſalém, that we be no more<sup>g</sup> a reproche.

<sup>18</sup> Then I tolde them of the hand of my God, (which was good ouer me) and alſo of the Kings wordes that he had ſpoken vnto me. And they ſaid, Let vs riſe, & buylde. So they ſtrengthened their hand to good.

<sup>i</sup> Thus I wroked when they wil burthen the children of God, euer by treaſon vnto their charge, both becauſe it waketh the more odious to the world, & alſo becauſe of hatred of prieces more againſt them.

<sup>20</sup> Then answered I them, and ſaid to thē, The God of heauen, he wil proſper vs, &

The number of them that buylded the walles.

Then arose Eliashib the hie Priest with his brethren the Priests, & they buylt the shepegate: thei <sup>a</sup> repaired it, & set vp the dores thereof: euen vnto the towre of Meáh repaired they it, & vnto the towre of Hananeél.

<sup>3</sup> But the fish porte did the sonnes of Senaah buylde, which also layed the beames thereof, and set on the dores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

<sup>16</sup> After him fortified Nehemiáh the sonne of Azbúk, the ruler of the halfe parte of Beth-zúr, vntil the other side ouer against the sepulchres of Dauid, and to the fishpoole that was repaired, and vnto the house of the mightie.

<sup>25</sup> Palál, the sonne of Vzái, from ouer against the corner, and the high towre, that lyeth out from the Kings house, which is beside the courte of the prison. After him, Pedaiáh, the sonne of Parósh.

CHAP. IIIII.

7 The buylding of Ierusalém is hindred, 15 But God breaketh their enterprise. 17 The Iewes buylde with one hand, and holde their weapons in the other.

1 BVt when Sanballát heard that we buylded the wall, then was he wroth and foregriued, and mocked the Iewes,

2 And said before his <sup>a</sup> brethren and the armie of Samaria, thus he said, What do these <sup>b</sup> weake Iewes? wil they fortifie the selues? wil thei sacrifice? wil thei finish it in a day? wil they make the stones whole againē out of y heapes of dust, seing they are burnt?

3 And Tobiáh the Ammonite <sup>c</sup> was beside him, and said, Although they buylde, yet if a foxe go vp, he shal euen breake downe their stony wall.

4 <sup>e</sup> Heare, o our God (for we are despised) and turne their shame vpon their owne head, and giue them vnto a pray <sup>d</sup> in the land of their captiuitie,

5 And couer not their <sup>e</sup> iniquitie, nether let their sinne be put out in thy presence: for thei haue prouoked vs before the buylders.

6 So we buylt the wall, and all the wall was ioyned vnto the <sup>e</sup> halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 ¶ But when Sanballát, and Tobiáh, & the Arabians, and the Ammonites, & the Ashdodims heard that the walles of Ierusalém were repared, (for the breaches begā to be stopped) then thei were verie wroth,

8 And conspired altogether to come and to fight agāst Ierusalém, & to <sup>e</sup> hinder the.

9 Then we prayed vnto our God, and set watchemen by them, day & night, because of them.

10 And Iudáh said, The strength of y bearers is weakened, and there is muchē earth, so that we are not able to buylde the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had said, Thei shal not knowe, nether se, til we come into the middles of them and slaye them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they tolde vs <sup>e</sup> ten times, & Fro all places whence ye shal returne, they wil be vpon vs.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places be-hinde the wall vpon y toppes of the stones, & placed y people by their families, with their swordes, their speares & their bowes, 14 Then I beheld, and rose vp, & said vnto the princes, & to the rulers, & to the rest of the people, Be not afraied of them: <sup>h</sup> remēber the great Lord, & feareful, & fight for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wiues, and your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was knownē vnto vs, then God broght their counsel to noght, & we turned all againē to the wall, euerie one vnto his worke.

16 And frō that day, halfe of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe parte of them helde the speares, and shields, & bowes, and habergins: and the rulers stode
i behinde all the house of Iudáh.

17 They that buylded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, & they that laded, did the worke with one hand, & with the other helde the sword.

18 For euerie one of the buylders had his sworde girde on his loynes, & so buylded:
& he that blewe the trūpet, was beside me.

19 Then said I vnto the princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, and we are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

20 In what place <sup>e</sup> therefore ye heare the sōūd of the trumpet, <sup>k</sup> resorte ye thither vnto vs: our God shal fight for vs.

21 So we laboured in the worke, and halfe of them helde the speares, from the appearing of the morning, til the starres came forthe.

22 And at the same time said I vnto the people, Let euerie one with his seruānt lodge within Ierusalém, that they may be a watche for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So nether I, nor my brethren, nor my ser-uants, nor the mē of the warde, (which followed me) none of vs did put of our clothes, saue euerie one put them of <sup>l</sup> for wasshing.

CHAP. V.

our lands, & our vineyardes, & our houses and take vp corne for the famine.

4 There were also that said, We haue borrowed money for the Kings tribute vpon our lands and our vineyardes.

5 And now our flesh is as <sup>a</sup> the flesh of our brethré, & our sonnes as their sonnes: and lo, we bring into subiection our sonnes, and our daughters, as seruáts, and there be of our daughters now in subiection, and there is no power <sup>e</sup> in our hands: for other mé haue our láds & our vineyardes.

6 Then was I very angrie when I heard their crye and these wordes.

7 And I thoght in my minde, and I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and said vnto them, You laie <sup>f</sup> burdens euerie one vpon his brethren: and I set a great <sup>g</sup> assemblie against them,

8 And I said vnto them, We (according to our abilitie) haue redemed our brethren the Iewes, which were solde vnto the heathen: and wil you sell your brethren againe, or shal they be <sup>h</sup> solde vnto vs? Then helde they their peace, and colde not answer.

9 I said also, That which ye do, is not good. Oght ye not to walke in the feare of our God, for the <sup>k</sup> reproche of the heathen our enemies?

10 For euen I, my brethren, and my seruáts do lend them money & corne: I pray you, let vs leaue of this burden.

11 Restore, I pray you, vnto them this day their lands, their vineyardes, their oliues, and their houses, and remitte the hundreth parte of the siluer and of the corne, of the wine, & of the oyle <sup>l</sup> that ye exact of the.

12 Then said they, We wil restore it, and wil not require it of them: we wil do as thou hast said. Then I called the Priests, & caused them to sweare, that they shulde do according to this promes.

13 So I shooke my lappe, & said, So let God shake out euerie man that wil not performe this promes from his house, and from his labour: euen thus let him be shake out, and emptied. And all the Congregation said, Amen, and praised the Lord: and the people did according to this promes.

14 And fró the time that <sup>the</sup> King gaue me charge to be gouernour in the land of Iudáh from the twentieth yere, eué vnto the two and thirtieth yere of King Artahsháste, that is, twelue yere, I, and my brethré haue not eaté the <sup>m</sup> bread of <sup>y</sup> gouernour.

15 For the former gouernours that were before me, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides fourtie shekels of siluer: yea, and their seruants bare rule ouer the people: but so did not I, because of the feare of God.

16 But rather I fortified <sup>a</sup> a portion in the worke of this wall, and we bought no land, and all my seruants came thether together vnto the worke.

17 Moreouer there were at my table an hundred and fiftie of the Iewes, and rulers, which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared daiely an ox, & six chosen shepe, & birdes were prepared for me, and <sup>e</sup> within ten dayes wine for all <sup>n</sup> in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grieuous vnto this people.

19 Remember me, O my God, in goodnes, according to all that I haue done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

1 And when Sanballát, and Tobiáh, & Géshe the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had buylt <sup>y</sup> wall, & that there were no mo <sup>a</sup> breaches therein (thogh at that time I had not set vp the dores vpon the gates)

2 Thē sent Sanballát and Géshe vnto me, saying, Come thou that we may mete together in the villages in the plaine of Onó: and they thoght to do me euil.

3 Therefore I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great worke to do, & I can not come downe: <sup>b</sup> why shulde the worke cease, whiles I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Yet they sent vnto me foure times after this sorte. And I answered them after the same maner.

5 Then sent Sanballát his seruant after this sorte vnto me the fift time, with an open letter in his hand,

6 Wherein was writé, It is reported among the heathen, and <sup>e</sup> Gashmú hathe said it, that thou and the Iewes thinke to rebell, for the which cause thou buyldest the wall and thou wilt be their King according to these <sup>c</sup> wordes.

7 Thou hast also ordeined <sup>d</sup> the Prophetes to preache of thee at Ierusalém, sayig, There is a King in Iudáh: and now according to these wordes it shal come to the Kings eares: come now therefore, and let vs take counsel together.

8 Thē I sent vnto him, saying, It is not done according to these wordes <sup>y</sup> thou sayest: for thou faintest them of thine owne heart.

9 For all thei afraied vs, saying, Their háds shal be weakened fró <sup>y</sup> worke, & it shal not be done: now therefore <sup>e</sup> incourage <sup>y</sup> me.

10 And I came to the house of Shemaiáh <sup>y</sup> sone of Delaiáh the sone of Mehetabeél, & he was <sup>e</sup> shut vp, & he said, Let vs come Hh.ii.

<sup>g</sup> So he became they shulde be moued with pittie, seeing how manie were by them opprest, and also the iudgement of others, w<sup>h</sup> shulde be as it were witness of their dealing toward their brethré.

<sup>n</sup> I receiued not that portion, and diet, which the gouernours, that were before me, exacted: wherein he declareth that he rather sought wealth of the people, then his owne commoditie.

<sup>b</sup> Meaning, if he shulde obey their request, the worke, which God had appointed, shulde cease: shewing hereby that we shulde not commit our selues to the háds of the wicked.

<sup>g</sup> As though he wolde be secrete to the intent that he might pray vnto God with greater libertie, and receiue some reuelation, which in him was but hypocricie.

<sup>f</sup> He doubted not but God was able to preserve him, & knewe that, if he had obeyed this counsel, he shuld haue discouraged all the people: thus God giueth power to his, so resist false prophetes though they seme to haue neuer so great probabilitye.

<sup>g</sup> Very griefe caused him to pray against such, which vnder the presence of being the ministers of God, were aduersaries to his glorie, and went about to ouerthrow his Church, declaring also hereby that where there is one true minister of God, y<sup>e</sup> deuill hathe a great sorte of hierlings.

together into y<sup>e</sup> house of God in the middes of the Tēple, and shut the dores of the Temple: for they wil come to slay thee: yea, in y<sup>e</sup> night wil they come to kil thee.

<sup>11</sup> Then I said, <sup>f</sup> Shulde suche a man as I, flee? Who is he, being as I am, that wolde go into the Temple to liue? I wil not go in.

<sup>12</sup> And lo, I perceiued, that God had not sent him, but that he pronouced this prophecie against me: for Tobiáh and Sanballát had hyred him.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore was he hyred, that I might be afrayed, and do thus, and sinne, and that they might haue an euil reporte that they might reproche me.

<sup>14</sup> My God, remember thou Tobiáh, and Sanballát according vnto these their workes, and Noadiáh the <sup>g</sup> Prophetesse also, and the rest of the Prophetes that wolde haue put me in feare.

<sup>18</sup> For there <sup>j</sup> were manie in Iudáh, that were sworne vnto him: for he was the sonne in law of Shechaniáh, the sonne of Aráh: & his sonne Iehonathan had the daughter of Meshullám, the sonne of Berechiáh.

CHAP. VII.

<sup>3</sup> Now when the wall was buylded, & I had set vp the dores, and the porters, and the singers and the Leuites were appointed,

<sup>4</sup> Then I commanded my brother Hanáni and Hananiáh the prince of the palace in Ierusalém (for he was doutles a faithful man, and feared God aboue manie)

<sup>6</sup> Now the citie was large and great, but the people were fewe therein, and the houses were not buylded.

<sup>7</sup> And my God put into mine heart, and I gathered the princes, and the rulers, & the people, to counte their genealogies: and I founde a boke of the genealogie of them, <sup>c</sup> which came vp at the first, and founde <sup>d</sup> written therein,

60 All the Nethinims, and the sonnes of Salomons seruants were thre húdreth, ninetie and two.

61 ¶ And these came vp from Tel-meláh, Tel-harehá, Cherúb, Addón, and Immér: but thei colde not shew their fathers house, nor their sede, or if they were of Israél.

62 The sonnes of Delaiáh: the sonnes of Tobiáh, the sonnes of Nekodá, six hundreth and two and fourtie.

63 And of the Priests: the sonnes of Habaíáh, the sonnes of Hakkóz, the sonnes of Barzillái, which toke one of the daughters of Barzillái the Giliadite to wife, & was named after their name.

64 These fought their writing of the genealogies, but it was not founde: therefore they were put from the Priesthode.

65 And the Tirshátha said vnto the, that they shulde not eat of the most holy, til there rose vp a Priest with *Vrim and Thummím.

66 All the Congregation together was two and fourtie thousand, thre hundreth and threscore, 67 Besides their seruants and their maids, which were seven thousand, thre húdreth and seven and thirtie: and they had two hundreth and fyue and fourtie singing men and singing women.

1 AND all the people assembled them selues together, in y<sup>e</sup> streat that was before the watergate, and they spake vnto Ezra the scribe, that he wolde bring the booke of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israél.

2 And Ezra the Priest broght the Law before the Congregation bothe of men and women, and of all that colde heare and vnderstand it, in the first day of the seuent moneth,

3 And he red therein in the streat that was before the watergate (from the morning vntil the midday) before men and women, and of them that vnderstode it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto
the booke of the Law.

4 And Ezra the scribe stode vpon a pulpit of wood, which he had made for the preaching, & beside him stode Mattithiáh, and Shéma, and Ananiáh, and Vriiáh, & Hilkiáh, and Maaseiáh on his right hād, and on his left hand Pedaiáh, & Mishnāel, and Malchiáh, and Hashúm, and Hashbadána, Zechariáh, and Meshullám.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for he was d aboue all the people:
and when he opened it, all the people stode vp.

6 And Ezra praised y<sup>e</sup> Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amē, with lifting vp their hāds: & they bowed them selues, and worshiped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Ieshúa, and Bani, and Sherebiáh, Iamín, Akkúb, Shabbethái, Hodiiáh, Maaseiáh, Kelitá, Azariáh, Iozabád, Hanán, Pe-laiáh, & the Leuites caused the people to vnderstand the Law, and the people stode in their place.

8 And they red in the booke of the Law of God distinctly and gaue the sense, & caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiáh (which is Tirshátha) and Ezra the Priest & scribe, and the Le-uites that instructed the people, said vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord your God: mourne not, nether wepe:
for all the people e wept, whē they heard the wordes of the Law.

10 He said also vnto them, Go, and eat of the fat, & drinke the swete, and send parte vnto them, for whome none f prepared:
for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not sory therefore: for the g ioye of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Leuites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Holde your peace: for y<sup>e</sup> day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eat and to drinke, and to send away parte, & to make great ioye, because they had vnderstand the wordes that they had taught them.

13 And on the secōde day the chief fathers of all the people, the Priests and the Leui-tes were gathered vnto Ezra the scribe, that he also might instruct them in the wordes of the Law.

14 And thei founde writē in the Law, (that the Lord had commanded by Moses) that the childrē of Israél shulde dwell in bootes in the feast of the seuent moneth,

15 And that thei shulde cause it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Ierusalém, saying, Go forth vnto the mount, and bring oliuebranches, and pinebranches, and branches of myrtus, and palmebranches, and branches of thicke trees, to make bootes, as it is written.

16 So the people went forth and broght h
& made them bootes, euerie one vpon the h rose of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, & in the strete by the watergate, and in the strete of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the Cōgregation of them y<sup>e</sup> were come againe out of the captiuitie, made bootes, & sate vnder the bootes: for since the time of Ieshúa the sonne of Nun i vnto this day, had not the children of Is-raél done so, & there was very great ioye.

18 And he red in the booke of the Law of God euerie day, from the first daye vnto the last daye. And thei kept the feast seuen dayes, & on the eight daye a solēne assemblie, according vnto the maner.

CHAP. IX.

them praise thy glorious Name, o God, w<sup>h</sup> excelleth aboue all thánks giuing & praise.

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their hoste, the earth, and all thîgs that are therein, the seas, & all that are in thê, and thou preseruest them all, and the hoste of the heauen worshipeth thee.

7 Thou art, o Lord, the God, that hast chosen Abrám, & broghest him out of * Vr in Caldea * and madest his name Abrahám,

8 And foundest his heart faithful before thee, * and madest a couenant with him, to giue vnto his sede the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, & Perizzites, & Iebusites, and Girgashites, and hast performed thy wordes, because thou art iust.

9 * Thou hast also considered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their crye by the red Sea,

10 And shewed tokens and wonders vpon Pharaóh, and on all his seruants, & on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that thei dealt proudly agáist thê: therefore thou madest thee a Name, as appeareth this day.

11 * For thou didest breake vp the Sea before them, and they went through the middes of the Sea on drye lād: and those that pursued them, hast thou cast into the bottoms as a stone, in the mightie waters:

12 And * leddest thê in the daye with a pillar of a cloude, & in the night with a pillar of fyre to giue them light in the way that thei went.

13 * Thou camest downe also vpon mount Sinái, and spakest vnto them from heauen, & gauest them right iudgements, & true lawes, ordināces & good commandemēts,

14 And declaredst vnto thê thine holy Sabbath, and commandedst them precepts, & ordinances, and laws, by the hand of Moyses thy seruant:

15 * And gauest them bread from heauen for their hungre, * & broghest forth the water for them out of the rocke for their thirst: * & promisedst them that thei shulde goin, & take possession of the land: for the which thou haddest lift vp thine hand for to giue them.

16 But thei and our fathers behaued them selues proudly and hardened their necke, so that they hearkened not vnto thy commandements,

17 But refused to obey, and wolde not remember thy maruelous workes that thou hadest done for them, but hardened their neckes and had in their heades to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, o God of mercies, gracious and ful of compassion, of long suffering and of great mercie, yet forsokest them not.

18 Moreouer when they made them a moltē calfe (and said, This is thy god y broght thee vp out of the land of Egypt) & committed great blasphemies, 19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forsokest them not in the wildernes: * the pillar of the cloude departed not from them by day to lead them the way, nether the pillar of fyre by night, to shewe them light, & the way whereby they shulde go.

20 Thou gauest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, & withheldest not thy M A N from their mouth, and gauest them water for their thirst.

21 Thou didest also fede thê fourtie yeres in y wildernes: thei lacked nothîg: * their clothes waxed not olde, and their fete c swelled not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdomes and people, and d scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed * the land of Sihón and the land of the King of Heshbón, & the land of Og King of Bashán.

23 And thou didest multiplie their childrē, like the starres of the heauen, & broghest them into the lād, whereof thou hadest spoken vnto their fathers, that they shulde go, and possesse it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, euen the Canaanites, and gauest them into their hāds, with their Kings and the people of the land, that they might do with them what they wolde.

25 And they toke their strōg cities and the fat land, and possessed houses, full of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyardes, & oliues, and trees for fode in abundance, and they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, & liued in pleasure through thy great goodnes.

26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled agáist thee, & cast thy Law behinde their backes & slewe thy Prophetes (which e protested among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliueredst them into the hand of their enemies that vexed thê: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from the heauen, and through thy great mercies thou gauest them sauours, who saued them out of the hand of their aduersaries.

28 But when they had f rest, they returned to do euil before thee: therefore ledest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that thei had the dominion ouer them, yet when they conuerted and cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from heauen, and deliueredst them according to thy great mercies many times,

29 And protestedst among them that thou mightest bring the againe vnto thy Law: but they behaued them selues proudly, and hearkened not vnto thy commandements, but sinned against thy iudgements (* which a man shulde do and liue in them ) and pulled away the shuldre, and were stifnecked, and wolde not heare.

m That is, to be the lords thereof.

n Thus by affliction they promise to keepe Gods commandements, whereunto they coulde not be brought by Gods great benedictions.

o Or, builder.

30 Yet thou didest forbear them many yerres, and protestedst among them by thy Spirit, euen by the hand of thy Prophetes, but they wolde not heare: therefore gauest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Yet for thy great mercies, thou hast not consumed them, nether forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

32 Now therefore our God, * thou great God, mightie and terrible, that kepest couenant and * mercie, let not all the affliction that hath come vnto vs, seme a little before thee, that is, to our Kings, to our princes, & to our Priests, and to our Prophetes and to our fathers, & to all thy people since the time of the Kings of Asshur vnto this day.

33 Surely thou art iust in all that is come vpon vs: for thou * hast delt truely, but we haue done wickedly.

34 And our Kings and our princes, our Priests and our fathers haue not done thy Law, nor regarded thy commandements nor thy protestatiōs, wherewith thou hast protested among them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnes that thou shewedst vnto them, and in the large and fat land which thou settest before them, and haue not conuerted from their euil workes.

36 Beholde, we are seruants this day, & the lād that thou gauest vnto our fathers, to eate the m frute thereof, and the goodnes thereof, beholde, we are seruants therein.

37 And it yeldeth muche frute vnto y Kings whome thou hast set ouer vs, because of our finnes: and they haue dominion ouer our bodies and ouer our cattel at their pleasure, and we are in great affliction.

38 Now because of all this we make a sure couenāt, and write it, and our princes, our Leuites and our Priests seale vnto it.

39 For the children of Israël, and the children of Leui shal bring vp the offrings of the corne, of the wine, & of the oyle, vnto the chambers: and there shal be the vessels of the Sanctuarie, and the Priests that minister, and the porters, and the singers, and <sup>k</sup> we wil not forsake the house of our God.

CHAP. XI.

Who dwelled in Ierusalem after it was builded, 21 And who in the cities of Iudáh.

1 AND the rulers of the people dwelt in Ierusalem: the other people also cast lottes, <sup>a</sup> to bring one out of ten to dwel in Ierusalem the holy citie, and nine partes to be in the cities.

2 And the people thanked all the men that were willing to dwel in Ierusalem.

3 These now are the chief of the prouince, that dwelt in Ierusalem, but in <sup>y</sup> cities of Iudáh, euerie one dwelt in his owne possession in their cities of Israël, the Priests and the Leuites, and the Nethinims, & the sonnes of Salomons seruants.

4 And in Ierusalem dwelt certaine of the childre of Iudáh, & of the childre of Beniamín. Of the sonnes of Iudáh, Athaiáh, the sonne of Vziah, the sonne of Zechariáh, the sonne of Amariáh, the sonne of Shephatiáh, the sonne of Mahaleel, of the sonnes of <sup>b</sup> Pérez,

5 And Maaseiáh the sonne of Barúch, the sonne of Col Hozéh, the sonne of Hazaiáh, the sonne of Adaiáh, the sonne of Ioarib, <sup>y</sup> sonne of Zechariáh, the sonne of Shiloni.

6 All the sonnes of Pérez that dwelt at Ierusalem, were foure hundreth, thre score and eight valiant men.

7 These also are the sonnes of Beniamín, Sallú, the sonne of Meshullám, the sonne of Ioéd, the sonne of Pedaiáh, the sonne of Kolaiáh, the sonne of Maaseiáh, the sonne of Ichiél, the sonne of Teshaiáh.

8 And after him Gabái, Sallái, nine hundreth and twentie and eight.

9 And Ioél the sonne of Zichri was gouernour ouer them: and Iudáh, the sonne of Senuáh was the seconde ouer the citie:

10 Of the Priests, Iedaiáh, the sonne of Ioarib, Iachín.

11 Seraiáh, the sonne of Hilkiáh, the sonne of Meshullám, the sonne of Zadók, the sonne of Meraióth, the sonne of Ahitúb <sup>c</sup> was chief of the house of God.

12 And their brethren <sup>d</sup> that did the worke in the Temple, were eight hundreth, twentie and two: and Adaiáh, the sonne of Ierohám, the sonne of Pelaiáh, the sonne of Amzi, the sonne of Zechariáh, the sonne of Pashúr, the sonne of Malchiáh:

13 And his brethren, chief of the fathers, two hundreth and two and fourtie: and Amashsái the sonne of Azareél, the sonne of Ahazái, the sonne of Meshilemóth, the sonne of Immér:

14 And their brethren valiant men, an hundreth & eight & twentie: and their ouerseer was Zabdiél the sonne of Hagedolím.

15 And of the Leuites Shemaiáh, the sonne of Hashúb, the sonne of Azrikám, the sonne of Hashabiáh, the sonne of Bunní.

16 And Shabbethái, and Iozabád of the chief of the Leuites were ouer the workes of the house of God without.

17 And Mattaniáh, the sonne of Michá, the sonne of Zabdí, the sonne of Afáph <sup>e</sup> was the chief to <sup>e</sup> begin the thanksgiving & prayer: and Bakbukiáh the seconde of his brethren, and Abdá, the sonne of Shammúa, the sonne of Galál, the sonne of Ieduthún.

18 All the Leuites in the holy citie were two hundreth foure score & foure.

19 And <sup>y</sup> porters Akkúb, Talmón & their brethren that kept the <sup>f</sup> gates were an hundreth twentie & two.

20 And the residue of Israël, of <sup>y</sup> Priests, & of the Leuites dwelt in all the cities of Iudáh, euerie one in his inheritance.

21 And the Nethinims dwelt in the fortres, & Zihá, & Gispá was ouer the Nethinims.

h By this rehearsal is met that there was no parte nor ceremonie in the Law, wherein thei did not binde the felous by commandment.

i Wherefore we labour, or traueled, there the tithes were due vnto the Lord bothe by the Law and according to the other & commandment that we made.

29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933

24 And Pethahiah <sup>a</sup> sonne of Meshezabeél, of the sonnes of Zerah, the sonne of Iudáh <sup>b</sup> was at the Kings hand in all matters concerning the people.

25 And in the villages in their lands, <sup>c</sup> some of the children of Iudáh dwelt in Kiriath-arbá, and in the villages thereof, and in Dibón, and in the villages thereof, and in Iekabzeél, and in the villages thereof,

26 And in Ieshúa, and in Moladá, and in Beth-páler,

27 And in Hazér-shuál, and in Beer-sheba, and in the villages thereof,

28 And in Ziklág, and in Mechonáh, and in the villages thereof,

29 And in En-rimmón, & in Zareáh, and in Iarmúth,

30 Zanóah, Adullám, and in their villages, in Lachísh, and in the fields thereof, at Azekáh, & in the villages thereof: and they dwelt from Beer-sheba vnto the valley of Hinnóm.

31 And the sonnes of Béiamín from Géba, in Michmáh, & Aiiá, & Beth-él, & in the villages thereof,

33 Hazór, Ramáh, Gittáim,

34 Hadíd, Zeboím, Nabalár,

35 Lod & Onó, in the carpenters valley.

36 And of the Levites were diuisions in Iudáh and in Beniamín.

CHAP. XII.

<sup>a</sup> The Priests and Levites, which came with Zerubbabél vnto Ierusalém, are nombred, 27 And the wall is dedicated.

2 Amariáh, Mallúch, Hattúsh,

3 Shecaniáh, Rehum, Merimóth,

4 Iddó, Ginnethó, Abiáh,

5 Miamín, Maadiáh, Bilgáh,

6 Shemaiáh, & Ioiarib, Iedaiáh,

7 Sallú, Amók, Hilkiráh, Iedaiáh: these were the <sup>b</sup> chief of the Priests, & of their brethren in the daies of Ieshúa.

8 And the Levites, Ieshúa, Binnúi, Kadmiél, Sherebiáh, Iudáh, Mattaniáh <sup>c</sup> were ouer the thankesgiuings, he, & his brethren.

9 And Bakbukiáh and Vnní, & their brethren were about them in the <sup>d</sup> watches.

10 And Ieshúa begate Ioiakím: Ioiakím also begate Eliashib, & Eliashib begate Ioiadá.

11 And Ioiadá begate Ionathán, & Ionathán begate Iaddúa.

12 And in the daies of Ioiakím were these, the chief fathers of the Priests: vnder <sup>e</sup> Seraiáh was Meraiáh, vnder Ieremiáh, Hannaniáh,

13 Vnder Ezrá, Meshullám, vnder Amariáh, Iehohanán,

14 Vnder Melicú, Ionathán, vnder Shebaniáh, Ioséph,

15 Vnder Harím, Adná, vnder Meraióth, Helkái,

16 Vnder Iddó, Zechariáh, vnder Ginnithón, Meshullám, 20 Vnder Sallái, Kallái, vnder Amók, Eber,

21 Vnder Hilkiáh, Hashabiáh, vnder Iedaiáh, Nerthaneél.

22 In <sup>g</sup> daies of Eliashib, Ioiadá, & Iohanán and Iaddúa were the chief fathers of the Levites written, and the Priests in the reigne of Darius the Persian.

23 The sonnes of Leui, the chief fathers were written in the booke of the Chronicles euen vnto the daies of Iohanán the sonne of Eliashib.

24 And the chief of the Levites were Hashabiáh, Sherebiáh, and Ieshúa the sonne of Kadmiél, & their brethren about them to giue praise and thanks, according to the ordinance of Dauid the man of God, warde ouer & against warde.

25 Mattaniáh and Bakbukiáh, Obadiáh, Meshullám, Talmón and Akkúb were porters keeping the warde at the thresholdes of the gates.

26 These were in the daies of Ioiakím the sonne of Ieshúa, the sonne of Iozadák, & in the daies of Nehemiáh the captaine, & of Ezrá the Priest and scribe.

27 And in the dedicacion of the wall at Ierusalém they foght the Levites out of all their places to bring them to Ierusalém to kepe the dedicacion and gladnes, bothe with thankesgiuings and with songs, cymbales, viols and with harpes.

28 Then the <sup>h</sup> singers gathered them selues together bothe from the plaine countrey about Ierusalém, and from the villages of Netophathí, 29 And from the house of Gilgál, and out of the countreis of Géba, and Azmáuth: for the singers had buylt the villages rounde about Ierusalém.

30 And the Priests & Levites were purified, and clenfed the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 And <sup>i</sup> I broght vp the princes of Iudáh vpon the wall, & appointed two great companies to giue thanks, and the <sup>j</sup> one went on the right hand of the wall towarde the dung gate.

32 And after them went Hoshaiáh, & halfe of the princes of Iudáh,

33 And Azariáh, Ezrá and Meshullám,

34 Iudáh, Beniamín, and Shemaiáh, and Ieremiáh,

35 And of the Priests sonnes with trumpets, Zechariáh

CHAP. XIII.

Zechariáh the sonne of Ionathán, the sonne of Shemaiáh, the sonne of Mattaniáh, the sonne of Michaiáh, the sonne of Zaccúr, the sonne of Asaph.

<sup>38</sup> And the seconde companie of them that gaue thanks, went on the other side, and I after them, and the halfe of the people was vpon the wall, and vpon the towre of the furnaces euen vnto the broad wail.

<sup>39</sup> And vpon the gate of Ephraim, and vpon the olde gate, and vpon the fishgate, and the towre of Hananeel, and the towre of Meah, euen vnto the shepegate: and they stode in the gate of the warde.

<sup>40</sup> So stode the two companies (of them that gaue thanks) in the house of God, & I and the halfe of the rulers with me.

<sup>42</sup> And Maaseiáh, and Shemaiáh, & Eleazar, and Vzzi, and Iehohanan, and Malchiah, and Elam, & Ezer: and the singers sang loude, hauing Izrahiah which was the ouerseer.

<sup>43</sup> And the same day they offred great sacrifices and reioyced: for God had giuen them great ioye, so that bothe the women, and the children were ioyful: and the ioye of Ierusalém was heard farre of.

<sup>45</sup> And bothe the singers and the Leuites kept the warde of their God, & the warde of the purification according to the commandement of Dauid, and Salomón his sonne.

<sup>47</sup> And in the dayes of Zerubbabel, and in the dayes of Nehemiáh did all Israël giue porcions vnto the singers and porters, euerie day his porcion, and they gaue the holy things vnto the Leuites, and the Leuites gaue the holy things vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

<sup>1</sup> And on that day did they read in the booke of Moses, in the audieñce of the people, & it was founde writen therein, that the Ammonite, and the Moabite * shulde not enter into the Congregation of God,

<sup>3</sup> Now when they had heard the Law, they separated from Israël * all those that were mixed.

<sup>5</sup> And he had made him a great chamber & there had thei aforetime laid the offerings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tithes of corne, of wine, and of oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the singers, & the porters) and the offerings of the Priests.

<sup>6</sup> But in all this time was not kin Ierusalém: for in the two and thirtieth yere of Artahshastre King of Babel, came I vnto the King, and after certeine dayes I obtained of the King.

<sup>7</sup> And when I was come to Ierusalém, I vnderstode <sup>1</sup> euil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in that he had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God, <sup>8</sup> And it grieved me sore: therefore I cast forth all <sup>2</sup> the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

<sup>9</sup> And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: and thether brought I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meat offering and the incense.

<sup>10</sup> And I perceiued that the porcions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, and that euerie one was fled to his lad, euen the Leuites & singers that executed the worke.

<sup>11</sup> The reproveth I the rulers & said, Why is the house of God forsake? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

<sup>14</sup> Remember me, o my God, herein, and wipe not out my <sup>5</sup> kindenes that I haue shewed on the house of my God, and on the offices thereof.

b That the separation was made.

c He was ioynd in affinity with Tobiah the Ammonite, and enemye of the Iewes.

d Called also Darius, Bara 7.1. Or, at the yeres end.

e Thus we see to what inconveniences the people fall into, when they are defiaunt of one that hathe the fear of God, seeing that their chief gouernour was but awhile absent, and yet they fel into such great absurdities: as appeareth also, Exo. 32.1.

f He proceeth that he did his dutie with a good conscience, yet he doth not iustifie him selfe herein, but desireth God to honour him, and to be merciful vnto him for his owne goodnes sake, 23. ysaie 23.

g I declared vnto the, that God wolde not suffer such transgressours of his Law to be unpunished.

h Was not this a great cause, why God plagued vs in times past? meaning, that if they transgressed now in the same againe, their plague shulde be greater.

i About the time that the sunne went downe: for the Sabbath lasted from the sunne going downe of the one day, to the sunne setting of the other.

k Meaning, of the Temple that none, that was vnclane, shulde enue.

wine presses on the Sabbath, & that brought in sheaves, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figges and all burdens, and brought them into Ierusalem vpon the Sabbath day: and I protested to them in the day that they solde vitayles.

16 There dwelt men of Tyrus also therein, which brought fish and all wares, and solde on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudah euen in Ierusalem.

17 Then reprov'd I the rulers of Iudah, & said vnto them, What euil thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this citie? yet ye increase the wrath vpon Israel, in breaking the Sabbath?

19 And when the gates of Ierusalem began to be darke before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, and charged, that they shulde not be opened til after the Sabbath, and some of my seruants set I at the gates, that there shulde no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chapmen and marchants of all marchandise remained once or twise all night without Ierusalem.

21 And I protested among them, and said vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once againe, I wil lay hands vpon you. Fro that time came they nomore on the Sabbath.

22 ¶ And I said vnto the Leuites that they shulde cleanse them selues, and that they shulde come and keepe the gates, to sanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and pardone me according to thy great mercie.

23 In those dayes also I sawe Iewes that married wiues of Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

24 And their children spake halfe in the speache of Ashdod, & colde not speake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the one people, & of the other people.

25 Then I reprov'd them, and cursed them, and smote certeine of them, and pulled of their heere, & toke an othe of them by God, Ye shal not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, nether shal ye take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your selues.

26 * Did not Salomon the King of Israel sinne by these things? yet among manie nations was there no King like him: for he was beloued of his God, and God had made him King ouer Israel: yet strange women caused him to sinne.

27 * Shal we then obey vnto you, to do all this great euil, and to transgresse against our God, euen to marry strange wiues?

28 And one of the sonnes of Ioiada the sonne of Eliashib the hye Priest was the sonne in law of Sanballat the Horonite: but I chased him from me.

29 Remember them, O my God, that defile the Priesthode, and the couenant of the Priesthode, and of the Leuites.

30 Then clenfed I them from all strangers, and appointed the wardes of the Priests & of the Leuites, euerie one in his office, 31 And for the offering of the wood at times appointed, & for the first frutes. Remember me, O my God, in goodnes.

l Which was a citie of the Philistims, & they had married wiues thereof, and so had corrupted their speache, and religion.

m That is, I did excommunicate them, & drive the out of the Congregation.

p Punish the according to their fautes, & euil example, which they haue giuen to the rest of thy people, contrary to their vocation.

q That is, to shewe mercie vnto me.

THE ARGUMENT.

Because of the diuersitie of names, whereby they vsed to name their Kings, and the supposition of yerus, wherein the Ebrewes, and the Grecians do varie, diuers authors write diuersly as touching this Ahashuerosh, but it semeth Daniel 6, 1, and 9, 1, that he was Darius King of the Medes, and sonne of Astyages, called also Ahashuerosh, which was a name of honour, and signified great and chief, as chief head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God toward his Church: who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, he euer stirreth vp some, by whome he sendeth comfort, and deliuerance. Herein also is described the ambition, pride and cruelie of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their soeayn fall when they are at highest: and how God preserveth, and preferreth them which are zealous of his glorie, and haue a care and loue towards their brethren.

CHAP. I.

1 King Ahashuerósh maketh a royal feast, 10 Whereunto the Quene Vashti wil not come. 19 For which cause she is diuorced. 20 The Kings decree touching the preeminence of man.

In the dayes of <sup>a</sup> Ahashuerósh (this is Ahashuerósh that reigned, from India euen vnto Ethiopia, ouer an <sup>b</sup> húdreth, and seuen and twentie prouinces)

In those dayes when the King Ahashuerósh <sup>c</sup> sate on his throne, which was in the palace of <sup>d</sup> Shushán,

In the thirde yere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his princes and his seruáts, <sup>e</sup> euen the power of Persia and Media, and to the captaines and gouernours of the prouinces which were before him,

That he might shewe the riches & glorie of his kingdome, and the honour of his great maiestie manie dayes, <sup>f</sup> euen an húdreth and foure score dayes.

And when these dayes were expired, the King made a feast to all the people that were found in the palace of Shushán, bothe vnto great and small, seuen dayes, in the courte of the garden of the Kings palace,

Vnder an hanging of white, grene, and blew clothes, fastened with cordes of fine linen and purple, in siluer rings, and pillars of marble: the <sup>g</sup> beddes were of golde, and of siluer vpon a pauement of porphyre, and marble and alabaster, and blew colour.

And they gaue them drinke in vessels of golde, and changed vessel after vessel, and royal wine in abundance according to the <sup>h</sup> power of the King.

And the drinking was by an ordre, none might <sup>i</sup> compel: for so the King had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they shulde do according to euerie mans pleasure.

The Quene Vashti made a feast also for the womē in the royal house of King Ahashuerósh.

Vpon the <sup>j</sup> seuent day when the King was mery with wine, he commanded Memucán, Bizthá, Harboná, Bigthá, and Abagthá, Zethár, and Carcás, the seuen eunuches (that serued in the presence of King Ahashuerósh)

To bring Quene Vashti before the King with <sup>k</sup> y crown royal, that he might shewe the people and the princes her beautie: for she was faire to loke vpon.

But the Quene Vashti refused to come at the Kings worde, <sup>l</sup> which he had giuen in charge to the eunuches: therefore the King was very angrie, and his wrath kindled in him.

kindled in him.

Then the King said to the wise men, <sup>m</sup> that knewe the times (for so was the Kings maner towards all that knewe the lawe and the iudgement:

And the next vnto him was Carshená, Shethár, Admátha, Tarshísh, Méres, Marshená & Memucán the seuen princes of Persia and Media, which sawe the <sup>n</sup> Kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome)

What shal we do vnto <sup>o</sup> y Quene Vashti according to the lawe, because she did not according to the worde of the King Ahashuerósh by the commissiō of the eunuches?

Then Memucán answered before the King and the princes, The Quene Vashti hathe not onely done <sup>p</sup> euil against the King, but against all the princes, & against all the people that are in all the prouinces of King Ahashuerósh.

For the <sup>q</sup> acte of the Quene shal come abroad vnto all women, so that they shal despise their housbáds in their owne eies, and shal say, The King Ahashuerósh commanded Vashti the Quene to be brought in before him, but she came not.

So shal the <sup>r</sup> princeesses of Persia & Media this day say vnto all the Kings Princes, whē thei heare of the acte of the Quene: thus shal there be muche despitefulness and wrath.

If it please the King, let a royal decree procede from him, and let it be written among the statutes of Persia, and Media (and let it not be transgressed) that Vashti come <sup>s</sup> nomore before King Ahashuerósh: and let the King giue her royal estate vnto her companion that is better then she.

And when the decree of the King which shalbe made, shalbe published throughout all his kingdome (thogh it be <sup>t</sup> great) all the women shal giue their housbáds honour, bothe great and small.

And this saying pleased the King & the princes, & the King did according to the worde of Memucán.

For he sent litters into all the prouinces of the King, into euerie prouince according to the writig thereof, & to euerie people after their language, that euerie man shulde <sup>u</sup> beare rule in his owne house, and that he shulde publish it in the language of that same people.

CHAP. II.

After the Quene is put away, certaine yong maidens are brought to the King 14 Ester pleaseth the King, & is made Quene. 22 Mordacái discloseth vnto the King those that wolde betray him.

After these things, when the wrath of King Ahashuerósh was appeased, he remembered Vashti, & what she had do-

<sup>c</sup> The abuse of these contrails was so great, that they invented manie means to serue the lustes of princes, and therefore, as they ordeined wicked lawes that the King might haue whole daughters he wolde, so they had diuers houses appointed, as one for them, whiles they were virgines, another where they were concubines, & for the Quenes another.

2 And the Kings seruants that ministred vnto him, said, Let them seke for the King beautiful yong virgins,

3 And let <sup>y</sup> King appoint officers through all the prouinces of his kingdome, and let the gather all the beautiful yong virgins vnto the palace of Shushán, into the house of the women, vnder the hand of Hegé the Kings eunuche, <sup>c</sup> keeper of the women, to giue them their things <sup>d</sup> for purification.

4 And the maid that shal please the King, let her reigne in the stead of Vashtri. And this pleased the King, and he did so.

5 ¶ In the citie of Shushán, there was a certeine Iewe, whose name was Mordecái the sonne of Iaír, the sonne of Shimeí, the sonne of Kish a man of Iemíní,

6 Which had bene caryed away from Ierusalém <sup>e</sup> with the captiuitie that was caryed away with Iekoniáh King of Iudáh (whome Nebuchadnezzár King of Babel had caryed away)

7 And he nourished Hadaſſáh, that is Eſtér, his vnckles daughter: for she had nether father nor mother, and the maid was faire, and beautiful to loke on: & after the death of her father, and her mother, Mordecái toke her for his owne daughter.

8 And when the Kings commandement, & his decree was published, and manie maidens were brought together to the palace of Shushán, vnder the hád of Hegé, Eſtér was brought also vnto the Kings house vnder <sup>y</sup> hand of Hegé the keeper of the women.

9 And the maid pleased him, and she founde fauour in his sight: therefore he caused her things for purification to be giuen her spedely, and her <sup>f</sup> state, and seuen comely maidens to be giuen her out of the Kings house, and he gaue change to her and to her maidens of the best in the house of the women.

10 But Eſtér shewed not her people and her kinred: for Mordecái had charged her, that she shulde not tel it.

11 And Mordecái walked <sup>g</sup> euerie day before the courte of the womens house, to knowe if Eſtér did wel, and what shulde be done with her.

12 And when the course of euerie maid came, to go in to King Ahashuerósh, after that she had bene twelue moneths according to the maner of the women (for so were the dayes of their purifications accomplished, six moneths with oyle of myrrhe, & six moneths with swete odours and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the maids vnto the King) whatsoeuer she required, was <sup>h</sup> giuen her, to go with her out of the womens house vnto the Kings house.

14 In the evening she went, and on the morrow she returned into the seconde house of the women vnder the hand of Shaashgáz the Kings eunuche, which kept the concubines: she came into the King nomore, except she pleased the King, & that she were called by name.

15 Now when the course of Eſtér <sup>y</sup> daughter of Abihail the vnckle of Mordecái (which had taken her as his owne daughter) came, <sup>y</sup> she shulde go in to the King, she desired nothing, but what <sup>i</sup> Hegé the Kings eunuche the keeper of the women said: and Eſtér founde fauour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

16 ¶ So Eſtér was takē vnto King Ahashuerósh into his house royal in the tenth moneth, which is the <sup>h</sup> moneth Tebéth, in the seuenth yere of his reigne.

17 And the King loued Eſtér aboue all the women, and she founde grace and fauour in his sight more then all the virgins: so that he set the crowne of the kingdome vpon her head, & made her Quene in steade of Vashtri.

18 Then the King made a great feast vnto all his princes and his seruants which was the feast of Eſtér and gaue rest <sup>k</sup> vnto the prouinces, and gaue giftes, according to the power of a King.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the <sup>m</sup> seconde time, then Mordecái sate in the Kings gate.

20 Eſtér had not yet shewed her kinred nor her people, as Mordecái had charged her: for Eſtér did after the worde of Mordecái, as when she was nourished with him.

21 ¶ In those daies when Mordecái sate in the Kings gate, two of the Kings eunuches, Bigthán and Téresh, which kept the dore, were wroth, & soght to lay <sup>n</sup> hand on the King Ahashuerósh.

22 And the thing was knowē to Mordecái, and he tolde it vnto Quene Eſtér, and Eſtér certified the King thereof in Mordecáis name: and when inquisition was made, it was founde so: therefore thei were bothe hanged on a tre: and it was written in the booke of the <sup>o</sup> Chronicles before the King.

CHAP. III.

<sup>p</sup> Hamán, after he was exalted, obtained of the King, that all the Iewes shulde be put to death, because Mordecái had not done him worship as other had.

After these things did King Ahashuerósh promote Hamán the sonne of Hammedáth the Agagite, & exalted hí, and set his seat aboue all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the Kings seruants that were at the Kings gate, bowed their knees, & reuerenced Hamán: for the King had so comāded ded cōcerning him: but Mordecái bowed not the knee, nether did reuerence.

Then the Kings seruants which were at the Kings gate said vnto Mordecái, Why transgrestest thou the Kings commandement?

And albeit they spake vniuersally vnto hī, yet he wolde not heare them: therefore they tolde Hamán, that they might se how Mordecáis matters wolde stād: for he had tolde them, that he was a Iewe.

And when Hamán sawe that Mordecái bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, then Hamán was ful of wrath.

Now he thought it to litle to lay hands onely on Mordecái: & because they had shewed him the people of Mordecái, Hamán soght to destroye all the Iewes, that were throughout the whole kingdome of Ahashuerósh, euen y<sup>e</sup> people of Mordecái.

In the first moneth (that is the moneth Nisán) in the twelfth yere of King Ahashuerósh, they cast Pur (that is a lot) before Hamán, from day to day, and frō moneth to moneth, vnto the twelfth moneth, that is the moneth Adár.

Then Hamán said vnto King Ahashuerósh, There is a people scatred, and dispersed among the people in all the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they do not obserue the Kings lawes: therefore it is not the Kings profite to suffre them.

If it please the King, let it be written that they may be destroyed, & I wil paye ten thousand talents of siluer by the hāds of them that haue the charge of this busines to bring it into the Kings tresurie.

Then the King toke his ring from his hand and gaue it vnto Hamán the sonne of Hammedátha the Agagite the Iewes aduersarie.

And the King said vnto Hamán, Let y<sup>e</sup> siluer be thine, and the people to do with them as it pleaseth thee.

Then were the Kings scribes called on the thirtent day of the first moneth, and there was written (according to all that Hamán commanded) vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaines that were ouer euerie prouince, and to the rulers of euerie people & to euerie prouince, accordig to the writing thereof, & to euerie people according to their language: in the name of King Ahashuerósh was it written, and sealed with the Kings ring.

And the lettres were sent by postes into all the Kings prouinces, to rote out, to kill and to destroye all the Iewes, both yong and olde, children and women, in one day vpon the thirtent day of the twelfth moneth, (which is the moneth Adár) and to spoil them as a pray.

The contents of the writing was, that there shulde be giuen a cōmandemēt in all prouinces, & published vnto all people, that thei shulde be ready against the same day.

And the postes compelled by the Kings cōmandement went forth, and the cōmandement was giue in the palace at Shushán: and the King and Hamán sate drinking, but the citie of Shushán was in perplexitie.

CHAP. IIII.

Mordecái giueth the Queen knowledge of the cruell decree of the King against the Iewes. 16 She willet that they pray for her.

Now when Mordecái perceiued all that was done, Mordecái rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, & ashes, and went out into the middes of the citie, & cryed with a great crye, and a bitter.

And he came euē before the Kings gate, but he might not entre within the Kings gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

And in euerie prouince, & place, whether the Kings charge and his commission came, there was great sorowe among the Iewes, and fasting, & weping and mournig, and many laye in sackcloth & in ashes.

Then Esters maides and her eunuches came and tolde it her: therefore the Queen was very heauy, and she sent raiment to clothe Mordecái, and to take away his sackcloth frō him, but he receiued it not.

Then called Estér Harách one of y<sup>e</sup> Kings eunuches, whome he had appointed to serue her, and gaue him a cōmandement vnto Mordecái, to knowe what it was, and why it was.

So Harách wēt forth to Mordecái vnto the streat of the citie, which was before the Kings gate.

And Mordecái tolde hī of all that which had come vnto him, and of the summe of the siluer that Hamán had promised to paye vnto the Kings treasures, because of the Iewes, for to destroye them.

Also he gaue him the copie of the writig & commission that was giuen at Shushán, to destroye the that he might shewe it vnto Estér and declare it vnto her, and to charge her, that she shulde go in to the King, & make petition and supplication before him for her people.

So when Harách came, he tolde Estér the wordes of Mordecái.

Then Estér said vnto Harách, and commanded him, to say vnto Mordecái,

All the Kings seruants and the people of the Kings prouinces do knowe, that whosoeuer, man or woman, that commeth to the King into the inner court, which is not called, there is a lawe of his,

that he shal dye, except him to whom the King holderth out the golden rod, that he may liue. Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the King these thirtie dayes.

12 And they certified Mordecái of Esters wordes.

13 And Mordecái said, that thei shulde answer Ester thus, Thinke not with thy self that thou shalt escape in the Kings house, more then all the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, comfort and deliuerance<sup>b</sup> shal appeare to the Iewes out of another place, but thou and thy fathers house shal perishe: and who knoweth whether thou art come to y<sup>e</sup> kingdome for such a time?

15 Then Ester commaded to answer Mordecái,

16 Go, & assemble all the Iewes that are found in Shushán, & fast ye for me, & eat not, nor drinke in thre dayes, day nor night. I also and my maides wil fast likewise, and so wil I go in to the King, which is not according to the Law: and if I perish, I perish.

17 So Mordecái went his way, and did according to all that Ester had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

1 Ester entreteth in to the King, and biddeth him and Hamán to a feast. 11 Hamán prepareth a galous for Mordecái.

1 AND on the third<sup>a</sup> day Ester put on her royal apparel, and stode in the court of the Kings palace within, ouer against the Kings house: and the King sate vpon his royal throne in the Kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King sawe Ester the Queene standing in the court, she found fauour in his sight: & the Kíng<sup>b</sup> helde out the golde sceptre<sup>c</sup> y<sup>e</sup> was in his hád: so Ester drewe nere, and touched the toppe of the sceptre.

3 Then said the King vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester? & what is thy request? it shalbe euen giuen<sup>e</sup> thee to the halfe of the kingdome.

4 Then said Ester, If it please the King, let the King and Hamán come this day vnto the bāket, y<sup>e</sup> I haue prepared for him.

5 And the Kíng said, Cause Hamán to make hást that he maie do as Ester hath said. So the King and Hamán came to the bāket that Ester had prepared.

6 And the King said vnto Ester at the banquet of<sup>d</sup> wine, What is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? it shal euen be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

7 Then answered Ester, and said, My petition and my request is,

8 If I haue founde fauour in the sight of the King, and if it please the King to giue me my petition, and to performe my request, let the King and Hamán come to the banquet that I shal prepare for them, & I wil do tomorowe according to the Kíngs saying.

9 ¶ Then went Hamán forth the same day ioyful & with a glad heart. But when Hamán sawe Mordecái in the Kíngs gate, that he stode not vp, nor moued for him, then was Hamán ful of indignacion at Mordecái.

10 Neuertheles Hamán refrained him self: and when he came home, he sent, and called for his friends, and Zéresh his wife.

11 And Hamán tolde them of the glorie of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the King had<sup>f</sup> promoted him, and how that he had set him aboue the princes and seruants of the King.

12 Hamán said moreover, Yea, Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the King to the banquet that she had prepared, saue me: and tomorowe am I bidden vnto her also with the King.

13 But all this doeth nothing auaille me, as long as I se Mordecái the Iewe sitting at the Kings gate.

14 Then said Zéresh his wife and all his friends vnto him, Let them make a tre of fiftie cubites hie, and tomorowe speake thou vnto the King, that Mordecái may be hanged thereon: the<sup>g</sup> shalt thou go ioyfully with the King vnto the banquet. And the thing pleased Hamán, and he caused to make the tre.

CHAP. VI.

1 The King turneth ouer the chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mordecái, 10 And commandeth Hamán, to cause Mordecái to be had in honour.

1 THE same night<sup>h</sup> the King slept not, & he commanded to bring the booke of the records & the chronicles: and thei were red before the King.

2 Then it was founde written that Mordecái<sup>i</sup> had tolde of Bigtána, & Téresh two of the Kings eunuches, keepers of the dore, who sought to lay hands on the King Ashuerósh.

3 The<sup>j</sup> the King said, What honour & dignitie hath bene giuen to Mordecái<sup>k</sup> for this? And the Kings seruants that ministered vnto him, said, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the King said, Who is in the court? (Now Hamán was come into the inner court of the Kings house, that he might speake vnto the King to<sup>l</sup> hang Mordecái on the tre that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the Kings seruants said vnto him, Beholde, Hamán standeth in the court. And the King said, Let him come in.

6 And

<sup>d</sup> I wil put my life in danger & referre the successe to God, seig it is for his glorie & the deliuerance of his Church.

6 And when Hamán came in, the King said vnto him, What shalbe done vnto the mā, whome the King wil honour? The Hamán thoght in his heart, To whome wolde the King do honour more then to me?

7 And Hamán answered the King, The man whome the King wolde honour,

8 Let the bring for him royal apparel, which the King yseth to weare, and the c horse that the King rydeth vpon, and that the crowne royal may be set vpon his head.

9 And let the rayment and the horse be deliuered by the hand of one of the Kings moste noble princes, and let them apparel the man (whome the King wil honour) & cause him to ride vpon the horse through the strete of the citie, & proclaime before him, Thus shal it be done vnto the man, whome the King wil honour.

10 Then the King said to Hamán, Make haste, take the raymēt & the horse as thou hast said, & do so vnto Mordecái y Iewe, that sitteth at the Kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

11 So Hamán toke the raymēt & the horse, and arayed Mordecái, and broght him on horse backe through the strete of the citie, and proclaimed before him, Thus shal it be done to the man whome the King wil honour.

12 And Mordecái came againe to y Kings gate, but Hamán hasted home mourning and his head couered.

13 And Hamán tolde Zéresh his wife, & all his friends all that had befallen him. The said his wife men, and Zéresh his wife vnto him, If Mordecái be of the sede of the Iewes, before whome thou hast begone to fall, thou shalt not preuaile against him, d but shalt surely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the Kings eunuches and hasted to bring Hamán vnto the bāket that Ester had prepared.

CHAP. VII.

3 The queene biddeth the King & Hamán againe & prayeth for her selfe and her people. 6 She accuseth Hamán and he is hanged on the gallows, which he had prepared for Mordecái.

1 SO the King and Hamán came to banquet with the Quene Ester.

2 And the King said againe vnto Ester on the seconde day at the banquet of a wine, What is thy petition, Quene Ester, that it may be giue thee? and what is thy request? It shalbe euen performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

3 And Ester the Quene answered, and said, If I haue founde fauour in thy sight, o King, and if it please the King, let my life be giuen me at my petition, & my people at my request.

4 For we are solde, I, and my people, to be destroyed, to be slayne and to perish: but if we were solde for seruants, & for handmaidens, I wolde haue helde my tongue: althogh the aduersarie colde not b recōpense the Kings losse.

5 The King Ahasuerósh answered, & said vnto y Quene Ester, Who is he? & where is he that presumeth to do thus?

6 And Ester said, The aduersarie and enemye is this wicked Hamán. Then Hamán was afraied before the King & the Quene.

7 And the King arose from the banquet of wine in his wrath, & went into the palace garden: but Hamán stode vp, to make request for his life to y Quene Ester: for he sawe that there was a c mischief prepared for him of the King.

8 And when the King came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they dranke wine, Hamán was d fallen vpon the bed whereon Ester sate: therefore the King said, Wil he force y Quene also before me in the house? As the worde wēt out of the Kings mouth, they e couered Hamans face.

9 And Harbonáh one of the eunuches, said in the presence of the King, Beholde, there standeth yet the tre in Hamans house fiftie cubites hie, which Hamán had prepared for Mordecái, that spake f good for the King. Then the King said, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Hamán on the tre, that he had prepared for Mordecái: then was the Kings wrath pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

1 After the death of Hamán was Mordecái exalted, 14 Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Iewes.

1 THE same day did King Ahasuerósh giue the house of Hamán the aduersarie of the Iewes vnto the Quene Ester. And Mordecái a came before the King: for Ester tolde what he was b vnto her.

2 And the King toke of his ring, which he had taken from Hamán, and gaue it vnto Mordecái: and Ester set Mordecái ouer the house of Hamán.

3 And Ester spake yet more before y King, and fell downe at his fete weping, and besoght him that he wolde put away the c wickednes of Hamán the Agagite, and his deuise that he had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the King helde out the goldē d sceptre toward Ester. Then arose Ester, and stode before the King,

5 And said, If it please the King, and if I haue founde fauour in his sight, and the thing be acceptable before the King, and I please him, let it be writen, that the letters of the deuise of Hamán the sonne of Ammedátha the Agagite may be called againe, which he wrote to destroye y Iewes, Kk.i.

b Hamán cold not so muche profite y King by this his malice, as he shulde hinder him by y losse of the Iewes, & the tribute which he hath of them. Abbr. p<sup>r</sup>eth his heart.

c His conscience did accuse him that as he had conspired the death of innocents, so the vengeance of God might fall vpon him for the same. d He feldowne at the beddes fete or couche, whereupon she sate, and made request for his life. e This was the manner of the Persians, when one was out of the Kings fauour. f Which discovered the conspiracie agāst y King, Chap. 7.2.

that are in all the Kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and se the euil, that shal come vnto my people? Or how can I suffer and se the destruction of my kined?

7 And the King Ahasueros said vnto y<sup>e</sup> Quene Ester, & to Mordecái the Iewe, Beholde, I haue giuen Ester the house of Hamán, whome they haue hanged vpon the tre, because he layed hand vpon the Iewes.

8 Write ye also for the Iewes, as it liketh you in the Kings name, and seale it with the Kings ring, (for the writings written in the Kings name, and sealed with the Kings ring, may no man reuoke)

9 The were the Kings scribes called at the same time, euē in the third moneth, that is the moneth<sup>f</sup> Siuán, on the thre & twētieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecái commanded vnto the Iewes and to the prouinces, & captaines, and rulers of the princes, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundreth & seuen and twentie prouinces, vnto euerie prouince, according to the<sup>g</sup> writing thereof, and to euerie people after their speache, and to the Iewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the King Ahasueros name, and sealed it with the Kings ring: & he sent lettres by postes on horsebacke & that rode on beastes of price, as dromedaries & coltes of mares.

11 Wherein the King granted the Iewes (in what cities soeuer they were) to gather them selues together, & to stand for<sup>h</sup> their life, & to roote out, to slay & to destroye all the power of the people & of the prouince that vexed them, bothe children and women, and to spoyle their goods:

12 Vpon one day in all the prouinces of King Ahasueros, euen in the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth<sup>i</sup> Adár.

13 The copie of the writing was, how there shulde be a commandement giuen in all and euerie prouince, published among all the people, and that the Iewes shulde be readie against that day to<sup>k</sup> auenge them selues on their enemies.

14 So the postes rode vpon beastes of price, & dromedaries, & wēt forthe with speede, to execute the Kings commandement, & the decree was giuen at Shushán y<sup>e</sup> palace.

15 And Mordecái went out from the King in royal apparel of blew, and white, and with a great crowne of golde, and with a garment of fine linen and purple, and the citie of Shushán reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Iewes was come light and

17 Also in all and euerie prouince, and in all and euerie citie and place, where the Kings commādemēt & his decree came, there was ioye and gladnes to the Iewes, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the lād<sup>m</sup> became Iewes: for the feare of the Iewes fell vpon them.

CHAP. IX.

1 At the commandement of the King the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Iewes kepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

1 SO in the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adár, vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the Kings commādemēt and his decree drewe nere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them (but it<sup>a</sup> turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them)

2 The Iewes gathered the selues together into their cities throughout all the prouinces of the King Ahasueros, to laye hand on suche as foght their hurt, and no man colde withstande them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, & the princes and the captaines, and the officers of the King<sup>b</sup> exalted the Iewes: for the feare of Mordecái fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecái was great in the Kings house, and the reporte of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecái waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their<sup>c</sup> enemies with strokes of the sworde and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they wolde vnto those that hated them.

6 And at Shushán the palace slewe y<sup>e</sup> Iewes and destroyed<sup>d</sup> fīue hundreth men,

7 And Parshandátha, and Dalphón, and Aspátha,

8 And Porátha, and Adaliá, and Aridátha,

9 And Parmáshtha, and Arisái, and Aridái, and Vaiezátha,

10 The ten sonnes of Hamán, the sonne of Ammedátha, the aduersarie of the Iewes slewe they: but they layed not their hāds<sup>e</sup> on the spoyle.

11 On the same day came the number of those that were slayne, vnto the palace of Shushán before the King.

12 And the King said vnto the Quene Ester, The Iewes haue slayne in Shushán the palace and destroyed fīue hundreth men, and the ten sonnes of Hamán: what haue they done in the rest of the Kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what is thy request moreouer, that it may be performed?

13 Then said Ester, If it please the King, let it be granted also tomorowe to the Iewes that are in Shushán, to do according<sup>f</sup> vnto

He went about to slay the Iewes.

e This was y<sup>e</sup> lawe of the Medes & Persians, as Dan. 6. 13: notwithstanding the King reuoked the former decree granted to Haman, for Esters sake.

f Which concerneth parte of May and parte of Iune.

g That is, in suche letters & language, as was vsual in euerie prouince.

h Or, muler.

h That is, to defend them selues against all that wolde assaile them.

i Which hath parte of February & part of Marche.

k The King gaue them libertie to kill all y<sup>e</sup> did oppose them.

l He sheweth by these wordes that follow what this light was.

m Coformed them selues to the Iewes religion.

a This was by Gods great providence, who turneth y<sup>e</sup> ioye of the wicked into sorrow, & the teares of the godlie into gladnes.

b Did the honour, & shewed the friendship.

f This the requirish not for desire of vengeance, but w<sup>ch</sup> zeale to se Gods iudgements executed against his enemies.

13 vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang vpon the tre Hamans ten sonnes.

14 And the King charged to do so, and the decree was giuen at Shushán, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 ¶ So the Iewes that were in Shushán, assembled them selues vpon the fourtenth day of the moneth Adár, and slewe thre hūdreth men in Shushán, but on the spoile they layed not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Iewes that were in the Kings prouinces assembled the selues, and stode for 8 their liues, and had rest from their enemies, & slewe of them that hated them, <sup>h</sup> seuentie and fyue thousand: but they layed not their hād on the spoile.

17 This they did on the <sup>i</sup> thirtente day of the moneth Adár, and rested the fourtē day thereof, and kept it a daye of feasting and ioye.

18 But the Iewes that were in Shushán, assembled them selues on the thirtē day, & on the fourtente thereof, & thei rested on the fiftente of the same, & kept it a day of feasting and ioye.

19 Therefore the Iewes of the villages that dwelt in the vnwalld townes, <sup>k</sup> kept the fourtente day of the moneth Adár with ioye and feasting, euen a ioyful day, and euerie one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 ¶ And Mordecái wrote <sup>l</sup> these wordes, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were through all the prouinces of the King Ahashuerósh, both nere and farre, Inioining them that they shulde kepe the fourtē day of the moneth Adár, and the fiftente day of the same, euerie yere.

22 According to the dayes wherein the Iewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them frō sorow to ioye, and from mourning into a ioyful day, to kepe them the dayes of feasting, and ioye, and <sup>m</sup> to send presents euerie man to his neighbour, and giftes to the poore:

23 And the Iewes promised to do as they had begonne, and as Mordecái had written vnto them,

24 Because Hamán the sonne of Hammedátha the Agagite all the Iewes aduersarie, had imagined against the Iewes, to destroye them, & had <sup>n</sup> cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroye them.

25 And whē <sup>o</sup> she came before the King, he cōmanded by letters, Let his wicked p<sup>p</sup> deuiſe (which he imagined against y<sup>y</sup> Iewes) turne vpon his owne head, and let them hang him and his sonnes on the tre.

26 Therefore they called these dayes Purím, by the name of Pur, and because of all the wordes of this lettre, and of that which they had sene besides this, & of that which had come vnto them.

27 The Iewes also ordeined, and promised for them and for their sēde, and for all that ioined vnto them, that they wolde not faile to obserue those <sup>q</sup> two dayes euerie yere, according to their writing, and according to their season,

28 And that these dayes shulde be remembered, and kept throughout euerie generation and euerie familie, and euerie prouince, and euerie citie: euen these dayes of Purím shulde not faile among the Iewes, and the memorial of them shulde not perish from their sēde.

29 And y<sup>y</sup> Quene Ester the daughter of Abiháil & Mordecái the Iewe wrote with all autoritie (to cōfirme this letter of Purím the seconde time)

30 And he sent letters vnto all the Iewes to the hundreth and ſeuē and twētie prouinces of the kingdome of Ahashuerósh, with <sup>r</sup> wordes of peace and trueth, 31 To confirme these dayes of Purím according to their seasons, as Mordecái the Iewe and Ester the Quene had appointed them, and as they had promised for them selues and for their sēde with <sup>s</sup> fasting and prayer.

32 And the decree of Ester confirmed these wordes of Purím, & was written in the boke.

CHAP. X.

The estimation and autoritie of Mordecái.

1 And the King Ahashuerósh layed a tribute vpon the land, and vpon the yles of the sea.

2 And all the actes of his power, and of his might, and the declaration of the dignitie of Mordecái, wherewith the King magnified him, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Media and Persia?

3 For Mordecái the Iewe was the seconde vnto King Ahashuerósh, and great amōg the Iewes, and <sup>a</sup> accepted amōg the multitude of his brethren, who procured the welth of his people, & spake peaceably to all his sēde.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this historie is set before our eyes the example of a singular pacience. For this holy man Iob was not onely extremely afflicted in outwarde things and in his body, but also in his minde, and conscience by the sharpe tentations of his wife, and chief friends: which by their vehement wordes, and subtil disputations broght him almoste to dispaire: for they set forthe God as a seuerie iudge, and mortal enemy vnto him, which had caste him of, therefore in vaine he shulde seke vnto him for succour. These friends came vnto him vnder pretence of consolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithstanding he did constantly resist them, and at length had good successe. In this storie we haue to marke that Iob mainteineth a good cause, but handeleth it euil: againe his aduersaries haue an euil matter, but they defend it craftely. For Iob helde that God did not alway punish men according to their sinnes, but that he had secret iudgements, whereof man knewe not the cause, and therefore man colde not reason against God therein, but he shulde be conuicted. Moreover he was assured that God had not reiected him, yet through his great torments, & affliction he brasteth forthe into manie inconueniencies bothe of wordes and sentences, and sheweth him selfe as a desperate man in manie things, and as one that wolde resist God: and this is his good cause which he doeth not handel wel. Agayne the aduersaries mainteine with manie goodlie argumētis, that God punisheth continually according to the trespass, grounding vpon Gods providence, his iustice, and mans sinnes, yet their intencion is euil: for they labour to bring Iob into dispaire, and so they mainteine an euil cause. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iuste man, Ezek. 14, 14, and Iames setteth out his pacience for an example, Iam. 5, 11.

CHAP. I.

- <sup>a</sup> The holines, riches, and care of Iob for his children. <sup>10</sup> Satán hath permission to tempt him. <sup>13</sup> He tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. <sup>20</sup> His faith and pacience.

<sup>a</sup> That is, of the country of Idumea, as Lam. 4, 21, or bordering thereupon: for the land was called by the name of Vz the sonne of Dishan the sonne of Sair, Genes. 36, 23.

<sup>f</sup> That is, cōmāded them to be sanctified: meaning, that they shulde consider the fautes, that they had committed, & recōcile them selues for the same.

<sup>h</sup> In Ebrewe it is, and blessed God, which is some time taken for blaspheming and cursing, as here, and 1. King. 21, 10 and 13, &c.

<sup>i</sup> While the feast lasted. <sup>k</sup> Meaning, the Angels which are called the sonnes of God, because they are willing to execute his wil. <sup>l</sup> Because our infirmitie cā not comprehend God in his maiestie, he is set forthe vnto vs as a King, that our capacitie may be able to vnderstand that, & is spokē of him.

Here was a mā in the lād of Vz called Iob, and this mā <sup>b</sup> was an vpright and iuste man, <sup>c</sup> one that feared God, & eschewed euil.

And he had seuē sonnes, and thre daughters.

<sup>5</sup> And when the dayes of their banketting were gone about, Iob sent, and <sup>f</sup> sanctified the, and rose vp early in the morning, and <sup>g</sup> offered burnt offerings according to the number of the all. For Iob thought, It may be that my sonnes haue sinned, and <sup>h</sup> blasphemed God in their hearts: thus did Iob <sup>i</sup> euerie day.

Satán <sup>m</sup> came also among them.

<sup>8</sup> And the Lord said vnto Satán, Hast thou not cōsidered my seruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth? an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euil?

<sup>10</sup> Hast thou not made an hedge about him and about his house, and about all that he hath on euerie side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his substance is encreased in the land.

<sup>12</sup> Then the Lord said vnto Satán, Lo, all that he hath is in <sup>t</sup> thine hand: onely vpō him selfe shalt thou not stretch out thine had. So Satán departed from the <sup>u</sup> presence of the Lord.

<sup>14</sup> There came a messenger vnto Iob, and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feding in their places,

<sup>m</sup> This declareth that althogh Satán be aduersarie to God, yet he is compelled to obey him, and do him all homage, without whole permission, & appointment he cā do nothing.

<sup>s</sup> Satán noteth the vice, whereunto we are cōmonly subiect: that is, to hide their rebellions, and to be cōtēt with God in the time of prosperitie, which vice is disclosed in the time of their aduersitie. <sup>t</sup> God giueth not Satán power ouer man to gratifie him, but to declare that he hath no power ouer man, but that which God giueth him. <sup>u</sup> That is, went to execute that which God had permitted him to do: for els he can neuer go out of Gods prouidence.

16 And whiles he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The fyre of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the shepe and the seruants, and deuoured them: but I onely am escaped alone, to tel thee.

17 And whiles he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The Caldeans set out thre bandes, and fel vpon the camels, and haue taken them, and haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sworde: but I onely am escaped alone to tel thee.

18 And whiles he was yet speaking, came another, & said, Thy sonnes, & thy daughters were eating, & drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

19 And beholde, there came a great winde from beyond the wildernes, and smote the foure corners of the house, which fel vpon the childre, and they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone to tel thee.

20 Then Iob arose, and rent his garmēt, and shaued his head, and fel downe vpon the grounde, and worshiped, 21 And said, Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, & naked shal I retorne: the Lord hath giuen, and the Lord hath taken it: blessed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Iob sinne, nor charge God foolishly.

CHAP. II.

6 Satan hath the permission to afflict Iob. 9 His wife tempteth him to forsake God. 11 His three friends visite him.

And on a day the children of God came and stode before the Lord, and Satan came also among them, and stode before the Lord.

2 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, and said, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

3 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth? an vpright and iuste man, one that feareth God, and eschueth euil: for yet he continueth in his vprightnes, although thou mouedst me against him, to destroye him without cause.

4 And Satan answered the Lord, and said, Skin for skin, & all that euer a man hath, wil he giue for his life.

5 But stretche now out thine hand, and touche his bones and his flesh, to see if he wil not blaspheme thee to thy face.

6 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Lo, he is in thine hand, but saue his life.

7 So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord, and smote Iob with sore boyles, from the sole of his fote vnto his crowne.

8 And he toke a potsharde to scrape him, and he sate downe among the ashes.

9 The said his wife vnto him, Doeſt thou continue yet in thine vprightnes? Blaspheme God, and dye.

10 But he said vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: what? shal we receiue good at the hand of God, and not receiue euil? In all this did not Iob sinne with his lippes.

11 Now when Iobs thre friends heard of all this euil that was come vpon him, they came euerie one from his owne place, to wit, Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to lament with him, and to comfort him.

12 So when they lift vp their eyes a farre off, they knewe him not: therefore they lift vp their voyces and wept, and euerie one of them rent his garment, & sprinkled dust vpon their heades toward the heauen.

13 So they sate by him vpon the grounde seuen dayes, and seuen nights, & none spake a worde vnto him: for they sawe, that the grief was very great.

uous temptation of the faithful, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan goeth about to persuade them, that they trust in God in vayne.

m For deare was appointed to the blasphemer, & so he ment that he shoulde be sone ridde out of his peine. n That is, to be patient in aduersitie, as we reioice, when he sendeth prosperitie, & so to acknowledge him to be bothe merciful and iuste.

o He so bridleth his affections, that his rage through impaciencie did not murmure against God. p Which were men of auctoritie, wife and learned, and as the Septuagint write, Kings, and came to comfort him, but when they saw how he was visited, they conceived an euil opinion of him, as though he had bene but an hypocrite, and so iustly plagued of God for his finnes. q This was also a ceremonie, which they vsed in those countreys, as the renting of their clothes in signe of sorowe &c.

r And therefore thought that he wolde not haue hearkened to their counsell.

CHAP. III.

1 Iob complaineth and curseth the day of his birth. 11 He desireth to dye, as though death were the end of all mans miserie.

Afterward Iob opened his mouthe, and curseth his day.

2 And Iob cryed out, and said, Let the daye perish, wherein I was borne, and the night when it was said, There is a manchilde conceived.

4 Let y day be darkenes, let not God regarde it from aboue, nether let the light shine vpon it,

5 But let darkenes, & the shadowe of death staine it: let the cloude remaine vpon it, & let them make it feareful as a bitter day.

6 Let darkenes possesse that night, let it not be ioined vnto the dayes of the yere, nor let it come into the count of the moneths.

7 Yea, desolate be that night, & let no ioye be in it.

8 Let them that curse the day, (being ready to renew their mourning) curse it.

Kk.iii.

and let it not haue the light of the sunne to separate it from the night.

e That is, most obscure darknes, which maketh them afraid of death, that are in it. f Which curse the day of their birth, let them lay that curse vpon this night.

h This sorow was most vehement, where with also God plagued the Egyptians, Exo. 9.9. and threateneth to punish the rebellious people, Deut. 28.27. so that this temptation was most grievous: for if Iob had feared Gods fauour by the vehemencie of his disease, he might haue thought y God had cast him off.

i As desire of all other helpe and meanes, and wonderfully afflicted with the sorowe of his disease.

k Satan vseth the same instrument against Iob, as he did against Adam.

l Meaning, What gaineſt thou to serue God, seeing he thus plagueth thee as though he were thine enemy? This is most grie-a The seuen dayes ended, Chap. 2.13. b Here Iob be ginneth to feele his great imperfection in this battel betweene the Spirit and flesh, Rom. 7.18, and after a manner yeldeth, yet in the end he getteth victorie, though he was in the meane time greatly wounded. c Me ought not to be weary of their life, & curse it, because of the infirmitie that it is subiect vnto, but because they are giued to sinne and rebellion against God. d Let it be put out of the number of dayes, g Which thing was also done by craft of Satan to tempt Iob the more grievously, for as much as he might see, that not onely men were his enemies, but that God made war against him. This last plague declareth, that when one plague is past which seemeth hard to be borne, God can send vs another farre more grievous, to trye his, & teache them obedience. Which came not of impaciencie, but declareth that the children of God are not insensible like blockes, but in their patience they feele affliction, and grief of minde: yet they keepe a meane here, and rebell not against God, as the wicked do.

Eccle. 3.14.

b That is, into the belly of earth, which is the mother of all.

c Hereby he confesseth that God is iuste, and good, all though his hand be sore vpon him. d But declared that God did althing according to iustice and equitie.

Exe. 14.14.

c He proueth Iobs integritie by this, that he feared not to feare God when his plagues were grievously vpon him.

d That is, when he had noight against him, or when thou wast not able to bring thy purpose to passe.

e Hereby he setteth a man his owne skinnede as deare vnto him then another mans.

seing that God

dren of God.
<sup>e</sup> They that do euil, can not but recei-

<sup>g</sup> Though men
according to their office do not punish tyrants (whome for their cruel-tie he compa-

and their children to their whelpes) yet
God doeth it able, and his iustice wil punish them.
<sup>h</sup> A thing that I knewe not before, was declared vnto me by vision:
that is, that whosoever thinketh him
selfe iust, shal be founde a sinner, whē he commeth before God.
<sup>i</sup> In these visions which God sheweth to his creatures, there is e-uē a certein feare ioynd, that the auto-ritie thereof might be had in greater re-uerence.
<sup>k</sup> When all things were garding against God as he doeth.

s He wil send trouble after trouble, that his children may not for one time, but continually trust in him: but they shal haue a comfortable issue, euen in the greatest and the last, which is here called the seuer.
t Where the wicked lament in their troubles, thou shalt haue occasion to reioice.
u When we are in Gods fauour, all creatures shal serue vs.
x God shal
so bless thee, that thou shalt haue occasion to reioice in all things, and not to be offended.

I haue sene the foolish wel rooted, & so-denly I cursed his habitacion, saying,
His children shalbe farre from saluatiō, and they shalbe destroyed in the gate, and none shal deliuer them.
The hungrie shal eat vp his haruest: yea, thei shal take it from among the sthornes, and the thirstie shal drinke vp their substance.
For miserie commeth not forthe of the dust, neither doeth affliction spring out of the earth.
But man is borne vnto trauail, as the sparkes flye vpward.
But I wolde inquire at God, and turne
my talke vnto God:
Which doeth great things and vnsearchcheable, and maruelous things without number.
He giueth raine vpon the earth, and powreth water vpon the stretes,
And setteth vp on hie them that be lowe, that the sorowful may be exalted to saluation.
He scattereth the deuises of the craftie:
so that their hands can not accomplishe that which they do enterprise.
He taketh the wise in their craftines, &
the counsel of the wicked is made foolish.
They mete with darkenes in the day time, and grope at noone day, as in the night.
But he saueh the poore fro the sworde, from their mouth, and from the hand of the violent man,
So that the poore hath his hope, but iniquitie shal stop her mouth.
Beholde, blessed is the man whome God correcteth: therefore refuse not thou the chastising of the Almighty.
For he maketh the wounde, and bindeth it vp: he smiteth, and his hands make whole.
He shal deliuer thee in six troubles, and in the seuent the euil shal not touche thee.
In famine he shal deliuer thee fro death:
and in battel from the power of the sworde.
Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of tongue, and thou shalt not be affraied of destruction when it cometh.
But thou shalt laugh at destruction and dearth, & shalt not be afraied of the beast
of the earth.
For the stones of the field shalbe in league with thee, and the beastes of the field shal be at peace with thee.
And thou shalt knowe, that peace shalbe in thy tabernacle, & thou shalt visite thine habitacion, and shalt not sinne.

Thou shalt perceiue also, that thy sede shalbe great, & thy posteritie as the grasse of the earth.
Thou shalt go to thy grane in a ful age, as a ricke of corne cometh in due season into the barne.
Lo, thus haue we inquired of it, and so it is: heare this and knowe it for thy self.
Experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man can not compare in iustice with him, that hypocrites shal not long prosper, and that the afflic-tion which man susteineth, commeth for his owne sinne.
CHAP. VI.
Iob answereth, that his paine is more grievous then his faute. He wisheth death. He complaineth of his friends.
Vt Iob answered, and said,
Oh that my grief were wel weighed, and my miseries were laied together in the balance.
For it wolde be now heauyer the sand of sea: therefore my wordes are swallowed vp.
For the arowes of the Almighty are in me, y venime whereof doeth drinke vp my spirit, & the terrours of God fight agaiſt me.
Doeth the wilde asse braye when he hath the graspe? or loweth the ox when he hath the foddre?
That which is vsfauery, shal it be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge?
Suche things as my soule refused to touche, as were sorowes, are my meate.
Oh that I might haue my desire, & that God wolde graunt me the thing that I long for!
That is, that God wolde destroye me:
that he wolde let his had go, & cut me of.
Then shulde I yet haue comfort, (though I burne with sorowe, let him not spare) because I haue not denyed the wordes of the Holie one.
What power haue I that I shulde endure? or what is mine end, if I shulde prolong my life?
Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of braspe?
Is it not so, that there is in me no helpe?
and that strength is taken from me?
He that is in miserie, ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but me haue forsaken the feare of the Almighty.
My brethren haue deceiued me as a brooke, & as the rising of the riuers they passe away.
Which are blackish with yce, & wherein the snowe is hid.
But in time thei are dried vp with heat & are consumed: and when it is hote they faile out of their places,

Though the children of God haue not alwaies this promes performed, yet God doeth recompence it other wise to their aduantage.
We haue learned these pointes by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man can not compare in iustice with him, that hypocrites shal not long prosper, and that the affliction which man susteineth, commeth for his owne sinne.
To knowe whether I complaine without iust cause.
My grief is so great, that I lacke wor-des to expreſ-se it.
Which decla-reth that he was not onely afflicted in body, but wounded in consci-ce, which is greatest battel that the faithful can haue.
Thinke you that I crye without cause, saying, I brute beastes do not complain when thei haue what thei wolde?
Can a mans taste delite in that which hath no sauour? meaning that none take pleasure in affliction, seeing thei can not away with things that are vsfauery to mouth.
Herein the sinne is double, bothe in wishing through impaciencie to dye, and also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his wil.
That is, let me dye at once, before I come to distrust in Gods promes through mine impaci-cie.
He feareth lest he shulde be brought to inconuenien-cies, if his sorowes shulde continue.
I haue I not sought to helpe
my selfe as much as was possible?
Or, wisdom,
or law.
He compareth those friends which comfort vs not in miserie, to a broke, which in summer, when we nede waters, is drye: in winter
is hard frozen, & in time of raie, when we haue no nede, ouerfloweth with water.

- 21 Surely now are ye like<sup>m</sup> vnto it: ye haue sene my feareful plague, and are afayed.
- 22 Was it because I said, Bring vnto me<sup>r</sup> or giue a rewarde to me of your<sup>n</sup> substance?
- 23 And deliuer me from the enemies hand, or ransom me out of the hand of tyrants?
- 24 Teach me, & I wil<sup>o</sup> holde my tongue: & cause me to vnderstand, wherein I haue erred.
- 25 How stedfast are the wordes of righ-teousnes: and what can any of you iustly reproue?
- 26 Do ye imagine to reproue<sup>i</sup> wordes, that the talke of the afflicted shulde be as the winde?
- 27 Ye make your wrath to fall vpon the fa-therles, and digge a pit for your friend.
- 28 Now therefore be content to<sup>r</sup> loke vp-on me: for I wil not lye before your face.
- 29 Turne, I pray you, let there be none in-iquitie: returne, I say, & ye shal se yet my righteousnes in that behalfe. Is there in-iquitie in my<sup>r</sup> tōgue? doeth not my mouthe fele sorowes?

CHAP. VII.

Iob sheweth the shortnes and miserie of mans life.

a Hathe not an hyred seruant some rest and ease? then in this my continual tormēt
I am worse
then an hyreling.
b My sorowe hathe continued from mo-neth to mo-neth, and I haue looked for hope in vaine.
c This signifeth that his disease was rare and moste horrible.
d Thus he speaketh in respect of the breui-tie of mālife, which passeth without hope of returning: inconsidera-tio whereof he desireth God so haue compassion on hi.
e If thou be-holde me in rhine angre, I shal not be able to stand in thy presence.
f I shal nomore enioye this mortal life.

- 1 I there not an appointed time to man vpon earth? and are not his dayes as the dayes of an<sup>a</sup> hyreling.
- 2 As a seruant longeth for the shadowe, & as an hyreling loketh for the end of his worke,
- 3 So haue I had as an inheritance the<sup>b</sup> mo-neths of vanitie, and peineful nights haue bene appointed vnto me.
- 4 If I laied me downe, I said, When shal
I arise? and measurīg the euening I am euen ful with tossing to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.
- 5 My flesh is<sup>c</sup> clothed with wormes & fil-thines of the dust: my skin is rent, & become horrible.
- 6 My dayes are swifter the<sup>d</sup> a weauers shittle, and they are spent without hope.
- 7 Remember that my life is but a winde, & that mine eye shal not returne to se pleasure.
- 8 The eye that hathe sene me, shal se me no more: thine eyes are vpon me, and I shal be no longer.
- 9 As the cloude vanisheth & goeth away, so he that goeth downe to the graue, shal come vp nomore.
- 10 He shal returne nomore to his house,

- nether shal his place knowe him any more.
- 11 Therefore I wil not spare my mouthe, but wil speake in the trouble of my spirit, & muse in the bitternes of my minde.
- 12 Am I a sea<sup>h</sup> or a whalefish, that thou kepest me in ward?
- 13 When I say, My couche shal relieue me, & my bed shal bring comfort in my meditation,
- 14 Then fearest thou me<sup>i</sup> with dreames,
and astonishest me with visions.
- 15 Therefore my soule<sup>k</sup> choseth rather to be strangled & to dye, then to be in my bones.
- 16 I abhorre it, I shal not liue alway: spare me then, for my daies are but va-nitie.
- 17 What is man, that thou<sup>m</sup> doest magnifie him, and that thou settest thine heart vpon him?
- 18 And doest visit him euerie morning, and tryest him euerie moment?
- 19 How long wil it be yet thou departe fro me? thou wilt not let me alone whiles I may swallowe my spetle.
- 20 I haue<sup>n</sup> sinned, what shal I do vnto thee?
O thou preseruer of men, why hast thou set me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my self?
- 21 And why doest thou not pardone my tref-pas? and take away mine iniquitie? for now shal I slepe in the dust, and if thou sekest me in the morning, I shal<sup>o</sup> not be founde.

cause that he stil tryed his faith. o That is, I shal be dead.

CHAP. VIII.

Bildad sheweth that Iob is a sinner, because God pu-nisheth the wicked, and preserueth the good.

- 1 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite,
and said,
- 2 How long wilt thou talke of these things?
& how long shal the wordes of thy mouthe be as a mightie winde?
- 3 Doeth God peruert iudgement? or doeth
the almighty subuert iustice?
- 4 If thy sonnes haue sinned against him, & he hathe sent them into the place of their iniquitie,
- 5 Yet if thou<sup>c</sup> wilt early seke vnto God, &
pray to the Almighty,
- 6 If thou be pure and vpight, then surely he wil awake vp vnto thee, & he wil make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.
- 7 And though thy beginning<sup>a</sup> be smale, yet thy later end shal greatly increase.
- 8 Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy selfe to sear-che of their fathers.

9 (For we are but<sup>f</sup> of yesterday, and are all antiquitie, and he shal finde it true which he here saith.
that it is not yough to haue the experience of our selues, but to be com-med by the examples of them that went before vs.)

g Seing I can by no other

i So that I can haue no rest,
night nor day.
k He speaketh

why doest thou giue him that honour to comende against him?
n Iob vied all kindes of persuasion with God, that he might Ray his hand.
o After all retations faith

ignorant: for our dayes vpon earth are but a shadow)

Shal not thei teache thee & tel thee, and vtter the wordes of their heart?

Can a rush growe without myre? or can the grasse growe without water?

Thogh it were in grene & not cut downe, yet shal it wither before anie other herbe.

So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope shal perish.

His confidence also shal be cut of, & his trust shalbe, as the house of a spyder.

He shal leane vpon his house, but it shal not stand: he shal holde him fast by it, yet shal it not endure.

The tree is grene before the sunne, and the branches spread ouer the garden thereof.

The rotes thereof are wrapped about the fountaine, & are folden about the house of stones.

If anie plucke it from his place, and it denie, saying, I haue not sene thee, Beholde, it wil reioyce by this meanes, that it may growe in another molde.

Beholde, God wil not cast away an vpright man, nether wil he take the wicked by the hand,

Til he haue filled thy mouthe with laughter, and thy lippes with ioye.

They that hate thee, shalbe clothed with shame, & the dwelling of the wicked shal not remaine.

CHAP. IX.

Iob declareth the mightie power of God, and that mans righteousness is nothing.

Then Iob answered, and said, I knowe verely that it is so: for how shulde man compared vnto God, be a iustified?

If he wolde dispute with him, he colde not answer him one thing of a thousand.

He is wise in heart, & mightie in strength: who hath bene scarce agaisht him & hath prospered?

He remoueth the mountaines & they fele not when he ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

He remoueth the earth out of her place, that the pillers thereof do shake.

He commandeth the sunne, and it riseth not: he closeth vp the starres, as vnder a signet.

He him self alone spreadeth out the heauens, and walketh vpon the height of the sea.

He maketh the starres, Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the climats of the South.

He doeth great things, and vnsearchable: yea, meruelous things without number.

Lo, when he goeth by me, I se him not: & when he passeth by, I perceiue him not.

Beholde, when he taketh a pray, who can make him to restore it? who shal say vnto him, What doest thou?

God wil not withdrawe his angre & the moste mightie helpe do stoupe vnder him.

How muche lesse shal I answer him? or how shulde I finde out my wordes with him?

For thogh I were iuste, yet colde I not answer, but I wolde make supplicacion to my Iudge.

If I crye, and he answer me, yet wolde I not beleue, that he heard my voyce.

For he destroyeth me with a tempest, & woundeth me without cause.

He wil not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternes.

If we speake of strength, beholde, he is strong: if we speake of iudgement, who shal bring me in to plaide?

If I wolde iustifi: my self, mine owne mouth shal condemne me: if I wolde be perfite, he shal iudge me wicked.

Thogh I were perfite, yet I knowe not my soule: therefore abhorre I my lyfe.

This is one point: therefore I said, He destroyeth the perfite and the wicked.

If the scourge shulde sodenly laie, shulde God laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

The earth is giuen into the hand of the wicked: he couereth the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where is he? or who is he?

My daies haue bene more swift then a poste: they haue fled, & haue sene no good thing.

They are passed as with the moste swift shippes, and as the egle that flieth to the praye.

If I say, I wil forget my complaint, I wil cease from my wrath, & comfort me,

Then I am afrayed of all my sorowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

If I be wicked, why labour I thus in vaine?

If I wash my self with snowe water, and purge mine hands moste cleane,

Yet shalt thou plunge me in the pit, and mine owne clothes shal make me filthy.

For he is not a man as I am, that I shulde

L.I.

With according to his iustice, he wil destroye as wel them that are couered perfite, as them that are wicked. To wit, the wicked. This is spoken according to our apprehension, as though he wolde say, If God destroye but the wicked, as chap. 3. why shulde he suffer the innocents to be so long tormented by them? That they can not se to do iustice. That can shewe the contrary. I thinke not to fall into these afflictions, but my sorowes bring me to these manifolde infirmities, & my conscience condemneth me. Why doeth not God destroye me at once? thus he speaketh according to the infirmitie of the flesh. Thogh I seme neuer so pure in mine owne eyes, yet all is but corruption before God. What forer I wolde vnto count my filthines with, shal disclose me so muche more.

I am not able to comprehend his workes, which are commune and daily before mine eyes, muche lesse in those things, which are hid and secret.

He sheweth that whē God doeth execute his power, he doeth it iustly, for asmuch as none can controule him. God wil not be appealed for ought that man can laie for him self for his iustification.

That is, all reasons that men can laie to approue their cause.

How shulde I be able to answer him by eloquence: whereby he noteth his friends, that albeit thei were eloquent in talke, yet thei felt not in heart, that which thei spake.

Meaning, in his owne opinion, signifyng that man wil sometime flatter him self to be righteous, which before God is abomination.

Whiles I am in my pangs, I can not but brast forth into many inconueniences, although I knowe still that God is iust.

I am not able to sele my finnes so great, as I sele the weight of his plagues: & this he speaketh to condemne his dulnes, and to iustifie God.

After he hath the accused his owne weakenes, he continueth to iustifie God and his power.

If I wolde stande in mine owne defence, yet God hath iuste cause to condemne me, if he examine mine heart, & conscience.

If God punish according to his iustice, he wil destroye as wel them that are couered perfite, as them that are wicked. This is spoken according to our apprehension, as though he wolde say, If God destroye but the wicked, as chap. 3. why shulde he suffer the innocents to be so long tormented by them? That they can not se to do iustice. That can shewe the contrary. I thinke not to fall into these afflictions, but my sorowes bring me to these manifolde infirmities, & my conscience condemneth me. Why doeth not God destroye me at once? thus he speaketh according to the infirmitie of the flesh. Thogh I seme neuer so pure in mine owne eyes, yet all is but corruption before God. <sup>35</sup> Then wil I speake, & seare him not: <sup>b</sup> but because I am not so, I holde me stil.

CHAP. X.

<sup>b</sup> I wil make an ample declaration of my tormets, accusing my self & not God.
<sup>c</sup> He wolde not that God shulde procede against him by his secret iustice, but by the ordinarie means that he punisheth others.
<sup>h</sup> Art thou inconstant and changeable as the times, to daie a friend, to morrowe an enemy?
<sup>i</sup> By affliction thou kepest me as in a prison, & restraynest me from doing euil, neither can any set me at libertie.
<sup>k</sup> In these eight verses following he describeth the mercie of God in the wonderful creation of man: & thereo growdeth that God shulde not shew him self rigorous against him.
<sup>m</sup> That is, reason and vnderstanding, and many other giftes whereby man excelleth all earthlie creatures.

I wil say vnto God, <sup>c</sup> Condene me not: shewe me, wherefore thou contendest with me.

<sup>8</sup> Thine <sup>k</sup> hands haue made me, and fashioned me wholly rounde about, & wilt thou destroye me?

<sup>9</sup> Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made me as <sup>l</sup> the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust againe?

<sup>16</sup> But let it increase: hunt thou me as a lyon: returne & shewe thy self <sup>q</sup> maruelous vpon me.

<sup>o</sup> Though I be not fully able to comprehend these things, yet I must nedes confesse that it is so.

<sup>18</sup> Wherefore the hast thou brought me out of the wombe? Oh that I had perished, and that none eye had sene me!

<sup>22</sup> Into a lad, I say, darke as darkenes it self, & into the shadow of death, where is none <sup>w</sup> order, but the light is there as darkenes.

CHAP. XI.

<sup>f</sup> That is, without vnderstanding: so that whatsoever gifte he hath afterwarde, come of God and not of nature.
<sup>h</sup> Renounce thine owne euil workes, and se that they offend not God, vnto whome thou hast charge.
<sup>i</sup> He declareth what quietnes of conscience and successe in all things suche shal haue, which turne to God by true repentance.

<sup>t</sup> He speaketh thus in y person of a sinner, that is overcome with passions & y the feeling of Gods iudgements, & therefore can not apprehend in y state the mercies of God & comfort of the resurrection.
<sup>u</sup> No distinction betwene light and darkenes, but where all is verie darkenes is self.

<sup>b</sup> He chargeth Iob with this, that he shulde say, that the thing, which he spake, was true, and that he was without sinne in y sight of God.
<sup>c</sup> Which is, not to stand in iustifying of himself: he signifieth that man wil neuer be ouercome, while he reasoneth with another, and therefore God must breake of the controuersie, and stop mans mouth.
<sup>d</sup> That is, this perfection of God, & if man be not able to comprehend the height of the heauens, the depth of hel, the length of the earth, the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures: how can he attaine to the perfection of the Creator?
<sup>e</sup> If God shulde turne the face of things, and establish a newe ordre in nature, who coulde controule him?

without spot, and shalt be stable, & shalt not feare.

16 But thou shalt forget thy miserie, and remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shall appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou shalt shine and be as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be bolde, because there is hope: and thou shalt dig pittes, and shalt lye downe safely.

Leuit. 26. 5.

19 *For when thou takest thy rest, none shall make thee afraied: yea, manie shall make sute vnto thee.

He sheweth that contrarie things shal come vnto them that do not repent.

20 But the eyes <sup>k</sup> of the wicked shal faile, and their refuge shal perish, and their hope shal be sorowe of minde.

CHAP. XII.

1 Job accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 He declareth the might, and power of God, 17 And how he chaungeth the course of things.

Then Job answered, and said,

In dede because that ye are the people onely, <sup>a</sup> wisdom must dye with you.

3 But I haue vnderstanding as wel as you, & am not inferior vnto you: yea, who knoweth not suche things?

4 I am <sup>b</sup> as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and he <sup>c</sup> heareth him: the iuste and the vpright is laughed to scorne.

5 He that is ready to fall, is as a lampe despised in the opinion of the riche.

6 The tabernacles of robbers do prosper, and they are in sauety, that prouoke God, whome God hath enriched with his hand.

7 Aske now the beastes, <sup>e</sup> and they shall teache thee, and the fowles of the heauen, and they shall tel thee:

8 Or speake to the earth, and it shall shewe thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall declare vnto thee.

9 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

10 In whose hand is the soule of euerie liuing thing, and the breath of all <sup>f</sup> mankinde.

11 Doeth not the eares <sup>f</sup> discern the wordes? and the mouth taste meat for it self?

12 Among the <sup>g</sup> ancient is wisdom, and in the length of dayes is vnderstanding.

13 With him is wisdom and strength: he hath counsel and vnderstanding.

14 Beholde, he wil breake downe, and it can not be buyt: he shutteth a man vp, and he can not be losed.

15 Beholde, he withholdeth the waters, and thei drye vp: but when he sendeth the out, they destroye the earth.

He exhorteth them to be wise in iudging, and as wel to know the right vse why God hath given them eares, as he hath done a mouth. <sup>g</sup> Though men by age, and continuance of time attaine to wisdom, yet it is not comparable to Gods wisdom, nor able to comprehend his iudgements, wherein he answereth to that, which was alledged, Chap 2. 8.

16 With him is strength and wisdom: he that is deceiued, and that <sup>h</sup> deceiueth, are his.

17 He causeth the counselors to go as spoiled, and maketh the iudges fooles.

18 He loseth <sup>k</sup> the collar of Kings, and girdeth their loines with a girdle.

19 He leadeth away the princes as a pray, & overthroweth the mightie.

20 He taketh away the speache from the <sup>l</sup> faithful counselors, & taketh away the iudgement of the ancient.

21 He powreth cōtempt vpon princes and maketh the strength of the mightie weak.

22 He discouereth the depe places from their darkenes, & bringeth forth the shadowe of death to light.

23 He <sup>m</sup> increaseth the people, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, & bringeth them in againe.

24 He taketh away the hearts of them that are the chief ouer the people of the earth, and maketh them to wader in the wilderness out of the way.

25 They grope in the darke without light: & he maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Job compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16 The penitent shall be saved, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 He prayeth vnto God that he wolde not handle him rigorously.

1 O, mine eye hath seene all this: mine eare hath heard, and vnderstand it.

2 I knowe also as much as you knowe: I am not inferior vnto you.

3 But I wil speake to the Almighty, and I desire <sup>a</sup> to dispute with God.

4 For in dede ye forge lyes, and all you are <sup>b</sup> phisicians of no value.

5 Oh, that you wolde holde your tongue, that it might be imputed to you for wisdom!

6 Now heare my disputation, and giue eare to the arguments of my lippes.

7 Wil ye speake <sup>c</sup> wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

8 Wil ye accept his persone? or wil ye contend for God?

9 Is it wel <sup>y</sup> he shulde seke of you? wil you make a lye for him, as one lyeth for a man?

10 He wil surely reprove you, if ye do secretly accept anie persone.

11 Shal not his excellencie make you afraid? and his feare fall vpon you?

12 Your <sup>d</sup> memories may be cōpared vnto ashes, and your bodies to bodies of claye.

13 Holde your tongues in my presencc, that I may speake, and let come vpon what wil.

14 Wherefore do I <sup>e</sup> take my flesh in my tethe, and put my soule in mine hand?

15 Lo, though he slay me, yet wil I trust in him, and I wil reprove my wayes in his sight.

h He sheweth that there is nothing done in this worlde without Gods wil, and ordinance: for els he shulde not be almightie. i He taketh wisdom fro them. k He abateth the honour of princes, and bringeth them into the subiectio of others. l He causeth that their wordes haue no credit, which is when he wil punish sinne. m In this discourse of Gods wonderful workes Job sheweth that whatsoever is done in this worlde, bothe in <sup>y</sup> order and change of things is by Gods wil and appointment: wherein he declareth that he thinketh wel of God, and is as able to set forth his power in wordes as they that reasoned against, were. Chap XIII. a For as much as he knewe that God had a iustice, & was manifest in his ordinarie working, and another in his secret counsel, yet he wolde utter his affliction to God, because he was not able to vnderstand the cause why he did thus punish him. b You do not wel applye your medicine to the disease. c He cōdemneth their zeale & had not knowledge, neither regarded they to comfort him, but alwaies grated on Gods iustice, as though it was not evidently seene in Job, except they had vnderstande the probation thereof. d Your fame shal come to nothing. e Is not this a manifest signification of mine affliction, and that I do not complain without cause, seeing I am thus tormented although I shulde teare mine owne flesh, & put my life in danger?

Whereby he declareth that he is not an hypocrite as they charged him. g This is, cleared, and not cast of for my sinnes, as you reason. h To proue God doeth thus punish me for my sinnes. i If I defend not my cause, curie mā will condemne me. k He sheweth what these two things are. l His pangs thus moue him to reason wth God, not denying, but that he had sinned: but he desired to vnderstand what were his great sinnes. m Thou punishest me now for the fautes that I committed in my youth. n Thou makest me thy prisoner, and doest so presse me that I can not stirre hād nor fore. o Elu. 30. 16 He shal be my saluation also: for the hypocrite shal not come before him. 17 Heare diligently my wordes, and marke my talke. 18 Beholde now: if I prepare me to iudgement, I knowe that I shal be iustified. 19 Who is he, that wil pleade wth me: for if I now holde my tongue, I dye. 20 But do not these two things vnto me: the wil I not hide my self from thee. 21 Withdrawe thine hand from me, and let not thy feare make me afraied. 22 Then call thou, and I wil answer: or let me speake, and answer thou me. 23 How manie are mine iniquities and sinnes: shewe me my rebellion, and my sinne. 24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and takest me for thineemie? 25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driuen to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the drye stubble? 26 For thou writest bitter things against me, and makest me to possesse the iniquities of my youth. 27 Thou puttest my fete also in the stocks, and lokest narrowly vnto all my paths, and makest the printe thereof in the heeles of my fete. 28 Suche one consumeth like a rotten thing, and as a garment that is motheaten.

CHAP. XIII.

MAn is borne of woman, is of short continuance, and ful of trouble. 2 He shooteth forth as a flowre, and is cut downe: he vanisheth also as a shadow, & continueth not. 3 And yet thou openest thine eyes vpon such one, and causest me to entre into iudgement with thee. 4 Who can bring a cleane thing out of filthines: there is not one. 5 Are not his dayes determined: the nōber of his moneths are with thee: thou hast appointed his boundes, which he can not passe. 6 Turne from him that he may cease vntil his desired day, as an hyreling. 7 For there is hope of a tre, if it be cut downe, that it wil yet sproute, and the branches thereof wil not cease. 8 Though y<sup>e</sup> rote of it waxe olde in the earth & the stocke thereof be dead in y<sup>e</sup> groude, yet by the sent of water it wil bud, and bring forth the bowes like a plant. 9 But man is sicke, and dyeth, & man perissheth, and where is he? 10 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decayeth and dryeth vp, so man slepeth and riseth not: for he shal not wake againe, nor be raised from his 13 Oh that thou woldest hide me in the graue, and kepe me secret, vntil thy wrath were past, and woldest giue me terme, and remember me. 14 If a man dye, shal he liue againe? All the dayes of mine appointed time wil I waite, til y<sup>e</sup> my changing shal come. 15 Thou shalt call me, and I shal answer thee: thou louest the worke of thine owne hands. 16 But now thou nombrest my steps, and doest not delay my sinnes. 17 Mine iniquitie is sealed vp, as in a bagge, and thou addest vnto my wickednes. 18 And surely as the mountaine that falleth, cometh to nought, and the rocke that is removed from his place: 19 As the water breaketh the stones, when thou ouerflowest the things which growe in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man. 20 Thou preuailest alway against him, so that he passeth away: he changeth his face when thou castest him away. 21 And he knoweth not if his sonnes shal be honorable, nether shal he vnderstand concerning thē, whether they shal be of lowe degre, 22 But while his flesh is vpon him, he shal be sorowful, and while his soule is in him, it shal mourne.

CHAP. XV.

Eliphaz reprehendeth Iob, because he ascribeth wisdom, and purenes to him self. 16 He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, rekonig Iob to be one of the number.

Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said, 2 Shal a wise mā speake wordes of the winde, and fil his belly with the East winde? 3 Shal he dispute with wordes not comely, or with talke that is not profitable? 4 Surely thou hast cast of feare, and restrainest prayer before God. 5 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquitie, seing thou hast chosen the tongue of the crafty. 6 Thine one mouth condemneth thee, and not I, and thy lippes testifie against thee. 7 Art thou the first man, that was borne: and wast thou made before the hills? 8 Hast thou heard the secret counsell of God, and doest thou restraine wisdom to thee? 9 What knowest thou that we knowe not: and vnderstandest that is not in vs? 10 With vs are borne ancient and very aged men, farre older then thy father. 11 Some the consolations of God & smile vnto thee: is this thing strange vnto thee?

e Hereby he declareth that the feare of Gods iudgement was the cause why he desired to dye. f That is, release my peines and take me to mercie. g Meaning, vnto the day of the resurrection, whē he shulde be changed, & renewed. h Though I be afflicted in this life, yet in the resurrection I shal see thy mercies, and answer when thou callest me. i Thou layest thē all together & suffrest none of my sinnes unpunished. k He murmureth through y<sup>e</sup> impacience of y<sup>e</sup> flesh against God, as though he vied as great sinners against him as against y<sup>e</sup> hard rockes, or waters ouerflowe, for that hereby all the occasion of his hope is taken away. l Yet whiles he liueth, he shal be in peine & miserie.

a That is, vaine wordes, & without consolation? b Meaning, matters that are of none importace, which are forgotten as soon as they are vttered, as the East winde drieth vp the moisture as soon as it falleth. c He chargeth Iob as though his talke caused me to cast of the feare of God & prayer. d Thou speakest as do the mockers, and contemners of God. e That is, the moste ancient, and so by reason the moste wise? f Are thou only wise? g He accuseth Iob of pride, and ingratitude, y<sup>e</sup> will not be comforted by God, nor by their counsel.

Why doeth thine heart take thee away, and what do thine eyes meane,
 That thou answerest to God " at thy pleasure, and bringest suche wordes out of thy mouth?
 What is man, that he shulde be cleane? and he that is borne of woman, that he shulde be iust?
 Beholde, he founde no stedfastnes in his Saintes: yea, the heauens are not cleane in his sight.
 How muche more is man abominable, & filthie, which drinketh iniquitie like water?
 I wil tel thee: heare me, and I wil declare that which I haue seene:
 Which wise men haue tolde, as they haue heard of their fathers, and haue not kept it secret:
 To whome alone the land was giuen & no stranger passed through them.
 The wicked man is continually as one that trauellet of childe, and the number of yeres is hid from the tyrant.
 A sound of feare is in his eares, & in his prosperitie y destroyer shal come vpon him.
 He beleueth not to retorne out of darkenes: for he seeth the sworde before him.
 He wadeth to and fro for bread where he may: he knoweth that the day of darkenes is prepared at hand.
 Affliction and anguish shal make him afraid: they shal preuaile against him as a King ready to the battell.
 For he hathe stretched out his hand against God, and made him self strong against the Almightye.
 Therefore God shal runne vpon him, euen vpon his necke, & against the moste thicke part of his shield.
 Because he hathe couered his face with his fatnes, & hathe collopes in his flacke.
 Though he dwel in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes,
 He shal not be riche, nether shal his substance continue, nether shal he prolong the perfection thereof in the earth.
 He shal neuer departe out of darkenes: y flame shal drye vp his branches, & he shal go away with the breath of his mouth.
 He beleueth not that he erreth in vanitie: therefore vanitie shalbe his change.
 His branche shal not be grene, but shalbe cut of before his day.
 God shal destroy him as the vine her sower grape, and shal cast him of, as the oliue doeth her flowre.
 For the congregation of the hypocrite shalbe desolate, & fyre shal deuoure the houses of bribes.
 As one that gathereth grapes before they be ripe, which were buylt or maintained by

For thei conceiue mischief and bring forth the vanitie, & their bellie hathe prepared deceite.
 CHAP. xvi.
 Iob moued by the importunacie of his friends, 7 Counteth in what extremite he is, 19 And taketh God witness of his innocencie.
 Vt Iob answered, and said,
 I haue oft times heard suche things: miserable comforters are ye all.
 Shal there be none of wordes of a winde? or what maketh thee bolde so to answer?
 I colde also speake as ye do: (but wolde God your soule were in my soules stead) I colde kepe you companie in speaking, and colde shake mine head at you,
 But I wolde strengthen you with my mouth, and the comfort of my lips shulde aswage your sorowe.
 Though I speake, my sorowe can not be aswaged: though I cease, what release haue I?
 But now he maketh me weary: God, thou hast made all my congregation desolate,
 And hast made me ful of wrinkles which is a witnes thereof, and my leannes riseth vp in me, testifying the same in my face.
 His wrath hathe torne me, and he hateth me, & gnasheth vpon me with his teeth: mineemie hathe sharpened his eies against me.
 They haue opened their mouthes vpon me, & smitten me on the cheke in reproche: they gather the selues together against me.
 God hathe deliuered me to the vniust, and hathe made me to turne out of the way by the hands of the wicked.
 I was in welth, but he hathe brought me to nought: he hathe taken me by the necke, and beaten me, and set in me as a marke for him self.
 His archers compasse me round about: he cutteth my reines, & doeth not spare, and powreth my gall vpon the grounde.
 He hathe broken me with one breaking vpon another, and runneth vpon me like a gyant.
 I haue sowed a sackcloth vpon my skin, and haue abased mine home vnto the dust.
 My face is withered with weping, & the shadow of death is vpon mine eies, Though there be no wickednes in mine hands, and my prayer be pure.
 O earth, couer not thou my blood, and let my crying finde no place.
 For lo, now my witness is in the heauen, and my record is on hie.

1 Job sayth that he consumeth away, and yet doeth patiently abide it. 10 He exhorteth his friends to repentance, 13 Shewing that he looketh but for death.

1 MY breath is corrupt: my daies are cut off, and the graue is ready for me. 2 There are none but <sup>a</sup> mockers with me, and mine eye continueth in <sup>b</sup> their bitterness. 3 Laye downe now and put me in suretie for thee: who is he, that <sup>d</sup> wil touche mine hand? 4 For thou hast hid their heart from <sup>e</sup> vnderstanding: therefore shalt thou not set them vpon me. 5 For the eyes of his children shal faile, that speaketh flaterie to his friends. 6 He hath also made me a <sup>s</sup> byworde of the people, and I am as a tabret <sup>h</sup> before them. 7 Mine eye therefore is dim for grief, and all my strength is like a shadowe. 8 The righteous shal be astonied at <sup>i</sup> this, and the innocent shalbe moued against the hypocrite. 9 But the righteous wil holde his <sup>k</sup> waye, and he whose hands are pure, shal increase his strength. 10 All <sup>l</sup> you therefore turne you, and come now, and I shal not finde one wise among you. 11 My dayes are past, mine enterprises are broken, and the thoughts of mine heart 12 Haue changed the <sup>m</sup> night for the day, and the light that approched, for darkenes. 13 Thogh I hope, yet the graue shalbe mine house, and I shal make my bed in the darke. 14 I shal say to corruption, Thou art my father, and to the worme, Thou art my mother and my sister.

15 Where is then now mine hope? or who shal consider the thing, that I hoped for? 16 They shal go downe into the bottome of the pit: surely it shal lye together in the dust.

9 He hath spoiled me of mine honour, & taken the crowne away from mine head.
10 He hath destroyed me on euery side & I am gone: & he hath remoued mine hope like a tre.
11 And he hath killed his wrath against me, and counteth me as one of his enemies.
12 His armies came together, and made their way vpon me, & camped about my tabernacle.
13 He hath remoued my brethren farre from me, and also mine acquaintance were strangers vnto me.
14 My neighbours haue forsaken me, and my familiars haue forgotten me.
15 They that dwel in mine house, and my maides toke me for a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight.
16 I called my seruant, but he wolde not answer, though I praied him with my mouth.
17 My breath was strange vnto my wife, though I praied her for the childrens sake of mine owne body.
18 The wicked also despised me, & when I rose, they spake against me.
19 All my secret friends abhorred me, & thei whome I loued, are turned against me.
20 My bone cleaueth to my skin & to my flesh, and I haue escaped with the skinne of my tethe.
21 Haue pitie vpon me: haue pitie vpon me, (O ye my friends) for the had of God hath touched me.
22 Why do ye persecute me, as God and are not satisfied with my flesh?
23 Oh that my wordes were now written: oh that thei were written euen in a booke!
24 And grauen with pan yron pene in lead, or in stone for euer.
25 For I am sure, that my Redemer liueth, and he shal stand the last on the earth.
26 And though after my skin wormes destroy this bodie, yet shal I se God in my flesh.
27 Whome I my self shal se, and mine eies shal beholde, and no other for me, though my reines are consumed within me.
28 But ye said, Why is he persecuted? And there was a depe matter in me.
29 Be ye afraid of the sworde: for y sworde wil be tauenged of wickednes, that ye may know that there is a iudgement.

CHAP. XX.

Zophar sheweth, that the wicked and the couetous shal be pericured of God for his sinnes, yet he declareth that there was a deeper consideration: to wit, the trial of his faith & patience, and so to be an example for others. t God wil be reuenged of this hastie iudgement, whereby you condemne me.

haue a short end, as Though for a time they flourish.
The answered Zophar the Naamathite
and said,
Douteles my thoughts cause me to answer, and therefore I make haste.
I haue heard the correction of my reproche: therefore y spirit of mine vnderstanding causeth me to answer.
Knowest thou not this of olde? & since God placed man vpon the earth?
That the reioycing of the wicked is shorte, & that the ioye of hypocrites is but a moment?
Though his excellencie mounte vp to the heauen, and his head reache vnto the cloudes, Yet shal he perish for euer, like his dung, and they which haue sene him, shal say, Where is he?
He shal flee away as a dreame, & thei shal not finde him, and shal passe away as a vision of the night.
So that the eye which had sene him, shal do so no more, and his place shal se him no more.
His children shal flatter the poore, and his hands shal restore his substance.
His bones are ful of the sinne of his youth, & it shal lye downe with him in the dust.
Whē wickednes was swete in his mouth, & he hid it vnder his tongue,
And fauoured it, and wolde not forsake it, but kept it close in his mouth,
Then his meat in his bowels was turned: the gall of aspes was in the middes of hi.
He hath deuoured substance, and he shal vomit it: for God shal drawe it out of his belly.
He shal sucke the gall of aspes, and the vipers tongue shal slaye him.
He shal not se the riuers, nor the floods & streames of hony and butter.
He shal restore y labour, & shal deuoure nomore: euen according to the substance shal be his exchange, and he shal enioye it nomore.
For he hath vndone manie: he hath forsaken the poore, & hath spoiled houses which he buylded not.
Surely he shal feele no quietnes in his body, neither shal he reserue of that which he desired.
There shal none of his meat be left: therefore none shal hope for his goods.
Whē he shal be filled with his abundance, he shal be in paine, & the hand of all the wicked shal assaile him.
He shal be about to fil his belly, but God shal send vpo hi his scarce wrath, & shal cause to raine vpo him, euen vpo his meat.
He shal flee from the yron weapons, and the bowe of stele shal strike him through.

Ll. iiii.

m Some read, vpon his flesh, alluding to Job, whose flesh was smitten with a scabbe.

a He declared that two things moued him to speake: to wit, because Job seemed to trouble him, & because he thought he had knowledge insufficient to confute him.
b His purpose is to proue Job to be a wicked man, & an hypocrite, because God punished him, and changed his prosperitie into aduersitie.
c Where as father through ambition & tyrannie oppressed the poore, the children through power & miserie shal seke fauour at y pore.
d So that the thing, which he hath taken away by violence, shal be restored againe by force.
e Meaning, that he shal carry nothing away with him, but his sinne.
f As payson y is swete in the mouth bringeth destruction, when it cometh into y body: so all vice at y first is pleasant, but afterward God turneth it to destruction.
g He compareth euil gotten goods to y venom of aspes, which serpent is most dangerous: noting that Jobs great riches were not truly come by, & therefore God did plague him lustily for the same.
h Though God giue to all other abundance of his blessings, yet he shal haue no parte thereof.
i That is, these raueners & spoilers of y poore shal enioye their theft but for a time: for after God wil take it from them and cause the to make restitution, so y it is but an exchange.
k He shal leaue nothing to his posteritie.
l The wicked shal neuer be in rest: for one wicked man shal seke to destroy another.

The prosperitie of the wicked.

a Some read, of q quier.
o All feare & sorow shal light vpon him, when he thinketh to escape.
p That is, fyre from heauen, or q fyre of Gods wrath.

q Meaning, q children of q wicked shal flowe away like riuers and be disperfed in diuers places.
r Thus God wil plague the wicked.
s Against God, thinking to excuse him selfe and to escape Gods hand.

a Your diligent marking of my wordes shalbe to me a great consolation.

b As though he wolde say, I do not talke with man, but with God, who wil not answer me, & therefore my minde must needs be troubled.

c He chargeth them as though they were not able to cōprehēd this his feeling of Gods iudgement, & exhorteth the wherefore to silence.

d Iob prophēt against his aduersaries that God punisheth not straight waies the wicked, but oft times giueth the long life, and prosperitie: so that we must not iudge God iuste or vniust by the things that appeare to our eye.

e They haue store of children, lustie & helthful, & in these pointes he answereth to that which Zophar alledged before.

f Not being tormented with long sickenes.

g They desire nothing more the to be except from all subiection that they shulde beare to God: this Iob sheweth his aduersaries, q if they reason onely by q which is sene by cōmune experience, q wicked that hate God, are better delt with all, then they that loue him.

h It is not their owne but God onely lendeth it vnto them.

i God kepe me from their prosperitie.

25 The arrowe is drawen out, and cometh forth of the a body, and shineth of his gall, so feare cometh vpon him.

26 o All darkenes shalbe hid in his secret places: the fyre that is not p blown, shal deuoure him, and that which remaineth in his tabernacle, shalbe destroyed.

27 The heauen shal declare his wickednes, and the earth shal rise vpon against him.

28 The increase of his house shal go away: it shal flowe away in the day of his wrath.

29 This is the porcion of the wicked man from r God, & the heritage that he shal haue of God for his s wordes.

CHAP. XXI.

7 Iob declareth how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proude, 15 In so muche that they blaspheme God.

16 Their destruction is at hand. 23 None ought to be iudged wicked for affliction, nether good for prosperitie.

B Ut Iob answered, and said, 2 Heare diligently my wordes, and this a shalbe in stead of your consolations.

3 Suffre me, that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.

4 Do I direct my talke to man? If it b were so, how shulde not my spirit be troubled?

5 Marke me, and be abashed, and lay your hand vpon your c mouth.

6 Euen when I remember, I am afraied, & feare taketh holde on my flesh.

7 Wherefore do the wicked d liue, and waxe olde, and growe in welth?

8 Their sede is established in their sight with them, and their generacion before their eies.

9 Their houses are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.

10 Their bullocke gendreth, & faileth not: their cowe calueth, and casteth not her calfe.

11 They send forth the their children e like shepe, and their sonnes dance.

12 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the sounde of the organs.

13 They spend their daies in welth, and suddenly f they go downe to the graue.

14 They say also vnto God, Depart fro vs: for we desire not the g knowledge of thy waies.

15 Who is the Almighty, that we shulde serue him? and what profite shulde we haue, if we shulde pray vnto him?

16 Lo, their welth is not in their hand: h therefore let the counsel of the wicked i be farre from me.

17 How oft shal the candel of the wicked be put out? and their destruction come vpon them? he wil deuide their liues in his wrath.

18 They shal be as stubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the storme caryeth away.

19 God will lay vpon the sorow of the father for his children: when he rewardeth him, he shal knowe it.

20 k His eies shal see his destruction, and he shal drinke of the wrath of q Almighty.

21 For what pleasure hathe he in his house after him, when the number of his moneths is cut off?

22 Shal any teache l God knowledge, who iudgeth the highest things?

23 One m dyeth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie.

24 His breasts are full of milke, and his bones runne full of marowe.

25 And another n dyeth in the bitterness of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.

26 They shal slepe bothe in o the dust, and the wormes shal couer them.

27 Beholde, I know your thoghts, and the enterprises, p wherewith ye do me wrong.

28 For ye say, Where is the princes r house? and where is the tabernacle of the wicked dwelling?

29 May ye not q aske the that go by q way? and ye can not denie their signes.

30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of r destruction, & they shal be brought forth to the day of wrath.

31 Who shal declare his waie s to his face? and who shal rewarde him for that he hathe done?

32 Yet shal he be brought to the graue, and remaine in the heape.

33 The t slimie valley shalbe swete vnto hi, and euerie man shal drawe after him, as before him there were innumerable.

34 How the comfort u ye me in vaine, seig in your answers there remaine but lyes?

CHAP. XXII.

2 Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his sinnes. 6 He accuseth him of vnmmercifulnes, 13 And that he denied Gods providence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance.

T Hen Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and said,

2 May a man be a profitable vnto God, as he that is wise, may be profitable to him selfe?

3 \ Is it any thing vnto the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy wayes vp-right?*

4 *Is it for feare b of thee that he wil accuse thee? or go with thee in to iudgement?*

5 Is not thy wickednes great, & thine iniquities innumerable?

6 *For thou hast taken the c pledge from thy brother for nought, and spoiled the clothes of the naked.*

7 To suche as were weary, thou hast not giuen water to drinke, and hast withdrawn bread from the hungrie.

8 But

k When God recompenseth his wickednes, he shal knowe q his prosperitie was but vaine.
l Whosendeth to the wicked prosperitie, & punisheth the godlie.
m Meaning, the wicked.
n To wit, the godlie.
o As concerning their bedes: and this he speaketh according to q cōmune iudgement.
p Thus he called Iobs house in derision, concluding q it was destroyed because he was wicked.
q Which through long trauailing haue experience & tokens here of, to wit, that the wicked do prosper & the godlie lye in affliction.
r Though the wicked flourish here, yet God wil punish hi in the last day.
s Though men do flatter him, and honor dare reprove him in this worlde, yet death is a toke that God wil bring him to an account.
t He shal be glad to lie in a slimie pit, before cold: not be content with a royal palace.
u Saying, that the iust in this worlde haue prosperitie & wicked aduersitie.

a Though men were iuste, yet God coulde haue no profite of this his iustice: and therefore when he punisheth him, he hath no regard to his iustice, but to his sinne.

b Let q shaldest reprove or hurt him?

c Thou hast bene cruel and without charitie, & wouldest do nothing for the poore, but for thine owne advantage.

When thou wast in power and autoritie, thou didst not iudice, but wrong. Thou hast not onely not shewed pittie, but oppressed them. That is, manifold afflictions. He accuseth Iob of impietie & contemp of God, as though he wolde say, If thou passe not for men, yet consider the height of Gods maiestie. That so much the more by that excellent worke y maist feare God and reuerence him. He reproveth Iob as though he denied Gods providence, and that he wolde not see things that were done in this worlde. How God hath punished them from the beginning. The prouerbs Gods providence by the punishment of the wicked, whome he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe. He answereth to that, which Iob had said Chap. xii. 7 that the wicked haue prosperie in this worlde: desiring that he might not be partaker of y like. The iust reioyce at the destruction of the wicked for two causes: first, because God sheweth him self iudge of the worlde, & by this meanes continueth his honour and glorie: secondly, because God sheweth that he hath the ouer his enemies. That is, the state and preservation of y polie is hid vnder Gods wings. Meaning, of the wicked. He exhorteth Iob to repentance and to returne to God. God wil restore vnto thee all thy substance. Which shalbe in abundance like dust. That is, the fauour of God. God wil deliuer his when the wicked are destroyed rounde about them, as in the flood and in Sodom. God wil deliuer a whole countrey from perill, for the iuste mans sake.

8 But the mightie man <sup>d</sup> had the earth, and he that was in autoritie, dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast cast out widowes emptie, and the armes of <sup>e</sup> the fatherles were broken.

10 Therefore snares are rounde about thee, and feare shal sodenly trouble thee:

11 Or darkenes that thou shuldest not fe, and <sup>f</sup> abudance of waters shal couer thee.

12 Is not God on <sup>g</sup> hie in the heauen? & beholde the height of the <sup>h</sup> starres how hie they are.

13 But thou saiest, How shulde God <sup>i</sup> know? can he iudge through the darke cloude?

14 The cloudes hide him that he can not se, and he walketh in the circle of heauen.

15 Hast thou marked the way of <sup>j</sup> y worlde, wherein wicked men haue walked?

16 Which were <sup>k</sup> cut downe before the time, whose fundacion <sup>was</sup> is a riuer that overflowed:

17 Which said vnto God, Depart from vs, and asked what the Almighty colde do for them.

18 Yet he <sup>m</sup> filled their houses with good things: but let the counsel of the wicked be farre from me.

19 The righteous shal se them, and shal reioyce, <sup>n</sup> and the innocent shal laugh them to scorne.

20 Surely <sup>o</sup> our substance is hid: but the fyre hath deuoured the remnant of <sup>p</sup> them.

21 Therefore acquaint thy self, I pray thee, with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt haue prosperitie.

22 Receiue, I pray thee, the law of his mouth, and laie vp his wordes in thine heart.

23 If thou returne to the Almighty, thou shalt <sup>r</sup> be buylt vp, & thou shalt put iniquitie farre from thy tabernacle.

24 Thou shalt lay vp golde for <sup>s</sup> dust, and the golde of Ophir, as the flints of the riuers.

25 Yea, the Almighty shalbe thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of siluer.

26 And thou shalt the delite in the Almighty, and lift vp thy face vnto God.

27 Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, and he shal heare thee, and thou shalt rendre thy vowes.

28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, & he shal establish it vnto thee, and the <sup>t</sup> light shal shine vpon thy waies.

29 When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shal saue the humble persone.

30 The innocent shal deliuer the <sup>x</sup> yland, and it shalbe preserued by the purenes of thine hands.

<sup>8</sup> Beholde, if I go to the East, he is not therewith to the West, yet I can not perceiue him:

<sup>9</sup> If to the North where he worketh, yet I can not se him: he wil hide him self in the South, and I can not beholde him.

<sup>10</sup> But he knoweth my <sup>f</sup> way, and tryeth me, and I shal come forth like the golde.

Mm.i.

<sup>a</sup> He sheweth the iuste cause of his complaining, & as touching that Elphaz had exhorted him to returne to God, chap. 22. 21, he declareth that he desireth nothing more: but he seemeth that God wolde not be foude of him. <sup>b</sup> Vnto his absolute power & saying, Because I am God, I may do what I wil. <sup>c</sup> Of his mercie he wolde giue me power to answer him. <sup>d</sup> When he of his mercie hath giuen strength to mainteine their cause. <sup>e</sup> Meaning, y if he consider Gods iustice, he is not able to copehede his iudgements on what side or parte soeuer he turneth him self. <sup>f</sup> God hath this preeminence about me that he knoweth my way: to wit, that I am innocent, and I am not able to iudge of his workes: he sheweth also his confidence, that God doeth visite him for his profite. <sup>g</sup> His worde is more precious vnto me, then the meat wherewith the bodie is sustained.

<sup>a</sup> Thus Iob speaketh in his passions and after the iudgement of the flesh: that is, y he seeth not the things that are done at times, neither yet hath a peculiar reason ouer all, because he punisheth not the wicked, nor reuengeth the godlie.

thei neuer cease sinning, til thei come to the graue. u Thogh God suffer the wicked for a time, yet their end shal be moste vile destruction, & in this point Iob cometh to him self and sheweth his confidence. x He sheweth why the wicked shal not be lamented, because he did not pitie others. y He declareth that after that the wicked haue destroyed the weakest, thei wil do like to the stronger, and therefore are iustly preuened by Gods iudgements.

- 4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide them selues together.
- 5 Beholde, others as wilde asses in the wildernes, go forth to their busines, and rise early for a pray: the wildernes giueth him & his children fode.
- 6 They reape his prouisiō in the field, but thei gather the late & vitage of the wicked.
- 7 Thei cause the naked to lodge without garment, & without couering in the colde.
- 8 They are wet with the shoures of the mountaines, and thei imbrace the rocke for want of a couering.
- 9 They plucke the fatherles fro the breast, and take the pledge of the poore.
- 10 They cause him to go naked without clothing, and take the gleining from the hungrie.
- 11 Thei y make oyle betwene their walles, and treade their winepresses, suffer thirst.
- 12 Me crye out of the citie, & the soules of the slayne crye out: yet God doeth not charge them with follie.
- 13 These are thei, that abhorre the light: thei knowe not the waies thereof, nor continue in the paths thereof.
- 14 The murderer riseth early & killeth the poore and the nedie: and in the night he is as a thefe.
- 15 The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, and saith, None eye shal se me, and disguiseth his face.
- 16 Thei digge through houses in the darke, which they marked for them selues in the day: they knowe not the light.
- 17 But the morning is euen to them as the shadow of death: if one knowe the, they are in the terrours of the shadowe of death.
- 18 He is swift vpon the waters: their portion shalbe cursed in the earth: he wil not beholde the way of the vineyardes.
- 19 As the drye grounde & heat consume the snowe waters, so shal the graue the sinners.
- 20 The pitiful man shal forget him: the worme shal fele his sweetnes: he shalbe no more remēbred, & the wicked shalbe broken like a tre.
- 21 He doeth euil intreat the baren, that doeth not beare, nether doeth he good to the widowe.
- 22 He draweth also y mightie by his power, & whē he riseth vp, none is sure of life.
- 23 Thogh men giue him assurance to be in sauetie, yet his eyes are vpon their wayes.
- 24 Thei are exalted for a litle, but thei are gone, and are brought lowe as all others: thei are destroyed, and cut of as the top of an eare of corne.

- 25 But if it be not so, where is he? or who wil proue me a lyer, & make my wordes of no value?

CHAP. XXV.

Bildad proueth that no man is cleane nor without sinne before God.

- 1 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, & said,
- 2 Power & feare is with him, that maketh peace in his hie places.
- 3 Is there any number in his armies? & vpo whome shal not his light arise?
- 4 And how may a man be iustified with God? or how can he be cleane, that is borne of woman?
- 5 Beholde, he wil giue no light to the moone, and the starres are vncleane in his sight.
- 6 How muche more man, a worme, euē the sonne of man, which is but a worme?

CHAP. XXVI.

Iob sheweth that man can not helpe God, & proueth it by his miracles.

- 1 But Iob answered, and said,
- 2 Whome helpest thou? him that hathe no power? sauest thou the arme that hathe no strength?
- 3 Whome counselest thou? him that hathe no wisdom? thou shewest right wel as the thing is.
- 4 To whome doest y declare these wordes? or whose spirit cometh out of thee?
- 5 The dead things are formed vnder the waters, and nere vnto them.
- 6 The graue is naked before him, & there is no couering for destruction.
- 7 He stretcheth out the North ouer the emptie place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.
- 8 He bindeth the waters in his cloudes, and the cloude is not broken vnder them.
- 9 He holdeth backe the face of his throne: and spreadeth his cloude vpon it.
- 10 He hath set bondes about the waters, vntil the day and night come to an end.
- 11 The pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reprove.
- 12 The sea is calme by his power, & by his vnderstanding he smiteth y pride thereof.
- 13 His Spirit hathe garnished the heauē, & his hand hathe formed y crooked forpēt.
- 14 Lo, these are parte of his wayes: but how litle a portion heare we of him, and who can vnderstand his feareful power?

CHAP. XXVII.

The constancie and perfines of Iob. 13 The rewards of the wicked and of the tyrants.

- 1 Moreouer Iob proceded and continued his parable, saying,

2 That is, that contrary to your reasoning no man can giue a perfite reason of Gods iudgements, let me be reprocured.
Chap XXV.
a. His purpose is to proue, y albeut God trye and asse the iuste, yet some after he sendeth prosperie, & because he did not so to Iob, he concluded that he is wicked.
b Who can hide him fro his presence? c That is, be iuste in respect of God? d If God shew his power, the moone & starres ca not haue that light, which is giuen the, muche lesse can man haue any excellēcie, but of God.
Chap XXVI.
a Thou couldest nothing: for neither y helpest me, I am destitute of all helpe, neither yet speakest sufficiently on Gods behalfe, who hath the no node of thy defence.
b But y doest not applie it to y purpose.
c That is, smuteth thee to speake this? d Iob beginneth to declare the force of Gods power & providence in the mines and metals in the depe places of the earth.
e There is nothing hid in y bottom of the earth, but he seeth it.
f Meaning, the graue wherein thijs putteth.
g He causeth y whole heauen to turne about y North pole.
h That is, he hideth y heauen, which is called his throne.
i So lōg as this worlde endureth. k Not that heauē hath pillars to vpholde it, but he speaketh by a similitude, as though he wolde say, The heauen it self is not able to abide his reproche. l Which is a figure of starres facioned like a serpent, because of the crookednes. m If these fewe things, which we se daily with our eyes, declare his great power and providence, how muche more wolde they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his workes?

1 The liuing God hath taken away my iudgement: for the Almighty hath put my soule in bitternes.

2 Yet so long as my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils,

3 My lips surely shall speake no wickednes, and my tongue shall utter no deceit.

4 God forbid, that I shoulde <sup>c</sup> iustifie you:
vntil I dye, I wil neuer take away mine innocencie from my self.

5 I wil kepe my righteousness, and wil not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprove me of my <sup>e</sup> dayes.

6 Mine enemy shall be as the wicked, & he that riseth against me, as the vnrighteous.

7 For what <sup>f</sup> hope hath the hypocrite when he hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his soule?

8 Wil God heare his crye, when trouble cometh vpon him?

9 Wil he set his delite on the Almighty?
wil he call vpon God at all times?

10 I wil teach you what is in <sup>g</sup> hand of God,
& I wil not conceile that which is with the Almighty.

11 Beholde, all ye your selues haue sene it:
why then do you thus vanish in vanities?

12 This is the <sup>k</sup> porcion of a wicked man with God, & the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receiue of the Almighty.

13 If his children be in great number, the sword shall destroy them, and his posteritie shall not be satisfied with bread.

14 His remnant shall be buried in death, & his widowes shall not wepe.

15 Though he shoulde heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare raiment as the clay,

16 He may prepare it, but the iuste shall put it on, and the innocent shall diuide <sup>l</sup> siluer.

17 He buyldeth his house as the <sup>m</sup> mothe, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

18 When the riche man slepeth, he shall not be gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

19 Terrours shall take him as waters, and a tempest shall carie him away by night.

20 The East wind shall take him away, & he shall departe: and it shall hurle him out of his place.

21 And God shall cast vpon him & not spare, though he wolde faine flee out of his hand.

22 Euerie man shall clap their hands at him, and hisse at him out of their place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Iob sheweth that the wisdom of God is vnsearchable.

1 The siluer surely hath his vaine, & the golde his place, where they take it.

2 Yron is taken out of the dust, and brasle is molten out of the stone.

3 God putteth an end to darknes, & he try-eth the perfectio of all things: he setteth a bode of darkenes, & of <sup>h</sup> shadow of death.

4 The flood breaketh out against the <sup>i</sup> inhabitant, and the waters <sup>d</sup> forgotten of the fore, being higher than the ma, are gone away.

5 Out of the same earth cometh <sup>e</sup> bread, & vnder it, as it were fyre is turned vp.

6 The stones thereof are a place <sup>f</sup> of sa-phirs, and the dust of it is golde.

7 There is a path which no foule hath known, nether hath the kites eye sene it.

8 The lions whelps haue not walked it, nor the lion passed thereby.

9 He putteth his hand vpon the <sup>g</sup> rockes, & ouerthroweth the mountaines by <sup>h</sup> rootes.

10 He breaketh riuers in the rockes, and his eye seeth euerie precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods, that they do not ouerflowe, & the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.

12 But where is wisdom founde <sup>i</sup> & where is the place of vnderstanding?

13 Man knoweth not <sup>j</sup> the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the liuing.

14 The depth saith, It is not in me: the sea also saith, It is not with me.

15 <sup>k</sup> Golde shall not be giuen for it, nether shall siluer be weighed for <sup>l</sup> price thereof.

16 It shall not be valued with the wedge of golde of Ophir, nor with the precious o-nix, nor the saphir.

17 The golde nor the cristall shall be equal vnto it, nor the exchange shall be for plate of fine golde.

18 No mention shall be made of coral, nor of the <sup>m</sup> gabish: for wisdom is more precious then perles.

19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not be equal vnto it, nether shall it be valued with the wedge of pure golde.

20 Whence then cometh wisdom? and where is the place of vnderstanding,

21 Seing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, & is hid fro the <sup>n</sup> soules of <sup>o</sup> heauē?

22 Destruction and death say, We haue heard the fame thereof with our eares.

23 But God vnderstandeth the <sup>p</sup> way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he beholdeth the ends of <sup>q</sup> worlde, & seeth all that is vnder heauen,

25 To make the weight of the windes, & to weight the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the raine, &
a way for the lightening of the thunders,

27 Then did he se it, and counted it: he prepared it and also considered it.

28 And vnto man he said, Beholde, <sup>r</sup> the feare of the Lord is wisdom, and to departe from euil is vnderstanding.

CHAP. XXIX.

Iob complaineth of the prosperitie of the time past.

1. 21. His autoritie. 22 Iustice and equitie.

1 SO Iob proceeded and continued his pa-sable, saying,

2 Oh that I were as <sup>s</sup> in times past, when God preserved me!

Mm.ii.

a He hath so fore afflicted me, that me ca not iudge of mine vprightnes: for they iudge onely by outward sig-
nes.

b How soeuer men iudge of me, yet wil I not speake cotrarie to that which I haue said, and so do wickedly in betraying the truth.

c Which cone What adu-tage hath the disssembler to gaue neuer so shall lose his owne soule?

f That is, what to him self, & whereof he giueth not the knowledge to all.

h That is, the secreet iudgements of God, and yet do not vnder-stand them.

i Why maintaine you this error?

k Thus wil God orde the wicked, & punish him, euen vnto his po-steritie.

l None shall lament him.

m Which bre-

ne shaken out.

n He meaneth that the wicked tyrantes shall not haue

o A quiet death, nor be buried honorably.

p His purpose is to declare that man may attaine in this worlde to di-uers secrets of nature, but mā is neuer able to comprehend the wisdom of God.

q There is nothing but it is coupled with in certeine liuings, & hath in eod, but Gods wisdom.

r Meaning him that dwelleth thereby.

a Which a mā can not wade through.

c That is, cor-ne, and vnder nethe is brimstone or cole, which easily conceiveth fy-re.

f He alludeth to the mines and secrets of nature, which are vnder the earth, where-into nether soules nor be-astes can entre.

g After that he hath declared the wis-dome of God in the secretes of nature, he describeth his power.

h Though Gods power, & wis-dome may be vnderstand in earthly thigs,
yet his heauēlie wisdom can not be attained vnto.

i It is to hie a thing for man to attaine vnto in this worl-de.

k It can nether be bought for golde, nor precious stones,
but is onely <sup>j</sup>
gift of God.

l Which is thought to be a kinde of precious stone.

m Meaning, <sup>j</sup> there is no natural meanes, whereby man might attaine to the heauenlie wisdomer which he mea-neth by the soules; that is, hie.

n He maketh
God onely <sup>j</sup> author of this wisdome, and the giuer thereof.

o He declareth that mā hath so much of this heauenlie wisdome, as he sheweth by feare of God, and departing from euil.

p Ebr. mensura
b. fore.

<sup>d</sup> By these similitudes he declareth the great prosperitie, that he was in, so that he had none occasion to be such a sinner as they accused him.

<sup>k</sup> That is, I did succour him, was in distress, and so he had cause to praise me.

<sup>l</sup> I delighted to do iustice as others did, so weare costely apparel.

When his <sup>a</sup> light shined vpon mine head: <sup>b</sup> when by his light I walked through the darkenes,

4 As I was in the dayes of my youth: when <sup>c</sup> Gods prouidence was vpon my tabernacle: 5 When the Almightye was yet with me, & my children rounde about me:

6 When I washed my paths <sup>d</sup> with butter, and when the rocke powred me out riuers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, <sup>e</sup> even to the iudgemēt seat, and when I caused them to prepare my seat in the strete.

8 The yong men sawe me, and <sup>f</sup> hid them selues, and the aged arose, and stode vp.

9 The princes stayed talke, and laied their hand on their <sup>g</sup> mouth.

10 The voyce of princes was hid, and their tongue cleaued to <sup>h</sup> y roofe of their mouth.

11 And when the <sup>i</sup> seare heard me, it blessed me: and when the <sup>j</sup> eye sawe me, it gaue witness to <sup>k</sup> me.

12 For I deliuered the <sup>l</sup> poore that cryed, and the fatherles, and him that had none to helpe him.

13 <sup>k</sup> The blessing of him that was ready to perish, came vpon me, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put <sup>l</sup> on iustice, and it couered me: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.

15 I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the fete to the lame.

16 I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knewe not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

17 I brake also the chawes of the vnrighteous man, and pluckt the praye out of his tethe.

18 Then I said, I shal dye in my <sup>m</sup> nest, and I shal multiplie my dayes as the sande.

19 For my roote is <sup>n</sup> in spred out by the water, and the dewe shal lye vpon my branche.

20 My glorie shal renue toward me, and my bowe shal be restored in mine hand.

21 Vnto me men gaue care, and waited, and helde their tongue at my counsel.

22 After my wordes they replied not, & my talke <sup>o</sup> dropped vpon them.

23 And they waited for me, as for the raine, and they opened their mouth <sup>p</sup> as for the latter raine.

24 If I <sup>q</sup> laughed on them, they beleued it not: nether did they cause the light of my countenance <sup>r</sup> to fall.

25 I appointed out <sup>s</sup> their way, and did sit as chief, and dwelt as a King in the armie, and like him that comforteth <sup>t</sup> y mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

Job complaineth that he is contemned of the moste contemptible, 11. 21. Because of his aduersitie and affliction. 23 Death is the house of all flesh.

BVt now they that are yonger then I, mocke me: yea, thei whose fathers I haue refused to set with the <sup>b</sup> dogges of my flockes.

2 For where to shulde the strength of their hands haue serued me, <sup>c</sup> seing age <sup>d</sup> perished in them?

3 For pouertie and famine they were solitarie, fleeing into the wildernes, which is darke, desolate and waste.

4 They cut vpon <sup>e</sup> nettels by the bushes, and the iuniper rootes was their meat.

5 Thei were <sup>f</sup> chased forth from among men: they showed at them, as at a thefe.

6 Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of riuers, in the holes of the earth and rockes.

7 They roared among the bushes, and vnder the thistles they gathered them selues.

8 They were the children of fooles and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

9 And now am I their <sup>g</sup> song, & I am their talke.

10 They abhorre me, and flee farre from me, and spare not to spit in my face.

11 Because that God hath losed my <sup>h</sup> corde and humbled me, & they haue losed the bridel before me.

12 The youth rise vp at my right had: they haue pusht my fete, and haue trode on me <sup>i</sup> as on the <sup>j</sup> paths of their destruction.

13 They haue destroyed my paths: they toke pleasure at my calamitie, they had none <sup>k</sup> helpe.

14 They came as a great breache of waters, and <sup>l</sup> vnder this calamitie they come on heapes.

15 Feare is turned vpon me: and thei pursue my soule as the winde, and mine health passeth away as a cloude.

16 Therefore my soule is now <sup>m</sup> powred out vpon me, and the dayes of affliction haue taken holde on me.

17 <sup>n</sup> It perceth my bones in the night, and my sinewes take no rest.

18 For the great vehemencie is my garmēt chaged, which compasseth me about as the colar of my coate.

19 <sup>o</sup> He hath cast me into the myre, and I am become like ashes and dust.

20 When I crye vnto thee, <sup>p</sup> y doest not heare me, nether regardest me, <sup>q</sup> when I stand vp.

21 Thou turnest thy self <sup>r</sup> cruelly against me, and artemie vnto me with the strength of thine hand.

22 Thou takest me vp and causest me to ride vpon the <sup>s</sup> winde, and makest my strength to faile.

23 Surely I know that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the house appointed for all the liuing.

24 Doubles none can stretche his hand <sup>t</sup> vnto the graue, thogh they crye in his destruction.

25 Did not I wepe with him <sup>u</sup> y was in trouble?

<sup>b</sup> Meaning, to be my shepherdes, or to kepe my dogges.

<sup>i</sup> He said that the yong men when they saw him, hid them selues, as chap. 29. 8. and now in his miserie they were impudent and licentious.

ble: was not my soule in heauines for the poore?

26 Yet when I loked for good, & euil came vnto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkenes.

27 My bowels did boyle without rest: for the dayes of affliction are come vpon me.

28 I wet mourning & without sunne: I stode vp in the congregacion & and cryed.

29 I am a brother to the dragons, and a companion to the ostriches.

30 My skinne is blacke vpo me, and my bones are burnt with heat.

31 Therefore mine harp is turned to mourning, and mine organs into the voyce of them that wepe.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Job reciteth the innocencie of his liuing, and number of his vertues, which declareth what ought to be the life of the faithful.

1 I Made a couenant with mine eyes: why the shulde I thinke on a maid?

2 For what porcion shulde I haue of God from aboue? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on hie?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked & strange punishment to the workers of iniquitie?

4 Doeth not he beholde my wayes and tell all my steppes?

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my fote hath made haste to deceit,

6 Let God weigh me in the iuste balance, and he shal knowe mine vprightnes.

7 If my step hath turned out of the way, or mine heart hath walked after mine eye, or if anie blot hath cleaued to mine hands,

8 Let me sowe, & let another eat: yea, let my plants be rooted out.

9 If mine heart hath bene deceiued by a woman, or if I haue layed wayte at the dore of my neighbour,

10 Let my wife & grinde vnto another man, and let other men bowe downe vpon her.

11 For this is a wickednes, and iniquitie to be condemned.

12 Yea, this is a fyre that shal deuoure to destruction, and which shal roote out all mine increase,

13 If I did contemne the iudgement of my seruant, and of my maid, when they did contend with me.

14 What then shal I do when God standeth vp? and when he shal visite me, what shal I answer?

15 He that hath made me in the wombe, hath he not made him? hath he not he alone facioned vs in the wombe?

16 If I restrained the poore of their desire, or haue caused the eyes of the widowe to faile,

17 Or haue eaten my morsels alone, & the fatherles hath not eaten thereof,

18 (For from my youth he hath growe vp with me as with a father, & from my mothers wombe I haue bene a guide vnto her)

19 If I haue sene anie perishe for want of clothing, or any poore without couering,

20 If his loines haue not blessed me, because he was warmed w the fleece of my shepe,

21 If I haue lift vp mine hand against the fatherles, when I sawe that I might helpe him in the gate, 22 Let mine arme fall fro my shulder, & mine arme be broken from the bone.

23 For Gods punishment was a fearful vnto me, and I colde not be deliuered from his highnes.

24 If I made golde mine hope, or haue said to the wedge of golde, Thou art my confidence,

25 If I reioyced because my substance was great, or because mine hand had gotten much,

26 If I did beholde the sunne, when it shined, or the moone, walking in her brightnes,

27 If mine heart did flatter me in secret, or if my mouth did kisse mine hand,

28 (This also had bene an iniquitie to be condemned: for I had denied the God above)

29 If I reioyced at his destruction that hated me, or was moued to ioye when euil came vpon him, 30 Nether haue I suffred my mouth to sinne, by wishing a curse vnto his soule.

31 Did not the men of my tabernacle say, Who shal giue vs of his flesh? we can not be satisfied.

32 The stranger did not lodge in the strete, but I opened my dores vnto him, that wet by the way.

33 If I haue hid my sinne, as Adam, concealing mine iniquitie in my bosom, 34 Thogh I colde haue made afraied a great multitude, yet the most contemptible of the families did feare me: so I kept silence, and went not out of the dore.

35 Oh that I had some to heare me! beholde my signe that the Almighty wil witnes for me: thogh mine aduersarie shulde write a booke against me, 36 Wolde not I take it vpon my shulder, & binde it as a crowne vnto me?

37 I wil tel him the number of my goings, and go vnto him as to a prince.

38 If my land crye against me, or the furrowes thereof complaine together,

39 If I haue eaten the frutes thereof without siluer: or if I haue griued the soules of the masters thereof, 40 Let thistles growe in stead of wheat, & cokle in the stead of barley.

THE WORDES OF JOB ARE ENDED.
Mm.iii.

n He nourished & fatherles & maintained the widows cause.

o To oppress him & do him iniurie.

p Let me rest in pieces.

q I refrained not from sinning for feare of men, but because I feared God.

r If I was proude of my worldly profperitie & felicitie, which is ment by the shining of the sunne & brightnes of the moone.

s If mine owne doings delited me.

t By putting confidence in any thing, but in him alone.

u My seruants moued me to be reuenged of mine enemy, yet did I neuer wish him hurt.

x And not confessed it freely: whereby it is euident that he iustified himselfe before men and not before God.

y That is, I reuerenced the most weak & contemned & was afraied to offend them.

z I suffred the to speake euil of me and wet not out of my house to reuenge it.

a This is a sufficient token of my righteousness, that God is my witnes and will rise my cause b shulde not this booke of his accusations be a praise & condemnation to me?

c I wil make him a coite of all my life, without feare.

d As thogh I had withheld their wages that labored in it.

e Meaning, that he was no briber nor extortioner.

f That is, the talke which he had with his three friends.

Wifdome cometh of God. Iob. A token of Gods mercie.

<sup>4</sup> (Now Elihu had waited til Iob had spoken: for <sup>d</sup> they were more ancient in yeres then he)

<sup>5</sup> So when Elihu sawe, that there was none answer in the mouth of the thre men, his wrath was kindled.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel, the Buzite answered, and said, I am yong in yeres, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afrayed, to shewe you mine opinion.

<sup>7</sup> For I said, The dayes <sup>e</sup> shal speake, and the multitude of yeres shal teache wifdome.

<sup>12</sup> Yea, when I had considered you, lo, there was none of you that reproveth Iob, nor answered his wordes:

<sup>20</sup> Therefore wil I speake, that I may take breath: I wil open my lippes, and wil answer.

<sup>21</sup> I wil not now accept the persone of mā, nether wil I giue titles to man.

CHAP. XXXIII.

<sup>6</sup> Beholde, I am according to thy wish in Gods stead: I am also formed of the clay.

<sup>9</sup> I am <sup>c</sup> cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.

<sup>10</sup> Lo, he hathe founde occasions against me, and counted me for his enimie.

<sup>11</sup> He hathe put my fete in the stockes, and loketh narrowly vnto all my paths.

<sup>16</sup> Then he openeth the eares of me, & euen by their corrections, which he <sup>h</sup> had sealed,

<sup>17</sup> That he might cause man to turne away from his enterprife, and that he might hide the <sup>i</sup> pride of man;

ue sinned, and peruered righteousness, and it did not profit me,

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Elihu chargeth Iob, that he called him selfe righteous.
2 He sheweth that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God destroyeth the mightie. 30 By him the hypocrite reigne.

1 MOREouer Elihu answered, and said,
2 Heare my wordes, ye wise men, and hearken vnto me, ye that haue knowledge.
3 For the eare tryeth the wordes, as y mouth tasteth meat.

4 Let vs seke iudgement among vs, & let vs knowe among our selues what is good.

5 For Iob hath said, I am righteous, and God hath taken away my iudgement.

6 Shulde I lye in my right? my wounde of the arrowe is grievous without my sinne.

7 What man is like Iob, that drinketh scornesulnes like water?

8 Which goeth in the companie of them that worke iniquitie, & walketh with wicked men?

9 For he hath said, It profiteth a man nothing that he shulde walke with God.

10 Therefore hearken vnto me, ye men of wisdom, God forbid y wickednes shulde be in God, and iniquitie in the Almighty.

11 For he wil rendre vnto man according to his worke, & cause euerie one to finde according to his way.

12 And certainly God wil not do wickedly, nether wil the Almighty peruert iudge-ment.

13 Whome hath he appointed ouer y earth beside him self? or who hath placed the whole worlde?

14 If he set his heart vpon man, and gather vnto him self his spirit and his breath,

15 All flesh shal perish together, and man
shal returne vnto dust.

16 And if y hast vnderstanding, heare this & hearken to the voyce of my wordes.

17 Shal he that hateth iudgement, gouerne? & wilt thou iudge him wicked that is moste iust?

18 Wilt thou say vnto a King, Thou art wicked? or to princes, Ye are vngodlie?

19 How muche lesse to him that accepteth not the persones of princes, & regardeth not the riche, more then the poore: for thei be all the worke of his hands.

20 They shal dye suddenly, and the people shal be troubled at midnight, & they shal passe forth and take away the mightie without hand.

21 For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man, and he seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkenes nor shadowe of death, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein.

23 For he wil not lay on man so muche, that he shulde entre into iugement with God.

24 He shal breake the mightie without se-king, and shal set vp other in their ste-ade.

25 Therefore shal he declare their workes:
he shal turne the night, and they shal be destroyed.

26 He striketh them as wicked men in the places of the seers,

27 Because they haue turned backe from him, and woldenot consider all his waies:

28 So that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to come vnto him, and he hath heard the crye of the afflicted.

29 And when he giueth quietnes, who can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who can beholde him, whether it be vpon nacions, or vpon a man onely?

30 Because the hypocrite doeth reigne,
& because the people are snared.

31 Surely it appertaineth vnto God to say, I haue pardoned, I wil not destroye.

32 But if I se not, teache thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I wil do no more.

33 Wil he performe the thing throughout thee? for thou haste reprobued it, because that thou hast chosen, and not I. now speake what thou knowest.

34 Let men of vnderstanding tel me, and let a wise man hearken vnto me.

35 Iob hath not spoken of knowledge, nether were his wordes according to wifdome.

36 I desire that Iob may be tried, vnto the end touching the answers for wicked men.

37 For he addeth rebellion vnto his sin-ne: he clappeth his hands among vs, & mul-tiplieth his wordes against God.

pleasure.
d That he may

CHAP. XXXV.

6 Neither doeth godlines profite, or vngodlines hurt God, but man. 13 The wicked crye vnto God and are not heard.

1 ELihu spake moreouer, and said, 2 Thikest thou this right, that thou hast said, I am a more righteous then God?

3 For thou hast said, What profiteth it thee and what auaieth it me, to purge me from my sinne?

4 Therefore wil I answer thee, and thy companions with thee.

5 Loke vnto the heauen, and se and beholde the cloudes which are hier then thou.

6 If thou sinnest, what doest thou against him, yea, when thy sinnes be many, what doest thou vnto him?

7 If thou be righteous, what giuest thou vnto him? or what receiueh he at thine hand?

8 Thy wickednes may hurt a man as thou art: thy righteousness may profite the sonne of man.

9 They cause many that are oppressed, to crye, which crye out for the violence of the mightie.

10 But none saith, Where is God that made me, which giueh songs in the night?

11 Which teacheth vs more the the beastes of the earth, and giueh vs more wisdom then the foules of the heauen.

12 Then they crye because of the violence of the wicked, but he answereth not.

13 Surely God wil not heare vanitie, nether wil the Almighty regarde it.

14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regarde it, yet iudgement is before him: trust thou in him.

15 But now because his angre hathe not visited, nor called to count the euil with great extremitie, 16 Therefore Iob openeth his mouth in vaine, and multiplieth wordes without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 ELihu sheweth the power of God; 6 And his iustice, 9 And wherefore he punisheth. 13 The properties of the wicked.

1 ELihu also proceded and said, 2 Suffre me a litle, & I wil instruct thee: for I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe.

3 I wil fetch a my knowledge a farre of, & wil attribute righteousness vnto my Maker.

4 For truly my wordes shal not be false, & he that is perfite in knowledge, speaketh with thee.

5 Beholde, the mightie God casteth away none that is mightie & valiant of courage.

6 He mainteineth not the wicked, but he giueh iudgement to the afflicted.

7 He withdraweth not his eies from the righteous, but they are with Kings in the throne, where he placeth them for euer: thus they are exalted.

8 And if they be bound in fetters & tyed with the cordes of affliction,

9 Then wil he shewe them their worke and their sinnes, because they haue bene proude.

10 He openeth also their eare to discipline, and commandeth them that they returne from iniquitie.

11 If they obey and serue him, they shal end their dayes in prosperitie, & their yerer in pleasures.

12 But if they wil not obey, they shal passe by the sworde, & perish without knowledge.

13 But the hypocrites of heart increase the wrath: for they call not when he bindeth them.

14 Their soule dyeth in youth, & their life among the whoremongers.

15 He deliuereth the poore in his afflictio, and openeth their eare in trouble.

16 Euen so wolde he haue taken thee out of the streight place into a broad place & not shut vp beneth and that which resteth vpon thy table, had bene ful of fat.

17 But thou art ful of the iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equitie mainteine all things.

18 For Gods wrath is, lest he shulde take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of gistes can deliuer thee.

19 Wil he regarde thy riches? he regardeth not golde, nor all them that excell in strength.

20 Be not careful in the night, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.

21 Take thou hede: loke not to iniquitie: for thou hast chosen it rather then affliction.

22 Beholde, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?

23 Who hath appointed to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men beholde.

25 All men se it, and men beholde it a farre of.

26 Beholde, God is excellent, & we knowe him not, nether can the number of his yerer be searched out.

27 When he restraineth the droppes of water, the raine powreth downe by the vapour thereof, 28 Which raine the cloudes do droppe & let fall abundantly vpon man.

29 Who can knowe the diuisions of the cloudes & the thunders of his tabernacle?

30 Beholde he spreadeth his light vpon it, and couereth the bottome of the sea.

31 He sheweth that the raine hath double vnto the one it declareth Gods iudgements, when it doth ouerflow any places, & y other that it maketh y lad fruitful. 32 That is, one cloude to dash again another. 33 The colde vapour sheweth him: that is, the cloude of the hore exhalacio, which being taken in y colde cloude moueth vp toward the place where y fyre is, and so agre is ingendred: y is, noise and thunder claps.

CHAP. XXXVII.

2 Elihu proueth that the vnsearchable wisdom of God is manifest by his workes, 4 As by the thunders, 6 The snowe, 9 The whirle winde, 11 And the rayne.

AT this also mine heart is a astonied, & is moued out of his place.

2 Heare the<sup>b</sup> sounde of his voyce, and the noyse that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the ends of the worlde.

4 After it a noyse foundeth: he thundreth with the voyce of his maiestie, and he wil not stay<sup>c</sup> them when his voyce is heard.

5 God thundreth maruelously w<sup>h</sup> his voyce: he worketh great things, which we knowe not.

6 For he saith to the snowe, Be thou vpon y earth: d likewise to the smale raine and to the great raine of his power.

7 With the force thereof he<sup>e</sup> shutteth vp cuerie man, that all men may knowe his worke.

8 Then the beasts go into the denne, and remaine in their places.

9 The whirle wide cometh out of y South, and the colde from the<sup>f</sup> North winde.

10 At the breath of God the frost is giuen, & the breadth of the waters g is made narrowe.

11 He maketh also the cloude to<sup>h</sup> labour, to water the earth, & scattereth the cloude of i his light.

12 And it is turned about by his gouernemēt, that thei may do whatsoeuer he commandeth them vpon the whole worlde:

13 Whether it be for<sup>k</sup> punishmēt, or for his land, or of mercie, he causeth it to come.

14 Hearken vnto this, o Iob: stand and consider the wonderous workes of God.

15 Didest thou knowe when God disposed them? and caused the<sup>l</sup> light of his cloude to shine?

16 Hast thou knowen the<sup>m</sup> varietie of the cloude, & the wonderous workes of him, that is perfite in knowledge?

17 Or how thy clothes are<sup>n</sup> warme, when he maketh the earth quiet through the South winde?

18 Hast thou stretched out y heauens, which are strong, & as a molten o glasse?

19 Tel vs what we shal say vnto him: for we can not dispose our matter because of p darkenes.

of God, ether to punish m, or to profite y earth, or to declare his fauour toward man, as Chap. 36. 1 That is, the lightning to breake forth in the cloude: m Which is some time changed into raine, or snowe, or haile, or fuche like. n Why thy clothes shulde kepe thee warme, when the South winde bloweth, rather then when anie other winde bloweth? o For their clearnes. p That is, our ignorance: signifying that Iob was so presumptuous that he wolde controule the workes of God.

20 Shal it be<sup>q</sup> tolde him when I speake? or shal mā speake when he shalbe<sup>r</sup> destroyed?

21 And now when se not the light, f which shineth in the cloude, but the winde passeth and clenseth them.

22 The<sup>t</sup> brightnes cometh out of y North: the praise thereof is to God, which is terrible.

23 It is the Almighty: we cā not finde him out: he is excellent in power & iudgement, & abundant in iustice: he<sup>u</sup> afflicteth not.

24 Let men therefore feare him: for he wil not regarde any that are wise in their owne conceit.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

God speaketh to Iob, and declareth the weakenes of man in the consideration of his creatures, by whose excellencie the power, iustice and providence of the Creator is known.

1 Then answered the Lord vnto Iob out of the<sup>a</sup> whirle winde, & said,

2 Who is this that<sup>b</sup> darkeneth the counsel by wordes without knowledge?

3 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I<sup>c</sup> wil demande of thee and declare thou vnto me.

4 Where wast thou when I layed the<sup>d</sup> fundacions of the earth? declare, if thou hast vnderstanding,

5 Who hathe layed the measures thereof, if thou knowest, or who hathe stretched the line ouer it:

6 Where vpon are the fundacions thereof set: or who layed the corner stone thereof:

7 When the starres of the morning<sup>e</sup> praised me together, and all the<sup>f</sup> children of God reioyced:

8 Or who hathe shut vp the sea with dores, when it yssued and came forth<sup>g</sup> as out of the wombe:

9 When I made the cloude<sup>h</sup> as a couering thereof, and darkenes<sup>i</sup> the<sup>j</sup> swadeling bandes thereof:

10 When I stablished my commandement vpon it, and set barres and dores, 11 And said, Hetherto shalt thou come, but no farther, and here<sup>k</sup> shal it staye thy proude waues.

12 Hast thou commanded the<sup>l</sup> morning since thy dayes? hast thou caused the morning to knowe his place?

13 That it might take holde of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might be<sup>m</sup> shaken out of it?

14 It is turned as clay to facion, l & all stand vp as a garment.

The bountie and prouidence of God, which extendeth euē to the yong rauens, giueth man ful occasion to put his confidence in God. 37 Iob confesseth & humbleth himself.

1 A Gaine the Lord answered Iob out of the whirlewinde, and said,

2 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I wil demāde of thee, & declare thou vnto me.

3 Wilt thou disanul <sup>a</sup> my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayest be iustified?

4 Or hast thou an arme like God? or doest thou thunder with a voyce like him?

5 Decke thy self now with <sup>b</sup> maiestie and 6 Cast abroad the indignation of thy wrath, and beholde euerie one that is proude, and abase him.

7 Loke on euerie one that is arrogant, and bring him low: and destroy the wicked in their place.

8 Hide them in the dust together, & binde

18 Beholde, he spoileth the riuer, <sup>k</sup> and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can drawe vp Iorden into his mouth.

<sup>k</sup> He drinketh at leasure, and feareth no body.

19 He taketh it with his eyes, and thrusteth his nose through whatsoeuer meeteth him.

shal they deuide him among the mar-chants?

26 Canst thou fill the basket with his skin-

CHAP. XLI.

1 By the greatnes of this monstre Liuiathan God sheweth his greatnes, and his power, which nothing can resist.

1 NOne is so fearece that dare stirre him
vp. Who is he then that can stand before me?

2 Who hath preuented me that I shulde

3 I wil not kepe silence concerning <sup>c</sup> his 11 Out of his nostrelles cometh out smoke, as out of a boyling pot or caldron.

12 His breath maketh the coles burne: for a flame goeth out of his mouth.

Nothing is painful or hard vnto him

13 In his necke remaineth strength, & labour is reiected before his face.

14 The members of his bodie are ioyned: they are strong in them selues, and can not be moued.

15 His heart is as strong as a stone, and as hard as the nether millstone.

16 The mightie are afraied of his maiestie, and for feare they faint in them selues.

17 When the sworde doeth touche him, he wil not rise vp, nor for the speare, dart nor habergeon.

18 He esteemeth yron as strawe, and brasse as rotten wood.

19 The archer can not make him flee: the stones of the sling are turned into stubble vnto him.

20 The dartes are counted as straw: and he laugheth at the shaking of the speare.

21 Sharpe stones are vnder him, and he spreadeth sharpe things vpon the myre.

22 He maketh the depth to boyle like a pot, and maketh the sea like a pot of oyntment.

23 He maketh a path to shine after him: one wolde thinke the depth as an hore head.

24 In the earth there is none like him: he is made without feare.

25 He beholdeth all hie things: he is a King ouer all the children of pride.

CHAP. XLII.

The repentance of Iob. He prayeth for his friends. His goods are restored double vnto him. His children. age and death.

1 Then Iob answered the Lord, and said,

2 I knowe that thou canst do all things, and that there is no thought hid from thee.

3 Who is he that hideth counsel without knowledge: therefore haue I spokē that I vnderstode not, euen things to wonderful for me, and which I knewe not.

4 Heare, I beseeche thee, and I wil speake: I wil demande of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye seeth thee.

6 Therefore I abhorre myself, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 ¶ Now after that the Lord had spoken these wordes vnto Iob, the Lord also said vnto Elipház the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye haue not spokē of me y thing that is right, like my seruant Iob.

8 Therefore take vnto you now seuen bullockes, and seuen rams, and go to my seruant Iob, & offer vp for your selues a burnt offering, and my seruant Iob shal pray for you: for I wil accept him, lest I shulde put you to shame, because ye haue not spokē of me the thing, which is right, like my seruant Iob.

9 So Elipház the Temanite, and Bildád the Shuhite, and Zophár the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord had said vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.

10 ¶ Then the Lord turned the captiuitie of Iob, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gaue Iob twise so muche as he had before.

11 Then came vnto him all his brethrē, and all his sisters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house, and had compassion of him, and comforted him for all the euil, that the Lord had broght vpon him, and euerie man gaue him a piece of money, & euerie one an earring of golde.

12 So the Lord blessed the last dayes of Iob more then the first: for he had fourtene thousand shepe, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she asses.

13 He had also seuen sonnes, and thre daughters.

14 And he called the name of one Iemímáb, and the name of the second Keziáh, and the name of the thirde Kerenhappúch.

15 In all the land were no women founde so faire as the daughters of Iob, and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.

16 And after this liued Iob an hundreth and fourtie yeres, and sawe his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, euen foure generacions.

17 So Iob dyed, being olde, & ful of dayes.

THE PSALMES

of Dauid.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis booke of Psalmes is set forth vnto vs by the holie Gost to be esteemed as a moste precious treasure, wherein all things are contained that apperteyne to true felicitie: as yet in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heauenlie wisdom are here set open for vs, to take thereof moste abundantly. If we wolde knowe the great, and hie maiestie of God, here we may se the brightnes thereof shine moste clearly. If we wolde seke his incomprehensible wisdom, here is the scholl of the same profession. If we wolde comprehend his inestimable bounty, and approche nere thereunto, and fill your hands with that treasure, here we may haue a moste liuely, and comfortable taste thereof. If we wolde knowe wherein standeth our saluation, and how to attaine to life euerlasting, here is Christ our onely redemer, and mediator moste evidently described. The riche man may learne the true vse of his riches. The poore man may fynde ful contentation. He that wil reioyce, shal knowe the true ioy, and how to kepe measure therein. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shal se wherein standeth their comforte, and how they ought to praise God when he sendeth them deliuerance. The wicked and the persecuters of the children of God shal se how the hand of God is euer against them: and though he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet he brideleth them, in so muche as they can not touche an heere of ones head, except he permit them, and how in the end their destruction is moste miserable. Briefly, here we haue moste present remedies against all tentations, and troubles of minde and conscience, so that being wel practised herein, we may be assured against all dangers in this life, liue in the true feare, and loue of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of glorie, which is laid vp for all them that loue the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

PSALME I.

Whether it was Esdras, or any other that gathered the Psalmes into a booke, it seemeth he did set this Psalm first in manner of a preface, to exhort all godlie men to studie, and meditate the heauenlie wisdom. For the effect herof is, 1 That they be blessed, which giue them selues wholly all their life to the holy Scriptures. 4 And that the wicked contemners of God, though they seme for a while happie, yet at length shal come to miserable destruction.

Blessed is the man that doeth not walke in the counsel of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seat of the scornful:

But his delite is in the Law of the Lord, & in his Law doeth he meditate day and night.

For he shal be like a tre planted by the riuers of waters, that wil bring forth the her frute in due season: whose leafe shal not fade: so whatsoeuer he shal do, shal prosper.

The wicked are not so, but as the chaffe, which the winde driueth away.

Therefore the wicked shal not stand in the Iudgement, nor sinners in the assemblie of the righteous.

For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shal perish.

As the Lord driueth them downe that they shal not rise nor stand in the companie of the righteous.

Doeth approue and prosper, like as

PSAL. II.

The Prophet Dauid reioyceth that notwithstanding his enemies rage, yet God wil continue his kingdome for ouer & aduance it euen to the end of the worlde, 10 And therefore exhorteth Kings and rulers, that they wolde humbly submit them selues vnder Gods yoke, because it is in vaine to resiste God. Herein is figured Christ's kingdome.

Why do the heathen rage, & the people murmur in vaine?

The Kings of the earth band them selues, and the princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

Let vs breake their bands, and cast their cords from vs.

But he that dwelleth in the heauen shal laugh: the Lord shal haue the in derisio.

Then shal he speake vnto them in his wrath, & vex them in his sore displeasure, saying,

Euen I haue set my King vpon Ziō mine holie mountaine.

I wil declare the decree: that is, the Lord hathe said vnto me, Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

Aske of me, & I shal giue thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the endes of the earth for thy possession.

Thou shalt krush them with a sceptre of yron, & breake them in pieces like a potters vessel.

Be wise now therefore, ye Kings: be learned ye Iudges of the earth.

David oppressed with the crueltie of his enemies, and fearing greater dangers, calleth to God for succour, shewing how requisite it is that God shulde punish the malice of his aduersaries. 7 After being assured of prosperous successe, he conceiveth comfort. 12 Concluding that when God shal deliuer him, others also shal be partakers of the same mercies.

To him that excelleth vpon Neginoth. A Psalm of David.

Hear my wordes, O Lord: vnderstand my meditation.

Hearken vnto the voice of my crye, my King & my God: for vnto thee do I praie.

Hear me in the morning, O Lord: for in the morning will I direct me vnto thee, and I wil wait.

For thou art not a God that loueth wickednes: nether shal euil dwell with thee.

The foolish shal not stand in thy sight: for thou hatest all them that worke iniquitie.

Thou shalt destroy them that speake lyes: the Lord wil abhorre the bloodie man and deceitful.

But I wil come into thine house in the multitude of thy mercie: & in thy feare wil I worship towarde thine holie Tēple.

Lead me, O Lord, in thy righteousness, because of mine enemies: make thy waie plaine before my face.

For no costancie is in their mouth: within, they are very corruption: their throte is an open sepulchre, & they flatter with their tongue.

Destroye them, O God: let them fall from their counsels: cast them out for the multitude of their iniquities, because they haue rebelled against thee.

And let all them that trust in thee, reioyce & triumphe for euer, & couer thou them: and let them, that loue thy Name, reioyce in thee.

For thou Lord wilt blesse the righteous, & with fauour wilt compas him, as with a shield.

<sup>f</sup> He prayeth for the whole Church, whom he is aſſured God wil deliuer: for none but he onely can do it.

Who is blessed.

Psalmes. Gods worde brided him.

<sup>a</sup> First God requirerth vprightnes of life, next doſg wel to others, and thirdely truth and ſimplicitie in our wordes.

<sup>b</sup> Though we can not enriche God, yet we muſt beſtowe Gods giſts to the vie of his children.

1 He that <sup>a</sup> walketh vprightly and worketh righteouſnes, and ſpeaketh the trueth in his heart.

3 He that ſclandreth not with his tongue, nor doeth euil to his neighbour, nor receiueth a falſe reporte againſt his neighbour.

4 <sup>b</sup> In whoſe eyes a vile perſone is cōtemned, but he honoreth them that feare the Lord: he that ſweareth to his owne hinderance and changeth not.

5 He that <sup>c</sup> giueth not his money vnto vſurie, nor taketh rewarde againſt the innocent: he that doeth theſe things, <sup>d</sup> ſhal neuer be moued.

PSAL. XVI.

2 <sup>o</sup> my ſoule, thou haſt ſaid vnto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: my <sup>b</sup> wel-doing extendeth not to thee,

3 <sup>c</sup> But to the Saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent: all my delite is in them.

4 The <sup>c</sup> ſorowes of them, that offer to another god, ſhal be multiplied: <sup>d</sup> their offrings of blood wil I not offer, nether make mencion of their names with my lippes.

5 The Lord is the porcion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou ſhalt mainteine my lot.

6 The <sup>e</sup> lines are fallen vnto me in pleaſant places: yea, I haue a faire heritage.

7 I wil praiſe the Lord, who hathe giuen me counſel: my <sup>f</sup> reines alſo reache me in the nights.

8 I haue ſet the Lord alwayes before me: for he is at my right hand: therefore I ſhal not ſlide.

9 Wherefore <sup>b</sup> mine heart is glad and my tongue reioyceth: my fleſh alſo doeth reſt in hope.

10 For thou <sup>i</sup> wilt not leaue my ſoule in the graue: nether wilt thou ſuffer thine holie one to ſe corruption.

11 Thou wilt ſhewe me the path of life: in thy <sup>k</sup> preſence is the fulneſſe of ioye: and at thy right had there are pleaſures for euermore.

PSAL. XVII.

1 <sup>H</sup>Eare <sup>a</sup> the right, <sup>o</sup> Lord, conſider my crye: hearken vnto my prayer of lipps vnſained.

2 Let my <sup>b</sup> ſentence come forth from thy preſence, & let thine eyes beholde <sup>c</sup> requirer.

3 Thou haſt <sup>c</sup> proued & viſited mine heart in the night: thou haſt tryed me, & foundeſt nothing: for I was purpoſed that my <sup>d</sup> mouth ſhulde not offend.

4 Concerning the workes of men, by the <sup>e</sup> wordes of thy lippes I kept me from the paths of the cruel man.

5 Stay my ſteps in thy paths, that my ſete do not ſlide.

6 I haue called vpon thee: <sup>f</sup> ſurely thou wilt heare me, <sup>o</sup> God: incline thine care to me, & hearken vnto my wordes.

7 Shewe thy maruelous mercies, thou that art the Sauour of them that truſt in thee, from ſuche as <sup>g</sup> reſiſt thy right hand.

8 Kepe me as the apple of the eye: hide me vnder the ſhadow of thy wings,

9 From the wicked that oppreſſe me, from mine enemies, which compaſſe me rounde about for <sup>h</sup> my ſoule.

10 They are incloſed in their owne <sup>i</sup> fatt, and they haue ſpoken proudly with their mouth.

11 They haue compaſſed vs now in our ſteps: they haue ſet their eyes to bring downe to the grounde:

12 Like as a lyon that is gredie of praye, & as it were a lyons whelpes lurking in ſecret places.

13 Vp Lord, <sup>k</sup> diſapoint him: caſt him downe: deliuer my ſoule from the wicked <sup>l</sup> with thy ſworde, 14 Fro men by thine <sup>l</sup> hand, <sup>o</sup> Lord, from men <sup>m</sup> of the worlde, who haue their <sup>n</sup> porcion in this life, whoſe belies thou filleſt with thine hid treaſure: their childre haue ynough, and leaue the reſt of their ſubſtance for their children.

15 But I wil beholde <sup>n</sup> thy face in righteouſnes, & when I <sup>o</sup> awake, I ſhal be ſatiſfied with thine image, PSAL. XVIII.

<sup>a</sup> This Pſalme is the firſt beginning of his gratulacion, and thankſgiuing in the entering into his kingdome, wherein he extolleth & praiſeth moſte highly the maruelous mercies and grace of God, who hathe thus preſerued and defended him. <sup>32</sup> Alſo he ſetterh forth the image of Chriſts kingdome, that the faithfull may be aſſured that Chriſt ſhal alwayes conquer & ouercome by the vnſpeakeable power of his Father, though all the whole worlde ſhulde ſtrive thereagainſt.

<sup>9</sup> To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid the ſeruant of the Lord, which ſpake vnto the Lord the wordes of this ſong (in the day that the Lord deliuered him from the hand of all his enemies, & from the hand of Saül) and ſaid,

1 <sup>I</sup>* Wil loue thee derely, <sup>o</sup> Lord my ſtrength.

2 <sup>a</sup> The Lord is my rocke, and my forteſſe, and

<sup>e</sup> Though the wicked prouoked me to do euil for euil, yet thy worde kept me backe.

<sup>n</sup> This is ful felicitie, comfort againſt all aſſaies, to haue the face of God & fauorable countenance opened vnto vs.

<sup>b</sup> He viſeth this deuerſitie of names, to ſhewe y as the wicked haue many meanes to hurt, ſo God hathe many waies to helpe and he that deliuereth me, my God & my strength: in him wil I trust, my shield, the horne also of my saluaciō, & my refuge.

3 I wil call vpon the Lord, which is worthie to be <sup>b</sup> praised: so shal I be safe from mine enemies.

4 The <sup>c</sup> sorowes of death compassed me, and the floods of wickednes made me afraied.

5 The <sup>d</sup> sorowes of the graue haue cōpassed me about: the snares of death ouertoke me.

6 But in my trouble did I call vpon the Lord, and cryed vnto my God: he heard my voyce out of his Temple, and my crye did come before him, even into his eares.

7 Then the earth trembled, and quaked: the fundacions also of the mōtaines moued and shoke, because he was angrie.

8 Smoke went out at his nostrils, and a <sup>e</sup> consuming fyre out of his mouth: coles were kindled thereat.

9 He bowed the heauens also and came downe, and <sup>f</sup> darkenes was vnder his fete.

10 And he rode vpon <sup>g</sup> Cherub and did flie, and he came flying vpon the wings of the winde.

11 He made darkenes his <sup>h</sup> secret place, & his pavilion rounde about him, even darkenes of waters, and cloudes of the aire.

12 At the brightnes of his presence his cloudes passed, hailestones & coles of fyre.

13 The Lord also thundred in the heauen, and the Highest gaue <sup>i</sup> his voyce, hailestones and coles of fyre.

14 Then he sent out <sup>k</sup> his arrowes & scattered them, and he increased lightnings and destroyed them.

15 And the chanel of waters were sene, and the <sup>l</sup> fundaciōs of the worlde were disco- uered at thy rebuking, O Lord, at the blasting of the breath of thy nostrils.

16 He hath sent downe from aboue and taken me: he hath drawn me out of manie <sup>m</sup> waters.

17 He hath deliuered me from my <sup>n</sup> strōg enemy, and from them which hate me: for they were <sup>o</sup> to strong for me.

18 They preuented me in the daye of my calamitie: but the Lord was my stay.

19 He broght me forth also into a large place: <sup>p</sup> he deliuered me because he fauored me.

20 The Lord rewarded me according to my <sup>q</sup> righteousness: according to the purenes of mine hands he recompensed me:

21 Because I kept the wayes of the Lord, & did not wickedly against my God.

22 For all his Lawes were before me, and I did not cast away his <sup>r</sup> commandements from me.

23 I was vpright also with him, & haue kept me from my <sup>s</sup> wickednes.

24 Therefore <sup>y</sup> Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness, & according to the purenes of mine hands in his sight.

25 With the <sup>t</sup> godlie thou wilt shewe thy self godlie: with the vpright mā thou wilt shewe thy self vpright.

26 With the pure thou wilt shewe thy self pure, & with the frowarde thou wilt shewe thy self froward.

27 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people, & wilt <sup>u</sup> cast downe the proude lokes.

28 Surely thou wilt light my candel: the Lord my God will lighten my darkenes.

29 For by thee I haue <sup>x</sup> broken through an hoste, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.

30 The waye of God is vncorrupt: the <sup>y</sup> worde of the Lord is tryed in the fyre: he is a shield to all that trust in him.

31 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mightie saue our God?

32 God girdeth me with strength, and maketh my <sup>z</sup> waye vpright.

33 He maketh my fete like hindes fete, and setteth me vpon mine <sup>a</sup> high places.

34 He teacheth mine hands to fight: so that a bowe of <sup>b</sup> brasse is broken with mine aimes.

35 Thou hast also giue me <sup>y</sup> <sup>b</sup> shield of thy saluacion, and thy right hand hath stayed me, and thy <sup>c</sup> louing kindenes hath caused me to increase.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steppes vnder me, and mine heles haue not slid.

37 <sup>d</sup> I haue pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe til I had consumed them.

38 I haue wounded the, that they were not able to rise: they are fallen vnder my fete.

39 For thou hast girded me with <sup>e</sup> strength to battel: them, that rose against me, thou hast subdued vnder me.

40 And thou hast <sup>e</sup> giuen me the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroye them that hate me.

41 They <sup>f</sup> cryed, but there was none to saue them, even vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.

42 Then I did beate them smale as the dust before the winde: I did tread them flat as the claye in the stretes.

43 Thou hast deliuered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast made me the head of the <sup>g</sup> heathen: a people, whome I haue not <sup>h</sup> knowen, shal serue me.

44 As sone as thei heare, thei shal obey me: the strangers shal <sup>i</sup> be in subiection to me.

45 Strangers shal <sup>k</sup> shrink away, & feare in their priue chambers.

46 Let the Lord liue, and blessed be my strength, and the God of my saluacion be exalted.

<sup>r</sup> Here he speaketh of God according to our capacite, who sheweth mercie to his & punisheth the wicked, as is said also, Leuit. 26. 21.

47 It is God that giueth me power to auēge me, and subdueth the people vnder me.

48 O my deliuerer from mine enemies, euen thou hast set me vp from them, that rose against me: thou hast deliuered me from the <sup>1</sup> cruel man.

49 Therefore <sup>m</sup> I wil praise thee, O Lord, among the nations, and wil sing vnto thy Name.

50 Great deliuerances giueth he vnto his King, & sheweth mercie to his anointed, euen to Dauid, and to his <sup>n</sup> sede for euer.

PSAL. XIX.

To the intent he might moue the faithfull to a deeper consideration of Gods glorie, he setteth before their eyes the most exquisite workmanship of the heauens with their proportion, and ornaments: And afterward calleth the to the Law, wherein God hath reueiled him self more familiarly to his chisen people. The which peculiar grace by commending the Law he setteth forth the more at large.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

1 The <sup>a</sup> heauens declare the glorie of God, and the firmament sheweth the worke of his hands.

2 Daie vnto daie vttereth the same, and night vnto night teacheth knowledge.

3 There is no speache nor <sup>e</sup> language, where their voyce is not heard.

4 Their <sup>d</sup> line is gone forth through all the earth, and their wordes into the ends of the worlde: in them hath he set a tabernacle for the sunne.

5 Which commeth forth as a bridegrome out of his <sup>e</sup> chambre, and reioyceth like a mightie man to runne his race.

6 His going out is from the end of the heauen, and his compas is vnto the ends of the same, & none is hid from the heate thereof.

7 The <sup>f</sup> Law of the Lord is perfite, conquering the soule: the testimonie of the Lord is sure, and giueth wisdom vnto the simple.

8 The statutes of the Lord are right and reioyce the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.

9 The feare of the Lord is cleane, and indureth for euer: the indgements of the Lord are <sup>g</sup> truthe: they are righteous <sup>h</sup> all together,

10 And more to be <sup>i</sup> desired then golde, yea, then muche fine golde: sweter also the honie and the honie combe.

11 Moreouer by them is thy seruant made circumspect, & in keeping of them there is great <sup>k</sup> rewarde.

12 Who can vnderstand his <sup>l</sup> fautes: cleanse me from secret fautes.

13 Kepe thy seruant also from <sup>m</sup> presumption. For God accepteth our inuention, though it be false vnsperfe. <sup>1</sup> Then there is no rewarde of duetie, but of Grace: for where sinne is, there death is the rewarde.

teous sinnes: let them not reigne ouer me: so shal I be vpriht, and made cleane from muche wickednes.

14 Let the wordes of my mouth, and the <sup>o</sup> meditation of mine heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my remeder.

PSAL. XX.

A prayer of the people vnto God, that it wold please him to heare their King & receiue his sacrifice, which he offered before he went to battel against the Ammonites.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

1 The <sup>a</sup> Lord heare thee in the day of trouble: the <sup>b</sup> Name of the God of Iaakob defende thee:

2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuarie, and strengthen thee out of Zion.

3 Let him remember all thine offerings, and turne thy burnt offerings into ashes. Selah:

4 And grante thee according to thine heart, and fulfil all thy purpose:

5 That we may reioyce in thy <sup>d</sup> saluacion, and set vp the banner in the Name of our God, when the Lord shal performe all thy petitions.

6 Now <sup>e</sup> know I that the Lord wil helpe his anointed, and wil heare him from his <sup>f</sup> Sanctuarie, by the mightie helpe of his right hand.

7 Some trust in chariots, and some in horses: but we wil remember the Name of the Lord our God.

8 They are brought downe and fallen, but we are risen, and stande vpriht.

9 Saue Lord: <sup>h</sup> let the King heare vs in the day that we call.

PSAL. XXI.

Dauid in the persone of the people praiseth God for the victorie, attributing it to God, and not to the strength of man. Wherein the holie Ghost directeth the faithfull to Christ, who is the perfection of this kingdome.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

1 The King shal <sup>a</sup> reioyce in thy strength, O Lord: yea, how greatly shal he reioyce in thy saluacion!

2 Thou hast giuen him his hearts desire, & hast not denied him the request of his lip- pes. Selah.

3 For thou <sup>b</sup> didest preuent him with liberal blessings, & didest set a crowne of pure golde vpon his head.

4 He asked life of thee, and thou gauest him a long life for euer and euer.

5 His glorie is great in thy saluacio: dignitie and honour hast thou layed vpon him.

6 For thou hast set him as <sup>d</sup> blessings for euer: thou hast made him glad with the ioye of thy countenance.

so wil we sing and praise thy power.

PSAL. XXII.

Dauid complained because he was brought into such extremities, that he was past all hope, but after he had rehearsed the sorowes & griefs, wherewith he was vexed. 10. He recovereth himself from the bottomles pit of tentations and groweth in hope. And here under his owne person he setteth forth the figure of Christ, whome he did foresee by the Spirit of prophete, that he shulde maruelously & strangely be deified, & abased, before his Father shulde raise & exalte him againe.

To him that excelleth vpon Arieleth thashtah-har. A Psalm of Dauid.

MY God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me, & art so farre from mine health, and from the wordes of my roaring?

2 O my God, I crye by daie, but thou hear-est not, & by night, but haue no audiēce.

3 But thou art holie, and doest inhabite the praises of Israēl.

4 Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didest deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and were deliue-red: they trusted in thee, and were not co-founded.

6 But I am a worme, & not a man: a shame of men, and the contempt of the people.

7 All they that se me, haue me in derision:
they make a mowe & nod the head, saying,

8 * He trusted in the Lord, let him deliuer him: let him saue him, seig he loueth him.

9 But y didest drawe me out of the wombe: thou gauest me hope, euen at my mothers breasts.

10 I was cast vpon thee, euen from the wombe: thou art my God from my mothers belly.

11 Be not farre from me, because trouble is nere: for there is none to helpe me.

12 Manie yong bulles haue compassed me:
mightie bulles of Bashan haue closed me about.

13 They gape vpon me with their mouthes, as a ramping and roaring lion.

14 I am like water powred out, and all my bones are out of ioynt: mine heart is like waxe: it is molten in the middes of my bowels.

my bones are out of ioynt: mine heart is like waxe: it is molten in the middes of
my bowels.

15 My strength is dried vp like a potsheard, and my tongue cleueth to my iawes, and y hast brought me into the dust of death.

16 For dogges haue compassed me, & the assemblie of the wicked haue inclosed me:
they perced mine hands and my fete.

17 I maie tel all my bones: yet thei beholde, and loke vpon me.

18 They parte my garments among them,
and cast lottes vpon my vesture.

19 But be not thou farre of, O Lord, my strength: hasten to helpe me.

20 Deliuer my soule from the sworde: my desolate soule from the power of the dog.

21 Saue me from the lions mouth, and answer me in sauing me from the hornes of the vnicornes.

22 * I wil declare thy Name vnto my brethren: in the middes of the Congregaciō wil I praise thee, saying,

23 Praise the Lord, ye that feare him: magnifie ye him, all the sede of Iaakob, & feare ye him, all the sede of Israēl.

24 For he hathe not despised nor abhorred y affliction of the poore: nether hathe he hid his face from him, but when he called vnto him, he heard.

25 My praise shalbe of thee in the great Cogregation: my P vovewes wil I performe before them that feare him.

26 The poore shal eat and be satisfied:
thei that seke after the Lord, shal praise him: your heart shal liue for euer.

27 All the ends of the worlde shal remembre themselves, and turne to the Lord: and all the kinreds of the nations shal worship before thee.

28 For the kingdome is the Lords, and he ruleth among the nations.

29 All thei that be fat in the earth, shal eat and worship: all they that go downe into the dust, shal bowe before him, euen he that can not quicken his owne soule.

30 Their sede shal serue him: it shalbe cou-ted vnto the Lord for a generation.

31 Thei shal come, & shal declare his righ-teousnes vnto a people that shal be borne, because he hathe done it.

PSAL. XXIII.

Because the Prophet had proued the great mercies of God at diuerse times, and in sundrie maners, he ga-thereth a certeine assurance, fully persuading him self that God wil continue the verie same goodnes towards him for euer.

A Psalm of Dauid.

THE Lord is my shepherd, I shal not want.

2 He maketh me to rest in grene pasture, &
leadeth me by the still waters.

3 He brestoreth my soule, & leadeth me in

4 Shew me thy waies, O Lord, & teache me thy paths.

5 Lead me forth in thy trueth, and teache me: for thou art the God of my saluacion:
in thee do I trust all the daie.

6 Remember, O Lord, thy tendre mercies, and thy louing kindenes: for they haue bene for euer.

7 Remember not the sinnes of my youth, nor my rebellions, but according to thy kindenes remember thou me, euen for thy goodnes sake, O Lord.

8 Gracious and righteous is the Lord: therefore wil he teache sinners in the waie.

gement, and teache the humble his waie.

10 All the paths of the Lord are mercie & trueth vnto such as kepe his couenant and his testimonies.

11 For thy Names sake, O Lord, be merciful vnto mine iniquitie, for it is great.

12 What man is he that feareth the Lord?
him wil he teache the waie that he shal chuse.

13 His soule shal dwell at ease, and his sede shal inherite the land.

14 The secret of the Lord is reueiled to them, that feare him: and his couenant to giue them vnderstanding.

15 Mine eyes are euer toward the Lord: for he wil bring my fete out of the net.

16 Turne thy face vnto me, and haue mercie vpon me: for I am desolate and poore.

17 The sorowes of mine heart are enlarged: drawe me out of my troubles.

18 Loke vpon mine affliction & my trauel, and forgiue all my sinnes.

19 Beholde mine enemies, for they are many, and they hate me with cruel hatred.

20 Kepe my soule, & deliuer me: let me not be confounded, for I trust in thee.

21 Let mine vprightenes and equitie pre-

22 Deliuer Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

PSAL. XXVII.

David maketh this psalme being deliuered from great perils, as appeareth by the praises and thanksgiuing annexed: <sup>o</sup> Wherin we may see the constant faith of David against the assaults of all his enemies, <sup>7</sup> And also the end wherefore he desired to liue and to be deliue-red, onely to worship God in his Congregation.

A Psalme of David.

THe Lord is my <sup>a</sup>light and my saluation, whome shal I feare? the Lord is the strength of my life, of whome shal I be afraid?

When the wicked, <sup>euen</sup> mine enemies and my foes came vpon me to eat vp my flesh they stumbled and fel.

Thogh an hoste pitched against me, mine heart shulde not be afraid: thogh warre be raised against me, I wil trust in <sup>b</sup>this.

One thing haue I desired of the Lord, that I wil require, <sup>euen</sup> that I may dwel in the house of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to beholde the beautie of the Lord, & to visite his Temple.

For in the time of trouble he shal hide me in his Tabernacle: in the secret place of his pauilion shal he hide me, & set me vp vpon a rocke.

And now shal he lift vp mine head aboue mine enemies: round about me: therfore wil I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifices of ioye: I wil sing and praise the Lord.

Hearken vnto my voice, <sup>o</sup> Lord, when I crye: haue mercie also vpon me and heare me.

When thou saidest, <sup>c</sup> Seke ye my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lord, I wil seke thy face.

Hide not therefore thy face from me, nor cast thy seruant awaie in displeasure: thou hast bene my succour: leaue me not, nether forsake me, <sup>o</sup> God of my saluation.

Thogh my father and my mother shulde forsake me, yet the Lord wil gather me vp.

Teache me thy waie, <sup>o</sup> Lord, and leade me in a right path, because of mine enemies.

Giue me not vnto the lust of mine ad-uersaries: for there are false witnessers rise vp against me, & suche as speake cruelly.

I shulde haue fainted, except I had beleued to see the goodnes of the <sup>b</sup> Lord in the land of the liuing.

Hope in the Lord: be strong, & he shal comfort thine heart, & trust in the Lord.

PSAL. XXVIII.

Being in great feare & heaviness of heart to see God dishonored by the wicked, he desired to be rid of them.
And cryeth for vengeance against them: & as length assureth him selfe, that God hath heard his praier. <sup>9</sup> Vnto whose tuition he commendeth all the faithful.

A Psalme of David.

VNto thee, <sup>o</sup> Lord, do I crye: <sup>o</sup> my strength, be not deafe toward me, lest, if thou answer me not, I be <sup>a</sup>like them that go downe into the pit.

Hear the voice of my petitions, when I crye vnto thee, when I holde vp mine hands toward thine <sup>b</sup> holy Oracle.

Drawe me not awaie with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquitie: which speake friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearts.

Reward them according to their dedes, and according to the wickednes of their inventions: recompense them after the worke of their hands: reder them their re-warde.

For thei regard not the workes of <sup>y</sup> Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore breake them downe, & buylde the not vp.

Praised be the Lord, for he hath heard the voice of my petitions.

The Lord is my strength and my shield:
mine heart trusted in him, and I was helped: therefore mine heart shal reioyce, & with my song wil I praise him.

The Lord is <sup>s</sup> their strength, and he is the strength of the deliuerances of his anointed.

Saue thy people, and blesse thine inheritace: fede them also, & exalt the for euer.

PSAL. XXIX.

The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the worlde, (which for the moste parte thinke there is no God) <sup>3</sup> As the least to feare him for the thunders & tempestes, for feare whereof all creatures tremble.
And thogh thereby God threateth sinners yet is he alwaies merciful to his, & moueth the thereby to praise his Name.

A Psalme of David.

a Because he was assured of good successe
in all his dangers, and that his saluation was surely laid vpon God, he feared not the tyrānie of his enemies.

2 Giue vnto the Lord glorie due vnto his Name: worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuarie.
3 The voice of the Lord is vpon the wa- ters: the God of glorie maketh it to thun- der: the Lord is vpon the great waters.
4 The voice of the Lord is mightie: the voice of the Lord is glorious.
5 The voice of the Lord breaketh the ce- dres: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedres of Lebanon.
6 He maketh the also to leape like a calfe: Lebanon also and <sup>d</sup> Shiron like a yong vnicorne.
7 The voice of the Lord deuideth the flames of fyre.
8 The voice of the Lord maketh the wil- dernes to tremble: the Lord maketh the wildernes of <sup>f</sup> Kadesh to tremble.
9 The voice of the Lord maketh the hinds to <sup>g</sup> calue, & <sup>h</sup> discouereth the forests: there- fore in his Temple doeth euerie man speake of his glorie.
10 The Lord sitteth vpon the <sup>k</sup> flood, and the Lord doeth remaine King for euer.
11 The Lord shal giue strength vnto his peo- ple: <sup>j</sup> Lord shal blesse his people wth peace.

PSAL. XXX.

When David was deliuered from great danger, he rendered thanks to God, exhorting others to do the like, and to learne by his example, that God is rather merciful then seuer and rigorous towards his children, & also that the fall from prosperitie to aduersitie is sudden. & This done, he returneth to prayer, promising to praise God for euer.

1 I wil magnifie thee, <sup>b</sup> Lord: <sup>b</sup> for thou hast exalted me, and hast not made my foes to reioyce ouer me.
2 O Lord my God, I cryed vnto thee, and thou hast <sup>c</sup> restored me.
3 O Lord, thou hast brought vp my <sup>d</sup> soule out of the graue: thou hast reuiued me fro them that go downe into the pit.
4 Sing praises vnto the Lord, ye <sup>e</sup> his Saints, and giue thanks <sup>f</sup> before the remembra- ce of his Holines.
5 <sup>g</sup> For he endureth but a while in his angre: but in his fauour is life: weeping maie abide at euening, but ioye cometh in the morning.
6 And in my <sup>h</sup> prosperitie I said, I shal neuer be moued.

7 For thou Lord of thy goodnes hadest made my <sup>i</sup> mountaine to stand strong: but <sup>j</sup> didest hide thy face, and I was troubled.
8 Then cryed I vnto thee, <sup>k</sup> Lord, and pray- ed to my Lord.
9 What profit is there in my blood, whē I go downe to <sup>l</sup> y<sup>e</sup> pit: shal the dust <sup>m</sup> giue thanks vnto thee? or shal it declare thy trueth?

10 Heare, <sup>n</sup> Lord, and haue mercie vpon me: Lord, be thou mine helper.
11 Thou hast turned my mourning into ioye: thou hast loosed my sacke & girded me with gladnes.
12 Therefore shal my <sup>o</sup> tongue praise thee and not cease: <sup>p</sup> Lord my God, I wil giue thanks vnto thee for euer.

PSAL. XXXI.

David deliuered from some great danger, first rehear- seth what meditation he had by the power of faith, when death was before his eyes, his enemy being ready to take him. 15 Then he affirmeth that the fauour of God is alwaies readie to those that feare him. 20 Final- ly he exhorteth all the faithful to trust in God and to loue him, because he preserueth and strengtheneth them, as they may see by his example.

2 Bowe downe thine eare to me: make haste to deliuer me: be vnto me a strong rocke, & an house of defence to saue me.
3 For thou art my rocke and my fortres: therefore for thy Names sake direct me & guide me.
4 Drawe me out of the <sup>g</sup> net, that they haue laied priuely for me: for thou art my strength.
5 Into thine <sup>h</sup> hand I commende my spirit: for thou hast redeemed me, <sup>i</sup> Lord God of trueth.
6 I haue hated them that giue them selues to deceitful vanities: for I <sup>j</sup> trust in the Lord.
7 I wil be glad and reioyce in thy mercie: for thou hast sene my trouble: thou hast knowen my soule in aduersities,
8 And thou hast not shut me vp in the had of <sup>k</sup> mine enemy, but hast set my fete at <sup>l</sup> large.
9 Haue mercie vpon me, <sup>m</sup> Lord: for I am in trouble: mine <sup>n</sup> eye, my soule & my bel- lie are consumed with grief.
10 For my life is wasted with heauines, and my yeres with mourning: my strength faileth for my peine, & my bones are con- sumed.
11 I was as reproche among all mine ene- mies, but specially among my neigh- bours: and a feare to mine acquaintance, <sup>o</sup> who seeing me in the strete, fled from me.
12 I am forgotten, as a dead man out of minde: I am like a broken vessel.
13 For I haue heard the failing of <sup>p</sup> great men: feare was on euerie side, while they conspired together against me, & consul- ted to take my life.
14 But I trusted in thee, <sup>q</sup> Lord: I said, <sup>r</sup> Thou art my God.
15 My <sup>s</sup> times are in thine hand: deliuer me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.

16 Make

<sup>1</sup> Because then he preferred me, my tongue shal- de praise thee: I wil not be vnmindeful of my due.

<sup>a</sup> For the God declareth him self iuste, whē he preserueth his according as he hath promised.

<sup>c</sup> He desireth God not onely to take care for him in this life, but that his soule may be saued after this life.

<sup>d</sup> This affecti- on ought to be in all Gods chil- dren, to hate whatsoeuer thing is not grounded vpon a iure trust in God, as deceit- ful and vaine.

16 Make thy face to shine vpon thy seruāt, & saue me through thy mercie.

17 Let me not be confounded, o Lord: for I haue called vpon thee: let the wicked be put to confusion, & m to silence in y graue.

18 Let the lying lippes be made dumme, which cruelly, proudly & spitefully speake against the righteous.

19 How great is thy goodnes, which thou hast laied vp for them, that feare thee! & done to them, that trust in thee; euen before the sonnes of men!

20 Thou doest hide them<sup>o</sup> priuely in thy presence from the pride of men: thou kepest them secretly in thy Tabernacle fro the strife of tongues.

21 Blessed be the Lord: for he hath shewed his maruelous kindenes toward me in a strong citie.

24 All ye that trust in the Lord, be<sup>s</sup> strong, and he shal establish your heart.

PSAL. XXXII.

1 David punished with grievous sicknes for his sinnes, counteth them blessed, to whome God doeth not impute their transgressions. 5 And after that he had confessed his sinnes and obtained pardon, 6 He exhorteth the wicked men to line godly. 11 And the good to reioyce.

A Psalme of David to giue<sup>a</sup> instruction.

1 Blessed is he whose wickednes is<sup>b</sup> forgiven, & whose sinne is couered.

2 Blessed is the man, vnto whome the Lord imputeth not iniquitie, & in whose spirit there is no guile.

3 When I helde my<sup>c</sup> tongue, my bones consumed, or when I<sup>d</sup> roared all the day, (For thine had is heauie vpon me, daie & night: & my moisture is turned into the drought of summer. Selah)

4 The I<sup>e</sup> acknowledged my sinne vnto thee, nether hid I mine iniquitie: for I thought, I wil confesse against my self my wickednes vnto the Lord, and thou forgavest the punishment of my sinne. Selah.

5 Therefore shal euerie one, that is godlie, make his praier vnto thee in a<sup>f</sup> time, when thou maiest be founde: surely in the flood of great waters & they shal not come nere him.

6 Thou art my secret place: thou preseruest me from trouble: thou compassedst me about with ioyful deliuerance. Selah.

7 I wil<sup>h</sup> instruct thee, & teache thee in the way, that thou shalt go, & I wil guide thee with mine eye.

8 Be ye not like an horse, or like a mule, which vnderstand not: whose<sup>i</sup> mouthes & that he wil diligently loke and take care to direct them in the waie of saluation. i If men can rule brute beastes, thinke they, that God wil not bridle and tame their rage?

thou doest binde with bit and bridel, lest they come nere thee.

10 Many sorowes shal come to the wicked: but he, that trusteth in the Lord, mercie shal compass him.

11 Be glad ye righteous, & <sup>k</sup> reioyce in the Lord, and be ioyful all ye, that are vpright in heart.

PSAL. XXXIII.

1 He exhorteth good men to praise God for that he hath not onely created all things, and by his prouidence gouerneth the same, but also is faithful in his promises, 10 He understandeth mans heart, and scattereth the counsel of the wicked, 16 So that no man can be preserued by anie creature or mans strength: but they, that put their confidence in his mercie, shal be preserued fro all aduersities.

1 Reioyce in the Lord, o ye righteous: for it<sup>a</sup> becometh vpright men to be thankful.

2 Praise y<sup>b</sup> Lord with harpe: sing vnto him with viole & instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing vnto him a new song: sing cherefully with a loude voyce.

4 For the<sup>c</sup> worde of the Lord is righteous, and all his<sup>d</sup> workes are faithful.

5 He<sup>e</sup> loueth righteousness & iudgement: the earth is ful of the goodnes of y<sup>f</sup> Lord.

6 By the worde of the Lord were the heauens made, and all the hoste of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 He<sup>g</sup> gathereth the waters of the sea together as vpon an heape, and laieth vp the depths in his treasures.

8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: let all the that dwel in the worlde, feare him.

9 For he spake, & it was done: he commanded, and it<sup>h</sup> stode.

10 The Lord breaketh the<sup>i</sup> counsel of the heathen, & bringeth to nought the deuises of the people.

11 The counsel of the Lord shal stand for euer, & the thoughts of his heart through out all ages.

12 Blessed is that nacion, whose<sup>j</sup> God is the Lord: euen the people, that he hath chosen for his inheritance.

13 The Lord<sup>k</sup> loketh downe from heauen, & beholdeth all the children of men.

14 From the habitation of his dwelling he beholdeth all them, that dwel in the earth.

15 He<sup>l</sup> facioneth their hearts euerie one, & vnderstandeth all their workes.

16 The<sup>m</sup> King is not saued by the multitude of an hoste, nether is the mightie ma deliuered by great strength.

17 A horse is a vaine helpe, and shal not deliuer anie by his great strength.

18 Beholde, <sup>n</sup> the eye of the Lord is vpon them that feare him, & vpon them, that trust in his mercie,

1 If Kings and the mightie of the worlde can not be saued by worldelie meanes, but onely by Gods prouidence, what haue others to trust in, that haue not like meanes? m God sheweth that towards his o<sup>s</sup> his mercie, which man by no meanes is able to compass.

19 To deliuer their soules from death, and to preserue them in famine.

20 Our soule waiteth for the Lord: for he is our helpe and our shield.

21 Surely our heart shal reioyce in him, because we trusted in his holie Name.

22 Let thy mercie, O Lord, be vpon vs, as we trust in thee.

PSAL. XXXIII.

After David had escaped Achish, according as it is written in the 1. Sam. 21. 11, whome in this title he calleth Abimelech (which was a general name to all the Kings of the Philistines) he praiseth God for his deliuerance. 3 Prouoking all others by his example to trust in God to feare & serue him: 14 Who defendeth the godlie with his Angels, 15 And utterly destroyeth the wicked in their finnes.

A Psalme of David, when he changed his behauiour before Abimelech, who drone him awaie, & he departed.

I Wil<sup>a</sup> alwaie giue thanks vnto the Lord: his praise shalbe in my mouth continually.

My soule shal glorie in the Lord: the<sup>b</sup> hu-<sup>b</sup> ble shal heare it, and be glad.

Praise ye the Lord with me, and let vs magnifie his Name together.

I fought the Lord, and he heard me: yea, he deliuered me out of all my<sup>c</sup> feare.

They<sup>d</sup> shal loke vnto him, and runne to him: and their faces shal not be ashamed, saying,

This poore man cryed, & the Lord heard him, and saued him out of all his troubles.

The<sup>e</sup> Angel of the Lord pitcheth roude about them, that feare him, and deliuereth them.

Taste ye & se, how gracious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

Feare the Lord, ye his Saints: for nothing wanteth to them that feare him.

The<sup>f</sup> lyons do lacke and suffer hunger, but they, which seke the Lord, shal want nothing that is good.

Come children, hearken vnto me: I wil teach you the<sup>g</sup> feare of the Lord.

What man is he, that desireth life, and loueth long daies for to<sup>h</sup> se good?

Kepe thy tongue from euil, and thy lip-<sup>i</sup> pes, that they speake no guile.

Eschew euil and do good: seke peace & followe after it.

The eyes of the Lord are vpon the right-<sup>j</sup> eous, & his eares are open vnto their crye.

But the<sup>k</sup> face of the Lord is against them that do euil, to cut of their remembrance from the earth.

The righteous crye, and the Lord heareth them, and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.

The Lord is nere vnto them that are of a<sup>l</sup> contrite heart, and wil saue suche as be afflicted in spirit.

Great are the troubles of the righteous:

but y<sup>m</sup> Lord deliuereth him out of the all.

He kepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

But malice shal slay the<sup>n</sup> wicked: & thei that hate the righteous, shal perish.

The Lord<sup>o</sup> redemeth the soules of his seruants: & none, y<sup>p</sup> trust in him, shal perish.

PSAL. XXXV.

So long as Sa<sup>r</sup> l was enemie to David, all that had au-<sup>r</sup> thoritie vnder him to flatter their King (as in the course of the worlde) did also moste cruelly persecute David: against whome he praiseth God to pleade & to auenge his cause, 8 That they may be taken in their nets & snares, which thei laied for him, that his innoc-<sup>r</sup> cie may be declared. 27 And that the innocent, which taketh parte with him, maie reioyce & praise the Na-<sup>r</sup> me of the Lord, that thus deliuereth his seruants. 28 And so he promiset<sup>r</sup>h to speake for the iustice of the Lord, & to magnifie his Name all the dayes of his life.

A Psalme of David.

PLEade thou my<sup>a</sup> cause, O Lord, with them that strue with me: fight thou against them, that fight against me.

Laie hand vpon the shield and buckler, and stand vp for mine helpe.

Bring out also the speare and stoppe the<sup>b</sup> waie against them, that persecute me: saie vnto my<sup>c</sup> soule, I am thy saluacion.

Let the be confounded & put to shame, that seke after my soule: let them be turned backe, and broght to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

Let them be as chaffe before the winde, and let the Angel of the Lord<sup>d</sup> scatter them.

Let their waie be darke & slipperie: & let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

For<sup>e</sup> without cause thei haue hid the pit and their net for me: without cause haue they digged a pit for my soule.

Let destruction come vpon<sup>f</sup> him at vn-<sup>r</sup> wares, & let his net, that he hath laied pri-<sup>r</sup> uely, take him: let him fall into the same destruction.

The<sup>g</sup> my soule shalbe ioyful in the Lord: it shal reioyce in his saluacion.

All my<sup>h</sup> bones shal saie, Lord, who is like vnto thee, which deliuerest the poore from him, that is to strong for him! yea, the poore and him that is in miserie, from him that spoileth him!

Cruel witnesses did rise vp: thei asked of me things that I knewe not.

They rewarded me euil for good, to<sup>k</sup> haue spoiled my soule.

Yet I, when thei were sicke, I was clothed with a sacke: I humbled my soule with fas-<sup>r</sup> ting: and<sup>l</sup> my praier was turned vpon my bosome.

I behaued my selfe as to my friend, or as to my brother: I humbled my selfe, mour-<sup>r</sup> ning as one that bewaileth his mother.

But in mine<sup>m</sup> aduersitie thei reioiced, & gathered them selues together: the ab-<sup>r</sup> iect

And as Christ saith, all the heeres of his head.

For when thei seme to be overcome with great di-<sup>r</sup> gers & death it self, then God sheweth him self their redemer.

Psalm XXXV.

He desireth God to vnder-<sup>r</sup> take his cause against them that did persecute him and slander him.

Albeit God can with his breath destroy all his enemi-<sup>r</sup> es, yet y<sup>p</sup> holie God attri-<sup>r</sup> buteth vnto him these outward weapons to as-<sup>r</sup> sure vs of his pient power.

Assure me against these tentations, that thou art y<sup>p</sup> an-<sup>r</sup> tor of my sal-<sup>r</sup> uation.

Smite them with the spirit of giddines that their en-<sup>r</sup> treprises may be foolish, & thei receive iuste reward.

Shewing y<sup>p</sup> we may not call God to be a reuenger, but onely for his glorie, & whe our cause is iuste.

When he promiset<sup>r</sup>h to him selfe pe-<sup>r</sup> ce.

Which he prepared against the chil-<sup>r</sup> dren of God.

He attributeth his deli-<sup>r</sup> uerance onely to God, prai-<sup>r</sup> sing him there-<sup>r</sup> fore bothe in soule & body.

That wolde not suffer me to purge my selfe.

To haue taken from me all comfort & broght me in-<sup>r</sup> to dispaire.

I prayed for them with in-<sup>r</sup> ward affectio, as I wolde haue done for my selfe: on<sup>r</sup> I declared mine affection with bowing downe mine head.

When thei saw me ready to slip and as one that hal-<sup>r</sup> ted for infir-<sup>r</sup> mitie.

Wherein the wicked reioyce. Psalmes. The wicked prosperitie. 242

jects assembled them selues against me, & I knewe not: thei tare me & ceased not, With the false skoffers at bankets, gnashing their teeth against me. Lord, how long wilt thou beholde this? deliuer my soule from their tumulte, euen my desolate soule from the lions. So wil I giue thee thanks in a great Cōgregation: I wil praise thee among much people.

Let not them that are mine enemies, vniustly reioyce ouer me, nether let them winke with the eye, that hate me without a cause.

For they speake not as friends: but they imagine deceitful wordes against the quiet of the land.

And they gaped on me with their mouthes, saying, Aha, aha, our eye hathe sene.

Thou hast sene it, O Lord: kepe not silence: be not farre from me, O Lord.

Arise and wake to my iudgement, euen to my cause, my God, and my Lord.

Iudge me, O Lord my God, according to thy righteousnes, and let them not reioyce ouer me.

Let them not saye in their hearts, Our soule reioyce: nether let them saye, We haue deuoured him.

Let them be confounded, and put to shame together, that reioyce at mine hurt: let them be clothed with confusion and shame, that lift vp them selues against me.

But let the be ioyful & glad, that loue my righteousnes: yea, let them saye alwaie, Let the Lord be magnified, which loueth the prosperitie of his seruant.

And my tōgue shal vtter thy righteousnes, & thy praise euerie day.

PSAL. XXXVI.

The Prophet grievously vexed by the wicked, doeth cōplaine of their malicious wickednes. 6 Then he turneth to cōsider the unspeakable goodnes of God towards all creatures: 9 But specially towards his children, that by the faith thereof he maie be comforted & assured of his deliuarance by this ordinarie course of Gods worke. 13 Who in the end destroyeth the wicked & saucth the iuste.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David, the seruant of the Lord.

Wickednes saiethe to y wicked mā, euen in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

For he blattereth him self in his owne eyes, while his iniquitie is found worthise to be hated.

The wordes of his mouthe are iniquitie and deceite: he hathe left of to vnderstand & to do good.

He imagineth mischief vpon his bed: he setteth him selfe vpon a waie, that is not good, & doeth not abhorre euil.

He admonisheth the godlie to beware of these vices.

Thy mercie, O Lord, reacheth vnto the heauens, and thy faithfulness vnto the cloudes.

Thy righteousness is like the mightie mountaines: thy iudgements are like a great deepe: thou, Lord, doest saue man and beast.

How excellent is thy mercie, O God! therefore the children of men trust vnder the shadowe of thy wings.

They shal be satisfied with the fatnes of thine house, & thou shalt giue them drinke out of the riuer of thy pleasures.

For with thee is the well of life, & in thy light shal we se light.

Extend thy louing kindenes vnto them that knowe thee, and thy righteousness vnto them that are vpriight in heart.

Let not the fore of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked moue me.

There they are fallen that worke iniquitie: they are cast downe, and shal not be able to rise.

PSAL. XXXVII.

This Psalm containeth exhortation & consolation for the weake, that are grieved at the prosperitie of the wicked, & the affliction of the godlie. 7 For how prosperously soeuer the wicked do liue for the time, he doeth affirme their felicitie to be vaine and transitorie, because they are not in the fauour of God, but in the end they are destroyed as his enemies. 11 And how miserably that the righteous semeth to liue in the world, yet his end is peace, & he is in the fauour of God, he is deliuered from the wicked & preserved.

A Psalm of David.

Reate not thy self because of the wicked men, nether be enuious for the euil doers.

For they shal soone be cut downe like grasse, and shal wither as the grene herbe.

Trust thou in the Lord & do good: dwel in the land, & thou shalt be fed assuredly.

And delite thy self in the Lord, and he shal giue thee thine hearts desire.

Commit thy waye vnto the Lord, and trust in him, and he shal bring it to passe.

And he shal bring forth the thy righteousness as the light, & thy iudgement as the noone daye.

Waite patiently vpon the Lord & hope in him: feare not thy self for him which prospereth in his waye: nor for the mā that bringeth his enterprises to passe.

Cease from angre, & leaue of wrath: feare not thy selfe also to do euil.

For euil doers shalbe cut of, and they that waite vpon the Lord, they shal inherite the land.

Therefore yet a litle while, and the God wil cleare our cause and restore vs to our right. f When God suffereth the wicked to prosper, it semeth to the flesh that he fauoreth their doings.

g Meaning, except he moderate his afflictions, he shalbe led to do as they do.

h He correcteth the impaciencie of our nature, which can not abide all the fulnes of Gods time be come.

Thogh wickednes semeth to ouerhoo all the worlde, yet by thine heauenlie prouidence thou gouernest heauen & earth. ebr. the mountains of God: for whatseuer is excellent, is thus called. f The depth of thy prouidence gouerneth all things, and disposeth the wicked seme to ouerwhelme the worlde. g Onely Gods children haue ynough of all things both cōcerning this life & the life to come. h He sheweth who are Gods children, to wit, they y know him, and lead their liues vp-rightly. i Let not the proude aduance him self against me, nether f power of the wicked driue me away. k That is, in their pride wherein they blatter their selues.

a He admonisheth vs nether to vexe our selues for the prosperous estate of y wicked, nether to desire to be like the to make our state the better. b For Gods iudgement cutteth downe their state in a moment. c To trust in God, and do according to his wil, are sure tokens, that his prouidence wil neuer faile vs. d Be not led by thine owne wisdom, but obey God, and he wil finish his worke in thee. e As the hope of y daileight causeth vs not to be offended with the darkenes of the night: so ought we patiently to trust that i The godlie are assured y<sup>e</sup> the power and craft of the wicked shal not preuaile against them, but fall on their owne neckes, & therefore ought patiently to abide Gods time, & in the meane while bewaile their sinnes, & offer vp their teares as a sacrifice of their obedience.

k For they are daily fed as wth Manna fro<sup>m</sup> heauen, & haue sufficiency, when y<sup>e</sup> wicked haue neuer ynough, but euer hugre.

m For God wil giue them comforted mindes, & that wth shal be necessarie. n They shal vanish away suddenly: for they are fed for the daie of slaughter.

o God so furnissheth him with his blessing, that he is able to helpe others.

p God prospereth the faithful, because they walke in his waies with an vpright conscience.

q When God doeth exercise his faith wth diuers tentations.

r Though the iust man dye, yet Gods blessings are extended to his posteritie, and though God suffer some iuste man to lacke temporal benefites, yet he recompenseth him with spiritual treasures.

s They shal continually be preserved vnder Gods wings, and haue at least inward rest.

t These three pointes are required of the faithful, that their talke be godlie, y<sup>e</sup> Gods Law be in their heart, & that their life be vpright.

u For though it be sometime so expedient both for Gods glorie & their saluation, yet he wil approue their cause, & reuenge their wrong.

wicked shal not appeare, and thou shalt looke after his place, and he shal not be founde.

11 But * meeke men shal possesse the earth, and shal haue their delite in the multitude of peace.

12 The wicked practiseth against the iust, and gnaseth his teeth against him.

13 But the Lord shal laugh him to scorne: for he seeth, that his daye is coming.

14 The wicked haue drawne their sworde, and haue bent their bowe, to cast downe the poore and nedie, and to slay suche as be of vpright conuersation.

15 But their sworde shal entre into their owne heart, & their bowes shal be broken.

16 A small thing vnto the iust man is better, then great riches to the wicked and mightie.

17 For the armes of the wicked shal be broken: but the Lord vpholdeth the iust men.

18 The Lord knoweth y<sup>e</sup> dayes of vpright men, and their inheritance shal be perpetual.

19 They shal not be cofounded in the perillous time, and in the dayes of famine they shal haue m<sup>uch</sup> ynough.

20 But the wicked shal perish, and the enemies of the Lord shal be consumed as the fat of lambes: euen with the smoke shal they consume awaye.

21 The wicked boroweth and payeth not againe: but the righteous is merciful, and giueth.

22 For suche as be blessed of God, shal inherit the land, & they that be cursed of him, shal be cut of.

23 The paths of man are directed by the Lord: for he loueth his waye.

24 Though he fall, he shal not be cast of: for the Lord putteth vnder his hand.

25 I haue bene yong and am olde: yet I saw neuer the righteous forsaken, nor his seede begging bread.

26 But he is euer merciful and lendeth, and his seede enioyeth the blessing.

27 Flee from euil and do good, and dwell for euer.

28 For the Lord loueth iudgement, & forsaketh not his Saints: they shal be preserved for euermore: but the seede of the wicked shal be cut of.

29 The righteous me<sup>n</sup> shal inherit the land, and dwell therein for euer.

30 The mouth of the righteous wil speake of wisdom, and his tongue wil talke of iudgement.

31 For the Law of his God is in his heart, & his steppes shal not slide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.

33 But y<sup>e</sup> Lord wil not leaue him in his had, nor condemne him, when he is iudged.

For though it be sometime so expedient both for Gods glorie & their saluation, yet he wil approue their cause, & reuenge their wrong.

34 Waite thou on the Lord, and kepe his waye, & he shal exalt thee, that thou shalt inherit the land: when the wicked men shal perish, thou shalt se.

35 I haue sent the wicked strong, & spreading him self like a grene baye tre.

36 Yet he passed away, and lo, he was gone, and I sought him, but he colde not be founde.

37 Marke the vpright man, and beholde the iust: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the transgressours shal be destroyed together, and the end of the wicked shal be cut of.

39 But the saluation of the righteous me<sup>n</sup> shal be of the Lord: he shal be their strength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Lord shal helpe them, and deliuer them: he shal deliuer them from the wicked, and shal saue them, because they trust in him.

PSAL. XXXVIII.

Dauid lying sicke of some grievous disease, acknowledgeth him self to be chastised of the Lord for his finnes, & therefore praieth God to turne away his wrath.

He uttereth the greatnes of his grief by manie wordes & circumstances, as wounded with the arrowes of Gods ire, forsaken of his friends, euil intreated of his enemies. 22 But in the end with firme confidence he commendeth his cause to God, & hopeth for speedie helpe at his hand.

A Psalme of Dauid for a remembrance.

Lord, rebuke me not in thine angre, nether chastise me in thy wrath.

For thine arrowes haue light vpon me, and thine hand lyeth vpon me.

There is nothing sounde in my flesh, because of thine angre: nether is there rest in my bones because of my sinne.

For mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head, & as a weightie burden they are to heauie for me.

My woundes are putrified, and corrupt because of my foolishnes.

I am bowed, and croked very sore: I go mourning all the daye.

For my reines are ful of burning, & there is nothing sounde in my flesh.

I am weakned and sore broken: I sorrowe for the verie grief of mine heart.

Lord, I powre my whole desire before thee, and my sighing is not hid from thee.

Mine heart panteth: my strength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, euen they are not mine owne.

My louers and my friends stand aside from my plague, and my kinsmen stand a farre of.

They also, that sleeke after my life, laye snares, and they that go about to do me euil, talke wicked things and imagine deceite continually.

My sight faileth me for verie sorowe. Partly for feare, and partly for pride they denied all duetie and friendship.

x So that the prosperitie of the wicked is but as a cloude, which vanissheth away in a moment. y He exhorteth the faithful to marke diligently the examples both of Gods mercies, & also of his iudgements. z He sheweth that y<sup>e</sup> patient hope of the godlie is neuer in vaine, but in the end hath good success, though for a time God proue them by sundrie tentations.

a To put him self & others in minde of Gods chastisement for sinne. b He desireth not to be expelled fro<sup>m</sup> Gods rod, but that he wolde so moderate his hand, that he might be able to beare it.

c Thy sickness, where-with thou hast visited me.

d Dauid acknowledgeth God to be juste in his punishments because his sinnes had deservede muche more.

e He comforteth his sinners, Gods iustice, & maketh prayer his refuge.

f That rather gaue place to mine owne iustice, then to the will of God.

g Or, blacke, as one that is distressed with sinnes.

h This example warneth vs neuer to despair, be the torment neuer so great: but alwaies to erre vnto God with sure trust for deliuerance.

i Elie. Reue. 12.

k My sight faileth me for verie sorowe.

l Partly for feare, and partly for pride they denied all duetie and friendship.

*For I can haue no audiece before me,

am as a dumme man, which openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, & in whoſe mouth are no reproſes.

15 For on thee, O Lord, do I waite: thou wilt heare me, my Lord, my God.

16 For I ſaid, Heare me, leſt they reioyce ouer me: for <sup>1</sup> when my ſote ſlippeth, they extoll them ſelues againſt me.

17 Surely I am ready to <sup>m</sup> halte, and my ſo-

18 When I declare my peine, & am ſorie for my ſinne,

19 Then mine <sup>a</sup> enemies are aliue & are mightie, and they that hate me wrongfully are manie.

20 They alſo, that rewarde euil for good, are mine aduerſaries, becauſe I followe goodnes.

21 Forſake me not, O Lord: be not thou farre from me, my God.

22 Haſte thee to helpe me, O my Lord, my ſaluation.

fooliſh.

9 I ſhulde haue bene dumme, and not haue opened my mouth, becauſe & thou di-

10 Take thy plague away from me: for I am conſumed by the ſtroke of thine hād.

11 When thou with rebukes doeſt chaſtiſe man for iniquitie, thou as a moth <sup>h</sup> makeſt his beautie to conſume: ſurely euerie mā is vanitie. Selah.

12 Heare my praier, O Lord, & hearken vnto my crye: kepe not ſilence at my teares, for I am a ſtranger with thee, & a ſoiourner as all my fathers.

13 Stay thine angre from me, that I maie re-

*1 David deliuered from great danger, doeth magnifie and praiſe the grace of God for his deliuerance, & cōmendeth his providence towards all mankind. 3 Then doeth he promiſe to giue him ſelf wholly to Gods ſerui-

3 And he hath put in my mouth <sup>c</sup> a new ſong of praiſe vnto our God: manie ſhal

4 Blessed is the man, that maketh the Lord his truſt, and regardeth <sup>d</sup> not the proude,

He miseth to offer a sole sacrifice of thanksgiving in token of his great deliuerance.

Whereby he admonisheth the faithful not to relent, but constantly to wait on the Lord, though their troubles be long & great.

This psalme seemeth to haue bene made by some excellent Prophet for the people, when the Church was in extreme miserie, either at their returne from Babylon, or vnder Antiochus, or in such like affliction.

That is, the Canaanites. To wit, our fathers.

Of Canaan that is, our fathers.

Gods free mercie & loue is yonellie foune & beginning of the Church, Deut. 4.37.

Because we art our King, therefore deliuer thy people from their miserie.

Because thei & their forefathers made boethose Church thei applie to the selues, which before thei did attribute to their fathers.

As thei confessed before, y their strength came of God, so now thei acknowledge y this affliction came by his iust iudgement.

The faithful remember the great mercie of God toward his people. After thei complaine, because thei se no more. Also thei alledge the couenant made with Abraham, for the keeping whereof thei shewe what grievous things thei suffered. Finally they praise vnto God, not to contemne their affliction, seeing the same redoundeth to the contempt of his honour.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

WE haue heard with our eares, O God: our fathers haue tolde vs the workes, that thou hast done in their daies, in the olde time:

How thou hast driuen out the heathen with thine hand, and planted them: how thou hast destroyed the people, and caused them to growe.

For thei inherited not the land by their owne sworde, nether did their owne arme saue them: but thy right hand, & thine arme and the light of thy countenance, because thou didest fauour them.

Thou art my King, O God: send helpe vnto Iakob.

Through thee haue we thrust backe our aduersaries: by thy Name haue we troade downe them that rose vp against vs.

For I do not trust in my bowe, nether can my sworde saue me.

But thou hast saued vs from our aduersaries, & hast put the to confusion & hate vs.

Therefore wil we praise God continually, & wil confesse thy Name for euer. Selah.

But now thou art farre of, and puttest vs to confusion, & goest not forthe with our armies.

Thou makest vs to turne backe from the aduersarie, and thei, which hate vs, spoile for them selues.

Thou giuest vs as shepe to be eaten, & doest scatter vs among the nations.

Thou sellest thy people without gaine, and doest not increase their price.

Thou makest vs a reproche to our neighbours, a ielte and a laughing stocke to the that are round about vs.

Thou makest vs a prouerbe among the nations, & a nodding of the head among the people.

My confusion is daiely before me, and the shame of my face hath covered me,

For the voice of the sclanderer and rebuker, for the enemy and auenger.

17 All this is come vpon vs, yet do we not forget thee, nether deale we falsely concerning thy couenant.

18 Our heart is not turned backe: nether our steppes gone out of thy paths, 19 Albeit thou hast smiten vs downe into the place of dragons, and couered vs with the shadowe of death.

20 If we haue forgotté thy Name of our God, & holden vp our hands to a strange god, 21 Shal not God searche this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart.

22 Surely for thy sake are we slaine continually, & are counted as shepe for slaughter.

23 Vp, why sleepest thou, O Lord? awake, be not farre of for euer.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face? & forgettest our miserie and our affliction?

25 For our soule is beaten downe vnto the dust: our belly cleueth vnto the grounde.

26 Rise vp for our succour, and redeme vs for thy mercies sake.

constantly to waite on the Lord, though their troubles be long & great

seemeth to haue bee made by some excellent prophet for the use of the people, when the Church was in

PSAL. XLIII.

The faithful remember the great mercie of God toward his people. 9 After thei complaine, because thei fele it no more. 17 Also thei alledge the couenant made with Abraham, for the keeping whereof thei shewe what grie-uous things thei suffered. 23 Finally they praise vnto God not to contemne their affliction, seeing the same redound-eth to the contempt of his honour.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

WE haue heard with our eares, O God: our fathers haue tolde vs the workes, that thou hast done in their daies, in the olde time:

How thou hast driuen out the heathen with thine hand, and planted them: how thou hast destroyed the people, and caused them to growe.

For thei inherited not the land by their owne sworde, nether did their owne arme saue them: but thy right hand, & thine arme and the light of thy countenance, because thou didest fauour them.

Thou art my King, O God: send helpe vnto Isaacob.

Through thee haue we thrust backe our aduersaries: by thy Name haue we troade downe them that rose vp against vs.

For I do not trust in my bowe, nether can my sworde saue me.

But thou hast saued vs from our aduersaries, & hast put the to confusion & hate vs.

Therefore wil we praise God continually, & wil confesse thy Name for euer. Selah.

But now thou art farre of, and puttest vs to confusion, & goest not forth with our armies.

Thou makest vs to turne backe from the aduersarie, and thei, which hate vs, spoile for them selues.

Thou giuest vs as shepe to be eaten, &
doest scatter vs among the nations.

Thou sellest thy people without gaine, and doest not increase their price.

Thou makest vs a reproche to our neighbours, a ielte and a laughing stocke to the
that are round about vs.

Thou makest vs a prouerbe among the nations, & a nodding of the head among the people.

My confusion is daiely before me, and the shame of my face hath covered me,

For the voice of the slanderer and rebu-ker, for the enemy and auenger.

m I dare not lift vp mine head for shame.

n Meaning, the proude and cruel tyrant.

17 All this is come vpon vs, yet do we not forget thee, nether deale we falsely concerning thy couenant.

18 Our heart is not turned backe: nether our steppes gone out of thy paths,

19 Albeit thou hast smiten vs downe into the place of dragons, and couered vs with the shadowe of death.

20 If we haue forgotté thy Name of our God, & holden vp our hands to a strange god,

21 Shal not God searche this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart.

22 Surely for thy sake are we slaine cotinually, & are counted as shepe for slaughter.

23 Vp, why sleepest thou, O Lord? awake, be not farre of for euer.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face? & forgettest our miserie and our affliction?

25 For our soule is beate downe vnto the dust: our belly cleueth vnto the ground.

26 Rise vp for our succour, and redeme vs for thy mercies sake.

When David was rebuked by the Prophet Nathan, for his great offences, he did not onely acknowledge the same to God with protestation of his natural corruptiō and iniquitie, but also left a memorial thereof to his posteritie. 7 Therefore first he desireth God to forgive his sinnes, 10 And to renew in him his holie Spirit, 13 With promes that he wil not be unmindeful of those great graces. 18 Finally fearing lest God wolde punish the whole Church for his fault, he requireth that he wolde rather increase his graces towards the same.

Thou hast handled thy people sharply in taking from them sense and iudgement, in that they aided Saul the wicked King, and pursued him, to whome God had giuen the king, and performed thy promise, which seemed to haue lost the force. g It is so certaine, as if it were spoken by an oracle, that I shal possesse these places, which Saul had left to his children. h For it was strong and wel peopled.

PSAL. LXI.

To him that excelleth in Anginóth. A Psalm of David.

<sup>4</sup> I wil dwell in thy Tabernacle for euer, & my trust shal be vnder the couering of thy wings. Selah.

<sup>5</sup> For thou, o God, hast heard my desires: thou hast giue an heritage vnto those that feare thy Name.

<sup>8</sup> So wil I alway sing praise vnto thy Name in performing dailey my vowes.

PSAL. LXII.

This Psalm partly containeth meditations, whereby David encourageth him self to trust in God against the assaults of tentations. And because our mindes are easily drawē from God by the allurementes of the world, he sharply reproveth this vanitie, to the intent he might cleave fast to the Lord.

To the excellent musician * Jeduthún. A Psalm of David.

<sup>a</sup> Though Sātā tempted him to murmur against God, yet he bridled his affections, & resting vpō Gods pmes, beareth his crosse patiently.
<sup>c</sup> He meaneth him self, being the mā whome God had appointed to y<sup>e</sup> kingdom. <sup>d</sup> Though ye sente to be in honour, yet God wil suddely destroye you. <sup>e</sup> David was greatly mouted with these troubles: therefore he stirreth vp him self to trust in God.

for mine hope is in him.

<sup>6</sup> Yet is he my strength, & my saluacion, & my defence: therefore I shal not be moued.

<sup>7</sup> In God is my saluacion and my glorie, y<sup>e</sup> rocke of my strength: in God is my trust.

<sup>8</sup> Trust in him alwaie, ye people: s powre out your hearts before him, for God is our hope. Selah.

<sup>9</sup> Yet the children of men are vanitie, the chief me are lies: to lay thē vpon a balance thei are altogether lighter thē vanitie.

<sup>10</sup> Trust not in oppression nor in roberie: it be not vaine: if riches increase, set not your heart thereon.

<sup>11</sup> God spake once or twise, I haue heard it, that power belongeth vnto God, <sup>12</sup> And to thee, o Lord, mercie: for thou rewardest euerie one accordig to his worke.

PSAL. LXIII.

David, after he had bene in great danger by Sāt in the desert of Ziph, made this psalme. <sup>3</sup> Wherein he giueth thanks to God for his wonderful deliuerance, in whose mercies he trusted euen in the midles of his miseries. <sup>9</sup> Prophecying the destruction of Gods enemies: <sup>11</sup> And contrariwise happines to all them that trust in the Lord.

A Psalm of David. When he was in the wilderness of Iudáh.

<sup>1</sup> O God, thou art my God, early wil I seek thee: my soule thirsteth for thee: my flesh longeth greatly after thee in a baren and drye land without water.

<sup>5</sup> My soule shal be satisfied, as with dmarow and fatnes, and my mouth shal praise thee with ioyful lippes, <sup>6</sup> When I remember thee on my bed, & when I thinke vpon thee in the night watches.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore they that seke my soule to destroy it, they shal go into the lowest partes of the earth.

<sup>10</sup> They shal cast him downe with the edge of the sworde, & thei shal be a portiō for foxes.

<sup>11</sup> But the King shal reioyce in God, and all that sweare by him shal reioyce in him: for the mouth of them that speake lies, shal be stopped.

PSAL. LXIII.

David praisth against the furie and false reportes of his enemies. <sup>7</sup> He declareth their punishmentes & destruction. <sup>10</sup> To the comfort of the iust and the glorie of God.

f These vehement & often repetitiones were necessarie to strengthen his faith against the horrible afflictions of Sātā. <sup>g</sup> He admonisheth vs of our wicked imaginations, which rather hide our sorrow, & bite on the bridle, then viter our grief to God to obtaine remedie. <sup>h</sup> Giue your selues wholly to God by putting away all things y<sup>e</sup> are contrary to his Lawe. <sup>i</sup> He hath plainly borne witness of his power, loy none needeth to doubt thereof. <sup>k</sup> So that the wicked shall feel thy power, and the godlie thy mercie.

<sup>b</sup> Thogh he was bothe hungry & in great distress, yet he made God his sufficiency & about all miserie & drinkes. <sup>c</sup> In this miserie I exercise my self in the contemplation of thy power & glorie, as if I were in thy Sanctuarie. <sup>d</sup> The remembrance of thy fauour is more sweete vnto me then all the pleasures and delights of the world.

fat rams with incense: I wil prepare bullokes and goates. Sélah.

16 Come & hearken, all ye that feare God, & I wil tel you what he hath done to my soule.

17 I called vnto him with my mouth, and he was exalted with my tongue.

18 If I regarde wickednes in mine heart,
the Lord wil not heare me.

19 But God hath heard me, & considered the voice of my praier.

20 Praised be God, which hath not put PSAL. LXVII.

1 A praier of the Church to obtaine the fauour of God
& to be lightened with his countenance, 2 To the end that his waie & iudgements maie be knowne throughout the earth 7 And finally is declared the kingdome of God, which shal be vniuersally erected at the com-ming of Christ.

To him that excelleth on Neginóth. A Psal.
or song.

God be merciful vnto vs, and blesse vs, & cause his face to shine among vs. Sélah.

2 That they maie know thy waie vpon earth, & thy sauing health among all nations.

3 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.

4 Let the people be glad and reioyce: for thou shalt iudge y people righteously, & gouerne the nations vpon the earth. Sélah.

5 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all
the people praise thee.

6 The shall y earth bring forth the her increase, & God, euen our God shall blesse vs.

7 God shall blesse vs, and all the ends of the earth shall feare him.

PSAL. LXVIII.

1 In this psalme David setteth forth the as in a glasse the wonderful mercies of God towards his people: 2 Who by all meanes & moste strange sortes declared him self to them. 15 And therefore Gods Church by reason of his promises, graces and victories doeth excel without comparison all worldlie things. 34 He exhorteth therefore all men to praise God for euer.

To him that excelleth. A psalme or song of David.

God wil arise, & his enemies shall be scattered: thei also that hate him, shall flee before him.

2 As the smoke vanisheth, so shalt y driue them awaie: & as waxe melteth before the fyre, so shall y wicked perish at the presence of God.

3 But the righteous shall be glad, & reioyce before God: yea, thei shall leape for ioye.

4 Sing vnto God, & sing praises vnto his Name: exalt him, that rideth vpon the heauens, in his Name: Iah, & reioyce before him.

5 He is a Father of the fatherles, and a Iudge of the widowes, euen God in his holie habitation.

6 God maketh the solitarie to dwell in families, & deliuereth them that were prisoners in stockes: but the rebellious shall dwell in a drye land.

7 O God, when thou wentest forth the before thy people: when thou wentest through the wilderness, (Sélah)

8 The earth shoke, and the heauens dropped at the presence of this God: euen Sinai was moued at the presence of God, euen the God of Israel.

9 Thou, O God, sendest a gracious raine vpon thine inheritance, & thou didest refresh it when it was wearie.

10 Thy Congregation dwelled therein: for thou, O God, hast of thy goodnes prepared it for the poore.

11 The Lord gaue matter to the women to tel of the great armie.

12 Kings of the armies did flee: thei did flee & she that remained in the house, deu-ided the spoile.

13 Though ye haue lien among pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a dooue that is cou-ered with siluer, and whose fethers are like yelow gold.

14 When the Almighty scattered Kings in it, it was white as the snow in Zalmón.

15 The mountaine of God is like the mo-untaine of Bashán: it is an high Mountaine, as mount Bashán.

16 Why leape ye, ye high mountaines? as for this Mountaine, God delitereth to dwell in it: yea, the Lord wil dwell in it for e-uer.

17 The charets of God are twentie thousand thousand Angels, and the Lord is among them, as in the Sanctuarie of Sinai.

18 Thou art gone vp on high: thou hast led captiuitie captiue, and receiued giftes for men: yea, euen the rebellious hast thou led, that the Lord God might dwell there.

19 Praised be the Lord, euen the God of our saluation, which ladeth vs dailey with benefites. Sélah.

20 This is our God, euen the God that saueth vs: and to the Lord God belong the issues of death.

21 Surely God wil wound the head of his enemies, & the heerie pate of him that walketh in his sinnes.

22 The Lord hath said, I wil bring my people againe from Bashán: I wil bring them againe from the depths of the Sea:

23 That thy foote maie be dipped in blood, & the tongue of thy dogges in the blood of the enemies, euen in it.

24 Thei haue sene, O God, thy goings, the goings of my God, & my King, which art Church once frō Og of Bashán, & other tyrants, & frō the dangers of y red Sea so wil he stil do as oft as necessitie requireth. That is, in y blood of that

PSAL. LIX.

The cōplaints, prayers, seruents & gale & great anguish of Dauid is set forth as a figure of Christ & all his members: 21 The malicious crueltie of the enemies, 22 And their punishment also, 26 Where Iudas & such traitors are accursed. 30 He gathereth courage in his affliction & offreth praises vnto God, 32 Which are more acceptable then all sacrifices: whereof all the afflicted may take comfort. 35 Finally he doeth prouoke all creatures to praises, prophesying of the kingdome of Christ, & the preseruacion of the Church, where all the faithful, 37 And their sede shal dwell for ever.

To him that excelleth vpon a Shoshannim. A Psalm of Dauid.

1 Saue me, O God: for the waters are sentred euen to my soule.

2 I sticke fast in the depe myre, where no staie is: I am come into depe waters, and the streames runne ouer me.

3 I am wearie of crying: my throte is drye: mine eyes faile, whiles I waite for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause, are mo then the heeres of mine head: thei that wolde destroye me, and are mine enemies: falsely, are mightie, so that I restored that which I took not.

5 O God, thou knowest my foolishnes, & my fautes are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord God of hostes, be ashamed for me: let not those that seke thee, be confounded through me, O God of Israël.

7 For thy sake haue I suffered reprove: shame hath couered my face.

8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethre, euen an aliant vnto my mothers sonnes.

9 For the zeale of thine house hath eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I wept and my soule fasted, but that was to my reprove.

11 I put on a sacke also: and I became a prouerbe vnto them.

12 They that sate in the gate, spake of me, and the drunkards sang of me.

13 But Lord, I make my praier vnto thee in an acceptable time, euen in the multitude of thy mercie: O God, heare me in the trueth of thy saluacion.

14 Deliuer me out of the myre, that I sinke not: let me be deliuered from the that hate me, and out of the depe waters.

15 Let not y<sup>e</sup> waterflood drowne me, nether let the depe swallowe me vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

16 Heare me, O Lord, for thy louing kindness is good: turne vnto me according to the multitude of thy tendre mercies.

17 And hide not thy face from thy seruāt, for I am in trouble: make hast & heare me.

18 Drawe nere vnto my soule & redeme it: deliuer me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast knowen my reprove and my shame, & my dishonour: all mine aduersaries are before thee.

20 Rebuke hath broken mine heart, and I am ful of heauines, and I looked for some to haue pitie on me, but there was none: and for comforters, but I founde none.

21 For thei gaue me gall in my meat, and in my thirst thei gaue me vinegre to drinke.

22 Let their table be a snare before them, and their prosperitie their ruine.

23 Let their eyes be blinded that thei se not: and make their loynes alwaie to tremble.

24 Powre out thine angre vpon them, & let thy wrathful displeasure take them.

25 Let their habitacion be voide, & let none dwell in their tentes.

26 For thei persecute him, whome thou hast smiten: and they adde vnto the sorowe of them, whome thou hast wounded.

27 Lay iniquitie vpon their iniquitie, & let them not come into thy righteousness.

28 Let them be put out of the boke of life, but their posteritie, which shal be like vnto them. By their continuance and increasing in their finnes leaue it knowne that they be of the reprobate. They which sinned by their profession to haue bene written in thy boke, yet by their frutes proue the contrarie, let them be known as reprobate.

A Psalm to giue instruction, committed to Asaph.

O God, why hast thou put vs away for euer? why is thy wrath kindled against the shepe of thy pasture?

6 But now they breake downe the carued worke thereof with axes and hammers.

7 They haue cast thy Sanctuarie into the fyre, & rased it to the ground, and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy Name.

8 They said in their hearts, Let vs destroye them altogether: they haue burnt all the Synagogues of God in the land.

9 We see not our signes: there is not one Prophet more, nor anie with vs that knoweth how long.

c When I see my time (saith God) to helpe your miseries, I will come & see all things in good order.
d Though all things be brought to ruine, yet I can restore & preserve them. e The Prophet warneth <sup>y</sup> wicked that they wolde not set them selues against Gods people, seeing God at his time destroyeth them that rule wickedly.
f Gods wrath is compared to a cup of strong & delicate wine, whereunto the wicked are made so dronke, that by drinking til they come to the vent dregs, they are utterly destroyed.

- 9 But I wil declare for euer, and sing praises vnto the God of Iakob.
10 All the hornes of the wicked also wil I breake: but the hornes of the righteous shalbe exalted.

God is <sup>a</sup> known in Iudá: his Name is great in Israél.

For in <sup>b</sup> Shalém is his Tabernacle, and his dwelling in Zión.

There brake he the arrowes of the bowe, the shield and the sworde and the battel. Sélah.

Thou art more bright and puissant, then the mountaines of pray.

The stoure harted are spoiled: they haue slept their slepe, & all the men of strength haue not <sup>d</sup> founde their hands.

At thy rebuke, o God of Iakob, bothe the chariot and horse are cast a slepe.

Thou, euén thou art to be feared: and who shal stand in thy <sup>e</sup> sight, when thou art angrie!

Thou didest cause thy iudgement to be heard from heauen: therefore the earth feared and was stil,

When thou, o God, arose to iudgement, to <sup>f</sup> helpe all the meke of the earth. Sélah.

Surely the <sup>g</sup> rage of man shal turne to thy praise: the remnant of the rage shalt thou restraine.

Vowe & performe vnto the Lord your God, all ye that be <sup>h</sup> rounde about him: let the bring presents vnto him that ought to be feared.

The Prophet in the name of the Church rehearseth the greatnes of his affliction, and his grievous tentations, 6 Whereby he was driuen to this end to consider his former conuersation, 11 And the continual course of Gods workes in the preseruatiō of his seruants, & so he confirmeth his faith against these tentations.

Wil the Lord absent him self for euer? & wil he shewe no more fauour?

Is his <sup>f</sup> mercie cleane gone for euer? doeth his promes faile for euer more?

Hathe God forgotten to be merciful? hath he shut vp his tender mercies in displeasure? Sélah.

And I said, This is my <sup>g</sup> death: yet I remembred the yerres of the right hād of the most High.

I remembred the workes of the Lord: certainly I remembred thy wonders of olde.

I did also meditate all thy workes, & did deuise of thine Actes, saying,

Thy waie, o God, is <sup>h</sup> in the Sanctuarie: who is so great a <sup>i</sup> God as our God!

Thou art the God that doest wonders: thou hast declared thy power among the people.

Thou hast redemed thy people wth thine arme, euén the sonnes of Iakob and Ioséph. Sélah.

The <sup>k</sup> waters sawe thee, o God: the waters sawe thee, and were afraied: yea, the depths trembled.

The cloudes powred out water: the heauens gaue a <sup>l</sup> sounde: yea, thine arrowes went abroad.

The voice of thy thundre was round about: the lightnigs lightened the worlde: the earth trembled and shoke.

4 We wil not hide them from their children, but to the generacion to come we wil shewe the praises of the Lord, his power also, and his wonderful workes that he hathe done:

5 How he established a testimonie in Iaakob, and ordeined a Law in Israél, which he commanded our fathers, that they shulde teache their children:

6 That the posteritie might knowe it, and the children, which shulde be borne, shulde stand vp, & declare it to their children:

7 That they might set their hope on God, and not forget the workes of God
but kepe his commandements:

8 And not to be as their fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generation: a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not faithful vnto God.

9 The children of Ephraim being armed & shooting with the bowe, turned backe in the day of battel.

10 They kept not the couenant of God, but refused to walke in his Law,

11 And forgate his Actes, and his wonderful workes that he had shewed them.

12 He did maruelous things in the sight of their fathers in the land of Egypt: euen in the field of Zóan.

13 *He deuided the Sea, and led them through: he made also the waters to stand as an heape.

14 *In the daietime also he led them with a cloude, and all the night with a light of fyer.

15 *He claue the rockes in the wildernes, and gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

16 *He brought floods also out of the stonie rocke, so that he made the waters to descend like the riuers.

17 Yet they sinned stil against him, and prouoked the Highest in the wildernes,

18 And tempted God in their heartes in requiring meat for their lust.

19 *They spake against God also, saying,
Can God prepare a table in the wil-dernes?

20 *Beholde, he smote the rocke, that the water gushed out, and the streames ouerflowed: can he giue bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lord heard and was an-grie, and the fyer was kindled in Iaakob, and also wrath came vpon Israél,

22 Because they beleued not in God, and trusted not in his helpe.

23 Yet he had commanded the cloude aboue, and had opened the dores of heauen,

24 And had rained downe man vpon the for to eat, and had giuen them of the wheat of heauen.

25 *Man did eat the bread of Angels: he sent them meat ynough.

26 He caused the Eastwinde to passe in the heauen, and through his power he brought in the Southwinde.

27 He rained flesh also vpon them as dust, and feathered foule as the sand of the sea.

28 And he made it fall in middes of their camps, euen round about their habitations.

29 So thei did eat and were wel filled: for he gaue them their desire.

30 They were not turned from their lust, but the meat was yet in their mou-thes,

31 When the wrath of God came euen vpon them, and slew the strongest of them, and smote downe the chosen men in IFraél.

32 For all this, thei sinned stil, and beleued not his wonderous workes.

33 Therefore their daies did he consume in vanitie, and their yeres hastily.

34 And when he slewed them, thei soght hi
& they returned, & soght God early.

35 And thei remembered that God was their strength, & the moste high God their redemer.

36 But thei flattered him with their mouth and dissembled with him with their tongue.

37 For their heart was not vpriight with him: nether were they faithful in his couenant.

38 Yet he being merciful forgave their in-iquitie, and destroyed them not, but oft times called backe his angre, and did not stirre vp all his wrath.

39 For he remembered that thei were flesh:
yea, a winde that passeth and commeth not againe.

40 How oft did they prouoke him in the wildernes? & grieue him in the desert?

41 Yea, they returned, and tempted God, and limited the Holie one of Israél.

42 Thei remembered not his hand, nor the daie when he deliuered them from the e-nemie,

43 Nor him that set his signes in Egypt, & his wonders in the field of Zóan,

44 And turned their riuers into blood, and their floods, that thei colde not drinke.

45 He sent a swarme of flies among them, which deuoured them, & frogs, which deor people, whome thou hast planted with thy right hand, that they shoulde be as one man or one bodie.

Hear, o thou Shepherd of Israël, thou that ledest Ioseph like shepe:
shew thy brightness, thou that sittest betwene the Cherubims.

Before Ephraim and Beniamin and Manasséh stirre vp thy strength, and come to helpe vs.

Turne vs agāne, o God, and cause thy face to shine that we maie be saued.

O Lord God of hostes, how long wilt thou be angrie agāst the praier of thy people?

Thou hast fed the with the bread of tea-res, and giuen them teares to drinke with greate measure.

Thou hast made vs a strife vnto our neighbours, and our enemies laugh at vs among them selues.

Turne vs agāne, o God of hostes: cause thy face to shine, and we shal be saued.

Thou hast broght a vine out of Egypt:
thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.

Thou madest rōume for it, and didest cause it to take roote, and it filled the land.

The mountaines were couered with the shadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like the goodlie cedres.

She stretched out her branches vnto the Sea, and her boughes vnto the Riuer.

Why hast thou then broken downe her hedges, so that all they, which passe by the waie, haue plucked her?

The wilde bore out of the wood hath destroyed it, and the wilde beastes of the field haue eaten it vp.

Returne we beseeche thee, o God of hostes: loke downe from heauen and beholde and visit this vine,

And the vineyarde, that thy right hand hath planted, and the yong vine, which thou madest strong for thy self.

It is burnt with fyer and cut downe: and they perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

Let thine hand be vpon y man of thy right hand, and vpon the sonne of man, whome thou madest strong for thine owne self.

Only when thou art angrie,

That is, vpon this vine,

or people, whome thou hast planted with thy right hand, that they shoulde be
as one man or one bodie.

So wil not we go backe from thee: reuieue thou vs, and we shal call vpon thy Name.

Turne vs agāne, o Lord God of hostes:
cause thy face to shine and we shal be saued.

PSAL. LXXXI.

An exhortatiō to praise God bothe in heart & voice for his benefites, & And to worship him onely. 11 God condē-neth their ingratitude, 12 And sheweth what greate be-nefitēs they haue lost through their owne malice.

To him that excelleth vpon a Gittith. A psal-me committed to Asaph.

Sing ioyfully vnto God our strength:
Sing loude vnto the God of Iakob.

Take the song and bring forth the timbrel, the pleasant harpe with the viole.

Blowe the trumpet in the newmoone, even in the time appointed, at our feast-daie.

For this is a statute for Israël, & a Law of the God of Iakob.

He set this in Ioseph for a testimonie, when he came out of the land of Egypt, where I heard a language, that I vnder-stode not.

I haue withdrawn his shulder from the burden, & his hands haue left the pottes.

Thou calledst in affliction and I deliue-red thee, and answered thee in the secret of the thunder: I proued thee at the waters of Meribah: Selah.

Heare, o my people, and I wil protest vnto thee: o Israël, if thou wilt hearken vnto me,

Let there be no strange god in thee, nether worship thou anie strange god.

For I am the Lord thy God, w brought thee out of the land of Egypt: open thy mouth wide and I wil fil it.

But my people wolde not heare my voice, and Israël wolde none of me.

So I gauethem vp vnto the hardenes of their heart, & they haue walked in their owne counsels.

Oh that my people had hearkened vnto me, & Israël had walked in my waies.

I wolde sone haue humbled their enemies, and turned mine hand agāst their aduersaries.

The haters of the Lord shulde haue bene subiect vnto him, and their time shulde haue endured for euer.

And God wolde haue fed them with the fat of wheat, and with honie out of the rocke wold I haue sufficed thee.

abundance as he powreth them out. k God by his worde calleth all, but his secret election appointeth, who shal heare with frute.
l If their sinnes had not letted. m If the Israelites had not broken cōuenant with God, he wolde haue giuen them victorie agāst their enemies.

PSAL. LXXXII.

The Prophet declaring God to be present among the Iudges and Magistrates, 2 Reproueth their parciali-tie,

For none of cill vpon God, but suche as re raised vp, as it were, from death to life & regenerate by holie Spirit.

An instrument of musike brought from Geth.

It seemeth this psal was appointed for solene feastes & assemblies of the people, to whome for a time these ceremonies were ordained, but now vnder the Gospel are abolished.

Under this feast he cōpre-hendeth all other solenne
daies.

That is, in Israël: for Io-sephs familie was counted the chief before that Iudah was preferred.

God speaketh in y perso-ne of the people, because he was their leader.

If they were neuer able to giue sufficient thanks to God for this deliue-rance frō corporal bondage, how much more are we inderted to hī for our spiritual deliue-rance from the ty-rannie of Sinne & sinne?

By a strange & wonderful faction.

Or, contempt,
Exod. 17.16.

He condem-neth all assemblies, where y people are not attentive to heare Gods voice, & to giue obedience to the same.

God accuseth their incredulity, because they opened not their mou-thes to receiue Gods be-nefitēs in such a sort.

God by his worde calleth
all, but his secret election appointeth, who shal heare
with frute.

If the Israelites had not broken cōuenant with God,
he wolde haue
giuen them victo-rie agāst their enemies.

That is, with moste fine wheat and abundance of honie.

The Prophet
sheweth that if princes and Iudges do not their duction,
God, whose au-thoritie is aboue them, will take vengeance on them.

For theues and murderers finde fauour in Iudgement, where the cause of God can not be heard.

Not onely whe they crye for helpe, but whe their cause requireth
aide & support.

That is, all things are out of ordre, either by their tyrānie or careless negligence.

No title of honour shall excuse you, but you shall be subiect to Gods Iudgement, and reder a compt
at well as other men.

Therefore no tyrant shall plucke thy right & auto-ritie fro thee.

Psalm LXXXIII.
This Psalm
seemeth to haue bene composed, as a forme of praier against the dangers that the Church was in
in the daies of Iulianus.

He calleth them Gods enemies, & are enemies to his Church.

The elect of God are his secret ones: for he hideth the in the secret of his tabernacle, & preser-ueth them fro
all dangers.

They were not content to take the Church
as prisoner,
but sought vi-terly to destroy it.

By all secret
meanes.

They thought to haue subuer-
ted thy counsel, wherein is perpetuall of the Church was established.

The wicked nes of the Am-monites & Moabites is described, in y they provoked these other nation to fight against the Israelites their brethren.

By these examples,
they were confirmed that God wolde not suffer his people to be utterly destroyed, Iudg. 7. 21
and 4. 15.

Troden vnder feet as myre. * Iud. 7. 25. 8. 21.

That is, Iudges:
for where the Church is,
there dwelleth
he among them.

litie, & And exhorteth them to do iustice. & But seeing none amendment, & He desireth God to undertake the matter & execute iustice him self.

A Psalm committed to Asaph.

God standeth in the assemblie of gods: he iudgeth among gods.

How long wil ye iudge vniustly, and accept the persones of the wicked? Selah.

Do right to the poore and fatherles: do iustice to the poore and nedie.

Deliver the poore and nedie: saue them from the hand of the wicked.

They knowe not & vnderstand nothing:
they walke in darknes, albeit all the fun-dacions of the earth be moued.

I haue said, Ye are gods, and ye all are children of the most High.

But ye shall dye as a man, & ye princes, shall fall like others.

O God, arise, therefore iudge thou the earth: for thou shalt inherite all nations.

PSAL. LXXXIII.

The people of Israel praie vnto the Lord to deliuer them from their enemies bothe at home and farre off, which imagined nothing but their destruction. & And they desire that all suche wicked people maie, according as God was accustomed, be stricken with the stormie tempest of Gods wrath, as that they maie knowe that the Lord is moste high vpon the earth.

A song, or Psalm committed to Asaph.

Kepe not thou silence, O God: be not still and cease not, O God.

For lo, thine enemies make a tumult: &
they hate thee, haue lifted vp the head.

They haue taken craftie counsel against thy people, and haue consulted against thy secret ones.

They haue said, Come and let vs cut them off from being a nation: and let the name of Israel be no more in remembrance.

For they haue consulted together in heart, & haue made a league against thee:

The tabernacles of Edom, & the Ishmae-lites, Moab and the Agarims:

Gebal and Ammon, and Amalech, the Philistims with the inhabitants of Tyrus:

Asshur also is ioyned with them: they haue bene an arme to the children of Lot.
Selah.

Do thou to them as vnto the Midiani-tes: as to Sisera & as to Iabin at the riu-er of Kishon.

They perished at Endor, & were don-gue for the earth.

Make them, even their princes like Oreb and like Zeeb: yea, all their princes like Zebah and like Zalmunah.

Which haue said, Let vs take for our possession the habitations of God.

By these examples, they were confirmed that God wolde not suffer his people to be utterly destroyed, Iudg. 7. 21 and 4. 15.

Troden vnder feet as myre. * Iud. 7. 25. 8. 21.

That is, Iudges: for where the Church is, there dwelleth he among them.

O my God, make them like vnto a whele,
& as the stubble before the winde.

As the fyre burneth the forest, and as the flame setteth the mountaines on fyre:

So persecute them with thy tempest, and make them afraid with thy storme.

Fill their faces with shame, that they maie seeke thy Name, O Lord.

Let them be confounded and troubled for euer: yea, let them be put to shame and perish,

That they maie knowe that thou, which art called Iehouah, art alone, even the mo-ste High ouer all the earth.

PSAL. LXXXIII.

David driven forth of his countrey, & Desireth moste ardently to come againe to the Tabernacle of the Lord & the assemblie of the Saints to praise God. & Promuning them blessed that maie so do. & Then he praiseth the courage of the people, that passe through the wil-dernes to assemblie them selues in Zion. & Finally with praise of this matter & confidence of Gods goodnes he endeth the Psalm.

To him that excelleth vpon Gittith. A Psalm committed to the sonnes of Korah.

O Lord of hostes, how amiable are thy Tabernacles!

My soule longeth, yea, & fainteth for the courtes of the Lord: for mine heart and my flesh reioyce in the liuing God.

Yea, the sparowe hath founde her an house, and the swallowe a nest for her, where she maie lay her yong: even by thine altars, O Lord of hostes, my King and my God.

Blessed are they that dwell in thine house: they wil euer praise thee. Selah.

Blessed is the man, whose strength is in thee, & in whose heart are thy waies.

They going through the vale of Baca, make welles therein: the raine also coue-reth the pooles.

They go from strength to strength, til euery one appeare before God in Zion.

O Lord God of hostes, heare my praier:
hearken, O God of Iakob. Selah.

Beholde, O God, our shield, & loke vpon
the face of thine Anointed.

For a daie in thy courtes is better than a thousand other where: I had rather be a dorekeeper in the House of my God, then to dwell in the tabernacles of wickednes.

For the Lord God is the sunne & shield
vnto vs: the Lord wil giue grace & glorie, & no good thing wil he withhold from them that walke vprightly.

O Lord of hostes, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

PSAL. LXXXV.

Because God withdrew not his rods from his Church after their returne from Babylon, first they put him in minde of their deliuerance, to the intent that he shulde not leaue the works of his grace vnperfite. & Next they Sli.

Because the reprobates
by no meanes be amended, he praith y they maie utterly be destroyed,
be vnto a whele led with all windes.
m That is, be compelled by thy plagues to conesse thy power.
n Though they believe not, yet they maie pro-ue by experie-ce, that it is in vaine to resist against thy counsel in establishing thy Church.

David complaineth y he can not haue access to the Church of God to make profession of his faith & to profit in religion.
b For none
but the priests
colde enter in to the Sana-rie, & the rest of the people into the soures.

So that the
poore birdes haue more liberty then I.
d Who trusteth
nothing in himself, but in thee onely, & learneth of thee to rule his life.

That is, of multiberetrees which was a baren place:
so that they
which passed through, must dig pits for water: signifying y no les-can hinder the
that are fully bent to come to Christs Church, nether yet that God wil tuer faile them.

They are neuer wearie, but increase in strength & courage til they come to Gods House.

That is, for Christs sake, whose figure I represent.
h He wolde wish to liue
but one daie
rather in Gods Church, then a thousand among y worldlings.
i But wil from time to time increase his blessings towards his more and more.

A song or Psalme of * Heman the Ezrahite to give instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah for him that excelleth vpon Ma-lailh a Leamioth.

O Lord God of my saluaciō, I crye day and night b before thee.

Let my prayer enter into thy presence: incline thine eare vnto my crye.

For my soule is filled with euils, and my life draweth nere to the graue.

I am counted among them that go downe vnto the pit, and am as a man without strength:

c Fre amōg the dead, like the slaine lying in the graue, whome thou remembreit no more, and they are cut of from thine d hand.

Thou hast laied me in the lowest pit, in darkenes, & in the depe.

Thine indignation lieth vpon me, and thou hast vexed me with all thy e waues. Sélah.

Thou hast put away mine f acquaintan- ce farre frō me, & made me to be abhorred of them: s I am shut vp, and can not get forthe.

h Mine eye is sorowful through mine affliction: Lord, I call daiely vpon thee: I stretch out mine hands vnto thee.

i Wilt thou shewe a miracle to y dead? or shal the dead rise & praise thee? Sélah.

k Shal thy louing kindenes be declared in the graue? or thy faithfulness in destruction?

l Shal thy wonderous workes be known in the darke? and thy righteousness in the land m of obliuion?

n But vnto thee haue I cryed, o Lord, and early shal my praier come before thee.

o Lord, why doest thou reiect my soule, & hidest thy face from me?

p I am afflicted and at the point of death: q from my youth I suffer thy terrours, doubting of my life.

r Thine indignations go ouer me, & thy feare hath cut me of.

s They came round about me daiely like water, & compassed me together.

t My louers and friends hast thou put away from me, and mine acquaintance hid them selues.

PSAL. LXXXIX.

With manie wordes doeth the Prophet praise the goodnes of God, 23 For his testament & covenant, that he had made betwene him and his s. e. by Iesus Christ the sonne of David: 38 Then doeth he complaine of the great ruine, and desolation of the kingdome of Dauid, so that to the putwarde appearance the promise was broke. 46 Finally he prayeth to be deliuered frō his afflictions, making mention of the shortnes of mans life, & confirming him self by Gods promises.

A Psalme to give instruction, of Ethān the Ezrahite.

I Wil a sing the mercies of the Lord for euer: with my mouth wil I declare thy trueth from generacion to generacion.

2 For I b said, Mercie shalbe set vp for euer: thy trueth shalt thou c stablish in the varie heauens.

3 d I haue made a conenāt with my chosen: I haue sworne to Dauid my seruant,

4 Thy sede wil I stablish for euer, and set vp thy throne from generacion to generacion. Sélah.

5 O Lord, euen the e heauens shal praise thy wonderous worke: yea, thy trueth in the f Congregation of the Saints.

6 For who is equal to the Lord in the heauen! g who is like the Lord among the s sonnes of the gods!

7 God is verie terrible in the assemblie of the h Saints, and to be reuerenced about all, that are about him.

8 O Lord God of hostes, who is like vnto thee, which art a mightie Lord, and thy trueth is about thee!

9 i Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when the waues thereof arise, thou stillest them.

10 Thou hast beaten downe Rahab as a mā slaine: thou hast scatered thine enemies with thy mightie arme.

11 The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laied the fundacion of the worlde, and all that therein is.

12 Thou hast created the North and the South: k Tabōr and Hermōn shal reioice in thy Name.

13 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thine hand, & high is thy right hand.

14 l Righteousnes & equitie are the stablishment of thy throne: mercie ad trueth go before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people, that can m reioyce in thee: they shal walke in the light of thy n countenance, o Lord.

16 They shal reioyce continually in thy Name, and in thy righteousness shal they exalt them selues.

17 For thou art the o glorie of their strength, and by thy fauour our hornes shalbe exalted.

18 For our p shield appertaineth to the Lord, and our King to the Holie one of Israël.

19 Thou spakest the in a vision vnto q thi ne Holie one, and saidest, I haue laied helpe vpon one that is r mightie: I haue exalted one chosen out of the people.

Sf.ii.

a Though horrible confusion of things might cause them to despair of Gods fauour: yet the manifold examples of his mercies cause them to trust in God, though to mans iudgement they sawe none occasion.

b As he that surely beleued in heart.

c As thine invisible heauen is not subject to any alteration & change: so shal thy trueth of thy promises be vnderstandeable.

d The Prophet sheweth what was y promise of God, where he grounded his faith.

e The Angels shal praise thy power & faithfulness in deliuering thy Church.

f That is, in y heauens.

g Meaning, y Angels.

h If the Angels be so terrible before Gods maiestie & infinite iustice, what earthly creature by expressing the Church, dare set him self against God?

i For as he deliuered the Church by y red Sea, & by destroying Rahab, that is, y Egyptians: so wil he eftsone deliuer it, when the dangers be great.

k Tabōr is a mountain Westwarde frō Ierusalem, & Hermōn Eastwarde: so the Prophet signifieth y all partes & places of the worlde shal obey Gods power for the deliuerance of his Church.

l For hereby he iudgeth the worlde & sheweth him self a merciful Father & faithful protector vnto his.

m Feeling in their conscience that God is their Father. n They shalbe preferred by thy Fatherlie prouidence. o In that they are preferred and continue, they ought to giue the praise and glorie onely to thee. p In that that our King hath the power to defend vs, it is the gift of God. q To Samuel and to others, to assure that Dauid was thy chosen one. r Whome I haue bothe chosen and giuen him strength to execute his office, as ver. 21.

The truth of Gods promes. Psalmes. The shortnes of mans life.

20 I haue founde Dauid my seruant: with mine holie oyle haue I anointed him.
 21 Therefore mine hand shalbe established with him, and mine arme shal strengthen him.
 22 The enemye shal not oppresse him, neither shal the wicked hurt him.
 23 But I wil destroye his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.
 24 My trueth also and my mercie shalbe with him, and in my Name shal his horn be exalted.
 25 I wil set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the floods.
 26 He shal crye vnto me, Thou art my Father, my God and the rocke of my saluacion.
 27 Also I wil make him my first borne, higher then the Kings of the earth.
 28 My mercie wil I kepe for him for euermore, and my couenāt shal stand fast with him.
 29 His sede, also wil I make to endure for euer, and his throne as the dayes of heauen.
 30 But if his children forsake my Lawe, and walke not in my iudgements:
 31 If they breake my statutes, and kepe not my commandements:
 32 Then wil I visit their transgression with the rod, and their iniquitie with strokes.
 33 Yet my louing kindenes wil I not take from him, neither wil I falsifie my trueth.
 34 My couenāt wil I not breake, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lippes.
 35 I haue sworne once by mine holines, that I wil not faile Dauid saying, 36 His sede shal endure for euer, and his throne shalbe as the sunne before me.
 37 He shalbe established for euermore as the moone, & as a faithful witnes in the heauen. Selah.
 38 But thou hast reiected and abhorred, thou hast bene angrie with thine Anointed.
 39 Thou hast broken the couenāt of thy seruant, & profaned his crowne, casting it on the grounde.
 40 Thou hast broken downe all his walles: thou hast layed his fortresses in ruine.
 41 All that go by the way, spoile him: he is a rebuke vnto his neighbours.
 42 Thou hast set vp the right hand of his enemies, and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.
 43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sworde, and hast not made him to stand in the battell.
 44 Thou hast caused his dignitie to decay, and cast his throne to the grounde.
 45 The dayes of his youth hast thou shortened, and couered him with shame. Selah.

f Though there shalbe euermore enemies against Gods kingdom, yet he promisseth to ouercome them. e I wil mercifully performe my promyses to him, notwithstanding his infirmities & offences.
 u His power, glorie & state. x He shal enioye the land round about.
 y His excellent dignitie shal appear here in that he shal be named the sonne of God, & his first borne, wherein he is a figure of Christ.
 z Though for sinnes of the people & state of this kingdom decayed: yet God referred stil a rore, til he had accomplished this promise in Christ.
 2. Sam. 7. 14.
 a Though the faithful answer not in all points to their profession, yet God wil not breake his couenāt with them.
 b For God in promising hath the respect to his mercie and not to mans power in performing.
 c Euer if I lie vnto Dauid: which is a manner of othe.
 d As long as sunne & moone endure, they shalbe witnesses to me of this promise.
 e Because of his horrible confusion of things, the Prophet complaineth to God as though he saw not performance of his promes. And thus discharging his cares on God, he resisteth doubt & impietie.
 f By this he meaneth his horrible dissolution and renting of his kingdom, which was vnder le- roboam: or els by Spirit of prophetic Ethan speaker of those great miseries, & came sone afterwarde to passe at the captiuitie of Babylon. f He sheweth that his kindeome failed before it came to perfection or was ripe.

46 Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy self, for euer? shal thy wrath burne like fyre?
 47 Remember of what time I am: wherefore shuldest thou creat in vaine all the children of men?
 48 What man liueth, & shal not see death? shal he deliuer his soule from the hand of the graue? Selah.
 49 Lord, where are thy former mercies, which thou swarest vnto Dauid in thy trueth?
 50 Remember, O Lord, the rebuke of thy seruants, which I beare in my bosome of all the mightie people.
 51 For thine enemies haue reproched thee, O Lord, because they haue reproched the footsteps of thine Anointed.
 52 Praised be the Lord for euermore. So be it, euen so be it.

PSAL. XC.

1 Moses in his praier setteth before vs the eternal fauour of God toward his. 3 Who are neither admonished by the breuitie of their life. 7 Nor by his plagues to be thankful. 12 Therefore Moses praiereth God to turne their hearts & continue his mercies toward them, & their posteritie for euer.
 1 A praier of Moses, the man of God.
 1 Lord, thou hast bene our habitation from generacion to generacion.
 2 Before the mountaines were made, and before thou hadest formed the earth, & the worlde, euen from euermore to euermore thou art our God.
 3 Thou turnest man to destruction: againe thou saiest, Returne, ye sonnes of Adam.
 4 For a thousand yeres in thy sight are as yesterdaye when it is past, and as a watche in the night.
 5 Thou hast ouerflowed them: they are as a slepe: in the morning he groweth like the grasse:
 6 In the morning it flourisheth and groweth, but in the euening it is cut downe and withereth.
 7 For we are consumed by thine angrie, and by thy wrath are we troubled.
 8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, and our secret finnes in the light of thy countenance.
 9 For all our dayes are past in thine angrie: we haue spent our yeres as a thoght.
 10 The time of our life is threescore yeres & ten, and if they be of strength, i foure score yeres: yet their strength is but labour and sorowe: for it is cut of quickly, and we flee away.
 11 Who knoweth the power of thy wrath? for according to thy feare is thine angrie.
 12 Teache vs so to number our dayes, that we maie applie our hearts vnto wisdom.
 13 Returne (O Lord, how long?) and be pacified toward thy seruants.

i Meaning, according to the commune state of life. k If mans life for the breuitie be miserable, much more if thy wrath lie vpon it, as they, which feare thee, onely knowe. l Which is, by considering the shortnes of our life & by meditating the heauilie ioyes. m Meaning, wilt thou be angrie? n. 14. Fill comfort in thy seruants.

g The Prophet in ioyous praier & his complaint, sheweth his faith neuer failed.
 h Seeing mans life is thory, & hath created ma to be thory thy benefites vpon him, except thou haue to helpe, death wil preuente thee.
 i He meaneth Gods enemies did not ouerly slander him, behind his backe: but also mocked him to his face, & as it were cast their injuries in his bosome.
 k So he calleth the that persecute Church. l They laugh at vs, & packe ly waite for comming of thy Christ.
 a Thus the Scripture teacheth to call the Prophetes. b Thou hast bene as an house and defence vnto vs in all our troubles & tribulacions: now this foute hundred yeres. c Thou hast chosen vs to be thy people before fundacions of the worlde were laied. d Moses by lamenting the frailtie & shortnes of his life moueth God to pittie. e Though man thinke his life long, & is in dede more short: yea, though it were a thousand yeres: yet Gods sight it is as nothing, and as the watche of lasteth but three houres. f Thou hast taken the away suddenly as with a flood. g Thou callest vs by thy rods to consider the shortnes of our life, & for our sinnes thou abridgest our dayes. h Our dayes are not onely short, but miserable, & so much as our finnes daily prouoke thy wrath.

14 Fil vs with thy mercie in the morning: so shal we reioyce and be glad all our dayes.

15 Comfort vs according to the dayes that thou hast afflicted vs, & according to the yerres that we haue sene euil.

16 Let thy worke be sene toward thy seruants, & thy glorie vpon their childre.

17 And let the beautie of thy Lord our God be vpon vs, and direct thou the worke of our hands vpon vs, euen direct the worke of our hands.

PSAL. XCI.

Here is described in what assurance he liueth that putteth his whole trust in God, & committeth him self wholly to his protection in all tentations. 14 A promise of God to those that loue him, know him and trust in him, to deliuer them, & giue them immortal glorie.

Who so dwelleth in the secret of the moste High, shal abide in the shadowe of the Almighty.

I wil say vnto the Lord, O mine hope, and my fortres: he is my God, in him wil I trust.

Surely he wil deliuer thee from the snare of the hunter, and from the noisome pestilence.

He wil couer thee vnder his wings, and thou shalt be sure vnder his feathers: his truth shal be thy shield and buckler.

Thou shalt not be afraid of the feare of the night, nor of the arrowe that flieth by daye:

Nor of the pestilence that walketh in the darknes: nor of the plague that destroyeth at noone daye.

A thousand shal fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand, but it shal not come nere thee.

Douteles with thine eyes shalt thou beholde and se the rewarde of the wicked.

For thou hast said, The Lord is mine hope: thou hast set the moste high for thy refuge.

There shal none euil come vnto thee, nether shal anie plague come nere thy tabernacle.

For he shal giue his Angels charge ouer thee to kepe thee in all thy waies.

They shal beare thee in their hands, that thou hurt not thy fote against a stone.

Thou shalt walke vpon the lion and aspre: the yong lion and the dragon shalt thou tread vnder fete.

Because he hath loued me, therefore wil I deliuer him: I wil exalt him because he hath known my Name.

He shal call vpon me, & I wil heare him: I wil be with him in trouble: I wil deliuer him, and glorifie him.

He shal call vpon me, & I wil heare him: I wil be with him in trouble: I wil deliuer him, and glorifie him.

16 With long life wil I satisfie him, and shewe him my saluacion.

PSAL. XCII.

This psalme was made to be sung on the Sabbath, to stirre up the people to acknowledge God and to praise him in his workes: the Prophet reioyeth therein. 6 But the wicked is not able to consider that the vngodlie, who he is moste flourishing, shal moste speedely perish. 12 In the end is described the felicitie of the iust, planted in the house of God to praise the Lord.

A Psalme or song for the Sabbath daie.

It is a good thing to praise the Lord, and to sing vnto thy Name, o moste High,

To declare thy louing kindenes in the morning, and thy trueth in the night,

Vpon an instrument of ten strings, and vpon the viole with the song vpon the harpe.

For thou, Lord, hast made me glad by thy workes, & I wil reioyce in the workes of thine hands.

O Lord, how glorious are thy workes: thy thoughts are verie depe.

An vnwise man knoweth it not, and a foole doeth not vnderstand this,

(When the wicked growe as the grasse, and all the workers of wickednes do flourish) that thei shal be destroyed for euer.

But thou, o Lord, art moste high for euer more.

For lo, thine enemies, o Lord: for lo, thine enemies shal perish: all the workers of iniquitie shal be destroyed.

But thou shalt exalt mine horne, like the vnicornes, & I shal be anointed with fresh oile.

Mine eie also shal see my desire against mine enemies: and mine eares shal heare my wish against the wicked, that rise vp against me.

The righteous shal flourish like a palmetre, & shal growe like a cedre in Lebanon.

Suche as be planted in the House of the Lord, shal flourish in the courts of our God.

Thei shal stil bring forth the frute in their age: thei shal be fat and flourishing,

To declare that the Lord my rocke is righteous, and that none iniquitie is in him.

PSAL. XCIII.

He praiseth the power of God in the creation of the worlde, & beateth downe all people which lift them up against his maiestie. And prouoketh to consider his promises.

The Lord reigneth, & is clothed with maiestie: the Lord is clothed, & girded with power: the worlde also shal be established, that it can not be moued.

Thy throne is established of olde: thou art from euerlasting.

The floods haue lifted vp, o Lord: the floods haue lifted vp their voice: the

Which teacheth that the vse of the Sabbath standeth in praising God, and not onely in ceasing fro worke.

For Gods mercie & fidelitie in his promises toward his, binde the to praise him continually bothe daie & night.

These instruments were the permitted, but at Christs coming abolished. He sheweth what is the vse of the Sabbath daie to wit, to meditate Gods workes.

That is, the wicked consider not Gods workes, nor his iudgements against them, & therefore moe iustly perish.

Thy iudgements are moste constant against the wicked and passe our reach.

Thou wilt strengthen the w all power, & blesse them w all felicitie. Though the faithful seme to wither and be cut downe by the wicked: yet thei shal growe againe and flourish in the Church of God, as the cedres do in mount Lebanon.

The childre of God shal haue a power above nature, & their age shal bring forth the moste fresh frutes.

PSAL. XCIII.

As God by his power and wisdom hath made and gouerneth the worlde: so muste the same be our defence against all enemies & dangers. Wherein thou fittest & gouernest the worlde. Gods power appeareth in ruling the furious waters.

PSAL. XCIII.

He praieth vnto God against the Violence and arrogancie of tyrants. 10 Warning them of Gods iudgements: 12 Then doeth he comfort the afflicted by the good issue of their afflictions, as he felt in him self, & did se in others, & by the ruine of the wicked. 23 Whome the Lord wil destroye.

1 O Lord God, the aduenger, O God the aduenger, shewe thy self clearly.

2 Exalt thy self, O Iudge of the worlde, & render a rewarde to the proude.

3 Lord, how long shal the wicked, how long shal the wicked triumph?

4 They prate & speake fiercely: all the workers of iniquitie vante them selues.

5 They smite downe thy people, O Lord, and trouble thine heritage.

6 They slaie the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherles.

7 Yet they saie, The Lord shal not se: neither wil the God of Iakob regarde it.

8 Vnderstand ye vnwise among the people: and ye fooles, when wil ye be wise?

9 He that planted the eare, shal he not heare? or he that formed the eye, shal he not se?

10 Or he that chasticeth the nations, shal he not correct? he that teacheth man knowledge: shal he not knowe?

11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanitie.

12 Blessed is the man, whome thou chasticest, O Lord, and teachest him in thy Law, 13 That thou maiest giue him rest from the dayes of euil, whiles the pit is digged for the wicked.

14 Surely O Lord wil not faile his people, neither wil he forsake his inheritance.

15 For iudgement shal returne to iustice, and all the vpright in heart shal followe after it.

16 Who wil rise vp with me against the wicked? or who wil take my parte against the workers of iniquitie?

17 If the Lord had not holpen me, my soule had almost dwelt in silence.

18 When I said, My fote slideth, thy mercie, O Lord, staid me.

19 In the multitude of my thoughts in mine heart, thy comfortes haue reioyced my soule.

b Shewe by effect y thou art Iudge of the worlde to punish y wicked.

if we se it so now, & therefore we muste call to God to take our cause in hand.

1 An earnest exhortation to all creatures to praise the Lord for his power, mercie and fidelitie in his promes by Christ. 2 By whome he hashe communicated his saluacion to all nations.

A Psalme.

1 Sing vnto the Lord a new song: for he shathe done maruelous things: his right hand, and his holie arme haue gotten him the victorie.

2 The Lord declared his saluation: his righteousness hathe he reueiled in y<sup>e</sup> fight of the nations.

3 He hathe remembred his mercie and his trueth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth haue sene the saluation of our God.

4 All the earth, sing ye loude vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lord: crye out and reioyce, and sing praises.

5 Sing praise to the Lord vpon the harpe, euen vpon the harpe with a singing voice.

6 With shalmes and sounde of trumpets sing loude before the Lord the King.

7 Let the sea roare, and all that therein is, the worlde, and thei that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands, & let the mountaines reioyce together.

9 Before the Lord: for he is come to iudge the earth: with righteousness shal he iudge the worlde, and the people with equitie.

PSAL. XCIX.

1 He commendeth the power, equitie and excellencie of the kingdome of God by Christ ouer the Iewes and Gentiles. 2 And prouoketh them to magnifie the same & to serue the Lord. 3 Following the example of the ancient Fathers, Moses, Aaron, Samuel, who calling vpon God, were heard in their prayers.

1 The Lord reigneth, let the people tremble: he sitteth betwene y<sup>e</sup> Cherubims, let the earth be moued.

2 The Lord is great in Zion, & he is high above all the people.

3 Thei shal praise thy great and feareful Name (for it is holie)

4 And the Kings power, that loueth iudgement: for thou hast prepared equitie: thou hast executed iudgement & iustice in Iakob.

5 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his fote stole: for he is holie.

6 Moses & Aaron were among his Priests, and Samuel among such as call vpon his Name: these called vpon the Lord, & he heard them.

7 He spake vnto the in the cloude pillar: thei kept his testimonies, & the Lawe that he gaue them.

8 Thou heardest them, O Lord our God: thou wast a fauourable God vnto them, though y<sup>e</sup> didest take vengeance for their inuentions.

9 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his holie Mountaine: for the Lord our God is holie.

PSAL. C.

1 He exhorteth all to serue the Lord. 2 Who hathe chosen vs & perserued vs. 3 And to entre into his assemblies to praise his Name.

c For the deliuerance of his Church.

d God was moued by none other meanes to gather his Church of the Iewes and Gentiles, but because he wolde performe his promes.

e By this repetition & earnest exhortation to giue praises with instruments, & also of the due creatures, he signifieth y<sup>e</sup> the worlde is neuer able to praise God sufficiently for their deliuerance.

The duetie of magistrates. Pfalmes. Gods care ouer his.

A psalme of praise.

<sup>a</sup> He prophesieth of Gods benefite in calling the Gentiles, that he so great that thei shal haue wonderful occasiō to praise his mercie & reioyce
<sup>b</sup> He chiefly meaneth, touching the spiri- tual regeneration, whereby we are his shepe and people.
<sup>c</sup> He sheweth that God wil not be worshipped, but by that meanes, which he hath appointed.

Sing ye loude vnto the Lord, all the earth.
Serue the Lord with gladnes: come before him with ioyfulness.
Knowe ye that euen the Lord is God: he hath made vs, & not we our selues: we are his people, and the shepe of his pasture.
Enter into his gates with praise, & into his courtes with reioycing: praise him and blesse his Name.
For the Lord is good: his mercie is deu-rlasting, and his trueth is from generacion to generacion.

<sup>d</sup> He declareth that we ought neuer to be wearie in praising him, seeing his mercies toward vs last for euer.

PSAL. CI.

<sup>a</sup> David describeth what gouernement he wil obserue in his house and kingdome. <sup>b</sup> He wil punish and correct, by rooting forth the wicked, & And cherishing the goodlie persones.

A Psalme of David.

<sup>a</sup> David considereth what manner of King he wolde be, when God shal place him in the throne, promising openly, that he wolde be merciful and iust.
<sup>b</sup> Though yet differēt to place me in the kingly dignitie, yet wil I giue my self to wisdom & vprightnes being a private man.
<sup>c</sup> He sheweth that magistrates do not their duties, except thei be enemies to all vice.
<sup>d</sup> In punishing to punish these vices, which are most pernicious in the that are about Kings, he declareth that he wil punish all.
<sup>e</sup> He sheweth what is true vse of the sword: to punish the wicked and to mainteine the good.
<sup>f</sup> Magistrates must immediatly punish vice, lest it growe to farther inconvenience and if heathen Magistrates are bounde to do this, how much more thei that haue the charge of the Church of God?

I Wil sing mercie and iudgement: vnto thee, O Lord, wil I sing.
I wil do wisely in the perfite waie: til y come to me: I wil walke in y vprightnes of mine heart in the middes of mine house.
I wil set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the worke of them that fall awaie: it shal not cleaue vnto me.
A froward heart shal depart from me: I wil knowe none euil.
Him, that priuely sclandereth his neighbour, wil I destroy: hi that hath a proude loke and high heart, I can not suffer.
Mine eyes shal be vnto the faithful of the land, that they maie dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfite waie, he shal serue me.
There shal no deceitful persone dwell within mine house: he that telleth lies, shal not remaine in my sight.
Betimes wil I destroy all the wicked of the land, that I maie cut of all the workers of iniquitie from the Citie of the Lord.

PSAL. CII.

<sup>a</sup> Whereby is signified, that albeit we be in neuer so great miserie, yet there is yet place left for prayer.

A prayer of the afflicted, when he shalbe in distres, and poure forthe his meditation before the Lord.

O Lord, heare my praier, and let my crye come vnto thee.

Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: incline thine eares vnto me: when I call, make haste to heare me.
For my daies are consumed like smoke, and my bones are burnt like an herth.
Mine heart is smitten and withereth like grasse, because I forgate to eat my bread.
For the voice of my groning my bones do cleaue to my skin.
I am like a pelicane of the wildernes: I am like an owle of the deserts.
I wathe and am as a sparowe alone vpon the house toppe.
Mine enemies reuile me daely, & they y rage against me, haue sworn against me.
Surely I haue eaten ashes as bread, and mingled my drinke with weping,
Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast heaued me vp, and cast me downe.
My daies are like a shadowe that fadeth, and I am withered like grasse.
But thou, O Lord, doest remaine for euer, and thy remembrance from generacion to generacion.
Thou wilt arise & haue mercie vpon Ziō: for the time to haue mercie thereon, for the appointed time is come.
For thy seruants delite in the stones thereof, and haue pitie on the dust thereof.
Then the heathen shal feare the Name of the Lord, & all the Kings of the earth thy glorie,
When the Lord shal buyld vpon Ziō, & shal appeare in his glorie,
And shal turne vnto the praier of the desolate, and not despise their praier.
This shalbe written for the generacion to come: & the people, which shalbe created, shal praise the Lord.
For he hath looked downe from the height of his Sanctuarie: out of the heauen did the Lord beholde the earth,
That he might heare the mourning of the prisoner, and deliuer the children of death:
That thei maie declare the Name of the Lord in Ziō, and his praise in Ierusalem,
When the people shalbe gathered together, and the kingdomes to serue the Lord.
He abated my strength in the waie, & shortened my daies.

And I said, O my God, take me not away ranee was as it were created anewe.

<sup>b</sup> He sheweth that Gods Name is neuer more praised, then when religion flourisheth, and the Church increaseth: which thing is chiefly accomplished vnder the kingdome of Christ.
<sup>c</sup> The Church lameth that thei se not the time of Christ, which was promised, but haue but fewe yeres and short daies.

<sup>b</sup> He declar-eth that in our praier we must louely so- le that, which we desire, and stedfastly beleue to ob- taine.
<sup>c</sup> These ex-cessiue kindes of speache shew how much affliction of Church ought to wounde the heartes of the goodlie.
<sup>d</sup> My sorowes were so great, that I passed out for mine ordinarie fode.
<sup>f</sup> Haue conspi- red my deat- h. I haue not risen out of my mourning, to take my re- lation.
<sup>h</sup> He sheweth that the afflic- tions did not onely thus moue him, but chiefly the feeling of Gods displea- sare.
<sup>i</sup> How fortu- we be frail: yet thy pro- mis is sure: the remem- brance thereof shal conserue vs for euer.
<sup>k</sup> That is, the studie yeres, which by the prophet Ierem- mic y did appoint, let. 29. 11.
<sup>l</sup> The more the Church is in miserie and desolation, the more ought the faithful to loue and praise it.
<sup>m</sup> That is, when he shal haue drawen his Church out of the darkenes of death.
<sup>n</sup> The discon- solation of the Church is a most excellent cause: therefore he com- pareth it to a newe creation: for in their banishment the bodie of the Church seemed to haue bene dead, which by deliue- away away in the middes of my daies: thy yerres endure from generacion to generacion.

35 Thou hast aforetime laied the fundati-on of the earth, and the heauens are y worke of thine hands.

26 Thei shal perish, but thou shalt endure:
euen thei all shal waxe olde as doeth a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and thei shalbe changed.

27 But thou art the same, and thy yerres shal not faile.

28 The children of thy seruants shal continue, and their sece shal stand fast in thy fight.

PSAL. CIII.

1 He prouoketh all to praise the Lord, which hath pardoned his sinnes, deliuered him from destruction, and given him sufficient of all good things. 10 Then he addeth the tender mercies of God, which he sheweth like a moste tender Father towards his childre. 14 The frail-tie of mans life. 20 An exhortation to man and Angels to praise the Lord.

¶ A Psalm of David.

1 MY soule, praise y the Lord, & all that is within me, praise his holie Name.

2 My soule, praise thou the Lord, and forget not all his benefites.

3 Which forgiveth all thine iniquitie, & healeth all thine infirmities.

4 Which redemeth thy life from y<sup>c</sup> graue, and crowneth thee with mercie and compassions.

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy youth is renewed like the egles.

6 The Lord executeth righteousness and iudgement to all that are oppressed.

7 He made his waies known vnto Mosés,
& his workes vnto the children of Israël.

8 The Lord is ful of compassion and mercie, slowe to angre and of great kindenes.

9 He wil not alwaie chide, nether kepe his angre for euer.

10 He hath not dealt with vs after our sinnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

11 For as high as the heauen is about the earth, so great is his mercie toward them that feare him.

12 As farre as the East is from the West:
so farre hath he remoued our sinnes from vs.

13 As a father hath compassio on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: he remembreth that we are but dust.

15 The daies of mā are as grasse: as a flower of the field, so flourisheth he.

16 For the winde goeth ouer it, and it is gone, and the place thereof shal knowe it no more.

17 But the louing kindenes of the Lord endureth for euer & euer vpon them that feare him, and his righteousness vpon childrens children,

18 Vnto them that kepe his couenant, and thinke vpon his commandements to do them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heauen, and his kingdome ruleth ouer
all.

20 Praise the Lord, ye his Angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandement in obeying the voice of his worde.

21 Praise the Lord, all ye his hostes, ye his seruants that do his pleasure.

22 Praise the Lord, all ye his workes, in all places of his dominion: my soule, praise thou the Lord.

PSAL. CIII.

1 An excellent Psalm to praise God for the creation of the worlde & the gouernance of the same by his mar-uelous prouidence. 35 Wherein the Prophet praiseth against the wicked, who are occasions that God diminished his blessings.

1 MY soule, praise thou y Lord: o Lord my God, thou art exceeding great, y art clothed with glorie & honour.

2 Which couereth him self with light as with a garment, & spreadeth the heauens like a curtaine.

3 Which laieth the beames of his chābers in the waters, and maketh the cloudes his chariot, and walketh vpon the wings of the winde.

4 Which maketh the spirits his messengers, & a flaming fyre his ministers.

5 He set the earth vpon her fundacions, so y it shal neuer moue.

6 Thou coueredst it with y<sup>c</sup> deepe as with a garment: the waters wolde stand about the mountaines.

7 But at thy rebuke thei flee: at the voice of thy thunder thei haste awaie.

8 And the mountaines ascend, & the valles descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

9 But thou hast set them a bonde, which thei shal not passe: thei shal not returne to couer the earth.

10 He sendeth the springs into the valles, which runne betwene the mountaines.

11 Thei shal giue drinke to all the beastes of the field, and the wilde asses shal quenche their thirst.

12 By these springs shal the foules of the heauen dwell, and sing among the brāches.

13 He watereth the mountaines from his chambers, & the earth is filled with the frute of thy workes.

14 He causeth grasse to growe for the cat-tel, and herbe for the vse of man, that he maie bring forth the bread out of the earth,

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, & oyle to make the face to shine,

T. i.

1 If heauen & earth perish, much more
man shal perish: but the Church by reason of Gods promises endu-
reth for euer.
2 Seeing y hast chosen thy Church out of the worlde, & loynd it to thee, it can not but continue for euer: for y art everlasting.

1 He wakeneth his dul-
nes to praise God, shewing
y both vnder-standing & affectio, minde & heart are to liue to feare
the his praise.
2 This is the beginning and chiefest of all benefites: remission of sin-ne.

3 For before y we haue remission of our sinnes, we are as dead in the grave.

4 As the egles, whether beake
overgroweth,
sucketh blood,
and so is renu-
ed in strength,
euen so God miraculously griueh strength to his Church
aboue all mā expectation.
5 As to his chief minister he next to his people.

6 He sheweth first his seuer iudgement, but so soon as the sinner is humbled, he recei-ueth him to mercie.

7 We haue p-of by cotinual experience, y his mercie hath euer preuailed ag. inst
our offences.

8 As great as the worlde is,
so ful is it of signes of Gods mercies toward his faithful, when he hath remou-ed their sin-
nes.

9 He declareth that mā hath nothing in him
selfe to moue
God to mercie, but onely
the confession of his infirmitie & miserie.

1 His iust & faithful kepig
of his promises.
2 To whom he giueth grace to feare h, & to obey his worde.
3 In that that we, which naturally are slowe to praise God, exhort the Angels, &
willigly do it,
we stirre vp our selues to consider our duetie, & awake out of our suggihnes.

1 The Prophet
sheweth that we nede not to enter into the heauens to seke God, for as much as all the ordre of nature, with y proprietie and placing of the elements, are moste liuely murrours to se his maiestie in b As the Prophet here sheweth y all visible powers are readie to serue God: so the Apostle to Ebr. 1, 7 beholdeth in this glasse, how y uerie Angels also are obedient to his comandement.
c Thou makest
the sea to be an ornament
vnto y earth.
d If by thy power y didest not bridle
the rage of y waters, it were not possible,
but the whole worlde shulde be destroyed.
e If God prou-ide for y ve-rie beastes,
much more wil he extend his prouident care to man.
f There is no
part of the world so barren,
where moste euidēt signes of Gods blessings appeare not.
g From the cloudes.
h He describeth Gods p-uident care ouer man, who doeth not onely provide neces-sarie things for him, as herbes
& other meate
but also things to reioyce and comforte him,
as wine & oy-
le or unguents.

16 The high trees are satisfied, euens the cedres of Lebanon, which he hath planted, 17 That the birdes maie make their nestes there: the storke dwelleth in the firre trees.

18 The high mountaines are for the goates: the rockes are a refuge for the conies.

19 He appointed the i moone for certaine seasons: k the sunne knoweth his going downe.

20 Thou makest darkenes, and it is night, wherein all the beastes of the forest crepe forthe.

The people dispersed vnder Antiochus do magnifie the goodnes of God among the iuste and repentāt: 4 Desiring to be brought againe into the land by Gods mercifull visitation. 8 And after the manifolde maruells of God wrought in their deliuerance forthe of Egypt and the great ingratitude of the people rehearsed. 47 They do pray & desire to be gathered from among the heathē to the intent they may praise the Name of the God of Israel.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise ye the Lord because he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Who can expresse the noble actes of the Lord, or shewe forth the all his praise?

3 Blessed are they that kepe iudgement, and do righteousnes at all times.

4 Remember me, O Lord, with the fauour of thy people: visit me with thy saluacion,

5 That I may see the felicitie of thy chosen, and reioyce in the ioye of thy people, and glorie with thine inheritance.

6 We haue sinned with our fathers: we haue committed iniquitie, and done wickedly.

7 Our fathers vnderstode not thy wōders in Egypt, nether remembered they y multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, even at the red Sea.

8 Neuertheles he saued them for his Names sake, that he might make his power to be knowne.

The Prophet exhorteth the people to praise God for his benefices past, present, and to come, and to remember his mercies, and to be gathered from among the heathē to the intent they may praise the Name of the God of Israel.

9 And he rebuked the red Sea, and it was dried vp, and he led them in the depe, as in the wildernes.

10 And he saued them frō the aduersaries hand, and deliuered them from the hand of theemie.

11 And the waters couered their oppressers: not one of them was left.

12 Then beleued they his wordes, & sang praise vnto him.

13 But incontinently they forgate his workes: they waited not for his counsel, 14 But lusted with concupiscēce in the wildernes, & tempted God in the desert.

15 Then he gaue them their desire: but he sent leannes into their soule.

16 They enuid Mosēs also in the tentes, & Aaron the holie one of the Lord.

17 Therefore the earth opened and swallowed vp Dathan, and couered the companie of Abiram.

18 And the fyre was kindled in their assembly: the flame burnt vp the wicked.

19 They made a calfe in Horeb, & worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their glorie into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth grasse.

21 They forgate God their Sauour, which had done great things in Egypt, 22 Wonderous workes in the land of Ham, and fearful things by the red Sea.

23 Therefore he minded to destroye them, had not Mosēs his chosen stand in the breache before hi to turne away his wrath, lest he shulde destroye them.

24 Also they contemned that pleasant land, & beleued not is worde, 25 But murmured in their tentes, & heard not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

26 Therefore he lifted vp his hād against them, to destroye them in the wildernes, 27 And to destroye their sede among the nacions, and to scatter them throughout the countreis.

28 They ioyned them selues also vnto Baal-peor, & did eat the offrings of the dead.

29 Thus they prouoked him vnto angre with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.

30 But Phinehas stode vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was staied.

31 And it was imputed vnto him for righteousness from generacion to generacio for euer.

32 They angred him also at the waters of Meribah, so that Mosēs was punished for their sakes, 33 Because they vexed his spirit, so that he spake vnadvisedly with his lippes.

34 Nether destroyed they the people, as y Lord had commanded them, PSAL. CVIII.

This Psalm is composed of two other Psalmes before, the seuen and fiftieth & the sixtieth. The matter here contained is, 1 That David giueth him self with heart and voyce to praise the Lord, 7 And assureth him self of the promises of God concerning his kingdom ouer Israel, and his power against other nations: 11 Who though he seme to forsake vs for a time, yet he alone wil in the end cast downe our enemies.

A song or Psalm of David.

O God, mine heart is prepared, so is my tongue: I wil sing & giue praise.

Awake viole & harpe: I wil awake early.

I wil praise thee, O Lord, among the people, and I wil sing vnto thee among the nations.

For thy mercie is great aboue the heauens, and thy trueth vnto the cloudes.

Exalt thy self, O God, aboue the heauens, and let thy glorie be vpon all the earth,

That thy beloued maie be deliuered: helpe with thy right hand and heare me.

God hath spoken in his holines: therefore I wil reioyce, I shal diuide Shechem and measure the valley of Succoth.

And when God by his benefices maketh vs partakers of his mercies, he admonisheth vs to be earnest in praier to desire him to continue and fulfill his graces. As he hath spoken to Samuell concerning me, so wil he shewe him self constant, and holic in his promises, so that these nations following shal be subiect vnto me.

Gilead shalbe mine, and Manasséh shalbe mine: Ephraim also shalbe the strength of mine head: Iuda is my Lawegiuier.

9 Moab shalbe my washpot: ouer Edom wil I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina wil I triumph.

Who wil leade me into the strong citie? who wil bring me vnto Edom?

11 Wilt not thou, O God, which haddest forsaken vs, & didest not go forthe, O God, with our armies?

12 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Through God we shal do valiantly: for he shal tread downe our enemies.

PSAL. CIX.

David being falsely accused by flatterers vnto Saul, praierh God to helpe him and to destroy his enemies. And vnder the he speaketh of Iudas the traitour vnto Iesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God: 27 And desireth so to be deliuered, that his enemies maie knowe the worke to be of God. 30 Though doeth he promise to giue praises vnto God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Hold not thy tongue, O God of my praise.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceit are opened vpon me: thei haue spoken to me with a lying tongue.

3 Thei compassed me about also with wordes of hatred, and foght against me without a cause.

4 For my friendship thei were mine aduersaries, but I gaue my self to praier.

5 And they haue rewarded me euil for good, and hatred for my friendship.

6 Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let thy aduersarie stand at his right hand.

7 When he shalbe iudged, let him be condemned, and let his praier be turned into sinne.

8 Let his daies be fewe, and let another take his charge.

9 Let his children be fatherles, & his wife a widowe.

10 Let his children be vagabunds & beggers, and seke bread, comming out of their places destroyed.

11 Let the extorcioner catche all y the hate, and let the strangers spoile his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercie vnto him: nether let there be anie to shewe mercie vpon his fatherles children.

13 Let his posteritie be destroyed, & in the generacion following let their name be put out.

14 Let the iniquitie of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother be done awaie.

23 I departe like y shadowe that declineth, and am shaken of as the m grassopper.

24 My knees are weake through fasting, & my flesh n hath lost all fatnes.

25 I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon me, shaked their heads.

26 Helpe me, o Lord my God: o saue me
according to thy mercie.

27 And they shal knowe, that this is thine hand, & that thou, Lord, hast done it.

28 Though they p curse, yet thou wilt blesse:
they shal arise and be confounded, but thy seruant shal reioyce.

29 Let mine aduersaries be clothed with their confusion, as with a cloke.

30 I wil giue thākes vnto the Lord greatly with my q mouthe, and praise him amōg the multitude.

31 For he wil stand at the right hand of the poore, to saue him from them that wolde

PSAL. CX.

1 Dauid prophesieth of the power and everlasting kingdome giue to Christ, 4 And of his Priesthode, which shulde put an end to the Priesthode of Levi.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

THe a Lord said vnto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, vntil I make thine enemies thy fote stole.

2 The Lord shal send the rod of thy power out of b Zión: be thou ruler in the mid-des of thine enemies.

3 Thy people shal come willingly at the ti-beautie: the youth of thy wombe shalbe as the morning dewe.

4 The Lord sware and wil not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer after the orde of d Melchi-zedek.

5 The Lord, that is at thy right hand, shal wounde Kings in the daie of his wrath.

6 He shalbe iudge among the heathen: he shal fil all with dead bodie s, and smite the head ouer great countreis.

7 He shal drinke of the brooke in y waie: therefore shal he lift vp his head.

PSAL. CXI.

1 He giueth thanks to the Lord for his merciful workes

5 A good man is merciful and lendeth, and wil measure his affaires by iudgement.

6 Surely he shal neuer be moued: but the righteous shalbe had in euerlasting remembrance.

7 He wil not be afraid of euil tidings: for his heart is fixed, & beleueth in the Lord.

8 His heart is stablished: therefore he wil not feare, vntil he se his desire vpon his enemies.

9 He hath distributed and giuen to the poore: his righteousness remaineth for euer: his home shalbe exalted with glorie.

10 The wicked shal se it and be angrie: he shal gnash with his teeth, and consume awaie: the desire of the wicked shal perish.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 Praise, O ye seruants of the Lord, praise the Name of the Lord.

2 Blessed be the Name of the Lord from hence forth and for euer.

3 The Lords Name is praised from the rising of the sunne vnto the going downe of the same.

4 The Lord is high aboue all nations, & his glorie aboue the heauens.

5 Who is like vnto the Lord our God, that hath his dwelling on high!

6 Who abaseth him self to beholde things in the heauen and in the earth.

7 He raiseth the needy out of the dust, & lifteth vp the poore out of the dung,

8 That he maie set him with the princes, euen with the princes of his people.

9 He maketh the barren woman to dwell with a familie, & a ioyful mother of children. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXIII.

<sup>a</sup> How the Israelites were deliuered forth of Egypt, & of the wonderful miracles, that God wrought at that time. <sup>b</sup> Which put vs in remembrance of Gods great mercie toward his Church, who, when the course of nature faileth, preserueth his miraculously.

1 When Israel went out of Egypt, & the house of Iaakob from the barbarous people,

2 Iudah was his sanctification, & Israel his dominion.

3 The Sea sawe it and fled: Iordan was turned backe.

4 The mountaines leaped like rams, & the hilles as lambs.

5 What ailed thee, O Sea, that thou fleddest? O Iordan, why wast thou turned backe?

<sup>a</sup> That is, for that they were of a strange language. <sup>b</sup> The whole people were witnesses of his holie maie, in adopting them, and of his mightie power in deliuering them. <sup>c</sup> Seeing that these dead creatures felt Gods power, & after a sorte sawe it, much more his people ought to consider it & glorifie him for the same.

6 Ye mountaines, why leaped ye like rams, and ye hilles as lambs?

7 The earth trembled at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Iaakob.

8 Which turneth the rocke into water-poolles, & the flint into a fountaine of water.

PSAL. CXV.

<sup>a</sup> A prayer of the faithful oppressed by idolatrous tyrants against whome they desire that God wolde succour them, <sup>b</sup> Trusting most constantly that God wil preserue them in this their neede, seeing that he hath adopted and receiued them to his fauour, <sup>c</sup> Promising finally that they wil not be vnmindful of so great a benefite, if it wolde please God to heare their prayer, & deliuer them by his omnipotent power.

1 Not vnto vs, O Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name giue the glorie, for thy louing mercie and for thy truthes sake.

2 Wherefore shal the heathen saie, Where is now their God?

3 But our God is in heauen: he doeth what soeuer he wil.

4 Their idoles are siluer and golde, euen the worke of mens hands.

5 Thei haue a mouth and speake not: thei haue eyes and se not.

6 Thei haue eares and heare not: thei haue noses and smell not.

7 Thei haue hands and touche not: thei haue feete and walke not: nether make thei a sounde with their throte.

8 Thei that make them are like vnto the: so are all that trust in them.

9 O Israel, trust thou in the Lord: for he is their helpe and their shield.

10 O house of Aaron, trust ye in the Lord: for he is their helpe and their shield.

11 Ye that feare the Lord, trust in the Lord: for he is their helper and their shield.

12 The Lord hath bene mindeful of vs: he wil blesse, he wil blesse the house of Israel, he wil blesse the house of Aaron.

13 He wil blesse them that feare the Lord, bothe smal and great.

14 The Lord wil encrease his graces toward you, euen toward you and toward your children.

15 Ye are blessed of the Lord, which made the heauen and the earth.

16 The heauens, euen the heauens are the Lords: but he hath giuen the earth to the sonnes of men.

17 The dead praise not the Lord, nether anie that go downe into the place of silence.

18 But we wil praise the Lord from hence forth and for euer. Praise ye the Lord.

Tr. liiii.

<sup>a</sup> Because God promised to deliuer them, not for their sakes, but for his Name, Isa. 48. 11, therefore they ground their prayer vpon this promise. <sup>b</sup> When the wicked see God accomplisheth not his pmes, as they imagine, they thinke there is no God.

<sup>g</sup> For they were appointed by God as instructors & teachers of faith and religion for others to followe. <sup>h</sup> That is, he wil continue his graces toward his people.

<sup>i</sup> And therefore doeth still gouerne & continue all things therein. <sup>k</sup> And that declare y enough his sufficiency, so the worlde seeth him not.

PSAL. CXVI.

1 David being in great danger of Saul in the desert of Maon, perceiving the great and inestimable love of God toward him, magnifieth such great mercies, and protesteth that he wil be shakelul for the same.

1 I <sup>a</sup> Loue y Lord, because he hath heard my voice and my prayers.

2 For he hath inclined his eare vnto me, when I did call vpon him <sup>b</sup> in my daies.

3 When the snares of death compassed me, and the griefs of the graue caught me: when I founde trouble and sorowe,

4 Then I called vpon the Name of the Lord, saying, I beseeche thee, O Lord, deliuer my soule.

5 The Lord is merciful & righteous, and our God is ful of compassion.

6 The Lord preserueth the simple: I was in miserie and he saued me.

7 Returne vnto thy rest, O my soule: for y Lord hath bene beneficial vnto thee,

8 Because thou hast deliuered my soule from death, mine eies from teares, & my fete from falling.

9 I shal walke before the Lord in the land of the liuing.

10 I beleued, therefore did I speake: for I was fore troubled.

11 I said in my feare, All men are lyers.

12 What shal I rendre vnto the Lord for all his benefites toward me?

13 I wil take the cup of saluacion, and call vpon the Name of the Lord.

14 I wil paie my vowes vnto y Lord, *eu*en now in the presence of all his people.

15 Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his Saints.

16 Beholde Lord: for I am thy seruant, I am thy seruant, & the sonne of thine hand maied: thou hast broken my bonds.

17 I wil offer to thee a sacrifice of praise, & wil call vpon the Name of the Lord.

18 I wil paie my <sup>k</sup> vowes vnto the Lord, *eu*en now in the presence of all his people, 19 In the courtes of the Lords house, *eu*en in the middes of thee, O Ierusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

The blessednes of man. Psalmes. Godlie meditacion. 261

26 Blessed be he, that cometh in the Name of the Lord: we haue blessed you out of the house of the Lord.

27 The Lord is mightie, and hath giuen vs light: binde the sacrifice with cordes vnto the hornes of the altar.

28 Thou art my God, and I wil praise thee, euen my God: therefore I wil exalt thee.

29 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

PSAL. CXIX.

The Prophet exhorteth the children of God to frame their liues according to his holie worde. 123 Also he sheweth wherein the true seruice of God standeth: that is, when we serue him according to his worde, & not after our owne fantasies.

ALEPH.

Blessed are those that are vpriight in their waie, & walke in the Lawe of y Lord.

3 Blessed are they that kepe his testimonies, & seke him with their whole heart.

4 Surely they worke none iniquitie, that walke in his waies.

5 Thou hast commanded to kepe thy precepts diligently.

6 Oh that my waies were directed to kepe thy statutes.

7 Then shulde I not be confounded, when I haue respect vnto all thy commandements.

8 I wil praise thee with an vpriight heart, when I shal learne the iudgements of thy righteousness.

9 I wil kepe thy statutes: forsake me not fouerlong.

BETH.

10 Wherewith shal a yong mā redresse his waie in taking hede thereto according to thy worde.

11 With my whole heart haue I sought thee: let me not wander from thy commandements.

12 I haue hid thy promises in mine heart, that I might not sinne against thee.

13 Blessed art thou, O Lord: teache me thy statutes.

14 With my lippes haue I declared all the iudgements of thy mouth.

15 I haue had as great desire in the waie of thy testimonies, as in all riches.

16 I wil meditate in thy precepts, and consider thy waies.

17 I wil delight in thy statutes, & I wil not forget thy worde.

GIMEL.

18 Be beneficial vnto thy seruāt, that I maie liue and kepe thy worde.

19 Open mine eyes, that I maie see the wonders of thy Law.

20 I am a stranger vpon earth: hide not thy face from me.

21 My heart is vexed exceedingly: turne thou from me, O Lord, and I wil not offend thee.

22 Turne thou from me, O Lord, and I wil not offend thee.

thy commandements from me.

23 Mine heart breaketh for desire to thy iudgements alwaie.

24 Thou hast destroyed the proude: cursed are they that do erre from thy commandements.

25 Remoue from me shame and contempt: for I haue kept thy testimonies.

26 Princes also did sit, & speake against me: but thy seruant did meditate in thy statutes.

27 Also thy testimonies are my delight, & my counsellers.

DALETH.

28 My soule cleaueth to the dust: quicken me according to thy worde.

29 I haue declared my waies, and thou heardst me: teache me thy statutes.

30 Make me to vnderstand the waie of thy precepts, and I wil meditate in thy wondrous workes.

31 My soule melteth for heauines: raise me vp according vnto thy worde.

32 Take from me the waie of lying, and grant me graciously thy Law.

33 I haue chosen the waie of trueth, & thy iudgements haue I laied before me.

34 I haue cleaued to thy testimonies, O Lord: confounde me not.

35 I wil runne the waie of thy commandements, when thou shalt enlarge mine heart.

HE.

36 Teache me, O Lord, the waie of thy statutes, and I wil kepe it vnto the end.

37 Giue me vnderstanding, and I wil kepe thy Law: yea, I wil kepe it with my whole heart.

38 Direct me in the path of thy commandements: for therein is my delight.

39 Incline mine heart vnto thy testimonies, and not to couetousnes.

40 Turne awaie mine eyes from regarding vanitie, & quicken me in thy waie.

41 Stablish thy promises to thy seruant, because he seareth thee.

42 Take awaie my rebuke that I feare: for thy iudgements are good.

43 Beholde, I desire thy commandements: quicken me in thy righteousness, VAV.

44 And let thy louing kindenes come vnto me, O Lord, & thy saluacion according to thy promises.

45 So shal I make answer vnto my blasphemers: for I trust in thy worde.

46 And take not the worde of trueth vtterly out of my mouth: for I wait for thy iudgements.

47 So shal I alwaie kepe thy Lawe for euer and euer.

48 And I wil walke at libertie: for I seke self to be able to confute the felanders of his aduersaries.

49 I haue not forgot thy Law, O Lord: therefore I wil not offend thee.

50 I haue not forgot thy Law, O Lord: therefore I wil not offend thee.

51 I haue not forgot thy Law, O Lord: therefore I wil not offend thee.

Affliction is necessarie. Psalmes. True comfort in affliction.

thy precepts.

46 I wil speake also of thy testimonies before Kings, and wil not be ashamed.

47 And my delite shalbe in thy commandements, which I haue loued.

48 Mine hands also wil I lift vp vnto thy commandements, which I haue loued, and I wil meditate in thy statutes.

Z A I N.

49 Remembre the promises made to thy seruāt, wherein thou hast caused me to trust.

50 It is my comfort in my trouble: for thy promises haue quickened me.

51 The proude haue had me exceedingly in derision: yet haue I not declined from thy Law.

52 I remembred thy iudgements of olde, O Lord, and haue bene comforted.

53 Feare is come vpon me for the wicked, that forsake thy Law.

54 Thy statutes haue bene my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.

55 I haue remembred thy Name, O Lord, in the night, and haue kept thy Law.

56 This I had because I kept thy precepts.

C H E T H.

57 O Lord, that art my porcion, I haue determined to kepe thy wordes.

58 I made my supplication in thy presence with my whole heart: be merciful vnto me according to thy promises.

59 I haue considered my waies, & turned my fete into thy testimonies.

60 I made haste and delayed not to kepe thy commandements.

61 The bands of the wicked haue robbed me: but I haue not forgotten thy Law.

62 At midnight wil I rise to giue thanks vnto thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.

63 I am companion of all them that feare thee, and kepe thy precepts.

64 The earth, O Lord, is ful of thy mercie: teache me thy statutes.

T E T H.

65 O Lord, thou hast delt graciously with thy seruāt according vnto thy worde.

66 Teache me good iudgement and knowledge: for I haue beleued thy commandements.

67 Before I was afflicted, I went astray: but now I kepe thy worde.

68 Thou art good and gracious: teache me thy statutes.

69 The proude haue imagined a lie against me: but I wil kepe thy precepts with my whole heart.

70 Their heart is fat as greafe: but my delite is in thy Law.

71 It is good for me that I haue bene afflicted, that I maie learne thy statutes.

d He sheweth the children of God ought not to suffer their Fathers glorie to be obscured by the vaine pompe of princes.

a Thogh he fele Gods had stil to lie vpon him, yet he reflecteth on his promises & comforteth him self therein.
b Meaning the wicked, & ostentatious Gods worde, & tread his religio vnder fote.
c That is, the examples, whereby thou declarest thy self to be iudge of the worlde.
d That is, a vehement zeale to thy glorie, & indignation against the wicked.

e In the course of this life and sorrowful exile
f Eue when other slepe
g That is, all these benefites.
a I am persuaded to kepe thy Law is an heritage and great gain for me

b He sheweth none can imbrace thy worde of God, except he consider his owne imperfections and waies.

c They haue gone about to drawe we into their companie.
d Not onely in mutual cōsent, but also with aide & succour.
e For thy knowledge of Gods worde is a singular token of his fauour.

a Having procured by experience that God was true in his promises, he desireth that he wolde increase in his knowledge and iudgement.

b So Ieremie saith, before the Lord touched him, he was like a calfe vntamed: so that the vse of Gods rods is to call vs home to God.

c Their heart is indurate & hardened, puffed vp with prosperitie & vaine estimation of them selues.

d He confesseth that before that he was chastened, he was rebellious, as man by nature is.

72 The Law of thy mouth is better vnto me, then thousands of golde and siluer.

I O D.

73 Thine hands haue made me and facioned me: giue me vnderstanding therefore, that I maie learne thy commandements.

74 So thei feare thee, seing me shal reioyce, because I haue trusted in thy worde.

75 I knowe, O Lord, that thy iudgements are right, and that thou hast afflicted me iustly.

76 I praie thee that thy mercie maie comfort me according to thy promises vnto thy seruāt.

77 Let thy tender mercies come vnto me, that I maie liue: for thy Law is my delite.

78 Let the proude be ashamed: for thei haue dealt wickedly and falsely with me: but I meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let suche as feare thee turne vnto me, and thei that knowe thy testimonies.

80 Let mine heart be vpright in thy statutes, that I be not ashamed.

C A P H.

81 My soule fainteth for thy saluacion: yet I waite for thy worde.

82 Mine eyes faile for thy promises, saying, When wilt thou comfort me?

83 For I am like a bottel in the smoke: yet do I not forget thy statutes.

84 How manie are the daies of thy seruāt? when wilt thou execute iudgement on the that persecute me?

85 The proude haue digged pittes for me, which is not after thy Law.

86 All thy commandements are true: they persecute me falsely: helpe me.

87 They had almost consumed me vpon the earth: but I forsoke not thy precepts.

88 Quicken me according to thy louing kindenes: so shal I kepe the testimonie of thy mouth.

L A M E D.

89 O Lord, thy worde endureth for euer in heauen.

90 Thy truth is from generation to generation: thou hast laied the fundacion of the earth, and it abideth.

91 Thei continue euen to this daie by thine ordinances: for all are thy seruants.

92 Except thy Law had bene my delite, I shulde now haue perished in mine affliction.

93 I wil neuer forget thy precepts: for by them thou hast quickened me.

94 I am thine, saue me: for I haue sought thy precepts.

95 The wicked haue waited for me to destroye me: but I wil consider thy testimonies.

96 I haue sene an end of all perfection: but thy commandement is exceeding large.

this so perfect in earth, but it hath an end: onely Gods worde lasteth for euer.

a Because God leaueth not his worke, that he hath begun, he desireth a newe grace: is, y he wolde continue his mercies.

b When God sheweth his grace towards anie, he testifieth to others that he faileth not them that trust in him.

c He declarerth, when he seeth not Gods mercies, he was as dead.

d That is, he comforted by mine exple.

e He sheweth that there can be no true feare of God without the knowledge of his worde.

a Thogh my strength faile me, yet my soule groweth and fighteth, resting stil in thy worde.

b Like a sym-bottel or bladder that is parched in the smoke.

c How long wilt thou afflict thy seruāt?

d They haue not onely oppressed me violently, but also craftily conspired against me.

e He assureth him self, that God wil deliver his & destroye suche as vainly persecute them.

f Finding no helpe in earth, he lifteth vp his eyes to heauen.

a Because none shulde esteeme Gods worde according to the changes of things in this worlde, he sheweth that it shal last in heauen & therefore is immutable.

b Seing the earth and all creatures remaine in that estate, wherein I haue created them, much more thy truth remaineth constant & vnderstandable.

c He proueth by effect, he is Gods child, because he seeketh to vnderstand his worde.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

- 1 This psalme containeth the commendation of brotherlie amitie among the seruants of God.

A song of degrees or Psalme of Dauid.

- 1 Beholde, how good and how comelie a thing it is, brethren to dwell euen together.

- 2 It is like to the precious ointment vpon the head, that runneth downe vpon the beard, euen vnto Aarons beard, which wet downe on the border of his garments:

- 3 And as the dewe of Hermón, which falleth vpon the mountaynes of Zión: for there the Lord appointed the blessing & life for euer.

- 4 The ointment was a figure of the graces, which come fro Christ the head vnto his Church. c By Hermón & Zión he meaneth the plentiful countrei about Ierusalém. d Where there is such concord.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

- 1 He exhorteth the Leuites, watching in the Temple, to praise the Lord.

A song of degrees.

- 1 Beholde, praise ye the Lord, all ye seruants of the Lord, ye that by night stand in the House of the Lord.

- 2 Lift vp your hands to the Sanctuarie, & praise the Lord.

- 3 The Lord, that hathe made heauen and earth, blesse thee out of Zión.

- 4 And therefore hathe all power, blesse thee with his Fatherlie loue declared in Zión. Thus the Leuites vsed to praise the Lord, and blesse the people.

PSAL. CXXXV.

- 1 He exhorteth all the faithful, of what estate so euer they be, to praise God for his maruelous workes, 12 And specially for his graces toward his people, wherein he hathe declared his maiestie, 15 To the confusion of all idolaters and their idoles.

Praise ye the Lord.

- 1 Praise the Name of the Lord: ye seruants of the Lord, praise him.

- 2 Ye stand in the House of the Lord, & in the courtes of the House of our God,

- 3 Praise ye the Lord: for the Lord is good: sing praises vnto his Name: for it is a com-melie thing.

- 4 For the Lord hathe chosen Iakób to him selfe, and Israël for his chief treasure. e That is, hath frely chosen the posteritie of Abraham.

- 5 For I knowe that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is aboue all gods.

- 6 Whatsoeuer pleased the Lord, that did he in heauen and in earth, in the sea, & in all the depths. d He ioyneth Gods power w his wil, to the intent that we shulde not separate them: & hereby he wil leth Gods people to depend on his power, & he confirmeth by examples. ler. 10. 12. exod. 12. 19.

- 7 He bringeth vp the cloudes from the ends of the earth, and maketh the lightnings with the raine: he draweth forth the winde out of his treasures.

- 8 He smote the first borne of Egypt both of man and beast.

- 9 He hathe sent tokens and wonders into the middes of thee, o Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his seruants.

- 10 He smote manie nacions, & slewe mighty Kings: Nom. 21. 1. & 24. 33.

- 11 As Sihon King of the Amorites, and Og King of Bashan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

- 12 And gaue their land for an inheritance, euen an inheritance vnto Israël his people. e He sheweth what frute the godlie cōcurrence of Gods power, wher, by thei se how he destroyeth his enemies, & deliuereth his people.

- 13 Thy Name, o Lord, endureth for euer: o Lord, thy remembrance is from generation to generation.

- 14 For the Lord wil iudge his people, and be pacified towards his seruants. f That is, gouerne & defende his people.

- 15 The idoles of the heathen are siluer & golde, euen the worke of mens hands. g By shewing what punishment God appointeth for heathen idolaters, he warneth his people to beware the like offence, seeing y idoles haue neither power nor life, & y their deliuerance came not by idoles, but by y mighty power of God. read psal 115. vers. 4.

- 16 They haue a mouth, & speake not: they haue eyes and se not.

- 17 They haue eares and heare not, nether is there anie breath in their mouth.

- 18 They that make them, are like vnto them: so are all that trust in them.

- 19 Praise the Lord, ye house of Israël: praise the Lord, ye house of Aaron.

- 20 Praise the Lord, ye house of Leui: ye that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.

- 21 Praised be the Lord out of Zión, which dwelleth in Ierusalém. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

- 1 A moste earnest exhortation to giue thanks vnto God for the creation and gouernance of all things which standeth in confessing that he giueth vs all of his mere liberalitie.

- 1 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

- 2 Praise ye the God of gods: for his mercie endureth for euer.

- 3 Praise ye the Lord of lords: for his mercie endureth for euer.

O Lord, thou hast tryed me and knowest me.

Thou knowest my sitting & my rising: thou vnderstandest my thought a farre off.

Thou compassest my paths, and my lying downe, and art accustomed to all my waies.

For there is not a worde in my tongue, but so, thou knowest it wholly, O Lord.

Thou holdest me strait behinde and before, and laiest thine hand vpon me.

Thy knowledge is to wonderful for me: it is so high that I can not attaine vnto it.

Whether shal I go from thy Spirit? or whether shal I flee from thy presence?

If I ascend into heauen, thou art there: if I lie downe in hel, thou art there.

Let me take the wings of the morping, & dwell in the vitermost partes of the sea:

Yet whether shal thine hand lead me, & thy right hand holde me.

If I saie, Yet the darkenes shal hide me, euen the night shal be light about me.

Yea, the darkenes hideth not from thee: but the night shineth as the daie: y darknes and light are bothe alike.

For thou hast possessed my reines: y hast couered me in my mothers wombe.

I wil praise thee, for I am fearfully & wonderously made: maruelous are thy workes, and my soule knoweth it wel.

My bones are not hid from thee, thogh I was made in a secret place, & facioned beneth in the earth.

Thine eyes did se me, when I was without forme: for in thy boke were all things written, which in continuance were facioned, when there was none of them before.

How mderc therefore are thy thoughts vnto me, O God! how great is y summe of the!

If I shulde counte them, thei are mo then the sand: whe I wake, I am stil with thee.

Oh that thou woldest slay, O God, y wicked and bloodie men, to whome I saie, Depart ye from me:

Which speake wickedly of thee, & beig thine enemies are lifted vp in vaine.

Do not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? and do not I earnestly contend with those that rise vp against thee?

I hate them with an vnfaigned hatred, as they were mine vtter enemies.

Trye me, O God, and knowe mine heart: proue me and knowe my thoughts,

And consider if there be anie waie of wickednes in me, and lead me in the waie for euer.

Kepe me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked: preserve me from the cruel man, which purposeth to cause my steppes to slide.

The proude haue laid a snare for me & spred a net with cordes in my pathwaie, & set grennes for me. Selah.

Therefore I said vnto the Lord, Thou art my God: heare, O Lord, the voice of my praier.

O Lord God the strength of my saluacion, thou hast couered mine head in the daie of battel.

Let not y wicked haue his desire, O Lord: performe not his wicked thought, lest thei be proude. Selah.

As for the chief of them, that compassed me about, let the mischief of their owne lippes come vpon them.

Let coles fall vpon them: let him cast them into the fyre, & into the depe pittes, that thei rise not.

For y backbiters shal not be established vpon the earth: euil shal hunt the cruel man to destruction.

The end of Gods workes. Psalmes. Gods prouidence. 266

1 Though wicked Kings be called Gods seruants, as Cyrus, Isa. 45. 1. forasmuch as he vnderstandeth the execution of his iudgements: yet David because of Gods promises, and they that rule godly, are properly so called, because they serue not their owne affections: but for the Gods glorie. k He desireth God to continue his benefits toward his people, counting the procuration of children and their good education among chiefest of Gods benefits. l That the verse corners of our houses may be full of store for the great abundance of thy blessings. m He attributeth not onely the great commodities, but euen the least also to Gods fauour. n And if God giue not to all his children all these blessings, yet he recompenseth them with better things.

Kings, & rescueth David his seruant from the hurtful sworde.

11 Rescue me, and deliuer me from the hand of strangers, whose mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood:

12 That our <sup>k</sup> sonnes may be as the plantes growing vp in their youth, & our daughters as the corner stones, grauen after the similitude of a palace:

13 That our <sup>l</sup> corners may be full, and abounding with diuers sortes, and that our shepe may bring forth the thousands and tens of thousands in our stretes:

14 That our <sup>m</sup> oxen may be strong to labour: that their be none inuasion, nor going out, nor no crying in our stretes.

15 Blessed are the people, that be <sup>n</sup> so, yea, blessed are the people, whose God is the Lord.

PSAL. CXLV.

This Psalme was composed, when the kingdome of David flourished. 1 Wherein he describeth the wonderful prouidence of God, as wel in gouerning man, as in preserving all the rest of his creatures. 17 He praiseth God for his iustice & mercie, 18 But specially for his louing kindenes toward those that call vpon him, that feare him, and loue him: 21 For the which he promisseth to praise him for euer.

A Psalme of David of praise.

O My God and King, I wil extoll thee, and wil blesse thy Name for euer and euer.

I wil blesse thee daily, and praise thy Name for euer and euer.

Great is the Lord, & moste worthie to be praised, and his greatnes is incomprehensible.

Generacion shal praise thy workes vnto generation, and declare thy power.

I wil meditate of the beautie of thy glorious maiestic, & thy wonderful workes,

And they shal speake of the power of thy feareful Actes, and I wil declare thy greatnes.

They shal breake out into the mencion of thy great goodnes, & shal sing aloud of thy righteousness.

The Lord is gracious and merciful, slowe to angre, and of great mercie.

The Lord is good to all, & his mercies are ouer all his workes.

All thy workes praise thee, O Lord, and thy Saints blesse thee.

They shewe the glorie of thy kingdome and speake of thy power,

End. 34. He describeth after what sorte God sheweth him self to all his creatures, though our sinnes haue prouoked his vengeance against all: to wit, merciful, not onely in pardoning the sinnes of his elect, but in doing good euen to the reprobate, albeit they can not fele the swete comfort of the same. f The praise of thy glorie appeareth in all thy creatures: & though wicked wolde ascribe the same by their witte, yet faithful are euer mindeful of the same.

To cause his power to be knowne to the sonnes of men, & the glorious renome of his kingdome.

Thy kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, & thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

The Lord vpholdeth all that fall, and lifteth vp all that are readie to fall.

The eyes of all waite vpon thee, and thou giuest them their meat in due season.

Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all things liuing of thy good pleasure.

The Lord is righteous in all his waies, and holie in all his workes.

The Lord is nere vnto all that call vpon him: yea, to all that call vpon him in trueth.

He wil fulfil the desire of them that feare him: the also wil heare their crye, & wil saue them.

The Lord preserueth all them that loue him: but he wil destroye all the wicked.

My mouth shal speake the praise of the Lord, and all flesh shal blesse his holie Name for euer and euer.

liuering them. 1 Which onely apperteineth to the faithful: and this vertue is contrarie to infidelitie, doubting, impacience and murmuring. m For they wil aske or wish for nothing, but according to his wil. 1. Ioh 9. 14. n That is, all men shal be bounde to praise him.

PSAL. CXLVI.

David declareth his great zeale that he hath to praise God, 3 And teacheth, not to trust in man, but onely in God almighty. 7 Which deliuereth the afflicted. 9 Defendeth the strangers, comforteth the fatherles, and the widowes. 10 And reigneth for euer.

Praise ye the Lord.

Praise thou the Lord, O my soule.

I wil praise the Lord during my life: as long as I haue anie being, I wil sing vnto my God.

Put not your trust in princes, nor in the sonne of mā, for there is none helpe in hi.

His breath departeth, & he returneth to his earth: then his thoughts perish.

Blessed is he, that hathe the God of Iakob for his helpe, whose hope is in y Lord his God.

Which made heaven & earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which kepeth his fidelitie for euer:

Which executeth iustice for the oppressed: which giueth bread to the hungry: the Lord looseth the prisoners.

The Lord giueth sight to the blinde: the Lord raiseth vp the croked: the Lord loueth the righteous.

The Lord kepeth the strangers: he relieueth the fatherles and widowe: but he ouerthroweth the way of the wicked.

Xx.ii.

& pacifce for a while he tryeth, but at length he punisheth & aduersaries, that he may be knowne to be iudge of the worlde. f Though he vifit them by affliction, hunger, imprisonment and suche like, yet his Fatherlie loue and pitie neuer faileth them, yea, rather to his these are signes of his loue. g Meaning all them, that are destitute of worldlie moones and succour.

He sheweth y all things are out of ordre, but onely where God reigneth.

<sup>a</sup> He sheweth wher we ought to exercise our felues continually, & to take our pastime to wit, in praising God.

<sup>d</sup> Though it seme to man incredible, that God shulde assemble his Church, being so dispersed, yet nothing can be so hard to him, that can number & name all the starres.

<sup>e</sup> For the more high that the wicked cline, the greater is their fall in the end.

<sup>f</sup> He sheweth by the exaples of Gods mightie power, goodnes & wisdom, that we can neuer wā moſt iust occasiō to praise God.

<sup>g</sup> For their crying is as it were a confession of their needs, which can not be reliqued, but by God onely: then if God shew him self mindeful of <sup>h</sup> moſt contemptible foules, can he suffer them to dye of famine, whome he hath assured of life euerlasting?

<sup>h</sup> Though to vs lawfull meanes is bothe pſtable & pleaserh God, yet to put our trust in them, is to defraude God of his honour. <sup>i</sup> He doeth not onely furnish his Church with all things necessarie, but preferueth also the same, & maketh it strong against all outward force. <sup>k</sup> His secret working in all creatures is as a commandēt to kepe the in ordre, & to giue the mouing & force. <sup>l</sup> For immediately & without resisting all things obey him. <sup>m</sup> As before he called Gods secret working in all his creatures his word: so he meaneth here, by his word, ydō- & rine of life euerlasting, & he hath left to his Church, as a moſt precious treasure. <sup>n</sup> The cause of this difference is Gods fre mercie, which hath elected his in his Sonne Christ Iesus to saluacion: & his iuste iudgemēt, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

10 The Lord shal <sup>a</sup> reigne for euer: <sup>b</sup> Zión, thy God endureth from generacion to generacion. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXLVII.

<sup>a</sup> The Prophet praiseth the bountie, wisdom, power, iustice & prouidence of God vpon all his creatures, <sup>b</sup> But specially vpon his Church, which he gathereth together after their disperſion. <sup>c</sup> 19 Declaring his words and iudgements so vnto them, as he hath done to none other people.

<sup>a</sup> He doeth not onely furnish his Church with all things necessarie, but preferueth also the same, & maketh it strong against all outward force. <sup>k</sup> His secret working in all creatures is as a commandēt to kepe the in ordre, & to giue the mouing & force. <sup>l</sup> For immediately & without resisting all things obey him. <sup>m</sup> As before he called Gods secret working in all his creatures his word: so he meaneth here, by his word, ydō- & rine of life euerlasting, & he hath left to his Church, as a moſt precious treasure. <sup>n</sup> The cause of this difference is Gods fre mercie, which hath elected his in his Sonne Christ Iesus to saluacion: & his iuste iudgemēt, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

<sup>a</sup> He prouoketh all creatures to praise the Lord in heauē and earth and all places. <sup>b</sup> 14 Specially his Church for the power that he hath giuen to the same after that he had chosen them and ioyned them vnto him.

<sup>a</sup> And he hath established them for euer and euer: he hath made an ordinance, which shal not passe.

<sup>a</sup> By Gods appointed ordinance. <sup>b</sup> For the greater giftes that anie hath receiued, and the more high that one his preferred, the more bound is he to praise God for the same, but nether high nor lowe condition or degree can be exempted from this dutie. <sup>c</sup> That is, the dignitie, power and glorie of his Church. <sup>d</sup> By reason of his couenant made with Abraham.

PSAL. CXLIX.

Let the high Actes of God be in their mouth, and a two edged sworde in their hands,

To execute vengeance vpon the heathen, & corrections among the people:

To binde their Kings in chaines, and their nobles with fetters of yron,

That they maye execute vpon them the iudgement that is written: this honour shalbe to all his Saints. Praise ye the Lord.

This is chiefly accomplished in the kingdom of Christ, when Gods people for iust causes execute Gods iudgements against his enemies: & against no li bertie to anie to reuenge their priuate iniuries. f Not onely the people, but the Kings that were their enemies, shulde be destroyed. g Hereby God binde the hands and mindes of all his to enterprise no farther then he appointeth.

PSAL. CL.

An exhortacion to praise the Lord without cease by all manner of wayes for all his mightie and wonderful workes.

Praise ye the Lord

Praise ye God in his Sanctuary: praise ye him in the firmament of his power.

Praise ye him in his mightie Actes: praise ye hi accordig to his excellēt greatnes.

Praise ye him in the sounde of the trupper: praise ye him vpon the viole and the harpe.

Praise ye him with timbrel & flute: praise ye him with virginales and organs.

Praise ye him with sounding cymbals: praise ye him with high sounding cymbals.

Let euerie thing that hath breath praise the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

That is, in heaven. f For his wonderful power appeareth in firmament, w in Ebr is called a stretchig out or spreading abroad, wherein the mightie worke of God shinneth. c Exhorting people onely to reioyce in praising God, he maketh mention of those instruments, w by Gods commandement were appointed in the olde Law, but vnder Christ the vse thereof is abolished in the Church. d He sheweth that all the ordre of nature is bound to this duetic, and muche more Gods childre, who ought neuer to cease to praise him, till they be gathered into that kingdome, which he hath prepared for his, where they shal sing euertlasting praise.

THE PROVERBES

of Salomón.

THE ARGUMENT.

The wonderful loue of God toward his Church is declared in this booke: forasmuche as the summe and effect of the whole Scriptures is here set forth in these brief sentences, which partly containe doctrine, and partly maners, and also exhortacions to bothe. Wherof the nine first chapters are as a preface full of graue sentences, and depe mysteries, to allure the haertes of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow: which are left as a moste precious iewel to the Church, of those thre thousand parables mencioned 1. King. 4. 32, and were gathered and commit to writing by Salomons seruants and indited by him.

CHAP. I.

The power and vse of the worde of God. 7 Of the feare of God and knowledge of his worde. 10 We may not consent to the unisings of sinners. 20 Wisdome complai neth that she is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that contemne her.

THe Parables of Salomón the sonne of Dauid King of Israël, To knowe wisdom, & instruction, to vnderstand the wordes of knowledge,

To receiue instruction to do wisely, by iustice and iudgement and equitie,

To giue vnto the simple sharpenes of wit, & to the childe knowledge and discretion.

A wise man shal heare and increase in learning, and a man of vnderstanding, shal attaine vnto wise counsels,

To vnderstand a parable, and the interpretation, the wordes of the wise, & their darke sayings.

The feare of y Lord is y beginnig of knowledge: but fooles despise wisdom & instruction.

My sonne, heare thy fathers instruction, and forsake not thy mothers teaching.

For thei shalbe a comeliornament vnto thine head, and as chaines for thy necke.

My sonne, if sinners do intise thee, consent thou not.

If they say, Come with vs, we wil lay wait for blood, & lie priuie for the innocent without a cause:

We wil swallowe the vp aliue like a graue euen whole, as those that go downe into the pit:

We shal finde all precious riches, & fill our houses with spoile:

Cast in thy lot among vs: we wil all haue one purse:

My sonne, walke not thou in the way with them: refraine thy fote from their path.

For their fete runne to euil, & make hast to shed blood.

Certainly as without cause the net is spread before y eyes of all that hath wing:

So they laye wait for blood, & lie priuie for their liues.

Xxiii.

whereby the wicked are allured to ioyn together, because they haue euery one parte of the spoile of the innocent. n That is, haue nothing at all to do with them. o He sheweth that there is no cause to moue these wicked to spoile the innocent, but their auarice and crueltie.

This worde Prouerbe, or Parable signifieth a grane & morable sentence, worthie to be kept in memorie: and is some time taken in the euil parte for a mocke, or scoffe.

g He speaketh this in y Name of God, & is the vniuersal Father of all creatures, or in the Name of the pastor of y Church, who is as a father. h That is, of y Church, wherein the faithfull are begotten by the incorruptible seede of Gods worde.

i Ebr. increaseth. To wit, the wicked, which haue not the feare of God. k He speaketh not onely of shedding of blood with hand, but of all craftie practises which rede to the detriment of our neighbour. l As the graue is neuer satiate so the auarice of the wicked and their crueltie hath no end. m He sheweth

That is, what we ought to knowe & followe, & what we ought to refuse.

b Meaning the worde of God wherein is the onely true knowledge.

c To learne to submit our selues to the correction of those that are wise.

d By liuing iustely and reuoluing to euery man that apperteyneth vnto him.

e To suche as haue not discretion to rule them selues. f As he sheweth these parables containing the effect of religion as touching maners & doctine do apperteyne to the simple people: so doeth he declare that the same is also necessarie for them that are wise and learned. * Psal. 111. 10. eccl. 1. 16.

The foolish hate wisdom. Prouerbes. The harlot described.

p Whereby he concludeth y the couetous man is a murderer.

q This wisdom is the eternal worde of God.

r So that none can pretend ignorance.

s Wisdom reprooueth three kindes of men: the foolish or simple, which erre of ignorance, and mockers, that can not suffer to be taught, & fooles which are drowned in worldly lusts, & hate the knowledge of godlines.

t This is spoken according to our capacity, signifying that the wicked, & mocke & iest at Gods worde, shall haue the iudgement of their mocking.

u That is, your destruction, which you feared.

x Because they sought not with an affection to God, but for ease of their owne grief.

y Shewing y without faith and obedience, we can not call vpon God a right.

z They shall seele what commodities the wicked life shall giue the. a That is, the prosperitie, & sensualitie, wherein they delite.

19 Suche are the wayes of euerie one that is gredie of gaine: he wolde take away the life of the owners thereof.

20 ¶ Wisdom cryeth without: she vitereth her voyce in the stretes.

21 She calleth in the hye strete among the prease in the entrings of the gates, & vitereth her wordes in the citie, saying,

22 O ye foolish, how long wil ye loue foolishnes: & the skornefull take their pleasure in skorning, & the fooles hate knowledge?

23 (Turne you at my correction: so, I wil powre out my minde vnto you, & make you vnderstand my wordes.)

24 Because I haue called, and ye refused: I haue stretched out mine hand, and none wolde regarde.

25 But ye haue despised all my counsel, & wolde none of my correction.

26 I wil also laugh at your destruction, and mocke, when your feare cometh.

27 When your feare cometh like sudden desolation, and your destruction shall come, like a whirle winde: when affliction & anguish shall come vpon you,

28 Then shall they call vpon me, but I wil not answer: they shall seke me early, but they shall not finde me, 29 Because they hated knowledge, and did not chuse the feare of the Lord.

30 Thei wolde none of my counsel, but despised all my correction.

31 Therefore shall they eat of the frute of their owne way, and be filled with their owne deuises.

32 For a ease slayeth the foolish, and the prosperitie of fooles destroyeth them.

33 But he that obeieth me, shall dwell safely, & be quiet from feare of euil.

8 That they may kepe the wayes of iudgement: and he preserueth the way of his Saints)

9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousness, and iudgement, and equitie, & euerie good path.

10 ¶ When wisdom entreth into thine heart, and knowledge delite thy soule,

11 Then shall counsel preserue thee, & vnderstanding shall kepe thee,

12 And deliuer thee from the euil way, and from the man that speaketh froward things,

13 And from them that leaue the waies of righteousness to walke in the waies of darknesses:

14 Which reioyce in doing euil, & delite in the frowardnes of the wicked, 15 Whose waies are crooked and they are lewde in their paths.

16 And it shall deliuer thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger, which flattereth with her wordes.

17 Which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the couenant of her God.

18 Surely her house tendeth to death, & her paths vnto the dead.

19 All thei that go vnto her, retorne not againe, neither take they holde of the waies of life.

20 Therefore walke thou in the waie of good men, & kepe the waies of the righteous.

21 For the iust shall dwell in the land, and the vpright men shall remaine in it.

22 But the wicked shall be cut of from the earth and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it.

f The worde of God shall teache thee & counsel thee how to gouerne thy self. g That is, the worde of God, which is the onely light, to followe their owne fantasies & are darknesses. h When thei are anie giuen to euil as thei are i Meaning, that wisdom, which is the worde of God, shall preserue vs from all vices: naming this vice of whose dome whereu so ma is most prone. k That is, her husband, which is her head & guide to gouerne her, from whom she ought not to depart, but remaine in his subiection. l Which is, the promise made in marriage. m Her acquaintance with her familiars & thei that haue her. n To thei that are dead in be- liefe and soule. o They shall haue ioye the temporal & spiritual promises of God, as the wicked shall be cut of from them.

CHAP. II.

1 Wisdom exhorteth to obey her. 2 She teacheth the feare of God. 3 She is giuen of God. 4 She preserueth from wickednes.

1 MY sonne, if thou wilt receiue my wordes, and hide my commandements within thee,

2 And cause thine eares to hearken vnto wisdom, & encline thine heart to vnderstanding,

3 (For if thou callest after knowledge, & cryest for vnderstanding:

4 If thou sekest her as siluer, and searchest for her as for treasures,

5 Then shalt thou vnderstand the feare of the Lord, and finde the knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord giueth wisdom, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderstanding.

7 He preserueth the state of y righteous: he is a shield to them that walke vprightly,

1 The worde of God giueth life. 2 Trust in God & feare him. 3 Honour him. 4 Suffre his correction. 5 To them that followe the worde of God, all things shall succede wel.

1 MY sonne, forget not thou my Law, but let thine heart kepe my commandements.

2 For thei shall increase the length of thy daies and the yers of life, and thy prosperitie.

3 Let not mercie and trueth forsake thee: binde them on thy necke, & write them vpon the table of thine heart.

4 So shalt thou finde fauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of God and man.

5 ¶ Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisdom.

6 In all thy waies acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy waies.

7 ¶ Be not wise in thine owne eyes: but feare the Lord, and departe from euil.

8 So health shall be vnto thy navel, and marow to the perfit daie. 19 The waie of the wicked is as the darkenes: they knowe not wherein thei shal fall. 20 My sonne, hearken vnto my wordes, encline thine eare vnto my sayings. 21 Let them not departe from thine eyes, but kepe them in the middes of thine heart. 22 For thei are life vnto those that finde them, and helthe vnto all their flesh. 23 Kepe thine heart with all diligence: for thereout cometh life. 24 Put awaie from thee a frowarde mouth, and put wicked lippes farre from thee. 25 Let thine eyes beholde the right, and let thine eyeliddes direct thy way before thee. 26 Ponde the path of thy fete, & let all thy waies be ordered aright. 27 Turne not to the right hand, nor to the left, but renouue thy face from euil.

CHAP. V.

Whoredome forbidden. 9 And prodigalitie. 15 He willesh a mā to liue on his labours & to helpe others. 18 To loue his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickednes.

1 My sonne, hearken vnto my wisdom, and encline thine eare vnto my knowledge. 2 That thou maiest regarde counsel, and thy lippes obserue knowledge. 3 For the lippes of a strange woman drop as an honie combe, and her mouth is more soft then oyle. 4 But the end of her is bitter as worme wood, & sharpe as a two edged sworde. 5 Her fete go downe to death, and her stepes take holde on hel. 6 She weigheth not the way of life: her paths are moueable: thou canst not knowe them. 7 Heare ye me now therefore, O children, & departe not from the wordes of my mouth. 8 Kepe thy waie farre from her, and come not nere the dore of her house. 9 Lest thou giue thine honour vnto others, and thy yeres to the cruel. 10 Lest the stranger shulde be filled with thy strength, and thy labours be in the house of a stranger. 11 And thou mourne at thine end, (when thou hast consumed thy flesh and thy bodie) 12 And saie, How haue I hated instruction, and mine heart despised correction! 13 And haue not obeyed the voice of them that taught me, nor inclined mine eare to them that instructed me! 14 I was almost brought into all euil in the middes of the Congregation & assemblie.

a That is, an harlot which giueth her self to another then to her husband. b By oyle and honie he meaneth flatterig and craftie inuilements. c All her doings lead to destruction. d She hathe neuer newe meanesto allure to wickednes.

e That is, thy strength and goods to her. f wil haue no place vpon thee: as is red of Samson, & the prodigal sonne. g The goods gotten by thy craft.

h Although I was faithfully instructed in truth, yet had I almost faile to vnderstande and destruction, notwithstanding my good bringing vp in the assemblie of the godlie.

15 Drink the water of thy cisterne, and of the riuers out of the middes of thine owne well. 16 Let thy fountaines flowe forth, and the riuers of waters in the stretes. 17 But let them be thine, euen thine only, and not the strangers with thee. 18 Let thy fountain be blessed, and reioyce with the wife of thy youth. 19 Let her be as the louing hinde and pleasant roe: let her breasts satisfie thee at all times, & delite in her loue continually. 20 For why shuldest thou delite, my sonne, in a strange woman, or embrace the bosome of a stranger? 21 For the waies of mā are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his pathes. 22 His owne iniquities shal take the wicked him self, and he shal be holden with the cordes of his owne sinne. 23 He shal dye for faute of instruction, & shal go astray through his great folie.

loyne to his wife bothe in heart and in outward conuersation, that he shal not escape the iudgements of God. m Because he wil not giue care to Gods worde and be admonished.

CHAP. VI.

Instruction for suerties. 6 The slothful and sluggish is stirred to worke. 12 He describeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obserue the wordes of God. 24 To flee adulterie.

1 My sonne, if thou be suertie for thy neighbour, & hast striken hāds with the stranger, 2 Thou art snared with the wordes of thy mouth: thou art euen taken with the wordes of thine owne mouth. 3 Do this now, my sonne, and deliuer thy self: seing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, go, and humble thy self, & sollicit thy friends. 4 Giue no slepe to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyeliddes. 5 Deliuer thy self as a doe from the hand of the hunter, and as a birde from the hand of the fowler. 6 Go to the pismire, O sluggard: beholde her waies, and be wise. 7 For she hauing no guide, gouernour, nor ruler, 8 Prepareth her meat in the sommer, & gathereth her fode in haruest. 9 How long wilt thou slepe, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy slepe? 10 Yet a litle slepe, a litle slumber, & a litle folding of the hands to slepe. 11 Therefore thy pouertie cometh as one that trauaileth by the waie, & thy necessitie like an armed man. 12 The vnthrifstie man & the wicked man walketh with a frowarde mouth. 13 He maketh a signe with his eyes; he signifieth

h He teacheth vs sobriety, exhorting vs to liue of our owne labours & to be beneficial to godli that want.

i Distribute them not to the wicked & inuilets, but reserve them for thy self, thy familie & them that are of the household of faith.

k Thy children shal come of thee in great abundance, shewing God blessing marriage and curseth whoredome.

l Which thou didst marie in thy youth. m Or, goe away with a strain.

n He declareth that except man do

a We forbid death vs not to become sureties for another, according to the rule of charitie, but if we consider for whome and after what sort, so that the creditour may not be defrauded.

b If the word of God can instruct thee, yet learne at the literal pismire to labour for thy self and not to burden others.

Chap. 24, 31. c He expresseth lively nature of the sluggards, though they be neuer so long yet haue neuer ynough, but neuer seke occasions thereunto. d That is suddenly, & when lookest not for it.

e It shal come in such sort that thou art not able to resist it. f He sheweth to what inconvenience the idle person & sluggard come, by calling them vnthrifstie or the men of Belial & scelerous. g Or, signifieth

Thus all his gesture redeth his wickednes.

heth with his fete: he is instructeth with his fingers.

14 Lewde things are in his heart: he imagineth euil at all times, and raiseth vp contentions.

15 Therefore shal his destructiō come spe-dely: he shalbe destroyed suddenly without recouerie.

16 These six things doeth the Lord hate:
yea, his soule abhorreth seuen:

17 The haurie eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shede innocent blood,

18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, h fete that be swift in running to mischief,

19 A false witnes that speaketh lyes, & him that raiseth vp cōtentions amōg brethrē.

20 My sonne, kepe thy fathers commandement, and forsake not thy mothers instruction.

21 Binde them alway vpon thine heart, and tye them about thy necke.

22 It shal leade thee, when thou walkest: it shal watch for thee, when thou slepest, and when thou wakest, it shal talke with thee.

23 For the k commandement is a lantern, and instruction a light: and l corrections for instruction are the waie of life,

24 To kepe thee from the wicked woman, & from the flatterie of the tongue of a strange woman.

25 Desire not her beautie in thine heart, nether let her take thee with her m eyeliddes.

26 For because of the whoorish womā a man is broght to a morsel of bread, & a woman wil hunte for the precious life of a man.

27 n Can a man take fyre in his bosome, & his clothes not be burnt?

28 Or can a mango vpon coles, and his fete not be burnt?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife, shal not be innocent, whosoeuer toucheth her.

30 Men do not o despise a thief, when he stealeth, to satisfie his p soule, because he is hungrie.

31 But if he be founde, he shal restore seuen folde, or he shal giue all the substance of his house.

32 But he that committeth adulterie with a woman, he is destitute of vnderstanding:
he y doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33 He shal finde a wounde and dishonour,
& his reproche shal neuer be put away.

34 For ielousie is y rage of a man: therefore he wil not spare in the day of végeance.

35 He can not beare the sight of anie raun-some: nether wil he consent, thogh thou augment the giftes.

CHAP. VII.

An exhortacion to wisdom and to the wordes of God, which wil preserue vs from the harlot, & whose manners are described.

MY sonne, kepe my wordes, and hide my commandements with thee.

2 Kepe my commandements, & thou shalt liue, and mine instruction as the apple of thine eyes.

3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, and write them vpon the table of thine heart.

4 Saie vnto wisdom, Thou art my sister:
and call vnderstanding thy kinswoman,

5 That they maie kepe thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger that is smothe in her wordes.

6 b As I was in the windowe of mine house, I looked through my windowe,

7 And I sawe among the fooles, and considered among the children a yong man destitute of vnderstanding,

8 Who passed through the strete by her corner, and went toward her house,

9 In the twilight in the euening, when the night began to be c blacke and darke.

10 And beholde, there met him a woman with an harlots behaviour, and d subtil in heart.

11 (She e is babling and lowde: whose fete can not abide in her house.

12 Now she is without, now in the stretes, & lieth in waite at euery corner)

13 So she caught him & kissed him & with an impudent face said vnto him,

14 I haue e peace offrings: this f day haue
I paid my vowes.

15 Therefore came I forth to mete thee, y
I might seke thy face: & I haue soude thee.

16 I haue deckt my bed with ornaments, carpets and laces of Egypt.

17 I haue perfumed my bed with myrrhe, aloes, and cynamom.

18 Come, let vs take our fil of loue vntil the mornig: let vs take our pleasure in daliace.

19 For mine housband is not at home: he is gone a iourney farre of.

20 He hath taken with him a bagge of siluer, and wil come home at the day appointed.

21 Thus with her great craft she caused him to yelde, & with her flattering lippes she entised him.

22 And he followed her straightwaies, as an e oxe that goeth to the slaughter, & h as a foole to the stocks for correction,

23 Til a dart strike through his liuer, as a birde haffeth to the snare, not knowing that he is in danger.

24 Heare me now therefore, o children, and hearken to the wordes of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her waies:
wander thou not in her paths.

26 For she hath caused manie to fall downe wounded, and the i strong men are all slay-ne by her.

27 Her house is the waie * vnto the graue, which goeth downe to the chambers of death.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Wisdom declareth her excellencie. 11 Riches 15 Power 22 Eternitie. 32 She exhorteth all to loue and followe her.

Chap. 1. 20.

a Salomon declareth that man is cause of his owne perdition, and that he can pretend no ignorance, for as muche as God calleth to all men by his worde, and by his workes to followe vertue and to flee vice.

b Where the people did moue resort, and which was place of iustice.

c Meaning, that the worde of God is easie vnto all, that haue a desire vnto it, & are not blinded by the prince of this worlde.

d That is, except a man haue wisdom, & is true knowledge of God, he can neither be prudent nor good counsellor.

e So that he doeth not hate euil, feareth not God.

f Whereby he declareth that honors, dignitie or riches come not of mans wisdom or industrie, but by the prouidence of God.

g That is, studie the worde of God diligently, and wth a desire to profite.

h Signifying y<sup>e</sup> he chiefly meaneth the spiritual treasures and heauenlie riches.

i For there can be no true iustice or iudgement, which is not directed by this wisdom.

k He declareth hereby the diuinitie & eternitie of this wisdom, & he magnifieth and praiseth through this booke meaning thereby y<sup>e</sup> eternal Sonne of God Iesus Christ our Saviour, whome S. Iohn calleth the worde y<sup>e</sup> was in y<sup>e</sup> beginning, Iohn. 1. 1.

1 Doeth not a wisdom crye? and vnderstanding vtter her voyce?

2 She standeth in the top of the high places by the way in the place of the paths.

3 She cryeth besides the gates before the citie at the entrie of the dores,

4 O men, I call vnto you, and vtter my voice to the children of men.

5 O ye foolish men, vnderstand wisdom, and ye, o fooles, be wise in heart.

6 Giue care, for I wil speake of excellent things, and the opening of my lippes shal teache things that be right.

7 For my mouth shal speake the trueth, and my lippes abhorre wickednes.

8 All the wordes of my mouth are righteous: there is no lewdenes, nor frowardenes in them.

9 Thei are all e plaine to him that wil vnderstand, and straight to them that wolde finde knowledge.

10 Receiue mine instruction, and not siluer, and knowledge rather then fine golde.

11 For wisdom is better then precious stones: and all pleasures are not to be compared vnto her.

12 I wisdom dwell with d<sup>e</sup> prudence, and I finde for the knowledge and counsels.

13 The feare of the Lord is to hate e<sup>u</sup>il as pride, and arrogancie, and the euil waie: and a mouth that speaketh lewde things, I do hate.

14 I haue counsel and wisdom: I am vnderstanding, & I haue strength.

15 By me, Kings f<sup>e</sup> reigne, and princes decree iustice.

16 By me princes rule and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.

17 I loue them that loue me: & thei that seke me e<sup>a</sup>arly, shal finde me.

18 Riches and honour are with me: h<sup>e</sup>uen durable riches and righteousness.

19 My frute is better then golde, euen the fine golde, and my reuenues better then fine siluer.

20 I cause to walke in the waie of righteousness, & in the middes of the paths of iudgement, 21 That I maie cause them that loue me, to inherite substance, and I wil fil their treasures.

22 The Lord hath possessed me in the beginning of his waie: I was before his workes of olde.

23 I was set vp from euerlasting, from the beginning & before the earth.

24 When there were no depths, was I begotten, when there were no fountaines abounding with water.

25 Before the mountaines were setled: & before the hilles, was I begotten.

26 He had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the dust in the worlde.

27 When he prepared the heauens, I was there, when he set the compass vpon the depe.

28 When he established the cloudes aboue, when he confirmed the fountaines of the depe,

29 When he gaue his decree to the sea, that the waters shulde not passe his commandement: when he appointed the fundacions of the earth,

30 Then m<sup>e</sup> was I with him as a nourisher, and I was daily his delite reioicing alwaie before him, 31 And toke my n<sup>e</sup> solace in the compasse of his earth: & my delite is with the childre of men.

32 Therefore now hearken, o children, vnto me: for blessed are thei that kepe my waies.

33 Heare instruction, and be ye wise, & refuse it not: blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, & giuing attendance at the postes of my dores.

34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, and shal obtaine fauour of the Lord.

35 But he that sinneth against me, hurteth his owne soule: & all that hate me, loue death.

CHAP. IX.

2 Wisdom calleth all to her feast. 7 The scorner wil not be corrected. 10 The feare of God. 13 The condicions of the harlot.

1 Wisdom hath buyt her a house, & hewen out her b<sup>e</sup> seuen pillars.

2 She hath killed her vitailles, drawn her wine, and e prepared her table.

3 She hath sent forth her d<sup>e</sup> maidens and cryeth vpon the highest places of the citie, saying,

4 Who so is e simple, let him come hether, & to him y<sup>e</sup> is destitute of wisdom, she saith,

5 Come, & eat of my f<sup>e</sup> meat, and drinke of the wine that I haue drawn.

6 For sake your way, ye foolish, and ye shal liue: & walke in y<sup>e</sup> waie of vnderstanding.

7 He that reproveth a scorner, purchaseth to him self shame: and he that rebuketh the wicked, getteth him self e a blot.

8 Rebuke not a h<sup>e</sup> scorner, lest he hate thee: but rebuke a wise man, & he wil loue thee.

9 Giue admonition to the wise, and he wil be the wiser: teache a righteous man, & he wil increase in learning.

10 The beginning of wisdom is y<sup>e</sup> feare of the Lord, & the knowledge of holy thigs, is vnder-standing. 11 For the wicked wil contemne him & labour to dislike him. 12 Meaning, them that are incorrigible, which Christ calleth dogs & swine: or he speaketh this in comparison, not that y<sup>e</sup> wicked shuld not be rebuked, but he sheweth their malice, and the small hope of profice.

He declareth the eternitie of the Sonne of God, which is ment by this worde Wisdom, who was before all time and euer present wth the Father.

m Some read a chief worker: signifying that this Wisdom, euen Christ Iesus, was equal wth God his Father, and created, preferred and fil worketh wth him, as Ioh. 1. 17.

n Whereby is declared that the worke of creation was no paine, but a solace vnto the wisdom of God.

o By earch, he meaneth man, which is the worke of God in whome wisdom toke pleasure: in summe as for mans sake y<sup>e</sup> Diuine Wisdom toke mans nature, and dwelt among vs, & filled vs with vnspeakable treasures: and this is that solace & pastetime whereof is here spoken.

a Christ hath prepared him a Church.

b That is, many chief states and principal partes of his Church, as were the Patriarkes, Prophets, Apostles, Pastors & Doctors.

c He compareth wisdom with great princes y<sup>e</sup> kept one house for all y<sup>e</sup> come.

d Meaning true preachers, & are not infected with mans wisdom.

e He that knoweth his owne ignorance and is void of malice.

f By the meat and drinke, is ment the worde of God and the ministrarie of the sacraments, whereby God contenteth his seruantes in his house.

i He sheweth what true vnderstanding is, to know y<sup>e</sup> wil of God in his worde, & is ment by holie things.
k Thou shalt haue the chief profite, and commoditie thereof.
l By y<sup>e</sup> foolish woman, some vnderstand, the wicked preachers, who counterfeit worde of God, as ap<sup>er</sup> peareth verily, 16, were the wordes of the true teachers, as verily: but their doctrine is but as floure waters, meaning that they are but mens traditions, which are more pleasant to y<sup>e</sup> flesh then y<sup>e</sup> worde of God: and therefore they them selues haue thereof.

is i vnderstanding.

11 For thy dayes shalbe multiplied by me, and the yeres of thy life shalbe augmented.

12 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for thy self, and if thou be a scorner, thou alone shalt suffice.

13 A foolish woman is troublesome: she is ignorant, and knoweth nothing.

14 But she sitteth at the dore of her house on a seat in the hye places of the citie,

15 To call them that passe by the way, that go right on their way, saying,

16 Who so is simple, let him come hether, and to him that is destitute of wisdom, she saith also,

17 Stollen waters are swete, and hid bread is pleasant.

18 But he knoweth not, that the dead are there, and that her ghestes are in the depth of hel.

CHAP. X.

In this chapter and all that followe vnto the thirtieth, the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which he calleth parables, to followe vertue, and flee vice: and sheweth also what profite cometh of wisdom, & what hinderance proceedeth of foolishnes.

THE PARABLES OF SALOMON.

Chap 15. 20. A Wise sonne maketh a glad father: but a foolish sonne is an heauines to his mother.

a That is, wickedly gotten.
2 The treasures of wickednes a profite nothing: but righteousness deliuereth fro death.

b Though he suffer y<sup>e</sup> iustice to wait for a time, yet he wil send him comfort in due season.
c Or, deceitful.
3 The Lord wil b not famish the soule of the righteous: but he casteth away the substance of the wicked.

4 A slouthful hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh riche.

5 He that gathereth in sommer, is the sonne of wisdom: but he that slepeth in haruest, is the sonne of confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie shal couer the mouth of the wicked.

7 The memorial of the iuste shalbe blessed: but the name of the wicked shal rotte.

8 The wise in heart wil receiue commendements: but the foolish in talke shalbe beaten.

9 He that walketh vprightly, walketh boldly: but he that peruerterh his waies, shal be known.

10 He that winketh with the eye, worketh sorowe, and he that is foolish in talke, shalbe beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a well spring of life: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred stirreth vp contentions: but loue couereth all trespasses.

13 In the lippes of him that hath vnderstanding wisdom is founde, and a rod shalbe for the backe of him that is destitute of wisdome.

14 Wise men laye vp knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is a present destruction.

15 The riche mans goods are his strong citie: but the feare of the medie is their pouertie.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the reuenues of the wicked to sinne.

17 He that regardeth instruction, is in the way of life: but he that refuseth correctio, goeth out of the way.

18 He that dissembleth hatred with lying lippes, and he that inuenteth scandre, is a foole.

19 In manie wordes there can not wat iniquitie: but he that refraineth his lippes, is wise.

20 The tongue of the iuste man is as fined siluer: but the heart of the wicked is litle worthe.

21 The lippes of the righteous do fede manie: but fooles shal dye for want of wisdom.

22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh riche, and he doeth adde no sorowes with it.

23 It is as a passe time to a foole to do wickedly: but wisdom is vnderstanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shal come vpon him: but God wil grante the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whirlewinde passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an euerlasting fundacion.

26 As vinegre is to y<sup>e</sup> teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the slouthful to them that send him.

27 The feare of the Lord increaseth the dayes: but the yeres of the wicked shalbe diminished.

28 The pacient abiding of the righteous shalbe gladnes: but the hope of the wicked shal perish.

29 The way of the Lord is strength to the vpright ma: but feare shalbe for the workers of iniquitie.

30 The righteous shal neuer be removed: but the wicked shal not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the iuste shalbe frutesful in wisdom: but the tongue of the frowarde shal be cut out.

32 The lippes of the righteous knowe what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh frowarde things.

CHAP. XI.

False balances are an abomination vnto the Lord: but a perfit weight pleaseth him.

2 When pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowlie is wisdom.

Yy.ii.

h And so maketh him bold to do euil, where as pouertie brideth the poore from manie euil things.

i For they speake truth and edifie manie by exhortations, admonition and counsel.
k Meaning y<sup>e</sup> all worldelie things bring care, & sorow, where as they that teele the blessings of God, haue none.

l He is but a trouble, and grief to him y<sup>e</sup> letteth him about auite busines.
m The time of their prosperitie shalbe short, because of their great fall, though chei seme to liue long.

n They enioye in this life by faith, and hope their euerlasting life.

a Vnder this worde he conceiteth all false weights, measures and deceit.
b When man forgetteth himself, and thinketh to be exalted about his vocation, then God bringeth him to confusion.

- 3 The vprightenes of the iuste shal guide them: but the frowardnes of the transgressors shal destroye them.
- Ezek. 7. 19.* 4 * Riches auaille not in the day of wrath: but righteousness deliuereth from death.
- eccles. 3. 10.* 5 The righteousness of the vpright shal direct his way: but the wicked shal fall in his owne wickednes.
- Wisd. 5. 15.* 6 The righteousness of the iuste shal deliuer them: but the transgressors shal be take in their owne wickednes.
- 7 * When a wicked man dyeth, his hope perissheth, and the hope of the vniust shal perish.
- 8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, & the wicked shal come in his stead.
- 9 An hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but the righteous shal be deliuered by knowledge.
- 10 In the prosperitie of the righteous the citie reioyceth, and when the wicked perish, there is ioye.
- 11 By the blessing of y righteous, the citie is exalted: but it is subuerted by the mouth of the wicked.
- 12 He that despiseth his neighbour, is destitute of wisdom: but a man of vnderstanding wil kepe silence.
- 13 He that goeth about as a scladerer, discovereth a secret: but he that is of a faithful heart, conceileth a matter.
- 14 Where no counsel is, the people fall: but where manie counselors are, there is health.
- 15 He shal be sore vexed, that is suretie for a stranger, and he that hateth suretieship, is sure.
- 16 A gracious woman atteineth honour, & the strong men attein riches.
- 17 He that is merciful, rewardeth his owne soule: but he that troubleth his owne flesh, is cruel.
- 18 The wicked worketh a disceitful worke: but he that soweth righteousness, shal receiue a sure rewarde.
- 19 As righteousness leadeth to life: so he that followeth euil, seeketh his owne death.
- 20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but they that are vpright in their way, are his delite.
- 21 Though hand ioyne in had, the wicked shal not be vnpunished: but the sede of the righteous shal escape.
- 22 As a jewel of golde in a swines snoute: so is a faire woman, which lacketh discretio.
- 23 The desire of the righteous is onely good: but the hope of the wicked is indignacion.
- 24 There is that scattereth, and is more increased: but he that spareth more, then is right, surely cometh to pouertie.
- 25 The liberal persone shal haue plentie: and he that watereth, shal also haue raine.
- 26 He that with draweth the corne, the people wil curse him: but blessing shal be vpon the head of him that selleth corne.
- 27 He that seeketh good things, getteth fauour: but he that seeketh euil, it shal come to him.
- 28 He that trusteth in his riches, shal fall: but the righteous shal flourish as a lease.
- 29 He that troubleth his owne house, shal inherite y winde, and the foole shal be seruuant to the wise in heart.
- 30 The frute of the righteous is as a tre of life, and he that winneth soules, is wise.
- 31 Beholde, the righteous shal be recompensed in the earth: how much more the wicked and the sinner?

CHAP. XII.

HE that loueth instructio, loueth knowledge: but he that hateth correction, is a foole.

A good man getteth fauoure of the Lord: but the man of wicked imaginacions wil he condemne.

A man can not be established by wickednes: but the roote of the righteous shal not be moued.

A verteous woman is the crowne of her housband: but she that maketh him ashamed, is as corruption in his bones.

The thoughts of the iuste are right: but the counsels of the wicked are disceitful.

The talking of the wicked is to lie in wait for blood: but the mouth of the righteous wil deliuer them.

God ouerthroweth the wicked, and they are not: but the house of y righteous shal stand.

A man shal be commended for his wisdom: but the froward of heart shal be despised.

He that is despised, and is his owne seruuant, is better then he that boasteth him self and lacketh bread.

A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast: but the mercies of the wicked are cruel.

* He that tilleth his land, shal be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth the idle, is destitute of vnderstanding.

The wicked desireth the net of euils: but the roote of the righteous giueth frute.

The euil man is snared by the wickednes of his lippes, but the iust shal come out of aduersitie.

A man shal be satiate with good things by the frute of his mouth, and the recompense of a mans hands shal God giue vnto him.

The way of a foole is right in his owne eyes: but he that heareth counsel, is wise.

A foole in a day shal be known by his angre:

e That is, shal enter into trouble.

d A dissembler that pretendeth friendship, but is a pruite enemy.

e The countrey is blessed, where there is godlie men, & they ought to reioyce, when the wicked are take away.

* Or, prosperitie.

f Wil not make light report of others.

g Where God giueth store of men of wisdom, and counsel.

h Whose conuersation he knoweth not.

i He y doeth not without iudgement, and consideratio of the circumstances put him self in danger, as Chap. 6. 1.

* Or, modest.

k Is bothe good to him self, and to others.

* Or, neighbour.

l Though they make neuer so manie friends, nor thinke the felues neuer so sure, yet they shal not escape.

* Or, is of vncomely behaniour.

m They ca looke for nothing but Gods vengeance.

n Meaning the, that giue liberally, whome God blesteth.

o That is, the niggard.

* Ebr. the soule of blessing shal be made fat.

p That prouideth for y of them that are in necessitie.

q The countrey men y spare their riches to the hinderance of their families, shal be depriued thereof miserably.

r For though y wicked be rich, yet are they but seruants to y godlie.

s are the true possiders of y gifts of God.

t That is, bringeth them to the knowledge of God.

u Shal be punished as he deserueth, as 1. Pet. 4. 12.

a They are so grounded in y fauour of God, that their roe shal prosper continually.

* Ebr. strong, & pious.

b As their conscience is vpright, so shal they be able to speake for them selues against their accusers.

c The poore man that is condemned, & yet liueth of his owne seruand is merciful, euen to the very beast that doeth him seruice.

Chap. 11. 19.

eccles. 28. 30.

* Or, desolate.

e Continually imagineth mannes how to do harme to others.

f Meaning, their heart within, which is vpright, and doeth good to all.

g He standeth in his owne conceit, and condemneth all others in respect of him self.

h Which brideleth his affections.

17 He that speaketh trueth, wil shewe righ-teousnes: but a false witnes <sup>vseth</sup> disceit.

18 * There is that speaketh wordes like the prickings of <sup>i</sup> a sworde: but the tongue of wise men is health.

19 The lippe of trueth shalbe stable for euer:
but a lying tongue <sup>varieth</sup> incontinently.

20 Disceit is in the heart of them that imagine euil: but to the counsellors of peace shalbe ioie.

21 There shal none iniquitie come to the iuste: but the wicked are ful of euil.

22 The lying lippes are an abomination to the Lord: but they that deale truely are his delite.

23 A wise man conceileth knowledge: but <sup>y</sup> heart of the fooles publisheth foolishnes.

24 * The hand of the diligent shal beare rule: but the idle shalbe vnder tribute.

25 Heauines in the heart of mā doeth bring it downe: but a <sup>k</sup> good worde reioyceth it.

26 The righteous <sup>l</sup> is more excellent then his neighbour: but the way of the wicked wil disceiue them.

27 The disceitful man roseth not, that he m toke in hunting: but the riches of the diligent man are precious.

28 Life is in the way of righteousness, and in that pathway there is no death.

CHAP. XIII.

A Wise sonne wil obey the instruction of his father: but a skorne wil heare no rebuke.

3 A man shal eat good things by the frute of his mouth: but the soule of the trespassers shal suffer violence.

3 He that kepeth his mouthe, kepeth his life: but he that openeth his lippes, destruction shalbe to him.

4 The sluggarde <sup>b</sup> lusteth, but his soule hathe nought: but the soule of the diligent shal haue plentie.

5 A righteous man hateth lying wordes: but the wicked causeth slander and shame.

6 Righteousnes preserueth the vpright of life: but wickednes overthroweth the sinner.

7 There is that maketh him self riche, and hathe nothing, & that maketh him self poore, hauing great riches.

8 A mā wil giue his riches for the raūsone of his life: but the poore <sup>c</sup> cā not heare the reproche.

9 The light of the righteous reioyceth:
but the candle of the wicked shalbe put out.

10 Onely by pride <sup>d</sup> doeth man make contention: but with the wel aduised is wis-dome.

11 The <sup>e</sup> riches of vanitie shal diminish: but he that gathereth with <sup>f</sup> the hand, shal increase them.

crease them.

12 The hope that is differred, is the fainting of the heart: but when the desire commeth, it is as a tre of life.

13 He that despiseth the worde, he shalbe destroied: but he that feareth the commādement, he shal be rewarded.

14 The instruction of a wise man is as the well spring of life, to turne away from the snares of death.

15 Good vnderstāding maketh acceptable:
but the way of the disobedient is hated.

16 Euerie wise man wil worke by knowledge: but a foole wil spread abroad follie.

17 * A wicked messenger falleth <sup>h</sup> into euil:
but a faithful ambassadour is preserua-
tion.

18 Pouertie and shame is to him that refuseth instructiō: but he that regardeth correction, shal be honored.

19 A desire accōplished deliteth the soule:
but it is an abominatiō to fooles to departe from euil.

20 He that walketh with the wise, shalbe wise: but a companion of fooles shalbe afflicted.

21 Afflictio followeth sinners: but vnto the righteous God wil recompense good.

22 The good mā shal giue inheritance vnto his childrens children: and the <sup>k</sup> riches of the sinner is laied vp for the iuste.

23 Muche foode is in the field of the <sup>l</sup> poore:
but the field is destroyed without discretiō.

24 * He <sup>y</sup> spareth his rod, hateth his sonne:
but he that loueth him, chasteneth him be-time.

25 The righteous eateth to the contentatiō of his minde: but the bellie of the wicked shal want.

CHAP. XIII.

A Wise woman <sup>a</sup> buyldeth her house: but the foolish destroicth it with her owne hands.

2 * He that walketh in his <sup>b</sup> righteousness, feareth the Lord: but he that is lewde in his waies, despiseth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish is the <sup>c</sup> rodde of pride: but the lippes of the wise preserue them.

4 Where none <sup>d</sup> oxen are, there the crib is emptie: but muche increase cometh by the strength of the ox.

5 A faithful witnes wil not lye: but a false recorde wil speake lyes.

6 A scorner <sup>e</sup> seketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easie to him that wil vnderstand.

7 Departe from the foolish man, when thou perceiuest not in him the lippes of knowledge.

8 The wisdom of the prudent is to vnder-stand his way: but the foolishnes of the fooles is disceit.

m Or, biddye.

n Chap. 27, 1.

o For as muche as they are conuict thereby, and put to silence.

- 9 The foole maketh a mocke of sinne: but among the righteous there is fauour.
10 The heart knoweth the bitterness of his soule, and the stranger shal not medle with his ioye.
11 The house of y wicked shalbe destroyed: but the tabernacle of the righteous shal flourish.
12 * There is a way which seemeth right to a man: but the yssues thereof are the wayes of death.
13 Euen in laughing the heart is sorrowful, and the end of that mirth is heauines.
14 The heart that declineth, shalbe facitate with his owne wayes: but a good man shal departe from him.
15 The foolish wil beleue euerie thing: but the prudent wil consider his steppes.
16 A wise man feareth, and departeth from euil: but a foole rageth, and is careles.
17 He that is hastie to angre, committeth folie, and a busie bodie is hated.
18 The foolish do inherite folie: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.
19 The euil shal bowe before the good, and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.
20 The poore is hated euen of his owne neighbour: but the friends of the riche are manie.
21 The sinner despiseth his neighbour: but he that hath mercie on the poore, is blessed.
22 Do not they erre that imagine euil? but to them that thinke on good things, shalbe mercie, and trueth.
23 In all labour there is abundance: but the talke of the lippes bringeth onely want.
24 The crowne of the wise is their riches, & the folie of fooles is foolishnes.
25 A faithful witness deliuereth soules: but a disceiuer speaketh lies.
26 In y feare of y Lord is an assured strength, and his children shal haue hope.
27 The feare of the Lord is as a well spring of life, to auoide the snares of death.
28 In the multitude of the people is the honour of a King, and for the want of people cometh the destruction of the prince.
29 He that is slowe to wrath, is of great wisdom: but he that is of an hastie minde, exalteth folie.
30 A sound heart is the life of the flesh: but enuie is the rotting of the bones.
31 * He that oppresseth the poore, reproueth him that made him: but he honoreth him that hath mercie on the poore.
32 The wicked shalbe cast away for his malice: but the righteous hath hope in his death.
33 Wisdome resteth in the heart of him that hath vnderstanding, and is knowne in the middes of fooles.

- 34 Iustice exalteth a nation, but sinne is a shame to the people.
35 The pleasure of a King is in a wise seruant: but his wrath shalbe toward him that is lewde.

CHAP. XV.

- * Soft answer putteth away wrath: but grievous wordes stirre vp angre.
2 The tongue of the wise vseth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fooles babbles out foolishnes.
3 The eyes of the Lord in euerie place beholde the euil and the good.
4 A wholsome tongue is as a tre of life: but the frowardnes thereof is the breaking of the minde.
5 A foole despiseth his fathers instructio: but he that regardeth correctio, is prudent.
6 The house of the righteous hath muche treasure: but in the reuenues of the wicked is a trouble.
7 The lippes of the wise do spread abroad knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doeth not so.
8 The sacrifice of the wicked is abomination to the Lord: but the praier of y righteous is acceptable vnto him.
9 The way of the wicked is an abomination vnto the Lord: but he loueth him y followeth righteousness.
10 Instructio is euil to him that forsaketh the way, & he y hateth correctio, shal dye.
11 Hel & destruction are before the Lord: how much more the hearts of the sonnes of men.
12 A scorner loueth not him that rebuketh him, nether wil he go vnto the wise.
13 * A ioyful heart maketh a chereful countenance: but by the sorrow of the heart the minde is heauie.
14 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is fed with foolishnes.
15 All y daies of the afflicted are euil: but a good conscience is a continual feast.
16 * Better is a litle with y feare of the Lord, the great treasure and trouble therewith.
17 Better is a dinner of grene herbes where loue is, then a stalled ox and hatred therewith.
18 * An angrie man stirreth vp strife: but he that is slowe to wrath, appeaseth strife.
19 The way of a slouthful man is as an hedge of thornes: but the way of y righteous is plaine.
20 * A wise sonne reioyceth the father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.
21 Foolishnes is ioye to him that is destitute of vnderstanding: but a man of vnderstanding walketh vp rightly.
22 Without counsel thoghtes come to nought: but in the multitude of counsellors there is stedfastnes.

Or, & the sacrifice of the people is a sacrifice for sinne.

f Read Chap. 11, 14.

23 Aioye cometh to a man by the answer of his mouth: and how good is a worde s in due season?

24 The waie of life is on high to the prudēt, to auoide from hel beneth.

25 The Lord wil destroy the house of the proude men: but he wil stablish the borders of the widowe.

26 The thoghts of the wicked are abominatiō to the Lord: but the pure haue hpleas-fant wordes.

27 He y is gredie of gaine, troubleth his owne house: but he y hateth giftes, shal liue.

28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answer: but y wicked mans mouth bableth euil things.

29 The Lord is farre of from the wicked: but he heareth the praier of y righteous.

30 The light of y eies reioyceth the heart, & a good name maketh the bones fat.

31 The eare that hearkeneth to the correction of life, shal lodge among the wise.

32 He that refuseth instruction, despiseth his owne soule: but he that obeith correction, getteth vnderstanding.

33 The feare of the Lord is the instructiō of wisdom: & before honour goeth h hu-militie.

CHAP. XVI.

THe preparations of the heart are in man: but the answer of the tongue is of the Lord.

1 All the waies of a mā are hcleane in his owne eies: but the Lord pōdereth y spirits.

2 Cōmit thy workes vnto the Lord, & thy thoghts shal be directed.

3 The Lord hathe made all things for his owne sake: yea, euē the wicked for the day of euil.

4 All that are proude in heart, are an abomination to the Lord: thogh h hand ioyne in hand, he shal not be vn timer.

5 By d mercie and trueth iniquitie shalbe forgiue, and by the feare of the Lord they departe from euil.

6 When the waies of a man please y Lord, he wil make also his enemies at peace with him.

7 Better is a litle with righteousness, then great reuenues without equitie.

8 The heart of mā e purposeth his way: but the Lord doeth direct his steppes.

9 A diuine sentence shalbe in the lippes of the King: his mouth shal not transgresse in iudgement.

10 A true weight and balance are of the Lord: all the weights of the bagge are his p worke.

11 It is an abomination to Kings to commit wickednes: for the throne is stablished by iustice.

12 Righteous lippes are the delite of Kigs, and the King loueth him that speaketh right things.

14 The wrath of a King is as h messengers of death: but a wise man wil pacifie it.

15 In the light of the Kings countenance is life: and his fauour is as a cloude of the latter raine.

16 *How much better is it to get wisdom then golde: and to get vnderstanding, is more to be desired then siluer.

17 The path of the righteous is to decline from euil, & he kepeth his soule, that kepeth his way.

18 Pride goeth before destruction, and an high minde before the fall.

19 Better it is to be of humble mind with the lowlie, then to deuide the spoiles with the proude.

20 He that is wise in his busines, shal finde good: and * he that trusteth in the Lord, he is blessed.

21 The wise in heart shalbe called prudēt: & * the swetenes of the lippes shal increase doctrine.

22 Vnderstanding is a well sprig of life vnto them that haue it: and the instruction of fooles is folie.

23 The heart of the wise guideth his mouth wisely, and addeth doctrine to his lippes.

24 Faire wordes are as an honie combe, swetenes to the soule, & health to the bones.

25 *There is a way that semeth right vnto man: but the yssue thereof are the waies of death.

26 The persone that trauaileth, trauaileth for him self: for his mouth craueth it of him.

27 A wicked man diggeth vp euil, and in his lippes is like m burning fyre.

28 A froward persone soweth strife: and a tale teller maketh diuision among princes.

29 A wicked man disceiueh his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.

30 *He shutteth his eyes to deuise wickednes: he moueth his lippes, & bringeth euil to passe.

31 Age is a crowne of glorie, when it is founde in the way of o righteousness.

32 He that is slowe vnto angre, is better thē the mightie man: and he that ruleth his owne minde, is better then he that winneth a citie.

33 The lot is cast into the lappe: but the whole disposition thereof is of the Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

Better is a drye morsel, if peace be with it, then an house ful of sacrifices with strife.

22 He that findeth a p wife, findeth a good thing, and receiueth fauour of the Lord.

23 The poore speaketh with prayers: but the riche answereth roughly.

24 A man that hath friends, ought to shewe him self friendly: for a friend is nerer then a brother.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Better is y poore that walketh in his vprightnes, then he that abuseth his lippes, and is a foole.

2 For without knowledge the minde is not good, and he that halteth with his fete, sinneth.

3 The foolishnes of a man peruerteth his way, & his heart freateth against y Lord.

4 Riches gather manie friends: but the poore is separated from his neighbour.

5 A false witnes shal not be vnpunished: & he that speaketh lies, shal not escape.

6 Manie reuerence the face of the prince, & euerie man is friend to him that giueth giftes.

7 All y brethren of the poore do hate him: how muche more wil his friends departe farre from him: though he be instant a with wordes, yet they wil not.

8 He y possesseth vnderstanding, b loueth his owne soule, & kepeth wisdom to finde goodnes.

9 A false witnes shal not be vnpunished: & he that speaketh lyes, shal perish.

10 c Pleasure is not comelie for a foole, muche lesse for a seruāt to haue rule ouer princes.

11 The discretion of a man differreth his angre: and his glorie is d to passe by an offence.

12 The Kings wrath is like the roaring of a lyon: but his fauour is like the dewe vpon the grasse.

13 A foolish sonne is the calamitie of his father, * and the contentions of a wife are like a continual e dropping.

14 House and riches are the inheritance of the fathers: but * a prudent wife cometh of the Lord.

15 Slouthfulnes causeth to fall a slepe, and a disceitful persone shal be affamished.

16 He that kepeth the commandement, kepeth his owne soule: but he that despiseth his waies, shal dye.

17 He that hath mercie vpon the poore, lendeth vnto the Lord: and the Lord wil recōpense him that which he hath giue.

18 Chasten thy sonne while there is hope, and let not thy soule spare for his murmuring.

19 A man of muche angre shal suffer punishment: & though thou f deliuer him, yet wil his angre come againe.

20 Heare counsel, and receiue instruction, that thou maiest be wise in thy latter end.

21 Manie deuices are in a s mans heart: but the counsel of the Lord shal stand.

22 That that is to be desired of a man, is his h goodnes, and a poore man is better then a lyer.

23 The feare of the Lord leadeth to life: and he that is filled therewith, shal continue, & shal not be visited with euil.

24 * The slouthful hideth his hand in his bosome, and wil not put it to his mouth againe.

25 * Smite a scorner, and i the foolish wil beware: and reprove the prudent, and he wil vnderstand knowledge.

26 He that destroyeth his father, or chaseth away his mother, is a lewde and shameful childe.

27 My sonne, heare no more the instructiō, that causeth to erre from the wordes of knowledge.

28 A wicked witnes mocketh at iudgemēt, and the mouth of the wicked * swalloeth vp iniquitie.

29 But iudgemēts are prepared for the scorers, & stripes for the backe of the fooles.

CHAP. XX.

1 W Inc a is a mocker & strong drinke is raging: & whosoever is de- ceiued thereby, is not wise.

2 * The feare of the King is like the roar- ing of a lyon: he that prouoketh him vnto angre, b sinneth against his owne soule.

3 It is a mans honour to cease from strife: but euerie foole wil be meddling.

4 The slouthful wil not plowe, because of winter: therefore shal he begge in sommer, but haue nothing.

5 The counsel in the heart of c man is like depe waters: but a man that hath vnder- standing, wil drawe it out.

6 Manie men wil boast, euerie one of his owne goodnes: but who can finde a faith- ful man?

7 He that walketh in his integritie, is iuste: & blessed shal his children be after him.

8 A King that sitteth in the throne of iud- gement, d chaseth away all euil w his eyes.

The Kings heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the riuers of waters: he turneth it whether soeuer it pleaseth him.

2 Euerie way of a man is right in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the hearts.

3 * To do iustice and iudgement is more acceptable to the Lord then sacrifice.

4 A haucie loke, and a proude heart, which is the light of the wicked, is sinne.

5 The thoughts of the diligent do surely bring abundance: but whosoever is hastie, cometh surely to pouertie.

6 * The gathering of treasures by a disceitful tongue is vanitie tolled to and fro of 12 The righteous teacheth the house of the wicked: but God ouerthroweth the wicked for their euil.

13 He that stoppeth his eare at the crying of the poore, he shal also crye and not be heard.

14 A gift in secret pacifieth angre, and a gift in the bosome great wrath.

Foolishnes is bounde in the heart of a childe: but the rodde of correction shal driue it away from him.

He that oppresseth the poore to increase himself, & giueth vnto the riche shal surely come to pouertie.

Incline thine eare, & heare y wordes of the wise, and applie thine heart vnto my knowledge.

Haue not I writē vnto thee a thre times in counsels and knowledge,

That I might shewe thee the assurāce of the wordes of trueth to answer the wordes of trueth to them that send to thee?

Robbe not y poore, because he is poore, nether oppresse y afflicted in iudgemēt.

For the Lord wil defende their cause, & spoile the soule of those that spoile them.

Make no friendship with an angrie mā, nether go with the furious man,

Lest thou learne his wayes, and receiue destruction to thy soule.

Be not thou of them that touche y hād, nor among the that are suretie for debts.

If thou hast nothing to paye, why causest thou y he shuld take thy bed fro vnder thee?

CHAP. XXV.

THESE ARE ALSO PARABLES of Salomón, which the men of Hezekiáh King of Iudáh copied out.

The glorie of God is to <sup>c</sup>conceile a thing secret: but the Kings honour is to searche out a thing.

The heauens in height, and the earth in depenes, and the Kings heart can no man searche out.

Take the drosse from the siluer, and there shal procede a vessel for the finer.

Take away the wicked from the King, and his throne shalbe stablished in righteousness.

Boast not thy self before the King, and stand not in the place of great men.

For it is better, that it be said vnto thee, Come vp hither, the thou to be put lower in the presence of the prince whome thine eyes haue sene.

Go not forthe hastily to strife, lest thou knowe not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hathe put thee to shame.

Debate thy matter with thy neighbour, & discouer not the secret to another,

Lest he that heareth it, put thee to shame, and thine infamie do not cease.

A worde spokē in his place, is like appels of golde with pictures of siluer.

He that reprobeth the wise, & the obedient eare, is as a golden earring and an ornament of fine golde.

As the colde of the snow in the time of haruest, so is a faithful messenger to them that send him: for he refresheth the soule of his masters.

A man that boasteth of false liberalitie, is like cloudes and winde without raine.

A prince is pacified by staying of angre, and a softē tongue breaketh y bones.

If thou haue founde honie, eat that is sufficient for thee, lest thou be ouerful, and vomit it.

Withdraw thy fote from thy neighbours house, lest he be weary of thee, and hate thee.

A man that beareth false witnes against his neighbour, is like an hammer & a sworde, and a sharpe arrowe.

Cōfidence in an vnfaithful man in time of trouble is like a broken tothe and a sliding fote.

He y taketh away the garmēt in y colde season, is like vinegar poured vpon nitre, or like him y singeth songs to an heauie heart.

If he that hateth thee be hungrie, giue him bread to eat, and if he be thirstie, giue him water to drinke.

For thou shalt lay coles vpon his head, and the Lord shal recompense thee.

As the Northwind driueth away the raine, so doeth an angrie cōtēnance y sclanderer tongue.

It is better to dwell in a corner of the house toppe, then with a contentious woman in a wide house.

As are the colde waters to a wearie soule, so is good newes from a farre countrey.

A righteous man falling downe before the wicked, is like a troubled well, and a corrupt spring.

It is not good to eat muche honie: so to search their owne glorie is not glorie.

A man that refraineth not his appetite, is like a citie which is broken downe, & without walles.

CHAP. XXVI.

As the snow in the sommer, and as the raine in the haruest are not mete, so is honour vnseemely for a foole.

As the sparrow by fleing, and the swalowe by flying escape, so the curse that is causeles, shal not come.

Vnto the horse belongeth a whip, to the asse a bridle, and a rodde to the fooles backe.

Answer not a foole according to his foolishnes, lest thou also be like him.

Answer a foole according to his foolishnes, lest he be wise in his owne conceite.

He that sendeth a message by the hand of a foole, is as he that cutteth of the fete, and drinketh iniquitie.

As they that lift vp the legges of the lame, so is a parable in a fooles mouth.

As the closing vp of a precious stone in an heape of stones, so is he that giueth glorie to a foole.

As a thorne standing vp in the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fooles.

The excellent that formed all things, bothe rewardeth the foole and rewardeth the transgressors.

As a dogge turneth againe to his owne vomite, so a foole turneth to his foolishnes.

Seest thou a man wise in his owne conceite? more hope is of a foole then of him.

The slouthful man saith, A lyon is in the waye: a lyon is in the stretes.

As the dore turneth vpon his hinges, so doeth the slouthful man vpon his bed.

The slouthful hideth his hand in his bosome, and it grieveth him to put it againe to his mouth.

The sluggard is wiser in his owne conceit, then seuen men that can rendre a reason.

He that passeth by and medleth with the strife that belongeth not vnto him, is as one that taketh a dogge by the eares.

a Whome Hezekiah appointed for this purpose.

b That is, gathered out of diuers booke of Salomón.

c God doeth not reuile y cause of his iudgements to man.

d Because the King ruleth by the reuiled worde of God, y cause of his doings must appeare, & therefore he must vie diligence in trying out of causes.

e He sheweth y it is to hard for man to attaine to y reason of all the secret doings of y King: eue when he is vp-right, & doeth his dutie.

f When vice is removed fro a King, he is a mere vessel for the Lords vse.

to his <sup>i</sup> dignitie.
22 Thogh thou shuldest braye a foole in a morter among wheat brayed with a pe-stel, yet wil not his foolishnes departe from him.
23 Be diligēt to knowe the state of thy flocke, and take hede to the heards.
24 For riches remain not alwaye, nor the crowne from generation to generation.
25 The heye discouereth it self, and the grasse appeareth, and the herbes of the mountaines are gathered.
26 The <sup>k</sup> lambes are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of the field.
27 And let the milke of the goats be sufficient for thy foode, for the foode of thy familie, and for the sustinance of thy mai-des.

CHAP. XXVIII.

- THe wicked <sup>a</sup> flee when none pursueth: but the righteous are bolde as a lyon.
2 For the transgression of the land <sup>b</sup> there are manie princes thereof: but by a man of vnderstanding and knowledge a realme likewise endureth long.
3 A poore man, if he oppresse the poore, is like a raging raine, that leaueth no fo-ode.
4 They that forsake the Law, praise the wicked: but thei that kepe the Law, set the selues against them.
5 Wicked men vnderstand not iudgement:
but they that seke the Lord, vnderstand all things.
6 *Better is the poore that walketh in his vprightnes, then he that peruerteth his waies, thogh he be riche.

7 He that kepeth the law, is a childe of vnderstanding: but he that fedeth the gluttons, shameth his father.

8 He that increaseth his riches by vsurie and interest, gathereth<sup>e</sup> them for him that wilbe merciful vnto the poore.

9 He that turneth away his eare from hearing the Law, euen his praier shalbe<sup>d</sup> abominable.

10 He that causeth the righteous to go astray by an euil way, shal fall into his owne pit, and the vpriight shal inherit good things.

11 The riche man is wise in his owne conceit: but the poore that hathe vnderstanding, can trye<sup>e</sup> him.

12 * When righteous men reioyce, there is great glorie: but when the wicked come vp, the man<sup>f</sup> is tryed.

13 He that hideth his sinnes, shal not prosper: but he that confesseth, and forsaketh them, shal haue mercie.

14 Blessed is the man that<sup>g</sup> feareth alwaye: but he that hardeneth his heart, shal fall into euil.

15 As a roaring lyon, and an hūgrie beare, so is<sup>h</sup> a wicked ruler over the poore people.

16 A prince destitute of vnderstanding, is also a great oppressour: but he that hateth couetousnes, shal prolong his daies.

17 A man that doeth violence against the blood of a persone, shal flee vnto the graue, and thei shal not<sup>i</sup> stay him.

18 He that walketh vpriightly, shalbe saved: but he that is froward in his waies, shal once fall.

19 * He that tilleth his land, shal be satisfied with bread: but he<sup>y</sup> followeth the ydle, shal be filled with pouertie.

20 A faithful man shal abounde in blessings, & * he that maketh haste to be riche, shal not be innocent.

21 To haue respect of persones is not good: for that man wil transgresse for a piece of<sup>k</sup> bread.

22 A man with a wicked<sup>l</sup> eye hasteth to riches, and knoweth not, that pouertie shal come vpon him.

23 He that rebuketh a man, shal finde more fauour at the length, then he that flattereth with his tongue.

24 He that robberh his father and mother, & saith, it is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroieth.

25 He that is of a proude heart, stirreth vp strife: but he that trusteth in the Lord, shal be<sup>m</sup> fat.

26 He that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but he that walketh in wisdom, shalbe deliuered.

27 He that giueth vnto the poore, shal not lacke: but he that hideth his eyes, shal haue many curses.

28 * When the wicked rise vp, men hide the<sup>Chap. 29. 2.</sup> selues: but when thei perish, the righteous increase.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 A Man that hardeneth his necke, when he is rebuked, shal suddenly be destroyed and can not be cured.

2 * When the righteous<sup>n</sup> are in autoritie, the people reioyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.

3 A mā that loueth wisdom, reioyceth his father: * but he that fedeth harlots, wasteth his substance.

4 A King by iudgement mainteineth the countrey: but a man receiuing giftes, destroyeth it.

5 A man<sup>y</sup> flattereth his neighbour, & spreadeth a net for his steppes.

6 In the transgression of an euil man is his<sup>b</sup> snare: but the righteous doeth sing and reioyce.

7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

8 Scornful men bring a citie into a snare: but wise men turne away wrath.

9 If a wise man contend with<sup>c</sup> a foolish man, whether he be angrie or laugh, there is no rest.

10 Bloodie men hate him that is vpriight: but the iuste haue care of his soule.

11 A foole powreth out all his minde: but a wise man kepeth it in til afterwarde.

12 Of a prince that hearkeneth to lyes, all his seruants are wicked.

13 * The poore and the vsurer mete together, and the Lord lighteneth bothe their eyes.

14 * A King that iudgeth the poore in truth, his throne shalbe established for euer.

15 The rodde and correction giue wisdom: but a childe set at libertie, maketh his mother ashamed.

16 When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shal see their fall.

17 Correct thy sonne and he wil giue thee rest, and wil giue pleasures to thy soule.

18<sup>d</sup> Where there is no vision, the people decay: but he that kepeth the Law, is blessed.

19 A<sup>e</sup> seruant wil not be chastised with wordes: thogh he vnderstand, yet he wil not<sup>f</sup> answere.

20 Seekest thou a man hastie in his matters? there is more hope of a foole, then of him.

21 He that delicately bringeth vp his seruāt

<sup>e</sup> For God will take awaie the wicked vsurer, & giue his goods to him that shal behoue them well.

THE WORDES OF AGUR THE SONNE OF IAKH.

*T*He prophecie which the mā spake vnto Ithiel, euen to Ithiel, and Vcal.

2 Surely I am more foolish then anie man, and haue not the vnderstanding of a man in me.

3 For I haue not learned wisdom, nor attained to the knowledge of holie things.

4 Who hathe ascended vp to heauen, and descended? Who hathe gathered the winde in his fist? Who hathe bounde the waters in a garment? Who hathe established all the ends of the worlde? What is his name, & what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tel?

5 * Euerie worde of God is pure: he is a shield to those, that trust in him.

6 * Put nothing vnto his wordes, lest he reprocue thee, and thou be founde a lyer.

7 Two things haue I required of thee: deny me them not before I dye.

8 Remoue farre from me vanitie and lies: giue me not pouertie, nor riches: fede me with foode conuenient for me,

9 Lest I be ful, and denie thee, and say, Who is the Lord? or lest I be poore and steale, and take the Name of my God in vaine.

10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, lest he curse thee, when thou hast offended.

11 There is a generacion that curseth their father, and doeth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generacion that are pure in there owne conceit, and yet are not washed from their filthines.

13 There is a generacion, whose eyes are haue, and their eye liddes are lifted vp.

14 There is a generacion, whose teeth are as swordes, and their chawes as kniues to eat vp the afflicted out of the earth, and the poore from among men.

15 The horse leache hathe two daughters which crie, Giue, giue. There be thre things that wil not be satisfied: yea, foure that say not, It is ynough.

16 The graue, & the baren wombe, the earth that can not be satisfied with water, and the fyre that saith not, It is ynough.

17 The eye that mocketh his father and despiseth the instructiō of his mother, let the rauens of the valley picke it out, and the yong egles eat it.

18 There be thre things hid from me: yea, foure that I knowe not.

19 The way of an egle in the aire, the waie of a serpent vpon a stone, the waie of a shippe in the middes of the sea, and the way of a man with a maide.

20 Suche is the way also of an aduouterous woman: she eateth & wipeth her mouth, and saith, I haue not committed iniquitie.

21 For thre things the earth is moued: yea, for foure it can not susteine it self:

22 For a seruant when he reigneth, and a foole when he is filled with meat,

23 For the hateful woman, when she is married, and for a handmaid that is maie to her mastres.

24 These be foure smal things in the earth, yet they are a wise and ful of wisdom:

25 The pismires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meat in sommer:

26 The conies a people not mightie, yet make they their houses in the rocke:

27 The gresshopper hathe no King, yet go thei forthe all by bandes:

28 The spider taketh holde with her hāds, and is in Kings palaces.

29 There be thre things that order wel their going: yea, foure are comelie in going,

30 A lyon which is strong among beastes, and turneth not at the sight of anie:

31 A lustie grayhound, and a goat, and a King against whome there is no rising vp.

32 If thou hast bene foolish in lifting thy self vp, and if thou hast thought wickedly, lay thine hand vpon thy mouth.

33 When one churneth milke, he bringeth forthe the butter: and he that wringeth his nose, causeth blood to come out: so he that forceth wrath, bringeth forthe strife.

THE WORDES OF KING

WHat my sonne! and what the sonne of <sup>c</sup> my wombe! and what, <sup>d</sup> sonne of my desires!

<sup>j</sup> Lest he drinke, and forget the decree, and change the iudgement of all the children of affliction.

<sup>k</sup> Giue ye strong drinke vnto him, that is readie to perish, and wine vnto them that haue grief of heart.

<sup>w</sup> And she riseth, whiles it is yet night: and giueth <sup>x</sup> the porcion to her housholde, and

<sup>m</sup> After that he had spoke of the apparel of the bodie, he now declareth the apparel of the spirit.

<sup>n</sup> Her tongue is as a boke whereby one might learne manie good things: for she deliuereth to talke of the worde of God.

<sup>q</sup> For as much as the moſt honorable are clad in the apparel that is true.

ECCLESIASTES, OR the Preacher.

THE ARGUMENT.

Salomōn, as a preacher and one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluacion, describeth the deceiuable vanities of this worlde, that man shoulde not be addicted to anie thing vnder the sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heauenlie life: therefore he confuteth their opinions, which set their felicitie, ether in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is vnited with God and shal inioye his presence: so that all other things must be reiected, saue in as muche as they further vs to attaine to this heauenlie treasure, which is sure and permanent, and can not be founde in anie other saue in God alone.

CHAP. I.

<sup>a</sup> All things in this worlde are ful of vanitie, and of none indurance. <sup>b</sup> All mans wisdom is but folie and grief.

THe wordes of the <sup>a</sup> Preacher, the sonne of Dauid King in Ierusalēm.

<sup>n</sup> All the riuers go into the sea, yet the sea is not ful: for the riuers go vnto the place, & i.

<sup>d</sup> One man dieth after another, and the earth remaineth longer, euen to the last daie, which yet is subiect to corruption.

<sup>e</sup> By the sunne, winde and riuers he sheweth that the great labour and longest hath an end, and therefore there can be no felicitie in this worlde.

<sup>a</sup> That is, of Salomon, who was called Lemuel, that is, of God, because God had ordeined him to be King ouer Israel.

<sup>a</sup> Salomon is here called a Preacher, or one that assembleth the people, because he teacheth the true knowledge of God, & how men ought to passe their life in this transitorie world.

<sup>b</sup> He condemneth the opinions of all men that set felicitie in anie thing, but in God alone, seeing that in this worlde all things are as vanitie and nothing.

<sup>c</sup> Salomon doeth not condemn mans labour or diligence, but sheweth that there is no ful contentation in anie thing vnder y heauen, nor in anie creature, forasmuche as all things are transitorie.

The sea & compasseth all the earth; filleth the veins thereof, the w<sup>h</sup> power out springs and riuers into the sea againe. g He speaketh of times & seasons & things done in them, which as, they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe. h He proueth that if anie coulde haue attained to felicitie in this worlde by labour, and studie, he chiefly shulde haue obtained it, because he had giftes and aydes of God thereunto above all other. i Man of nature hath a desire to knowe, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, & is the punishment of sinne, to humble man, and to teache him to depende onely vpon God.

k Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to go other wise then they do: neither can he nombre the fautes that are committed, muche lesse remedie them. l That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but grief & trouble of conscience. m Wisdome & knowledge can not be come by without great paine of bodie and minde: for when a man hath attained to the hiest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this worlde is no true felicitie.

a Salomon maketh this discours with himself, as though he wolde trye whether there were contentation in ease and pleasures. b He drawe my selfe to wine. c Albeit I gaue my selfe to pleasures, yet I thought to keepe wisdome & the feare of God in mine heart, and gouerne mine affaires by the same. d He do. e He paradises f whence they returne, and go.

8 All things are ful of labour: man can not vtter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.

9 What is it that hath bene: that that shalbe: & what is it that hath bene done: that which shalbe done: and there is no new thing vnder the sunne.

10 Is there anie thing, whereof one may say, Beholde this, it is newe: it hath bene already in the olde time y<sup>e</sup> was before vs.

11 There is no memorie of y<sup>e</sup> former, neither shal there be a remembrance of the later that shalbe, with them that shal come after.

12 ¶ I the Preacher haue bene King ouer Israel in Ierusalem:

13 And I haue giuen mine heart to search & finde out wisdome by all things that are done vnder the heauen: (this fore trauail hath God giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby)

14 I haue considered all the workes that are done vnder the sunne, and beholde, all is vanitie, and vexacion of the spirit.

15 That which is crooked, can none make straight: & that w<sup>h</sup> faileth, can not be nobred.

16 I thought in mine heart, & said, Beholde, I am become great, and excel in wisdome all them that haue bene before me in Ierusalem: and mine heart hath bene muche wisdome and knowledge.

17 And I gaue mine heart to knowe wisdome & knowledge, madnes & foolishnes: I knewe also y<sup>e</sup> this is a vexaciō of the spirit.

18 For in y<sup>e</sup> multitude of wisdome is muche grief: & he that encreaseth knowledge, encreaseth sorowe.

19 That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but grief & trouble of conscience. m Wisdome & knowledge can not be come by without great paine of bodie and minde: for when a man hath attained to the hiest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this worlde is no true felicitie.

CHAP. II.

Pleasures, sumptuous buyldings, riches and possessions are but vanitie. 14 The wise and the foole haue both one end, touching the bodilie death.

1 I said in mine heart, Go to now, I will proue a thee with ioye: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: & beholde, this also is vanitie.

2 I said of laughter, Thou art mad: and of ioye, What is this that thou doest?

3 I fought in mine heart to giue my selfe to wine, & to lead mine heart in wisdome, and to take holde of folie, til I might see where is that goodnes of the children of men, which they enioye vnder the sunne: the whole number of the daies of their life.

4 I haue made my great workes: I haue buylt me houses: I haue plated me vineyards.

5 I haue made me gardens and orchardes, and planted in them trees of all frute.

6 I haue made me cisternes of water, to watter therewith the woods that growe with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruants & maids, and had children borne in the house: also I had great possession of beues and shepe about all that were before me in Ierusalem.

8 I haue gathered vnto me also siluer and golde, and the chief treasures of Kings & prouinces: I haue prouided me me fingers and women fingers, and the delites of the sonnes of men, as a woman taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was great, and encreased about all that were before me in Ierusalem: also my wisdome remained with me.

10 And what soeuer mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from the: I withdrew not mine heart from anie ioye: for mine heart reioyced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my trauail.

11 The I looked on all my workes that mine hands had wrought, and on the trauail that I had labored to do: and beholde, all is vanitie and vexacion of the spirit: and there is no profite vnder the sunne.

12 ¶ And I turned to beholde wisdome, & madnes and folie: (for who is the man that wil come after the King in things, which men now haue done?)

13 Then I sawe that there is profite in wisdome, more then in folie: as the light is more excellent then darkenes.

14 For the wise mans eyes are in his head, but the foole walketh in darkenes: yet I knowe also that the same condition falleth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth vnto me, as it befalleth to the foole. Why therefore do I the labour to be more wise? And I said in mine heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For there shalbe no remembrance of the wise, nor of the foole for euer: for that that now is, in the daies to come shal all be forgotten. And how dyeth the wise man, as doeth the foole?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke y<sup>e</sup> is wrought vnder y<sup>e</sup> sunne is grievous vnto me: for all is vanitie, & vexacion of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder y<sup>e</sup> sunne, which I shal leaue to the man that shalbe after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shalbe wise or foolish? yet shal he haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue trauailed, & wherein I haue shewed my selfe wise vnder the sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne.

21 For there is a man whose trauail is in wisdome, & in knowledge and in equitie: yet to a mā that hath not trauailed herein, shal he giue his portion: this also is vanitie and a great grief.

c Meaning, of the seruants or seruantes, & he had bought for the children borne in their seruitude, were the maisters.

d That is, what soeuer men take pleasure in. e Which were the most beautiful of them that were taken in warre, as Iudges. f Some vnderstand by these wordes, not women but instruments of musique.

f For all this God did not take his gift of wisdome from me.

g This was y<sup>e</sup> frute of all my labour, a certaine pleasure, mixt with care, which he calleth vanitie in the next verse.

h I be thought with my self whether it were better to followe wisdome, or mine owne affectiō and pleasures, which he calleth madnes.

i Or, compare with the King.

j He foreseeth things, & the foole can not for lacke of wisdome.

k For bothe dye & are forgotten, as verse 16, or they bothe alike haue prosperitie or aduersitie.

l Meaning, in this worlde.

m He wondereth that men forget a wise man, being dead, as though they do a foole.

n That I might seeke the true felicitie which is in God.

o Among other griefs this was not y<sup>e</sup> least to leave that which he had gotten by great trauail, to one y<sup>e</sup> had rather no paine therefore, and whome he knew not whether he were a wise man or a foole.

22 For what hathe man of all his trauail and grief of his heart, wherein he hathe trauailed vnder the sunne?

23 For all his dayes are sorowes, and his trauail grief: his heart also taketh not rest in the night, which also is vanitie.

24 There is no profite to mā: but that he eat, and drinke, and p<sup>e</sup> delite his soule with the profite of his labour: I sawe also this, that it was of the hand of God.

25 For who colde eat, and who colde haste to outward things more then I?

26 Surely to a mā that is good in his sight, God giueth wisdom, and knowledge, and ioye: but to the sinner he giueth paine, to gather, and to heape to giue to him that is good before God: this is also vanitie, & vexacion of the spirit.

CHAP. III.

1 All things haue their time. 14 The workes of God are perfite, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shal iudge both the iuste, and iniuste.

TO all things there is an appointed time, and a time to euerie purpose vnder the heauen.

2 A time to be borne, & a time to dye: a time to plant, and a time to plucke vp that, which is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to buylde.

4 A time to wepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to dance.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time to be farre from embracing.

6 A time to seke, and a time to lose: a time to kepe, and a time to cast away.

7 A time to rét, & a time to sowe: a time to kepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What profite hathe he that worketh, of y<sup>e</sup> thing wherein he trauaileth?

10 I haue sene the trauail that God hathe giuen to the sonnes of men <sup>b</sup> to humble them thereby.

11 He hathe made euerie thing beautiful in his time: also he hathe set the <sup>c</sup> worlde in their heart, yet can not man finde out the worketh that God hathe wrought from the beginning euen to the end.

12 I knowe that there is nothing good in the, but to reioyce, & to do good in his life.

13 And also that euerie mā eateth and drinketh, and seeth the commoditie of all his labour. this is the <sup>d</sup> gift of God.

14 I knowe that whatsoever God shal do, it shal be for euer: to it can no man adde, and frō it can none diminish: for God hathe done it, y<sup>e</sup> they shulde feare before him.

15 What is that that hathe bene? that is now: & that that shal be, hathe now bene: for God <sup>f</sup> requireth that which is past.

16 And moreouer I haue sene vnder the sunne the place of iudgement, where was wickednes, and the place of iustice where was iniquitie.

17 I thought in mine heart, God wil iudge the iuste & the wicked: for time is & there for euerie purpose and for euerie worke.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men that God had <sup>h</sup> purged them: yet to se to, they are in the felues as beasts.

19 For the condition of the children of mē, and the condition of beastes are euē as one condition vnto them. As the one dyeth, so dyeth the other: for they haue all one breath, and there is no excellencie of man aboue the beast: for all is vanitie.

20 All go to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shal returne to the dust.

21 Who <sup>k</sup> knoweth whether the spirit of man ascende v<sup>p</sup>ward, and the spirit of the beast descend downward to the earth?

22 Therefore I se, that there is nothing better then y<sup>e</sup> a man shulde<sup>l</sup> reioyce in his affaires, because y<sup>e</sup> is his portion. For who shal brig him to se what shal be after him?

CHAP. IIII.

1 The innocents are oppressed. 4 Mens labours are full of abuse and vanitie. 9 Mans societie is necessarie. 13 A yong man poore, and wise is to be preferred to an olde King that is a foole.

SO I turned, and considered all the oppressions that are wrought vnder the sunne, & beholde, the teares of the oppressed, and none comforteth them: and lo, the strength is of the hand of them that oppresseth them, and none comforteth them.

2 Wherefore I praised the <sup>b</sup> dead which now are dead, aboue the liuing, which are yet alieue.

3 And I counte him <sup>c</sup> better then them both, which hathe not yet bene: for he hathe not sene the euil workes which are wrought vnder the sunne.

4 Also I behelde all trauail, and all <sup>d</sup> perfection of workes that this is the ennie of a man against his neighbour: this also is vanitie and vexacion of spirit.

5 The foole foldeth his hands, and <sup>e</sup> eateth vp his owne flesh.

6 Better is an handfull with quiernes, then two handfulls with labour and vexacion of spirit.

7 Againe I returned, and sawe vanitie vnder the sunne.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a secōde, which hathe nether sonne nor brother, yet is there none end of all his trauail, nether cā his eye be satisfied with riches: nether dooth he thinke, For whome do I trauail and defraude my soule of pleasure? this also is vanitie, and this is an euil trauail.

9 <sup>f</sup> Two are better then one: for they haue & ii.

<sup>l</sup> By the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap. 2, 24 & chap 3, 12, and 22 chap 5, 17 & chap 8, 15 he declareth that mā by reason cā comprehend nothing better in this life the to use the giftes of God soberly & cōfortably: for to knowe farther is a speciall gifte of God reucaled by his Spirit.

Chap. IIIE. <sup>a</sup> He maketh here another discours with him self cōcerning the tyrannie of them y<sup>e</sup> oppressed the poore.

<sup>g</sup> When man hathe all laboured, he can get no more then foole, and reuoluing, yet he confideth also that this cometh of Gods blessing, as Chap. 1, 13.

<sup>a</sup> He speaketh of this diuersitie of time for two causes, first to declare y<sup>e</sup> there is nothing in this worlde perpetual next to teache vs not to be grieued, if we haue not all things at once according to our desires, nether enioye them so long as we wolde wish.

<sup>c</sup> God hathe giuen man a desire, and affection to seke out the things of this worlde and to labour therein.

<sup>e</sup> That is, man shal neuer be able to let Gods worke, but as he hathe determined, so it shal come to passe.

<sup>f</sup> God onelie causeth that, w<sup>h</sup> is past, to returne.

better wages for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one wil lift vp his fellowe: but wnto him that is alone: for he falleth, and there is not a seconde to lift him vp.

11 Also if two slepe together, then shal they haue heat: but to one how shulde there be heat?

12 And if one ouercome him, two shal stande against him: and a threfolde & coard is not easly broken.

13 Better is a poore and wise childe, then an olde and foolish King, which wil no more be admonished.

14 For out of the <sup>h</sup> prison he cometh forth to reigne: when as he that is <sup>i</sup> borne in his kingdome, is made poore.

15 I behelde all the liuing, which walke vnder the sunne, <sup>k</sup> with the seconde childe, which shal stande vp in his place.

16 There is none <sup>l</sup> end of all the people, nor of all that were before them, and they that come after, shal not reioyce in him: surely this is also vanitie and vexation of spirit.

17 Take hede to thy <sup>m</sup> foote when thou entrest into the House of God, and be more nere to heare then to giue the sacrifice of <sup>n</sup> fooles: for they knowe not that they do euil.

CHAP. V.

Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters: 9 The covetous can neuer haue ynough. 11 The laborers slepe in sweete. 14 Man when he dyeth, taketh nothing with him. 18 To liue ioyfully, and with a contented minde in the gift of God.

BE not <sup>a</sup> rash with thy mouth, nor let thine heart be hastie to vtter a thing before God: for God is in the heauens, and thou art on <sup>y</sup> earth: therefore let thy wordes be <sup>b</sup> fewe.

2 For as a dreame cometh by the multitude of busines: so the voyce of a foole is in the multitude of wordes.

3 *When thou hast vowed a vowe to God, deferre not to pay it: for he deliteth not in fooles: paye therefore <sup>y</sup> thou hast <sup>c</sup> vowed.

4 It is better that thou shuldest not vowe, then that thou shuldest vowe and not paye it.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy <sup>d</sup> flesh to sinne: nether say before the <sup>e</sup> Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shal God be angrie by thy voyce, & destroye the worke of thine hands?

6 For in the multitude of dreames, & vanities are also manie wordes: but feare thou God.

7 If in a countrey thou seeest the oppressio of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgement and iustice, be not astonied at the matter: for he that is <sup>f</sup> higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

8 And the <sup>s</sup> abundance of the earth is ouer all: the King <sup>h</sup> also consisteth by the field that is tilled.

9 He that loueth siluer, shal not be satisfied with siluer, & he that loueth riches, shal be without the frute therof: this also is vanitie.

10 Whe goods encrease, they are encreased that eat them: and what good cometh to the owners thereof, but the beholding therof with their eyes?

11 The slepe of him that trauaileth, is swete, whether he eat litle or much: but the <sup>i</sup> societie of the riche wil not suffer him to slepe.

12 There is an euil sickenes that I haue sene vnder the sunne: to wit, riches <sup>k</sup> reserued to the owners thereof for their euil.

13 And these riches perish by euil trauail, & he begetteth a sonne, and in his <sup>l</sup> hand is nothing.

14 *As he came forth of his mothers belly, he shal returne naked to go as he came, & shal beare away nothing of his labour, which he hathe caused to passe by his had.

15 And this also is an euil sickenes that in all pointes as he came, so shal he go, and what profite hathe he that he hathe trauailed for the <sup>m</sup> winde?

16 Also all his dayes he eateth in <sup>n</sup> darkenes with muche grief, and in his sorow & angre.

17 Beholde then, what I haue sene good, that it is comelie to <sup>o</sup> eat, and to drinke, & to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein he trauaileth vnder the sunne, <sup>y</sup> whole n<sup>o</sup>ber of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

18 Also to euerie man to whome God hathe giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eat thereof, and to take his parte, and to enioye his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 Surely he wil not muche remember the dayes of his <sup>p</sup> life, because God answereth to the ioye of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable estate of him to whome God hathe giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them.

THERE is an euil, which I sawe vnder the sunne, and it is muche among m<sup>n</sup>:
2 A man to whome God hathe giuen riches and treasures and honour, and he wanteth nothing for his soule of all that it desireth: but <sup>a</sup> God giueth him not power to eat thereof, but a strange man shal eat it vp: this is vanitie, and this is an euil sickenes.

3 If a man beget an hundreth children and liue manie yeres, and the dayes of his yeres be multiplied, and his soule be not <sup>b</sup> satisfied with good things, and he be not <sup>c</sup> buried, I say that an vntimelie fiute is better then he.

6 And if he had liued a thousand yeres twice tolde, and had sene no good, shal not all go to one place?

7 All the labour of mā is for his mouth: yet the soule is not filled.

8 For what hathe the wise man more then the fool? what hathe y poore that knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

9 The sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lustes: this also is vanitie and vexacion of spirit.

10 What is that that hathe bene the name thereof is now named: and it is known that it is man: and he can not strue with him that is stronger then he.

CHAP. VII.

Diuers precepts to followe that which is good, and to auoide the contrarie.

1 Surely there be manie things that increase vanitie: & what auaieth it mā?

2 For who knoweth what is a good for man in the life & in the number of the dayes of the life of his vanitie, seing he maketh the as a shadow? For who can shewe vnto man what shalbe after him vnder y sunne?

3 A good name is better then a good oyntment, and the day of death, then the day that one is borne.

4 It is better to go to the house of mourning, then to go to the house of feasting, because this is the end of all men: and the liuing shal lay it to his heart.

5 Anger is better then laughter: for by a sad loke the heart is made better.

6 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning: but the heart of fool is in the house of mirth.

7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wise man, then that a mā shulde heare the song of fool.

8 For like the noise of the thornes vnder the pot, so is the laughter of the fool: this also is vanitie.

9 Surely oppressio maketh a wise mā mad: and the rewarde destroyeth the heart.

10 The end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, & the pacient in spirit is better then the proude in spirit.

11 Be not y of an hastie spirit to be angrie: for anger resteth in the bosome of fool.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former daies were better the these? for thou doest not enquire wisely of this thing.

13 Wisdome is good with an inheritance, and excellent to them that se the sunne.

14 For man shal rest in the shadowe of wisdom, & in y shadowe of siluer: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wisdom giueth life to the possessers thereof.

15 Beholde the worke of God: for who can make a straight that which he hathe made crooked? Chap. 7. 15.

16 In the day of wealth be of good comfort, & in the day of affliction consider: God also hathe made this contrary to that, to the intent that mā shulde finde nothing after him.

17 I haue sene all things in the daies of my vanitie: there is a iuste man that perisheth in his iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 Be not thou iuste ouermuche, nether make thy self ouer wise: wherefore shuldest thou be desolate?

19 Be not thou wicked ouermuche, nether be thou foolish: wherefore shuldest thou perish not in thy time?

20 It is good that thou laie holde on this: but yet withdrawe not thine hand from that: for he that feareth God, shal come forth of them all.

21 Wisdome shal strengthen the wise man more then ten mightie princes that are in the citie.

22 Surely there is no man iust in the earth, that doeth good and sinneth not.

23 Giue not thine heart also to all y wordes that men speake, lest thou do heare thy seruant cursing thee.

24 For often times also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast cursed others.

25 All this haue I proued by wisdom: I thought I wil be wise, but it went farre from me.

26 It is farre of, what maie it be: and it is a profound depenes, who can finde it?

27 I haue compassed about, bothe I and mine heart to knowe and to enquire and to search wisdom and reason, and to knowe the wickednes of folie, and the foolishnes of madnes,

28 And I finde more bitter then death the woman whose heart is as nettes & snares, and her hands, as bands: he that is good before God, shalbe deliuered from her, but y sinner shalbe taken by her.

29 Beholde, saith the Preacher, this haue I founde, seeking one by one to finde y coure:

30 And yet my soule seketh, but I finde it not: I haue founde one man of a thousand: but a woman among them all haue I not founde.

31 Oncely lo, this haue I founde, that God hathe made man righteous: but they haue soght manie inuentions.

his <sup>a</sup> face to shine: and the <sup>b</sup> strength of his face shalbe changed.

2 I <sup>a</sup>aduertise thee to take hede to the <sup>c</sup> mouth of the King, and to the worde of the othe
of God.

3 <sup>d</sup> Hastenot to go forth of his sight: stand not in an euil thing: for he wil do whatsoeuer pleaseth him.

4 Where the worde of the King is, there is power, and who shal say vnto him, What doest thou?

5 He that kepeth the commandement, shal knowe none euil thing, and the heart of the wise shal knowe the <sup>e</sup> time and iud-gement.

6 For to euerie purpose there is a time and iudgement because the <sup>f</sup> miserie of man is great, vpon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which shalbe: for who can tel him when it shalbe?

8 Man is not lord <sup>g</sup> ouer the spirit to re-teine the spirit: nether hath he power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battel, nether shal wickednes deliuer the possessors thereof.

9 All this haue I sene, and haue giuen mine heart to euerie worke, which is wrought vnder the sunne, and I <sup>h</sup>sawe a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne <sup>i</sup> hurt.

10 And likewise I sawe the wicked buried, and <sup>j</sup> they returned, and they that came from the holie <sup>k</sup> place, were yet forgotten in the citie where they had done right: this also is vanitie.

11 Because sentence against an euil worke is not <sup>l</sup> executed spedely, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in the
to do euil.

12 Thogh a sinner do euil an hundreth times, and God prolongeth his dayes, yet I knowe that it shalbe wel with them that feare the Lord, and do reuerence before him.

13 But it shal not be wel to the wicked, nether shal he prolong his dayes: he shalbe like a shadowe, because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanitie, which is done vpo the earth, that there be righteous men to who-me it cometh according to the <sup>m</sup> worke of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whome it cometh according to the worke of the iuste: I thought also that this is vanitie.

15 And I praised ioye: for there is no goodnes to man vnder the sunne, saue <sup>n</sup> to eat and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is adioynded to his labour, the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the sunne.

16 When I applied mine heart to knowe wisdom, and to beholde the busines that is done on earth, that nether day nor night
the eyes of man take slepe,

17 Then I bel elde <sup>y</sup> whole worke of God, that man can not finde out the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne: for the which man laboreth to seke it, and can not fin-de it: yea, and thogh the wise man thinke to knowe it, he can not finde it.

CHAP. IX.

1 By no outward thing can man knowe whome God lo-ueth or hateth. 12 No man knoweth his end. 16 Wis-dome excelleth strength.

1 I haue suerly giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iuste, &
the wise, and their workes are in the hand of God: & no man knoweth ether loue or <sup>a</sup> hatred of all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all: and the same condition <sup>b</sup> is to the iuste and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, & to the polluted, & to him that sacrificeth, & to him that sacrificeth not: as <sup>c</sup> is the good, so <sup>d</sup> is the sinner, he that sweareth, as he that feareth an othe.

3 This is euil among all that is done vnder the sunne, that there is one <sup>e</sup> condition to all, and also the heart of the sonnes of men is ful of euil, and madnes <sup>f</sup> is in their hearts whiles they liue, and after that, they go to the dead.

4 Surely whosoever is ioyned to all the liuing, there is hope: for it is better to a liuing dog, then to a dead lyon.

5 For the liuing knowe that they shal dye, but the dead knowe nothing at all: nether haue they anie more a rewarde: for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 Also their loue, and their hatred, & their enuie is now perished, and they haue no more portion foreuer, in all that is done vnder the sunne.

7 Go, eat thy bread with ioye, & drinke thy wine with a chereful heart: for God now <sup>g</sup> accepteth thy workes.

8 At all times let thy garments be <sup>h</sup> white, and let not oyle be lacking vpon thine head.

9 <sup>i</sup> Reioyce with the wife whome <sup>j</sup> thou hast loued all the dayes of the life of thy va-nitie, <sup>k</sup> & God hath giuen thee vnder the sunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for this is thy portion in the life, & in thy trauail wherein thou laborest vnder the sunne.

10 All that thine hand shal finde to do, do it with all thy power: for there is nether worke nor inuention, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the graue whether thou goest.

11 I returned, & I sawe vnder the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the barre-to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of vnderstanding, nether yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and <sup>l</sup> chance cometh to them all.

12 For nether doeth man knowe his <sup>m</sup> time, but as the fishes, which are taken in an euil
net,

net, & as the birdes that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euil time when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also sene this wisdome vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A litle citie and fewe men in it, and a great King came against it, and compassed it about, and buylded fortes against it.

15 And there was founde therein a poore and wise man, and he deliuered the citie by his wisdome: but none remembred this poore man.

16 Then said I, Better is wisdome then strength: yet the wisdome of the poore is despised, and his wordes are not heard.

17 The wordes of the wise are more heard in quietnes, then the crye of him that ruleth among fooles.

18 Better is wisdome then weapons of warre: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

8 The difference of foolishnes and wisdome. 11 A scelerer is like a serpent that can not be charmed. 16 Of foolish Kings, and drunken princes, 17 And of good Kings and princes.

DEAD flies cause to stinke, and putrifie the ointment of the apoticarie: so doeth a litle folie him that is in estimation for wisdome, and for glorie.

The heart of a wise mā is at his right hād: but the heart of a foole is at his left hand.

And also whē the foole goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he telleth vnto all that he is a foole.

4 If the spirit of him that ruleth, rise vp against thee, leaue not thy place: for gentlenes pacifieth great sinnes.

5 There is an euil that I haue sene vnder the sunne, as an error that procedeth frō the face of him that ruleth.

6 Folie is set in great excellencie, and the riche set in the lowe place.

7 I haue sene seruants on horses and princes walking as seruants on the ground.

8 He that diggeth a pit, shal fall into it, & he that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shal bite him.

9 He that remoueth stones, shal hurt him self thereby, & he that cutteth wood, shal be in danger thereby.

10 If the yron be blunt, and one hath not whet the edge, he must then put to more strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisdome.

11 If the serpent bite, when he is not charmed: no better is a babler.

12 The wordes of the mouth of a wise man haue grace: but the lippes of a foole deuoure him self.

13 The beginning of his wordes of his mouth is foolishnes, and the latter end of his mouth is wicked madnes.

14 For the foole multiplieth wordes, saying, Man knoweth not what shalbe: and who can tel him what shalbe after him?

15 The labour of the foolish doeth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the citie.

16 Wo to thee, o land, when thy King is a childe, and thy princes eat in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, o land, when thy King is the sonne of nobles, and thy princes eat in time, for strength and not for drunkenness.

18 By slothfulnes the rooofe of the house goeth to decay, and by the ydlenes of the hands the house droppeth through.

19 Thei prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the liuing, but siluer answereth to all.

20 Curse not the King, no not in thy thought, nether curse the riche in thy bed chamber: for the foule of the heauen shal cary the voice, & that which hath wings, shal declare the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be liberal to the poore. 4 Not to doute of Gods providence. 8 All worldlie prosperitie is but vanitie. 9 God wil iudge all.

CAST thy bread vpon the waters: for after manie daies thou shalt finde it.

2 Giue a portion to seuen, & also to eight: for thou knowest not what euil shalbe vpon the earth.

3 If the cloudes be ful, they wil powre forth the raine vpon the earth: and if the tre do fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tre falleth, there it shalbe.

4 He that obserueth the winde, shal not sowe, and he that regardeth the cloudes, shal not reape.

5 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones do growe in the wombe of her that is with childe: so thou knowest not the worke of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning sowe thy sede, and in the euening let not thine hand rest: for thou knowest not whether shal prosper, this or that, or whether bothe shalbe alike good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see sunne.

8 Thogh a man liue manie yeres, and in them all he reioyce, yet he shal remember the daies of darkenes, because thei are manie, all that cometh is vanitie.

9 Reioyce, o yong man, in thy youth, & let thine heart chere thee in the daies of thy youth: and walke in the waies of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but knowe that for all these things, God wil bring thee to iudgement.

To thinke on God in youth and not to differre til age.
7 The soule returneth to God 11 Wisdome is the gift of God and consisteth in feareing him and keeping his com-mandements.

1 Remember now thy Creator in the daies of thy youth, whiles the euil daies come not, nor the yeres approche, wherein thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure

2 Whiles the sunne is not darke, nor the se thei are fewe, and they waxe darke that

4 And the dores shal be shut without by the base sounde of the grinding, and he shal rise vp at the voice of the birde:
& all the daughters of singing shal be a-

5 Also thei shal be afraid of the hie

AN EXCELLENT SONG which was Salomons.

THE ARGUMENT.

In this Song, Salomon by moste swete and comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfect loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon and King of peace, and the faithful soule or his Church, which he hath sanctified and appointed to be his spouse, holy, chaste and without re-prehension. So that here is declared the singular loue of the bridegrome toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefites wherewith he doth enriche her of his pure bountie and grace without anie of her deservings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ desiring to be more and more ioyned to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for anie spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

The familiar talke and mystical communication of the spiritual loue betwene Iesus Christ and his Church.
6 The domestical enemies that persecute the Church.

Et a his kisse me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is better then wine.

Because of the b saueur of thy good ointments thy name is as an ointment powred out: therefore the c virgines loue thee.

d Drawe me: we wil runne after thee: the King hath brought me into his chambers: we wil reioyce and be glad in thee:

we wil remember thy loue more then wine: the righteous do loue thee.

4 I am f blacke, o daughters of Ierusalem, but comelie, as the frutes of s Kedár, &
as the h curtines of Salomon.

5 Regarde ye me not because I am i blacke: for the k sunne hath looked vpon me. The l sonnes of my mother were angrie against me: thei made me the keeper of the vines:
but I m kept not mine owne vine.

6 Shewe me, n o thou, whome my soule lo-ueth,

a This is spoken in the perfession of the Church, or of the faithful soule, inflamed with y<sup>e</sup> fire of Christ, who
me shal loueth.
b The feeling of thy great benefit.
c Thei that are pure in heart &
conuersation.
d The faithful confesse that thei can not come to Christ except thei be drawen.

<sup>a</sup> Whome thou hast called to the dignitie of pastures, and thou set forth their owne desires in head of thy doctine.

<sup>b</sup> Christ speaketh to his Church, bidding the that are ignorant, to go to the pastors to learne. For thy spiritual beautie and excellencie there was no worldly treasure to be compared vnto thee.

<sup>c</sup> The Church rejoiceth that she is admitted to the companie of Christ.

<sup>e</sup> That is, the heart of the faithful where in Christ dwelleth by his Spirit.

<sup>c</sup> Christ chargeth them w<sup>h</sup> haue to do in the Church, as it were by a solemn oath, that they trouble not the quietnes thereof.

<sup>d</sup> This is spoken of Christ, who roke vpon our nature to come to helpe his Church.

<sup>e</sup> For as muche as his dignitie was hid vnder the cloke of our flesh. So that we can not haue full knowledge of him in this life.

<sup>f</sup> That is, sinne and error is driven backe by the coming of Christ which is here described by spring time, when all things flourish.

ueth, where thou fdest, where thou liest at noone: for why shulde I be as she that turneth aside to y<sup>e</sup> flockes of thy cōpanions?

<sup>u</sup> My welbeloued is as a bundle of myrrhe vnto me: he shall lye betwene my breasts.

<sup>x</sup> My welbeloued, beholde, thou art faire and pleasant: also our bed is grene: the beames of our house are cedres.

CHAP. II.

<sup>2</sup> Like a lillie among the thornes, so is my loue among the daughters.

<sup>3</sup> Like the apple tre among the trees of the forest: so is my welbeloued among the sonnes of men: vnder his shadowe had I delite, & sate downe: and his frute was swete vnto my mouth.

<sup>4</sup> He brought me into the wine celler, and loue was his banner ouer me.

<sup>5</sup> Stay me with flagons, and comfort me with apples: for I am sicke of loue.

<sup>7</sup> I charge you, o daughters of Ierusalem, by the roes & by the hindes of the field, that ye stirre not vp, nor wakē my loue, vntil the please.

<sup>8</sup> It is the voice of my welbeloued: beholde, he cometh leaping by the mountaines, and skipping by the hilles.

<sup>9</sup> My welbeloued is like a roe, or a yong heart: lo, he standeth behinde our wall, looking forth of the windowes, shewing him selfe through the grates.

<sup>10</sup> My welbeloued spake & said vnto me, Arise, my loue, my faire one, & come thy way.

<sup>13</sup> The figge hath brought forth her yong figges: & the vines with their small grapes haue cast a sauour: arise my loue, my faire one, and come away.

<sup>16</sup> My welbeloued is mine, and I am his: he fedeth among the lillies, <sup>17</sup> Vntil y<sup>e</sup> day breake, & the shadowes flee away: returne, my welbeloued, & be like a roe, or a yong hart vpon the mountaines of Bether.

CHAP. III.

<sup>1</sup> In my bed by a night I sought him that my soule loued: I sought him, but I founde him not.

<sup>2</sup> I wil rise therefore now, and go about in the citie, by the stretes & by the open places, & wil seke him that my soule loueth: I sought him, but I founde him not.

<sup>3</sup> The watchemen that went about the citie, founde me: to whome I said, Haue you sene him whome my soule loueth?

<sup>4</sup> When I had past a litle from them, then I founde him whome my soule loued: I roke holde on him and left him not, til I had brought him vnto my mothers house into the chamber of her that conceived me.

<sup>5</sup> I charge you, o daughters of Ierusalem, by the roes and by the hindes of the field, that ye stirre not vp, nor wakē my loue vntil the please.

<sup>6</sup> Who is she that commeth vp out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke perfumed with myrrhe and incense, & with all the spices of the marchant?

<sup>2</sup> I slepe, but mine heart waketh, it is the voyce of my welbeloued that knocketh, saying, Open vnto me, my sister, my loue, my dooue, my vndefiled: for mine head is ful of dewe, and my lockes with the dropes of the <sup>c</sup> night.

Thy two breastes are as two yong roes that are twinnes.

Thy necke is like a towre of yuorie: thine eyes are like<sup>y</sup> fish pooles in Heshbón by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose is as the towre of Lebanón, that loketh toward Damascus.

Thine head vpon thee is as skarlet, and the bushe of thine head like purple: the King is tyed in the<sup>r</sup> rafters.

How faire art thou, and how pleasant art thou, o my loue, in pleasures!

This thy stature is like a palme tree, and thy breastes like clusters.

I said, I wil go vp into the palme tre, I wil take holde of her boughes: thy breastes shal now be like the clusters of the vine: and the saour of thy nose like apples,

And the rouse of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth straight to my welbeloued, & causeth the lippes of the ancient to speake.

I am my welbeloued, and his desire is toward me.

Come, my welbeloued, let vs go forthe into the field: let vs remaine in y villages.

Let vs get vp early to the vines, let vs see if the<sup>e</sup> vine florish, whether it hath bud- ded the smale grape, or whether the pome- granates florish: there wil I giue thee my loue.

<sup>e</sup> If the people that are called to Christ, bring forth the true fruite.

The mādrikes haue giue a smel, & in our gates are all swete things, newe & olde: my welbeloued, I haue kept them for thee.

CHAP. VIII.

The Church wil be taught by Christ. 3 She is uphol- den by him. 6 The vehement loue wherewith Christ loueth her 11 She is the vine that bringeth forth frute to the spiritual Salomon, which is Iesus Christ.

O<sup>h</sup> that thou werest as my brother y sucked the breastes of my mother: I wolde finde thee without, I wolde kisse thee, then they shulde not despise thee.

<sup>a</sup> The Church called of the Gentiles, speaketh thus to y Church of Ierusalém. Or, me.

I wil lead thee & bring thee into my mothers house: there thou shalt teache me: & I wil cause thee to drinke spiced wine, & newe wine of the pomegranate.

His left hand shal be vnder mine head, & his right hand shal embrace me.

I charge you, o daughters of Ierusalém, that you stirre not vp, nor waken my loue, vntill he please.

(Who is this that commeth vp out of the wildernes, leaning vpon her welbeloued?) I raised thee vp vnder an apple tre: there thy mother conceived thee: there she concei- ued that bare thee.

Set me as a seale on thine heart, & as a signet vpon thine arme: for loue is strong as death: ielousie is cruel as the graue: the coles thereof are fyrie coles, & a vehement flame.

<sup>d</sup> The spouse desireth Christ to be ioyned in perpetual loue with him.

Muche water can not quenche loue, nether can the floods drowne it: if a man shulde giue all the substance of his house for loue, they wolde greatly contemne it.

We haue a litle sister, and she hath no breastes: what shal we do for our sister whē she shalbe spoken for?

If she be a walle, we wil buyld vpō her a siluer palace: and if she be a dore, we wil kepe her in with bordes of cedre.

<sup>f</sup> If she be sure & fast, she is mete for the husband to dwell in.

I am a walle & my breastes are as tow- res: then was I in his eyes as one that findeth peace.

Salomón had a vine in Baal-hamón: he gaue the vineyard vnto keepers: euerie one bringeth for the frute thereof a thousand pieces of siluer.

ISAIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

GOD, according to his promes Deut. 18, 15. that he wolde neuer leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not onely to declare vnto the people the things to come, whereof thei had a special reuelation, but also to interpret & declare the Law, and to applie particularly the doctrine, contained briefly therein, to the vilitie & profite of those, to whome thei thought it chiefly to appertene, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe they had respect to thre things, which were the grounde of their doctrine: First to the doctrine contained briefly in the twotables: secondely to the promises & threatenings of the Law: & thirdely, to the covenant of grace & reconciliation, grounded vpon our Sauour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Law. Whereunto thei nether added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderstanding of things, thei applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for anie care or regarde to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their sauergarde by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation they haue more clearly intreated it then Moses, and set forth the more liuely Iesus Christ, in whome this covenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophetes, and was moste diligent to set out the same, with moste vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: euer applying the doctrine, as he sawe that the disease of the people required. He declareth also manie notable prophecies which he had receiued of God, as touching the promes of the Messiah, his office, and his kingdome. Also of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their vnion with the Iewes. Which are as moste principal pointes contained in this booke, and a gathering of his sermons that he preached. Which after certeine daies that thei had stand vpon the Temple dore (for the maner of the Prophetes was to set vp the summe of their doctrine for certeine dayes that the people might the better marke it, as Isa. 8, 1. & Habak. 2, 2.) the Priests toke it downe and reserued it among their registers: and so by Gods providence these booke were preserued as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his persone and time, he was of the Kings stocke: for Amoz his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best writers agre, and prophesied more then 64 yeres from the time of Vzziah vnto the reigne of Manasseh, whose father in lawe he was (as the Ebrewes write) and of whome he was put to death. And in reading of the Prophetes this one thing among other is to be obserued, that thei speake of things to come as though thei were now past, because of the certentie thereof, and that thei colde not but come to passe, because God had ordeined them in his secret counfel, and so reueiled them to his Prophetes.

CHAP. I.

1 Isaiâh reproveth the Iewes of their ingratitude and stubbornnes, that nether for benefites nor punishment woulde amend. 11 He sheweth why their sacrifices are reiected, and wherein Gods true seruice standeth. 24 He prophesieth of the destruction of Ierusalem. 25 And of the restitution thereof.

a That is, a reuelation or prophetic, which was one of the two meanes whereby God declared his will to his seruants in olde times, as Num. 24. 2. & therefore the Prophetes were called Seers, 1 Sam. 9. 9. b Isaiâh was chiefly sent to Iudâh and Ierusalem, but not onely: for in this booke are prophecies concerning other nations also. c Called also Azariâh. 2. King. 15. 1. of these Kings read 2. King. from Chap. 14 vnto Chap. 25. and 2. Chron. from Chap. 25. vnto Chap. 33. d Because me were obstinate and inescible, he calleth to y cumme creatures, which were more prompt to obey Gods worde, as Deu. 32. 1. e He declareth his great mercie towards y Iewes, for as muche as he chose them aboue all other nations to be his people & childe, as Deu. 32. 15. f The moste brate and dulbeasts do more acknowledge their ducie toward their masters, then my people do toward me, of whome they haue receiued benefites without comparison. g They were not onely wicked as were their fathers, but vterly corrupt, and by their euil example infected others. h That is, him y sanctifieth Israël. i What anileth it to seke to amend you by punishment, seing the more I correct you, the more ye rebell? k By naming the chief partes of the bodie, he signifieth, that there was no parte of the whole bodie of the Iewes free from his roddes. l Euerie parte of the bodie, as wel the least as the chiefest was plagued. m Their plagues were so grievous that they were incurable, and yet they wolde not repent. n Meaning, of them, that dwell farre of, which because they loke for no aduantage of that, which remaineth, destroye all before th. m. o That is, Ierusalem. p Because that he wil euer haue a Church to call vpon his Name. q That is, all destroyed. r Ye that for your vices deserued all to be destroyed as they of Soddan, saue that God of his mercie reserved a litle number, Lam. 3. 22. s Although God commanded these sacrifices for a time, as aides and exercises of their faith: yet because the people had not faith nor repentance, God detesteth them, Psa. 50. 14. ier. 6. 20. amos 5. 21. mich. 6. 7.

a vision of Isaiâh, the sonne of Amôz, which he sawe concerning Iudâh and Ierusalem: in the daies of Vzziâh, Iothâm, Aház & Hezekiâh Kings of Iudâh.

2 Heare, o heauens, and hearken, o earth: for the Lord hathe said, I haue nourished and brought vp children, but they haue rebelled against me.

3 The fowle knoweth his owner, and the asse his masters cryb, but Israël hathe not known: my people hathe not vnderstand.

4 Ah, sinful nacion, a people laden with iniquitie: a s sede of the wicked, corrupt childre: thei haue forsaken the Lord: thei haue prouoked the holy one of Israël to anger: they are gone backward.

5 Wherefore shulde ye be smitten anie more: for ye fall away more and more: the whole head is sicke, and the whole heart is heauie.

6 From the sole of the foote vnto the head, there is nothing whole therein, but woundes, & swelling, and sores ful of corruption: thei haue not bene wrapped, nor bounde vp, nor mollified with oyle.

7 Your land is waste: your cities are burnt with fyre: strangers deuoure your land in your presence, and it is desolate like the ouerthrowe of strangers.

8 And the daughter of Ziôn shal remaine like a corage in a vineyarde, like a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, & like a besieged citie.

9 Except the Lord of hostes had reserved vnto vs, euen a smale remnant: we shulde haue bene as Sodom, & shulde haue bene like vnto Gomorâh.

10 Heare the worde of the Lord, o princes of Sodom: hearken vnto the Law of our God, o people of Gomorâh.

11 What haue I to do with the multitude of your sacrifices, saith the Lord: I am ful of the burnt offrings of rams, & of the fat of fed beastes: and I desire not the blood of bullockes, nor of lambes, nor of goates.

12 Whē ye come to appeare before me, who required this of your hâds to tread in my courtes?

13 Bring no mo oblations, in vaine: incense is an abomination vnto me: I can nor suffer your newe moones, nor sabbaths, nor solemne daies (it is iniquitie) nor solemne assemblies.

14 My soule hateth your newe moones & your appointed feasts: they are a burden vnto me: I am weary to beare them.

15 And whē you shal stretch out your hâds, I wil hide mine eyes from you: and thogh ye make manie prayers, I wil not heare: for your hands are ful of blood.

16 Wash you, make you cleane: take away the euil of your workes from before mine eyes: cease to do euil.

17 Learne to do wel: seke iudgement, relieue the oppressed: iudge the fatherles & defend the widowe.

18 Come now, & let vs reaso together, saith the Lord: thogh your sinnes were as crimson, they shalbe made white as snowe: thogh they were red like skarlet, they shalbe as well.

19 If ye consent and obey, ye shal eat the good things of the land.

20 But if ye refuse and be rebellious, ye shalbe deuoured with the sworde: for the mouth of the Lord hathe spoken it.

21 How is the faithful citie become an harlot? it was ful of iudgement, & iustice lodged therein, but now they are murderers.

22 Thy siluer is become drossie: thy wine is mixt with water.

23 Thy princes are rebellious and companions of s theues: euerie one loueth gifts, & followeth after rewards: they iudge not the fatherles, nether doeth the widowes cause come before them.

24 Therefore saith the Lord God of hostes, the mightie one of Israël, Ah, I wil ease me of mine aduersaries, and auenge me of mine enemies.

25 Then I wil turne mine hand vpon thee, and burne out thy drossie, til it be pure, & take away all thy rynne.

26 And I wil restore thy iudges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginnig:

his owne incredulitie and disobedience. d That is, Ierusalem, which had promised fidelitie vnto me, as a wife to her housband. e Given to courteousnes and extortion, which he signified before by blood. vers. 15. f Whatsoeuer was pure in thee before, is now corrupt, thogh thou haue an outward shewe. g That is, they mainteine the wicked & the extortioners, & not onely do not punish them, but are them selues suche. h When God wil shewe him self merciful to his Church, he calleth him self, The holie one of Israël: but when he hathe to do with his enemies, he is called Mighrie, as against whome no power is able to resist. i I wil take vengeance of mine aduersaries the Iewes, and so satisfie my desire by punishing them. Which thing yet he doeth with a grief because of his couenant. k Let the faithful among them shulde be overcome with this threatening, he addeth this consolation. l It is onely the worke of God to pricke the heart of man, which thing he doeth because of his promises, made concerning the saluacion of his Church.

t Without faith & repentance. u Your sacrifices offered in the new moones & feastes: he condemneth hereby hy pocrites, which thinke to please God with ceremonies, & they them selues are voides of faith and mercie. x He sheweth that where me be giuen to auarice, deceit, crueltye & extortion, which is meet by blood, there God wil shew his angre, and not accept them, thogh they seme neuer so holy, as Chap. 59. 3. y By this outward washing, he meaneth y spiritual: exhorting the Iewes to repent & amend their liues. z This kinde of reasoning, by the seconde table, the Scriptures vse in manie places against the hypocrites, who pretend moste holines & religion in worde, but when their charitie & loue toward their brethren shuld appeare, they declare y they haue nether faith nor religion. a To knowe if I do accuse you without cause. b Left sinners shulde pretend anie rigour on Gods parte, he onely willeth the to be pure in heart, & he wil forgie all their finnes, were they neuer so manie or great. c He sheweth that whatsoeuer aduersitie man indureth, it ought to be attributed to

The zeale of the godly.

Isaiáh. Gods terrible iudgements.

m By iustice is meant Gods faithful promes, & is the cause of y<sup>e</sup> deliuerance of his Church.

n The wicked shal not be partakers of Gods promes, Psal. 92.9.

o That is, the trees & pleasant places, where ye com mit idolatrie, which was forbidden, Dent. 16.22.

p The false god, wherein ye put your confidence, shal be consumed as easily, as a piece of tow.

afterwarde shalt thou be called a citie of righteousness, & a faithful citie.

27 Zión shalbe redemed in iudgement, and they that returne in her, in iustice.

28 And the destruction of the transgressours and of the sinners shalbe together: and they that forsake the Lord, shalbe consumed.

29 For they shal be confounded for the oakes, which ye haue desired, and ye shalbe ashamed of the gardens, that ye haue chosen.

30 For ye shalbe as an oke, whose lease fadeth: & as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the strong shalbe as towes, and the maker thereof, as a sparke: and they shal bothe burne together, & none shal quench them.

CHAP. II.

2 The Church shalbe restored by Christ, and the Gentiles called: 6 The punishment of the rebellious & obstinate.

1 The worde that Isaiáh the sonne of Amóz sawe vpon Iudáh and Ierusalém.

2 *It shalbe in the last daies, that the mountaine of the house of the Lord shalbe prepared in the top of the mountaines, & shal be exalted aboue the hilles, & all nacions shal flowe vnto it.

3 And manie people shal go, & say, Come, and let vs go vp to the mountaine of the Lord, to the house of the God of Iakób, & he wil teache vs his waies, and we wil walke in his paths: for the Law shal go forth of Zión, and the worde of the Lord from Ierusalém,

4 And he shal iudge among the natiōs, & rebuke manie people: they shal breake their swordes also into mattookes, & their speares into sitches: nacion shal not lift vp a sworde against nacion, nether shal they learne to fight anie more.

5 O house of Iakób, come ye, and let vs walke in the light of the Lord.

6 Surely thou hast forsaken thy people, the house of Iakób, because they are full of the East maners, and are forcerers as the Philistims, & abunde with strange children.

7 Their land also was full of siluer and golde, and there was none end of their treasures: and their land was full of horses, and their charrets were infinite.

8 Their land also was full of idoles: they worshipped the worke of their owne hāds, which their owne fingers haue made.

i He sheweth the frute of the peace, which the Gospel shulde bring: to wit, that men shulde do good one to another, where as before they were enemies. k He speaketh not against the vse of weapons and lawfull warre, but sheweth how the hearts of the godlie shalbe affected one toward another: which peace and loue doeth beginne and growe in this life, but shal be perfected, when we are ioyned with our head Christ Iesus.

l Seing the Gentiles wil be so readie, make you haste and shewe them the way to worship God. m The Prophet seing the small hope, that the Iewes wolde conuert, complaineth to God, as though he had vterly forsaken them for their finnes.

n Fall of the corruptions that reigned chiefly in the East partes.

o They altogether giue them selues to the factions of other nacions.

p The Prophet first condemned their superstition and idolatrie: next their couetousnes, and churdlly, their vaine trust in worldelic meanes.

9 And a man bowed him self, and a man hūbled him self: therefore spare the nor.

10 Enter into the rocke, & hide thee in the dult from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glorie of his maiestie.

11 The hie lōke of man shalbe humbled, and the loftines of men shalbe abased, & y<sup>e</sup> Lord onely shalbe exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lord of hostes is vpon all the proude and hautie, and vpon all that is exalted: and it shalbe made lowe.

13 Euen vpon all the cedres of Lebanōn, that are hie and exalted, and vpon all the oakes of Bashān,

14 And vpon all the high mountaines, & vpon all the hilles that are lifted vp,

15 And vpon euerie hie towre, and vpon euerie strong wall,

16 And vpon all the shippes of Tarsish, and vpon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the hautines of men shalbe brought lowe, and the loftines of men shalbe abased, and the Lord shal onely be exalted in that day.

18 And the idoles wil be vterly destroye.

19 Then they shal go into the holes of the rockes, and into the caues of the earth, from before the feare of the Lord, & from the glorie of his maiestie, when he shal arise to destroye the earth.

20 At that day shal man cast away his siluer idoles, and his golden idoles (which they had made them selues to worship them) to the mowles and to the backes,

21 To go into the holes of the rockes, and into the toppes of the ragged rockes from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glorie of his maiestie, when he shal rise to destroy the earth.

22 Cease you from the man whose breath is in his nostrilles: for wherein is he to be esteemed?

CHAP. III.

1 For the sinne of the people God wil take away the wise men, and giue them foolish prynces. 14 The couetousnes of the gouernours. 16 The pride of the women.

1 For lo, the Lord God of hostes wil take away from Ierusalém and from Iudáh the stay and the strength: euen all the stay of bread, and all the stay of water,

2 The strong man, and the man of warre, the iudge and the Prophet, the prudent and the aged,

3 The captaine of fiftie, and the honorable, and the counseler, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent man.

4 And I wil appoint children to be their prynces, and babes shal rule over them.

5 The people shalbe oppressed one of another, & euerie one by his neighbour: the childre shal presume against the anciēt, & the vile against the honorable.

6 When

q He noteth the nature of the idolaters, which are neuer satisfied in their superstitions.

r Thus y<sup>e</sup> Prophet spake, being inflamed with the zeale of Gods glorie, & that he might feare them wth Gods iudgement.

s Meaning, as long as God shal begin to execute his iudgements.

t By high trees & mountaines are ment them y<sup>e</sup> are proude, and loftie, and thinke them selues more strong in this worlde.

u He cōdemneth their vaine confidence, which they had in strong holdes, & in their riches, marchandise, & brought in vaine pleasures, where-with mens mindes became of feminate.

Hosai. 10. 1. Luk. 23. 30.

x They shal cast them into most vile and filthy places, when they perceiue y<sup>e</sup> they are not able to helpe them. y Cast of your vaine confidence of man, whose life is so fraile, that if his nose be stopped, he is dead, & consider that you haue to do with God.

Chap. III.

a Because their abundance & prosperitie the wth that they shulde be taken fro the. b The temporal gouernour & the minister. c By these he meaneth that God wolde take away euerie thing that was in any estimation, and wherein they had any occasion to vaite them selues.

d Not onely in age, but in wit, maners, knowledge & strength.

e For lacke of good regimēt and ordre.

f He sheweth that this plague shalbe so horrible, that contrary to the comone manner of men, w by nature are ambitious, none shalbe founde able or willing to be their gouernour.
g Feare shal rather cause him to forsweare himself, then to take such a dangerous charge vpon him.
h When God shal examine their dedes, wherevnto they now set an impudent face, he shal finde the marke of their impietie in their forehead.
i Be ye that are godlie assured y God wil defend you in y middes of these troubles.
k Because the wicked people were more adidite to their princes, then to y comādemēt of God, he sheweth y he wolde geue the such princes, by whome they shulde haue no helpe, but that shulde be manifest tokens of his wrath, because they shulde be soles & effeminate.
l Meaning, that the rulers and gouernours had destroyed his Church, & not preserved it, according to their dūtie.
m That is, ye shewe all crueltie against them.
n He menaceth y people, because of y arrogancie and pride of their women, which gaue them felicitie to all wantones & dissolution.
o Which declared their pride.
p As a signe, y they were not chaste.
q Which shewed their wantonnes.
r They delighted in slippers y did creak, or had litle plates sowed vpon them, w ryncled as they went.
s In rehearsing all these things particularly, he sheweth the lightnes, & vanitie of such content w comelie apparel according to their degree.

6 When euerie one shal take holde of his brother of the house of his father, & say, Thou hast clothing: thou shalt be our prince, and let this fall be vnder thine hand.

7 In that day he shal sweare, saying, I can not be an helper: for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing: therefore make me no prince of the people.

8 Douteles Ierusalēm is fallen, and Iudáh is fallen downe, because their tongue and workes are against the Lord, to prouoke the eyes of his glorie.

9 The bryal of their countenance testifieth against them, yea, thei declare their sinnes, as Sodóm, they hide them not. Wo be vnto their soules: for they haue rewarded euil vnto them selues.

10 Say ye, Surely it shalbe wel with y iuste: for they shal eat the frute of their workes.

11 Wo be to the wicked, it shalbe euil with him: for the rewarde of his bads shalbe giuen him.

12 Children are extorcioners of my people, and women haue rule ouer them: o my people, they that lead thee, cause thee to erre, and destroye the way of thy paths.

13 The Lord standeth vp to pleade, yea, he standeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lord shal entere into iudgemēt with the Ancients of his people and the princes thereof: for ye haue eaten vp the vineyarde: the spoyle of the poore is in your houses.

15 What haue ye to do, that ye beat my people to pieces, and grinde the faces of the poore, saith the Lord, euen the Lord of hostes?

16 The Lord also saith, Because the daughters of Zión are haucie, and walke with stretched out neckes, and with wandring eyes, walking and minling as they go, and making a tinkeling with their fere, 17 Therefore shal the Lord make the heads of the daughters of Zión balde, and the Lord shal discover their secret partes.

18 In that day shal the Lord take away the ornament of the slippers, & the calles, & the rounde tyres,

19 The swete balles, and the brasselets, and the bonnets,

20 The tyres of the head, and the sloppes, & the head bands, & the tablets, & y earrings,

21 The rings and the mufflers,

22 The costelie apparel and the vailles, and the wimples, and the crisping pinnes,

23 And the glasses and the fyne linen, and the hoodes, and the launes.

24 And in stead of swete sauour, there shalbe stinke, and in stead of a girdle, a rent, & in stead of dressing of y heere, baldnes, and in stead of a stomacher, a girding of sacke cloth, & burning in stead of beaucie.

content w comelie apparel according to their degree.

15 Thy men shal fall by the sworde, & thy strength in the battell.

26 Then shal her gates mourne and lamēt, and she, being desolate, shal sit vpon the grounde.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The smale remnant of men after the destruction of Ierusalēm. 2 The graces of God vpon them that remaine.

And in that day shal a fewen women take holde of one man, saying, We wil eat our owne bread, and we wil weare our owne garments: onely let vs be called by thy name, & take away our reproche.

2 In that day shal the budde of the Lord be beautiful and glorious, and the frute of the earth shalbe excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israël.

3 Then he that shalbe left in Zión, and he y shal remaine in Ierusalēm, shal be called holie, and euerie one shalbe written among the liuing in Ierusalēm,

4 When the Lord shal wash the filthines of the daughters of Zión, & purge the blood of Ierusalēm out of y middes thereof by the spirit of s iudgement, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the Lord shal creat vpon euerie place of mount Zión, and vpon the assemblies thereof, a cloude and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fyre by night: for vpon all the glorie shalbe a defense.

6 And a couering shalbe for a shadowe in the day for the heat, and a place of refuge and a couert for y storme & for the raine.

to the boke of life, whereof read Exod. 32, 32: meaning Gods secret counsell, wherein his elect are predestinate to life euertlasting. f That is, the crueltie, extortion, auarice, and all wickednes. g When things shalbe redressed, that were amisse. h He alludeth to the pillar of the cloude, Exod. 13, 21: meaning that Gods fauour & protection shulde appeare in euerie place. i The faithful are called the glorie of God, because his image, and tokens of his grace shine in them. k God promiserh to be the defense of his Church against all troubles and dangers.

CHAP. V.

1 Under the similitude of the vine he describeth the state of the people. 2 Of their auarice. 3 Their drunkennes. 13 Of their captiuitie.

Now wil I sing to my beloued a song of my beloued to his vineyard, My beloued had a vineyard in a verie fruteful hill,

2 And he hedged it, and gathered out the stones of it, and he planted it with the best plants, and he buylt a towre in y middes thereof, & made a wine presse therein: the he loked y it shulde bring forth the grapes: but it brought forth the wilde grapes.

3 Now therefore, o inhabitants of Ierusalēm & me of Iudáh, iudge, I pray you, betwene me, and my vineyarde.

4 What colde I haue done anie more to my vineyarde y I haue not done vnto it: why haue I loked that it shulde bring forth the grapes, & it bringeth forth the wilde grapes?

5 And now I wil tel you what I wil do to my vineyard: I wil take away y hedge as it was euident y they were the cause of their owne ruine. g I wil take no more care for it: meaning y he wolde take fro the his worde & ministers, & all other cofortes, & send them contrarie plagues.

Meaning, y God wil not onely punish y women, but their houses, w haue suffered this dissolution, and also y comone weale, w hath not remedied it.

Chap. IIII.

a When God shal execute this vengeance, there shal not be one man founde to be y head to manie women, & thei contrarie to womanly shamefastnes, shal seke vnto men, and offer them selues to anie condition.

b Bethou our hous band, and let vs be called thy wiues. c For so they thought it to be without an head & hous band.

d He comforteth y Church in this desolation, which shal spring vp like a bud, signifying that Gods graces shulde be as plentiful towards the faithful, as though they sprang out of the earth, as Chap. 45. 8.

e Some by the bud of y Lord meane Christ.

f He alludeth to the boke of life, whereof read Exod. 32, 32: meaning Gods secret counsell, wherein his elect are predestinate to life euertlasting. g That is, the crueltie, extortion, auarice, and all wickednes. h When things shalbe redressed, that were amisse. i He alludeth to the pillar of the cloude, Exod. 13, 21: meaning that Gods fauour & protection shulde appeare in euerie place. k The faithful are called the glorie of God, because his image, and tokens of his grace shine in them. l God promiserh to be the defense of his Church against all troubles and dangers.

a The Prophet by this song doeth set before y peoples eyes their ingratitude, and Gods mercie. b That is, to God.

c Meaning, y he had plared his Church in a place most plentiful and abundant.

d He spared no diligence nor cost.

e In y seuenth verse he declarerh what thei were.

f He maketh the iudges in their owne cause, for a smatche. g I wil take no more care for it: meaning y he wolde take fro the his worde & ministers, & all other cofortes, & send them contrarie plagues.

Oppression of the poore.

Isaiáh.

The worldely wise.

h Iudgement and righteousnes are true frutes of the feare of God, and therefore in the cruel oppressors there is no religion. i Of them that are oppressed. k To wit, for the poore to dwell in. l I haue heard the cōplaint, and crye of the poore. m Which containeth about ten portels: so y euerie acre shulde but yelde one portel. n Which containeth an hundred portels. o An Ephāh containeth ten portels, & is in drye things as muche as bath is in licours. p That spare no peine nor diligence to followe their lustes. q Which are neuer weary of their rioting and excessiue pleasures: but vse all meanes to prouoke to the same. r They regarde not the prouident care of God ouer them, nor for what end he hath created them. s That is, shal certainly go: for so the Prophet vsē to speake, as though the thing which shal come to passe, were done already. t Because they wolde not obey the worde of God. u Meaning, y graue shal swallowe vp them that shal dye for hungrē and thirst, and yet for all this great destruction it shal neuer be satisfie. x God comforteth y poore lames of his Church, w had bene strangers in other countreys, promising that they shulde dwell in those places againe, whereof they had bene deprived by the fat, and cruel tyrants. y Which vse all allurements, occasions, and excuses to harden their conscience in sinne. z He sheweth what are the wordes of the wicked, when they are menaced with Gods iudgements, 2 Pet. 3. 4. a Which are not ashamed of sinne, nor care for honestie, but are growen to a desperate impietie.

thereof, & it shal be eaten vp: I wil breake the wall thereof, & it shal be trode downe: 6 And I wil lay it waste: it shal not be cut, nor digged, but briars, & thornes shal growe vp: I wil also commande the cloudes that they raine no raine vpon it. 7 Surely the vineyarde of the Lord of hostes is the house of Israël, and the men of Iudáh are his pleasant plant, and he looked for iudgement: but beholde oppression for righteousness, but beholde a crying. 8 Wo vnto the that ioynē house to house, and lay field to field, til there be no place, that ye may be placed by your selues in the middes of the earth. 9 This is in mine cares, saith the Lord of hostes. Surely manie houses shalbe desolate, eue great, & sayre without inhabitant. 10 For ten acres of vines shal yelde one bath, & the fede of an homer shal yelde an ephāh. 11 Wo vnto them, that rise vp early to followe drunkennes, and to them that continue vntil a night, til the wine do inflame them. 12 And the harpe and viole, timbrel, and pipe, and wine are in their feastes: but they regarde not the worke of y Lord, nether consider the worke of his hands. 13 Therefore my people is gone into captiuitie, because they had no knowledge, and the glorie thereof are men famished, & the multitude thereof is dried vp with thirst. 14 Therefore he hath enlarged it self, and hath opened his mouth, without measure, and their glorie, and their multitude, and their pompe, and he that reioyced among them, shal descende into it. 15 And man shalbe brought downe, and man shalbe humbled, eue the eyes of the proude shalbe humbled. 16 And the Lord of hostes shalbe exalted in iudgement, and the holie God shalbe sanctified in iustice. 17 Then shal the lames fede after their maner, and the strangers shal eat the desolate places of the fat. 18 Wo vnto them, that drawe iniquitie w y cordes of vanitie, and sinne, as with cart ropes: 19 Which say, Let him make spede: let him hasten his worke, that we may se it: & let the counsel of the holie one of Israël drawe nere and come, that we may knowe it. 20 Wo vnto them that speake good of euil, and euil of good, which put darkenes for light, and light for darkenes, that put bitter for swete, and swete for sowre.

21 Wo vnto them that are wise in their owne eyes, and prudent in their owne sight. 22 Wo vnto them that are mightie to drinke wine, and to them that are strong to powre in strong drinke: 23 Which iustifie the wicked for a rewarde, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him. 24 Therefore as y flame of fyre deuoureth the stubble, and as the chaffe is consumed of the flame: so their roote shalbe as rottennes, and their budde shal rise vp like dust, because they haue cast of the Law of the Lord of hostes, and contemned the worde of the holie one of Israël. 25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, & he hath stretched out his hand vpon them, and hath smitten them that y mountaines did treble: and their karcafes were torne in the middes of the stretes, & for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was stretched out stil. 26 And he wil lift vp a signe vnto the nations a farre, and wil hille vnto them from the end of the earth: & he holde, they shal come hastily with spede. 27 None shal faint nor fall among them: none shal slumber nor slepe, nether shal the girdle of his loynes be losed, nor the latchet of his shoes be broken: 28 Whose arrowes shalbe sharpe, & all his bowes bent: his horse hooves shalbe thought like flint, & his wheles like a whirle wide. 29 His roaring shalbe like a lyon, and he shal roare like lyons whelpes: they shal roare, and lay holde of the pray: they shal take it away, and none shal deliuer it. 30 And in that day they shal roare vpon them, as the roaring of the sea: & if they loke vnto the earth, beholde darkenes, and sorow, and the light shalbe darkened in their skie.

CHAP. VI.

1 Isaiáh sheweth his vocation by the Vision of the diuine maiestie. 2 He sheweth the obstinacie of the people. 3 The destruction of the land. 4 The remnant reserved. 5 In the yere of the death of King Vzziah, I sawe also the Lord sitting vpon a high throne, and lifted vp, and the lower partes thereof filled the temple. 6 The Seraphims stode vpon it: euerie one had six wings: with twaine he couered his face, and with twaine he couered his fete, and with twaine he did flie. 7 And one cryed to another, and said, Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord of hostes, the Lord of hostes, the Lord of hostes. 8 As a iudge ready to giue sentence. 9 Of his garment, or of his throne. 10 They were Angels so called, because they were of a fyrie colour, to signifye they burnt in the loue of God, or were light as fyre to execute his will. 11 Signifying, that they were not able to endure the brightness of Gods glorie. 12 Whereby was declared that man was not able to see the brightness of God in them. 13 Which thing declareth the prompt obedience of the Angels to execute Gods comandement. 14 This oft repetition signifieth that the holy Angels can not satisfie them selues in praising God, to reache vs that in all our liues we shulde giue our selues to the continual praise of God.

b Which are contemners of all doctrine & admonition. c Which are neuer weary, but shew their strength, and bragge in glorye and drunkenness. d Bothe they and their posteritie, so that nothing shalbe left. e He sheweth that God had so sore punished this people, that the dumme creatures, if they had bene so plagued, wolde haue bene more sensible, and therefore his plagues must continue, til they begin to fele them. f He wil make y Babylonians to come againe the at his becke, and to fight vnder his banner. g They shalbe prompt, and lustie to execute Gods vengeance. h The enimie shal haue none impediment. i Whereby is declared the crueltie of the enimie. k The Iewes shal finde no succour. l In the land of Iudáh. m God sheweth not him self to mā in his maiestie, but according as mā capacitie is able to comprehend him: that is by visible signes, as Iohn Baptist sawe the holie God in the forme of a doone.

ly, holy, holy is <sup>y</sup> Lord of hostes: the whole worlde is ful of his glorie.

And the lintels of the dore chekes <sup>k</sup> moued at the voyce of him that cryed, and the house was filled with smoke.

Then I said, <sup>1</sup> Wo is me: for I am vndone, because I am a man of polluted lippes, and I dwell in the middes of a people of polluted lippes: for mine eyes haue sene the King and Lord of hostes.

Then fiewe one of the Seraphims vnto me with an hote cole in his hand, which he had take from the <sup>m</sup> altar with the tongs:

And he touched my mouth, & said, Lo, this hath touched thy lippes, and thine iniquitie shalbe taken away, and thy <sup>n</sup> sinne shalbe purged.

Also I heard the voyce of the Lord, saying, Whome shal I send? and who shal go for vs? Then I sayd, Here am I, send me.

And he said, Go, and say vnto this people, <sup>o</sup> Ye shal heare in dede, but ye shal not vnderstand: ye shal plainly se, & not perceiue.

Make the heart of this people fat, make their eares heauie, and shut their eyes, lest they se with their eyes, & heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, and conuert, and he heale them.

Then said I, Lord, <sup>p</sup> how long? And he answered, Vntil the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be vterly desolate,

And the Lord haue remoued men farre away, and <sup>there be</sup> a great desolation in the middes of the land.

But yet in it <sup>shalbe</sup> a tenth, and shal returne, and shalbe eaten vp as an elme <sup>r</sup> or as an oke, which haue a substance in them, when they cast <sup>their leaues</sup>: so the holie sede shalbe the substance thereof.

And in the dayes of * Aház, the sonne of Iothám, the sonne of Vzziah King of Iudáh, Rezin the King of * Arám <sup>a</sup> came vp, and Pekáh the sonne of Remaliah King of Israël, to Ierusalem to fight against it, but he colde not ouercome it.

And it was tolde the house of <sup>b</sup> Dauid, saying, Arám is ioyned with <sup>c</sup> Ephraim: therefore his heart was <sup>d</sup> moued, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moued by the winde.

<sup>3</sup> ¶ Then said the Lord vnto Isaiáh, Go

forthe now to mete Aház (thou and <sup>e</sup> Shear-iashub thy sonne) at the end of the conduit of the vpper poole, in the path of the fullers field,

And say vnto him, Take hede, & be still: feare not, nether be faint hearted for the two tailes of these smoking <sup>f</sup> fyrebrandes, for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Arám, and of Remaliahs sonne:

Because Arám hath taken wicked counsel against thee, & Ephraim, & Remaliahs sonne, saying,

Let vs go vp against Iudáh, & let vs wake them vp, and make a bieche therein for vs, and set a King in the middes thereof: <sup>euen</sup> the sonne of <sup>s</sup> Tabeál.

Thus saith the Lord God, It shal not stand, nether shal it be.

For the head of Arám is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin: and with in fye & <sup>h</sup> threscore yere, Ephraim shalbe destroyed from being a people.

And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliahs sonne. If ye beleue not, surely ye shal not be establi shed.

¶ And the Lord spake againe vnto Aház, saying,

Aske <sup>i</sup> a signe for thee of the Lord thy God: aske it, <sup>ether</sup> in the depth or in the height aboue.

But Aház said, I wil not aske, nether wil I <sup>k</sup> tempt the Lord.

Then he said, Heare you now, <sup>o</sup> house of Dauid, Is it a smale thing for you to grieue <sup>l</sup> men, that ye wil also grieue my God?

Therefore the Lord <sup>m</sup> him self wil giue you a signe. Beholde, the virgine shal conceiue and beare a sonne, and she shal call his name <sup>i</sup> Immánu-él.

<sup>n</sup> Butter and honie shal he eat, til he haue knowledge to refuse the euil, & to chuse the good.

For a fore <sup>y</sup> <sup>o</sup> childe shal haue knowledge to eschewe the euil, and to chuse the good, the land, that thou abhorrest, shalbe forsaken of bothe her Kings.

The Lord shal bring vpon thee, and vpon thy people, and vpon thy fathers house (the daies that haue not come fró the daie that <sup>p</sup> Ephraim departed from Iudáh) <sup>euen</sup> the King of <sup>q</sup> Affhúr.

And in that day shal the Lord hisse for the <sup>r</sup> flie that is at the vtermoste parte of the floods of Egypt, & for the bee which is in the land of Affhúr,

And thei shal come and shal light all in the desolate valleis, and in the holes of the rockes, and vpon all thornie places, and be nourished as other men, vntil <sup>s</sup> age of discretiō. <sup>o</sup> Not meanig Christ, but anie childe: for before a childe can come to the yeres of discretiō, the Kings of Samaria and Syria shal be destroyed. <sup>p</sup> Since the time that the twelve tribes rebelled vnder Roboám. <sup>q</sup> In whome thou hast put thy trust. <sup>r</sup> Meaning, the Egyptians: for by reason the countrie is hote and moiste, it is ful of flies, as Afiyria is ful of bees.

<sup>i</sup> For the confirmation of this thing, that thine enemies shalbe destroyed & thou preserved.

<sup>k</sup> Not to beleue Gods worde without asigne is to tempt God: but to refuse a signe whē God offereth it for <sup>y</sup> aide & helpe of our infirmities, is to rebel against him.

<sup>l</sup> You thinke you haue to do wth men, whē ye contemne Gods messengers: but it is God, against whome you bend your felues.

<sup>m</sup> Forasmuche as thou art vnworthy, <sup>y</sup> Lord for his owne promes sake wil giue a signe & shalbe that Christ the Saviour of his Church & the effect of all signes & miracles shalbe reueiled.

<sup>n</sup> Or, God wisheth, which name can agree to no one, but to him, that is God and man.

<sup>o</sup> Meaning, that Christ is not onely God, but man also, because he shal be nourished as other men, vntil <sup>s</sup> age of discretiō. <sup>p</sup> Not meanig Christ, but anie childe: for before a childe can come to the yeres of discretiō, the Kings of Samaria and Syria shal be destroyed. <sup>q</sup> Since the time that the twelve tribes rebelled vnder Roboám. <sup>r</sup> In whome thou hast put thy trust. <sup>s</sup> Meaning, the Egyptians: for by reason the countrie is hote and moiste, it is ful of flies, as Afiyria is ful of bees.

<sup>2</sup> Which things were to confirme the Prophet, that it was not the voyce of man: and by the smoke was signified the blindnesses <sup>y</sup> shulde come vpon the Iewes.

<sup>5</sup> This declareth that man can not rendre true obedience to God, til he haue purged vs.

<sup>6</sup> Whereby is declared that for the malice of man God wil not immediately take away his worde, but he wil cause it to be preached to their condemnation, when as they wil not learne thereby to obey his wil, and be saued: hereby he exhorteth the ministers to do their duetie, and answereth to the wicked murmurers, that through their owne malice their heart is hardened.

<sup>7</sup> As he was moued with the zeale of Gods glorie, so was he touched with a charitable affection toward the people.

<sup>8</sup> Meaning, the tenth parte: or as some write, it was reueiled to Isaiáh for the confirmation of his prophecie, that ten Kings shulde come before their captiuitie, as were from Vzziah to Zedekiah. <sup>r</sup> For the fewenes they shal seme to be eaten vp: yet they shal after flourish as a tre, which in winter loseth his leaues, and semeth to be dead, yet in Sommer is fresh, and grene.

3 The captiuitie of Israël & Iudah by the Assyrians.
6 The infidelitie of the Iewes. 9 The destruction of the Assyrians. 14 Christ the stone of stumbling to the wicked. 19 The worde of God must be inquired at.

1 MOREouer, y Lord said vnto me, Take thee a<sup>a</sup> great role, and write in it<sup>b</sup> with a mans penne, Make spede to the spoyler: haste to the pray.

2 Then I toke vnto me<sup>c</sup> faithful witnessses to recorde, Vriah the Priest, and Zechariah the sonne of I berechiah.

3 After, I came vnto the<sup>d</sup> Prophetesse, w conceiued, and bare a sonne. Then said the Lord to me, Call his name, Mahér-shalal hash baz.

4 For before the<sup>e</sup> childe shal haue knowledge to crye, My father, and my mother, he shal take away the riches of Damascus and the spoile of Samaria, before the King of Asshur.

5 And y Lord spake yet againe vnto me,
saying,

6 Because this people hathe refused the waters of s Shiloáh that runne softly, and reioyce with Rezin, and the sonne of Remaliah,

7 Now therefore beholde, the Lord bring-

9 Gather together on heapes, o ye<sup>l</sup> people, and ye shalbe broken in pieces, and hearkē

ues, and you shalbe broken in pieces: girde your selues, & you shalbe broken in pieces.

10 Take counsel together, yet it shalbe brought to naught: pronounce a decre, yet shal it not stand: for God is with vs.

11 For y Lord spake thus to me in takig<sup>m</sup> of mine hād, & taught me, y I shulde not wal-ke in the way of this people, saying,

12 Say ye not, A<sup>n</sup> confederacie to all them, to whome this people saith a confederacie, nether feare you<sup>o</sup> their feare, nor be a-fraied of them.

13 Sanctifie the Lord of hostes, and let him be your feare, and let him be your dread,

14 And he shalbe as a<sup>q</sup> Sanctuarie: but as a stōbling stone & as a rocke to fall vpon, to bothe the houses of Israél, & as a snare &
as a netto to the inhabitants of Ierusalēm.

15 And manie among them shal stōmble, and shal fall and shal be broken and shalbe snared & shalbe taken.

16 Binde vp the testimonie: seale vp the Law among my disciples.

17 Therefore I wil wait vpō the Lord that hathe hid his face from the house of Iaa-kōb, and I wil loke for him.

18 Beholde I, and the<sup>r</sup> children whome the Lord hathe giue me, are as signes & as wōders in Israél, by y Lord of hostes, which dwelleth in mount Zōn.

19 And whē thei shal say vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirit of diuination, and at the south saiers, which whisper and murmur, u Shulde not a people enquire at their God<sup>s</sup> from the<sup>x</sup> liuing to the dead?

20 To the<sup>y</sup> Lawe, and to the testimonie, if they speake not according to this worde: it is because there is no<sup>z</sup> light in them.

21 Thē he that is afflicted & famished, shal go to and fro in<sup>a</sup> it: & when he shalbe hun-grie, he shal euen freat him self, b and curse his King and his gods, & shal loke vpwarde.

22 And whē he shal loke to the earth, beholde trouble, & c darkenes, vexacion & anguish, and he is drinen to darkenes.

t This was a consolation in their troubles, knowing that nothing colde come vnto them, but by the wil of the Lord. u Answer the wicked thus, Shulde not Gods people seke succour onely at him. x That is, wil thei refuse to be taught of the Prophet, who is the mouth of God, and seke helpe at the dead, which is the illusion of Satan? y Seke remedie in the worde of God where his wil is declared. z Thei haue no knowledge, but are blinde leaders of y blinde. a That is, in Iudah, where thei shulde haue had rest, if thei had not thus griuously offended God. b In whome afore thei put their trust. c Thei shal thinke y heauen and earth & all creatures are bent against the to trouble thei.

land of Zebulún and the land of Naph-

The people that walked in darkenes, haue sene a great light: thei that dwelled in the land of the shadow of death, vpon them hath the light shined.

Thou hast multiplied the natiõ, & not increased their ioye: thei haue reioyced before thee according to the ioye in haruest, & as men reioyce whē they diuide a spoile.

For the yoke of their burdē, & the staffe of their shulder & the rodde of their op-pressour hast thou broken as in the day of Midian.

Surely euerie battel of the warriour is with noise, & with tumbling of garmets in blood: but this shalbe with burning and deuouring of fyre.

For vnto vs a Childe is borne, & vnto vs a sonne is giuē: & the gouernement is vpō his shulder, & he shal call his name Wonderful, Counsellor, The mightie God, The euerlastig Father, The prince of peace,

The increase of his gouernement and peace shal haue none end: he shal sit vpō the throne of Dauid, & vpon his kingdome, to order it, and to stablish it with iudgement and with iustice, from hence forth, eue for euer: the zeale of the Lord of hostes wil performe this.

The Lord hath sent a worde into Iaakób, and it hath lighted vpon Israél.

And all the people shal knowe, eue Ephrá-im, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that saie in y pride & presumptiõ of y heart,

The bricke are fallē, but we wil buyl-de it with hewen stones: the wilde figtrees are cut downe, but we wil change the into cedres.

Neuertheles the Lord wil raise vp the aduersaries of Rezin against him, & ioi-ne his enemies together.

Arám before & the Philistims behind, and thei shal deuoure Israél with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not turned awaie, but his hand is stretched out stil.

For the people turneth not vnto him that smiceth the, nether do thei seke the Lord of hostes.

Therefore wil the Lord cut of from Israél head and taile, branch and rush in one daie.

The ancient and the honorable man, he is the head: & the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the taile.

For the leaders of the people cause the to erre: and thei that are led by them, are deuoured.

Therefore shal the Lord haue no pleasure in their yong men, nether wil he haue compassiõ of their fatherles and of their widowes: for euerie one is an hypo-cite and wicked, and euerie mouth speaketh folie: yet for all this his wrath is not turned awaie, but his hand is stretched out stil.

For wickednes burneth as a fyre: it de-uoureth briers & the thornes & wil kindle in the thicke places of the forest: and thei shal mounte vp like the lifting vp of smoke.

By the wrath of the Lord of hostes shal the land be darkened, and the people shal-be as y meat of the fyre: no mā shal spare his brother.

And he shal snatche at the right hand, & be hungrie: & he shal eat on the left hand, and shal not be satisfied: euerie one shal eat the flesh of his owne arme.

Manasséh, Ephráim: & Ephráim Manasseh, and thei bothe shalbe against Iudáh:
yet for all this his wrath is not turned awaie, but his hand is stretched out stil.

CHAP. X.

Of wicked lawe makers: God wil punish his people by the Assyrians and after destroye them. 21 The remnant of Israél shalbe saved.

W vnto them that decree wicked decrees, & write grieuous
things,

To kepe backe the poore from iudgemēt, and to take awaie the iudgement of the poore of my people, that widowes maie be their praie, and that thei maie spoile the fatherles.

What wil ye do now in the daie of visitation, & of destruction, which shal come fro farre: to whome wil ye flee for helpe?
and where wil ye leaue your glorie?

Without me euerie one shal fall among them y are boude, & thei shal fall downe among the slaine: yet for all this his wrath is not turned awaie, but his hand is stretched out stil.

O Asshúr, the rodde of my wrath: and y staffe in their hands is mine indignatiõ.

I wil send him to a dissembling nation, and I wil giue him a charge against the people of my wrath to take the spoile & to take the praie, and to treade them vnder fete like the myre in the strete.

But he thinketh not so, nether doeth his heart esteeme it so: but he imagineth to destroie and to cut of not a fewe nacions.

workes of God & of y wicked in one verie thing and after for Gods intencion is to chastice them for their amendement, and the Assyrians purpose is to de-stroye them to enriche them selues: thus in respect of Gods iustice, it is Gods workes, but in respect of their owne malice, it is the workes of the deuil.

Wickednes
as a bellowe kindleth the fy-re of Gods wrath, which consumeth all his obdurate enemies.

Though there were no foren enimie, yet thei shal de-

Blasphemie of the enemy. Isaiáh. Prophecie of Christ.

- 8 For he saith, Are not my princes all together Kings?
- 9 Is not Calnó as Carchemish? Is not Hamath like Arpad? Is not Samaria as Damascus?
- 10 Like as mine hand hath founded the kingdoms of the idoles, seeing their idoles were aboute Ierusalém, and aboute Samaria:
- 11 Shal not I, as I haue done to Samaria, & to the idoles thereof, so do to Ierusalém and to the idoles thereof?
- 12 ¶ But when the Lord hath accomplished all his worke vpon mount Ziön and Ierusalém, I wil visit the frute of the proude heart of the King of Asshur, and his glorious and proude lokes,
- 13 Because he said, By the power of mine owne hand haue I done it, and by my wisdom, because I am wise: therefore I haue remoued the borders of the people, and haue spoiled their treasures, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a valiant man.
- 14 And mine hand hath founded as a nest the riches of the people, and as one gathereth egges that are left, so haue I gathered all the earth: and there was none to moue the wing or to open the mouth, or to whisper.
- 15 Shal the axe boast it self against him which heweth therewith? or shal the saw exalt it self against him that moueth it? as if the rod shulde lift vp it self against him that taketh it vp, or the staffe shulde exalt it self, as it were no wood.
- 16 Therefore shal the Lord God of hostes send among his fat men, leane ones, and vnder his glorie he shal kindle a burning, like the burning of fyre.
- 17 And the light of Israel shalbe as a fyre, and the Holy one thereof as a flame, and it shal burne, and deuoure his thornes and his briers in one day:
- 18 And shal consume the glorie of his forest, & of his fruteful fields bothe soule and flesh: and he shalbe as the fainting of a standerd bearer.
- 19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shalbe fewe, that a childe may tel them.
- 20 ¶ And at that day shal the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Iaakób, staye no more vpon him that smote them, but shal stay vpon the Lord, the holy one of Israel in trueth.
- 21 The remnant shal returne, euen the remnant of Iaakób vnto the mightie God.
- 22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sand of the sea, yet shal the remnant of the returne. The consumption decreed shal ouerflowe with righteousness.
- 23 For the Lord God of hostes shal make the consumption, euen determined, in the middes of all the land.
- 24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, O my people, that dwellest in Ziön, be not afraid of Asshur: he shal smite thee with a rod, and shal lift vp his staffe against thee after the maner of Egypt:
- 25 But yet a very litle time, and the wrath shalbe consumed, and mine angre in their destruction.
- 26 And the Lord of hostes shal raise vp a scourge for him, according to the plague of Midian in the rocke Oré: and as his staffe was vpon the Sea, so he wil lift it vp after the maner of Egypt.
- 27 And at that day shal his burde be taken away from of thy shulder, & his yoke from of thy necke: & the yoke shalbe destroyed because of the anointing.
- 28 He is come to Aiath: he is passed into Migrón: at Michmash shal he lay vp his armour.
- 29 They haue gone ouer the foorde: they lodged in the lodging at Gebá: Ramah is afraid: Gibeáh of Saúl is fled away.
- 30 Lift vp thy voice, O daughter Gallim, cause Laish to heare, O poore Anathóth.
- 31 Madmenáh is remoued: the inhabitants of Gebim haue gathered them selues together.
- 32 Yet there is a time when he wil stay at Nob: he shal lift vp his hand toward the mount of the daughter Ziön, the hill of Ierusalém.
- 33 Beholde, the Lord God of hostes shal cut off the bough with feare, and the high stature shalbe cut of, and the high shalbe humbled.
- 34 And he shal cut away the thicke places of the forest with yron, & Lebanon shal haue a mightie fall.

CHAP. XI.

1 Christ borne of the roots of Ishai. 2 His Vertues and Kingdomes. 3 The frutes of the Gospel. 4 The calling of the Gentiles.

¶ But there shal come a rod for the of the stocke of Ishai, & a grafe shal growe out of his rootes.

2 And the Spirit of the Lord shal rest vpon him: the Spirit of wisdom and vnderstanding, the Spirit of counsel & strength, the Spirit of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lord,

3 And shal make him prudent in the feare of the Lord: for he shal not iudge after the sight of his eyes, nether reprove by the hearing of his eares.

4 But with righteousness shal he iudge the poore, and with equitie shal he reprove for the meke of the earth: and he shal smite the earth with the rodde of his mouth, & with the breath of his lippes shal he slay the wicked.

5 And iustice shalbe the girdle of his loynes, & faithfulness the girdle of his raires.

¶ Seeing that I haue ouercome, as well one citie as another, so that none coulde resist, shal Ierusalém be able to escape mine hands?

¶ When he hath the sufficient chastised his people (for he beginneth at his owne house) the will he burne the rodde. i Meaning, of Sancherib.

¶ Here we see that no creature is able to do any thing, but as God appointeth him, & that they are all but his instruments to do his worke, though the intentions be diuerse, as ver 6. i Meaning, that God is a light to comfort his people, & a fyre to burne his enemies. m That is, the Assyrians. n To wit, bodie and soule utterly. o When Sancherib is lost, and the standerd taken. p This is the end of Gods plagues towards him, to bring them to him and to forsake all trust in others. q This smale number, & seemed to be consumed, and yet according to Gods decree is sowed, shalbe sufficient to fill all the worlde with righteousnes. r God wil destroy this land as he hath determined, and after saue a small portion.

¶ As Egyptians did punish mee.

¶ Read Chap. 9. 4.

¶ When the Israelites passed through by the living vp of Moses rod, & the enemies were drowned, Exod. 14. 28.

¶ Because of the promise made to that kingdome, whereby Christs kingdome was prefigured.

¶ He describeth by what way the Assyrians shulde come against Ierusalém to confirme his faithfull, when it shulde come to passe, that as their plague was come, so shulde they be deliuered.

¶ Feare & destruction shal come vpon Iudah: for the princes and people shal be led away captiues.

¶ Because the captiuitie of Babylon was a figure of spiri- tual captiuitie vnder sinne, he sheweth that our true deliuerance must come by Christ for as David came out of Ishai a man with out dignitie: so Christ shulde come of a poore carpenters house as out of a dead stocke. Chap. 33. 2

¶ All these properties can agree to none but onely vnto Christ: for it is he that toucheth the heartes of the faithfull and mortifieth their concupiscences: & to the wicked he is a sanour of death & to them that shal perish: so that all the worlde shal be smitten with this rodde, & his word.

e Me because of their wicked affections are named by the names of beasts, where in the like affections reign: but Christ by his Spirit shall reforme them, & worke in them such mutual charitie, that they shall be like lambs, following & loving one another, and each of all their cruel affections, Chap. 66.5.

i Meaning, a corner of the sea, y<sup>e</sup> entred into the land, and hath the forme of a tongue.

k To wit, Nilus, the great river of Egypt, which entred into the sea with sweet streames.

l Chap. XII. a He sheweth how the Church shall praise God, when they are delivered from their captivity.

m Our saluacion standeth onely in God, who giveth vs an assured confidence, confidencie & occasion to praise him for the same.

6 The wolfe also shall dwell with the labe, and the leopard shall lye with the kid, and the calfe, and the lyon, and the fat beast together, and a litle childe shall lead them.

7 And the kowe and the beare shall fede: their yong ones shall lie together: and the lyon shall eat strawe like the bullocke.

8 And the sucking childe shall play vpon y<sup>e</sup> hole of the aspe, & the wained childe shall put his hand vpon the cockatrice hole.

9 Then shall none hurt nor destroy in all the mountaine of mine holines: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters that couer the sea.

10 And in that day y<sup>e</sup> roote of Ishai, which shall stand vp for a signe vnto the people, the naciōs shall seeke vnto it, & his rest shall be glorious.

11 And in the same day shall the Lord stretch out his hand againe the second time, to possesse the remnant of his people, (which shall be left) of Asshur, and of Egypt, and of Pathros, and of Ethiopia, and of Elam, & of Shinear, and of Hamath, and of the yles of the sea.

12 And he shall set vp a signe to the naciōs, and assemble the dispersed of Israel, and gather the scattered of Iudah from the foure corners of the worlde.

13 The hatred also of Ephraim shall departe, and the aduersaries of Iudah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not enuie Iudah, neither shall Iudah vexe Ephraim:

14 But they shall slee vpon the shoulders of the Philistims toward the West: they shall spoyle them of the East together: Edom & Moab shall be the stretching out of their hands, & the children of Ammon in their obedience.

15 The Lord also shall utterly destroye the tongue of the Egyptians sea, & with his mightie winde shall lift vp his hand ouer the riuier, and shall smite him in his seven streames, and cause men to walke therein with shoes.

16 And there shall be a path to the remnant of his people, which are left of Asshur, like as it was vnto Israel in the day that he came vp out of the land of Egypt.

CHAP. XII.

A thanksgiving of the faithful for the mercies of God.

1 And thou shalt say in that day, O Lord, I wil praise thee: thogh thou wast angrie with me, thy wrath is turned away, and thou comfortest me.

2 Beholde, God is my saluacio: I wil trust, and wil not feare: for the Lord God is my strength and song: he also is become my saluacion.

3 Therefore with ioy shall ye drawe waters out of the welles of saluacion.

4 And ye shall say in that day, * Praise the Lord: call vpon his Name: declare his workes among the people: make mention of them, for his Name is exalted.

5 Sing vnto the Lord, for he hath done excellent things: this is knowen in all the worlde.

6 Crye out, and shoute, o inhabitant of Zion: for great is the holy one of Israel in the middes of thee.

d Ye that are of the Church.

The Medes and Persians shall destroye Babylon.

1 The burden of Babel, which Isaiáh the sonne of Amoz did se.

2 Lift vp a standard vpon the hie mountaine: lift vp the voyce vnto them: wagge the b<sup>e</sup> hād, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.

3 I haue commanded them, that I haue sanctified: and I haue called the mightie to my wrath, & they that reioyce in my glorie.

4 The noyse of a multitude is in the mountaines, like a great people: a tumultuous voyce of the kingdomes of the naciōs gathered together: the Lord of hostes nombreth the hoste of the battell.

5 They come from a farre countrey, from the end of the heauen: euen the Lord with the weapons of his wrath to destroy the whole land.

6 Howle ye you, for the day of the Lord is at hand: it shall come as a destroyer from the Almighty.

7 Therefore shall all hands be weakened, & all mens hearts shall melt,

8 And they shall be afayed: anguish & sorow shall take them, and they shall haue peine, as a woman that trauaileth: euerie one shall be amazed at his neighbour, and their faces shall be like flames of fyre.

9 Beholde, the daye of the Lord cometh, cruel, with wrath and fierce angre to lay the land waste: and he shall destroy the sinners out of it.

10 For the starres of heauen and the planets thereof shall not giue their light: the sunne shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moone shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I wil visite the wickednes vpon the worlde, and their iniquitie vpon the wicked, and I wil cause the arrogancie of the proude to cease, and wil cast downe the pride of tyrants.

12 I wil make a man more precious then fine golde, euen a man about the wedge of golde of Ophir:

a That is, the great calamitie, which was prophesied to come on Babel, as a moite greivous burden, & they were not able to beare it in these 12 Chapters following, he speaketh of y<sup>e</sup> plagues, wherewith God wolde smite these strange naciōs, (whome they knew) to declare that God chastised Israel as his children, & these other as his enemies: & also that if God spare not these that are ignorant, y<sup>e</sup> they must not thinke strange, if he punished them, & haue knowledge of his Law and kepe it not.

b To wit, to the Medes & the Persians.

16 * Their <sup>n</sup> children also shalbe broken in pieces before their eies: their houses shalbe spoiled, and their wiues rauished.

17 Beholde, I wil stirre vp the Medes agāst them, which shal not regard siluer, nor be desirous of golde.

18 With bowes also shal they destroe the children, & shal haue no compassion vpon the frute of the wombe, and their eies shal not spare the children.

19 And Babel the glorie of kingdomes, the beautie and pride of the Chaldeans, shalbe as the destruction of God * in Sodóm & Gomoráh.

20 It shal not be inhabited for euer, nether shal it be dwelled in from generacion to generacion: nether shal the <sup>o</sup> Arabian picche his tēts there, nether shal the shepherdes make their foldes there.

21 But <sup>p</sup> Ziim shal lodge there, and their houses shalbe ful of Ohim: Ostriches shal dwell there, & the Satyrs shal dance there.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The returne of the people from captiuitie. 4 The derision of the King of Babylon. 11 The death of the King. 29 The destruction of the Philistims.

For <sup>a</sup> the Lord wil haue compassion of Iakób, and wil yet chuse Israël, and cause them to rest in their owne land: and the stranger <sup>b</sup> shal ioyne him self vnto them, and they shal cleaue to the house of Iakób.

And the people shal receiue the & bring them to their owne place, & the house of Israël shal possesse them in the land of the Lord, for <sup>c</sup> seruants & handmaids: & they shal take the prisoners, whose captiues they were, & haue rule ouer their oppressors.

¶ And in that day whē the Lord shal giue thee rest from thy sorow, and from thy feare, and from the sore bondage, wherein thou didst serue,

4 Then shalt thou take vp this prouerbe against the King of Babel, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased? and the golde thirstie Babel rested?

5 The Lord hath broken the rodde of the wicked, and the sceptre of the rulers:

6 Which smote the people in angre with a continual plague, & ruled the nations in wrath: if anie were persecuted, he did <sup>d</sup> not let.

7 The whole worlde is at rest & is quiet: they sing for ioye.

8 Also the syrr trees reioyced of thee, & the cedres of Lebanón, saying, Since thou art laide downe, no hewer came vp agāst vs.

9 Hell beneth is moued for thee to <sup>f</sup> mete thee at thy comming, raising vp the dead for thee, <sup>euen</sup> all the princes of the earth, and hath raised from their thrones all the Kings of the nations.

10 All thei shal crye, and say vnto thee, Art thou become weake also as we? art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe is brought downe to the graue, & the sounde of thy violes: the worme is spread vnder thee, and the wormes couer thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heauē, <sup>o</sup> Lucifer, sonne of the morning? & cut downe to the ground, which didst cast lottes vpon the nations?

13 Yet thou saidst in thine heart, I wil ascend into heauen, and exalt my throne aboue beside the starres of God: I wil sit also vpon the mount of the Congregation in the sides of the North.

14 I wil ascend aboue <sup>y</sup> height of the cloudes, & I wil be like the moste high.

15 But thou shalt be brought downe to the graue, to the sides of the pit.

16 Thei that se thee, shal lōke vpon thee & consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, & that did shake the kingdomes?

17 He made the worlde as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof, & opened not the house of his prisoners.

18 All the Kings of the nations, <sup>euen</sup> they all slepe in glorie, euerie one in his owne house.

19 But thou art <sup>m</sup> cast out of thy graue like an abominable branche: like the raimēt of those <sup>y</sup> are slaine, & thrust thorowe with a sworde, which go downe to the stōnes of the pit, as a carkeise troden vnder fete.

20 Thou shalt not be ioynd <sup>w</sup> them in the graue, because <sup>y</sup> hast destroyed thine owne land, & slaine thy people: the sede of the wicked shal not be renoumed for euer.

21 <sup>n</sup> Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the iniquitie of their fathers: let them not rise vp nor possesse the land, nor fil the face of the worlde with enemies.

22 ¶ For I wil rise vp agāst the (saith the Lord of hostes) and wil cut of from Babel the name and the remnant and the sonne, and the nephewe, saith the Lord:

26 This is the counsell that is consulted vpon the whole worlde, and this is the had stretched out ouer all the nacions,

27 Because the Lord of hostes hathe determined it, and who shal disanul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shal turne it away?

28 In the yere that King Aház dyed, was this a burden.

29 Reioyce not, (thou whole Palestina) because the rod of him that did beat thee, is broke: for out of the serpents roote shal come forth a cockatrice, and the frute thereof shalbe a fyrie flying serpent.

30 For the first borne of the poore shalbe fed, & the nedie shal lye downe in safety: and I wil kil thy roote with famine, & it shal slay thy remnant.

31 Howle, o gate, crye o citie: thou whole land of Palestina art dissolued, for there shal come from the North a smoke, and none shalbe alone, at his time appointed.

32 What shal then one answer y messengers of the Gentiles? That the Lord hathe stablished Zion, & the poore of his people shal trust in it.

A prophecie against Moáb.

The burden of Moáb. Surely Ar of Moáb was destroyed & brought to silence in a night: surely Kir of Moáb was destroyed, & brought to silence in a night.

2 He shal go vp to the temple, and to Dibón to the hie places to wepe: for Nebó and for Medebá shal Moáb howle: vpon all their heads shalbe baldenes, and euerie beard shauen.

3 In their stretes shal they be girded with sackcloth: on the toppes of their houses, and in their stretes euerie one shal howle, and come downe with weping.

4 And Heshbón shal crye, & Elealéh: their voyce shalbe heard vnto Iahaz: therefore y warriors of Moáb shal showte: the soule of euerie one shal lament in him self.

5 Mine heart shal crye for Moáb: his fugitiues shal flee vnto Zóar, an heiffer of thre yere olde: for they shal go vp w weping by the mounting vp of Luhith: and by the way of Horonáim they shal raise vp a crye of destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shal be dried vp: therefore the grasse is withered, the herbes consumed, & there was no grene herbe.

7 Therefore what euerie man hathe left, & their substance shal they beare to y broke of the willowes.

8 For the crye went rounde aboute y borders of Moáb: & the howling thereof vnto Egláim, & the skriking thereof vnto Beer Elím, 9 Because the waters of Dimón shalbe full of blood: for I wil bring more vpon Dimón, euen Lyons vpon him that escapeth of Moáb, and to the remnant of the land.

CHAP. XVI.

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

Send a ye a lambe to the ruler of the sworde from the rocke of the wilderness, vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zion.

2 For it shalbe as a birde that flyeth, and a nest forsaken: the daughters of Moáb shal be at the foordes of Arnón.

3 Gather a counsell, execute iudgement: make thy shadowe as the night in the midday: hide them that are chased out: bewraye not him that is fled.

4 Let my banished dwel with thee: Moáb be thou their couert from the face of the destroyer: for the extorcioner shal end: the destroyer shalbe consumed, & the oppressour shal cease out of the land.

5 And in mercie shal the throne be prepared, & and he shal sit vpon it in stedfastnes, in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and seking iudgement, and hastening iustice.

6 We haue heard of the pride of Moáb (he is verie proud) euen his pride, and his arrogancie, and his indignacion, but his lies shal not be so.

7 Therefore shal Moáb howle vnto Moáb: euerie one shal howle: for the fundacions of Kir-haréseth shal ye mourne, yet they shal be stricken.

8 For the vineyardes of Heshbón are cut downe, & the vine of Sibmáh: the lords of the heathen haue broken the principal vines thereof: they are come vnto Iazér: they wandred in the wilderness: her goodlie branches stretched out them selues, & went ouer the sea.

9 Therefore wil I wepe with the weping of Iazér, & of y vine of Sibmáh, o Heshbón: and Elealéh, I wil make thee drunke with my teares, because vpon thy sommer frutes, and vpon thy haruest a showing is fallen.

great, that it wolde haue moued anie man to lament with them, as Psal 141. 5. The enemies are come vpon thee, and showte for ioye, when they carie thy commodities from thee, as Ier 48. 33.

Bbb.ii.

As I haue be gone to destroy the Assyrians in Sacherib, so wil I continue, & destroye them wholly, when I shal deliuer you from Babylon. Fro y Iewes. Read Chap. 1. He willett y Philistines not to reioyce because y Iewes are diminished in their power: for their strength shalbe greater then euer it was. The Israelites, w were brought to much extreme misery. To wit, my people. That is, fro the Iewes, or Assyrians: for they were borne North from Palestina. But they shalbe all ready, and come together. Which shal come to enquire of the state of the Church. The Lord doth defend his Church, & the that ioyne them selues thereunto.

Read Chap. I. The chief citie, whereby the whole countrey was ment. The Moabites shal flee to their idoles for succour, but it shalbe to late. Which were cities of Moab. For as in the West partes y people used to let their heere growe long, when they mourned, so in the East partes they cut it off. The Prophet speaketh this in the persone of the Moabites, or as one that felt the great iudgement of God that shoulde come vpon them.

Meaning, that it was a citie that euer lived in pleasure, and neuer felt sorowe. He describeth the miserable dissipation, and flight of the Moabites.

To hide the selues, & their goods there.

Of the that are slaine. So that by no means they shoulde escape the hand of God: thus wil God punish y enemies of his Church.

That is, offer a sacrifice: whereby he derideth their long delay, which wolde not repent while the Lord called the, shewing them that it is now to late, seeing the vengeance of God is vpon the. There is no remedie, but you must flee. He sheweth what Moab shoulde haue done, when Israel their neighbour was in affliction, to whome because they wolde giue no shadowe nor comfort, they are now left comfortles.

The Assyrians shal oppress the Israelites, but for a while.

Meaning, Christ.

Their vaine confidence, & proude bragges shal deceiue them, as Ier. 48. 2.

For all your mourning, yet the citie shalbe destroyed, euen vnto the fundacions.

That is, the Assyrians, and other enemies.

Meaning, y the countrey of Moab was now destroyed and all the precious things thereof were caried into the borders, yea, into other countreys, and ouer the sea.

He sheweth that their plague was so great, that it wolde haue moued anie man to lament with them, as Psal 141. 5.

The enemies are come vpon thee, and showte for ioye, when they carie thy commodities from thee, as Ier 48. 33.

10 And gladnes is taken away, & ioye out of the plentiful field: and in the vineyardes shalbe no singing nor shouting for ioye: the treader shal not tread wine in the winepresses: I haue caused the reioycing to cease.

11 Wherefore, my <sup>m</sup> bowels shal sounde like an harpe for Moáb, and mine inward partes for Ker-háresh.

12 And when it shal appeare that Moáb shalbe wearie of his hie places, then shal he come to his <sup>n</sup> temple to pray, but he shal not preuaile.

13 This is the worde that the Lord hathe spoken against Moáb since that time.

14 And now the Lord hathe spoken, saying, <sup>o</sup> In thre yeres, as the yeres of a phyreling, and the glorie of Moáb shalbe contened in all the great multitude, & the remnant shalbe very smale & feble.

A prophesie of the destruction of Damascus and Ephraim. 7 Calamitie moueth to repentance.

THe <sup>a</sup> burden of <sup>b</sup> Damascus. Beholde, Damascus is taken away from being a citie, for it shalbe a ruinous heape.

The cities of <sup>c</sup> Aroér shalbe forsaken: they shalbe for <sup>y</sup> flocks: for thei shal lye there, and none shal make them afraide.

The munition also shal cease from <sup>d</sup> Ephraim, & the kingdome from Damascus, and the remnant of Arám shalbe as the <sup>e</sup> glorie of the children of Israël, saith the Lord of hostes.

4 And in that day the glorie of <sup>f</sup> Iakób shalbe impouerished, and the fatnes of his flesh shalbe made leane.

5 And it shalbe as when the haruest man gathereth <sup>g</sup> the corne, and reapeth the eares with his arme, and he shalbe as he that gathereth the eares in the valley of <sup>h</sup> Repháim.

6 Yet a gathering of grapes shal <sup>i</sup> be left in it, as the shaking of an oliue tre, two or thre berries <sup>are</sup> in the top of the vpmoste boughs, & foure or fve in the hye branches of the frute thereof, saith the Lord God of Israël.

7 At that day shal a man loke to his <sup>k</sup> maker, and his eyes shal loke to the holie one of Israël.

8 And he shal not loke to the altars, the workes of his owne hands, nether shal he loke to those things, which his owne fingers haue made, as groues and images.

9 In that day shal the cities of their strength be as the forsaking of boughs & bráches, which <sup>l</sup> they did forsake, because of the childré of Israël, & there shalbe desolatió.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluacion, and hast not remembred the God of thy strength, therefore shalt thou set pleasant plants, and shalt graffe strange <sup>m</sup> vine branches:

11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant to growe, and in the morning shalt thou make thy sedeto flórish: <sup>but</sup> the haruest shal be gone in the day <sup>n</sup> of possession, and there shalbe desperate sorow.

12 <sup>o</sup> Ah, the multitude of manie people, they shal make a sounde like the noyse of the sea: for the noyse of the people shal make a sounde like the noyse of mightie waters.

13 The people shal make a sounde like the noyse of manie waters: <sup>but</sup> God shal <sup>p</sup> rebuke them, and they shal flee farre of, and shalbe chased as the chaffe of the mountaines before the winde, and as a rolling thing before the whirle winde.

14 And lo, in the euening there is <sup>q</sup> trouble: <sup>but</sup> afore the morning it is gone. This is the porcion of them that spoile vs, and the lot of them that robbe vs.

Of the enemies of the Church. 7 And of the vocation of the Gentiles.

OH, the <sup>a</sup> land shadowing with wings, which is beyonde the riuers of Ethiopia,

3 All ye the inhabitants of the worlde and dwellers in the earth, shal se when <sup>f</sup> he setteth vp a signe in the mountaines, and when he bloweth the trumpe, ye shal heare.

4 For so the Lord said vnto me, I wil <sup>g</sup> rest & beholde in my tabernacle, as <sup>h</sup> the heat drying vp the raine, & as a cloude of dewe in the heat of haruest.

5 For afore the haruest when the floure is finished, & the frute is riping in the floure, then he shal cut downe the branches with hookes, and shal take away, & cut of the boughs:

The destruction of the Egyptians by the Assyrians. 18 Of their conuersion to the Lord.

THe <sup>a</sup>burden of Egypt. Beholde, the Lord <sup>b</sup>rideth vpon a swift cloude, & shal come into Egypt, & <sup>y</sup> idoles of Egypt shal be moued at his presencc, & the heart of Egypt shal melt in the middes of her.

And I wil set the Egyptians against the Egyptiās: so euerie one shal <sup>c</sup>fight against his brother, and euerie one against his neighbour, citie against citie, & kingdome against kingdome.

And the <sup>d</sup>spirit of Egypt shal faile in the middes of her, and I wil destroye their counsell, and they shal seke at the idoles, & at the forcerers, & at them that haue spirits of diuination, and at the southsayers.

And I wil deliuer the Egyptians into the hand of cruel lords, and a mightie King shal rule ouer them, saith the Lord God of hostes.

Then the waters of the sea shal <sup>e</sup>faile, & the riuier shal be dried vp, and wasted.

And the riuers <sup>f</sup>shal go farre away: the riuers of defense shalbe emptyed & dried vp: the redes & flagges shalbe cut downe.

The grasse in the riuier, and at the <sup>g</sup>head of the riuers, and all that groweth by the riuier, shal wither, & be driuen away, and be no more.

The fishers also shal <sup>h</sup>mourne, and all they that cast angle into the riuier, shal lament, and they that spread their net vpon the waters, shalbe weakened.

Moreouer, they that worke in flax of diuers sortes, shalbe confounded, and they that weaue nettes.

For their nettes shalbe broken, and all they, <sup>i</sup>make ponds, shalbe heauie in heart.

Surely <sup>j</sup>princes of <sup>k</sup>Zoān are fooles: the counsel of the wise counselors of Pharaoh is become foolish: how say ye vnto Pharaoh, I <sup>k</sup>am the sonne of the wise: I am the sonne of the ancient Kings?

8 Who hathe decreed this against Tyrus (that <sup>m</sup> crowneth <sup>men</sup>) whose marchāts are princes? whose chapmen are the nobles of the worlde?

9 The Lord of hostes hathe decreed this, to staine the pride of all glorie, and to bring to contempt all them that be glorious in the earth.

10 Passe through thy land like a flood to <sup>y</sup> daughter of Tarshish: there is no more strength.

11 He stretched out his hand vpon the sea: he shoke the kingdomes: the Lord hathe giuen a commandement concerning the place of marchādise, to destroye the power thereof.

12 And he said, Thou shalt no more reioyce when <sup>y</sup> art oppressed: <sup>o</sup> virgin <sup>p</sup> daughter of Zidon: rise vp, go ouer vnto Chittim: yet there thou shalt haue no rest.

The godly lament.

<sup>x</sup> She shal labour by all meanes to recouer her first credit, as an harlot when she is long forgotten, seeketh by all meanes to enterteine her louers. <sup>y</sup> Though she haue bene chastised of the Lord, yet she shal returne to her olde wicked practises, & for gaine shal giue her self to all mens lusts like an harlot. <sup>z</sup> He sheweth that God yet by the preaching of the Gospel wil call Tyus to repentance, & turne her heart from auarice and filthie gaine vnto the true worshiping of God and liberalitie toward his Saints.

CHAP. XXIII.

A prophesie of the curse of God for the sinnes of the people. 13 A remnant reserved, shal praise the Lord.

<sup>a</sup> This prophesie is as a conclusion of that, which hath bene threatened to the Jewes & other nations from the 13 Chap: & therefore by <sup>f</sup> earth he meaneth those lands, which were before named.

<sup>b</sup> Because this was a name of dignitie, it was also applied to the, which were not of Aarons familie, & so signifieth also a man of dignitie, as 2 Sam. 2. 18. and 20. 25. 1 chron. 18. 17. and by these wordes the Prophet signifieth an horrible confusion, where there shalbe neither religio, order nor policie, Hosea. 4. 9.

14 Howle ye shippes of Tarshish, for your strength is destroyed.

15 And in that daie shal Tyus be forgottē seuentie yeres, (according to the yeres of one King) at the end of seuentie yeres shal Tyus sing as an harlot.

16 Take an harpe, & go about the citie: (thou harlot that hast bene forgotten) make swete melodie, sing mo songs that thou maiest be remembered.

17 And at the end of seuentie yeres shal the Lord visite Tyus, & she shal returne to her wages, and shal commit fornication with all the kingdomes of the earth, that are in the worlde.

18 Yet her occupying and her wages shal be holie vnto <sup>f</sup> Lord: it shal not be laied vp nor kept in store, but her marchandise shal be for the that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and to haue durable clothing.

19 Yet her occupying and her wages shal be holie vnto <sup>f</sup> Lord: it shal not be laied vp nor kept in store, but her marchandise shal be for the that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and to haue durable clothing.

20 Yet her occupying and her wages shal be holie vnto <sup>f</sup> Lord: it shal not be laied vp nor kept in store, but her marchandise shal be for the that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and to haue durable clothing.

21 Beholde, the Lord maketh the earth empty, & he maketh it waste: he turneth it vpside downe, & scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

22 And there shal be like people, like Priest, and like seruant, like master, like maide, like maistresse, like byer, like seller, like lender, like borrower, like giuer, like taker to vsurie.

23 The earth shal be cleane emptied, and vtterly spoyled: for the Lord hath spoken this worde.

24 The earth lamenteth and fadeth away: the worlde is febled & decayed: the proude people of the earth are weakened.

25 The earth also deceiueh, because of the inhabitats thereof: for thei trasgessed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the euerlasting couenant.

26 Therefore hath the curse deuoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are desolate. Wherefore the inhabitants of the land are burned vp, and fewe me are left.

27 The wine faileth, & vine hath no might: all that were of mery heart, do mourne.

28 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth: the noise of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioye of the harpe ceaseth.

29 They shal not drinke wine with mirth:

strong drinke shal be bitter to them that drinke it.

10 The citie of vanitie is broken downe: euerie house is shut vp, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the stretes: all ioye is darkened: the mirth of the worlde is gone away.

12 In the citie is left desolacion, & the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 Surely thus shal it be in the middes of the earth, among the people, as the shaking of an oliue tre, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended.

14 They shal lift vp their voyce: thei shal shoute for the magnificence of the Lord: they shal reioyce from the sea.

15 Wherefore praise ye <sup>f</sup> Lord in the valeis, eue the Name of the Lord God of Israēl, in the yles of the sea:

16 From the vttermoost parte of the earth we haue heard praises, euen glorie to the Iuste, & I said, My leanenes, my leanenes, wo is me: the transgressors haue offended: yea, the transgressors haue grievously offended.

17 Feare, and the pit, and the snare are vpon thee, inhabitant of the earth.

18 And he that fleeth from the noise of the feare, shal fall into the pit: & he that cometh vp out of the pit, shal be taken in the snare: for the windowes from on high are open, and the fundacions of the earth do shake.

19 The earth is vtterly broken downe: the earth is cleane dissolued: the earth is moued exceedingly.

20 The earth shal rele to & fro like a drunken man, and shal be remoued like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof shal be heauie vpon it: so that it shal fall, and rise no more.

21 And in that day shal the Lord visite <sup>f</sup> hoste about that is on hie, euen the Kings of the worlde that are vpon the earth.

22 And thei shal be gathered together, as the prisoners in the pit: and thei shal be shut vp in the prison, & after manie daies shal thei be visited.

23 Then the moone shal be abashed, & the sunne ashamed, when the Lord of hostes shal reigne in mount Zion and in Ierusalem: and glorie shal be before his ancient men.

<sup>red.</sup> p When God shal restore his Church, the glorie thereof shal so shine and his ministers (which are called his ancient men) that the moone shal be darke in comparison thereof.

CHAP. XXV.

A thanksgiving to God in that that he sheweth him self iudge of the worlde, by punishing the wicked & maintaining the godlie.

Lord, thou art my God: I wil exalte thee, I wil praise thy Name: for thou hast done wonderful things, according <sup>f</sup> Which as it was without order, so now shulde it be brought to desolacion and confusion: and this was not onely men of Ierusalem, but of all other wicked cities. <sup>g</sup> Because thei did not vse Gods benefite aright, their pleasures shal be faile, and they fall to mourning. <sup>h</sup> He comforteth the faithful, declaring that in this great desolacion the Lord wil assemble his Church, & shal praise his name, as Chap 10. 22.

<sup>l</sup> I am consumed with care, considering the affliction of the Church, both by for enemies & do-metrical. Some read, my secret, that is, it was reueiled to <sup>f</sup> Prophet, that the good shulde be pised & the wicked destroyed.

<sup>m</sup> Meaning, <sup>f</sup> Gods wrath, and vengeance shulde be ouer & vnder them: so that thei shulde not escape no more then thei did at Noahs flood.

<sup>n</sup> There is no power so high or mightie, but God wil visite him with his rodde.

to the counsels of olde, with a stable truth.

For thou hast made of a<sup>b</sup> citie an heap, of a strong citie, a ruine: even the palace of strangers of a citie, it shal neuer be buylt.

Therefore shal the<sup>d</sup> mightie people giue glorie vnto thee: the citie of the strong nations shal feare thee.

For thou hast bene a strength vnto the poore, even a strength to the nedie in his trouble, a refuge against the tempest, a shadowe against the heate: for the blast of the mightie is like a storme against the wall.

Thou shalt bring downe the noise of the strangers, <sup>f</sup> as the heat in a drye place: he wil bring downe the song of the mightie, as <sup>g</sup> the heat in the shadowe of a cloude.

And in this<sup>h</sup> mountaine shal the Lord of hostes make vnto all people a feast of fat things, even a feast of fined wines, & of fat things ful of marowe, of wines fined & purified.

And he wil destroye in this mountaine the couering that couereth all people, & the vaile that is spred vpon all nations.

He wil destroye death for euer: and the Lord God wil<sup>k</sup> wipe away the teares frō all faces, and the rebuke of his people wil he take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

And in that day shal men say, Lo, this is our God: we haue waited for him, and he wil saue vs. This is the Lord, we haue waited for him: we wil reioyce and be ioyful in his saluacion.

For in this mountaine shal the hand of the Lord rest, and<sup>l</sup> Moab shalbe threshed vnder him, even as strawe is threshed in<sup>m</sup> Madmenah.

And he shal stretch out his hand in the middes of the<sup>n</sup> (as he that swimmeth, stretcheth them out to swimme) and with the strength of his hands shal he bring downe their pride.

The defense also of the height of thy walles shal he bring downe and lay lowe, & cast them to the grounde, even vnto the dust.

ciō, which kepeth the trueth, may entre in.

By an assured<sup>d</sup> purpose wilt thou preserue perfite peace, because thei trusted in thee.

Trust in the Lord for euer: for in<sup>y</sup> Lord God is strength for euer more.

For he wil bring downe them that dwell on hie: <sup>e</sup> the hie citie he wil abase: even vnto the grounde wil he cast it downe and bring it vnto dust.

The fore shal treade it downe, even the fete of the<sup>f</sup> poore, and the steps of the nedie.

The way of the iuste is righteousness: thou wilt make equal the righteous path of the iust.

Also we, o Lord, haue waited for thee in the way of thy<sup>g</sup> iudgements: the desire of our soule is to thy Name, & to the remembrance of thee.

With my soule haue I desired thee in the night, and with my spirit within me wil I seke thee in the mornig: for seeing thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the worlde shal learne<sup>h</sup> righteousness.

Let mercie<sup>i</sup> be shewed to the wicked, yet he wil not learne righteousness: in<sup>y</sup> lād of vprightnes wil he do wickedly, and wil not beholde the maiestie of the Lord.

O Lord, they wil not beholde thine hie hand: but thei shal se it, and be confounded with<sup>k</sup> the zeale of the people, & the fyre of thine<sup>l</sup> enemies shal deuoure them.

Lord, vnto vs thou wilt ordeine peace: for thou also hast wrought all our workes for vs.

O Lord our God, other<sup>m</sup> lords beside thee haue ruled vs, but we wil remember thee onely, & thy Name.

The<sup>n</sup> dead shal not liue, nether shal the dead arise, because thou hast visited and scattered them, & destroyed all their memorie.

Thou hast encreased<sup>o</sup> y<sup>n</sup> nacion, o Lord: thou hast encreased the nacion: thou art made glorious: thou hast enlarged all the coastes of the earth.

Lord, in trouble haue thei<sup>p</sup> visited thee: they powred out a prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

Like as a woman with childe, that draweth nere to the trauail, is in sorow, & cryeth in her peines, so haue we bene in thy<sup>q</sup> fight, o Lord.

We haue conceived, we haue borne in peine, as though we shulde haue brought forth<sup>r</sup> the winde: there was no helpe in<sup>y</sup> earth, nether did the inhabitants of<sup>s</sup> the worlde fall.

Thy dead men shal liue: even with my bodie shal thei rise. Awake, & sing, ye that dwell in dust: for thy<sup>u</sup> dewe is as the dewe

As herbes, dead in winter, flourish againe by the raine in the spring time: so thei<sup>y</sup> lie in the dust, shal rise vp to ioye when thei seley dewe of Gods grace.

Not onely of Ierusalem, but also of these other cities, which haue bene thine enemies.

That is, a place where as all vagabonds may liue without danger, and as it were, at ease, as in a palace.

The arrogant and proud, which were wont to knowe thee, shal by thy corrections feare & glorify thee.

The rage of the wicked is furious, til God breake the force thereof.

Meaning, y<sup>e</sup> as the heat is quayed by the raine, so shal God bring downe the rage of the wicked.

As a cloude shadoweth fro<sup>m</sup> the heat of the sunne, so shal God alwaies reioyce of y<sup>e</sup> wicked against the godlie.

By Moab are meant all the enemies of his Church.

There were two cities of this name: one in Iudah, 1. Chron. 2.49. and another in the land of Moab, 1. Iere. 48.2. which semeth to haue bene a plentiful place of corne. Chap. 10.31.

CHAP. XXVI.

A song of the faithful, wherein is declared, in what consisteth the saluacion of the Church, and wherein they ought to trust.

In that day shal<sup>a</sup> this song be sung in the land of Iudah, We haue a strong citie: <sup>b</sup> saluacion shal God set for walles & bulwarkes.

Opē ye the gates that the righteous nation, for the which they shulde sing this song. <sup>b</sup> Gods protection and defence shalbe sufficient for vs. <sup>c</sup> He assureth the godlie to secure after the captiuitie to Ierusalem.

Thou hast decreed so, & thy purpose can not be changed.

There is no power so hie, that can let God, when he wil deliuer his.

God wil set the poore afflicted ouer<sup>y</sup> power of the wicked.

We haue constantly abid in aduersities where with<sup>y</sup> hast afflicted vs.

Meaning, y<sup>e</sup> by afflictions me<sup>n</sup> shal learne to feare God.

The wicked though God shewe them euident signes of his grace, shalbe neuer the better.

Through enuie & indignation against thy people.

The fyre & vengeance, where with thou doest destroye thine enemies.

The Babylonians, which haue not gouerned according to thy worde.

Meaning, y<sup>e</sup> the reprobat, even in this life shal haue the beginning of eueralting death.

To wit, the companie of y<sup>e</sup> faithful by the calling of the Gentiles.

That is, the faithful by thy rodde were moued to pray vnto thee for deliuerance.

To wit, in extreme sorrowe.

Our sorowes had none end, nether did we enioye the comfort, that we looked for.

The wicked and men without religion were not destroyed.

He comforteth the faithful in their afflictions, shewing them that even in death they shal haue life: and that they shulde mooue certainly rise to glorie: the contrary shulde come to the wicked, as vers. 14.

As herbes, dead in winter, flourish againe by the raine in the spring time: so thei<sup>y</sup> lie in the dust, shal rise vp to ioye when thei seley dewe of Gods grace.

c Meaning, of the best wine, which this vineyard, that is the Church, shulde bring forth as moſte agreeable to the Lord.

d Therefore he wil destroy the kingdome of Satan, because he loueth his Church for his owne mercies sake, & ſeeth not be angrie wth it, but wiſheth that he may powre his angre vpon the wicked infidels, whome he meaneth by briers & thornes.

3 I the Lord do kepe it: I wil watter it e-uery moment: leſt anie aſſaile it, I wil kepe it night and day.

4 Angre is not in me: who wolde ſet the briers and the thornes againſt me in battel? I wolde go through them, I wolde burne them together.

5 Or wil he ſele my ſtrength, that he may make peace with me, & be at one with me?

6 Here after, Iakob ſhal take rote: Iſrael ſhal florish and growe, and the worlde ſhal be filled with frute.

7 Hathe he ſmitten him as he ſmote thoſe that ſmote him? or is he ſlayne according to the ſlaughter of them that were ſlayne by him?

8 In meaſure in the branches thereof wilt thou cōtend wth it, when he bloweth with his rough winde in the day of the Eaſt winde.

9 By this therefore ſhal y iniquitie of Iakob be purged, and this is all the frute, the taking away of his ſinne: when he ſhal make all the ſtones of the altars, as chalke ſtones, broken in pieces, that the groues and images may not ſtand vp.

10 Yet the defended citie ſhal be deſolate, & the habitation ſhal be forſaken, and leſt like a wildernes. There ſhal the calfe fede, and there ſhal he lie, & conſume the branches thereof.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against the pride & drunkennes of Iſrael. 9 The vntowardnes of them that ſhulde learne the worde of God.

24 God doeth all things in time and place.

1 WO to the crowne of pride, the drunkenards of Ephraim: for his glorious beautie ſhal be a fading floure, w<sup>ch</sup> is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, & are ouercome with wine.

2 Beholde, the Lord hathe a mightie and ſtrong hoſte, like a tempeſt of haile, & a whirwinde that ouerthroweth, like a tempeſt of mightie waters y ouerflowe, which throwe to the grounde mightly.

3 They ſhal be troden vnder fote, euen the crowne and the pride of the drunkenards of Ephraim.

4 For his glorious beautie ſhal be a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and as y haſtie frute afore ſommer, which whē he that loketh vpon it, ſeeth it, while it is in his hand, he eateth it.

5 In that day ſhal the Lord of hoſtes be for a crowne of glorie, and for a diademe of beautie vnto the reſidue of his people:

6 And for a ſpirit of iudgement to him that ſitteth in iudgement, & for ſtrength vnto the that turne away the battel to the gate.

7 But ſ thei haue erred becauſe of wine, & are out of the way by ſtrong drinke: the Prieſt & the Prophet haue erred by ſtrong drinke: they are ſwallowed vp with wine: they haue gone aſtray through ſtrong drinke: thei faile in viſion: thei ſtumble in iudgement.

8 For all their tables are ful of filthy vomiting: no place is cleane.

9 Whome ſhal he teache knowledge, and whome ſhal he make to vnderſtand the things that he heareth? them that are weined from the milke and drawen from the breaſts.

10 For precept muſt be vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle & there a litle.

s He shal be quiet, and seke none other remedies, but be content with Christ.

t In the restitution of his Church, judgement, and iustice shal reigne. u Gods corrections and afflictions.

x affliction shal discover their vaine confidence, which they kept secret to them selues.

y Terroure and destruction shal make you to learne that, w exhortations and gentlenes could not bring you vnto.

z Your affliction shalbe so sore, that you are not able to endure it.

a When Dauid overcame the Philistines, 2. Samuel 5.20.1. chro. 14.11

b Whete Ioshua discomfited the Kings of the Amorites, Iosh. 10.12. c As y plowe man hath his appointed time, and diuers instruments for his labour, so hath the Lord for his vengeance, for he punisheth some at one time, and some at another, some after one sorte and some after another, so that his chosen sede is beaten, and tryed, but not broken, as are the wicked.

13 Therefore shal the worde of the Lord be vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle & there a litle, that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken and be snared and be taken.

14 Wherefore, heare the worde of the Lord, ye scornful men y rule this people, which is at Ierusalem.

15 Because ye haue said, We haue made a couenant with death, & w hell are we at agreement: thogh a scourge runne ouer, & passe through, it shal not come at vs: for we haue made a falsehood our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid,

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I wil lay in Zión a stone, a tryed stone, a precious corner stone, a sure fundacion. He that beleueth, shal not make haste.

17 Iudgement also wil I laye to the rule, & righteousness to the balace, and the haille shal swepe away the vaine confidence, and the waters shal ouerflowe the secret place.

18 And your couenant with death shalbe disanulled, & your agreement with hel shal not stand: when a scourge shal runne ouer and passe through, then shal ye be trodde downe by it.

19 When it passeth ouer, it shal take you away: for it shal passe through euerie morning in the day, and in the night, and there shalbe onely yfear to make you to vnderstand the hearing.

20 For the bed is strait that it can not suffice, and the couering narowe that one can not wrap him self.

21 For the Lord shal stand as in mount Pezaim: he shalbe wrath as in the valley of Gibeon, y he may do his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his acte, his strange acte.

22 Now therefore be no mockers, lest your bonds increase: for I haue heard of the Lord of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.

23 Hearken ye, and heare my voyce: hearken ye, and heare my speache.

24 Doeth the plow man plow all the day, to sowe? doeth he open, and breake the clottes of his ground?

25 When he hath made it plaine, wil he not then sowe the fitches, and sowe cummin, and cast in wheat by measure, & the appointed barley and rye in their place?

26 For his God doeth instruct him to haue discrecion, and doeth teache him.

27 For fitches shal not be threshed with a threshing instrument, nether shal a cart whole be turned about vpon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staffe, and cummin with a rod.

28 Bread cometh when it is threshed, he doeth not alway thresh it, nether doeth the whele of his cart still make anyse, nether wil he breake it with the tette thereof.

29 This also cometh from the Lord of hostes, which is wonderful in counsel, & excellent in workes.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 A prophetic against Ierusalem. 13 The vengeance of God on them that followe the traditions of men.

1 A H<sup>a</sup> altar, altar of the citie that Dauid dwelt in: adde yere vnto yere: let them kil lambes.

2 But I wil bring the altar into distress, and there shalbe heauines & sorow, and it shalbe vnto me like an altar.

3 And I wil beseege thee as a circle, & fight against thee on a mount, & wil cast vpramps against thee.

4 So shalt thou be humbled, & shalt speake out of the ground, and thy speache shalbe as out of the dust: thy voyce also shalbe out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shal whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreover, the multitude of thy strangers shalbe like smale dust, and the multitude of strong men shalbe as chaffe that passeth away, and it shalbe in a moment, euen suddenly.

6 Thou shalt be visited of y Lord of hostes with thundre, and shaking, and a great noyse, a whirlwinde, and a tempest, and a flame of a deuouring fyre.

7 And the multitude of all the nations y fight against the altar, shalbe as a dreame or vision by night: euen all they that make the warre against it, and strong holds against it, and laye sege vnto it.

8 And it shalbe like as an hungry man dreameth, and beholde, he eateth: and when he awaketh, his soule is emptie: or like as a thirstie man dreameth, and lo, he is drinking, and when he awaketh, beholde, he is fainte, and his soule longeth: so shal the multitude of all nations be that fight against mount Zión.

9 Stay your selues, and wonder: they are blinde, & make you blinde: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

10 For the Lord hath couered you with a spirit of slomber, and hath shut vp your eyes: the Prophetes, and your chief Seers hath he couered.

11 And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can read, saying, Read this, I pray thee. Then shal he say, I can not: for it is sealed.

Ccc.ii.

a The Ebrewe worde Ariel signifieth the lyon of God, & signifieth an altar, because the altar seemed to deuoure the sacrifice y was offered to God, as Ezek. 43.16

b Your vaine confidence in your sacrifices shal not last long.

c Your citie shalbe full of blood, as an altar whereon they sacrifice.

d Thy speache shalbe no more so loftie, but as of a low charmer, w are in lowe places, and whisper, so y their voyce can scarce be heard.

e Thine hired soldiers, in whome y trustest, shalbe destroyed, as dust or chaffe in a whirlwinde.

f The enemies y I wil bring to destroye thee, and that, which thou makest thy vaine trust, shal come at vnwares, euen as a dreame in the night. Some read, as if this were a comfort to the Church for y destruction of their enemies.

g That is, he thinketh that he eateth.

h Muse hereon as long as ye list, yet shal ye finde nothing, but occasion to be astonished: for your Prophetes are blinde, and therefore can not direct you.

i Meaning, y it is all alike, ether to read, or not to read, except God open y heart to vnderstand.

A wonderous worke of God. Ifaiáh. In quietnes is strength.

12 And the boke is giuen vnto him that can not read, saying, Read this, I pray thee. And he shal say, I can not read.

13 Therefore the Lord said, Because this people <sup>k</sup> come nere vnto me with their mouth, and honour me with their lippes, but haue remoued their heart far fró me, and their <sup>l</sup> feare toward me was taught by the precept of men, 14 Therefore beholde, I wil againe do a maruelous worke in this people, <sup>enem</sup> a maruelous worke, and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wisemen shal <sup>m</sup> perish, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shalbe hid.

15 Wo vnto them that <sup>a</sup> seke depe to hide their counsel from the Lord: for their workes are in darknes, and they say, Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

16 Your turning of denises shal it not be esteemed <sup>o</sup> as the potters claye? for shal <sup>y</sup> worke say of him that made it, He made me not? or the thing formed, say of him that facioned it, He had none vnderstanding?

17 Is it not yet but a litle while, and Lebanon shalbe <sup>p</sup> turned into Carmel? & Carmel shalbe counted as a forest?

18 And in that day shal the deafe heare the wordes of the boke, & the eyes of the blind shal se out of obscuritie, and out of darkenes.

19 The meke in the Lord shal receiue ioye againe, and the poore men shal reioyce in the holie one of Israël.

20 For the cruel man shal cease, and the scorneful shalbe consumed: and all that hasted to iniquitie, shalbe cut of:

21 Which made a man to sinne in <sup>y</sup> <sup>1</sup> worde, & toke him in a snare: which reprobued them in the gate, and made the iuste to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Iaakób, <sup>enem</sup> he that redemed Abraham, Iaakób shal not now be confounded, nether now shal his face be pale.

23 But when he seeth his children, the worke of mine háds, in the middes of him, they shal sanctifie my Name, and sanctifie the holie one of Iaakób, & shal feare the God of Israël.

24 Then they that erred in spirit, shal haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shal learne doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

He reprobued the Iewes which in their aduersitie Used their owne counsels, and sought helpe of the Egyptians 10 Despising the Prophetes. 16 Therefore he sheweth what destruction shal come vpon them. 18 But offereth mercie to the repentant.

WO to the <sup>a</sup> rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsel, but not of me, and <sup>b</sup> couer with a countenance to cloke their doings, and not goodlie meanes.

uering, but not by my spirit, that they may lay sinne vpon sinne:

2 Which walke forth to go downe into Egypt (& haue not asked at my mouth) to strengthen them selues with the strength of Pharaóh, and trust in the shadowe of Egypt.

3 But the strength of Pharaóh shalbe your shame, & the trust in <sup>y</sup> shadowe of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his <sup>c</sup> princes were at Zóan, and his ambassadours came vnto Hanés.

5 They shalbe all ashamed of the people <sup>y</sup> can not profite them, nor helpe nor do the good, but shalbe a shame and also a reproche.

6 ¶ The <sup>d</sup> burden of the beastes of the South, in a land of trouble and anguish, from whence shal come the yong and olde lyon, the viper and fyrie flying serpent <sup>a</sup> against them that shal beare their riches vpon the shoulders of the coltes, and their treasures vpon the bouches of the camels, to a people that can not profite.

7 For the Egyptians are vanitie, and they shal helpe in vaine. Therefore haue I cryed vnto <sup>e</sup> her, Their strength <sup>f</sup> is to sit stil.

8 Now go, & write <sup>g</sup> it before them in a table, & note it in a boke that it may be for the <sup>h</sup> last day for euer and euer:

9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children, & children that wolde not <sup>i</sup> heare the Law of the Lord.

10 Which say vnto the Seers, Se not: and to the Prophetes, Prophecie not vnto vs right things: but speake flattering things vnto vs: prophecie <sup>k</sup> errors.

11 Departe out of the way: go aside out of the path: cause the holie one of Israël to cease from vs.

12 Therefore thus saith the holie one of Israël, Because you haue cast of this worde, and trust in <sup>l</sup> violence, and wickednes, and stay thereupon,

13 Therefore this iniquitie shalbe vnto you as a breache that falleth, or a swelling in an hie wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly in a moment.

14 And the breaking thereof is like <sup>y</sup> breaking of a potters pot, which is broke without pitie, and in the breaking thereof is not founde <sup>m</sup> a sheard to take fyre out of the herth, or to take water out of the pit.

15 For thus said the <sup>n</sup> Lord God, the holie one of Israël, In rest and quietnes shal ye be saued: in quietnes and in confidence shalbe your strength, but ye wolde not.

16 For ye haue said, No, but we wil flee away vpon <sup>o</sup> horses. Therefore shal ye flee. We wil ride vpon the swiftest. Therefore shal your persecuters be swifter.

17 A thousand <sup>p</sup> one shal flee at the rebuke of one:

<sup>k</sup> Because they are hypocrites & not sincere in heart. as Mat. 15, 8.

<sup>o</sup> For all your craft, saith the Lord, you can not be able to escape mine hands no more the claye, that is in the potters hands, hath power to deliuer it self.

<sup>p</sup> Shal there not be a charge of all things? and Carmel, that is a plentiful place in respect of that it shalbe then, may be taken, as a forest, as Chap. 32, 15. & thus he speaketh to comfort the faithful.

<sup>q</sup> They that went about to finde faute in the Prophetes wordes, and wolde not abide admonitions, but wolde intagle the and bring the into danger.

<sup>c</sup> The chief of Israël went into Egypt to ambaissadours to seke helpe, and abode at their cities.

<sup>d</sup> That is, a heavy sentence or prophecie against the beastes that carried their treasures into Egypt, by the wilderness, & was South to Iudáh: signifying that if <sup>y</sup> beastes shalbe not be spared, the men shalbe punished much more grievously.

<sup>h</sup> That it may be a witness, against them for all posteritie.

<sup>i</sup> He sheweth what was the cause of their destruction, & bringeth also all miserie to minto wit, because they wolde not heare the worde of God, but delited to be flattered, and led in error.

<sup>m</sup> Signifying, that the destruction of the wicked shalbe without recovery.

<sup>n</sup> Oft times by his Prophetes he put you in remembrance of this, <sup>y</sup> you shalbe only deped on him. <sup>o</sup> We wil trust to escape by our horses.

Whereas all the trees are cut downe save two or three to make ma-
 He commeth to the great mercies of God, who with patience waiteth to call sinners to repentance.
 Not onely in punishing, but in vnting moderation in the same, as Ier. 10. 24, and 30. 11.
 God shall direct all thy wayes, and appoint thee how to go either he-ther or the-ther.
 Ye shall cast away your idoles, which you haue made of golde, & siluer with all that belongeth vnto them, as a molle filthy thing and polluted.
 Showing that there can be no true repentance except both in heart and dede we shewe our selues enemies to idolatrie.
 By these diuerse maners of speache he sheweth the felicitie of the Church, that be so great, y none is able sufficiently to expresse it.
 When the Church shall be restored, y glorie thereof shall passe seuen times y brightnes of y sunne: for by the sunne and moone, which are two excellent creatures, he sheweth what shall be the glorie of the church of God in the kingdom of Christ.
 This threatening is against the Assyrians, the chief enemies of the people of God.
 To driue thee to nothing: and thus God conuinceth the wicked by y meanes, whereby he cleanse his.
 Ye shall reioice at the destruction of your enemies, as they that fight for ioye of the solemne feast, which began in the euen-g.

of one: at the rebuke of sive shal ye flee, til ye be left as a shippe mast vpon the top of a mountaine, and as a beaken vpon an hill.
 18 Yet therefore wil y Lord waite, that he may haue mercy vpon you, and therefore wil he be exalted, that he may haue compassion vpon you: for the Lord is the God of iudgement. Blessed are all they that waite for him.
 19 Surely a people shal dwell in Ziön, & in Ierusalem: thou shalt wepe no more: he wil certainly haue mercie vpon thee at y voyce of thy crye: whē he heareth thee, he wil answer thee.
 20 And when the Lord hathe giue you the bread of aduersitie, and the water of afflictio, thy raine shalbe no more kept backe, but thine eyes shal se thy raine.
 21 And thine eares shal heare a worde behinde thee, saying, This is the way, walke ye in it, when thou turnest to the right hand, and when thou turnest to the left.
 22 And ye shal pollute the couering of the images of siluer, and the riche ornament of thine images of golde, & cast the away as a menstruous cloth, and thou shalt say vnto it, Get thee hence.
 23 Then shal he giue raine vnto thy sede, when thou shalt sowe the groude, & bread of the increase of the earth, and it shalbe fat and as oyle: in that day shal thy cattel be fed in large pastures.
 24 The oxen also and the yong asses, that til the groude, shal eat cleane prouendre, which is winowed with the shoouel and with the fanne.
 25 And vpon euerie hie mountaine, and vpon euerie hie hil shal there be riuers & streames of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers shal fall.
 26 Moreouer, the light of the moone shalbe as the light of the sunne, and the light of the sunne shal be seuen folde, and like the light of seuen dayes in the day that the Lord shal binde vp the breache of his people, & heale the stroke of their woūde.
 27 Beholde, the Name of the Lord cometh from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heauie: his lippes are ful of indignacion, and his tongue is as a deuouring fyre.
 28 And his Spirit is as a riuier y ouerfloweth vp to y necke: it diuideth asondre, to fanne the nations with the fanne of a vanitie, and there shalbe a bridle to cause them to erre in the chawes of the people.
 29 But there shalbe a song vnto you as in the night, whē a solemne feast is kept: & gladnes of heart, as he that cometh with a pipe to go vnto the mount of the Lord, to the mightie one of Israël.
 30 And the Lord shal cause his glorious voice to be heard, & shal declare the lighting downe of his arme with the angre of his countenance, and flame of a deuouring fyre, with scattering & tempest, and haile stones.

 31 For with the voyce of the Lord shal Ashur be destroyed, which smote with the rodde.
 32 And in euerie place that the staffe shal passe, it shal cleaue fast, which the Lord shal lay vpon him with tabrets and harpes: and with battels, & lifting vp of hands shal he fight against it.
 33 Fors Tophet is prepared of olde: it is euē prepared for the King: he hathe made it depe and large: the burning thereof is fyre & much wood: the breth of the Lord, like a riuier of brimstone, doeth kindle it.

Gods plague d It shal be aroy.
 e With ioye & assurance of victorie.
 f Against Babel: meaning y Assyrians and Babylonians.
 g Here it is taken for hel, where the wicked are tormen- ted. read 2. King. 23. 10.
 h So that their estate of degre can not except the wicked.
 i By these figuratiue peaches he declareth y condon of y wicked after this life.

CHAP. XXXI.

He curseth them that forsake God, and seke for the helpe of men.
 1 W vnto them that go downe into Egypt for helpe, and stay vpon horses, and trust in charrettes, because they are manie, and in horsemen, because they be very strong: but thei loke not vnto the holie one of Israël, nor seke vnto the Lord.
 2 But he yet is wisest: therefore he wil bring euil, and not turne backe his worde, but he wil arise against the house of the wicked, and against the helpe of them that worke vanitie.
 3 Now the Egyptians are men, & not God, and their horses flesh and not spirit: and when the Lord shal stretch out his hand, the helper shal fall, and he that is holpe shal fall, and thei shal altogether faile.
 4 For thus hathe the Lord spoken vnto me, As the lion or lions whelp roareth vpon his prai, against whome if a multitude of shepherds be called, he wil not be afraid at their voice, nether wil humble himself at their noise: so shal the Lord of hostes come downe to fight for mount Ziön, and for the hill thereof.
 5 As birdes that flie, so shal the Lord of hostes defend Ierusalem by defending and deliuering, by passing through & preserving it.
 6 O ye children of Israël, turne againe, in asmuche as ye are sunken depe in rebellion.
 7 For in that day euerie man shal scast out his idoles of siluer, and his idoles of golde, which your hands haue made you, enē a sinne.
 8 The shal Ashur fall by the sworde, not of man, nether shal the sworde of man a There were two special causes, why y Israelites shul de not ioyne amitie with y Egyptians: first, because the Lord had com- manded them neuer to retur- ne thither, Deu 17. 16. & 28. 68, lest they shulde forget the benefite of their redemption: & second- ly, lest they shulde be corrupted with the superstitio & idolatrie of the Egyptians, and so forsake God, Ier. 2. 13.

 b Meaning, that thei forsake the Lord, that put their trust in worldlie things: for thei can not trust in bothe.
 c And knoweth their craftie enterprises & wil bring all to naught.
 d Meaning, bo- the the Egyptians and the Israelites.
 e He sheweth the Iewes, that if thei wolde put their trust in him, he is so able, that none can resist his power: and so careful ouer the, as a bird ouer her yög, which e- uer stich a- bout them for their defence: which simili- tude the Scripture v- seth in diuers places, as Deut 32. 11. matt. 23. 37.
 f He toucheth their conscience that thei might earnestly fele their griuous sinnes and so truly repent, forasmu- che as now thei are almost drowned and past recouerie.
 g By these frutes your repentance shalbe knowne, as Chap. 2. 12. h When your repentance appeareth.

4 And the heart of the foolish shal vnder-stand knowledge, and the tongue of the stutters shalbe ready to speake distinctly.

5 A <sup>e</sup> nigarde shal no more be called libe-

6 But the nigarde wil speake of nigardnes, and his heart wil worke iniquitie, and do wickedly, and speake falsely against the Lord, to make emptie the hungrie soule, and to cause the drinke of the thirstie to faile.

7 For the weapons of the churle are wicked: he diuifeth wicked counsels, to vndo the poore with lying wordes: and to speake against the poore in iudgement.

8 But the liberal man wil diuise of liberal things, and he wil continue his liberalitie.

9 Rise vp, ye womē that are at ease: heare

CHAP. XXXIII.

The destruction of them, by whome God hathe punished his Church.

1 WO to thee that <sup>a</sup> spoilest, and wast not spoiled: and doest wickedly, and <sup>b</sup> thei did not wickedly against thee:
whē thou shalt <sup>c</sup> cease to spoile, thou shalt be spoyled: when thou shalt make an end of doing wickedly, <sup>d</sup> they shal do wickedly against thee.

2 O Lord, haue mercie vpon vs, we haue waited for thee: be thou, which wast <sup>e</sup> their arme in the morning, our helpe also in time of trouble.

3 At the noyse of the tumult, the <sup>f</sup> people fled: at thine <sup>g</sup> exalting the nations were scatered.

4 And your spoile shal be gathered like the gathering of <sup>h</sup> caterpillers: and he shal go against him like the leaping of grafhoppers.

5 The Lord is exalted: for he dwelleth on

He sheweth that God punisheth the wicked for the loue that he beareth toward his Church.

Come nere, ye nations and heare, and hearken, ye people: let the earth heare and all that is therein, the worlde and all that proceedeth thereof.

He sheweth that God punisheth the wicked for the loue that he beareth toward his Church.

2 For the indignation of the Lord is vpon all nations, and his wrath vpon all their armies: he hathe destroyed the & deliuered them to the slaughter.

3 And their flaine shalbe cast out, and their stincke shal come vp out of their bodies, and the mountaines shalbe melted with their blood.

4 And all the hoste of heauen shal be dissolved, and the heauens shal be folded like a boke: and all their hostes shal fall as the leafe falleth from the vine, and as it falleth from the figtre.

5 For my sworde shalbe drunken in the heauen: beholde, it shal come downe vpon Edóm, euen vpon the people of my curse to iudgement.

6 The sworde of the Lord is filled with blood: it is made fat with the fat & with the blood of the lambes and the goats, with the fat of the kidneis of the rams: for the Lord hathe a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edóm.

7 And the vnicornes shal come downe with them and the heiffers with the bulles, and their land shal be drunkē with blood, and their dust made fat with fatnes.

8 For it is the day of the Lords vengeance, and the yere of recompence for the iudgement of Zión.

9 And the riuers thereof shalbe turned in to pitch, & the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shalbe burning pitch.

10 It shal not be quenched night nor day: the smoke thereof shal go vp euermore: it shal be desolate from generation to generation: none shal passe through it for euer.

11 But the pelicane & the hedgehog shal possesse it, and the great owle, & the rauē shal dwell in it, & he shal stretch out vpon it the line of vanitie, and the stones of emptines.

12 The nobles thereof shal call to the kingdome, and there shalbe none, and all the princes thereof shalbe as nothing.

13 And it shal bring forth the thornes in y palaces thereof, nettles & thistles in y strong holdes thereof, and it shalbe an habitacion for dragons and a court for ostriches.

14 There shal mete also Zim and Iim, and the Satyre shal crye to his fellowe, and the shriche owle shal rest there, & shal finde for her self a quiet dwelling.

15 There shal the owle make her nest, and lay, and hatche, and gather the vnder her shadowe: there shal y vultures also be gathered, euerie one with her make.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Saneherib sendeth Rabshakéh to besege Ierusalém. 13 His blasphemies against God.

a This historie is rehearsed, because it is as a seale & confirmation of the doctrine afore, bothe for the threatnings & promises: to wit, that God wolde suffer his Church to be afflicted, but at length wolde send deliuerance.

Now in the fourteenth yere of King Hezekiah, Saneherib King of Asshur came vp against all the strong cities of Iudah, and toke them.

2 And the King of Asshur sent Rabshakéh fro Lachish toward Ierusalém vnto King Hezekiah, with a great hoste, and he stode by the conduite of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers field.

b When he had abolished superstition, & idolatrie, & God wolde exercise his Church to trye their faith and science.

3 Then came forth vnto him Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiáh the steward of the house, and Shebná the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder.

4 And Rabshakéh said vnto them, Tell you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus saith the great King, the King of Asshur, What confidence is this, wherein thou trustest?

5 I saie, Surely I haue eloquence, but counsel and strength are for the warre: on whome then dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in this broken staffe of reede on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it wil go into his hand, and perce it: so is Pharaoh King of Egypt, vnto all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, We trust in the Lord our God. Is not that he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah toke downe, and said to Iudah and to Ierusalém, Ye shal worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the King of Asshur, & I wil giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy parte to set riders vpon them.

9 For how canst thou despise anie captainne of the least of my lords seruants: and put thy trust on Egypt for charrets and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come vp without y Lord to this land to destroy it? The Lord said vnto me, Go vp against this land & destroy it.

11 Then said Eliakim, and Shebná and Ioah vnto Rabshakéh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Aramites language, (for we vnderstand it) and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then said Rabshakéh, Hathe my master sent me to thy master, & to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men that sit on the wall? that they may eat their owne dounge, and drinke their owne piss with you?

13 So Rabshakéh stode, & cryed with a loud voyce in the Iewes language, and said, Heare the wordes of the great King, of y King of Asshur.

14 Thus saith the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he shal not be able to deliuer you.

15 Nether let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord wil surely deliuer vs: this citie shal not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Asshur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the King of Asshur, Make an appointment with me, and come out to me, that euerie man may eat of his owne vine, and euerie man of his owne figtre, and drinke euerie

c For he was now restored to his office, as Ifaiáh had prophesied, Chap. 22, 20.

d This declarereth that there were fewe good lie to be founde in the Kings house, w he he was dricuo to send this wicked man in such a weightie matter.

e Saneherib chief captainne.

f He speakeh this in the presence of Hezekiah, charging him, that he put his trust in his owne eloquence, where as his owne confidence was in the Lord.

g Saneherib labored to put the goodlie King from one vaine confidence to another: to wit, from trust in y Egyptians, w he se power was weak & would deceiue them: to yelde him self to y Assyrians and so not to hope for any helpe of God.

h He reprocheth to Hezekiah his smale power, which is not able to resist one of Saneheribs least captaines.

i Thus he wicked to deceiue vs. wil pretend the Name of y Lord: but we must trye the spirits, whether thei be of God or no.

k Thei were afraid, lest by his wordes he shoulde haue stirred the people against the King, and also pretended to growe to some appointment with him.

19 Where is the god of <sup>m</sup> Hamáth, and of Arpád? Where is the god of Sepharuáim? or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

20 Who is he among all the gods of these lands, that hathe deliuered their countrey out of mine hand, that the Lord shulde deliuer Ierusalém out of mine hand?

21 Then they <sup>a</sup> kept silence, and answered him not a worde: for the Kings commandement was, saying, Answer him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiáh the steward of the house, and Shebná the chancellor, and Ioáh the sonne of Asaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiáh with rét clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakéh.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Hezekiáh asketh counsil of Isaiáh, who promiserh him the Victorie. 10 The blasphemie of Saneherib. 16 Hezekiahs praier. 30 The armie of Saneherib is slayne of the Angel. 32 And he him self of his owne sonnes.

AND <sup>a</sup> whe the King Hezekiáh heard it, he <sup>a</sup> rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth & came into the House of the Lord.

2 And he sent Eliakim the steward of the house, and Shebná the chancellor, with the Elders of the Priests, clothed in sackcloth vnto <sup>b</sup> Isaiáh the Prophet, the sonne of Amóz.

3 And they said vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiáh, This day is a day of tribulacion & of rebuke and blasphemie: for the children are come to the <sup>c</sup> birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hathe <sup>d</sup> heard the wordes of Rabshakéh, whome the King of Asshūr his master hathe sent to raile on y liuing God, & to reproche him with wordes which y Lord thy God hathe heard, then <sup>e</sup> lift thou vp thy praier for the remnant that are left.

5 So the seruants of the King Hezekiah came to Isaiáh.

6 And Isaiáh said vnto them, Thus say vnto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the wordes that thou hast heard, wherewith the seruants of the King of Asshūr haue blasphemed me.

7 Beholde, I wil send a blast vpon him, & he shal heare a <sup>f</sup> noyse, and returne to his owne land, and I wil cause him to fall by the sworde in his owne land.

8 ¶ So Rabshakéh returned, and founde the King of Asshūr fighting against Libnáh: for he had heard that he was departed frō Lachish.

9 He heard also men say of Tirhakáh, King of Ethiopia, Beholde, he is come out to fight against thee: and when he heard it, he sent other messengers to Hezekiáh, saying,

10 Thus shal ye speake to Hezekiáh King of Iudáh, saying, Let not thy God <sup>h</sup> deceiue thee, in whome thou trustest, saying, Ierusalém shal not be giuen into the hand of the King of Asshūr.

11 Beholde, thou hast heard what y Kings of Asshūr haue done to all lands in destroying them, & shalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the naciōs deliuered them, which my fathers haue destroyed? <sup>as</sup> Gozán, and <sup>k</sup> Harán, and Rézeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Tellaíar?

13 Where is the King of Hamáth, and the King of Arpád, and the King of the citie of Sepharuáim, Hena and Iuáh?

14 ¶ So Hezekiáh receiued the letter of the hand of the messengers and red it, and he went vp into the House of the Lord, and Hezekiáh spred it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiáh praied vnto the Lord, saying,

16 O Lord of hostes, God of Israél, which <sup>i</sup> dwellest betwene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the kīngdomes of the earth: thou hast made the heauen & the earth.

17 Encline thine eare, o Lord, and heare: open thine eyes, o Lord, and se, and heare all the wordes of Saneherib, who hathe sent to blaspheme the liuing God.

18 Trueth it is, o Lord, that the Kings of Asshūr haue destroyed all lands, & <sup>m</sup> their countrey, 19 And haue cast their gods in the fyre: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hands, euen wood or stone: therefore they destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, o Lord our God, saue thou vs out of his hand, that <sup>n</sup> all the kīngdomes of the earth may knowe, that thou onely art the Lord.

21 ¶ Then Isaiáh the sonne of Amóz sent vnto Hezekiáh, saying, Thus saith y Lord God of Israél, Because thou hast prayed vnto me, concerning Saneherib King of Asshūr, 22 This is the worde that the Lord hathe spoken against him, O <sup>o</sup> virgine, daughter of Zión, he hathe despised thee, & laughed thee to scorne: o daughter of Ierusalém, he hathe shaken his head at thee.

<sup>g</sup> Which was a cite toward Egypt, thinking thereby to haue raised y force of his enemies.

<sup>h</sup> Thus God wolde haue him to utter a molle horrible blasphemie before his destruction: as to call the autor of all trueth, a deceiver: some gather hereby y Shebnáh had disclosed vnto Saneherib y answer y Isaiáh sent to the King. <sup>i</sup> Which was a cite of the Medes. <sup>k</sup> Called also Charre a cite in Mesopotamia, whence Abraham came after his fathers death.

28 But I knowe thy dwelling, & thy going out, and thy comming in, and thy furie against me.

29 Because thou ragest against me, and thy tumult is come vp vnto mine eares, therefore wil I put mine hoke in thy nostrels, and my bridle in thy lippes, and wil bring thee backe againe the same way y camest.

30 And this shalbe a y signe vnto thee, o Hezekiah, Thou shalt eat this yere suche as groweth of it self: and the 2 second yere, suche things as grow without sowing: and in the third yere, sow ye and reape, & plant vineyardes, & eat the frute thereof.

31 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudáh, shal againe take roote downeward and beare frute vpward.

32 For out of Ierusalem shal go a remnant, & thei that escape out of mount Zión: the zeale of the Lord of hostes shal do this.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lord, concerning y King of Asshur, He shal not enter into this citie, nor shoote an arrowe there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it.

34 By the same way that he came, he shal returne, and not come into this citie, saith the Lord.

35 For I wil defend this citie to saue it, for mine owne sake, & for my seruát Dauids sake.

36 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lord went out, and smote in the campe of Asshur an hundredth, foure score, and fise thousand: so when they arose early in the morning, beholde, thei were all dead corpses.

37 So Saneherib King of Asshur departed, and went away and returned and dwelt at Nineuèh.

38 And as he was in the temple worshiping of Nisroch his god, Adramelech & Saneherib his sonnes slewe him w the sword, and they escaped into the land of Ararat: and Esarhaddon his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

¶ Hezekiah is sicke. He is restored to health by the Lord, and liueth fiftene yeres after. He giueth thanks for his benefite.

¶ About that time was Hezekiah sicke vnto the death, and the Prophet Isaiáh sonne of Amóz came vnto him, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Put thine house in an ordre, for thou shalt dye, and not liue.

2 Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and praied to the Lord,

3 And said, I beseeche thee, Lord, remember now how I haue walked before thee in truth, & with a perfite heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: & Hezekiah wept fore.

4 ¶ Then came the worde of the Lord to Isaiáh, saying,

5 Go, & say vnto Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy praier, & sene thy teares: behold, I wil adde vnto thy daies fiftene yeres.

all my bones, like a lion: from daie to night wilt thou make an end of me.

Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter: I did mourne as a doue: mine eies were lift vp on hie: O Lord, it hath oppressed me, comfort me.

What shal I saie? for he hath said it to me, and he hath done it: I shal walke weakely all my yeres in the bitterness of my soule.

O Lord, to them that ouerliue them, & to all that are in them, the life of my spirit shalbe known, that thou causedst me to slepe and hast giuen life to me.

Beholde, for felicitie I had bitter grief, but it was thy pleasure to deliuer my soule from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sinnes behinde thy backe.

For the graue can not cōfesse thee: death can not praise thee: they that go downe into the pit, can not hope for thy trueth.

But the liuing, the liuing, he shal cōfesse thee, as I do this day: the father to the children shal declare thy trueth.

The Lord was ready to saue me: therefore we wil sing my song, all the dayes of our life in the House of the Lord.

The said Isaiáh, Take a lumpe of drye figges and laie it vpon the boile, and he shal recouer.

Also Hezekiáh had said, What is the signe, that I shal go vp into the House of the Lord?

CHAP. XXXIX.

Hezekiáh is reprobued, because he shewed his treasures vnto the ambassadours of Babylon.

At the same time, Merodach Baladan, the sonne of Baladan, King of Babél, sent letters, & a present to Hezekiáh: for he had heard that he had bene sicke, and was recouered.

And Hezekiáh was glad of them, and shewed them the house of the treasures, the siluer, and the golde, and the spices, & the precious ointement, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his kingdome that Hezekiáh shewed them not.

Then came Isaiáh the Prophet vnto King Hezekiáh, and said vnto him, What said these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiáh said, They are come from a farre countrey vnto me, from Babél.

Then said he, What haue they sene in thine house? And Hezekiáh answered, All that is in mine house haue they sene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

And Isaiáh said to Hezekiáh, Heare the worde of the Lord of hostes, Beholde, the dayes come that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers haue laid vp in store vntil this day, shalbe carryed to Babél: nothing shalbe left, saith the Lord.

And of thy sonnes, that shal procede out of thee, & which thou shalt beget, shal they take away, and they shalbe eunuches in the palace of the King of Babél.

Then said Hezekiáh to Isaiáh, The worde of the Lord is good, which thou hast spoken: and he said, Yet let there be peace, and trueth in my dayes.

CHAP. XL.

Remission of sinnes by Christ. The coming of Iohn Baptist. The Prophet reprobued the idolaters and them that trust not in the Lord.

Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God say.

Speake comfortably to Ierusalém, & crye vnto her, that her warrefare is accomplished, that her iniquitie is pardoned: for she hath receiued of the Lords hand double for all her sinnes.

A voyce cryeth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make streight in the desert a path for our God.

Euerie valleie shalbe exalted, and euerie mountaine and hill shalbe made lowe: & the crooked shalbe streight, and the rough places plaine.

And y glorie of the Lord shalbe reueiled, and all flesh shal se it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

A voyce said, Crye. And he said, What shal I crye? All flesh is grasse, and all the grace thereof is as y floure of the field.

The grasse withereth, the floure fadeth, because the Spirit of the Lord bloweth vpon it: surely the people is grasse.

The grasse withereth, y floure fadeth: but them worde of our God shal stand for euer.

O Ziön, that bringest good tidings, get thee vp into the hie mountaine: O Ierusalém, that bringest good tidings, lift vp thy voyce with strength: lift it vp, be not afraide: say vnto the cities of Iudáh, Beholde your God.

<sup>a</sup> There shal be none to succour them, or to wil the enemy to restore that, w<sup>ch</sup> he hath spoiled.

21 The Lord is willing for his righteousness sake that he may magnifie the Law, & exalt it.

22 But this people is robbed and spoiled, and shalbe all snared in dongeons, & they shalbe hid in prison houses: thei shalbe for a pray, and none shal deliuer: a spoile, and none shal say, a Restore.

23 Who amōg you shal hearken to this, & take hede, and heare for afterwardes?

24 Who gaue Iaakōb for a spoile, and Israhel to the robbers? Did not the Lord, because we haue sinned against him? for they wolde not walke in his wayes, nether be obedient vnto his Law.

25 Therefore he hath powred vpon him his fierce wrath, and the strength of battel: and it set him on fyre round about, and he knewe not, and it burned him vp, yet he considered not.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The Lord comforteth his people. He promiseth deliuerance to the Iewes. 21 There is no God but one alone.

<sup>a</sup> After these threathings he promiseth deliuerance to his Church, because he hath regenerate them, adopted them & called them.

BVt now thus saith the Lord, a that created thee, o Iaakōb: and he that formed thee, o Israhel, b Feare not: for I haue redemed thee: I haue called thee by thy name, thou art mine.

<sup>b</sup> When thou seest dangers and conspiracies on all sides, remember this benefite of thy God, and it shal encourage thee.

2 When thou passest through the waters, I wil be with thee, & through the floods, that thei do not ouerflowe thee. When thou walkest through the verie fyre, thou shalt not be burnt, nether shal the flame kindle vpon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy one of Israhel, thy Sauour: I gaue d Egypt for thy ransome, Ethiopia, and Seba for thee.

<sup>d</sup> I turned Seneheribes power against these countreies and made thei to suffer that affliction which thou shouldest haue done, and so were as the payment of thy ransome, Chas. 37. 36.

4 Because thou wast precious in my sight, & thou wast honorable, and I loued thee, therefore wil I giue e man for thee, & people for thy sake.

<sup>e</sup> I wil not spare anie man rather than thou shouldest perish: for God more eueneth one of his faithful, then all the wicked in the worlde.

5 Feare not, for I am with thee: I wil bring thy sede from the East, and gather thee from the West.

<sup>f</sup> He prophesieth of their deliuerance from the captiuitie of Babylon, and so of the calling of the vniuersal Church, including to that which is written Deut. 30. 6. Meaning, that he wolde not be vniuersal of them, except he wolde neglect his owne Name & glorie.

6 I wil saie to the North, Giue: and to the South, Kepe not backe: bring my sonnes from farre, and my daughters from the endes of the earth.

<sup>g</sup> Signifying, that no power can resist him in doing this miraculous worke, nor all their idoles are able to do the like, as Chap. 41. 23. i Do prout that the things, which are spoken of them, are true.

7 Euerie one shalbe called by my Name: for I created him for my glorie, formed him and made him.

<sup>k</sup> Shewing, that the malice of the wicked hindereth them, in the knowledge of the truth because thei wil not heare when God speaketh by his worde.

8 I wil bring forth the blinde people, and thei shal haue eyes, and the deafe, & they shal haue eares.

9 Let all the nacions be gathered together, and let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this and shewe vs former things? let them bring forth thei witnesses, y thei maie be iustified: but let them heare, and saie, It is trueth.

<sup>m</sup> Meaning, specially Christ and by him, all y faith

10 You are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my seruant, whome I haue chosen: therefore ye shal knowe and beleue me & ye shal vnderstand that I am: before me there was no God formed, nether shal there be after me.

11 I, euen I, am the Lord, & beside me there is no Sauour.

12 I haue declared, and I haue saued, and I haue shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore you are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was, I am, and there is none that can deliuer out of mine had: I wil do it, and who shal let it?

14 Thus saith the Lord your redemer, the holy one of Israhel, For your sake I haue sent to Babel, and a brought it downe: they are all fugitiues and the Chaldeans cry in the shippes.

15 I am the Lord your holy one, the creator of Israhel, your King.

<sup>ful.</sup> n By Darius and Cyrus. o Thei shal crye when thei wolde escape by water, being y the courie of Euphrates is turned another way by y enemies

16 Thus saith the Lord which maketh a way in<sup>p</sup> the Sea, and a path in the mightie waters.

17 When he bringeth out the chariot, & horse, the armie & the power lie together, & shal not rise: thei are extinct, and quenched as towne.

18 Remember ye not the former things, neither regarde the things of olde.

19 Beholde, I do a newe thing: nowe shal it come forth: shal you not knowe it? I will euē make awaie in the desert & floods in the wilderness.

20 The wilde beasts shal honour me, the dragons and the ostriches, because I gaue water in the desert & floods in the wilderness to giue drinke to my people, euē to mine elect.

21 This people haue I formed for my self: thei shal shewe forth my praise.

22 And thou hast not called vpon me, o Iakób, but thou hast wearied me, o Israél.

23 Thou hast not broght me the shepe of thy burnt offerings, neither hast thou honored me with thy sacrifices. I haue not caused thee to serue with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou boughtest me no swete sauour w<sup>m</sup> monie, neither hast thou made me drunke with the farr of thy sacrifices, but thou hast made me to serue with thy sinnes, & wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, euē I, am he that putteth awaie thine iniquities for mine owne sake, & wil not remember thy sinnes.

26 Put me in remembrance: let vs be iudged together: count thou that thou maiest be iustified.

27 Thy first father hath sinned, and thy teachers haue transgressed against me.

28 Therefore I haue prophaned the rulers of the Sanctuarie, and haue made Iakób a curse, and Israél a reproche.

4 And thei shal growe as among the grasse, & as the willowes by the riuer of waters.

5 One shal say, I am y<sup>e</sup> Lords: another shal be called by the name of Iakób: & another shal subscribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and name him self by the name of Israél.

6 Thus saith the Lord the King of Israél & his redemer, the Lord of hostes, I am y<sup>e</sup> first, and I am the last, and without me is there no God.

7 And who is like me, that shal call, and shal declare it, and set it in order before me, since I appointed the ancient people? and what is at hand, and what things are to come? let them shewe vnto them.

8 Feare ye not, neither be afraied: haue not I tolde thee of olde, and haue declared it? you are euē my witnesses, whether there be a God beside me, and that there is no God that I knowe not.

9 All thei that make an image, are vantiue, and their delectable things shal nothing profite: & thei are their owne witnesses, that thei se not nor knowe: therefore thei shal be confounded.

10 Who hath made a god, or molten an image, that is profitable for nothing?

11 Beholde, all that are of the felowship thereof, shal be confounded: for the workmen them selues are men: let them all be gathered together, and stand vp, yet thei shal feare, and be confounded together.

12 The smith taketh an instrument, & worketh in the coles, and facioneth it with hammers, & worketh it with the strength of his armes: yea, he is an hungred, & his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, & is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out a line: he facioneth it with a red thread, he planeth it, and he putteth it with the compasse, and maketh it after the figure of a man, & according to the beautie of a man that it maie remaine in an house.

14 He wil hewe him downe cedres, and take the pine tre and the oke, and taketh courage among the trees of the forest: he planterh a fyre tre, and the raine doeth nourish it.

x That is, he either maketh a table or trenchers.
y The Prophet giueth here an answer to all them that wonder how it is possible that anie shulde be so blinde to commit such abomination, saying, y<sup>e</sup> God hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their hearts.

21 Remembre these (o Iaakób and Israél) for y<sup>e</sup> art my seruant: I haue formed thee: thou art my seruāt: o Israél forget me not.

22 I haue put awaie thy trasgressions like a cloude, and thy sinnes, as a mist: turne vnto me, for I haue redeemed thee.

24 Thus saith the Lord thy redemer & he that formed thee from the wombe, I am the Lord, that made all things, that spred out the heauens alone, and stretched out the earth by my self.

25 I destroye the tokens of the soothsayers and makethem that coniecture, fooles, & turne the wise men backward, and make their knowledge foolishnes.

26 He confirmeth the worde of his seruāt and performeth the counsel of his messengers, saying to Ierusalēm, Thou shalt be inhabited: and to the cities of Iudáh, ye shal be buylt vp, and I wil repaire the decayed places thereof.

27 He saith to the depe, Be drye and I wil drye vp thy floods.

28 He saith to Cyrus, Thou art my shepherd:

& he shal reforme all my desire, sayig also to Ierusalēm, Thou shalt be buylt: and to the Temple, Thy fundacion shal be surely laied.

CHAP. XLV.

1 Thus saith the Lord vnto Cyrus his <sup>a</sup> anointed, whose right hand I haue holden <sup>c</sup> to subdue nations before him: therefore wil I weakē the loynes of Kigs and open the dores before him, & the gates shal not be shut.

2 I wil go before thee & make y<sup>e</sup> crooked streight: I wil breake the brasen dores, & burst the yron barres.

3 And I wil giue thee y<sup>e</sup> treasures of darkenes, and the things hid in secret places, that thou maist <sup>e</sup> knowe that I am the Lord which call thee by thy name, euen the God of Israél.

4 For Iaakób my seruants <sup>f</sup> sake, and Israél mine elect, I wil euē call thee by thy name & name thee, though thou hast not knowen me.

5 I am the Lord and there is none other: there is no God besides me: I girded thee though thou hast not knowen me,

6 That they maie knowe from the rising of the sunne & from the West, that there is none besides me. I am the Lord, and there is none other.

7 I forme the light and creat darkenes: I make peace & great euil: I the Lord do all these things.

8 Ye heauens, send the dewe from aboue, & let y<sup>e</sup> cloudes drop downe: <sup>i</sup> righteoufnes: let the earth open, and let saluacion and iustice growe forth: let it bring them forth together: I the Lord haue <sup>k</sup> created him.

11 Thus saith the Lord, the holy one of Israél, and his maker, Aske me <sup>n</sup> of things to come concerning my sonnes, and concerning the workes of mine hands: commande you me.

1 The destruction of Babylon and of their idoles. 3 He calleth the Iewes to the consideration of his workes.

the heauens, I haue euen commanded all their armie.

13 I haue raised <sup>p</sup> him vp in righteousness, & I wil direct all his waies: he shal buyld my citie, and he shal let go my captiues, not for price nor reward, saith the Lord of hostes.

14 Thus saith the Lord, The labour of Egypt, and the marchandise of Ethiopia, & of the Sabeans, men of stature shal come vnto thee, and thei shal be <sup>t</sup> thine: thei shal followe thee, and shal go in chaines: they shal fall downe before thee, and make supplication vnto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none other God besides.

15 Verely thou, <sup>o</sup> God, <sup>t</sup> hidest thy self, <sup>o</sup> God, the Sauour of Israël.

16 All they shalbe ashamed and also confounded: they shal go to confusion together, that are the makers of images.

17 But Israël shalbe sauéd in the Lord, with an euerlasting saluacion: ye shal not be ashamed nor confounded worlde without end.

18 For thus saith the Lord (that created heauen, God him self, that formed <sup>y</sup> earth, and made it: he that prepared it, he created it not in vaine: he formed it to be <sup>u</sup> inhabited) I am the Lord, and there is none other.

19 I haue not spoken in secret, <sup>nether</sup> in a place of darkenes in the earth: I said not in vaine vnto <sup>y</sup> sede of Iakób, Seke you me: I the Lord do speake righteousness, & declare righteous things.

20 Assemble your selues, and come: drawe nere together, ye abiect of the Gentiles: they haue no knowledge, that set vp the wood of their idole, and pray vnto a god, that can not saue them.

21 Telye and bring them, & let them take counsel together, who hathe declared this from the beginning? or hathe tolde it of olde? Haue not I the Lord? & there is none other God beside me, a iust God, & a Sauour: there is none beside me.

22 Loke vnto me, and ye shal be sauéd: all the ends of the earth shal be sauéd: for I am God, and there is none other.

23 I haue sworne by my self: the worde is gone out of my mouth in <sup>a</sup> righteousness, and shal not returne, That euerie <sup>b</sup> knee shal bowe vnto me, and euerie tongue shal sweare by me.

24 Surely <sup>e</sup> he shal say, In the Lord haue I righteousness and strength: he shal come vnto him, and all that <sup>d</sup> prouoke him, shal be ashamed.

25 The whole sede of Israël shalbe iustified, and glorie in the Lord.

1 BEl is bowed downe: <sup>a</sup> Nebó is fallen: <sup>a</sup> Their idoles were vpon the <sup>b</sup> beastes, and vpon the cattel: they which did beare you, were laden with a wearie burden.

2 <sup>c</sup> They are bowed downe, & fallen together: for thei colde not rid the of the burden, & their <sup>d</sup> soule is gone into captiuitie. 3 Heare ye me, <sup>o</sup> house of Iakób, & all that remaine of the house of Israël, which are borne of me from the wombe, and brought vp of me from the birth.

4 Therefore vnto olde age, I the same, eue I wil beare you vntil the hore heeres: I haue made <sup>you</sup>: I wil also beare <sup>you</sup>, and I wil carye <sup>you</sup> and I wil deliuer <sup>you</sup>.

5 ¶ To whome wil ye make me like, or make me equal, or <sup>s</sup> compare me, that I shulde be like him?

6 They drawe golde out of the bagge and weigh siluer in the balance, and hyre a goldsmith to make a god of it, & they bowe downe, and worship it.

7 They beare it vpon the shoulders: they cary him and set him in his place: so doeth he stand, & can not remoue from his place. Thogh one crye vnto him, yet can he not answer, nor deliuer him out of his tribulation.

8 Remember this, and be ashamed: bring it againe <sup>h</sup> to minde, <sup>o</sup> you transgressors.

9 Remember the former things of olde: for I am God, and there is none other God, and there is nothing like me,

10 Which declare the last thing from the beginning: and from of olde, the things that were not done, saying, My counsel shal stand, & I wil do whatsoeuer I wil.

11 I call a <sup>i</sup> birde from the East, & the man of my <sup>k</sup> counsel from far: as I haue spoken, so wil I bring it to passe: I haue purposed it, and I wil do it.

12 Heare me, ye stubburne hearted, that are farre from <sup>i</sup> iustice.

13 I bring <sup>m</sup> nere my iustice: it shal not be farre of, and my saluacion shal not tary: for I wil giue saluacion in Zión, and my glorie vnto Israël.

Thy filthines shalbe discouered, and thy

Our redemer, the Lord of hostes is his Name, the holy one of Israel.

Sit stil, and get thee into darkenes, o daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The ladie of kingdomes.

I was wrath with my people: I haue polluted mine inheritance, and giuen them into thine hand: thou didest shewe them no mercie, but thou didest lay thy very heauie yoke vpon the ancient.

And thou saidest, I shalbe a ladie for e-uer, so that thou didest not set thy minde to these things, nether didest thou remember the latter end thereof.

Therefore now heare, thou that art giuen to pleasures, & dwellest careles, She saith in her heart, I am and none els: I shal not sit as a widdow, nether shal knowe y losse of children.

But these two things shal come to thee suddenly on one day, the losse of children and widdowhead: they shal come vpon thee in their perfection, for the multitude of thy diuinacions, & for the great abundance of thine inchanters.

For thou hast trusted in thy wickednes:
thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wis-dome & thy knowledge, thei haue caused thee to rebell, and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none els.

Therefore shal euil come vpon thee, and thou shalt not know the morning thereof:
destruction shal fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put away: destruction shal come vpon thee suddenly, or thou beware.

Stand now among thine inchanters, and in the multitude of thy sothesayers (with whome thou hast wearied thy self from thy youth) if so be thou maiest haue pro-fite, or if so be thou maiest haue strength.

Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the starre gasers, & pronosticatours stand vp, and saue thee from these things, that shal come vpon thee.

Beholde, they shalbe as stubble: the fyre shal burne them: thei shal not deliuer their owne liues from the power of the flame:
there shalbe no coles to warme at, nor light to sit by.

Thus shal they serue thee, with whome thou hast wearied thee, eue thy marchants from thy youth: euery one shal wander to his owne quarter: none shal saue thee.

<sup>1</sup> The hypocrisie of the Iewes is reprov'd. <sup>2</sup> The Lord alone wil be worshipped. <sup>30</sup> Of their deliuerance out of Babylon.

Heare ye this, o house of Iaakób, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come out of the waters of Iudáh: which sweare by the Name of the Lord, and make mencion of the God of Israel, but not in trueth, nor in righteousnes.

For they are called of the holy citie, and staie them selues vpon the God of Isra-él, whose Name is the Lord of hostes.

I haue declared the former things of olde, and they went out of my mouth, and I shewed them: I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

Because I knewe, that thou art obstinate, and thy necke is an yron sinew, and thy browe brasle,

Therefore I haue declared it to thee of olde: before it came to passe, I shewed it thee, lest thou shuldest say, Mine idole hathe done them, and my carued image, and my molten image hathe commanded
them.

Thou hast heard, beholde all this, & wil not ye declare it? I haue shewed thee new things, euen now, and hid things, which thou knewest not.

They are created now, and not of olde, and euen before this thou heardest them not, lest y shuldest say, Beholde, I knewe them.

Yet thou heardest the not, nether didest knowe them, nether yet was thine eare opened of olde: for I knewe that thou wol-dest grievously transgresse: therefore haue I called thee a transgressor from the wombe.

For my Names sake wil I differ my wrath, and for my praise wil I refraine it from thee, that I cut thee not of.

Beholde, I haue fined thee, but not as siluer: I haue chosen thee in the fornace of affliction.

For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake wil I do it: for how shulde my Name be polluted? surely I wil not giue my glorie vnto another.

Heare me, o Iaakób & Israel, my called,
I am, I am the first, and I am the last.

Surely mine hand hathe layed the funda-cion of the earth, & my right hand hathe spanned the heauens: when I call them, they stand vp together.

All you, assemble your selues, & heare:
which among them hathe declared these things? The Lord hathe loued him: he wil owne honour: so that they can not perishe, but his glorie shulde be diminished, 15 I, euen I haue spoken it, and I haue called him: I haue brought him, and his waie shal prosper.

16 Come nere vnto me: heare ye this: I haue not spoken it in secret frō the beginning: from the time that the thing was, I was there, and now the Lord God and his spirit hathe sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord thy redemer, the Holie one of Israél, I am the Lord thy God, which teache thee to profite, & lead thee by the waie, that thou shuldest go.

18 Oh that thou hadest hearkened to my commandements, then had thy prosperitie bene as the flood, and thy righteousnes as the waues of the sea.

19 Thy fede also had bene as the sande, and thy frute of thy bodie like the grauel thereof: his name shulde not haue bene cut of nor destroyed before me.

20 Go ye out of Babel: flee ye from the Chaldeans, with a voice of ioye: tel and declare this: shewe it forth to the end of the earth: saye ye, The Lord hathe redeemed his seruant Iaakób.

21 And they were not thirstie: he led them through the wildernes: he caused waters to flowe out of the rocke for them: for he claue the rocke, and the water gushed out.

22 There is no peace, saith the Lord, vnto the wicked.

CHAP. XLIX.

The Lord exhorteth all nacions to beleue his promises. 6 Christ is the saluacion of all that beleue, and wil deliuer them from the tyrannie of their enemies.

1 Heare ye me, o yles, & hearkē, ye people frō farre. The Lord hathe called me from the wombe, and made mencion of my name from my mothers bellie.

2 And he hathe made my mouth like a sharpe sworde: vnder the shadowe of his hād hathe he hid me, and made me a chosen shafte & hid me in his quiver,

3 And said vnto me, Thou art my seruant, o Israél, for I wil be glorious in thee.

4 And I said, I haue labored in vaine: I haue spent my strength in vaine and for nothing: but my iudgement is with the Lord, and my worke with my God.

5 And now saith the Lord, that formed me frō the wombe to be his seruant, that I maie bring Iaakób againe to him (thogh Israél be not gathered, yet shal I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord: and my God shalbe my strength)

6 And he said, It is a smale thing that thou shuldest be my seruant, to raise vp the tribes of Iaakób, and to restore the desolations of Israél: I wil also giue thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou maiest be my saluacion vnto the end of the worlde.

7 Thus saith the Lord the redemer of Israél, & his Holie one, to him that is despised in soule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a seruant of rulers, Kings shal se, and arise, and princes shal worship, because of the Lord, that is faithful: and the Holie one of Israél, which hathe chosen thee.

8 Thus saith the Lord, In an acceptable time haue I heard thee, and in a day of saluacion haue I helped thee: and I wil preserue thee, and wil giue thee for a covenant of the people, that thou maiest raise vp the earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the desolate heritages:

9 That thou maiest say to thy prisoners, Go forth: and to them that are in darkenes, Shewe your selues: they shal fede in the wayes, & their pastures shalbe in all the toppes of the hilles.

10 They shal not be hūgrie, nether shal they be thirstie, nether shal the heat smite them nor the sunne: for he that hathe compassion on them, shal lead them: euen to the springs of waters shal he driue them.

11 And I wil make all my mountaines, as a way, & my paths shalbe exalted.

12 Beholde, these shal come frō farre: & lo, these from the North and from the West, and these from the land of Sinim.

13 Reioyce, o heauens: and be ioyful, o earth: braut forthe in to praise, o mountaines: for God hathe comforted his people, & wil haue mercie vpon his afflicted.

14 But Zión said, The Lord hathe forsaken me, and my Lord hathe forgottē me.

15 Can a woman forget her childe, and not haue compassion on the sonne of her wombe? thogh they shulde forget, yet wil I not forget thee.

16 Beholde, I haue graued thee vpon the palme of mine hands: thy walles are euer in my sight.

17 Thy buylders make haste: thy destroyers and they that made thee waste, are departed from thee.

18 Lift vp thine eyes rounde about & behold: all these gather the selues together & come to thee: as I liue, saith the Lord, thou shalt surely put them all vpon thee as a garmēt, & gird thy self wth them like a bride.

19 For thy desolations, & thy waste places, & thy land destroyed, shal surely be now narrow for them: they shal dwell in it, & they that did deuoure thee, shalbe farre away.

20 The children of thy barennes shal say againe in thine eares, The place is strait for me: giue place to me that I may dwell.

21 They shal say in thine heart, Who hathe begotten me these, seing I am baren and <sup>h</sup> To declare my Gospel to the Gentiles, Cha. 42, 6. ad. 13, 47. luk. 2, 37.

<sup>k</sup> The benefit of their deliuerance shalbe so great, that great, & smale shal acknowledge it, & reuerence God for it. I Thus he speaketh of his Church, when he wolde shew his mercie toward it, 1 Cor. 6, 2.

<sup>p</sup> Being in Christs protection, they shalbe safe against all dangers, & free from the feare of the enemies.

<sup>q</sup> Meaning, there shalbe nothing in their way from Babylon, shal hinder or hurt them: but this is accomplished spiritually.

<sup>y</sup> I haue a continual care to buyld thee vp againe, & to destroye thine enemies.

<sup>z</sup> He sheweth what are the ornaments of the Church: to haue manie children, which are assembled by the worde of God & gouerned by his Spirit.

<sup>f</sup> Since the time that I declared my self to your fathers.

<sup>i</sup> That is, the prosperous estate of Israél. <sup>j</sup> After that he had forewarned them of their captiuitie, and of the cause thereof, he sheweth them the great ioye, shal come of their deliuerance.

<sup>k</sup> He sheweth that it shalbe easy to deliuer them, as he did their fathers out of Egypt. <sup>l</sup> Thus he speaketh that the wicked hypocrites shulde not abate Gods promises in whome was neither faith, nor repentance, Chap. 57, 21.

<sup>a</sup> This is spoken in the person of Christ to assure the faithful, that these promises shulde come to passe: for they were all made in him, and in him shulde be performed.

<sup>b</sup> This is met of the time, & Christ shulde be manifested to the worlde, as Psal. 2, 7.

<sup>c</sup> By the sworde, and shafte, he signifieth the verue and efficacy of Christs doctrine.

<sup>d</sup> God hathe take me to his protection and defence: this chiefly is met of Christ, and may also be applied to his ministers.

<sup>e</sup> By Israél is met Christ, & all the body of faithful as the members and their head. <sup>f</sup> Thus Christ in his members complaineth, that his labour, and preaching take none effect, yet he is contented, & his doings are approved of God. <sup>g</sup> Thogh the Iewes refuse my doctrine, yet God wil approue my ministerie.

21 Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will lift vp mine hand to the Gentiles and set vp my standart to the people, and they shall bring thy sonnes in their armes: and thy daughters shall be caryed vpon their shoulders.

22 And Kings shall be thy noursing fathers, and Quenes shall be thy nourses: they shall worship thee with their faces toward the earth, and lick vp the dust of thy fete: & thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord: for they shall not be ashamed to waite for me.

24 Shall the praise be taken from the mightie? or the iust captiuitie deliuered?

25 But thus saith the Lord, Euen the captiuitie of the mightie shall be taken awaie: & the praise of the tyrant shall be deliuered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, & I will saue thy children, 26 And will fede them that spoile thee, with their owne flesh, and they shall be drunken with their owne blood, as with swete wine: & all flesh shall knowe that I Lord am thy Sauour & thy redemer, the mightie one of Iakob.

CHAP. I.

1 The lewes forsaken for a time. 2 Yet the power of God is not diminished. 3 Christs obedience & victorie.

1 Thus saith the Lord, Where is that subtil of your mothers diuorcement, whome I haue cast off? or who is the creditor to whome I solde you? Beholde, for your iniquities are ye solde, and because of your transgressions is your mother forsaken.

2 Wherefore came I, & there was no man? I called, and none answered: is mine hand so shortened, that it can not helpe? or haue I no power to deliuer? beholde, at my rebuke I drye vp the Sea: I make the floods desert: their fish rotteth for want of water, and dyeth for thirst.

3 I clothe the heauens with darknes, & make a sacke their couering.

4 The Lord God hath giuen me a tongue of the learned, that I should knowe to minister a worde in time to him who is weary: he wil raise me vp in the morning: in the morning he wil waken mine eare to heare, as the learned.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine eare, and I was not rebellious, nether turned I backe.

a He sheweth, y Christ wil not onely gather this great number of the lewes, but also of the Gentiles.

b Meaning, y Kings shall be conuerted to y Gospel and be shew their power, & autoritie for the preferuation of the Church.

c Being ioyned with the Church, they shall hūble the felues to Christ their head, and giue him all honour.

d He maketh this as an obiectio, as though the Chaldeas were strong, & had them in iuste possessio.

e This is the answer to their obiectio, y none is stronger then the Lord, nether hath a more iuste title vnto them.

f I will cause them to destroye one another, as Iud.

7, 22. 2 chro. 20, 22. chap. 19, 2.

a Meaning, y he had not forsaken her, but through her owne occasio, as Hosea 2, 2. b Which should declare, y I haue cut her of meaning, y they coulde shewe none.

c Signifying y he solde them not for anie det or povercie, but y they solde the selues to sinne to die their owne lustes, & pleasures.

d He came by his Prophetes and ministers, but they wolde not beleue their doctrine and conuert.

e Am I not as able to helpe you, as I haue holpen your fathers of olde, when I dryed vp y red Sea, and killed the fish in the riuers, & also afterwarde, in Iorden?

f As I did in Egypt in toke of my displeasure, Exod. 10, 21. g The Prophet doeth represente here the persone and charge of them that are iustly called to the ministerie of Gods worde.

h To him that is oppressed by affliction and miserie. i As they that are taught, and made me by him.

6 I gaue my backe vnto the smiters, and my chekes to the nippers: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

7 For the Lord God wil helpe me, therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore haue I set my face like a flint, and I knowe that I shall not be ashamed.

8 He is nere that iustifieth me: who wil contend with me? Let vs stand together: who is mine aduersarie? let him come nere to me.

9 Beholde, the Lord God wil helpe me: who is he that can condemne me? lo, they shall waxe olde as a garment: the mothe shall eat them vp.

10 Who is among you that feareth y Lord? let him heare the voyce of his seruant: he that walketh in darkenes, & hath no light, let him trust in the Name of the Lord, & stay vpon his God.

11 Beholde, all you kinde a fyre, and are compassed about with sparkes: walke in y light of your fyre, and in the sparkes that ye haue kindled. This shall ye haue of mine hand: ye shall lie downe in sorowe.

CHAP. II.

1 To trust in God alone by Abrahams example. 7 Not to feare men. 17 The great affliction of Ierusalem, & her deliuerance.

1 Heare me, ye that follow after righteousness, & ye that seeke the Lord: loke vnto the rocke, whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit, whence ye are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, & blessed him, and increased him.

3 Surely the Lord shall comfort Zion: he shall comfort all her desolations, and he shall make her desert like Eden, and her wilderness like the garden of the Lord: ioye and gladnes shall be founde therein: praise, and the voyce of singing.

4 Hearken ye vnto me, my people, and giue care vnto me, o my people: for a Law shall procede from me, and I will bring forth the my iudgement for the light of the people.

5 My righteousness is nere: my saluacion goeth forth, and mine armes shall iudge the people: the yles shall waite for me, and shall trust vnto mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and loke vpon the earth beneath: for the heauens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall waxe olde like a garment, and they that dwell therein, shall perish in like maner: but my saluacion shall be for euer, & my righteousness shall not be abolished.

7 Hearken vnto me, ye that knowe righteousness, the people in whose heart is my Law. Feare ye not the reproche of men, nether be ye afraid of their rebukes.

1 I did not shrinke from God for anie persecution or calamitie. Whereby he sheweth, that the true ministers of God can loke for none other recompence of y wicked but after this sorte, and also what is their comfort.

1 Shewing y is a rare thing that anie should obey aright Gods true ministers, though they labour to bring the trohel to heauen. m You haue sought consolation by your owne deuities, & haue refused the light, and consolation, & God hath offered: therefore ye shall remaine in sorowe, and not be comforted.

a He comforteth y Church, that shei shall not be discouraged for their small number. b That is, to Abraham, of whome ye were b-gotten, & to Sarah, of whome ye were borne.

c As plentiful as Paradise, Genes. 2, 3.

d I will rule, & gouerne y Church by my worde, and doctrine.

e The time, y I will accomplish my promises. f My power, and strength.

g He forewarneth them of the horrible changes & mutations of all things, & how he wil preferue his Church in the muddes of all these dangers.

8 For

6 For the mothe shal eat the vp like a garment, and the worme shal eat them like wolle: but my righteousness shal be for euer, and my saluacion from generacion to generacion.

9 Rise vp, rise vp, and put on strength, o arme of the Lord: rise vp, as <sup>h</sup> in the olde time in the generacions of the worlde. Art not thou the same, that hast cut <sup>i</sup> Rahab, and wounded the <sup>k</sup> dragon?

10 Art not thou the same, which hath dried the Sea, <sup>euen</sup> the waters of the great depe, making the depth of the Sea a way for the redemed to passe ouer?

11 Therefore the redemed of the Lord shal <sup>l</sup> returne, and come with ioye vnto Zión, and euerlasting ioye shalbe vpon their head: they shal obteine ioye, & gladnes: & sorowe and mourning shal flee away.

12 I, <sup>euen</sup> I, am he, that comfort you. Who art thou, that thou shuldest feare a mortal man, and the sonne of man, which shalbe made as grasse?

13 And forgetest the Lord thy maker, that hath spread out the heauens, and laide the fundacions of the earth: and hast feared continually all the day, because of the rage of the oppressour, which is ready to destroye? Where is now the rage of the oppressour?

14 The captiue <sup>m</sup> hasteneth to be loosed, and that he shulde not dye in the pit, nor that his bread shulde faile.

15 And I am the Lord thy God that diuided the Sea, when his waues roared: the Lord of hostes <sup>is</sup> his Name.

16 And I haue put my wordes in thy <sup>n</sup> mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant <sup>y</sup> o heauens, and laye the fundacion of the earth, & say vnto Zión, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and stand vp, o Ierusalém, which hast drinke at the hand of the Lord the <sup>p</sup> cup of his wrath: thou hast drunken the dregges of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all <sup>y</sup> sonnes, whome she hath brought forth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of all the sonnes that she hath brought vp.

19 These two <sup>q</sup> things are come vnto thee: who wil lament thee? desolation and destruction, and famine, and the sworde: by whome shal I comforte thee?

20 Thy sonnes haue fainted, and lie at the head of all the stretes as a wilde bulle in a net, and are full of the wrath of the Lord, & rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heare now this, thou miserable and drunken, but <sup>r</sup> not with wine.

22 Thus saith thy Lord God, <sup>euen</sup> God that pleaderth the cause of his people, Beholde, I haue taken out of thine hand the cuppe of trembling, <sup>euen</sup> the dregges of the cuppe of my wrath: thou shalt drinke it no more.

23 But I wil put it into their had that spoile thee: which haue said to thy soule, Bowe downe, that we may go ouer, and thou hast laid thy bodie as the ground, and as the strete to them that went ouer.

CHAP. LII.

1 A consolation to the people of God. 7 Of the messengers thereof.

1 Rise, arise: put on thy strength, o Zión: put on the garments of thy beautie, o Ierusalém, the holy citie: for hence forth there shal no <sup>a</sup> more come into thee the vncircumcised and the vncleane.

2 Shake thy self from the <sup>b</sup> dust: arise, and sit downe, o Ierusalém: loose the bandes of thy necke, o thou captiue daughter, Zión.

3 For thus saith the Lord, Ye were solde for <sup>c</sup> naught: therefore shal ye be redemed without money.

4 For thus saith the Lord God, My people went <sup>d</sup> downe afore time into Egypt to sojourn there, and Asshur <sup>e</sup> oppressed them without cause.

5 Now therefore what haue I here, saith the Lord, that my people is takē away for naught, and thei that rule ouer them, make them to howle, saith the Lord? & my Name all the day continually is <sup>f</sup> blasphemed?

6 Therefore my people shal knowe my Name: therefore <sup>g</sup> thei shal knowe in that day, that I am he that do speake: beholde, it is I.

7 How beautiful vpon the mountaines are the fete of him, that declareth & publisheth peace: that declareth good tidings, & publisheth saluacion, saying vnto Zión, Thy God reigneth?

8 <sup>h</sup> The voice of thy watchemen shalbe heard: thei shal lift vp their voyce, and shout together: for thei shal se eye to eye, when the Lord shal bring againe Zión.

9 O ye desolate places of Ierusalém, be glad and reioyce together: for the Lord hath comforted his people: he hath redemed Ierusalém.

10 The Lord hath made <sup>i</sup> bare his holy arme in the sight of all the Gentiles, and all the ends of the earth shal se the saluacion of our God.

11 <sup>k</sup> Departe, departe ye: go out from thence and touche no vncleane thing: go out of the middes of her: be ye cleane, that <sup>l</sup> beare the vessels of the Lord.

2 But he shal growe vp before him as a branche, & as a <sup>c</sup> roote out of a drye <sup>d</sup> ground: he hath nether forme nor beautie: whe we shal se him, there shalbe no forme that we shulde desire him.

3 He is despised and reiected of mē: he is a man ful of sorows and hath experience of <sup>e</sup> infirmities: we hid as it were our faces from him: he was despised and we esteemed him not.

4 Surely he hath borne our infirmities, & caried <sup>f</sup> our sorowes: yet we did iudge hī, as <sup>g</sup> plagued, and smitten of God, & humbled.

5 But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was broken for our iniquities: the <sup>h</sup> chastisemēt of our peace <sup>i</sup> was vpon him, and with his stripes we are healed.

6 All we like shepe haue gone astray: we haue turned euerie one to his owne way, and the Lord hath layed vpon him the <sup>j</sup> iniquitie of vs all.

7 He was oppressed & he was afflicted, yet did he not <sup>k</sup> opē his mouth: he is brought as a shepe to the slaughter, and as a shepe before her shearer is dumme, so he openeth not his mouth.

8 He was taken out from <sup>l</sup> prison, and fro iudgement: <sup>m</sup> & who shal declare his age? for he was cut out of the lād of the liuig: for the transgression of my people was he plagued.

9 <sup>n</sup> And he made his graue with <sup>o</sup> wicked, and with the riche in his death, though he had done no wickednes, nether <sup>p</sup> was anie deceite in his mouth.

10 But willingly, & patiently obeyed his fathets appointment, Mat 26. 63. act 8. 32. l From the crosse, and graue after that he was condemned. m Though he dyed for sinne, yet after his resurrection he shal liue for euer, and this his death is to restore life to his members, Rom 6. 9.

n God the Father deliuered him into the hands of the wicked, and re the powers of the worlde to do with him what they wolde.

10 Yet the Lord wolde breake him, & make him subiect to infirmities: whe <sup>q</sup> he shal make his soule an offering for sinne, he shal se his fede & shal prolong his daies, and the wil of the Lord shal prosper in his hand.

11 He shal se of the <sup>r</sup> trauaile of his soule, & shalbe satisfied: by his knowledge shal my <sup>s</sup> righteous seruant iustifie manie: for he shal beare their iniquities.

12 Therefore wil I giue him a portion with the great, and he shal deuide the spoyle with the strong, because he <sup>t</sup> hath powdered out his soule vnto death: and he was counted with the transgressors, and he bare the sinne <sup>u</sup> of many, and praied for the trespassers.

CHAP. LIIII.

1 Mo of the Gentiles shal beleue the Gospel then of the Iewes. 7 God leaueth his for a time, to whome afterward he sheweth mercie.

1 Reiouice, <sup>a</sup> baren that didest not beare: breake forthe into ioye & reioyce, thou that didest not trauaile with childe: for the <sup>b</sup> desolate hath mo children then the married wife, saith the Lord.

2 <sup>c</sup> Enlarge the place of thy tentes, and let them spread out the curtaines of thine habitacions: spare not, stretch out thy cordes, and make faste thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt increase on the right hand and on the left, and thy fede shal possesse <sup>d</sup> Gentiles & dwell in the desolate cities.

4 Feare not: for <sup>e</sup> y shalt not be ashamed, nether shalt <sup>f</sup> y be confounded: for <sup>g</sup> y shalt not be put to shame: yea, <sup>h</sup> y shalt forget <sup>i</sup> y shame of thy <sup>j</sup> youth, & shalt not remember the reproche of thy <sup>k</sup> widdowhead anie more.

5 For he that <sup>l</sup> made thee, is thine housbād (whose Name is the Lord of hostes) and thy redemer the holie one of Israel, shalbe called the God of the whole worlde.

6 For the Lord hath called thee, being as a woman forsaken, and afflicted in spirit, and as a <sup>m</sup> yong wife when thou wast refused, saith thy God.

7 For a litle while haue I forsaken thee, but with great compassion wil I gather thee.

8 For a moment, in <sup>n</sup> mine angre, I hid my face from thee for a litle season, but with euerlasting mercie haue I had compassio on thee, saith the Lord thy redemer.

9 For this is vnto me as the <sup>o</sup> waters of Noāh: for as I haue sworne that the waters of Noāh shulde no more go ouer the earth, so haue I sworne that I wolde not be angrie with thee, nor rebuke thee.

CHAP. LV.

1 An exhortation to come to Christ. 2 Gods counsels are not as mans. 12 The ioy of the faithful.

HO, euerie one y thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and ye that haue no siluer, come, bie and eat: come, I saie, bie wine and milke without siluer and without money.

2 Wherefore do ye laie out siluer & not for bread? & your labour without being satisfied? hearken diligently vnto me, & eat that which is good, and let your soule delite in fatnes.

3 Encline your eares, and come vnto me:
heare, and your soule shall liue, and I wil make an euerlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of Dauid.

4 Beholde, I gaue him for a witness to the people, for a prince and a master vnto the people.

5 Beholde, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and a nation that knewe not thee, shall rine vnto thee, because of y Lord thy God, and the holie one of Israel: for he hath glorified thee.

6 Seke ye the Lord while he maie be foun-de: call ye vpon him while he is nere.

7 Let the wicked forsake his waies, and the vnrightheous his owne imaginations, and returne vnto the Lord, and he wil haue mercie vpon him: and to our God, for he is verie readie to forgieue.

8 For my thoughts are not your thoughts, nether are your waies my waies, saith the Lord.

9 For as the heauens are hier the earth, so are my waies hier then your waies, and my thoughts aboute your thoughts.

10 Surely as the raine cometh downe and the snowe from heauen, and returneth not thether, but watereth the earth and maketh it to bring forth the budde, that it maie giue sede to the sower, and bread vnto him that eateth,

11 So shall my worde be, that goeth out of my mouth: it shall not returne vnto me voyde, but it shall accomplish that which I wil, and it shall prosper in the thing where-to I sent it.

12 Therefore ye shall go out with ioye, and be led forth with peace: the mountaines and the hills shall breake forth before you into ioye, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13 For thornes there shall growe fyre trees:
for nettles shall growe the myrrhe tree, and it shall be to the Lord for a name, and for an euerlasting signe that shall not be taken awaie.

CHAP. LVI.

1 An exhortation to iudgement and iustice. 10 Against Shepherds that deuoure their flocke.

THUS saith y Lord, a Kepe iudgemēt & do iustice: for my saluaciō is at hād to come & my righteousness to be reueiled.

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the sonne of man which laieth holde on it: he that kepeth the Sabbath and polluteteth it not, and kepeth his hand from doing anie euil.

3 And let not the sonne of the stranger, which is ioyned to the Lord, speake and say, The Lord hath surely separat me frō his people: nether let the Eunuch say, Be-holde, I am a drye tre.

4 For thus saith the Lord vnto the Eunu-ches, that kepe my Sabbaths, and chuse the thing that pleaseth me, and take holde of my covenant,

5 Euen vnto the wil I giue in mine House & within my walles, a place and a name better then of the sonnes & of the daughters: I wil giue them an euerlasting name, that shall not be put out.

6 Also the strangers that cleave vnto the Lord, to serue him, & to loue the Name of the Lord, & to be his seruants: euerie one that kepeth the Sabbath, & polluteth it not & imbraceh my covenant,

7 The wil I bring also to mine holy moun-taine, & make them ioyful in mine House of praier: their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted vpon mine altar:
for mine House shall be called an house of praier for all people.

I Althogh you are not one reconciled one another & iudge me by your selues, yet I am most easie to be reconciled, yea
I offer my mercies
to you.

- 3 God taketh awaie the good, that he shulde not se the horrible plagues to come 3 Of the wicked idolaters, 9 And their vaine confidence.

THe righteous perisheth, and no man considereth it in heart: and merciful men are taken awaie, and no man vnderstandeth that the righteous is taken awaie <sup>a</sup> from the euil to come.

a From y<sup>e</sup> plague that is at hand, & also because God wil punish the wicked.
b The soule of the righteous shal be in ioye & their bodie shal rest in y<sup>e</sup> graue vnto the time of y<sup>e</sup> resurrection, because thei walked before the Lord.
c He threatneth the wicked hypocrites, who vnder the pretence of y<sup>e</sup> name of Gods people derided Gods worde & his promises: boasting openly that thei were y<sup>e</sup> childre of Abraham, but because they were not faithful & obedient as Abraham was, he calleth the bards, & the childre of forcerers, & forsake God and fled to wicked meanes for succour.

- 9 Thou wentest to the Kings with oyle, & didest increase thine oymntes & send thy messengers faire of, and didest humble thy selfe vnto hel.
- 10 Thou weariedst thy self in thy manifold iourneis, yet saidest thou not, There is no hope: thou <sup>m</sup> hast founde life by thine had, therefore thou wast not grieved.
- 11 And whome didest thou reuerence or feare, seing thou hast <sup>n</sup> lied vnto me, and hast not remebred me, neither set thy minde thereon? is it not because I holde my peace, and that of long <sup>o</sup> time? therefore thou fearest not me.

*k Thou didst seke the fauour of y<sup>e</sup> Assyrians by gifts and presents, to helpe thee against y<sup>e</sup> Egyptians: when thei failed, y<sup>e</sup> sought to y<sup>e</sup> Babylonians & more: and more didst torment thy self. - 13 When thou cryest, let them that thou hast gathered together deliuer thee: but y<sup>e</sup> winde shal take the all away: vanitie shal pul them awaie: but he that trusteth in me, shal inherit the land, and shal possesse mine holie Mountaine.

- 14 And he shal saie, Cast vp, cast vp: prepare the waie: take vp the stöbling blockes out of the waie of my people.

- 15 For thus saith he, that is hie and excellēt, he that inhabiteth y<sup>e</sup> eternitie, whose Name is the Holie one, I dwell in the hie & holie place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit to reuiue the spirit of the humble, and to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

- 16 For I wil not contende for euer, nether wil I be alwaies wrath, <sup>r</sup> for y<sup>e</sup> spirit shulde faile before me: and I haue made the breathe.

- 17 For his wicked <sup>s</sup> couetousnes I am angrie with him, & haue smited him: I hid me & was angrie, yet he went awaie, & turned after the waie of his owne heart.

- 18 I haue sene his waies, and wil <sup>t</sup> heale him: I wil leade him also, & restore comfort vnto him, and to those that lament him.

- 19 I creat the <sup>u</sup> frute of y<sup>e</sup> lippes to be peace: peace vnto them that are <sup>v</sup> farre of, and to them that are nere, saith the Lord: for I wil heale him.

- 20 But the wicked are like the raging sea, that ca<sup>n</sup> not rest, whose waters cast vp myre and dirt.

- 21 There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

ously, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: thei aske of me the ordinances of iustice: they wil drawe nere vnto God, saying,

3 Wherefore haue we fasted, & thou seest it not? we haue punished our selues, & thou regardest it not. Beholde, in y day of your fast you wil seke <sup>d</sup> your wil, and require all your dettes.

4 Beholde, ye fast to strife and debate, and to finite with the fist of wickednes: ye shal not fast as ye do to day, to make your voyce be heard aboue.

5 Is it suche a fast, that I haue chosen that a man shulde afflict his soule for a day, & to bowe downe his head, as a bulle rush, and to lie downe in sackcloth and ashes? wilt thou call this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this y fasting, that I haue chosen, to loose the bands of wickednes, to take of the heauy burdens, & to let the oppressed go fre, and that ye breake euery yoke?

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, & that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine house? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy self from g thine owne flesh?

8 Then shal thy <sup>h</sup> light breake forth as the morning, and thine health shal growe spedely: thy <sup>i</sup> righteousnes shal go before thee, and the glorie of the Lord shal embrace thee.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shal answer: thou shalt crye and he shal say, Here I am: if thou take away from the middes of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the <sup>k</sup> finger, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou <sup>l</sup> powre out thy soule to the hungry, & refresh the troubled soule: then shal thy light spring out in the <sup>m</sup> darkenes, and thy darkenes shalbe as the none day.

11 And the Lord shal guide thee cōtinually, and satisfie thy soule in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watred garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters faile not.

12 And they shalbe of thee, that shal buyld the olde <sup>n</sup> waste places: thou shalt raise vp the fundacions for manie generacions, & y shalt be called the repairer of y breache & the restorer of the paths to dwell in.

13 If thou <sup>o</sup> turne away thy fore from the Sabbath, from doing thy wil on mine holy day, & call the Sabbath a delite, to consecrat it, as glorious to the Lord, and shalt honour him, not doing thine owne waies, nor seking thine owne wil, nor speaking a vaine worde,

14 Then shalt thou delite in the Lord, and I wil cause thee to mounte vpon the hie places of the earth, and fede thee with the heritage of Iakob thy father: for y mouth of the Lord hathe spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

1 The wicked perish through their owne iniquities. 12 The confession of finnes. 16 God alone wil preserue his Church, though all men faile.

1 Beholde, * the Lords hand is not shor- <sup>Nomb. 23, 23.</sup> <sup>chap. 50, 2.</sup> tened, that it can not saue: nether is his eare heauy, that it can not heare.

2 But * your iniquities haue separated betwene you and your God, and your finnes haue hid his face from you, that he wil not heare.

3 For your hands are defiled with * blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: your lip- <sup>a</sup> <sup>Read Chap. 1, 15.</sup> pes haue spoken lies & your tongue hathe murmured iniquitie.

4 No man calleth for iustice: no man <sup>b</sup> con- <sup>b</sup> <sup>All me wike at the injuries & oppressions, & none go a- bout to reme- die them.</sup> tendeth for trueth: they trust in vanitie, & speake vaine things: thei cōceiue mischief, and <sup>c</sup> bring forth the iniquitie.

5 They hatche cockatrice <sup>d</sup> egges, & weaue the spiders <sup>e</sup> webbe: he that eateth of their egges, dyeth, and that which is trod vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

6 Their webbes shalbe no garment, nether shal they couer them selues with their labours: <sup>f</sup> <sup>According to their wicked deuises, they hurt their neighbo- urs.</sup> for their workes are workes of iniqui- tie, and the worke of crueltie is in their hands.

7 Their fete runne to euil, and they make haste to shed innocēt blood: their thoghts are wicked thoghts: desolacion & destruction is in their paths.

8 The way of peace they knowe not, and there is none equitie in their goings: thei haue made them croked paths: whosoever goeth therein, shal not knowe peace.

9 Therefore is <sup>g</sup> iudgement farre from vs, <sup>g</sup> <sup>That is, Gods vengea- ce to punish our enemies.</sup> nether doeth <sup>h</sup> iustice come nere vnto vs: we waite for light, but lo, it is darkenes, for brightnes: <sup>i</sup> <sup>Gods protec- tion to defend vs.</sup> but we walke in darkenes.

10 We grope for the wall like the <sup>j</sup> blinde, and we grope as one without eyes: we sto- <sup>j</sup> <sup>We are al- together destitute of counfel and can finde no end of our miseries.</sup> ble at the none day as in the twilight: <sup>k</sup> <sup>We expresse our sorowes by outwarde signes, some more some les- se.</sup> we are in solitarie places, as dead men.

11 We roare all like <sup>l</sup> beares, and mourne like doves: we loke for equitie, but there is none: for health, <sup>l</sup> <sup>This confes- sion is general to the Church to obtaine remis- sion of sin- nes, & the Pro- phetes did not exempt them selues fro the same.</sup> but it is farre from vs.

12 For our trespasses are manie before thee, and our <sup>m</sup> sinnes testifie against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and we knowe our iniquities

13 In trespassing & lying against the Lord, and we haue departed away fro our God, & haue spoken of crueltie and rebellion, concerning and vttering out of the heart false <sup>n</sup> matters.

14 Therefore <sup>m</sup> iudgement is turned bac- <sup>m</sup> <sup>To wit, a- gainst our ne- ighbours.</sup> keward, and iustice standeth farre of: for trueth is fallen in the strete, and equitie can not enter.

15 Yea, trueth faileth, and he that refreineth from euil, maketh him self <sup>n</sup> a pray: and d An infinite number from all contreis, as Chap. 49. 12. e For ioye, as y heart is drawn in for sorowe.

f Meaning, y euerie one shal honour y Lord with that, wherewith he is able: signifying that it is no true seruice of God, except we offer our selues to serue his glorie, & all that we haue. g That is, the Arabians, y haue great abundance of cattel. h Because the altar was a figure of Christ, Ebr. 13. 10: he sheweth that nothing can be acceptable to him, which is not offered to him by this altar, who was bothe the offering and the altar it self.

when the Lord sawe it, it displeased him, that there was no iudgement.

16 And when he saw that there was no mā, he wondred that none wolde offer him self. o Therefore his arme did & saue it, & his righteousness it self did susteine it.

17 For he put on righteousness, as an habergeon, and an helmet of saluacion vpon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, & was clad with zeale as a cloke.

18 As to make recompence, as to requite the furie of the aduersaries with a recompence to his enemies: he wil fully repaire the ylands.

19 So shal they feare the Name of the Lord from the West, and his glorie from the rising of the sunne: for the enemy shal come like a flood: but the Spirit of the Lord shal chase him away.

20 And the Redemer shal come vnto Zión, and vnto them that turne from iniquitie in Iakób, saith the Lord.

21 And I wil make this my couenant with them, saith the Lord, My Spirit that is vpon thee, & my wordes, which I haue put in thy mouth, u shal not departe out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy fede, nor out of the mouth of the fede of thy fede, saith the Lord, from hence forth euen for euer.

CHAP. IX.

The Gentiles shal come to the knowledge of the Gospell. s Thei shal come to the Church in abundance. 16 They shal haue abundance, though they suffer for a time.

1 A Rife, o Ierusalem: be bright, for thy light is come, & the glorie of the Lord is risen vpon thee.

2 For beholde, darkenes shal couer y bearth, and grosse darkenes the people: but the Lord shal arise vpon thee, and his glorie shalbe sene vpon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shal walke in thy light, & Kings at y brightnes of thy rising vp.

4 Lift vp thine eyes rounde about, & beholde: all d these are gathered, & come to thee: thy sonnes shal come from farre, and thy daughters shalbe nourished at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt se and shine: thine heart shalbe astonied & enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shalbe conuerted vnto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shal come vnto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shal couer thee: and the dromedaries of Midian & of Epháh: all they of Shebá shal come: they shal bring golde & incense, and shewe forth the praises of the Lord.

7 All the shepe s of Kedar shalbe gathered vnto thee: y rams of Nebaióth shal serue thee: thei shal come vp to be accepted vpon mine h altar: and I wil beautifie the house of my glorie.

8 Who are these i that flee like a cloude, & as the doves to their windowes?

9 Surely the yles shal waite for me, and the shippes k of Tarsish, as at the beginning y thei may bring thy sonnes from farre, & their siluer, and their golde with the, vnto the Name of the Lord thy God, & to the holy one of Israël, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sonnes of strangers shal buyld vpon thy walles, and their l Kings shal minister vnto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercie I had compassion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shal be open continually: nether day nor night shal they be shut that men may bring vnto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their Kings may be broght.

12 For the nacion and the m king dome, that wil not serue thee, shal perish: & those nations shalbe vtterly destroyed.

13 The n glorie of Lebanón shal come vnto thee, y fyrr tre, the elme & y boxe tre together, to beautifie y place of my Sanctuarie: for I wil glorifie the place of my o fete.

14 The sonnes also of them that afflicted thee, shal come and bowe vnto thee: and all thei that despised thee, shal fall p downe at the soles of thy fete: and they shal call thee, The citie of the Lord, Zión of the holy one of Israël.

15 Where as thou hast bene forsaken & hated: so that no man went by thee, I wil make thee an eternal glorie, and a ioye from generation to generacion.

16 Thou shalt also sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and shalt sucke the breasts of Kings: and y shalt knowe, that I the Lord am thy Sauour, & thy Redemer, y mightie one of Iakób.

17 For brasle wil I bring golde, & for yron wil I bring siluer, & for wood brasle, & for stones yron. I wil also make thy gouernemēt r peace, & thine exactours righteousness.

18 Violence shal no more be heard of in thy land, nether desolacion, nor destruction within thy borders: but thou shalt call f saluacion, thy walles, and praise, thy gates.

19 Thou shalt haue no more sunne to shine by day, nether shal the brightnes of the moone shine vnto thee: for the Lord shalbe thine euerlasting light, and thy God, thy glorie.

20 Thy sunne shal neuer go downe, nether shal thy moone be hid: for the Lord shalbe thine euerlasting light, & the daies of thy sorowe shalbe ended.

21 Thy people also shalbe all righteous: thei shal possesse the land for euer, the u grasse of my planting shalbe the worke of mine hands, i Shewing what great number shal come to the Church & with what great diligence and zeale. k The Gentiles that are now enemies, shal become friends & letters for the of the Church.

12 A litle one shal become as a thousand, & a smale one as a strong nation: I the Lord wil hasten it in due time.

CHAP. LXI.

1 He prophesyeth that Christ shalbe anointed and sent to preache. 10 The ioye of the faithful.

1 THe Spirit of the Lord God is vpon me, therefore hath he the Lord anointed me: he hath sent me to preache good tidings vnto the poore, to binde vp the broken hearted, to preache libertie to the captiues, and to them that are bounde, the opening of the prison,

2 To preache the acceptable yere of the Lord, and the daie of vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourne,

3 To appoint vnto them that mourne in Zión, & to giue vnto them beautie for ashes, the oyle of ioye for mourning, the garment of gladnes for the spirit of heauines, that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

4 And they shal buylde the olde waste places, & raise vp the former desolations, & they shal repaire the cities y were desolate and waste through manie generations.

5 And the strangers shal stande and fede your shepe, & the sonnes of the strangers shalbe your plowe men & dressers of your vines.

6 But ye shalbe named the Priests of the Lord, & men shal saie vnto you, The ministers of our God, Ye shal eat the riches of the Gentiles, and shalbe exalted with their glorie.

7 For your shame you shal receiue double, and for confusio they shal reioyce in their porcion: for in their land they shal possesse the double: euerlasting ioye shalbe vnto them.

8 For I the Lord loue iudgement & hate robbery for burnt offering, and I wil direct their worke in trueth, and wil make an euerlasting couenant with them.

9 And their sede shal be knowne among the Gentiles, & their buddes among the people. All that se them, shal knowe them, y they are the sede which the Lord hath blessed.

10 I wil greatly reioyce in the Lord, and my soule shalbe ioyful in my God: for he hath clothed me with the garments of saluacion, and couered me with the robe of righteousness: he hath decked me like a bridegrome, and as a bride tireth her self with her iewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her budde, & as the garden causeth to growe that which is sown in it: so the Lord God wil cause righteousness to growe & praise before all the heathen.

CHAP. LXII.

1 The great desire that the Prophetes haue had for Christ comming. 6 The diligence of the Pastors to preache.

1 For Zions sake I wil not holde my tongue, and for Ierusalem's sake I wil not rest, vntil the righteousness thereof breake forth as the light, and saluacion thereof as a burning lampe.

2 And the Gentiles shal se thy righteousness, and all Kings thy glorie: and thou shalt be called by a newe name, which y mouth of the Lord shal Name.

3 Thou shalt also be a crowne of glorie in the hand of the Lord, & a royal diademe in the hand of thy God.

4 It shal no more be said vnto thee, Forsaken, nether shal it be said any more to thy land, Desolate, but y shalt be called Hephzi-báh, and thy land Beulah: for the Lord delieth in thee, and thy land shal haue an housband.

5 For as a yong man marieth a virgine, so shal thy sonnes marry thee: and as a bridegrome is glad of the bride, so shal thy God reioyce ouer thee.

6 I haue set watchmen vpon thy walles, O Ierusalem, which all the daie and all the night continually shal not cease: y that are mindeful of the Lord, kepe not silence,

7 And giue him no rest, til he repaire and vntil he set vpon Ierusalem the praise of the worlde.

8 The Lord hath sworne by his right hand & by his strong arme, Surely I wil no more giue thy corne to be meat for thine enemies, & surely the sonnes of the strangers shal not drinke thy wine, for the which thou hast labored.

9 But they that haue gathered it, shal eat it, & praise the Lord, & the gatherers thereof shal drinke it in the courts of my Sanctuary.

10 Go through, go through the gates: prepare you the waie for the people: cast vp, cast vp the waie, and gather out the stones & set vp a standart for the people.

11 Beholde, the Lord hath proclaimed vnto the ends of the worlde: tel the daughter Zión, Beholde, thy Sauour commeth: beholde, his wages is with him, and his worke is before him.

12 And they shal call them, The holie people, the redemed of the Lord, and thou shalt be named, A citie sought out & not forsaken.

CHAP. LXV.

The Vocation of the Gentiles and the reiection of the Iewes. 13 The ioy of the elect and the punishment of the wicked.

<sup>l</sup> I haue bene fought of them that asked me not: I was founde of them that sought me not: I said, Beholde me, beholde me, vnto a nation that called not vpon my Name.

13 I haue <sup>b</sup> spred out mine hands all the day vnto a rebellious people, which walked in a way that was not good, <sup>euen</sup> after their owne <sup>c</sup> imaginacions:

A people that prouoked me euer vnto my face: that sacrificeth in <sup>d</sup> gardens, and burnneth incense vpon <sup>e</sup> bricke.

14 Which remaine among the <sup>f</sup> graues, and lodge in the deserts, which eat <sup>g</sup> swines flesh, and the broth of things polluted are in their vessels.

15 Which say, <sup>h</sup> Stand aparte, come not nere to me: for I am holier then thou: these are a smoke in my wrath & a fyre that <sup>i</sup> burnneth all the day.

16 Beholde, it is <sup>k</sup> written before me: I wil not kepe silence, but wil rendre it and recompense it into their bosome.

17 Your iniquities & the iniquities of your fathers <sup>l</sup> shalbe together (saith the Lord) which haue burnt incense vpon the mou-taines, and blasphemed me vpon the hil-les: therefore wil I measure their olde worke into their bosome.

18 Thus saith the Lord, As the wine is foude in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a <sup>m</sup> blessing is in it, so wil I do for my seruants sakes, that I may not destroy them whole.

19 But I wil bring a sede out of Iakób, & out of Iudáh, that shal enherit my moun-taine: and mine elect shal inherit it, & my seruants shal dwell there.

20 And Sharón <sup>n</sup> shalbe a shepe folde, and the valley of Achór shalbe a resting place for the cattel of my people, that haue sought me.

21 But ye are thei that haue forsaken the children are punished for their fathers fautes: so wit, when the same fautes or like are founde in them. <sup>m</sup> That is, it is profitable: meaning, that God wil not destroy the faithful branches of his vineyard when he destroyeth the rotten stouckes, that is the hypocrites. <sup>n</sup> Which was a plentiful place in Isaiáh to seke shepe, as Achór was for cattell.

Lord and forgotten mine holie Mountaine, & haue prepared a table for the <sup>o</sup> mul-the number.

22 Therefore wil I <sup>p</sup> number you to the sworde, and all you shal bowe downe to <sup>q</sup> slaughter, because I called, and ye did not answer: I <sup>r</sup> spake, & ye heard not, but did euil in my sight and did chuse that thing which I wolde not.

23 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Be-holde, my seruants shal <sup>r</sup> eat, & ye shal be hungrie: beholde, my seruants shal drinke, and ye shal be thirstie: beholde, my serutes shal reioyce, and ye shalbe ashamed.

24 Beholde, my seruants shal sing for ioye of heart, and ye shal crye for sorowe of heart, & shal howle for vexation of minde.

25 And ye shal leaue your name as a curse vnto my <sup>s</sup> chosen: for the Lord God shal slaie you and call his seruants by <sup>t</sup> another name.

26 He that shal blesse in the <sup>u</sup> earth, shal blesse him self in the true God, and he that swareth in the earth, shal sweare by the true God: for the former <sup>x</sup> troubles are forgotten, and shal surely hide them selues from mine eyes.

27 For lo, I wil creat <sup>y</sup> newe heauens and a newe earth: and the former shal not be re-membred nor come into minde.

28 But be you glad & reioyce for euer in <sup>y</sup> things that I shal creat: for beholde, I wil creat Ierusalém as a reioycing & her people as a ioye,

29 And I wil reioyce in Ierusalém, & ioye in my people, and the voice of weping shalbe no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

30 There shalbe no more there a childe of yeres, nor an olde man that hathe <sup>z</sup> not filled his daies: for he that shalbe an hūdreth yeres olde, shal dye as a yong man: but the sinner being <sup>a</sup> an hūdreth yeres olde shalbe accursed.

31 And thei shal <sup>b</sup> buylde houses and inhabbit them, and thei shal plant vineyardes, and eat the frute of them.

32 Thei shal not buylde, and another inhabbit: thei shal not plant, and another eat:
for as the daies of the tre are the daies of my people, and mine elect shal inioye in olde age the worke of their hands.

33 Thei shal not labour in vaine, nor bring forthe in feare: for thei are the sede of the blessed of <sup>y</sup> Lord, & their buddes with the.

bullocke: and to the serpent dust shall be his meat. Thei shal no more hurt nor destroy in all mine holie Mountaine, faith y<sup>e</sup> Lord.

CHAP. LXVI.

1 God dwelleth not in temples made with hands. 3 He despiseth sacrifices done without mercie and faith. 5 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 29 The vocation of the Gentiles. 33 The perpetual Sabbath. 24 The punishment of the wicked is everlasting.

1 Thus saith the Lord, * The<sup>a</sup> heauen is my throne, and the earth is my foote-stole: where is y<sup>e</sup> house that ye wil buylde vnto me? & where is that place of my rest? For all these things hathe mine had made, & all these things haue bene, faith the Lord: & to him wil I loke, euen to him, that is poore, and of a contrite spirit and trembleth at my wordes.

3 He that killeth a bullocke, is as if he slew a man: he that sacrificeth a shepe, as if he cutte of a dogges necke: he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swines blood: he y<sup>e</sup> remembreth incense, as if he blessed an idole: yea, thei haue chose their owne waies, & their soule deliteth in their abominaciōs.

4 Therefore wil I chuse out their delusiōs, & I wil bring their feare vpon the, because I called, & none wolde answer: I spake and they wolde not heare: but they did euil in my sight, & chose y<sup>e</sup> things w<sup>h</sup> I wolde not.

5 Heare the worde of the Lord, all ye that tremble at his<sup>f</sup> worde, Your brethren that hated you, & cast you out for my Names sake, said, Let the Lord be glorified: but he shal appeare to your ioye, and thei shal be ashamed.

6 A voyce soundeth from the citie, euen a voyce from the Temple, the voyce of the Lord, that recōpenceth his enemies fully.

7 Before<sup>b</sup> she trauailed, she brought forth: and before her peine came, she was deliuered of a man childe.

8 Who hathe heard such a thing? who hath sene suche things? shal the earth be brought forth in one day? or shal a nation be borne at once? for as sone as Ziōn trauailed, she brought forth her children.

9 Shal I<sup>k</sup> cause to trauaile, and not bring forth? shal I cause to brīg forth & shal be baren, faith thy God?

10 Reioyce ye<sup>e</sup> with Ierusalēm, and be glad with her, all ye that loue her: reioyce for ioye with her, all ye that mourne for her,

12 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil

Alt. 7. 48. a My maiestie is so great y<sup>e</sup> it filleth bothe heauē & earth, & therefore cā not be included in a temple like an idole: cōdemning hereby their vaine confidence, w<sup>h</sup> trusted in the Temple & sacrifices. b Seing that bothe the Temple & y<sup>e</sup> things therein w<sup>h</sup> the sacrifices were made & done by his appointment, he sheweth that he hathe no neede thereof, & that he can be without the Psal. 50. 10. c To him that is humble and pure in heart, which receiue my doctri- ne with reuerence & feare. d Because the Jewes thought the selues hol- ly by offering of their sacrific- es, and in the meane season had nether faith nor repen- tance, God sheweth that he doeth no lesse detest the- se ceremonies, then he doeth the sacrifices of the heathen who offered mē, dogges & swine to their idoles which things were expresse- ly forbidden in the Law. e I wil discou- ner their wickednes & hypo- crisie, where- with thei thin- ke to blinde mine eyes, to all the worlde. f He encoura- geth y<sup>e</sup> faith- ful by promi- sing to destroy their enemies which pretended to be as brethren, but were hypocrites and hated them that feared God. g The enemies shal shortly heare a more terrible voyce, euen fyre and slaughter, seing thei wolde not heare the gentle voyce of the Prophets which called them to repentance. h Meaning, that the restauration of the Church shulde be so suddē & contrarie to all mens opinion: as when a woman is deliuered before she loke for it, and that without peine in trauail. i This shal passe the capacite of man to se suche a multitude that shal come vp at once, meaning vnder the preaching of the Gospel, whereof thei that came vp out of Babylon, were a figure. k Declaring hereby, that as by his power, & prouidence woman trauaileth & is deliuered: so hathe he power to bring forth his Church at his time appointed. l That ye may reioyce for all y<sup>e</sup> benefites that God bestoweth vpon his Church.

extend<sup>m</sup> peace ouer her like a flood & the glorie of y<sup>e</sup> Gentiles like a flowing streame: then shal ye sucke, ye shal be borne vpon her sides, and be ioyful vpon her knees.

13 As one whome his mother comforteth, so wil I comforte you, and ye shal be comforted in Ierusalēm.

14 And when ye se this, your heart shal reioyce, and your<sup>p</sup> bones shal florish like an herbe: and the hand of the Lord shal be knowne among his seruants, and his indignacion against his enemies.

15 For beholde, y<sup>e</sup> Lord wil come with fyre, & his charrets like a whirlewinde, that he may<sup>q</sup> recōpence his angre with wrath, & his indignacion with the flame of fyre.

16 For the Lord wil iudge with fyre, and w<sup>h</sup> his sworde all flesh, & the slaine of y<sup>e</sup> Lord shal be manie.

18 For I wil visit their workes, and their imaginations: for it shal come that I wil gather all nations, and tongues, and thei shal come, and se my<sup>t</sup> glorie.

19 And I wil set a<sup>u</sup> signe among the, & wil send those that<sup>x</sup> escape of them, vnto the nations of y<sup>e</sup> Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, & u<sup>t</sup> I wil make thei<sup>y</sup> I chuse to them that drawe the<sup>b</sup> bowe, to Tubal and Lauan, yles a farre of, that haue not heard my fame, nether haue sene my glorie, & thei shal declare my glorie among the Gentiles.

20 And they shal bring all your<sup>f</sup> brethren for an offering vnto the Lord out of all nations, vpon<sup>s</sup> horses, and in charrets, and in horse litters, & vpon mules, & swift beasts, to Ierusalēm mine holie Mountaine, faith the Lord, as the children of Israel, offer in a cleane vessel in the House of the Lord.

21 And I wil take of them for<sup>h</sup> Priests, and for Leuites, faith the Lord.

22 For as y<sup>e</sup> newe<sup>i</sup> heauē, & the newe earth which I wil make, shal remaine before me, faith the Lord, so shal your sede and your name continue.

23 And from moneth to moneth, and from Sabbath to Sabbath shal all flesh come to worship before me, faith the Lord.

24 And they shal go forth, and loke vpon the<sup>k</sup> carkeises of the men that haue transgressed against me: for their<sup>l</sup> worme shal not dye, nether shal their fyre be quēched, & thei shal be an abhorrig<sup>m</sup> vnto all flesh.

h am as you are. g Whereby he meaneth y<sup>e</sup> no necessarie means shal want whē God shal call y<sup>e</sup> Gentiles to y<sup>e</sup> knowledge of the Gospel. h To wit, of y<sup>e</sup> Gentiles, as he did Luke, Timothy & Titus first, & others after to preache his worde. i Hereby he signifieth y<sup>e</sup> kingdome of Christ wherein his Church shal be renewed, & where as before there were appointed seasons to sacrifice: in this therē shal be one continual Sabbath so y<sup>e</sup> all times and seasons shal be met- k As he hathe declared y<sup>e</sup> felicitie that shal be within y<sup>e</sup> Church for y<sup>e</sup> cō- fort of the godlie, so doeth he shewe what horrible calamitie shal come to the wicked, y<sup>e</sup> are out of the Church. l Meaning, a cōtinual torment of cō- sciēce, w<sup>h</sup> shal cuer gnawe them & neuer suffer them to be at rest, Mark. 9. 44. m This is the iuste recompence for the wicked, which contemning God and his worde, shal be by Gods iuste iudgemēt abhorred of all his creatures.

IEREMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Prophet Ieremiāh borne in the citie of Anathóth in the countrey of Benjamin, was the sonne of Hilkiāh, whome some thinke to be he that founde out the booke of the Lawe, and gaue it to Iosiah. This Prophet had excellent giftes of God, and moste euidēt reuelations of prophēcie, so that by the commandment of the Lord he began very yong to prophēcie, that is, in the thirteenth yere of Iosiah, and continued eightene yere vnder the said King, and thre moneths vnder Iehoiakim, and vnder Iehoiakim eleuen yeres, and thre moneths vnder Iehoiachin, and vnder Zedekiah eleuen yeres: vnto the time that they were carryed away into Babylon. So that this time amounteth to aboue forty yere, besides the time that he prophēcie after the captiuitie. In this booke he declareth with teares, and lamentation the destruction of Ierusalēm, and the captiuitie of the people, for their idolatrie, couetousnes, subtiltie, crueltie, excesse, rebellion, and contempt of Gods worde, and for the consolacion of the Church, reuileth the iuste time of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to be considered thre things. First the rebellion of the wicked, which waxe more stubberne and obstinate, when the Prophetes do admonish them moste plainely of their destruction. Next how the Prophetes and ministers of God ought not to be discouraged in their vocatiō, though they be persecuted & rigorously handeled of the wicked for Gods cause. And thirdely, though God shewe his iuste iudgement against the wicked, yet wil he euer shewe him self a preseruer of his Church, and when all meanes seme to mans iudgement to be abolished, the wil he declare him self victorious in preseruing his.

CHAP. I.

In what time Ieremiāh prophēcie. 6 He acknowledgeth his imperfession, and is strengthened of the Lord. 11 The Lord sheweth him the destruction of Ierusalēm. 17 He commandeth him to preache his worde without feare.

<sup>b</sup> Which is thought to be he that founde the booke of the Law vnder King Iosiah, 2 King 22.8.

<sup>c</sup> This was a citie about thre miles distant from Ierusalēm, and belonged to the Priests & sonnes of Aaron, Iul. 21.18.

<sup>d</sup> This is spoken to confirme his vocatiō & office: forasmuche as he did not presume of him self to preache, & prophēcie, but was called therunto by God.

<sup>e</sup> Meaning, nephew of Iosiah: for Iehoiakim was his father, who reigned but thre moneths, and therefore is not mentioned, no more is Iachin that reigned so longer.

was also called Mattaniah, and at this time the Iewes were carryed away into Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar. <sup>g</sup> The Scripture useth this manner of speache to declare, that God hath appointed his ministers to their offices before they were borne, as Isa. 49.1 gal. 1.15. <sup>h</sup> For Ieremiāh did not onely prophēcie against the Iewes, but also against the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites, and other nations. <sup>i</sup> Considering the great iudgements of God, which according to his threatenings shulde come vpon the worlde, he was moued with a certaine compassion on the one side to pitie them that shulde thus perish, & on the other side by his infirmities of mans nature knowing how hard a thing it was to enterprise suche a charge, as Isa. 6.11. exod 3.11. & 4.1.

TH E <sup>a</sup> wordes of Ieremiāh the sonne of <sup>b</sup> Hilkiāh one of the Priests that were at <sup>c</sup> Anathóth in the land of Benjamin.

To whome the <sup>d</sup> wordes of the Lord came in the daies of Iosiah the sonne of Amón King of Iudáh in the thirteenth yere of his reigne:

And also in the daies of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudáh vnto the end of the eleuenth yere of Zedekiah the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudáh, <sup>e</sup> euen vnto the carying awaie of Ierusalēm captiue in the fift <sup>f</sup> moneth.

<sup>4</sup> Then the wordes of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

<sup>5</sup> Before I <sup>g</sup> formed thee in the wombe, I knewe thee, and before thou camest out of the wombe, I sanctified thee, & ordeined thee to be a Prophet vnto the <sup>h</sup> nations.

<sup>6</sup> Then said I, Oh, Lord God, beholde, I can not speake, for I am a childe.

<sup>7</sup> But the Lord said vnto me, Saie not, I am a childe: for thou shalt go to all that I shal send thee, and whatsoeuer I commande thee, shalt thou speake.

<sup>8</sup> Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

<sup>9</sup> Then the Lord stretched out his hand & <sup>k</sup> touched my mouth, and the Lord said vnto me, Beholde, I haue put my wordes in thy mouth.

<sup>10</sup> Beholde, this daie haue I set thee ouer <sup>l</sup> natiōs and ouer the kingdomes to plucke vp, and to roote out, and to destroy and throwe downe, to buylde, and to plant.

<sup>12</sup> Then said the Lord vnto me, Thou hast sene aright: for I wil hasten my worde to performe it.

<sup>13</sup> Againe the wordes of the Lord came vnto me the seconde time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I se a seething <sup>n</sup> pot lokig out of the North.

<sup>14</sup> Then said the Lord vnto me, Out of the <sup>o</sup> North shal a plague be spred vpon all the inhabitants of the land.

<sup>15</sup> For lo, I wil call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, saith the Lord, and thei shal come, and euerie one shal set his throne in the entring of the gates of Ierusalēm, and on all the walles thereof rounde about, and in all <sup>p</sup> cities of Iudáh.

<sup>16</sup> And I wil declare vnto them my <sup>p</sup> iudgements touching all the wickednes of them that haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, and worshiped the workes of their owne hands.

<sup>17</sup> Thou therefore trusse vp thy loynes, & arise & speake vnto them all that I commande thee: be not afrayed of their faces, lest I destroye thee before them.

<sup>18</sup> For I, beholde, I this day haue made thee a

CHAP. II.

2 God rehearseth his benefites done vnto the Iewes. 3 Against the Priests and false prophetes. 12 The Iewes are destroyed, because they forsake God.

1 Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Go, and cry in the eares of Ierusalēm, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I remember thee, with the kindnesses of thy youth and thy loue of thy marriage, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness in a land that was not sowed.

3 Israel was as a thing halowed vnto the Lord, & his first frutes: all they that eat it, shal offend: euil shal come vpon them, saith the Lord.

4 Heare ye the worde of the Lord, o house of Iakob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord, What iniquitie haue your fathers founde in me, that they are gone farre from me, and haue walked after vanitie, and are become vaine?

6 For they said not, Where is y Lord that brought vs vp out of the land of Egypt? that led vs through y wilderness, through a desert, and waite land, through a drye land, and by the shadowe of death, by a land that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentiful cuntry, to eat the frute thereof, and the commodities of the same: but when ye entred, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The Priests said not, Where is the Lord? and they that shulde minister the Law, knewe me not: y pastours also offended against me, and the prophetes prophesied in Bāal, and went after things that did not profite.

9 Wherefore I wil yet plead with you, saith the Lord, and I wil plead with your childrens children.

10 For go ye to the yles of Chittim, & beholde, and send vnto Kedār, and take diligent hede, and se whether there be suche things.

11 Hathe anie nation changed their gods,

m That is, spake vaine things, and brought the people from the true worship of God to serue idoles: for by Bāal, which was the chief idole of the Moabites, are ment all idoles. n Signifying, that he wolde not as he might, straight way condemne them, but sheweth them by euident examples their great ingratitude, that they might be ashamed, and repent. o Meaning, the Grecians & Italians. p Vnto Arabia.

which yet are no gods: but my people haue chāged their aglorie, for that which doeth not profite.

12 O ye heauens, be astonied at this: be afrayed and vterly cōfounded, saith the Lord.

13 For my people haue cōmitted two evils: they haue forsake me the fountaine of liuing waters, to digge the pittes, enen broken pittes, that can holde no water.

14 Is Israel a seruant, or is he borne in the house: why then is he spoiled?

15 The lyons roared vpon him & yelled, and they haue made his land waite: his cities are burnt without an inhabitant.

16 Also the children of Noph and Tahanés haue broken thine head.

17 Hast not thou procured this vnto thy self, because thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, when he led thee by the way?

18 And what hast thou now to do in the way of Egypt? to drinke the water of Nilus? or what makest thou in the way of Asshur? to drinke the water of the Riuer?

19 Thine owne wickednes shal correct thee, and thy turnings backe shal reprove thee: knowe therefore and beholde, that it is an euil thing, and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my feare is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hostes.

20 For of olde time I haue broke thy yoke, & burst thy bōds, and thou saidest, I wil no more trasgresse, but like an harlot thou runnest about vpon all pie hilles, and vnder all grene trees.

21 Yet I had plated thee, a noble vine, whose plants were all natural: how then art thou turned vnto me into the plants of a strange vine?

22 Thogh thou wash thee with nitre, & take thee muche sope, yet thine iniquitie is marked before me, saith the Lord God.

23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, nether haue I followed Baalim: beholde thy wayes in the valley, and knowe, what thou hast done: thou art like a swift dromedarie, that runneth by his wayes.

24 And as a wilde asse, vsed to the wilderness, that snoffeth vp the winde by occasiō at her pleasure: who can turne her backe? all they that seke her, wil not weary themselves, but wil finde her in her moneth.

ynough to defende thee, which is to drinke of the puddels, and to leaue the fountaine, read Ilsa 41.1. d To wit, Euphrates. e Meaning, that the wicked are insensible til the punishment for their sinne waketh them, as ver. 26. Ilsa. 3.9. f When I deliuered thee out of Egypt, Deu. 27.12 Ios. 24.16. ebra. 10. 12. nehem 8.7. g Ebra. sede was all true. g Thogh thou vse all y purifications and ceremonies of the Law, thou canst not escape punishment, except thou turne to me by faith, and repentance. h Meaning, that hypocrites denie y the worship the idoles, but that they honour God in them, and therefore they call their doings Gods seruice. i He compareth the idoles to these beasts, because they neuer cease running to and fro: for bothe valleis, and hills are full of their idolatrie. k He compareth the idolaters to a wilde asse: for the can neuer be tamed, nor yet wearied: for as the runneth, she can take her winde at euerie occasion. l That is, whē she is w sole, & therefore the hunters waite their time: so thogh thou canst not be turned backe now from thine idolatrie, yet when thine iniquitie shalbe at the ful, God wil mete with thee.

<sup>m</sup> Hereby he warneth them that they shuld not go into strange countreys to seke helpe: for they shuld but spend their labour, & hurt them selves, which is here ment by the bare face and thirst, Isa. 57. 10.

25 Kepe thou thy fete from <sup>m</sup> barenes, and thy throte from thirst: but thou saidst desperately, No, for I haue loued strangers, & them wil I followe.

26 As the <sup>n</sup> these is ashamed, when he is founde, so is the house of Israel ashamed, they, their Kings, their princes and their Priests, and their Prophetes, 27 Saying to a tre, Thou art my <sup>o</sup> father, & to a stone, Thou hast begotten me: for they haue turned their backe vnto me, and not their face: but in <sup>y</sup> time of their trouble they wil say, Arise, and helpe vs.

28 But where are thy gods, that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can helpe thee in the time of thy trouble: for according <sup>p</sup> to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, <sup>o</sup> Iudah.

29 Wherefore wil <sup>y</sup> ye pleade with me? ye all haue rebelled against me, saith the Lord.

30 I haue smitten your children in vaine, they receiued no correction: your <sup>r</sup> owne sworde hathe deuoured your Prophetes like a destroying lyon.

31 O generacion, take hede to the worde of the Lord: haue I bene as a <sup>r</sup> wildernes vnto Israel? or a land of darkenes? Wherefore saith my people then, We are <sup>r</sup> lords, we wil come no more vnto thee?

32 Can a maide forget her ornament, or a bride her attire? yet my people haue forgotten me, daies without number.

33 Why dost thou prepare thy way, to <sup>se</sup> ke amitie? euen therefore wil I teache thee, that thy waies are wickednes.

34 Also in thy <sup>x</sup> wings is founde the blood of the soules of the poore innocents: I haue not founde it in holes, but vpon all these places.

35 Yet thou saist, Because I am gilty, surely his wrath shal turne fro me: beholde, I wil entre with thee into iudgement, because thou saiest, I haue not sinned.

36 Why runnest thou about so muche to change thy waies? for thou shalt be confounded of Egypt, <sup>y</sup> as thou art confounded of Asshur.

37 For thou shalt go forth from thence, & thine hands vpon <sup>r</sup> thine head, because the Lord hathe reiected thy confidence, and thou shalt not prosper thereby.

<sup>y</sup> For the Assyrians had taken away the ten tribes out of Israel, and destroyed Iuda, euen vnto Ierusalem: and the Egyptians slew Iosiah, and vexed the Iewes in sondry sort.

2 In signe of lamentacion, as 2 Sam. 13. 19.

CHAP. III.

God calleth his people vnto repentance. 14 He promisseth the restitution of his Church. 20 He reprobeth Iudah & Israel, comparing them to a woman disobedient to her husband.

1 Hey <sup>a</sup> say, If a mā put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another mans, shal he returne againe vnto her? shal not this land <sup>b</sup> be polluted? but <sup>y</sup> if he take such one to wife againe.

2 Lift vp thine eyes vnto the high places, & beholde, where thou hast not plaid the harlot: thou hast sit <sup>y</sup> waiting for them in the waies, as the <sup>c</sup> Arabian in the wildernes: & <sup>y</sup> hast polluted the land with thy whoredomes, and with thy malice.

3 Therefore the showres haue bene restrained, and the <sup>f</sup> latter raine came not, and thou haddest a <sup>g</sup> whores forheade: thou woldest not be ashamed.

4 Didest thou not stil crye <sup>h</sup> vnto me, Thou art my father, & the guide of my youth? wil he kepe <sup>h</sup> his angre for euer? wil he reserve it to the end? thus hast thou spoken, but thou dost euil, euen more and more.

5 The Lord said also vnto me, in the daies of Iosiah the King, Hast thou sene what this rebel <sup>i</sup> Israel hathe done? for she hathe gone vp vpon euery high mountaine, and vnder euery grenetre, & there plaid the harlot.

6 And I said, when she had done all this, Turne thou vnto me: but she returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudah sawe.

7 When I sawe, how that by all occasions rebellious Israel had plaid the harlot, I cast <sup>k</sup> her away, and gaue her a byl of deuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iudah was not afrayed, but she went also, & plaid the harlot.

8 So that for the <sup>l</sup> lightnes of her whoredome she hathe euen defiled the land: for she hathe committed fornicaciō with stones and stockes.

9 Neuertheles for all this, her rebellious sister Iudah hathe not returned vnto me with <sup>m</sup> her whole heart, but fainedly, saith the Lord.

10 And the Lord said vnto me, The rebellious Israel hathe <sup>n</sup> iustified her self more then the rebellious Iudah.

11 Go and crye these wordes toward <sup>o</sup> the North and saie, Thou disobedient Israel, returne, saith the Lord, & I wil not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, & I wil not alway kepe <sup>p</sup> mine angre.

12 But knowe thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God & hast <sup>p</sup> scattered thy waies to the strange gods vnder euery grenetre, but ye wolde not obeye my voyce, saith the Lord.

13 O ye disobedient childre, turne againe, saith the Lord, for I am your Lord, and I wil take you one of a citie, and two of a tribe and wil bring you to Zion,

14 And I wil giue you pastours according to mercie, if they wil repent. <sup>p</sup> There was no way, which thou didest not hante to seke after the idoles, and to trot a pilgrimage.

¶ This is to be vnderstand of the coming of Christ: for then they shall not seeke the Lord by ceremonies, & all figures shall cease.
 ¶ Meaning the Church, where the Lord will be present to the world's end, Mat. 28. 20.
 ¶ Where they are now in captiuitie.
 ¶ The Hebrew worde signifieth a friend or companion, & here may be taken for a housbād, as it is used also Hoseah. 3. 1.
 ¶ Signifying, y<sup>e</sup> God, whome they had forsaken, wolde bring their enemies vpon the, who shoulde lead the captiue and make them to crye and lament.
 ¶ This is spoken in the person of Israēl to the shame of Iudāh, which staied so long to turne vnto God.

to mine heart, which shall fede you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 Moreover, when ye be increased & multiplied in the land, in those daies, saith the Lord, thei shall say no more, The Ark of the couenant of the Lord: for it shall come no more to minde, nether shall they remember it, nether shall they visit it, for that shall be no more done.

17 At that time they shall call Ierusalem, The throne of the Lord, & all the nations shall be gathered vnto it, euen to y<sup>e</sup> Name of the Lord in Ierusalem: and thence forth they shall followe no more the hardenes of their wicked heart.

18 In those daies the house of Iudāh shall walke with the house of Israēl, & thei shall come together out of y<sup>e</sup> land of y<sup>e</sup> North, into the land, that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I said, How did I take thee for children & giue thee a pleasant land, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and said, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shalt not turne from me?

20 But as a woman rebelleth against her housbād: so haue ye rebelled against me, o house of Israēl, saith the Lord.

21 A voyce was heard vpon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israēl: for thei haue peruered their way, & forgotten the Lord their God.

22 O ye disobedient children, returne and I wil heale your rebellions. Beholde, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truly the hope of the hilles is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaines: but in the Lord our God is the health of Israēl.

24 For confusion hath deuoured our fathers labour, from our youth their shepe & their bullockes, their sonnes and their daughters.

25 We lie downe in our confusion, and our shame couereth vs: for we haue sinned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers from our youth: euen vnto this day, & haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord our God.

CHAP. IIII.

1 True repentance. 4 He exhorteth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The destruction of Iudāh is prophesied, for the malice of their hearts. 19 The Prophet lamenteth it.

O Israēl, if thou returne, a returne vnto me, saith the Lord: & if thou put away thine abominacions out of my sight, then shalt thou not remoue.

And thou shalt swear, The Lord liueth in trueth, in iudgement, and in righteousness, and the nations shall be blessed in him, and shall glorie in him.

3 For thus saith the Lord to the men of Iudāh, and to Ierusalem,

4 Breake vp your fallow ground, & sowe not among the thornes: be circumcised to the Lord, and take away the foreskinnes of your hearts, ye men of Iudāh, and inhabitants of Ierusalem, lest my wrath come forth like fyre, and burne, that none can quench it, because of the wickednes of your inuentions.

5 Declare in Iudāh, and shewe forth in Ierusalem, and say, Blowe the trumpet in the land: crye, and gather together, & say, Assemble your selues, and let vs go into strong cities.

6 Set vp the standart in Ziō: prepare to flee, & stay not: for I wil bring a plague from the North, and a great destruction.

7 The Lyon is come vp from his denne, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is departed, & gone forth of his place to lay thy land waste, and thy cities shall be destroyed without an inhabitant.

8 Wherefore girde you with sackcloth: lament, and howle, for the fierce wrath of the Lord is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, saith the Lord, the heart of the King shall perish, and the heart of the princes and the Priests shall be astonished, and the Prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lord God, surely thou hast deceiued this people & Ierusalem, saying, Ye shall haue peace, and the sworde perceith vnto the heart.

11 At that time shall it be said to this people and to Ierusalem, A drye winde in the hie places of the wilderness cometh toward the daughter of my people, but nether to fan, nor to cleanse.

12 A mightie winde shall come vnto me from those places, and now wil I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 Beholde, he shall come vp as the cloudes, and his charrets shall be as a tempest: his horses are lighter then egles. Wo vnto vs, for we are destroyed.

14 O Ierusalem, wash thine heart from wickednes, that thou maiest be saued: how long shall thy wicked thoughts remaine within thee?

15 For a voyce declareth from Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount Ephraim.

16 Make ye mentiō of the heathē, and publish in Ierusalem, Beholde, the skoutes come from a farre countrey, and crye out against the cities of Iudāh.

17 They haue compassed her about as the watchmen of the field, because it hath prouoked me to wrath, saith the Lord.

18 Thy waies & thine inuentions haue pro-toward Babylon.

cured thee these things, suche is thy wickednes: therefore it shalbe bitter, therefore it shal perce vnto thine heart.

19 My bely, my bely, I am peined, euen at the very heart: mine heart is troubled within me: I can not be styl: for my soule hath heard the sounde of the trumpet, & the alarme of the battel.

20 Destruction vpon destruction is cryed, for the whole land is wasted: suddenly are my tentes destroyed, and my curteines in a moment.

21 How long shal I see the standart, & heare the sounde of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they haue not knowen me: they are foolish childre, & haue none vnderstanding: they are wise to do euil, but to do well they haue no knowledge.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and lo, it was without forme and void: and to the heauens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mourtaines: & lo, they trembled and all the hilles shooke.

25 I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birdes of the heauen were departed.

26 I beheld, and lo, the fruteful place was a wilderness, and all their cities thereof were broke downe at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lord said, The whole land shalbe desolate: yet wil I not make a ful end.

28 Therefore shal the earth mourne, and the heauens aboue shalbe darkened, because I haue pronounced it: I haue thought it, and wil not repent, nether wil I turne backe from it.

29 The whole citie shal flee, for the noise of the horsemen and bowe me: they shal go into thickets, and clime vp vpon the rockes: euerie citie shalbe forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou shalt be destroyed, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thy self with skarlet, though thou deckest thee with ornámets of golde, though thou paintest thy face with colours, yet shalt thou trimme thy self in vaine: for thy louers wil abhorre thee & seke thy life.

31 For I haue heard a noise as of a woman trauailing, or as one laboring of her first childe, euen the voice of the daughter Zión that sigheth and stretcheth out her hands: wo is me now: for my soule fainteth because of the murtherers.

CHAP. V.

In Iudáh no righteous man found nether among the people nor the rulers. 15 Wherefore Iudáh is destroyed of the Caldeans.

1 R Vnne to & fro by the stretes of Ierusalem, and beholde now, & knowe, & inquire in the open places thereof, if ye can finde a man, or if there be any that executeth iudgement, and seketh the trueth, and I wil spare it.

2 For though they say, The Lord liueth, yet do they sweare falsely.

3 O Lord, are not thine eyes vpon y<sup>e</sup> trueth? thou hast stricken them, but they haue not sorowed: thou hast consumed them, but they haue refused to receiue correction: they haue made their faces harder then a stone, and haue refused to returne.

4 Therefore I said, Surely they are poore, they are foolish, for they knowe not the way of the Lord, nor y<sup>e</sup> iudgement of their God.

5 I wil get me vnto the great men, and wil speake vnto them: for they haue knowen y<sup>e</sup> way of the Lord, and the iudgement of their God: but these haue altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bondes.

6 Wherefore a lion out of the forest shal slay them, and a wolfe of the wilderness shal destroye them: a leoparde shal watche ouer their cities: euerie one that goeth out thence, shalbe torne i<sup>n</sup> pieces, because their trespasses are many, and their rebellions are increased.

7 How shulde I spare thee for this? thy children haue forsake me, & sworn by them y<sup>e</sup> are no gods: though I fed them to y<sup>e</sup> ful, yet they committed adulterie, and assembled them selues by companies in the harlottes houses.

8 They rose vp in y<sup>e</sup> morning like fed horses: for euerie man neyed after his neighbours wife.

9 Shal I not visit for these things, saith the Lord? Shal not my soule be auenged on suche a nation, as this?

10 Clime vp vpon their walles, and destroy them, but make not a ful end: take away their batilmets, for they are not the Lords.

11 For the house of Israël, and the house of Iudáh haue grievously trespassed against me, saith the Lord.

12 They haue denied the Lord, & said, It is not he, nether shal y<sup>e</sup> plague come vpon vs, nether shal we see sworde nor famine.

13 And the Prophetes shalbe as winde, and the worde is not in them: thus shal it come vnto them.

14 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, Because ye speake suche wordes, beholde, I wil put my wordes into thy mouth, like a fyre, and this people shalbe as wodde, and it shal deuoure them.

15 Lo, I wil bring a nation vpon you from far, o house of Israël, saith the Lord, which is a mightie nacion, & an ancient nacion, a nation whose language y<sup>e</sup> knowest not, nether vnderstandest what they say.

16 Whose quiuer is as an open sepulchre: they are all very strong.

Ggg. ii.

a That is, the citie.

b Though they pretend religion and holiness, yet all is but hypocrisie for vnder this kinde of swearing is contained the true religion.

c Doest not y<sup>e</sup> loue vprightnes and faithful dealing?

d Thou hast oft times punished them, but all is in vayne, Isa. 9. 13. e He speaketh this to the reproche of the, which shulde gouerne and teache others, & yet are farther out of y<sup>e</sup> way then the simple people. f Meaning, Ne buchadnezzar and his armie.

p Who shal kill many with their arrowes.

q He sheweth that the true religion is touched with the calamities of the Church, so that all the parties of their bodie feele the grief of their hearts, albeit with zeale to Gods glorie they pronounce his iudgements, against the people.

r Meaning the citie, which were as easily cast downe as a tent.

s Their wisdom and policy tende to their owne destruction, and palleth them from God.

t By these manner of speeches he sheweth the horrible destruction that shulde come vpon the land, and also condemneth the obstinacie of the people, who repented not at the feare of these terrible tidings, saying that y<sup>e</sup> invisible creatures are moued therewith, as if the order of nature shulde be changed, Isa. 13. 10. and 24. 23. ezek. 32. 7. ier. 23. 1. & 33. 5.

u But for his mercie sake he wil refuse him selfe a refuge to be his Church, and to praise him in earth, Isa. 2. 9.

x Neither thy ceremonies nor riches gyftes shal deliuer thee.

y As the Prophetes were moued to pittie the destruction of their people, so they declared it to the people to moue them to repentance, Isa. 24. chap. 9.

Gods benefites & plagues. Ieremiāh. Vncircumcised eares.

17 And thei shal eat thine haruest and thy bread: thei shal deuoure thy sonnes & thy daughters: thei shal eat vp thy shepe and thy bullocks: thei shal eat thy vines & thy figtrees: thei shal destroie with y<sup>e</sup> sworde thy fenced cities, wherein y<sup>e</sup> didest trust.

18 Neuertheles at those daies, saith the Lord, I wil not make a ful end of y<sup>e</sup> you.

19 And when y<sup>e</sup> shal saie, Wherefore doeth y<sup>e</sup> Lord our God do these things vnto vs: then shalt thou answer them, Like as y<sup>e</sup> haue forsaken me and serued strange gods in your land, so shal y<sup>e</sup> serue strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Iaakob & publish it in Iudāh, saying, 21 Heare now this, o foolish people, and without vnderstanding, which haue eyes and se not, which haue eares & heare not.

22 Feare ye not me, saith the Lord: or wil ye not be afraid at my presence, which haue placed the sande for the bondes of the sea by the perpetual decre that it can not passe it, and thogh the waues thereof rage, yet can thei not preuaile, thogh thei roare, yet can thei not passe ouer it.

23 But this people hathe an vnfaithful and rebellious heart: thei are departed & gone.

24 For they say not in their heart, Let vs now feare the Lord our God, that giueth raine bothe early & late in due season: he reserueth vnto vs the appointed wekes of the haruest.

25 Yet your iniquities haue turned awaie these things, and your sinnes haue hindred good things from you.

26 For among my people are founde wicked persones, that laie waite as he that setteth snares: thei haue made a pit to catche me.

27 As a cage is ful of birdes, so are their houses ful of deceit: thereby thei are become great and waxen riche.

28 Thei are waxen fat & shining: thei do ouerpasse the dedes of y<sup>e</sup> wicked: thei execute no iudgement, no not the iudgement of the fatherles: yet thei prosper, thogh thei execute no iudgement for the poore.

29 Shal I not visite for these things, saith the Lord: or shal not my soule be auenged on suche a nation as this?

30 An horrible and filthie thing is committed in the land.

31 The Prophetes Prophecies lies, and the Priestes receiue giftes in their hādes, and my people delite therein. What wil ye then do in the end thereof?

CHAP. VI.

The coming of the Assyrians and Caldeans. 16 He exhorteth the Iewes to repentance.

O Ye children of a Beniamin, prepare to flee out of the middes of Ierusalem and blow the trumpet in Tekoa: set vp a standart vpon Beth-haccérem: for a plague appeareth out of the North and great destruction.

2 I haue compared the daughter of Zión to a beautiful and deintie woman.

3 The pastors with their flockes shal come vnto her: thei shal pitch their tents round about by her, & euerie one shal fede in his place.

4 Prepare warre against her: arise, and let vs go vp toward the South: wo vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the shadowes of the euening are stretched out.

5 Arise, and let vs go vp by night, and destroy her palaces.

6 For thus hathe the Lord of hostes said, Hewe downe wood, and cast a mount against Ierusalem: this citie must be visited: all oppression is in the middes of it.

7 As y<sup>e</sup> fountaine casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her malice: & crueltie and spoile is continually heard in her before me with sorow and strokes.

8 Be thou instructed, o Ierusalem, lest my soule departe from thee, lest I make thee desolate as a land, that none inhabiteth.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Thei shal gather as a vine, the residue of Israel: turne backe thine hand as the grape gatherer into the baskets.

10 Vnto whome shal I speake, & admonish that thei may heare? beholde, their eares are vncircumcised, and thei can not hearken: beholde, the worde of y<sup>e</sup> Lord is vnto them as a reproche: thei haue no delite in it.

11 Therefore I am ful of the wrath of the Lord: I am wearie with holding it: I wil powre it out vpon the childre in y<sup>e</sup> strete, & likewise vpon y<sup>e</sup> assemblie of the yong men: for the housband shal euen be taken with the wife, & the aged with him that is ful of daies.

12 And their houses with their lands, and wiues also shalbe turned vnto strangers: for I wil stretch out mine hand vpon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord.

13 For fro the least of them, euen vnto the greatest of them, euerie one is giuen vnto couetousnes, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, thei all deale falsely.

14 Thei haue healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people with swete wordes, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were thei ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, thei were not ashamed, no nether colde they haue anie shame: therefore thei shal fall among the flaine: when I shal visite them, they shalbe cast downe, saith the Lord.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the waies and beholde, and aske for the olde waie, which is the good waie & walke therein, q Here y<sup>e</sup> Lord declarerh his vnspeakable fauour toward his Church, as Chap. 4. 27. Chap. 16. 10. r Meaning the Prophet Ieremiāh.

r Ebr without heare. Isa. 6. 9. mat. 13. 14. act. 28. 40. rom. 11. 8. lob. 26. 10.

Isa. 3. 23. xchar. 7. 10. t Thei seie not the plague of God for it. u Meaning, that there colde be nothing but disorder where y<sup>e</sup> ministers were wicked persones & corrupt.

d I haue interred her gently & giuen her abundance of all things. e She shalbe so destroyed, y<sup>e</sup> shepe may be red in her. f He speaketh this in y<sup>e</sup> person of y<sup>e</sup> Babylonians, & complaineth that the time faileth them before thei haue brought their enterprises to passe.

g He sheweth y<sup>e</sup> cause why it shulde be destroyed & how it cometh of them selues. h He warneth the to amend by his correction, & to turne to him by repentance.

i He exhorteth y<sup>e</sup> Babylonians to be diligent to search out all & to I aue none. k Thei delite to heare vayne things & to shut vp their eares to true doctrine.

l As the Lord had giuen him his worde to be as a fire of his indignation to burne y<sup>e</sup> wicked. Chap. 5. 14 so he shuld seeth y<sup>e</sup> all remedies are past. m None shalbe spared.

n When y<sup>e</sup> people began to feare Gods iudgements, y<sup>e</sup> falsc Prophetes comforted them by flatterings, shewing y<sup>e</sup> God wolde send peace and not warre.

o Ebr. them that fall. p Wherein the patriarches and Prophets walked, directed by y<sup>e</sup> wordes of Gods gift: y<sup>e</sup> there is no true way, but that y<sup>e</sup> God prescribeth.

and ye shal finde rest for your soules: but thei said, We wil not walke therein.

Prophetes & shulde warne you of the dangers that were at hand. God taketh all y<sup>e</sup> worlde to wites and the insensible creatures of y<sup>e</sup> ingratitude of the Iewes.

17 Also I set p watchmen ouer you, which said, Take hede to y<sup>e</sup> sound of the trumpet:
but thei said, We wil not take hede.

18 Hearc therefore, ye Gentiles, and thou Congregation knowe, what is among them.

19 Heare, o earth, beholde, I wil cause a plague to come vpon this people, euen the frute of their owne imaginacions: becau-

21 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil lay stumbling blockes before this people, and the fathers and the sonnes together shal fall vpon them: the neighbour and his friend shal perish.

*From Baby-

22 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, a people cometh from the North countrey, and a great nation shal arise from the sides of the earth.

23 With bowe and shield shal they be wea-poned: thei are cruel and wil haue no compassion: their voyce roareth like the sea, and they ride vpon horses, wel appointed,
like men of warre against thee, o daughter Ziōn.

24 We haue heard their fame, & our hands waxe feble: sorowe is come vpon vs, as the sorowe of a woman in trauail.

For feare of the enimie, he speakeh this in the persone of the Iewes.

25 Go not forth into the field, nor walke
by the way: for the sworde of the enimie & feare is on euerie side.

26 O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallowe thy self in the ashes: make lamentation, and bitter mounning as for thine onely sonne: for the destroyer shal suddenly come vpon vs.

*Meaning, Jeremiah, whom God had appointed to re-ueile the godlie from wickednes as a founde-doth & pure mortal from y<sup>e</sup>

27 I haue set thee for a defence & fortresse among my people, that thou maiest knowe and trye their waies.

28 Thei are all rebellious traitors, walking craftely: they are brass, & yron, thei all are destroyers.

*All the pai-

29 The bellowes are burnt: the leade is consumed in the fyre: the founde melteth in vaine: for the wicked are not taken away.

30 Thei shal call them reprobate siluer, because the Lord hath reiected them.

CHAP. VII.

Jeremiáh is commanded to shewe vnto the people the worde of God, which trusteth in the outward seruice of the Temple. 13 The evils that shal come to the Iewes for the despising of their Prophetes. 21 Sacrifices doeth not the Lord chiefly require of the Iewes, but that they shoulde obeye his worde.

The wordes that came to Jeremiáh from the Lord, saying,

Stand in the gate of the Lords House & crye this worde there, and saie, Heare the worde of the Lord, all ye of Iudáh that entre in at these gates to worship the Lord.

Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israél, * Améd your waies & your wor-kes, and I wil let you dwell in this place.

Chap. 26. 13.

Trust not in a lying wordes, saying, The Temple of the Lord, the Temple of the Lord: this is the Temple of the Lord.

For if you amend & redresse your waies and your workes: if you execute iudgemēt betwene a man and his neighbour,

And oppresse not the stranger, the father-les and the widdowe & shed no innocent blood in this place, nether walke after other gods to your destruction,

Then wil I let you dwell in this place in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers, for euer and euer.

Beholde, you truste in lying wordes, that can not profite.

Wil you steale, murder, and commit adul-terie and sweare falsely and burne incense vnto Bál, & walke after other gods who-me ye knowe not?

And come and stand before me in this House, whereupon my Name is calle d, & saie, We are deliuered, though we haue done all these abominations?

Is this House become a dēne of rheues, whereupō my Name is called before your eies? beholde, euen I see it, saith the Lord.

But go ye now vnto my place which was in Shiló, & where I set my Name at the beginning, and beholde, what I did to it for the wickednes of my people Israél.

Therefore now because ye haue done all these workes, saith the Lord, (& I rose vp early and spake vnto you: but when I spake, ye wolde not heare me, nether whē
I called, wolde ye answer)

Therefore wil I do vnto this House, whereupō my Name is called, wherein al so ye trust, euen vnto the place that I gaue to you and to your fathers, as I haue done vnto Shiló.

And I wil cast you out of my sight, as I haue cast out all your brethren, euen the whole sede of Ephraím.

Therefore thou shalt not praie for this people, nether lift vp crie or praier for the nether intreat me, for I wil not heare thee.

Seest thou not what thei do in the cities of heauen & to powre out drinke offrings vnto other gods, that thei maie prouoke me vnto angre.

19 Do thei prouoke me to angre, saith the Lord, and not them selues to the confuſion of their owne faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, mine angre and my wrath shalbe powred vpon this place, vpon man & vpon beast, and vpon the tre of the field and vpon the frute of the grounde, and it shal burne and not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israël, Put your burnt offrings vnto your sacrifices, and eat the flesh.

22 For I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I broght them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offrings and sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, & I wil be your God, and ye shal be my people: and walke ye in all the waies which I haue commanded you, that it maie be wel vnto you.

24 But thei wolde not obey, nor incline their eare, but went after the counsels and the stubbernes of their wicked heart, & went backward and not forward.

25 Since the daie that your fathers came vp out of the Land of Egypt, vnto this day, I haue euen sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophetes, rising vp early euerie daie, and sending them.

26 Yet wolde thei not heare me nor incline their eare, but hardened their necke and did worſe then their fathers.

27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these wordes vnto the, but thei wil not heare thee: thou shalt also cry vnto the, but thei wil not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt saie vnto them, This is a nation which heareth not the voice of the Lord their God, nor receiueſt discipline: trueth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut of thine heere, O Ierusalem, & cast it awaie, and take vp a complaint on the hie places: for the Lord hath reiecteſt & forſaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the children of Iudah haue done euil in my sight, saith the Lord: thei haue set their abominations in the House, whereupon my Name is called, to pollute it.

31 And thei haue buylt the hie place of Topheth, which is in the vallei of Ben-Hinnóm to burne their sonnes & their daughters in the fyre, which I commanded the not, nether came it in mine heart.

32 Therefore beholde, thou daies come, saith the Lord, that it shal no more be called Topheth, nor the vallei of Ben-Hinnóm, but the vallei of slaughter: for thei shal burye in Topheth til there be no place.

33 And the carkeises of this people shalbe meat for the foules of the heauen & for the beastes of the earth, and none shal fray them awaie.

34 The I wil cause to cease from the cities of Iudah and from the stretes of Ierusalem the voyce of mirth and the voyce of gladnes, the voyce of the bridegrome and the voyce of the bride: for the land shalbe desolate.

CHAP. VIII.

The destruction of the Iewes. 4 The Lord moueth the people to amendement. 10 He reprehendeth the lying doctrine & the couetousnes of the Prophetes & Priestes.

At that time, saith the Lord, thei shal bring out the bones of the Kings of Iudah, and the bones of their princes, and the bones of the Priestes and the bones of the Prophetes, and the bones of the inhabitants of Ierusalem out of their graues.

And thei shal spread the before the sunne & the moone, and all the hoste of heauen, whome they haue loued, and whome thei haue serued, & whome thei haue followed, & whome thei haue fought, and whome thei haue worshiped: thei shal not be gathered nor be buried, but shal be as dung vpon the earth.

And death shalbe desired rather then life of all residue that remaineth of this wicked familie, which remaine in all the places where I haue scatred them, saith the Lord of hostes.

Thou shalt saie vnto them also, Thus saith the Lord, Shal thei fall & not arise? shal he turne awaie and not turne againe?

Wherefore is this people of Ierusalem turned backe by a perpetual rebellion? thei gaue the selues to deceit, & wolde not returne.

I hearkened and heard, but none spake aright: no man repented him of his wickednes, saying, What haue I done? euerie one turned to their race, as the horse rusheth into the battel.

Euen the storcke in the aire knoweth her appointed times, & the turtle and the crane and the swallowe obserue the time of their coming, but my people knoweth not the iudgement of the Lord.

How do ye saie, We are wise, & the Lawe of the Lord is with vs? Lo, certainly in vaine made he it, the pen of the scribes is in vaine.

The wise men are ashamed: thei are afraid and taken. lo, thei haue reiecteſt the worde of the Lord, and what wisdom is in them?

Therefore wil I giue their wiues vnto others, & their fields to the that shal possesse the: for euerie one from the least eue vnto the greatest is giuen to couetousnes & from the Prophet eue vnto the Priest, euerie one dealeth falsely.

For thei haue healed the hurt of the daughter

Shewing that it was not his chief purpose and intent that thei shoulde offer sacrifices: but that thei shoulde regard, wherefore thei were ordeined to wit, to be ioyned to the worde as scales and confirmations of remission of sins in Christ: for without the worde thei we reuaine & vnprofitable.

Which was about foretold hundredth yer.

Because of the afflictions that thei shal feele through Gods iudgements.

Is there no hope, that thei wil returne?

They are full of hypocricie, and euerie one followeth his owne fantasie without any consideration.

He accuseth them in that they are more ignorant of Gods iudgements then the birds are of their appointed seasons to discern the cold, and heat, as Iſa. 1.3.

CHAP. IX.

The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people. 24 In the knowledge of God ought we onely to reioyce. 25 The Uncircumcision of the heart.

OH, that mine head were ful of water and mine eyes a fountaine of tea-res, that I might wepe day and night for the slaine of the daughter of my people.

Oh, that I had in the wilderness a cottage of way faring men, that I might leaue my people, & go from them: for thei be all adulterers & an assemblie of rebels,

And they bend their tongues like their bowes for lies: but they haue no courage for the trueth vpon y<sup>e</sup> earth: for thei pro-ceede from euil to worse, and they haue not known me, saith the Lord.

Let euerie one take hede of his neighbour, & trust you not in anie brother: for euerie brother wil vse deceit, and euerie friend wil deale deceitfully,

And euerie one wil deceiue his friend, & wil not speake the trueth: for they haue taught their tongues to speake lies, and take great paines to do wickedly.

Thine habitation is in the middes of deceiuers: because of their deceit they refuse to knowe me, saith the Lord.

Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I wil melt them, & trye the: for what shulde I els do for the daughter of my people?

Their tongue is as an arrowe shot out, & speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth waite for him.

Shal I not visit the for these things, saith the Lord? or shal not my soule be aduenged on suche a nation as this?

Vpon the mountaines wil I take vp a weeping and a lamentacion, and vpon the faire places of the wilderness a mourning, because they are burnt vp: so that none ca-passe through them, nether can men heare the voyce of the flocke: bothe the foule of

And I wil make Ierusalem an heape, & a den of dragons, & I wil make the cities of Iudah waste, without an inhabitant.

Who is wise, to vnderstand this, and to whome y<sup>e</sup> mouth of the Lord hath spokē, euē he shal declare it. Why doeth y<sup>e</sup> land perish, & is burnt vp like a wilderness, that none passe through?

And the Lord saith, Because they haue forsaken my Law, which I set before them, & haue not obeyed my voice, nether walked there after,

But haue walked after the stubbernes of their owne heart, and after Baalims, which their fathers taught them,

Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes,
the God of Israēl, Beholde, I wil fede this people with wormewodde, and giue them waters of gall to drinke:

I wil scatre them also among the heathē, whome nether they nor their fathers haue known, and I wil send a sworde after the,
til I haue consumed them.

Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Take he-de, & call for the mourning women, y<sup>e</sup> thei may come, & send for skilful womē that thei may come,

And let the make haste, & let the take vp a

CHAP. X.

<sup>4</sup> And another decketh it <sup>c</sup> with ſiluer, and with golde: they faſten it with nailes, and hammers, that it fall not.

<sup>b</sup> Meaning not onely in the obſervation of the ſtarres, but their laws and ceremonies whereby they confirme their idolatrie, which is forbidden, Deu. 12, 30. <sup>c</sup> The Prophetes vſe thus plainly & ſimply to ſet forth the vile abſurditie of the idolaters, that men might learne to be aſhamed of <sup>y</sup>, whereunto their corrupt nature is moſte ſubie, read Iſa. 44, 32.

<sup>7</sup> Who wolde not feare thee, <sup>o</sup> King of nations: for to thee apperteineth the <sup>e</sup> domi- nion: for among all the wiſe men of the Gé- tiles, and in all their kingdomes there is none like thee.

<sup>9</sup> Siluer plates are broght from Tarſhiſh, and golde <sup>f</sup> from Vpház, for the worke of the workeman, and the hands of the foun- der: the blew ſiſke, and the purple is their clothing: all theſe things are made by cun- ning men.

<sup>10</sup> But the Lord is the God of trueth: he is the liuing God, and an euerlaſting King: at his angre the earth ſhal tremble, & the nations can not abide his wrath.

<sup>11</sup> (Thus ſhal you ſay vnto them, The gods <sup>g</sup> that haue not made the heauens and the earth, ſhal periſh from the earth, and from vnder theſe heauens)

<sup>12</sup> He hath made the earth by his power, and eſtabliſhed the worlde by his wiſdo- me, and hath ſtretched out the heauen by his diſcretion.

<sup>13</sup> He giueth by <sup>h</sup> his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and he cauſeth the cloudes to aſcend from the ends of the earth: he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the winde out of his trea- ſures.

<sup>18</sup> For thus ſaith the Lord, Beholde, at this time I wil throwe as with a ſling the inha- bitans of the land, and wil trouble them, and they ſhal finde it ſo.

<sup>19</sup> Wo is me for my deſtruction, & my grieuous plague: but I thought, Yet it is my ſorowe, and I wil beare it.

as all the reſt of his writing is Ebrewe. <sup>h</sup> The more that man thinketh to do aſie thing wel by his owne wiſdome, and not as God inſtrueth him, the more doeth he prone him ſelf to be a vile beaſt. <sup>i</sup> By theſe wordes, Por- tion and rod, he ſignifieth their inheritance: meaning, that God ſhulde be all ſufficient for them, and that their felicitie conſiſted in him alone, & therefore thei ought to renounce all other helpes, & ſuccours as of idoles, &c. Deut. 32, 9. pſal. 135. <sup>k</sup> The Prophet willeth the Iewes to prepare the ſelues to this captiuitie, ſhewing that it was now at hand, that they ſhulde ſele the things, whereof he had tolde the. <sup>l</sup> It is my inſte plague & therefore I wil take it patiently: whereby he teacheth the people how to behaue the ſelues toward God. <sup>m</sup> He ſheweth how Ieruſalem ſhal lament.

<sup>d</sup> He rea- cheth <sup>e</sup> peo- ple to liſt v<sup>r</sup> their eyes <sup>f</sup> God, who ha- the all power, and therefore ought onely to be feared: and hereſein he ſheweth them not onely the euil that they ought to ſchew but the good, which they ought to follow Reuel 15, 4. <sup>e</sup> Becauſe the people thought that to haue images was a meane to ſer- ue God and to bring them to <sup>f</sup> knowledge of him, he ſheweth that nothing more diſpleaſeth God, nor bring- eth man into greater error & ignorance of God: & there- fore he calleth them the do- ctine of vani- tie, <sup>g</sup> worke of errours, ver 15, & Habak 2, 18. calleth them <sup>h</sup> teachers of lies: contrarie to that wicked opinion, <sup>i</sup> thei are the bookes of the laye people. <sup>j</sup> Where as they founde <sup>k</sup> beſt golde: ſhewing, <sup>l</sup> thei thought nothing to deare for their idoles: ſome read O- phir, as 1 Kin. 9, 28. <sup>g</sup> This decla- reth that all, <sup>h</sup> hath bene in this Chapter ſpoken of idoles, was to ar- me the Iewes whe they ſhal de be in Cal- dea among <sup>i</sup> idolaters, and now <sup>j</sup> one ſe- rence he inſtra- ceth the do- ctine how to protect their owne religion againſt <sup>k</sup> ido- lators, & how to anſwer the to their ſhame which ſhulde exhorte the to idolatrie, and therefore he writeth this ſentence in the Caldeans too- gue for a me- morial, where boards are broken: my children are gone from me, & are not: there is none to spread out my tent any more, and to set vp my courtaines.

22 Beholde, the noise of the brute is come, and a great commotion out of the<sup>e</sup> North country to make the cities of Iudáh desolate, and a denne of dragons.

23 O Lord, I knowe, that y<sup>e</sup> way of man is not in him self, nether is it in man to walke and to direct his steps.

24 O Lord, correct me, but with y<sup>e</sup> iudgement, not in thine angre, lest thou bring me to nothing.

25 Powre out<sup>r</sup> thy wrath vpon the heathen, that knowe thee not, & vpon the families that call not on thy Name: for they haue eaten vp Iakób & deuoured him & consumed him, and haue made his habitacion desolate.

<sup>g</sup> Considering that God had reuelled vnto him the certitude of their captiuitie.

Chap. 7, 16, he onely prayeth, that he wolde punish them with mercie, which Iudáh calleth, in measure, Chap. 27, 8. measuring his rodde by their iniquities, 1. Cor. 10, 13. for here by iudgement is ment not onely the punishment, but also the merciful moderation of the same, as Chap. 30, 11. For as muche as God can not onely be knowne and glorified by his mercie, that he vieth toward his Church, but also by his iustice in punishing his enemies, he praieth that his glorie may fully appeare both in the one and the other, Psal. 79, 6.

CHAP. XI.

<sup>a</sup> A curse of them that obey not the wordes of Gods couenant. <sup>10</sup> The people of Iudáh, following the stepes of their fathers, worshipped strange gods. <sup>15</sup> The Lord forbiddeth Ieremiáh to praise for them.

1 The worde that came to Ieremiáh fró the Lord, saying,

2 Heare ye the wordes of this couenant, & speake vnto the men of Iudáh, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalém,

3 And say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israél, a Cursed be the man that obiecth not the wordes of this couenant,

4 Which I commanded vnto your fathers, when I broght them out of the land of Egypt, from the yron fornace, saying, Obey my voyce, and do according to all these things, which I commande you: so shal ye be my people, and I wil be your God,

5 That I may confirme the othe, that I haue sworne vnto your fathers, to giue them a land, which floweth with milke and hony, as appeareth this day. Then answered b I & said, So be it, o Lord.

6 Then the Lord said vnto me, Crye all these wordes in the cities of Iudáh, and in the stretes of Ierusalém, saying, Heare ye the wordes of this couenant, and do the.

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I broght them vp out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, c rising early & protesting, saying, Obey my voyce.

<sup>a</sup> He calleth y<sup>e</sup> leues to alie consideration of Gods mercies, who freely chose the, made a couenant of eternal felicitie with them, & how he euer performed it on his behalf, & how they euer shewed them selues rebellious & ingrate toward him & brake it on their parte, & so are subiect to the curse of the Law, Deut. 27, 26.

<sup>b</sup> Thus he speaketh in y<sup>e</sup> person of the people, which agreed to the couenant.

8 Neuertheles they wolde not obey, nor encline their eare: but euery one walked in the stubbernes of his wicked<sup>d</sup> heart: therefore I wil bring vpon them all the<sup>e</sup> wordes of this couenant, which I commanded them to do, but thei did it not.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, A<sup>f</sup> conspiracie is founde among the men of Iudáh, & among the inhabitants of Ierusalém.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: thus the house of Israél, and the house of Iudáh haue broken my couenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil bring a plague vpon them, which they shal not be able to escape, and thogh they crye vnto me, s I wil not heare them.

12 Then shal the cities of Iudáh, and the inhabitants of Ierusalém go, and crye vnto the gods vnto whome thei offer incense, but they shal not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 h For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, o Iudáh, and according to the number of the stretes of Ierusalém haue ye set vp altars of confusion, euen altars to burne incense vnto Báal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not pray i for this people, nether lift vp a crye, or prayer for them: for when thei crye vnto me in their trouble, I wil not heare them.

15 What shulde my k beloued tary in mine house, seing they haue committed abominacion with many, and the holy flesh l goeth away fró thee: yet when thou doest euil, thou reioycest.

16 The Lord called thy name, A grene oliuete, faire, and of goodlie frute: but with m noise and great tumult he hathe set fyre vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hostes that planted thee, hathe pronounced a plague against thee, (for the wickednes of the house of Israél, and of the house of Iudáh) which thei haue done against them selues to prouoke me to angre in offering incense vnto Báal.

18 And the Lord hathe taught me, and I knowe it, euen then y<sup>e</sup> shewedst me n their practises.

19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is broght to the slaughter, and I knewe not y<sup>e</sup> thei had deuised thus against me, saying, Let vs o destroye the tre with the frute thereof, and cut him out of the land of the liuing, that his name may be no more in memorie.

20 But o Lord of hostes, that iudgeth righteously, and tryest the reins & the heart, let me se thy p vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

<sup>d</sup> According to his owne fantasie, and not as my worde appointed him. e Meaning, the menaces and curses contained in y<sup>e</sup> Law, Leu. 26, 14. deut. 28, 16. f That is, a general consenc to rebelle against me.

<sup>g</sup> Because thei wil not pray with true faith & repentance, but for the smart & grief, which thei feele, Prou. 1, 28.

<sup>i</sup> Read Chap. 7, 16. & 14, 11.

<sup>k</sup> My people of Israél whom I haue heretofore so greatly loued.

<sup>l</sup> Meaning, that they offer not in the Temple to God, but vpon the altars of Báal & the idoles, and so reioyced in their wickednes. m Of the Babylonians and Caldians.

<sup>p</sup> Thus he spake not for hatred, but being moued with the Spirit of God, he desireth the aduancement of Gods glorie and the verifying of his worde, & is by the destruction of his enemies.

23 And none of them shal remaine: for I wil bring a plague vpo the men of Anathóth, euen the yere of their visitacion.

CHAP. XII.

<sup>a</sup> The Prophet maruelet at the prosperitie of the wicked, although he confesse God to be righteous. 7 The Iewes are forsake of the Lord. 10 He speaketh against pastors and preachers, that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threatneth destruction vnto the nations, that troubled Iudah.

1 Lord, if I dispute with thee, thou art a righteous: yet let me talke with thee of thy iudgements: wherefore doeth the waye of the wicked prosper? why are all they in welth that rebelliously transgress?

2 Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken roote: thei growe, and bring forth frute: thou art nere in their mouth, and farre from their reines.

3 But thou, Lord, knowest me: thou hast seene me, and tryed mine heart toward thee: pul them out like shepe for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shal the land mourne, and the herbes of euery field wither, for the wickednes of them that dwell therein? the beastes are consumed and the byrdes, because they said, He wil not se our last end.

5 If thou hast runne with the fotemen, and they haue wearied thee, then how canst thou matche thy self with horses? & if thou thoghtest thy self safe in a peaceable lād, what wilt thou do in the swelling of Iordē?

6 For euen thy brethren, and the house of thy father, euen thei haue delt vnfaithfully with thee, and they haue cryed out altogether vpon thee: but beleue them not, thogh they speake faire to thee.

7 I haue forsaken s mine house: I haue left mine heritage: I haue giuen the derelie beloued of my soule into the hands of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is vnto me, as a lyon in the forest: it cryeth out against me, therefore haue I hated it.

God wolde euer be merciful, and not vterly destroy the: therefore they hardened them selues in sinner, til at length the beastes and insensible creatures felt the punishment of their stubberne rebellon against God. f Some thinke that God reproveth Jeremiáh in that, that he wolde reason with him, saying, that if he were not able to matche with men, that he were farre vnable to dispute with God. Others, by the fore men, meane them of Anathóth, & by y horse men them of Ierusalém, which shulde trouble the Prophet worse then his owne country men did. g God willoth the Prophet to denounce his iudgements against Ierusalém, notwithstanding that they shal bothe by threatnings and flatteries labour to put him to silence. h Euer ramping and raging against me and my Prophets.

9 Shal mine heritage be vnto me, as a birde of diuerse colours: are not y birdes about her, saying, Come, assemble all the beastes of the field, come to eat her?

10 Many pastors haue destroyed my vineyarde, and troden my porcion vnder foete: of my pleasant porcion they haue made a desolate wilderness.

11 They haue laid it waste, and it, being waste, mourneth vnto me: and the whole land lyeth waste, because no mā setteth his minde on it.

12 The destroyers are come vpon all the high places in the wilderness: for y sworde of the Lord shal deuoure from the one end of the land, euen to the other end of the land: no flesh shal haue peace.

13 They haue sown wheat, and reaped thornes: they were sicke, and had no profite: and they were ashamed of your frutes, because of the fierce wrath of y Lord.

14 Thus saith the Lord against ali mine euil neighbours, that touche the inheritance, which I haue caused my people Israel to inherite, Beholde, I wil plucke them out of their land, and plucke out the house of Iudah from among them.

15 And after that I haue plucked them out, I wil returne, and haue compassion on them, and wil bring againe euery man to his heritage, and euery man to his land.

16 And if they wil learne the wayes of my people, to sweare by my Name, (The Lord liueth, as they taught my people to sweare by Baal) then shal they be buylt in the middes of my people.

17 But if they wil not obey, then wil I vterly plucke vp, and destroye that nacion, saith the Lord.

<sup>r</sup> The true doctrine and maner to serue God. f Read Chap. 4. 2. They shalbe of the number of the faithful, and haue a place in my Church.

CHAP. XIII.

<sup>a</sup> The destruction of the Iewes is prefigured. 11 Why Israel was receiued to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken. 15 He exhorteth them to repentance.

1 Thus saith the Lord vnto me, Go, and bye thee a linen girdle, and put it vpon thy loynes, and put it not in water.

2 So I boght the girdle according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it vpon my loynes.
